WASHINGTON, March 14 — (AP)—The Times Herald says today in a copyrighted story that the United States is planning to turn over an aircraft carrier, two cruisers and two or three destroyers to Argentina for the defence of the Western Hemisphere.

Einstein 70 Today

PRINCETON, N.J. March 14.—(AP).—Albert Einstein is 70 years old today. The world-famous scientist, as is his custom, insisted on a day of no interviews, no statements, no celebrations. Members of his household said he would forgo his usual three-quarter mile walk to the Institute of Advanced Study today and remain at home "to sit and think."

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Lakefield Rate Increased By Two Mills

LAKEFIELD, Mar. 14— (ENS) —Villagers will dig deeper into their pockets this year as the result of a 2 mill increase in the tax rate fixed by council Friday night The 1949 tax rate is 48 mills.

Major subject of debate was the question of whether an increase in salary requested by Garnet Samis, Chief of Police, would be granted.

Councillor Ken Morris, chairman of Police, Health and Sanitation, said in his report that after thorough investigation, he felt assured that with Chief Samis as police chief, the village would receive the new provincial subsidy of approximately $367.36, which would almost cover the raise requested by the Chief. If Chief Samis left, a first class officer with a rating of 100 per cent efficiency, similar to Chief Samis, would have to be hired and it was doubtful if such an officer could be hired for the same money.

Councillor Roy Brown, said there was a limit to what the people of the village should be asked to pay for police protection.

The actual cost for the police department for 1948 was $2,425.37. The 1949 estimates were set at $2,946.47. Reeve W. C. Grant said that Chief Samis' record for efficiency was very high. The chief was voted a salary of $2,150, an allowance of $250 for depreciation of his car and $37.80 for telephone, as a result of the reeve's casting vote. Councillors Whetung and Morris voted in favor of the increase; Councillors Brown and Buchanan were against it.

It was decided by a motion of Councillors Whetung and Buchanan that the new salary arrangement be from March 1.

Councillor Morris said a provincial police would cost $1,750, but two men would have to be engaged.

Stanley Richardson was hired as works commissioner at a salary of $250 a year with a monthly allowance of $5 for gasoline.

In discussing the $1,000 for repairs to sidewalks, Reeve Grant said he disliked a higher tax rate, but said a 10-year program for repairing the sidewalks and village property should be started. $1,000 would not repair the sidewalks, but it would enable them to make a start.

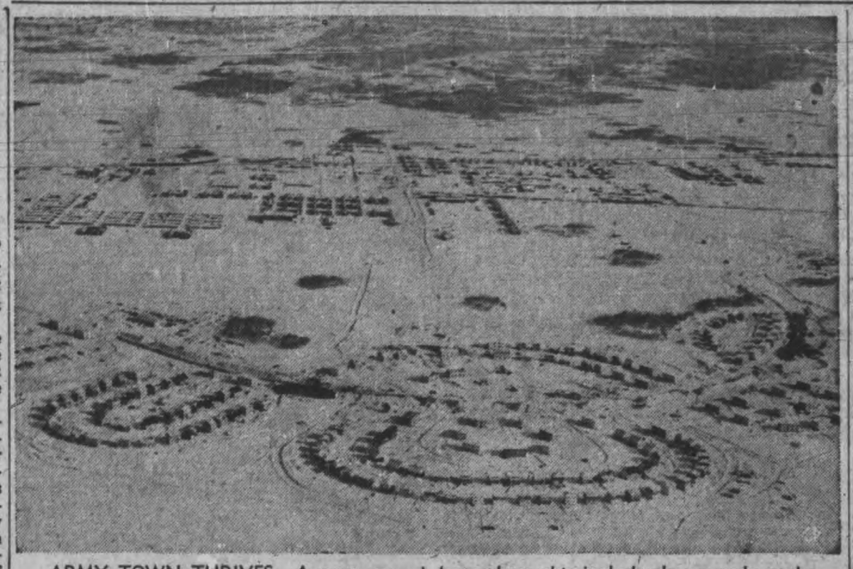
Expenditures for 1949 was estimated as follows:

This year Chief Samis will have his duties lightened with the hiring of an assessor, which duties he formerly performed. The sum of $300 was put into the estimates for this, this being an increase of $100 over the amount formerly paid.

Council decided to ask the School Boards and Hydro Commission to assist in paying the auditors' fees of $175.

New Street Lights

Four new street lights will be installed at Tedford's corner, Ernie Allen's, Freezer Locker, Hopkin's Garage and one behind the school near Samuel Black's. Two lights will be also erected in the park.



Councillor Whetung reported the winter sidewalk costs were increased in sanding and reduced for snowplowing. He also revealed plans to raise the level of Caroline street at the approach to Bridge street, in front of the Presbyterian Church. Extra oiling will also be done during the summer.

One new levy included in the grants is $250, to the Chamber of Commerce, who propose to have a tourist information booth opened with a full-time attendant during the holiday season.

The new tax rate is broken down as follows: Lakefield High School, 2.4 mills; Lakefield Public School, 8.6 mills; Lakefield Library, 1.4 mills; county rate, 10.8 mills; fire, water and heat debenture, 2.5 mills; general rate, 22.3 mills.

A report presented to the Council by the treasurer estimates total revenue for the year 1949 at $54,109.31.

The same report also estimated that total expenditure for the year 1949 would amount to $53,657.73. This figure was broken down as follows: Finance, $27,087.50; welfare, $3,915.00; police department, $2,946.47; property, $4,187.42; recreation, $2,738.50; grants, $456.04; legal, $175.00; roads, $8,875.80; sidewalks, $1,000.00; big ditch, $300.00; street lights, $1,976.00.

Driver Gets 7 Days, Fined $15 And Costs

Raymond Sanderson, Port Hope, who was driving Friday while drunk, hit a telephone pole at Rubidge and Murray Sts., and ran a grave risk of sliding down a steep bank into Jackson Park Creek. He admitted this at city police court Saturday and was sent to jail for seven days on a charge of drunk driving and fined $15, with $2.50 costs, with an alternative of a month in jail for having liquor in a place other than his place of residence. Police was granted permission to confiscate 11 pints of ale which were found in the car.

Hastings Man Charged

Two charges were read against A. Hailstone, Hastings, in a cell at city police station Saturday because he was unable to walk to the court room. He was charged with careless and drunk driving, and was remanded.

Police arrested Hailstone on Friday when he was involved in an accident in Belmont township. He complained Saturday of an injured back and was taken to hospital in an ambulance.

80,000 Starving

NANKING, March 14—(AP)—Travellers from Taiyuan, besieged Shansi province capital, say about 80,000 civilians there are close to starvation. Six Communist columns have tightly ringed the city for months. Government-chartered planes have been dropping flour to the city. But travellers said that civilians got little or none of it.

Atom Bomb Taboo

LONDON, March 14 (Reuters). —The atom bomb will be taboo as a subject of discussion when 300 world scientists, all experts on atomic energy, meet in Britain on March 28 for one week. Their talks will be confined to the use of atomic energy in chemistry. Canada is sending two experts, Dr. L. Yaffe and Dr. R. H. Betts, from the Canadian atomic plant at Chalk River.

Archbishop To Resign

LONDON, March 14.—(AP).—Most Rev. David Lewis Prosser, 80, archbishop of Wales, said Sunday night he is resigning as of May 1. Dr. Prosser was elected archbishop in 1944 and has been bishop of St. David's since. A bachelor, teetotaler, non-smoker and keen archaeologist, he said a younger man should assume the growing responsibilities of Welsh church administration.

Canadian Painter To Hang For Murder

LONDON, March 14—(CP). — Malcolm Roach, 34, Canadian-born painter, who admitted clubbing and strangling his wife to death, today was convicted of murder and sentenced to be hanged.

Roach, who took his 25-year-old wife to Canada in 1945 and returned to Britain last year, charged that she repeatedly associated with other men. He pleaded innocent to the charge of murder.

But Lord Goddard, presiding at the trial, said there were no grounds in the case for reduction of the charge to manslaughter as sought by the defence.

The jury deliberated for five minutes before returning a verdict of guilty with a strong recommendation for mercy.

Roach, who formerly lived at Magog, Que., told the court his wife had associated with at least 14 men.

Alta Bullock Named IODE Vice Regent

LAKEFIELD, March 14 (ENS) —Alta Bullock was named first vice-regent of the Katchawanooka Chapter Junior IODE at the March meeting held at the Curry home.

Other officers elected were: Secretary, Eleanor Deck; treasurer, Eleanor Sterling; echoes secretary, Nancy Doubt; educational secretary, Frances Erskine; standard bearer, Susan Weaver; correspondence secretary, Carolyn Anne Erskine.

Mrs. W. O'Brien, regent, presided and was assisted by Mrs. B. D. Weaver.

The Fashion Show was discussed. Frances Erskine contributed a piano solo, Denise and Nancy Doubt, a piano duet and Mrs. O'Brien sang.

Four new members, Yvonne Rosebush, Ruth Hampton, Evelyn Dunford and Barbara Sterling were accepted.

John Donoghue, a van driver of 254 Reid Sreet was fined $7.50 with $2.50 costs by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., at city police Saturday for causing a disturbance at the home of W. G. Thompson, Hunter Street.

Mr. Thompson complained that the accused woke up the entire household at 1 a.m. by tapping on the window and shouting when he came to the house to speak to Mrs. Donoghue, who lives there.

Mr. Donoghue said he had been to a dance with his wife and during the evening she vanished. As he was returning to Toronto early in the morning, he wanted to make sure she had returned home safely and so went to the house. He did not live there, and had been told previously that he was not to visit his wife at the house. He could not therefore, go to the door, he said, and so tapped on his wife's window and carried on a conversation with her through double windows.

Mr. Thompson said that this woke himself, his wife and children.

WHAT EVERY

Omemee Boys Win

Omemee boys pulled out a 7-6 overtime win against Trojan bantams in an exhibition game at Omemee on Saturday. Tex Drury got the first goal from P. Doris, as the Fox brothers each scored for the O's, aided by Stephenson. Drury scored another from Pagett to end the period tied 2-2. Stephenson and Fox counted in the second for Omemee and Doris tallied from Kane. In the third, Doris got two quick ones for the Trojans, but Stephenson tied it up. Mitchell scored from Fox in the first overtime period and Stephenson added one later. Foley got one back, but they could not tie it. Play was fas, clean and well handled. The teams:

Trojans— Goal, Brockwell; defence, Herbison, Bloom; centre, Lundy; wings, Foley, Pagett; alternates, Drury, Cullen, Roberts, Kane, Doris

Woman Kills Husband Sentence Cut 15 Years

WIESBADEN, Germany, March 14.—(AP).—A United States military government appeals court today reduced from 20 to five years the prison sentence imposed on Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo for killing her soldier husband.

The five-judge court confirmed the right of United States military government courts to try United States civilians in occupied the right of such courts pied Germany. The decision also to try American civilians under German law.

The court found, however, that under German law the sentence could be for no more than five years.

Mrs. Ybarbo, 23-year-old mother from Malden, Mass., was found guilty under both German and United States Military Government law of shooting her husband, Sgt. John Ybarbo, during an argument in their home last fall.

Dinner Party Aids Invention

ROCHESTER, N.Y., March 14. —(AP). — A new pulp process which, in tests, has resulted in savings of about $5.50 a ton in the manufacture of newsprint was announced Sunday by Consolidated Machine Tool Corporation.

It has been named the "curlation process," said Arthur R. Ingle, president of Consolidated. Five units of new machinery, each weighing more than 40,000 pounds, will be delivered in May to Quebec paper manufacturers, Ingle said.

The process was discovered accidentally when a couple of Price Brothers' scientists interrupted a routine experiment to keep a dinner engagement. Ingle described it as follows:

The scientists, Dr. H. S. Hill and Dr. J. Edwards, were cooking a batch of wood chips in the laboratory at Kenogami, Que. When the cooking was finished, they by-passed the normal washing process, which would have taken about an hour, so that they would not be late for a dinner party. Instead, they washed the pulp under a faucet and squeezed it gently before putting it in a jar to keep moist for tests the following day.

When they examined the pulp the next day, they found it had significantly different qualities. They concluded that the squeezing somehow had changed the fibres and they set out to duplicate the accident mechanically.

Ernest Cavano Wins Two Firsts In Potatoes

BETHANY, March 14.—(ENS). —Ernest Cavano, ex-Reeve of Manvers township, won two first prizes at the Durham County Seed Fair held in Orono on Friday, Kathadin and Irish Cobbler seed potatoes. He is widely known for his success in growing potatoes, having been a consistent winner in the Durham 500 Bushel Club over a period of years.

Used to her laying double-yolked eggs, the hen's owner was almost goggle-eyed when she laid this double-yoked egg with an egg inside it. The larger egg measured three and a half inches in length and had a circumference of eight inches. The double yolk is pictured in the dish above.

Institute Marks St. Patrick's Day

TRENT RIVER, March 12—(ENS)—Women's Institute held a St. Patrick's Day meeting at the home of Mr. James Longmuir Thursday. The room was decorated for the occasion and there was a good attendance of both members and visitors.

Mrs. Earl Greenly president was in charge of the meeting.

A progressive euchre party at Trent River school, S. S. No. 10 was planned for March 18.

Gift are to be bought for two recent brides, Mrs. Alfred Warne (Jeryne Brown of New York) and Mrs. Richard Scalzo (Glenna Brown) of Buffalo.

Letters of appreciation from Miss Lawrena Wight and Paul Brownsell for fruit sent to them when they were confined to their home through illness were read.

A large quantity of good used clothing was brought to the meeting in response to an appeal from the Unitarian Committee of the Federated Women's Institute. A large box is to be shipped immediately.

The sum of $50 has been forwarded to the Community Cemetery Vault Fund.

Two minute papers on Citizenship were presented by Mrs. Frank Openshaw, Mrs. Bob Prentice, Mrs. Harry Mann, Mrs. Melville Wight and Mrs. Earl Greenly.

Flowers were ordered to be sent to Mrs. W. C. Inkster a member who is ill in Civic Hospital, Peterborough.

Mrs. Melville Wight was program convener and submitted the following program — humorous Irish reading by Mrs. Frank Openshaw Mrs. James Longmuir and Mrs. Harry Mann, Mrs. Eric Little was winner of a cat contest and Little Marilyn Quinlan was the holder of the Lucky Serviette.

A lap lunch was served by Mrs. James Longmuir assisted by Mrs. Wesley Johnston, Mrs. Earl Greenly and Mrs. Dunham.

The new membership fee of of 50 cents will come into affect for the first time.

A Strange Trip

LIMA, Peru, March 14—(AP)—Twenty passengers aboard a British airliner took off for London Sunday, circled the Lima airport for 6½ hours, then landed right where they started. The plane's left wheel was crushed and its undercarriage jammed on the take-off. Pilot John Wright decided to circle the airport until he could successfully lighten his gasoline load before attempting a landing.

Canada's Stockpiling Program May Be Tied In With U.S. Plans

OTTAWA, March 14—(CP)—There is a chance that Canada's stockpiling program for some six or seven strategic materials may be tied in with that of the United States as part of the joint plan for continental defence. So far, although the government through Defence Minister Claxton said some time ago it has decided on stockpiling, a start is believed to have been made in only one line, which is secret. The materials generally mentioned as likely candidates because any emergency would jeopardize supply lines include tin, quartz crystals, antimony and natural rubber.

It has been agreed in principle between Washington and Ottawa to set up a joint committee on industrial preparedness but this has not yet been done. The stockpiling question is to be considered by the committee.

Swipe at Smelters

The Canadian Congress of Labor is expected to take another belt shortly at its left-wing affiliate, the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter workers. There is a good chance it may toss out the union.

The Smelters Union, whose leadership has been at odds with the Anti-Communist Congress Executive for a long time, was ordered by the C. C. L. some months ago to get out of the northern Ontario and Port Colborne, Ont., fields and let the C. C. L. do the organizing there. The C. C. L. claimed the union was doing a poor organizing job.

The Smelters Union has refused to move out, and now it and its parent body are scrambling for membership. At a C. C. L. general council meeting here later this month, the Congress is expected either to deliver a final "or else" ultimatum to the union to move out of these fields, or either suspend it or kick it out altogether.

Bar 143 Teachers

SANTE FE, N.M., March 14—(AP)—District Judge E. T. Hensley Saturday barred 143 Roman Catholic teachers from teaching in New Mexico public schools. Hensley's verbal decision held that employment of members of the Roman Catholic teaching orders in public schools violated the state and federal constitutions.

Doctor Uses Melons

ASBURY PARK, N.J., March 14—(AP)—Emergency shipments of watermelon were rushed here Saturday to help save the life of three-year-old Roy Allen Hollaway. The boy's physician, Dr. Francis Guito, described his ailment as a form of Bright's Disease and said the watermelon was needed to bring down a fever. Dr. Guito sad he had used penicillin, streptomycin and other drugs but without success.

WMS Invites WA To Help Pack Clothes

WARKWORTH, March 14—(ENS)—Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's United Church decided Thursday to invite the Women's Association to the April meeting when a bale of used clothing will be packed in the Sunday School room. The suggestion was put forward by Mrs. B. Buchanan and Mrs. Harold Buttars.

Mrs. Grant Allen, vice-president presided at the meeting Thursday.

Mrs. H. G. Lester announced that arrangements had been completed for the fireside meeting to be held at the church on Sunday evening when there will be lantern slides and musical entertainment.

Mrs. Oscar Laver had a program in which Mrs. W. Baker read the Scripture, hymns were sung and a reading was given by Mrs. B. Buchanan. Mrs. R. F. Jolliffe sang a solo and was accompanied by Mrs. G. Hancock at the piano. Mrs. Smale gave a talk on the last chapter of the study book West of the Gorges.

Lunch was served by the committee.

International Control

TORONTO, March 14—(CP)—Prohibition of atomic energy for destructive purposes and international control to ensure universal enforcement of this prohibition were urged Saturday by Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canada's permanent representative to the United Nations and Security Council representative. "Atomic weapons don't replace conventional armaments and by themselves can't win a war," he told the Toronto branch of the United Nations Association in Canada.

Find Railroad Dynamited Near Factory

Rails Badly Buckled Road-Bed Damaged At Asbestos Plant

ASBESTOS, Que., March 15 — Canadian Johns-Manville Co. officials said today a portion of the company's private railroad linking Asbestos with Danville, Que., was dynamited during the night.

"We don't know where the responsibility lies but the RCMP are investigating," a company spokesman said.

The Canadian Johns-Manville asbestos workings have been shut down since Feb. 13 when asbestos miners went on strike demanding a 15 cents an hour increase which would bring asbestos miners' basic wage up to $1 an hour.

The Canadian Johns-Manville spokesman said his information was that company employees heard an explosion at Asbestos about 11 p.m. Monday night.

Discover Damage

"They thought nothing of it," he said. But this morning when an engine and snowplow went over the road to clear heavy snowfall it was discovered the roadbed had been blown up for a distance of two or three feet on either side of the track near Asbestos.

The railroad is a private electric line running from Asbestos to Danville, about four miles away where the line connects with the Canadian National Railways. The company uses it for the hauling of asbestos and, though no asbestos has been moving during the strike the line has been kept open.

The blast was said to have so buckled and damaged the rails that traffic over that portion was impossible. The road-bed and right-of-way suffered also.

Butter Price To Drop Again

OTTAWA, March 15—(CP) — Canada's butter situation was shrouded in uncertainty today, but there were indications that prices, which have fallen as much as 10 cents a pound in the last two weeks, may continue downward.

From several sections of the trade came predictions that the retail prices may fall as low as 58 cents a pound—the level at which the government price support program comes into effect.

In Toronto the retail price of first-grade butter was 63 to 64 cents a pound, representing a drop of 10 cents from the price two weeks ago. In Montreal butter continued down, with offerings on the produce market at 63 cents wholesale, a drop of 5½ cents since last Monday. Ottawa retail prices ranged from 64 to 67 cents.

Find Tanker Plane On Mountain Peak

MANILA, March 15 (AP) — A B-29 tanker plane, missing since it refuelled the United States Air Force's globe-circling B-50 bomber March 1, was located today on a mountain peak.

No sign of life was seen around the big plane, which was spotted from the air only about 10 feet from the tip of a 4,600- foot mountain 20 to 25 miles northeast of Manila, the announcement said.

The tanker plane carried nine men.

An immediate air survey of the mountain area was ordered. A ground party will start for the wreckage as soon as the best route up the mountain can be determined.

Britain Will Fight If Aqaba Attacked

LONDON, March 15—(AP) — Britain was reported today to have cautioned Israel that British troops will fight if Jewish armed forces attempt to seize the Trans-Jordan port of Aqaba.

The information was given Israeli officials "with a view to forestalling the danger of any untoward event" on the Palestine-Trans-Jordan border, across which British and Jewish troops face each other.

British troops have been stationed there since January, under terms of a mutual defence treaty with Trans-Jordan. Recent reports of Israeli military movements near the border have led to a United Nations inquiry into the possibility of truce violations.

Hold Man 44 For Murder In Town Hall

SARNIA, March 15 —(CP)— Ralph Howlett, 44, was arrested today and charged with the murder of Harry Brown who was found dead Friday in the basement of the nearby Petrolia town hall. He was remanded for one week when he appeared in police court today.

Brown, a 60-year-old veteran oil digger, was found with his head battered and face burned in the basement of the town hall at Petrolia.

Brown returned to Petrolia from an oil-drilling job in Quebec.

He registered in a hotel at Petrolia Thursday night and police said they were unable to find anyone who saw him leave the hotel. He was found dead early Friday morning and doctors indicated he had been dead approximately seven or eight hours.

Wilson Has Lifted More Restrictions

LONDON, March 15—(Reuters) —Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, today threw more government restrictions into his "bonfire of controls."

Monday he announced the end of all rationing of clothes and textiles.

Today he told leather manufacturers that he had abolished individual quota controls of goat and sheep skins, and would remove or at least relax supervision of trading in dressed leather. Special arrangements would however continue for types of leather in short supply.

Wilson said leather and footwear manufacturers would step up their drive in North American markets this year to help in bridging the dollar gap.

"A campaign will go into operation in Canada this year which will exclusively advertise our goods in the shop windows of Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver," he added.

"There are great opportunities for our exports both in Canada and the United States."

Annex Nepean Twp.

TORONTO, March 15—(CP)— A bill confirming annexation of part of Nepean Township by the City of Ottawa today was approved by the private bills committee of the Ontario Legsilature.

$3.25 For Loaf Of Bread But Winnipeger Happy

WINNIPEG, March 15—(CP).—With the big bakery strike on in Winnipeg there's dough in dough—if you can find it. A loaf of bread—unwrapped at that—sold for $3.25 here Monday night. The prized commodity was offered for sale at an auction. The Winnipegger who made the purchase had no qualms about upsetting his happy home. His wife—like many another Winnipeg housewife—had no bread in the house.

Since workers at the city's four major bakeries went out on strike for higher wages at midnight on Saturday, Winnipeg housewives have been snatching up any bread in sight.

Winnipeg newspapers have printed front-page bread-making recipies.

Hail Of Bullets Ends Chase

TORONTO, March 15 (CP). — James K. Dowar 25, and Hugh McDonald 22, both transients from Nova Scotia, were charged with auto theft to-day following a 70-mile-an-hour chase through West Toronto and Etobicoke Township during which shots were fired and a police car nearly ditched.

Police officers said they spotted a stolen truck travelling at a high rate of speed and zig-zagging in and out of traffic. When the officers pursued the vehicle, the truck driver tried to run the prowler car into a ditch.

The chase ended when the truck hit a patch of ice and whirled in a circle, crashing into the snow-covered ditch.

Police said the truck was stolen from K. A. McDonald of Huntsville now visiting here.

Dowar and McDonald pleaded guilty in Police Court to a charge of dangerous driving and were remanded one week for sentence.

40 Mayors, Reeves Protest Police Act

TORONTO, March 15—(CP). — Forty Ontario mayors and reeves arrived here today to join the protest of Mayor Hiram McCallum over the Ontario Government's proposed fire and police acts.

The Toronto Board of Control last week endorsed a protest over the legislation which would subsidize municipalities for their police and fire departments subject to provincial standards of "efficiency and adequacy."

Says Some Risking Lives In O'Dwyer Wire-Tapping

NEW YORK, March 15.—(AP). —Multi-millionaire Clendenin J. Ryan, a key figure in New York City's political wire-tapping mystery, says some persons are risking their lives and their families' safety to slip out information on Mayor William O'Dwyer's administration.

Ryan, bitter foe of the mayor, claims to be getting information from "right in the middle of the O'Dwyer camp."

Ryan said he told a special grand jury Monday about the undercover work, to explain why his lawyer, John C. Broady, did not answer a subpoena.

Broady declined to waive immunity and appear before the grand jury as it opened a probe of an alleged plot to tap the telephone wires of O'Dwyer and other high city officials.

Ryan, who has been steaming up a fusion movement to oppose the Democratic party's mayor if he runs for re-election next fall, has denied being involved in wire-tapping—a felony in New York if done without a court order.

Kenneth Ryan, a former city detective and no relation of Clendenin Ryan, was charged formally Monday with tapping the home telephone wire of Hugh E. Rogers, Manhattan borough president and leader of Tammany Hall, the Democratic party headquarters.

Also, the former detective was indicted on a charge of fleeing from police custody after being picked up as a suspected wire-tapper. Pleading innocent to the escape charge, he was released on $7,500 bail for hearing March 28.

Wabash Railmen Out On Strike

ST. LOUIS, March 15 (AP)— Operating employees of the Wabash railroad went on strike today at 7 a.m. EST.

The walkout was ordered after a breakdown in contract negotiations conducted by a Federal mediator.

A total of 3,500 to 4,000 employees are affected. The railroad operates over 2,500 miles of track in Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. One of its lines passes through Western Ontario from Detroit to Buffalo.

Jack Donnelly, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Engineers and spokesmen for the other brotherhoods, said the strike resulted "from a long-standing dispute involving time claims, working conditions and other things—but not wages."

George H. Sido, Wabash vice-president in charge of operations, said neither passenger nor freight trains would run.

Not Affected

ST.THOMAS, March 15 (CP)— Operating employees of the Wabash railroad here continued working as usual today, unaffected by a strike of workers in the parent Company in the United States.

But workers will be affected by the decreasing flow of traffic between Detroit and Buffalo as the strike in the United States halts company operations. Of the Canadian employees, 275 are train and engine crews, the majority living in St. Thomas.

A. R. Wilson, superintendent for the joint C.N.R.-Wabash line, said he did not believe Canadian workers would be called upon to join the strike. He could not say to what extent traffic will be affected. Wabash ferries over the Detroit river are also affected by the U.S. walkout.

Grandmother, Child 3 Found Dead In Flat

SHERBROOKE, Que., March 15—(CP)—Mrs. Joseph Gaulin, 73, and her granddaughter, Carmen Pelletier, 3½, were found dead in their second storey flat here Monday.

An open washing-fluid bottle found in the house led police to believe the girl died of poisoning. Mrs. Gaulin was known to have suffered from a heart disease and it was believed the shock of discovering the child's body led to her death.

Prices Reduced

TORONTO, March 15 (CP). — Imperial Oil Co. officials to-day announced a reduction of one-fifth of a cent per gallon in the price of furnace fuel oil and stove oil in Ontario.

In making the announcement, the company said the reduction was in line with adjustments made in Eastern United States markets.

In the East the reductions apply to furnace fuel oil and stove oil, and in Manitoba to furnace fuel oil and what is known as space-heater oil. The changes are effective immediately.

Prices and reductions vary with the position of places in regard to distribution centres.

Defence Bill 421 Million Sets Record

Say Costs For 1950 Have Been Increased By $124,000,000

OTTAWA, March 15—(CP) — Canada's defence bill is going to zoom to at least a record peacetime $421,000,000 in the 1949-50 fiscal year starting April 1, it was apparent today.

A few days before the terms—but not the tangible obligations—of the Atlantic Pact are placed before Parliament, Finance Minister Abbott tabled in the Commons the traditional blue book with its main estimates for 1949-50. They figured the country will spend at least $2,217,678,181 through its Federal treasury, or $27,114,700 more than in this waning fiscal year.

The total is something like $500,000,000 less than probable Federal revenues for 1948-49, and therefore quite in keeping with the Cabinet hints of tax reductions that have sprouted in this election year.

But at best it is only a tentative estimate.

The dominant feature of the blue book is defence. Actual defence department estimates run to $375,000,000 compared to $251,-000,000 this year. But there is at least $46,0000,000 in items tucked neatly away in other departments including $40,000,000 for married quarters under the reconstruction department, $1,500,000 for jet engine development, $1,000,000 for defence purchasing and industrial preparedness under trade, $4,200,-000 to keep the Canadian arsenals in trim.

In addition, current and future defence commitment authorities—a flexible financial instrument to handle long-range orders—total $211,000,000 compared too $98,-000,000 this year.

In other words, the Government seeks authority to spend or commit itself for more than $832,000,-000 for defence, directly and indirectly. However, the commitments must always later be covered off by cash estimates when the bills come due.

Few specific details were given but the increase was attributed to heavier costs for pay, clothing, accommodation, equipment, stores and to increased recruiting.

Mr. Abbott said special estimates will be tabled to cover the entry of Newfoundland and there would be others later.

Boy 15 Pulls Gun On Officer

TORONTO, March 15 (CP)— Confronted by a police officer in an east end taxi office today, a 15-year-old schoolboy pulled out a gun and ordered Constable William McKeown to "reach for the sky."

The officer knocked the gun from the youth's hand and floored him with a flying tackle. He was taken to police headquarters and charged with theft of the firearm. A companion, who said he was 20-year-old Sam Stenzler, was charged with vagrancy.

Police said the schoolboy is the same one who reported being attacked by a gang of zoot-suiters and slashed with a knife two months ago.

Parley On Colonies

HAVANA, Cuba, March 15 —(AP).—A conference of 14 Latin American countries opened today to study means of removing European control of Western Hemisphere colonies. Colonies under discussion are owned by Britain, France and The Netherlands. Represented at the parley, created by the Pan-American conference in Bogota last year, are Argentine, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Ecuador, El Salvador, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Mexico, Panama, Paraguay, Peru and Venezuela. The United States, Brazil and Chile declined to send delegates.

Flames Sweep Big Pier At US Navy Base

OAKLAND, Calif., March 15— (AP)—Leaping flames, fed by bursting oil drums, destroyed a huge army pier here today. Loss was estimated by the military at more than $1,000,000.

Two ships tied to the pier were damaged slightly before tugs got them to the safety of the bay. Adjacent warehouses and the entire Oakland industrial waterfront were threatened for several hours as exploding drums hurled blazing oil hundreds of feet.

The 1,000-foot pier was one of the largest from which men and supplies were dispatched to all Pacific fronts in the war. It was just south of the Oakland end of the San Francisco Bay bridge.

The fire flared at midnight. Eight hours later fire boats and land equipment still were pouring water into the smouldering ruins.

While the huge warehouse burned, an adjacent building was untouched by fire. They were separated only by an areaway.

Two soldiers were hurt slightly. Fifty army families were evacuated from nearby residences.

Cause of the fire was not determined, but possibility of sabotage was not discounted. Col. George Brown, Provost Marshal of the army base, said an investigation would be conducted at once.

The two ships scorched and damaged slightly by the flames were the 13,000-ton Young America and the 10,000-ton army transport, Sgt. George O. Keathley.

Flames shot some 500 feet in the air. Diesel-oil and gasoline drums on the pier exploded from the intense heat which kept firefighters back from the burning pier.

Burning were many automobile tires, rations, paint and other combustible items awaiting shipment overseas. Black smoke rose 2,000 feet.

Because of the heat, firemen said there was little chance of saving any of the pier and its costly material.

Carry Four Children From Burning House

TORONTO, March 15—(CP) — Four children and two women escaped from their burning basement apartment today when flames from the furnace roared through the cellar.

Mrs. Henry Houlse and her step - daughter Mrs. Francis Houlse, carried the children from the burning building in East-Central Toronto. The children ranged in age from one to five years. There were no injuries.

Million Dollar Fire Destroys Recreation Centre, Hockey Arena In Quebec

Losses In Business Alone To Be Very High No Other Rink Available; Second Blaze Splits Firefighting Crew

QUEBEC, March 15—(CP).—Quebec's Coliseum, large civic recreation centre and home of local Junior and Senior Hockey League teams, was a smoking ruin today after a spectacular three-alarm blaze that drew the full fire-fighting force of the city. The loss is estimated at more than $1,000,000. In another early morning two-alarm blaze that for a few hours split the fire crews between a downs town shoe store and the city sports centre, estimate of losses was not immediately available but they were believed to be over $25,000.

The now homeless Quebec Aces, in fifth place in the Quebec Senior Hockey League, will open their quarter-final playoff in Sherbrooke Thursay night instead of tonight as originally scheduled.

All games in the series will be played in Sherbrooke, where the team will move tomorrow for practice workouts. The second and third games will be played Saturday and Sunday and, if necessary, fourth and fifth games will be played Tuesday and Thursday of next week.

Aces, who brought the Allan Cup to Quebec in 1944, will probably leave here with borrowed uniforms and equipment pending other arrangements for replacements.

City authorities made no comment but the general feeling in sports circles was that the coliseum will "undoubtedly be rebuilt."

No one was reported injured in the two fires.

The loss of the Coliseum was regarded as much more serious than appeared at first in Quebec sports circles. Losses in business alone will run into the hundreds of thousands.

Fire had destroyed the old Quebec Arena on June 30, 1942 but it had been possible to install artificial ice in the Coliseum, on the provincial exposition grounds, for the following hockey season. Now there is no structure left in Quebec where an artificial ice rink can be installed.

Firemen returning from the scene of the fire this morning said there was no hope to save the structure from the start.

Three alarms, sounded at intervals of a few minutes, brought out enough men to surround the rectangular three-storey structure and prevent the fire from spreading to adjoining exposition ground buildings.

Approximately 20 hoses pounded the blaze with tons of water for hours.

Origin of the fire was not known but it appeared to have started in the roof of the building.

Only half an hour after firemen arrived the upper structure of the building, and the roof, crashed inside the building.

Fenelon Girl Pleads Innocent To Burglary

The 24-year-old Fenelon Falls teacher is charged with receiving a stolen fur coat. Dennis, a native of St. Catharines, Ont., is under arrest in New York.

Britain Wants Suggestions About Pacific

CANBERRA, March 15.—(Reuters). — Lord Listowel, special emissary of Prime Minister Attlee, today told the Australian cabinet that Britain would welcome Australian suggestions for improving Commonwealth safety in the Pacific in view of the growing influence of Communism in China and regions north of Australia.

An authoritative source said Lord Listowel warned the cabinet in a two-hour talk that the British Government believes Pacific defences must be strengthened because of this changed position north of Australia.

On the economic side, the source added, Lord Listowel pointed to the necessity of Britain and the rest of the Commonwealth integrating as much as possible their various economies so as to relieve the dollar strain.

Lord Listowel, who is minister of state for colonial affairs, arrived in Australia Sunday for talks with the Australian and New Zealand Governments on matters arising from last year's London conference of Commonwealth prime ministers.

An authoritative source said the main purpose of the talks would be to establish Commonwealth defence zones, and that seven dominions would be taking part in similar talks with British experts during this week.

Boy Locked Up For 14 Years

BOSTON, March 15—(AP) — Bewildered Gerald Sullivan, locked away from the world during all he can remember of his nearly 14 years, awoke to a strange new life in a bright new world today.

Compassion flowed toward him. It was evidenced in scores of adoption offers for the lad whose mother told police she hid him away because he was a "love child."

A pathetic figure, the pale, blue-eyed lad, with long dark hair streaming about his shoulders, fled Monday from the brick-walled tenement in which he had been locked. Policemen halted the fantastic fleeing figure, dressed in tattered remnants of a girl's dress.

Placed in a private home overnight—awaiting court action to determine his future—Gerald had his first haircut. For the first time he looked like a normal boy.

Police Captain Francis W. Russell said Gerald had been boarded out 13 months with a family after his birth. During the rest of his 13 years and five months, he was kept in seclusion by his mother

Britain Balances World Trade Account

But Cripps Finds Dollar Problem Now Worst Danger Spot

LONDON, March 15—(Reuters) —Britain, in her battle for recovery, has balanced her trade account with the rest of the world as a whole—but still faces a vast dollar deficit.

Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, described the dollar problem as "the worst danger spot in the economy."

His 63-page survey reveals that Britain is expected have a surplus of £15,000,000 ($60,000,000) in her balance of external payments for the 12 months ending next June.

This comes as a surprise, because as recently as last December the Government estimated a deficit of £362,000,000 for this period.

Not only has Britain achieved a balance with the world — she expects to retain it, the survey says.

"The outstanding fact is that despite the assumption of a considerable increase in imports our payments are expected to remain approximately in balance," it adds. But it sounds this sobering note on general prospects: "It is is impossible to expect that 1949 will improve on 1948 as markedly as did 1948 on 1947."

Fine Achievement

It describes Britain's feat in balancing her world account as a "noteworthy achievement," comparing it with the huge deficit of £630,000,000 in 1947.

Within the balance with the world as a whole, the dollar deficit for the first half of 1949 is forecast at £195,000,000. This compares with £169,000,000 in the second half of 1948, £254,-000,000 in the first half of 1948 and the "crisis level" of £1,024,-000,000 for the whole of 1947.

Primary concern of the survey is with the dollar deficit and the need to become independent of United States and Canadian help.

"Above all else in 1949," it says, "we must so conduct our affairs that we can do without such help as soon as possible."

It stresses the following as the main production and export tasks in the drive for self sufficiency during 1949:

1. More exports to Canada and the United States.
2. Further exertions to expand production, especially of coal, steel, textiles and egriculture.
3. Continuous efforts to reduce costs, particularly of exports, and to improve quality.
4. "The battle against inflation and the threatened rise in the cost of living must continue to be fought."

The survey adds:

"Our object is not to build up a non-dollar world from which dollar goods are to be permanently and increasingly excluded It is to elfminate our deficit with the dollar world so that we can ultimately get back to a normal pattern of world trade."

Stolen Car Driver Gives Up To Police

NEW MARKET, March 15 (CP) —Harold Bate, 22, believed to be the driver of a stolen automobile which crashed last week killing one youth and injuring another, surrendered to police early today.

He was later charged with dangerous driving.

Chief Constable Byron Burbidge of Newmarket said Bate walked into the home of Reeve C. T. Evans shortly after midnight and surrendered quietly when police were called.

Police had been combing the Holland Marsh area for Bate since the wreckage of a stolen car was found on a Newmarket side road. Norman Edwards, 20, was killed and Donald Douglas, 19, suffered a broken hip in the accident which ended a wild 80-mile-an-hour police chase.

U.S. Railroads Feel Pinch Of Shutdown

PITTSBURG, March 15 (AP)—The railroad economy of the United States began feeling the pinch of the coal mine shutdown in earnest to-day, but the remainder of American coal-dependent industry hummed merrily.

On the second day of the two-week mine shutdown ordered by President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, coal-hauling railroads continued the progressive system of layoffs begun Monday.

By the end of the week some 62,000 railroaders will be idle, joining the 463,000 miners who stayed home Monday.

The steel industry showed no sign of cutting operations. The American Steel and Iron Institute said this week's output of steel ingots and castings is expected to total 1,880,400 net tons. This compares with the previous record of 1,869,300 tons set last week.

However, Bethlehem Steel said it had enough coal on hand for only a few weeks. The national coal stock pile of 70,000,000 tons is expected to be reduced 20,000,000 tons by March 28, the day the miners are scheduled to resume digging. If the stoppage continues much longer than two weeks, retrenchment would be inevitable.

Find Athabaskan Still Seething

VICTORIA, B.C., March 15 — (CP)—Further reports of discontent aboard the Canadian destroyer Athabaskan, now at Balboa in the Canal Zone, were contained in a letter published Monday by the Victoria Times.

The letter, signed "Unhappy Sailor," accompanied a clipping from the newspaper Panama-American in which crew members were quoted as complaining that the Athabaskan was a "jinx ship" and "the unhappiest vessel in the Canadian Navy."

A week ago a letter to the Vancouver Sun told of trouble aboard the ship Feb. 26 at Manzanillo Bay, Mexico. Naval authorities later described the incident as "grossly exaggerated" and termed it a "family upset" staged by junior ratings.

The letter to the Times said crew members interviewed by the Panama-American reporter told of a protest meeting because of "non-introduction of tropical routine." It said:

"Under tropical routine, the work day began at 5:30 a.m. and ended at 12.30 p.m. Working on hot afternoons was thus avoided."

In a statement at Balboa last week Cmdr M. A. Medland, captain of the Athabaskan, said no disciplinary action had been taken following the "incident" but investigation still is under way.

Drew Denounces St. Laurent Canada's No. 1 Bureaucrat

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, March 15 — (CP). — A bitter denunciation of Prime Minister St. Laurent as Canada's "No. 1 bureaucrat," a one-time servant of the "big interests" and a wielder of the "tools of the Communists" was inscribed on the parliamentary record yesterday. It was placed there by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, when he opened a hammer-and-tongs attack on the Prime Minister in a Commons control debate and charged that he had used his personal power for "political purposes."

The Opposition leader swung back to the Hong Kong controversy, which started seven years ago, and repeated his statement that Mr. St. Laurent, as Justice Minister, had used his "power of censorship" to screen Mr. Drew's criticism of the Government for sending an ill-trained, ill-equipped detachment to Hong Kong.

He said Mr. St. Laurent had been guilty of Communist tactics when he told a meeting in Montreal recently that the Progressive Conservative Party was under the control of "financial interests."

Corporation Lawyer

The prime minister himself, Mr. Drew told the chamber, had been a "great corporation lawyer" who had "served the big interests" before he entered the House in 1941 as well as being a director of a bank, a trust company and a baking firm.

Ready To Name Them

He recalled that Mr. St. Laurent had objected two weeks ago to his statement in Montreal that bureaucrats were operating in Ottawa and following the Marxist philosophy, and had challenged him to name the bureaucrats.

Pointing across to the government benches, Mr. Drew said:

"Now I have been asked to name the bureaucrats. I will name the No. 1 bureaucrat, and that is the prime minister himself.

"And I will name the No. 2 bureaucrat; he is sitting right beside the prime minister."

(Trade Minister Howe, often the target of opposition attack on control policy, was sitting at Mr. St. Laurent's right.)

The trade minister interjected, "We can name the No. 1 comedian."

Mr. Drew continued: "And just in case anyone does not know who is the No. 2 bureaucrat is, it is the minister of trade and commerce."

Finance Minister Abbott: "Is he the well-known Marxist?"

Mr. Drew: "I will deal with that at the proper time in my remarks."

Hospital Cleaner Charged With Murder

TORONTO, March 15—(CP) — Samuel Care, 56-year-old cleaner at the Toronto Hospital for Tuberculosis in suburban Weston, has been charged with murder in connection with the death of Miss Mamie McLennon, 55, a hospital maid.

Police Chief Robert Alexander of York Township said the charge was laid late Monday. Care, now under 24-hour police guard in hospital, was remanded from his hospital bed for one week.

Miss McLennon was one of three victims attacked by Care when he went berserk March 1 and ran through hospital corridors wielding a knife, a razor and a sawed-off shotgun. She died the following day.

The two other victims, a nurse and a woman patient, are reported recovering from their wounds.

Train Severs Leg

DUNELLEN, N.J., March 15—(AP)—Cpl. Herbert Brooks of the United States Air Force crawled 135 feet to a highway Monday night after one of his legs was severed by a railroad train. The screams of the 21-year-old corporal attracted nearby residents. His condition was described as fair.

Carl Northey Given One Year

Convicted of having forged five cheques belonging to Peterborough residents, Carl Northey, 21, of Peterborough, was to-day sentenced in County Court to 12 months definite and 12 months indeterminate in the Ontario Reformatory, on each of the five charges, The sentences will run concurrently.

Northey pleaded not guilty to the first charge of forging the $10 February, 1948, Family Allowance cheque of Mrs. Winona Porter, Grandview Avenue He was convicted on it, and later pleaded guilty to forging four other cheques, of a total value of $158, the property of Mrs. Margaret Boddy, Park Street; Mrs. Donna Rowley, Union Street, Mrs. Lydia Stansfield, Park Street, and Mrs. Marie M. Reid, Rubidge Street.

All of the alleged forgeries took place in the late winter and early spring of 1948. Three of them were Family Allowance cheques, one was an Old-Age Pension cheque, and the fifth was a cheque on the Dominion Bank.

"One of the most difficult things that any Judge has to do is to impose penalties, especially on young men such as you," said His Honor Judge S. L. Smoke, in pasing sentence.

Referring to the convicted youth's record which dated from 1942, the Judge said: "You have had so many convictions against you and there are so many charges here, some of which have been withdrawn, that I must make the penalty heavy enough to deter you and others from further crimes."

Originally there were 10 charges of forging cheques against Northey. Five of them were withdrawn after he was convicted on the first charge and agreed to plead guilty to the other four.

Mrs. Porter who in February of 1948 was living on Dumble Ave., just outside the city limits, testified that she did not receive her February Family Allowance cheque. She made inquiries and found that it had been mailed.

When it came time for the postal truck to bring the March cheque (it usually arrived on the 21st or 22nd of the month) she watched from her front window to see if it would be placed in her rural post box, some distance away from the house.

About half an hour before the mail truck was due she said Northey drove up in a truck and approached her mail box, but when he saw her looking he turned around, re-entered his truck and drove away. He did not touch the mail box, she said.

Detective Sergeant John Stevenson and Detective Constable William Clarke said they went to Guelph Reformatory in September 1948, where Northey was serving a term for theft, and warned him that he might be charged with forgery. Northey was arrested and charged when he left the Reformatory.

Northey, they said, told them that he would not plead guilty but was willing to make restitution. They obained specimen signatures of the various people he had allegedly stolen the cheques from, signed by his own hand.

These were compared with the signatures of the rightful owners of the cheques.

John A. McKone, principal of Peterborough Business College, and a handwriting expert, testified that in his opinion it was Northey's signature on the back of Mrs. Porter's cheque.

Woman Fined $50 On Income Tax Count

Mrs. M. D. Dunn, 406½ Sheridan St., was fined $50 with $1.75 costs by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, at police court today for failing to supply income tax returns. Mrs. Dunn did not appear in court.

P. D. Scollard, who was prosecuting, asked the magistrate to try the case today in spite of Mrs. Dunn's absence, pointing out that the case had been adjourned three times.

He said he had received a letter from Mrs. Dunn, stating that she had written to Belleville asking the income tax authorities to search for her returns. He told the court that no returns could be found at Belleville and that this was a second prosecution for similar offences.

The magistrate ordered a distress warrant to be used in default of payment and in default of enough distress, one month in jail.

To Have Waterworks

PICKERING, March 15—(CP) —This Ontario County village of 650 population voted Monday to spent $93,000 to link itself with the waterworks at Ajax, two miles away. Until now, Pickering has used well water.

Funeral Delays Ontario Budget Debate

TORONTO, March 15 (CP)—H. C. Nixon (Lib—Brant) speaks first today as the Ontario Legislature nears the end of the budget debate.

The debate, started March 4 with Provincial Treasurer Frost's budget address, could have been wound up tonight with the House in a night sitting. Premier Kennedy, however, is believed to have preferred not to have a division today with many members attending the funeral in Brockville of W. B. Reynolds, Progressive Conservative member for Leeds who died here Saturday. It is expected Opposition Leader E. B. Jolliffe and Mr. Frost will end the debate tomorrow. Premier Kennedy now is aiming to end the session March 31.

The House Monday gave second reading to three bills implementing Mr. Frost's plan to replace the one-mill municipal aid with increased assistance in highway expenditures, maintenance and construction of old age homes and support of Children's Aid Societies. Second reading of two other bills to help maintain fire and police departments was postponed pending presentation today of a brief by the Association of Ontario Mayors and Reeves.

William Dennison (CCF—Toronto St. David) said the minister had estimated the new grants would require additional expenditure by the government of some $700,000. At the same time he had predicted Toronto alone would receive more than this amount in additional grants.

Mr. Doucett said it was impossible to estimate how much municipalities would spend and and how much they would receive in grants. These estimates were based on 1948 expenditures and some figures were not yet available.

The House also gave second reading to a bill increasing government assistance in maintaining old age homes and building new ones.

Agnes Macphail (CCF—York East) said if the government were going to increase aid to old age homes it should insist that the old people were well fed and that they had "something interesting or amusing" to do. Separation of old couples in the homes was "cruel."

Welfare Minister Goodfellow said that was "exactly what the government has in mind." Eventually cottages would be built to accommodate old couples.

Cheese, Produce And Livestock

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, March 15—(CP)— Oats futures prices continued to move narrowly in dull trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Modest shipper and American buying supplied support.

Barley drew routine shipper demand against light offerings and rye showed an easier tone on commission house selling.

Prices:

Oats—May ⅝ higher at 72¾; July ½ higher at 79⅝B; Oct. not open.

Barley — May ⅜ higher at 1.07⅛; July ½ higher at 99⅝A; Oct. ⅛ higher at 94⅞B.

Rye—May ¾ lower at 1.12¾A; July ⅝ lower at 1.12⅛B; Oct. not open.

Flax—May ⅛ lower at 4.00⅛B; July not open.

Inspections: Wheat this year 1253; last year 275; cars of contract 1049; oats 78-27; barley 99-32; flax 20-5; rye 24-0; other grains 6-0; total 1461-339.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, March 15—(CP) — Prices were generally unchanged on a steady livestock market up to noon here today. Receipts reported by the Dominion Marketing Service were: Cattle 700; calves 180; hogs 350; lambs 40.

Some medium to choice weighty steers sold at $19.50-$20. Good light steers were $19.50-$20 and good heifers were $19-$19.50 with plain steers and heifers downward to $17. Good cows sold at $15.50-$16.50 with canners and cutters at $11-$12.50. A few bulls sold at $17-$19 and fed yearlings were $19-$22.50. Some plain stockers sold at 16-$17.75.

Good to choice calves were $27-$30. Other grades were weak with lightweights selling at $15-$25.

Hogs were 25 cents higher for the wek with grad A at $31.50 and grade B1 at $31.10. Sows were mostly $23.50, dressed.

Plain to medium lambs were $15-$24. No sheep were offered.

FLOOD SHIELD—Higher and wider dikes will protect British Columbia Fraser Valley farms from high water this year and a recurrence of last spring's disastrous floods is likely to be prevented. Bulldozers, shovels and draglines are building mountainous bulwarks. Work on Connor dike on the Sardis River, 50 miles southeast of Vancouver is pictured here.

Say MacDonald On Farm Near Port Hope

Provincial Police headquarters said today they are investigating a report that Donald (Mickey) MacDonald, fugitive from Kingston Penitentiary, is hiding out in the Port Hope district.

Chief Inspector Albert Ward said "We have had many other reports from different parts of the province and we are checking everyone in the same way."

MacDonald's hideout is said to be on a farm with two ex-convicts from Kingston.

Provincial Police in Peterborough said they had not been asked to investigate the report.

MacDonald along with Nick Minnille and Ulysses Lauzon escaped from Kingston Penitentiary 20 months ago. More than a year later Minnille was captured and returned to the penitentiary and Lauzon was found dead in Southern States.

1,200 Insurable Workers Reported To Be Unemployed

There were 1,200 insurable males and females unemployed up until the week ending last Friday, W. Mellis, manager of National Employment Service, said today. He estimated that this figure represented about four per cent. of the total insurable persons in Haliburton, Victoria, Peterborough, part of Durham and most of Northumberland counties. At a meeting of district managers in Toronto last week, Mr. Mellis said officials of NES felt no concern over this figure and gave the main reason for the condition that it was due only to seasonal layoffs.

The Canadian Raybestos Company have been operating on a four-day week for the past two weeks. Officials say that it is a direct cause of the slowing up in the automotive industry with which they are closely allied. Jobbers' stocks are heavy, and it is not possible to keep up producing during five days a week on this account. A few carpenters were laid off from the house building project on the Chemong Road and 25 employees at Canada Packers were laid off, terminating their usual seasonal work.

Mr. Mellis said that there was no truth in the rumor that there were layoffs at the Outboard Marine Company. Construction of the new plant extension attracts many workers to the field office each day. Some of them will be absorbed when excavation is completed and cement work begins.

There were 34 placements at the NES office during the week ending Friday night.

Defence Fund

Some Reductions

For all other departments than defence, costs were down nearly $100,000,000, he said. Still daddy of them all was finance with $613,000,000 of which $440,000,000 goes to carry the national debt, now about $13,000,000,000.

Second in line was the Health Department with $396,348,000 of which $276,480,000 goes for family allowances. Then comes defence. After that the only other department in the big leagues is veterans affairs with $242,000,000 or $82,000,000 less than this year, chiefly because the rehabilitation program is drawing towards its close.

Mr. Abbott, analyzing his figures, said about $1,217,000,000 of the total stems from "relatively uncontrollable items"—war pensions, contributions to unemployment insurance, obligations under statutes. The rest includes defence, postal, transport and the multitudes of other services.

Pirates Loot Store

VANCOUVER, March 15—(CP) —River pirates bored their way into riverfront hardware store Sunday at nearby Ladner and escaped by boat with $3,000 worth of loot, police said Monday. Most of the booty consisted of power tools, electric motors, rifles and knives.

$100,000 Placed In Estimates For New Building

Appropriations for Federal public works in Ontario announced today in the estimates of the Dominion Government indicate a huge backlog of construction that has been held up by the ten years of war and the present recovery period.

For the Peterborough postal-customs building the amount mentioned is $100,000, obviously a preliminary appropriation. Belleville is down in the list for a public building and harbor improvements; Picton, a public building, $25,000; Oshawa harbor redredging, $150,000; Trenton wharf extension $20,000; Whitby harbor repairs, $50,000.

Base Metals Skid On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, March 15—(CP) — A second reduction in the price of lead in two weeks sent base metal stocks skidding downhill on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. This cut followed a two-cents-a-pound decrease March 8 and lead producers declined steadily on the market from the opening today.

Volume for the first three hours was 536,000 shares, about 182,000 shares more than yesterday's similar period.

Junior and senior gold producers reflected the weaker base metal stocks in dull action and a handful of industrials slipped quietly on fractional declines.

Consolidated Smelters led the base metals with a 2% loss at a new low at 100. Three base metals sold at new lows for the year.

CPR weakened in industrials following release of estimated annual earnings showing a decrease from the previous year. Imperial Oil lost a fraction and Powell River again sold at a new low.

Dr. C. A. Porteous Dies

MONTREAL, March 15—(CP)— Dr. Carlyle Arnot Porteous 72, one of first Canadians to use electric and insulin shocks for treatment of mental disorders, died here Monday. After earning a reputation as one of Canada's outstanding psyschiatrists, Dr. Porteous retired as medical superintendent of Verdun Protestant Hospital in 1947. Born at Iroquois Ont., he was educated at Queen's University where he graduated in medicine in 1901.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA

can rob you of energy and ambition!

WE ALL KNOW people whose stamina and spirits seem always under par — who lack ambition and drive — who look like pale, tired failures. Often, such effects come from a blood condition. They may indicate a Borderline Anemia, a mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron. They may mean that your red blood cells may be too faded and puny to transmit full energy to your body. Many women, men and children go dragging through life with this Borderline Anemia.

How Ironized Yeast Tablets Build Up Your Blood and Vigor

Take Ironized Yeast Tablets if you're too pale, too tired because of this blood deficiency. They are formulated to help build up faded red blood cells—thus restore vigor.

Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may come from other conditions—so consult your doctor regularly. But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets to help build up your blood. Take them to start your energy shifting back into "high"—help restore your color! Take them so you can enjoy life again!

King May Make Tour In 1950

LONDON, March 15—(CP). — The King Monday was reported recovering satisfactorily from the nerve operation he underwent on Saturday.

Meanwhile, he is looking forward to a new phase of his convalescence for a leg ailment.

On April 14, three days before Easter, he will travel by road to Windsor Castle for a six-week holiday offering him more physical activity than doctors have permitted since he became ill last November.

A palace bulletin Monday morning said: "The King slept for the greater part of the night. His post-operative discomfort is lessening and his general condition remains satisfactory."

The King's stay early in the year at Sandringham House in Norfolk has been of so much benefit to him that it is possible he may be able to do some riding during his holiday at Windsor. He is also expected to go for walks in the gardens and travel by car around his private estate, covering an area of about 10 miles.

Members of his household who were at Sandringham say the King, who is 53, is making remarkably good progress and the belief is gaining ground in court circles that the Royal tour of Australia and New Zealand may take place early next year.

"It must have been after a rat and knocked over a lamp," she said tearfully.

Gives Report Upon New Hall

HARWOOD, March 15 (ENS)—The annual meeting of Harwood Memorial Park was held in the new hall Saturday evening, with an attendance of about sixty. Major R. E. Drope, M.P., presided, and Glenn E. Hogg, secretary-treasurer, read a statement reviewing everything that had been done since the building of the new hall. Printed statements were given to everyone present.

After the business meeting a short program of entertainment was carried out. Wallace Young sang a solo, and led in community singing. Misses Merla Kelly and Shirley Drope sang in costume two Irish songs, with Mrs. J. Minifie accompanying. Betty Isaac and Pauline Drope sang a duet. Then there were four square dance numbers followed by refreshments.

The following were appointed on the 1949-50 Park Committee: President, Major R. E. Drope, M.P.; secretary-treasurer, Glenn E. Hogg; auditors, Harry Hayward and Hilton Graham; park committee board: Wm. Baker, Jack Mitchell, Wallace Young, Earl T. Shearer, Albert Thorold, Jack Young, Alex Young, Walter Johnstone, Jack Robson, W. O. Harvie.

Wm. Alfred Johnston Dies In Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, March 15—(ENS)—After a lengthy illness, William Alfred Johnston, 75, died at the family residence, Inkerman St., on Saturday. The funeral service was conducted by Dr. D. Mansell Smith of St. John's United Church on Monday and burial was in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Mr. Johnston was a graduate of Queen's University and had two years' post-graduate work at Yale. He received his master's degree in classics in 1903 and two years later graduated as a Bachelor of Science.

A former member of the Geological survey, he made extensive studies of glacial geology. He was greatly in demand as a consultant on numerous Canadian engineering projects.

Born at Aberarder, he was the son of the late William Johnston and Eliza Wilson. Mr. Johnston was married in 1909 to the former Elsie May Ashton who survives him. Also surviving are three sons: Dr. Ashton William, Dr. John Landrum and Donald John Johnston; and three grandsons, David, Billy and Peter, sons of Dr. Ashton Johnston.

He also leaves six sisters: Mrs. Margaret Steacy and Mrs. Eleanor Bower, both of Ottawa; Mrs. Fred Brand of Alberni, B. C.; Mrs. Kate Nutting of New York City; Mrs. Percy Cowley of Edmonton; and Miss Rose Johnston of New York State; and one brother, Dr. D. B. Johnston of Saskatchewan.

The pallbearers were Wilbert Kingston, Arthur Armour, Morley Petherick, J. C. Anderson, Edward Outingdyke and Douglas Maybee. Flower-bearers were: Roger Lain, James Gay, Carl Johnston, Ray Connor, Earl Craighead, Clare Ames and Herbert McMillen.

Workmen's Compensation In Ontario Said One Of Best

Methods of operation used by the Workmen's Compensation Board of Ontario have been accorded high praise in other provinces of Canada, in many states of the union, and by leading labor unions; it is an organization of which every citizen of Ontario should feel very proud, members of the Peterborough Rotary Club were told on Monday by the chairman of the board, E. E. Sparrow, who was guest speaker. Mr. Sparrow, who was introduced by Ian MacRae, general manager of the Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd., declared that it is the constant aim of the board to see that "fair play and justice is done," both to employer and employee in compensation matters.

First Act Of Its Kind

Recalling that Ontario, back in 1915, was the first province in Canada to enact Workmen's Compensation legislation, Mr. Sparrow said that "We are highly rated outside this province as pioneers in certain fields of workmen's compensation." Similar legislation in some of the other provinces was almost an exact copy of Ontario's act, and "many delegations came to us from time to time from the United States seeking information on our set-up." These have included representatives of American labor unions, many of whom have stated that the workers of Ontario get "a better break" on workmen's compensation than do workers in some states of the union.

Best Possible Attention

In describing in considerable detail the work of the board, Mr. Sparrow told the Rotarians these facts among others: the board sees to it that injured workers get "the best possible medical attention," those requiring expert surgical attention being brought into Toronto where they are treated by the best surgeons; the board receives an average of 200 X-rays a day in connection with fractures suffered by Ontario workmen while on duty; even in cases where an employer evades paying the board's assessment required by law an injured worker still receives compensation; the board hopes to include all workers not now covered by compensation within its scope in the next three or four years, as soon as the necessary office space is available, this being the only limiting factor in this regard at the moment.

Only Minor Amendments

Mr. Sparrow paid tribute to the good job done by those who originally drafted the act. He said that in all major particulars it had remained intact until this day, only minor amendments having been necessary in the intervening years.

The speaker stated that the board receives its funds from only on source, namely: the employers of labor. It receives no government grant whatsoever and the only contribution made to the board by a government is when some of its own employees fall within the act's provisions. Part of the funds which the board receives in assessments from companies is made available to accident prevention associations in the form of grants to help them carry on their work. He paid tribute to the "enormous amount of work" which these associations are doing.

Threefold Aim

The board aims to do three things, said Mr. Sparrow: it tries to prevent accidents, it aims at getting an injured worker back on the job as quickly as possible, and in cases where an injury may incapacitate him from resuming his former occupation it tries to get him rehabilitated in some other line of work.

Mr. Sparrow stated that "the management people" are also entitled to be covered by the act in exactly the same way as is the worker, if they so desire. In cases where there is an element of doubt as to whether or not a man is entitled to compensation he must prove to the satisfaction of the board that he was injured while working. The board's policy is to continue reopening disputed cases whenever new evidence is presented.

A vote of thanks to the speaker was moved by Mel McCarrell who paid tribute to Mr. Sparrow's outstanding service to the board.

All World Neighbors Says Rotary Speaker

CAMPBELLFORD, March 15 — (ENS).—"We cannot narrow our vision to ourselves and forget the larger perspective," said the Rev. D. Mansell Smith, minister of St. John's United Church, at the noon luncheon of the Rotary Club on Monday. "Our world is a world of ever widening circles and what concerns us concerns our fellowmen. When our neighbors are in trouble we cannot withhold from them the hand of charity.

"Our neighborhood has become the world," he continued. "Starvation in Europe and India and the chaotic political structure of China affects us. Social unrest is potential soil for Communism. The underprivileged are choosing between Communism and democracy and the sysem that provides more of the amenities of life is the system that will survive."

Must Abolish Errors

He said that there was much talk during the war of building a new world by abolishing fear and poverty. How can we build a new order if we still retain the old characteristics? he asked. "We want a world that has not the errors of the past and to build such a world we must start in our homes and our town by improving the environment of the boys and girls."

"We must watch over their reading material, provide them with better pictures in the movies and use the right kind of language in front of them." He said that he was surprised to find no public park and swimming pool in Campbellford but was hopeful that such projects would be provided in the near future.

"Social legislation alone cannot build a new world," he remarked "The causes of poverty and delinquency must be removed Moral and spiritual ideals are the forces that will bring about the realization of brotherhood, unselfishness and better human relationships. The Ten Commandments are the pillars on which to build our new social structure because they are the foundation stones of law and order."

The speaker was introduced by W. Kingston, and W. J. Lennox moved the vote of thanks. Rotary President Bill Brady was in the chair.

The Holy Curiosity Of Enquiry

In his newly published autobiography Dr. Albert Einstein tells us that when he was a boy he disliked school lessons and examinations. He wanted to be let alone so that he could study what interested him. Commenting on our systems of education, he says: "It is nothing short of a miracle that modern methods of instruction have not yet entirely strangled the holy curiosity of enquiry".

* * *

It is indeed a miracle, but we think that we can anticipate some of the answers which schoolteachers and university instructors will make to the questions which are implicit in what Dr. Einstein has said. In the first place, young Einstein was a boy of powerful curiosity; he wanted to learn a great many things and he was willing to do a great deal of work to achieve that end. Most boys and girls do not want to learn anything; they have no special curiosity, and their enthusiasms burn out quickly; left to themselves they would study only what is easy, or of trivial value. Next, young Einstein had the knack of teaching himself; he neither expected, nor wanted, his teachers to provide him with predigested information. The student who teaches himself gains more pleasure and more lasting value from his education than those who cast the responsibility for educating them upon their teachers, but the self-educators are few. Confronted with large classes of intellectual nurslings the teacher must depend on lectures and examinations to show any kind of result.

* * *

We sympathise with the teachers, for their job is to put something, somehow, into the heads of great masses of young people who are indifferent to knowledge, or hostile toward it, or basically ineducable. It is part of our democratic belief that we should educate everybody, whether he wants to be educated, or shows any signs that he can benefit by education. We refuse to consider the possibility that there may be, in our population, an ineducable lump which education cannot leaven. And in our concern for mass education we shamefully neglect the handful of brilliant pupils and the very occasional genius who, when schooldays are over, will be honoured in their generation and the glory of their time. It is in this respect that private schools can still outstrip our public schools.

* * *

It is obviously out of the question that every boy and girl should be fully responsible for his own education; most boys and girls do not know what they want well enough for that. Nevertheless, this declaration by one of the great men of our day gives us an opportunity to look at our educational system afresh, and to see that, in its concern for mass-production, it leaves small scope for the gifted individual. The holy curiosity of enquiry gets short shift when curriculums must be followed and the examination Moloch satisfied.

Public Flogging

A news despatch from Wilmington, in the state of Delaware, U.S.A., tells us that a Negro was given a public flogging at a whipping post there on Saturday, for beating his wife; thirty people gathered to see the sight. This is interesting news, and we shall be even more interested if a report ever comes from Wilmington that a white man has been punished in this way.

This punishment is interesting to Canadians, because two Ontario judges, Mr. Ian Macdonell and Mr. T. H. Barton, have recently advocated strappings for 'teen-age gangsters—not public floggings, but strappings given in private, presumably by the police. Mr. Alex Edmison, of the John Howard Penal Society, and Dr. W. E. Blatz, the well-known psychiatrist, have both put themselves on record as opposing such a move. Mr. Edmison says that whipping is degrading and does no good; Dr. Blatz says simply that he does not think that corporal punishment is of any value, and that preventive education, rather than flogging, is what is needed.

This newspaper has discussed flogging many times, but has never been able to declare for or against it without reservation. We have, of course no use whatever for public floggings of the Wilmington variety; they are degrading spectacles, quite out of place in civilised communities. But is flogging itself a deterrent from crime? Is anyone in a position to give a decided and authoritative opinion? The suffering inflicted by a flogging is great, but not of long duration; the force of the punishment lies in the humiliation which it carries with it. Does humiliation reform anybody?

There are people who learn from humiliation, but we think that they are likely to be of a higher moral character than wife-beaters and young gangsters. A man who can take a bitter dose of humiliation, chasten his pride and profit from it, is a man of strong character and considerable intelligence; criminals do not often fall into that class. They may be intelligent but they are short on character. Does whipping such men do them any good? And does their punishment really deter others from following in their steps? We have no means of knowing, but we wish that some committee, or some single investigator, could give a final answer to these questions.

Sculpette Or Jazey, Sir?

Ever since we learned that Britain's National Health Service provides free wigs for those who need them we have thirsted for more information about this great humanitarian venture. A little more knowledge was vouchsafed us by a recent dispatch which says that for women these wigs are provided in five styles: the bobbed wig, the full transformation, the semi-transformation, the fringe, the toupee and the patch. The last-named, we assume, is a small piece which can be fastened where needed. For men there are only two styles—the "sculpette", for the partly bald, and the "all-over" wig. For at least two hundred years these all-over wigs have been known as "jazeys" (we do not pretend to know why) and we presume that they will continue to be known by that name, even though they bear the lion and unicorn stamp on their under side.

These wigs cost the government £2.10.0 each, or about twelve dollars in our currency. We know a little bit about wigs, and, upon the whole, we would prefer not to appear in public in a twelve-dollar jazey—not if we hoped to deceive anybody, that is. A really good wig, which might pass as the wearer's own hair, costs from about fifty dollars up to any sum you wish to pay.

There are twenty-three wigmakers at work providing the government wigs, and the demand calls for about 200 wigs a week. That means that each wigmaker must turn out better than eight wigs a week, or more than a wig a day. Now the making of a wig is a highly skilled task. Small bunches of hair must be drawn through the canvas or gauze base of the wig, and knotted with a special wig-maker's knot; upon the fineness of this workmanship depends the eventual appearance of the wig. And when it is made each wig must be trimmed and dressed—another expert task. To do it at such a speed suggests some rather rough workmanship. If the results look like the work of a saddler rather than a wigmaker, who shall be blamed? If the day should come when we need a jazey we hope we shall be able to bribe the maker to take at least two days at it.

Royalty Not Above Law

The principle was established in British practice in 1649 that the King is not above the law, even though all laws are made in the name of His Most Excellent Majesty. The other day Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret went to the Old Bailey, Britain's most famous criminal court, presumably in order to further their state training by seeing personally how a Court of Law is conducted. As they entered the Court, all present, including the gowned and bewigged counsel rose to their feet, sitting down again only after the royal couple had sat down. However, when the Lord Chief Justice entered the chamber to begin the proceeding, all rose, including the two Princesses. The Chief Justice embodied the laws of the realm, the justice which is over kings and commoners alike. It was fitting, proper and historically reminiscent that the heiress to the throne and her sister should rise in respect to the office and the law. As they rose, what a long vista of British justice, of crown and people, from Magna Charta to Charles the First rose in review in that famous court! Law comes from the King, is administered in his name, yet is above the King, a principle symbolised that day when Lord Chief Justice Goddard sat in a seat raised above those of the two Princesses.

The Brantford Expositor complains—somewhat wistfully, it appears to us—that "what usually passes for profanity is pretty drab stuff—unimaginative, indeed". And will remain so, we fear, until new discoveries in theology, physiology and depravity open up fresh country.

Realism In British Painting

By HUMPHREY BROOKE
Assistant Keeper of the Tate Gallery, London

IN 1937 a school of drawing and painting was opened in the Euston Road, London, by four young artists, William Coldstream, Graham Bell, Claude Rogers and Victor Pasmore. It lasted little more than two years, as swift in its dissolution as that of the Brotherhood found in 1948 by Millais, Holman-Hunt and Rossetti. However wide the gulf may be that separates these two movements, both originated as reactions against contemporary painting in Britain, challenging the established conventions of their times. It remains doubtful whether the Euston Road movement will have as wide or lasting an influence as the Pre-Raphaelite, but it is at least of sufficient importance to justify an attempt to place it in perspective.

In the early nineteen-thirties the younger generation of British artists, still dominated by the aesthetic theories of Roger Fry, were virtually hynotised by the sensational achievements of the Ecole de Paris. Decorative abstractions or distortions in the manner of Picasso's chameleon-like metamorphoses were the generally accepted idioms. Representational painting, the hall-mark of a feeble Academy, was discredited, and the elimination of the realist element was weakening the links with the native tradition.

It was in this atmosphere that in 1936 William Coldstream began to set himself the serious problem of painting the seen object with patience and sensibility. Coldstream's puritan temperament, his intellect and his gift of draughtsmanship, were the qualities needed for the leader of a movement which would challenge the prevailing trend of fashion. He was the originator of the "Euston Road" ideas.

His immediate colleague on this course was Graham Bell, a South African artist and writer, who had come to England in 1931 and met Coldstream through the chance of finding himself in adjacent lodgings. Bell was not only a painter of deep sensibility but a vital personality of passionate sincerity in the advocacy of any principles of which he became convinced. From the association of these two, germinated the ideas with which the School became permeated. Both artists, in fact, had begun to attract attention with their exhibited pictures in the few months before that venture was launched.

Their sober principles, rightly described as "an antidote to sensationalism", were held with the strongest moral ardour by both painters. The spirit of their message was clearly expounded by Bell. His pamphlet The Artist and his Public (Hogarth Press, 1939) outlined the decline of painting in modern society through its monopoly by a narrow group of aesthetes. Of Picasso he wrote "today this mighty painter, born perhaps to rival Raphael, is a maker of toys for aesthetes and fashions in dissatisfactions for intellectuals. He is corrupted by the doctrine that painting is all art . . . his freedom is to be chained to a class as aimless as a wandering meteor".

The implication of these sociological convictions was reflected also in the painting of these two men. Not only did they choose for a time in 1938 to paint in Bolton, then a depressed industrial city, but they held the theory, in contrast to that of the impressionists and their successors, that the subject of a picture was of value in itself. It was more important, they believed, to paint Bolton, as an aspect of modern civilization, than to paint a still-life. Similarly, their interest in human beings as such, justified their painting of portraits.

The Coldstream-Bell theories which were the foundation of the Euston Road "idea" have recently become obscured, largely as a result of the classification by critics of a considerable number of miscellaneous painters as "Euston Road", although their development has been scarcely affected by its teaching. Some of these were Slade contempories of Coldstream such as Rodrigo Moynihan and Geoffrey Tibble — both of whom gave up painting abstracts in about 1937—and Anthony Devas and Thomas, painters unpreoccupied with theories, whose reputations were already becoming established. None of these, except Moynihan, who taught occasionally at the School of drawing and painting, had any connection with the movement apart from personal acquaintance with its founders. The most of minor figures, mostly exponents of a neo-impressionistic style, now frequently referred to as followers of the movement, had even less contact with it.

It must also be emphasized that the two painters who in 1938 became co-founders of the School with Coldstream and Bell, and who were at that time in general sympathy with their colleagues' outlook, were never closely associated with the ideas that lay in the background. Claude Rogers, a painter of brilliant technical facility, who had been a distinguished contemporary of Coldstream's at the Slade, was an experienced teacher and had been interested for some time in the possibility of an independent institution at which the instructors could work alongside their pupils. Victor Pasmore was a self-taught painter, then employed as a clerk by the London County Council and anxious to free himself of that commitment. It is true that between 1937 and 1939 Pasmore painted a few pictures which reflect the spirit of the School; but his development as a mature artist, as in the case of Rogers, was little influenced by that austerely humanist quality emanating from Coldstream. His essentially lyrical talent, as his recent experiments show, would have flourished in other circumstances. The ancestry of his art is so varied as to include Chardin, Turner, Seurat, Bonnard and (in 1948) Juan Gris, but a certain mistiness is often characteristic of his statement. Though the effects he achieves are almost invariably of rare beauty, it may be that this "atmospheric" pre-occupation has helped to mislead those critics who have seen in the Euston Road movement nothing but a return to impressionism.

The school, jointly founded by these four men with the generous assistance of Sir Kenneth Clark, then Director of the National Gallery, and others, was closed on the outbreak of war in 1939. Its reputation was at that time considerable, higher perhaps than its actual achievement in painting might seem to justify. But Graham Bell was killed when serving with the Royal Air Force in 1943 and the circumstances of the war permitted only Pasmore, of the original group, and Laurence Gowing, the pupil or the highest promise, to continue the regular practice of their art. Thus, partly through dispersal, partly through loss of leadership, and in part through misunderstanding by critics of the kind referred to, the significance of the School has been too frequently overlooked.

Although it would be premature to predict a final judgement on the importance of the Coldstream-Bell movement, an appraisal of its effect in arousing British painters from the sterile abstraction of the nineteen-thirties is over-due. Its central achievement was to revive the possibility of realist painting.

Other general influences may have contributed to this development. The idea was no doubt "in the air", but its clearest expression, the focal point for its disseminaion, and for a short time the centre of critical attention, was the School of drawing and painting in the Euston Road.

A New Kind Of Pie

PROBABLY the most valuable find since the discovery of apple pie is reported from Peru. There the Tingo Maria experiment station staff has found a berry growing wild which is as large as an average apple or orange. It's called the cocona and is a little too acid to eat raw, but the serious minded experimenters already have tried it out in pies.

Joseph L. Fennel of the Inter-American Institute of Agricultural Sciences says it compares favorably with the pineapple, apricot and gooseberry in preserves, pies and sauces and is the equal and probably the superior of most fruits now used for cooking or preserving.

A single plant of this amazing new commodity is loaded down with from 40 to 60 pounds of potential pie filler and produces its great yield seven months after planting. The next step is to get this superberry to grow in temperate climes and to introduce to North Americans the cocona pie.

But the cocona promises something more than just new pies and sauces. Experiments are being made in Peru in producing hybrids. Possibly this king size delicacy will help feed the world, provide a dessert for the tasteless seaweeds and such which science is hoping will save the human race.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

The Lord reigneth, he is clothed with majesty: the Lord is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself: the world also is stablished, that is cannot be moved. Thy throne is established of old: thou art from everlasting.

The floods have lifted up. O Lord, the floods have lifted up their voice; the floods lift up their waves. The Lord on high is mightier than the noise of many waters, yea, than the mighty waves of the sea. (Ps. 93: 1-4.)

The hills melted like wax at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth. (Ps. 97: 5.)

❖ ❖ ❖

Who is he that saith, and it cometh to pass, when the Lord commandeth it not? (Lam. 3: 37.)

❖ ❖ ❖

For who is God, save the Lord? and who is a rock, save our God?....Therefore I will give thanks unto thee, O Lord, among the heathen, and I will sing praises unto thy name. (II Sam. 22: 32, 50.)

Letter To The Editor

DRIPPING WITH BLOOD

Sir: Your editorial in yesterday's Examiner concerning liquor revenue was interesting to say the least. I assume this was written just to see what response it would bring from the public; for there certainly isn't anything about it for anybody to be proud of.

Thirty-five million dollars is a lot of dollars; but it is dripping wet with human blood, and tears.

Prof. Joslyn Rogers, the Ontario Government medico-legal expert says that 45 per cent. of all serious car accidents that he has investigated, liquor is a contributary cause. You know of course that during 1947, 720 people were killed in auto accidents in Ontario. Figure it out for yourself on the basis of 1948 figures and you get an estimate of the amount of revenue collected for each life taken.

I presume, if you have a family, that you would not take the whole 35 millions for one of your children; yet this is the money that came as revenue from the thing that took hundreds of lives. There is no way of getting around that fact. It is blood money.

In February 1948, Dr. W. K. Fenton, M.O.H. for Etobicoke said, "Poverty, neglect of homes and children, juvenile delinquency, illegitimacy, venereal disease, crime and the rivers of blood and tears which follow are all too frequently the result of the abuse of alcoholic beverages". Sir, it takes a lot more than 35 million dollars to compensate for that kind of thing.

If our country is interested only in revenue why not legalize and license things, bandits, white slave trades etc.? I am sure it would bring a handsome revenue.

Our legislators would do well to heed the book which ranks as the world's best-seller, "Woe to him that buildeth a town with blood, and stablisheth a city by iniquity".

Yours truly,
LORNE C. BALL.
Marmora.

More Medals

Colonel Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, has joined that elite which wears the medals of Colonel Peron, dictator of Argentina. Colonel Peron has met Colonel McCormick, and the two colonels have got along together famously. This was assured by their community of ideas. A kind of spiritual cord runs between Chicago and Buenos Aires and it twangs with a familiar tune.

But Colonel McCormick need not think that he is unique among the public figures of North America in receiving the approval of the Argentine boss. With proper modesty it may be suggested that Colonel Peron's honours have been extended to a Canadian also. Premier Duplessis of Quebec received his medal from Colonel Peron last autumn. A spiritual cord, emitting the same tune, runs from Quebec City, as from Chicago, to the Argentine capital.

An interesting coterie, all covered with medals, now emerges upon the map of the western hemisphere—Colonel Peron, Colonel McCormick and Mr. Duplessis. And "marching arm in arm with Mr. Duplessis", to use his own phrase, is Colonel Drew.

Colonel Peron is a very troubled statesman. His great five-year plan has gone sour. He is short of dollars. The army, on which he depends, is insisting that his wife withdraw her glamour from politics. In these difficult times it must be a satisfaction to Colonel Peron to know that he has good friends, worthy of his medals and his blessing, in the United States and Quebec.—Winnipeg Press Press.

Plan To Build Bridge For Canso Strait

OTTAWA, March 15—(CP) — Nova Scotia's 50-year dream of a bridge across its Strait of Canso is coming true soon. Transport Minister Chevrier announced Monday a $13,500,000 low-level span will be built across the stretch of water separating Cape Breton from the mainland.

Amid enthusiastic desk-thumping from Maritime members, Mr. Chevrier told the Commons the bridge—to be paid for jointly by the Dominion and Nova Scotia governments — had been decided on by the government after it received only late last week the report of a board of engineers favoring it.

The structure, to carry both railway and highway traffic, will replace a railway car-ferry operated by the CNR and an automobile ferry run by the provincial government. It will be slightly more than 3,000 feet long and will take about three years to build, Mr. Chevrier said.

Mr. Chevrier said the engineers recommend the bridge be between Cape Porcupine on the mainland, and Balacho Point, on Cape Breton Island.

MEETS U.S. OFFICIALS — Michigan's Governor G. Mennen Williams, centre, and Detroit's Mayor Eugene Van Antwerp, right, met Prime Minister St. Laurent during his whirlwind visit to Windsor and south-western Ontario during the week-end.

Professor Denies Windsor Revolt

WINDSOR, March 15—(CP)—Organized labor Monday disputed a report from Toronto that it is exerting increasingly greater influence on the life of Windsor—and the man credited with making the statement, Prof. C. W. M. Hart, denied any responsibility for the story carried in a Toronto newspaper Saturday.

George Burt, Canadian director of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) said in a telegram from Brantford, that attempts by "poorly informed" outsiders to split Windsor into warring camps are resented by the UAW-CIO.

Sociologist Hart said use of the words "social revolt" regarding his study of auto unions in the city gave an "unwarranted sensational character" to his report.

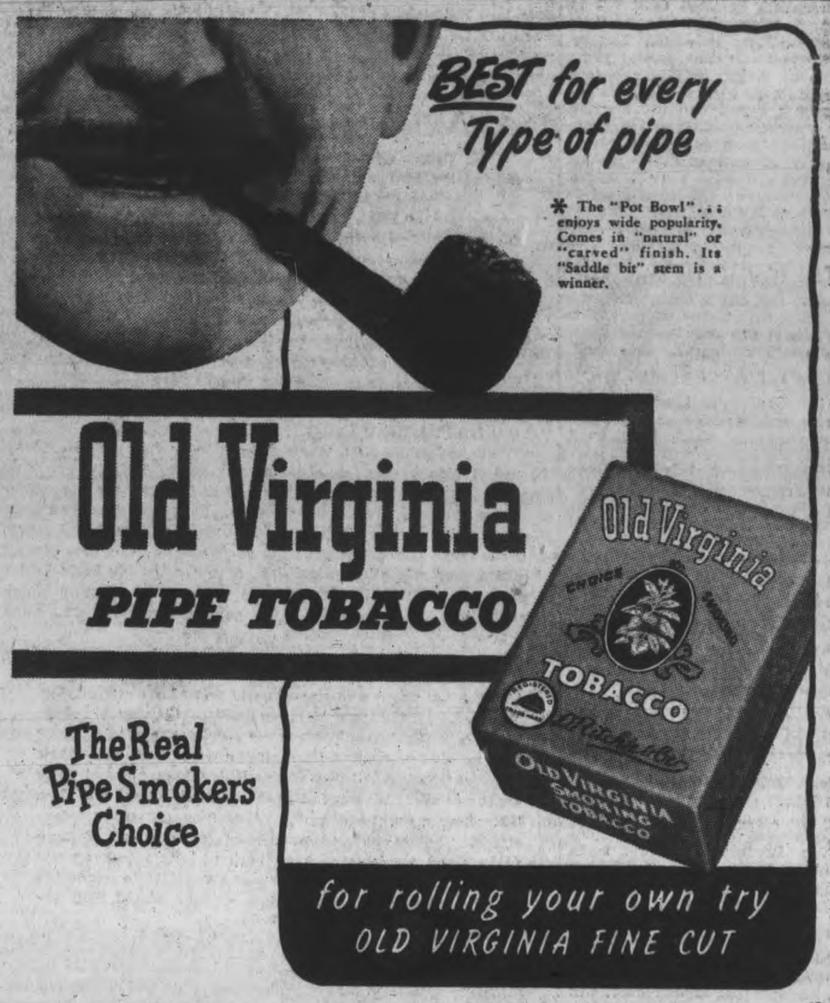
Prof. Hart admitted in a telegram from Madison, Wis., that he was responsible for an article in a technical journal in which Windsor was cited as an interesting example of certain trends in Canadian labor, but said there was no mention of revolt in the article.

He said he would clarify his statements as soon as copies of the Canadian newspapers reach him.

Mr. Burt accused the professor of bad faith.

'After taking him into our confidence to supply him with as much material for his investigation as we could, he promised on several occasions that it would not be published until we had an opportunity to examine it for inaccuracies or criticisms."

Guard Against Reds



LONDON, March 15—(Reuters) -The Trades Union Congress Monday warned its 8,000,000 members to guard against Communist infiltration into local groups. The general council of the powerful labor organization, in a pamphlet entitled "The Tactics of Disruption," said they took a "serious view of the non-representative charter of certain trades councils and of the effect which this handful has on the prestige and standing of the trades council as a whole."

Preparation For Work

MONTREAL, March 15—(CP)—Dr. Sidney Smith, president of the University of Toronto, said Monday universities are working more and more to prepare graduates for the business world. "Canadian universities are educating men and women directly for careers in business through undergraduate courses in commerce and finance and graduate courses in business administration," he said in a speech prepared for delivery at a conference on the economic aspects of industrial relations.

Palaces Go Up

LONDON, March 15—(Reuters) —Britain's Royal Palaces are expected to cost the taxpayer £410,000, ($1,640,000) in 1949-50, an increase of £32,925 over the current year. This was revealed Monday in the civil estimates for common services which total £82,388,262, a net decrease of £7,417,123 comopared with 1948-49.

Snow Storm Blocks Roads In Bethany Area

BETHANY, March 15 (ENS).—Snowstorm blocked on Saturday most of the roads in this vicinity. The Colonial bus could not complete its evening run to Toronto and had to turn back to Peterborough, with the Bethany passengers having to walk part of the way home.

Under the leadership of Bandmaster Gerald Routly, the Salvation Army Temple Band will provide a musical evening in the United Church on Wednesday, March 23. The Temple Male Voice Party, under the direction of Bandsman A. Ben. Smith and Elocutionist John Hodson, will contribute to the program.

Carlton Patton, Alfred Johnston and Ernest Cavano attended the Durham County Seed Fair held in Orono on Friday.

There was a good crowd at the dance in the Town Hall on Friday evening sponsored by LOL No. 1022, with Chris Sproate's orchestra of Peterborough furnishing the music.

Friends of Miss Flo Smith will regret to learn that she fell on Saturday and broke her ankle. Miss Smith has just recently returned from Port Perry where she had spent the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Backus, Havelock, spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. William Morton.

Mr. Reginald Palmer, who has been a patient in the Divadell Rest Home for Veterans in Toronto was able to return to his home last week.

Mrs. J. Ward, who has spent the winter months in Port Perry, returned to her home in Bethany last week.

Luxury Hotel Bars 'Messiah'

LONDON, March 15—(Reuters) —Krishna Venta, American evangelist who claims to be the Messiah, said Monday night he has been barred from the dining room of Claridges, London luxury hotel, because of his unconventional dress and habit of going barefooted.

Wearing full white robes with a blue satin sash, a flowing peppery beard, his hair curled at shoulder length, Venta, who says he is ageless but looks about 35, had just returned from a barefoot walk in the rain through London's west end with his wife, Ruth. She was wearing a peach-colored Nun-like costume.

"We got into this $85-a-week suite through an error by the air line company," he said with a worried frown. "We are humble, and my group from Denver, Colorado, are paying for it. We are moving this evening to a cheaper hotel."

He said no disciples had called on him since his arrival here Sunday night.

But people recognized him as the Messiah today on the street," said his 34-year-old wife, a former Mormon from Salt Lake City, Utah. "No one came up to him because they get shy at first."

Alberta Plans Law To Control Margarine

By The Canadian Press

Alberta is considering a law to make sure there will be no confusion between butter and margarine.

A government bill given first reading in the legislature at Edmonton Monday would prohibit importation, manufacture, handling or sale of margarine unless it is wrapped or packaged to show clearly that it is not butter. The bill also specifies that margarine must contain no more than 16 per cent moisture or less than 80 per cent fat.

Protest Pamphlets

TORONTO, March 15—(CP) — Suburban York Township Council Monday protested distribution of Communist literature at a high-school dance Saturday night. "I would like to hang people who hand out this kind of literature," Reeve William Beech said. The pamphlets, issued by the National Federation of Labor Youth, depicted Field Marshal Bernard Montgomery inspecting troops. They were captioned "sizing them up for a graveyard."

Return True Bill

ST. THOMAS, Ont., March 15—(CP)—A Supreme Court Grand Jury Monday returned a true bill in the charge of manslaughter against Joseph Vernon Welch, 25, arising from the death of his 31-year-old wife, Florence, at Aylmer, on August 21, 1947. At his first trial last year Welch was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to 10 years. That conviction was quashed by an Appeal Court last November.

Discuss Floor Price

OTTAWA, March 15—(CP) — Trade Minister Howe told the Commons Monday he will endeavor to make a statement today on floor prices generally. He was replying too H. O. White (PC-Middlesex East), who asked whether a floor prices will be placed under flax this year.

Death Toll Higher

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., March 15—(CP)—Newfoundland's death toll from rotting ice and flood waters rose to four Monday when word reached here that Jeremiah Spurrell, 22, drowned Saturday at Trinity, 30 miles away. Three small children were drowned earlier last week.

His brother Charles was made Governor of Three Rivers in 1648 and afterwards a member of the Sovereign Council. Pierre's son, Jean Baptiste, was elected Mayor of Quebec in 1663. He later formed a new fur company to obtain greater returns for the colonists. Truly a distinguished pioneer Canadian family

Great Families Create Great Nations

EARLY in the 17th Century, Calvert, head of the famous Calvert family, distinguished English statesman and Secretary of State to King James I, founded pioneer colonies in Newfoundland and Maryland.

Calvert's descendants encouraged their New World settlers to build and to work in harmony for the common good. They also fostered the principles of democratic freedom and religious tolerance which had previously been denied them.

The family is the corner-stone upon which great nations are built. Let each of us strive to promote within the great Canadian family the same concepts of freedom and tolerance pioneered by the Calvert family, over three hundred years ago.

The Calvert family encourage building among their settlers.

Quakers Lead In Finals Over Electrics

Quakers defeated CGE 9-3 in Omemee last night to open their best-of-three Industrial Hockey League finals. The second game will be played in Omemee (not Civic Arena as first planned) tomorrow night. The tilt Monday evening was hot all through, marked with good hockey and plenty of excitement with all players and some fans joining a free-for-all in the third after J. Hill and J. Carpenter tangled.

Quakers scored early and were never headed in the open and rugged joust. Referee S. Richardson handed out 14 penalties, one a major and one a misconduct, including nine to the winners. Hill got the major and Wesenburg the misconduct. Tempers were short and the fans who got into it paid for their folly.

Hartwick in goal, with B. Wilshaw and W. Weaver shone for the winners, as J. Harris and Wade went best for the CGE. Harris got two of their goals and Menzies one. For Quakers, B. Wilshaw scored four with C. Wilshaw and W. Weaver getting one each, and J. Hill a pair.

Old Age Grips Redbirds But Still Threat

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 15—(AP)—Old age is creeping up on St. Louis Cardinals, but the Musial-Slaughter punch, plus Harry Brecheen's pitching, make the Red Birds a pennant threat.

Manager Eddie Dyer has changed his mind about "the team to beat." For the last two years it has been Brooklyn. Now Eddie has switched to Boston. But:

"We can be better. The question is whether that improvement will be enough in a league where almost everybody should be stronger."

A replacement for outfielder Terry Moore, who retired to become a coach, is one of Dyer's most pressing problems. Then he has to be prepared to reshuffle Whitey Kurowski's comeback should backfire.

So far Whitey has done everything asked but he has yet to test his arm. Kurowski underwent an operation for removal of 18 bone chips from his right elbow last September, and now is a question mark.

Takes Off Weight

Ron Northey melted several pounds off his waist line to make a strong bid for the right-field job. If Ron can hold it, Stan Musial will play centre and Enos Slaughter, the new team captain, will be in left.

The infield probably will be Nippy Jones or Glenn Nelson alternating at first, Red Schoendienst at second, Marty Marion at short and Kurowski at third.

The catching department is weak. No. 1 is Del Rice, a fine receiver but a weak .197 hitter. The others will be Joe Garagiola, back from Columbus where he batted .356, and 38-year-old Bill Baker.

Brecheen (20-7) of course, tops the pitching staff. Howie Pollet (13-8) and Al Brazle (10-6) give Dyer three southpaw starters. George (Red) Munger (10-11), still a potential 20-game winner, is the other sure of a regular turn.

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

"There is no letting up in enthusiasm for baseball around Ontario," Bill Snyder told Bunny Morganston the other day. He is secretary of the OBA and will attend the two-day convention in Peterborough early next month. This veteran official, something like Secretary Bill Hewitt of the OHA, is starting his 37th year of executive work for baseball and his 22nd year as OBA secretary. Handled certificates for 850 clubs and some 15,000 players last year and expects at least as many during the 1949 campaign. Has his own private work, as well ,so Mr. Snyder can't have many idle moments from early spring till late autumn, eh?

* * * * * *

He blames selfishness on the part of some leagues, notably senior, for running provincial playdowns too late in the fall. The secretary feels that all league championships should be finished by Sept. 12 to allow another three weeks or so for provincial playoffs. Of course, wet weather in late September sometimes spoils things. Another point Bill makes is that, whereas softball once encroached considerably on baseball, the trend is the other way now for the reason that softball is becoming a more expensive sport than it was a decade ago. Now, softball clubs go in for fancy uniforms, spikes and other equipment costing as much as baseball trimmings. He may have something there.

For The Stanley Cup

The four leading NHL teams enter Stanley Cup playoffs. With the end of the schedule just about a week away, Detroit has first place clinched, while the other three clubs to make the big money series are Montreal, Boston and Toronto. Each semi-final is a best-of-seven affair, first and third teams meeting, as second and fourth squads tangle. The league governors have drawn up the playoff schedules, taking in all eventualities. Play for the big basin begins either Tuesday or Wednesday of next week, depending on which teams slip into the second, third and fourth slots. Finals start around April 7.

Civic Arena was but half filled for the benefit puck tilt last eve but those who stayed away missed a swell display. Two fast, hustling teams stepping lively all the way in a clean game, with Markham Millionaires earning the 6-3 duke o'er Legion. Latter worked hard all the way, and had their share of the play, but they were a little disorganized at times on the attack. Whereas Markham made few mistakes. They have a fine passing attack, and they are strong defensively. They're made up practically entirely of Toronto players and we imagine have been playing together quite awhile—they sure act it. Yes, it was a worthwhile exhibition on a fast sheet of ice, and such a workout should help Legion plenty in provincial playdowns.

Lacrossers Get Set

Officials of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club had a meeting last evening to discuss seating and accommodation at Miller Bowl, among other things. They're squaring around now and making big plans for the coming campaign when they step up into OLA senior "A" play for the first time. Three Owen Sound aces are coming her shortly for a pow-wow, and contact has been made with a couple of St. Catharines stars. All young players of senior "A" calibre who are interested in performing in local livery this summer. However, more on the player question again as things settle down. The club will be represented at a senior meeting in Toronto on Friday when, among other matters, discussion will centre around appointment of a three-man commission to deal with all disputes.

President Dot Millar, now on the PWSU executive, has called the annual meeting of the Girls' Softball League for 7.30 tonight in the YMCA. It is open to all those interested in girls' softball, especially managers and coaches of the 1948 clubs and prospective sponsors, managers and coaches for the '49 season. The lasses expect to acquire the Bowl d'Ashburnham again this year three nights a week to stage doubleheaders under the arcs. Lindsay and Lakefield were added starters last summer, and may again apply for entry. The election of officials will probably be held this eve, reports presented and plans discussed for the year.

Flyers Take 2nd Straight In 5-2 Win From Marlies

By The Canadian Press.

The Red-hot Toronto Marlboros have been cooled down considerably.

Last night the Marlboros suffered their second defeat in as many starts in the best-of-seven series for the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A title when Barrie Flyers defeated them 5-2 at Barrie. The third game will be played in Barrie to-morrow night.

It was husky Harold Hopper who supervised the icy blast. The flying Barrie centre scored two goals and his clever goading in a crucial third period resulted in a costly penalty to Toronto's Murray Grenke that gave the Flyers their decided edge.

The Dukes matched the Flyers in speed and stamina through two scoreless periods.

They even looked fairly good when the Flyers took a 2-0 lead early in the third. But Hopper's incessant chattering in the third period provoked his opposite centre, Murray Grenke, to slash at him to mark the turning point in the game.

While Grenke was sitting out his two-minute sentence, Flyers drove in two quick goals for a 4-0 margin.

Barrie marksmen besides Hopper, were Paul Meger, Gordon Pennell, and Real Chevrefils. Moe Galand and Grenke tallied for Toronto.

The Flyers took their early lead when Chevrefils completed a pretty pass from Rick Hogg, to beat netminder Don Lockhart on a hard shot. Then Hopper counted after a three-way play with Chevrefils and Hogg, before Pennell and Meger got their goals.

The Dukes got one back at the 12-minute mark when Regan outguessed Gil Mayer on a pass from Grenke. Then Hopper got his second goal and Galand followed up with Toronto's final tally.

Hanson Will Find Difficulty De-hooding Masked Marvel

Earl McCready faces big Abe Yourist, the nefarious New Yorker, in the semi-final and Mike (Prince) Mahalakis renews hostilities with Bowmanville Billy Stack in the first bout.

The appearance in the Brock Arena ring on Wednesday of the notorious Masked Marvel after several months seems due to raise the temperatures of the mat fans hereabouts. The Mask who was recently de-hooded in Toronto has agreed to meet Sliding Billy Hanson one of the finest of the present-day flight of grappling heavyweights. Hanson is certain he can defeat and un-mask his secretive opponent here. He is so confident that he is already pressing for a further bout with Fred Atkins the new British Empire champion. The Mask is a tough problem and a rough and rugged encounter should result before a winner is declared.

Marmora Wins In Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, March 15—(ENS)—Uncovering an impressive display of smart, two-way hockey the Marmora club downed Owen Hendy's all-stars 5-3 in the first game of OHA intermediate "B" playoff series in Davidson's Arena Monday night. More than 1,300 fans saw a wide-open cleanly played puck tilt with both clubs going all out for goals. Gus Leonard led his team to victory with a glittering performance, netting three goals and blocking effectively on the defence. Robinson, who patrols centre for the local squad, paced his team's attack with two goals and brilliant passing.

West was the only marksman in the first period, bulging the twine at 2:41. The visitors put on the pressure in the middle period to fire home four counters, two of them when an all-star was in the cooler. The local boys invaded Marmora territory time and again only to be robbed of victory by goalie Laverne.

In the final period the homesters surged to the attack, picking up a brace of markers while the visitors tallied a single counter.

The teams:

Marmora—Goal, Laverne; defence, G. Leonard and E. Leonard; centre, Cousins; wings, Lavender and K. Trumble; alternates, Kerr, Payne, Hamilton, McInroy, E. Trumble, Goodchild, Simpson, Webb and sub-goalie Borland.

Campbellford — Goal, Nelson; defence, Schmitt and Forrester; centre, Desjardins; wings, R. Mason and B. Mason; alternates, West, Petticrew, Herrington, Tanner, Free, Robinson, Blake, Hendy and sub-goalie Aquino.

Referee, H. Payne; linesman, B. Leggitt, both of Peterborough.

Summary:

First Period

Campbellford—West 2:41

Penalties—R. Masons and Cousins.

Second Period

Marmora—G. Leonard 6:25
Marmora—E. Trumble 7:24
Marmora—G. Leonard 8:47
Marmora—Webb 9:50

Penalties—Cousins (2), R. Mason, Tanner and K. Trumble.

Third Period

Campbellford—Robinson . 14.28
Marmora—G. Leonard 15.57
Campbellford—Robinson . 18.19

Penalties, G. Leonard, Herrington and Simpson.

Quakers Tops In Bowling With Big Rolls

Quakers really turned on the heat in the YMCA Men's Five-Pin League as they blanked the league-leading Artists 6-0 in a postponed fixture and applied the same dose to Tip Tops on Monday night. The double win placed the Quakers right on the heels of the top-place Artists. The Porridge crew were full value for their victories hammering out a total of 3536 in the Saturday night games and coming right back with top triple on Monday of 3327. It was a great performance by the Curvin-led squad.

In the other games Monday Jay Bees blanked B'nai B'rith 6-0, Artists whitewashed Aberdeens by the same margin and Canada Packers won 4-2 from Commercials.

Eddie Dixon took over the high three and high single honors for the season with a smashing 900 triple and a hefty 375 single. Vic Coleman with 715 triple and 304 single and Tom Curvin's 704 three were the other good Saturday scores.

Last night's high counts in the triples included Pat Blodgett 783, Ross Hopkins 769, Gerald MacDonald 754, Fred Willison and Hugh Siddall 751, Bill Hill 746 and Irvin Moldaver 709.

Pat Blodgett had best single of 314 and also 301, Ab Guerin 310, and Bill Hill 307.

George Logan of the Quakers just missed the charmed circle both nights with 698 and 693.

Saturday's game:

Markham Defeats Legion In Benefit Hockey Game

Markham defeated Legionnaires 6-3 at Civic Arena last evening in an exhibition benefit puck match for Dootch Vitarelli. The crowd was not as large as expected, but those on hand were treated to a speedy, clean struggle with some of the best hockey seen here this year served up. Markham Millionaires showed plenty of class to earn the duke being strong defensively and flashing a smart passing attack. Legion worked hard but at times looked disorganized.

It was 2-0 for the visitors in the first, the game not starting till 9.15, and 5-2 for them going into the third. Legion had an edge on play at times but couldn't sink the disc enough. They all worked like troopers and there were no individual standouts, the first line being more dangerous. Brennan, Milroy and Bangy led the snipers for the millionaires, but all looked good, with four strong defencemen and Carr tough to beat in the net. The ice was fast throughout.

Scored Two

Play opened fast and pretty even. Markham scored two within the first 10 minutes, Brennan slapping home Milroy's short pass on neat combination at close range. Each goalie in turn kicked out some hot stabs, and Nesbitt made a good try. Doug Mortimer suffered a small cut near the eye. Nesbitt got through to make it 2-0 on a fast passing play with Watson and Bangy. Legion's first line pressed and T. Greenlaw and Fryia nearly clicked. F. Scott went off for hooking but no damage was done, though Crowley came close.

Early in the second, Crowley cuffed in Bob Greenlaw's pass on smart teamwork right down the ice and finish at the goal. They got another but it was after a whistle. Bangy got that one back on a screened high shot from defence. Godfrey and Parnell almost clicked and a Coombs-Burns thrust was near with G. Scott off for slashing. He returned and Brennan got a nifty going around the goal with Milroy's pass and backhanded it by a prostrate Nicholls, down from a previous save. F. Scott slapped him another in a scramble and Rochetta tallied for Legion on Bob Greenlaw's passout to make it 5-2.

One Apiece

Milroy was gated to open the third for tripping but came back with Legion applying little pressure. It was fast and even for a space and, with G. Scott chased for holding, Legion counted when Fryia smacked Godfrey's pass into the twine. With Scott back, a Hill-Stewart stab nearly paid off. Brennan wound up the scoring for the night on a partial breakaway, and it looked like Ross pulled the puck in himself as two sprawled in front of him. Bob Greenlaw was waved over for high-sticking and B. Forgie followed him into the sin bin for holding just before the last gong.

The teams:

Markham—Goal, Carr; defence, G. Scott and F. Scott; centre, H. Forgie; wings, Baker and Watson; alternates, Milroy, Routcliff, Bangy, Nesbitt, Singleton, Brennan and B. Forgie.

Legion—Goal, Nicholls; defence, Vitarelli and Godfrey; centre, Rochetta; wings, Crowley and R. Greenlaw; alternates, Parnell, T. Greenlaw, Stewart, Coombs, Fryia, Hill, Mortimer, and Burns.

Referees—P. Calladine and R. Ouimet.

Summary:

First Period:

Markham—Brennan (Milroy) 6.37.

Markham — Nesbitt (Watson, Bangy) 9.35.

Penalty—F. Scott.

Second Period:

Legion — Crowley (R. Greenlaw) 1.55.

Markham—Bangy, 4.44.

Markham — Brennan (Milroy) 9.50.

Markham—F. Scott, 11.55.

Legion—Rochetta (R. Greenlaw) 12.24.

Penalty—G. Scott.

Third Period:

Legion — Fryia (Godfrey) 13.35.

Markham—Brennan, 16.40.

Penalties—Milroy, G. Scott, R. Greenlaw, B. Forgie.

Lakehurst Victors Against Lakefield

LAKEFIELD, March 15—(ENS)—Lakehurst tied up the best-of-three Haywire Hockey League finals here last night as they blanked Lakefield 5-0 before some 200 fans. The third and deciding game is listed for here tonight at 8:30. Play was speedy and rather rugged in spots on good ice, with 14 penalties handed out during the scrap. Barr in goal was brilliant for the victors and Allan turned in a good effort, too.

There were no goals in the fast and even first frame, but Lakehurst rapped in three by Westlake Hunt and G. Shearer in the second stanza. Westlake and Calvert counted again for the visitors in the third while holding the homesters off the score sheet. Teams:

Lakehurst: Goal, Barr defence, Fawcett and Calvert; centre, Hunt; wings, D. Shearer and Westlake; alternates, Barcroft, Easson, G. Shearer, J. Shearer, Wilson, Cummings and Coons.

Lakefield: Goal, Allan; defence, Campbell and Calberry; centre Chittick; wings, Millage and Brown; alternates, Hill, Knox, Loucks, Loyst, Montgomery, Sabatino and Twist.

Referee—R. Bell.

Junior League Title Won By King George

A goal by Ash with 30 seconds left to play gave King George School the junior championship of the Public School Hockey League over Confederation juniors. It was a clean, fast game, tight all the way through, with both sides hustling every minute and dishing up some smart hockey. Confederation had an early lead, but the East City crew fought back to hold a 6-5 margin to end the second heat, and they managed to pull out the win near the finish.

Ash counted a pair of goals the first frame, aided once by Innes for King George, as Floyd, Parry and Doleman scored for the South-enders. Parry added two for the latter in the second, while Baptie got two for King George and Pollard and Wyllie one each, the latter and McIlmoyle getting assists. Wyllie got another in the third for them as Macdonald and Brian scored for Confederation; and then Ash sank the winner. Ash, Wyllie and Baptie led the attack for the victors, with Parry the main sniper for the losers. The teams:

King George — Goal, Ellis; defence, Pollard and McIlmoyle; centre, Ash; wings, Baptie and Wyllie; alternates, Innes, McKenzie, Faiers, Rogers, Bell and Roote.

Confederation — Goal, Wright; defence, Brian and Pearton; centre, Floyd; wings, Macdonald and Parry; alternates, Bolton, Scarfe, Sloan, Dolman, and Goldie.

Referee—D. Lawless.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Professional sportdom's most successful "failures," Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League, did it again.

Giving lie to the adage that sport addicts will only pay to see a winner, the fifth-place Hawks completed their 30-game home season Sunday with a paid attendance of 491,494.

That was an amazing average of 16,383 for each Chicago stadium appearance.

The only one-legged man ever to pitch in a regulation major league game says he's coming back to the majors—as a regular.

Anyone casually watching Bert Shepard of Washington in a baseball uniform would think he's a likely looking prospect all right. He's 28 years old, weighs 195 and is five-feet-11.

But Shepard was shot down over Germany, lost part of his right leg just below the knee, and now after five operations, is ready to try again on a new artificial leg. He has just signed to manage the Waterbury, Conn., team, in the Class B Colonial League.

Thirty-eight present-day anglers, including two Canadians, were named to the newly-founded fishing hall of fame at New York Monday followwng a poll by the Sportsman's Club of America.

The Canadians named are Ernest G. Poole of Montreal and Ernest D. Calvert of Rainy River, Ont. The others include Herbert Hoover, former United States president; Ben Crowninshield of Palm Beach, Fla.; Edgar A. Guest of Detroit and Michael Lerner of New York.

Oxford, Cambridge Prepping For Race

LONDON, March 15—(AP)—Sixteen husky undergraduates of Oxford and Cambridge are approaching the climax in their training for the annual varsity boat race between the two universities.

For the last six months they have pulled racing shells on the wintry waters of the Cam and Isis rivers. Now they are ready for the final phase of preparation on the faster and trickier Thames river at London's suburban Putney.

The race will be held March 26 over a 4¼-mile course on the Thames. Cambridge won last year in a record 17 minutes, 50 seconds.

Norwood Victors

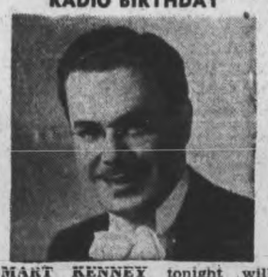
NORWOOD, March 15 (ENS)—It was 6-1 for Norwood on Saturday morning in the Arena, against the Havelock boys. Davis and Wrightly each scored late in the first period and Fredericks scored in the second. Fredericks from Peoples, Bobby Spencer from Ernie Spencer, and Ernie unassisted were Norwood marksmen in the last. Jack Stackhouse was only three seconds from a shutout when B. Laing scored to end the game 6-1.

The line-up:

Havelock — Goal, Chevalier; defence R. Pollock, B. Pollock; centre, B. Laing; wings, B. Buchanan, Patterson; alternates, J Chase, J. Thompson. J. Southward, K. McMullan, Rowatt, McCabe.

Norwood—Goal, J. Stackhouse; defence, J. Wrightly, R. Horne; centre, C. Davis; wings, E. Spencer, B. Spencer; alternates, J Feeley, M. Scott, D. Fredericks, C. Mainland, L. Peoples.

Referee—Don Rae.



Bill Cissell Dies

CHICAGO, March 15—(AP)—Chalmers (Bill) Cissell, 45, former shortstop for Chicago White Sox, died today. Cissell, who lost his job with the Sox to Luke Appling in 1932 and later played with several other major-league clubs, had been confined to hospital since the middle of January.

Conacher Holds 2-Point Lead

MONTREAL, March 15 (CP)—Rollicking Roy Conacher enters the final week of the National Hockey League campaign still holding a two-point lead over his Chicago linemate, Doug Bentley, official statistics showed to-day.

Since the Black Hawk big guns announced their intention of dividing equally first and second-place money, each has gone pointless. Their records are the same as a week ago, Conacher 66 points, Bentley 64.

No one else figures to have a chance to overhaul the puck-wise pair in the last three games before the playoffs, which incidentally the Hawks won't be in. A pair of Detroit snipers, Sid Abel and Ted Lindsay, hold down third and fourth spots with 52 and 48 points respectively, while Chicago's Jim Conacher is fifth with 47.

Abel, having his best year in eight seasons under hockey's big top, tops the goal-getters with 26 markers, while Roy Conacher and Toronto's Harry Watson each have 25. Doug Bentley heads the asists department with 42.

Bill Durnan, almost a lead-pipe cinch to capture his fifth Vezina Trophy in six years, is in a class by himself among the loop's goal-tenders Big Bill, with 122 goals against, leads Detroit's Harry Lumley by 18 goals in the Vezina race. His goals-against average, 2.14 per game, is tops, and the amazing Montreal backstop leads in shutouts with 10.

Demonstrations Upset House As Drew Speaks

OTTAWA, March 15 — (CP)— George Drew and his Progressive Conservative followers took the government to task in the Commons yesterday for the method by which it plans to continue some controls. The speeches engendered another series of noisy, unruly demonstrations.

The discussion, carried on almost solely by the Progressive Conservatives, frequently wandered far from the question of controls. It brought Speaker Gaspard Fauteux repeatedly to his feet and finally he threatened to be "severe" if members did not speak on matters revelant to the resolution before the house.

The resolution is preliminary to a bill providing for the continuation of controls on such things as domestic rents, certain food prices, timber and steel.

Mr. Drew said that if parliament had the power to deal with rent controls, price controls and other controls under one bill, it has equal powers to deal with them by separate statutes.

Woud Define Rights

The separate statutes would "properly define the rights of the individuals affected, and in each one of these cases would give to the people of Canada an opportunity to go before the courts of this country and have their rights tested in the proper and traditional way."

"I hope," he said, "that no one will suggest that any member who opposes the continuance of these wartime powers is opposing rent control or any other provision to meet the situation which has arisen very largely as a result of the activities of the government itself."

In the debate, Mr. Drew said the government has no right to ask in 1949 for continuation of emergency powers stemming from a war that ended in 1945.

Must Deal With Housing

There was "no question" about the fact the federal government must deal with the housing situation and deal with it "in a more efficient way" than it had in the past. He suggested the government bring down legislation written in "clear and unmistakable terms" which would end the "confusion" now existing between landlords and tenants.

The government had offered to turn over rent controls to the provinces. By this move it had stated emphatically that there is no emergency in the rental field which must of necessity be handled by the federal government.

STRATEGIC LOCATION—The dark elongated oval near the top of this map shows the approximate extent of iron ore deposits straddling the Quebec-Labrador boundary. From there the ore will be transported by rail to Seven Islands (Sept Iles), 320 miles south on the proposed new railway. Pittsburgh, big US steel centre, at present obtains its ore from Mesabi Range (upper left) but is expected to get ore from Ungava in about four years. In line for expansion if the St. Lawrence seaway is built are Canadian steel plants at Hamilton, Sault Ste. Marie and Sydney.

Geologists Must Solve Mysteries Of Ungava Ore

By RICHARD DIAGNAULT

QUEBEC, March 15—(CP).—Before the full potential of iron ore deposits in Ungava and Labrador is determined—a multi-million dollar question today in steel circles of Canada and the United States—geologists must solve the mysteries of that bleak-looking land. That's a problem comparable to reading a book backwards. But geologists hope that after poring over the layer-by-layer history of mineral-laden stratified rock they will have proof that in northeastern Quebec and Newfoundland Labrador there is as much ore as in five virgin Mesabis.

Minnesota's fabulous Mesabi range on Lake Superior held 2,500,000,000 tons when discovered in 1892. That would make the Canadian deposit one of two, possibly three, of the largest in the world. The others are in Brazil and Russia.

The more conservative among many geologists who have probed the Canadian ore-bed estimate that there is at least one Mesabi in Ungava and Labrador. The American Mesabi, they recall, has fed the steel industry in North America through an immense period of expansion as well as two world wars.

Of Secondary Importance

Some geologist claim that in Ungava and Labrador there are signs of lead, zinc and other base metals, in addition to the iron, but these are of secondary importance.

Canada's great undeveloped ore formation is deeply encrusted, sprawled over an area 300 miles long — some say 600 miles — and 50 miles wide compared with Mesabi's 112-mile long single strip. Thus far, geologists have pieced together this story, which goes back millions of years, of the new find:

An upheaval of the earth sent layer upon layer of stratified rock bulging into a series of high-ridged mountains which later flattened out in the slow normal process of erosion.

Where Ungava's richest ore is located, the land sank even lower, forming a trough — from which comes the find's name: Labrador Trough.

As the sea continued to recede, the areas formerly under water bcame swampy valleys. The deeper rivers continued to flow northward.

Blocked River

At one stage, ore deposits piled so high at a point about 320 miles north of what now is Seven Islands, Que., that it blocked the river, forcing the water to turn tail.

This split the peninsula into two distinct watersheds, the division of which in this century has been a disputed boundary line between Quebec and Newfoundland.

The ore deposits were undisturbed through a glacial age, although most of the soil was scraped away. Disappearance of the glacier left the reddish-tinged land with one of its few picturesque touches.

Wayne To Get Profits On Film Reissues

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, March 15 — (AP). — John Wayne has snagged profit-sharing rights to reissues of his future Warners pictures.

The rugged actor from Winterset, Iowa, just signed a deal for a picture a year at Warner Brothers. A precedent-setting clause gives Wayne additional profits should his films be revived after their first release.

The Wayne deal may set a new pattern for star contracts. The Screen Actors Guild has already attached reissues, since they fill theatre time that could be used by new pictures— which would provide work for actors.

Claudette Colbert, doing her third comedy in a row, "Love Is a Big Business," says she would like to alternate with drama, but the only good scripts seem to be the funny ones these days.

Van Johnson plays a sergeant again in "Battleground." After that comes a comedy with Deborah Kerr. The redhead's career is on an even keel again. He said he has films lined up for two years.

Walter Pidgeon is another busybody. Barely finishing "The Forsyte Saga," he has begun playing a one-armed British colonel in "The Red Danube." He tells me he wins Greer Garson over Bob Young and Errol Flynn in "Forsyte." "In fact, that is probably the only reason I am in the picture," he jests.

High Schools Combine For Millbrook Party

MILLBROOK, March 15 — (ENS) — High school pupils and their teachers from Orono, Omemee, and Newcastle were guests at a St. Patrick's Day party, organized by the Continuation School Students' Council Friday at the school building.

More than 200 were present, three buses having been chartered for out-of-town guests.

Principal J. A. Thompson, and Mrs. Thompson, were in the receiving line with the executive of the Students Council and members of the school board and their wives were also among the guests. The class rooms and library were decorated with symbol of Ireland.

One room was reserved for games, table tennis, cards and crokinole; another for dancing with music provided by the new combination radio and record player.

In a third room, refreshments were served by the Social Committee.

The official welcome to the visiting students and teachers was extended by President Bob Bigelow, who included some interesting school history and projects in his remarks. Jessie Dawson is secretary of the Students' Council. Bennett Handley treasurer and representatives from the different grades are included on the executive.

DELISH FISH DISH!

BAKED FISH WITH RIDEAU TOPPING

1 lb. any fish fillet; ¼ cup butter, melted; ¼ cup chopped onion; ⅔ cup chopped celery or carrot; 2 cups hot mashed potatoes; ½ tsp. salt; dash pepper; 2 oz. cubed and 2 oz. shredded Ingersoll Rideau Cheese (Pimiento).

Spread fish with melted butter on both sides, season with salt, pepper. Bake in hot oven at 425 degrees F. for 10 minutes, or until fish heated through. Sauté chopped onion and celery (or carrot), in melted butter until tender but not brown. Mix with all remaining ingredients except shredded cheese. Quickly pile dressing on top of hot fish and sprinkle with the shredded Ingersoll Rideau Cheese. Return to oven for 10 to 20 minutes, (according to thickness of fish), to cook fish and melt and brown cheese. Makes 4 servings.

"More of our friends have Telephones— and we all use the Telephone more!"

DAY AND NIGHT, seven days a week the telephone is at your service. Quickly and easily it keeps you in touch with everything and everybody everywhere. There are 400,000 more telephones and two million more calls a day than there were three years ago. And service is getting better all the time.

In three years, however, costs of important raw materials for telephone lines and cables have risen sharply. Copper prices have doubled, zinc and lead prices tripled. Yet, up to now, despite rising costs on all sides, there has been no increase in the basic telephone rates established 22 years ago. Few things give you so much real value at such low cost as your telephone.

We've broken all records but there are still orders we haven't been able to fill. We will keep right on working and building to make your telephone service a bigger bargain than ever — to continue to provide more and better service at the lowest possible cost.

HANDS IN TRAINING...FOR ONTARIO

Learning to Make Plastics

IN Ontario the wheels of industry turn for the benefit of every single one of us. Our lathes, dynamos, drill presses, farm combines, tractors, business machines, etc. are producing goods and services which earn dollars. These dollars provide food, clothing, medical care and other necessities which contribute to our security and high standard of living. Every single one of us, therefore, has a very personal interest in the flow of a steady supply of trained workers to industrial plants. These workers will operate machines which are important to our way of life.

We should appreciate, then, the co-operative efforts of government, industry and labour in the field of employee training. In schools and in factories our workers, young and old, are given the opportunity to develop new and specific skills in every field of business and industrial activity. For instance, as in the pictures shown here, every effort of Ontario's newly-skilled plastics workers will mean better plastic products — will help to make Ontario a finer place in which to live and work.

Our Way of Life Rewards Trained Hands

Ontario workers know they can earn more, have executive responsibility and enjoy a higher standard of living in direct ratio to the skills they acquire and the way they make use of them. That's always true in a free economy — that's why our competitive system will continue to make Canada great and a great place in which to live.

VOL. XCVIII, No. 62 — TUESDAY, MARCH 15, 1949

Council Plans Traffic Control Session

City Council intends to call in Chief Constable John Thompson and City Engineer Chalmers for a traffic control session after they have put the budget to bed.

They assumed that assignment Monday night in discussion of recommendations from Chief Thompson for traffic lights at the George St. corners of King and Sherbrooke Streets. Some opinion doubted the necessity of automatic signals at those intersections, except at rush hours. Some concession was made to King St. because buildings are flush with the corner, and cars parked in front of them reduce the motorist's vision into George St.

Ald. Anglesey suggested that more men of the staff be given instruction in traffic direction, after Ald. Gillespie said that point duty might be sufficient during the busy hours.

"We might ask Toronto to send us down a traffic man," Mayor Swanston said, "one of their men from Yonge St."

Ald. Herbert Young said the King St. lights might be installed now, and Sherbrooke St. left until later.

The traffic control conference was finally adopted on a motion of Mayor Swanston and Ald. Grant Miller.

FEMALE TRAPPER—One of northwestern Ontario's few women trappers, Miss Lillian Plummer of the Gunflint Lake area, is seen at the Port Arthur department of lands and forests registering her winter's catch of 15 beaver. The veteran trapper also brought to market one otter, three mink, three fisher, six squirrels and 15 weasel. Game Overseer Jim Atcheson looks over the furs.

Firemen Want Their Waistcoats

Peterborough firemen are not discarding their waistcoats. They don't want any funny suits, collegiate, zuit or two-piece; just the ordinary man's-sized three-piecer, coat, vest and trousers.

A recent Examiner item was in error to the effect that the fire and light committee of the Council had discovered that only three of the 45 men were still wearing vests. Consequently, why buy vests if they were just hung up in the wardrobe. Possible parting with a handy piece of raiment, without which they would have no place to hook contemplative thumbs as most men do when they are assuming the pose of sagacity, caused a sartorial flurry at the firehall, it seems, and the union took action.

Harold Black, secretary of the Fire Fighters, sent a letter reporting that 90 per cent. of the members are addicted to vests, and there are 45 on the staff. Hence, on the next uniform order, vests please, as usual. In fact the men have an agreement with the city. One clause affirms that they are to be supplied with the uniforms which they have been customarily receiving.

The economy of five dollars on every suit escaped from the bars of the budget. All the finance committee could do was send the letter on to the fire and light committee for their exact information.

New Act Gives Teachers Greatly Increased Pension

TORONTO, March 15—(CP).—Higher pensions for school teachers and inspectors are provided under a new Teachers' Superannuation Act, given first reading in the Legislature Monday. The maximum and minimum pensions of $3,000 and $600 respectively, established by the bill are just about double those now in effect.

Education Minister Dana Porter told the House that full pensions will be paid to those who have taught for 35 years and are at least 62. Regardless of age, they will be paid after 40 years' service.

Teachers who have taught between 25 and 30 years and are at least 62 years of age at the time of retirement, will be entitled to superannuation, subject to adjustments for length of service. The same provisions will apply to those who have taught for 30 years, but haven't reached the regular retiring age. In each case the minimum will be $600. After 15 years' service, a teacher may apply for a disability pension.

70% Of Average

The pensions will be calculated at 70 per cent. of the average salary for the last 15 years' teaching, which are the years when salaries are generally at their highest level. Contributions to the superannuation fund by the teachers are increased from 4 per cent. to 6 per cent. of their annual salaries.

Mr. Porter said there is a provision for dependents' pensions for the wife and children of a male teacher and for the children or disabled husband of a female teacher in the event they die in service or on pension. These pensions will be at half the regular rate.

A teacher who has withdrawn his or her contributions from the fund may, in the event of return to the teaching profession start over again as a new teacher without re-establishing credit for the previous service.

Province Pays Deficits

The present capital of the fund, Mr. Porter said is approximately $50,000,000. It will be increased by each year's operating surplus and interest at the rate of 4½ per cent. per annum paid on the aggregate by the government. In any year in which the expenditure exceeds the revenue, the deficit will be made up by the province.

In view of the present capital resources of the fund, due to some extent to the past contributions of the teachers now on pension, these pensioners will be paid an additional $120 per year. In any event, they will be brought up to the minimum of $600. The changes take effect April 1 next.

Liberal Leader Farquhar Oliver introduced an amendment to the Executive Council Act, which reduces Cabinet Ministers' salaries from $10,000 to $8,000. The Ministers, who have been getting $8,000 since 1937, this year restored their salaries to the $10,000 which they are entitled under the Act.

Farmer Rescued Injured Deer

While visiting their summer cottage on Stony Lake, the week-end before last, Leo Copp and his daughter, Joyce, found an injured deer lying helpless and exhausted on the ice. Together they pulled the injured animal to the safety of the shore and gave him some cedar bows and beaver hay to eat.

Sequel to this story is told by Stewart MacLarin, of the CGE Works News, who was up in that vicinity this past week-end. Mr. MacLarin was told by Les Crowe of Crowe's Landing that he drove his car across the ice to the island after reading Mr. Copp's account of the deer's plight in The Examiner.

When he reached the island where the Copp's have their cottage he looked around, found an injured deer, loaded it in his car, and drove back to Crowe's Landing.

For the past week the animal has been in Mr. Crowe's barn where it will remain until able to fend for itself, once its injuries have disappeared.

But Mr. Crowe is wondering whether or not the island had some magical properties. Mr. Copp said that the deer he rescued was a young buck that had not yet begun to grow antlers, but the one picked up by Mr. Crowe was a full-grown doe.

Expedition Moose

A film, "Expedition Moose" was shown to the Lions Club Monday night. This was the first showing of the movie before a service club in the city. It was filmed in technicolor in Northern Ontario.

E. E. Sparrow, chairman of the Workman's Compensation Board of Ontario, was guest speaker for the evening. He spoke on the aims and aids of the Board and how it affects the employer and the employee.

Besides the main movie, three shorter movies were shown about wild bird and animal life.

Plan 40 Houses On Cameron St.

Forty houses on Cameron St., west of Monaghan Road, comprise a new project in planning by Arnold Steele and Don Ephgrave.

The Arndon and Caderly subdivisions were built by these two young contractors. The name Caderly was coined recently of two street names Caddy and Beverley in Ashburnham.

A request was made to the finance committee of the council Monday night for sewer and water connections on the west end of Cameron St. Ald. Hurrell Dodds, chairman of the board of works, remarked that sewers already listed for construction this year totalled 21,295 feet.

A motion by Mayor Swanston and Ald. Grant Miller asked for a report by City Engineer Chalmers on the prospects of laying the desired sewer this season.

The Arndon type of integrated house has proved one of the most satisfactory groups of dwellings built here in the last 10 years, according to the estimate that have been expressed since the first block was completed. They are of brick construction, attractive in appearance and carefully finished.

The proposed row on Cameron St. would represent an investment of probably $300,000.

R. L. Shaughnessy Is Widely Mourned

Funeral for the late Robert Lawrence Shaughnessy, 34, of 8 Haggart St., was held from the Anglesey Funeral Home on Monday to Sacred Heart Church where Requiem Mass was sung by the Rev. Dr. F. Grant. Clergy present in the Sanctuary were the Rt. Rev. J. J. O'Brien, the Rev. V. J. McFadden of Downeyville, the Rev. C. Maloney of Campbellford, the Rev. C. McCarney and the Rev. G. Sullivan. Pall-bearers were Jack Donoghue, James Connelly, Basil Shaughnessy, Peter Harris, Edward Murphy, and Edward Boyler.

There were a great many spiritual and floral tributes and the Church was crowded with relatives and friends. Student body of St. John's School were also present. Among out-of-town visitors from Toronto were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Browne, Mrs. J. Douglas, Mrs. K. McGarrett, Mr. and Mrs. P. Innis and Mr. and Mrs. M. McLean, Mr. and Mrs. G. Connelly of Buffalo and Mr. and Mrs. V. Keogan of Hastings were also in attendance.

Mr. Shaughnessy died suddenly at his residence on Friday. He was born in the city, son of John Shaughnessy and Violet Mann, and had lived all his life in the city.

He was employed as cost accountant at the Outboard Marine Company and was a member of the Sacred Heart Church. He was also a member of the Knights of Columbus.

Insecure Homes Chief Cause Of Delinquency

The home is the primary source of influence on the child and thus the most important factor in preventing juvenile delinquency, Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, told an Optimist Club meeting on Monday night.

Magistrate Philp outlined some of the causes and means of controlling juvenile delinquency. The subject was of particular interest to the Optimists whose motto is 'Friend of the Boy." At Boys' Town (Trafalgar House) they maintain several projects for boys.

"The most important influence on the child is home," said the Magistrate. And he said the best way of preventing delinquents was to strengthen the bonds of home life and call the attention of parents to the problems of their children.

Learns First Rule In Home.

"A child is not born with any idea of right or wrong, and it is in the home that he first learns life has certain rules and regulations. The development in every case starts in the home."

"He must have a sense of security, a sense of being loved, and a sense of achievement," said Magistrate Philp. "These are all necessary parts of his development."

And all of these things, the Magistrate suggested, are best obtained in domestic surroundings.

The speaker pointed out that of all the cases that come before more than 25 per cent are on the Family Court probably not cerned with juvenile delinquency. But these are of particular interest, he said, because as the subjects are children "there is a greater possibility of doing something of a reformative nature than there is with adults."

In Family Court.

In the Family Court the emphasis is on assistance and guidance, not punishment for the child, who must be between seven and 16 years of age. It is dissimilar to a criminal court where each crime carries a punishment.

The Magistrate advanced several passible causes of delinquency.

"Some people say it is due to poverty," he said. "Unfortunate surroundings are certainly not conducive to morality." But he said that many children were not born and raised under ideal conditions and yet did not fall foul of the law.

Physical and mental handicaps might also be a cause, he suggested. But he pointed out that a large proportion of mental defectives are not involved in juvenile delinquency at all.

"A larger proportion of the delinquents come from broken homes than from any other particular group," said the Magistrate. He emphasized the difficuly of raising children in a home where the mother has given up coping with it because the father is criminally inclined or an alcholic.

"There is, therefore, no one cause of delinquency," said the speaker, "but a number of contributing causes and we have to examine each of them to see all the forces which affect the child."

Church and School.

Beides the home he outlined two other sources which mould the child— the school and the church.

In school his mind is expanding as he is learning continually. It also allows him to obtain a sense of achievement. "The school plays a very important part in the development of the child."

"It is necessary for every child to have a criterion," he said, referring to the influence of the church. "He must learn what should be done. The church is responsible for spiritual guidance."

The greatest contribution which could be made by any organization such as the Optimists, he contended, is to provide good recreational facilities for the child. As the child becomes an adolecent he craves group movements and this desire must be channeled in a desirabel way.

The Magistrate said it was his observation that a child that becomes interested in some hobby is not the one that turns up in Juvenile Court.

He then stressed the need for leadership. The best physical equipment is wasted unless there is a competent leader for boys, he contended. And this leader must be able to draw out the best qualities in each.

"No one club can cure juvenile delinquency because there are so many cases, but by assisting the home, school and church I feel you will be making a very worthwhile contribution in this field," the Magistrate concluded.

He was introduced by Optimist President John Broadhurst and thanked by Stewart Gardiner.

Alexander Claude Forster Boulton, 86, lawyer and former Liberal member of Parliament, died Saturday in London, England. He was born in Port Hope, Ont. Boulton was joint founder with the late Sir Walter Besant of the Atlantic Union, now the English-speaking Union.

FLOODED BY CALLS

Peterborough's Department of Health's phone has been kept ringing due to a misinterpretation in the monthly report. In the Examiner Saturday the report read: "Exclusions— Sacred Heart: sent home 1, skin 5, pediculosis, 33." This should have read, "Exclusions— Separate Schools: sent home 1, skin 5, dediculosis 33."

ANTI-CYCLE NOISE

Kitchener-Waterloo motorcycle clubs have published a large advertisement declaring that they "will do everything in our power to discourage unnecessary noise-making by penalizing the members who become involved with the law for excessive noise." Motorcycle dealers announce that they will not manufacture or mount straight-through exhaust cut-outs or other type of noise-maker for motorcycles.

HOLD WEA SCHOOL

Stewards and officers of Local 524 who attend the Workers Educational Association school on Wednesday night will hear two guest lecturers. Drummond Wren will speak on Wages and Cost of Production, and C. S. Jackson has chosen as his subject The Role of a Steward and Officer in Contract Negotiations. The school will be held at the K. of C., 7.30 p.m.

HAVE SMALL EXPLOSION

A small explosion in an "extractor" at Lansfield Cleaners, Charlotte St., on Monday afternoon buckled the door of the machine. The machine dries the clothes after they have been dry-cleaned by whirling them around at a high rate of speed. It is believed that a pin or some other piece of metal caused a spark which ignited the fumes of the cleaning fluid thus causing the explosion.

LET AIR OUT OF TIRE

When a thoughtless joker, or perhaps a group of jokers let the air out of a tire of a bus which had been hired by Crowland Hockey Club for the game at the Civic Arena on Saturday, the result was a four-hour delay before the club members were able to start their return journey. What may have been intended as a prank was not appreciated as such. Police are now keeping watch at the arena during hockey games and report that there was no disorderliness Monday night.

Require $25,500 To Finance Ice-Making Plant At Arena

Financing of an artificial ice-making plant and a terraza floor for the Civic Arena was brought within the focus of probability at the meeting of the finance committee of the Council Monday night. Estimated cost of the two improvements contemplated for this year is $43,475 with prospective credits of $18,000, leaving $25,500 which may be raised by including $15,500 in the present budget. The balance of $10,000 could be inserted into the estimates of 1950, but that sum might be substantially reduced by an expected surplus in the Arena operations next winter. And it would be a long season, from the middle of October until the middle of April. By that time next year's budget will be compiled.

Mayor Swanston suggested to the committee that the Arena contracts and financing be left for the executive committee meeting this morning.

"If this committee is willing to let it go until then, when we go through the estimates again, we'll know our position, and what we can do," His Worship proposed The committee agreed.

The tender of Canadian Ice Machine Co. for an ice-making plant is $30,475, as reported several weeks ago by a special committee headed by Ald. Hurrell Dodds. Cost of the floor is approximately $13,000. Those two items make $43,475.

On Other Side

On the other side of the accounting is $10,000, an expected contribution from the Ontario government; $1,500 from a source that was not named; $4,000 saving in public rink expense in the parks committee appropriation; and an estimated surplus of $2,500 from the Arena's current season.

Briefly, Ald. Hugh Waddell, chairman, summarized the council's recent considering of rink matters. "We set the Arena question aside, until we met the Memorial Centre representatives. We then made a survey of the property on the south side of King St. In our own opinion and a letter from Mr. C. B. Neal of the Centre, that location appears to be out of the picture as a site for the Centre. Now we are back where we started, and have before us this matter of the Civic Arena ice-plant and floor."

Mayor Swanston said that in his opinion the Arena would always provide the accommodation for secondary leagues, mercantile, church, juniors and minors.

Another Five Years

Ald. Gillespie: "My guess is that it may be nothing less than five years before we have the Memorial Centre."

Ald. Waddell took to figures, as shown above. Previously, City Clerk Outram said he had already written the provincial government requesting their grant of $10,000 as provided in legislation this year. The government was willing to assist communities building rinks for recreational advantages. The grant for a natural ice rink was $5,000 and for artificial ice rink $10,000.

A letter from A. D. Cameron, secretary-treasurer of the Arena committee, asked the council to make application to the government.

"The city clerk has already taken care of that," said Mayor Swanston.

It was Ald. Herb Young, chairman of the parks committee, who said that an artificial ice plant would provide a saving of $4,000 in the parks and rinks estimates.

Mayor Swanston said that use of a bulldozer would be given without cost to the Arena committee. That saving would be around $1,500.

It was then proposed that with $18,000 in sight, the cost of the improvements would be $25,500, part of which would be paid out of this year's taxes, and the remainder next year from the same source.

City Clerk Outram suggested in the discussion that, instead of paying that amount each year, the sum of $15,500 be put in the present estimates, leaving $10,000. "The council is of the opinion that the budget of 1950 may be more than this year's, and it might be better to pay the larger sum now. Then, with artificial ice for the season beginning about the middle of October the Arena revenue might go a long way to reduce that $10,000."

The spirit of the finance committee Monday night appeared to be leaning toward conviction that "it can be done."

Hockey Rink Question Worry To Kitchener

Kitchener has a hockey rink-auditorium problem similar in some of its aspects to the dilemma of the Peterborough Memorial Centre committee. Ratepayers there voted $450,000 in 1945 for a Memorial Auditorium. Plans of the building have been grounded by skyrocketing costs of materials and labor.

Ald. Henry Sturm says construction of a rink cannot be longer delayed. Expressing his own opinion, he said it appeared that the proposed Memorial Auditorium, including rink facilities, would have to be trimmed to the outline of a rink. Meanwhile the government has been promising armouries for Kitchener, and citizens have been asking whether it would incorporate accommodation for community recreational and cultural affairs.

Sixty Persons Sought To Adopt Collie Shown On Saturday Evening's Front Page

Power of a picture message, especially when it has to do with dogs, has far-reaching effects according to Peterborough Humane Inspector Gerald Dunford. The photo of the dejected collie in the dog pound in Saturday's Examiner made his Sunday homelife miserable with a total of 60 calls from the city, Indian River and Omemee. By Monday morning he had cleaned house, of dogs, to fill part of the demand and reported through the day he had picked up four more. Among the last lot of tramps was a beautiful collie.

However his work is not always of such a pleasant nature for on Saturday noon he went to the Goose Pond at the foot of Antrim St., where a dog had drowned. Leo Charleboise, 602 Victory Crescent, and George Kelly of Haultain attempted to get a boat to help the animal. They were too late and the dog disappearead after an exhaustive struggle. The incident attracted a considerable crowd who were unable to assist inciuding members of the city police force.

TREND OF WAGE—Increases in wages in Canada are reflected in a more rapid rise of total weekly payrolls rather than of total employment. A Dominion Bureau of Statistics index, based on 1941 equalling 100, shows the two drawing apart as they both ascend to new highs through 1946-48, after a post-war dip in 1945. Aggregate weekly payrolls and per capita weekly earnings also are compared.

15 Hurt In Rioting

ROME, March 15—(AP)—Fifteen persons were injured Monday in rioting led by Leftists in Naples demonstrating against the proposed Atlantic Pact. This was the second outburst of violence in Italy since Premier Alcide De Gasperi announced Friday he wants Parliamentary authority to join the defence alliance. Rome had a similar flare-up Saturday.

Gov't Sues Bette Davis

LOS ANGELES, March 15—(AP)—The government Monday sued film actress Bette Davis for $80,820.59 in additional taxes for 1942 and 1943. Government officials said the suit was based on relinquishment of her former husband, the late Arthur A. Farnsworth, of all his community rights to any of her earnings during the two years.

Impose Censorship On Truman Pictures

KEY WEST, Fla., March 15—(AP)—The White House Monday imposed censorship on air views of President Truman's vacation headquarters, including pictures of the president in swimming.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross confiscated films of Tom Craven, Paramount News cameraman, and Joe Vadala, representing NBC Television News.

Still photographers destroyed their films rather than submit to censorship.

Later, Ross told a press conference he "requested" the pictures not to be used because he considered them "a completely unauthorized invasion of the president's privacy," as well as for security reasons.

Rotarians Mail Easter Seals

Members of the Poterborough Rotary Club will gather on Wednesday nigh' at the Empress Hotel to get right down to work on one of their main service projects — aid for crippled children. The Rotarians on this occasion will tackle the task of mailing some 20,000 envelopes containing Easter seals. This means of raising funds is similar to that by which those fighting the ravages of tuberculosis raise money at Christmas time by the sale of Yuletide seals.

The Rotary Club works in close co-operation with the Crippled Children's Society of Ontario in this work and is now financing the care of 30 crippled children in this district. Ian. MacRae is chairman of the committee in charge of the work.

The Rotarians are also planning another big event, their annual Agricultural Day, to be held at the regular weekly luncheon on March 28. The program is being arranged by the Rural-Urban Committee, of which Rotarian Bob Pierson is chairman. The speaker on this occasion will be Professor Drummond, of the staff of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, and each member will sponsor a farmer guest at the luncheon.

Cartoonist Given Two Weeks In Jail

SEATTLE, March 15—(CP) — Arthur Lennox Walker, 35-year-old British subject, Monday was sentenced to two years in penitentiary for misrepresenting himself as a United States citizen. Walker was arrested at Blaine, Wash., Feb. 14, when he attempted to enter the United States with another person's birth certificate.

Judge John C. Bowen ordered Walker deported upon completion of his sentence.

Assistant District Attorney Vaughan Evans told the court Walker had been "connected with Communists and Trotskyites since 1936."

He said Walker had been a reporter and cartoonist for the Weekly Toronto Tribune, which Evans described as the "official organ of the Communist party in Canada."

Walker said he never had been a "Communist nor a member of the Communist party and I have no desire to injure the United States."

Returned From Detroit For Burial At Douro

Solemn requiem mass for Vincent McDonnell, a Detroit resident, formerly of Douro, was held from St. Joseph's Church, Douro, on Saturday morning. Burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

Pallbearers were John Allen, Frank Lynch, Joseph O'Leary, Michael O'Leary, Leo McAuliffe, and Gerald McAuliffe.

Mr. McDonnell, who died on Wednesday, was born in Douro, son of the late Louis McDonnell and Elizabeth O'Leary. The family moved too Detroit years ago.

He leaves his wife, the former Patricia McAuliffe, his brothers, John and Michael of Detroit, and the Rev. Brother Alexius of the Christian Brothers, Aurora, Ont.; three sisters, Mrs. Ernest A. Elliott (Mary), Miss Agnes McDonnel, Detroit, and Mrs. Annie Burgess, Toronto.

Claxton Feels Subs Just Money Wasted

OTTAWA, March 15—(CP) — Defence Minister Claxton said in the Commons Monday that the government feels it would be a waste of money for Canada to go into the expensive business of acquiring submarines.

He told T. L. Church (PC—Toronto Broadview) that the submarine is an offensive and not a defensive weapon. Canada was not an aggressor nation and the only possible aggressor today had no large surface fleet against which submarines could be used.

When it was necessary to obtain submarines for training purposes Canada had always been able to obtain the co-operation of United States or British submarines, or to carry out joint exercises with the British or American fleets.

Speaks On Governments

New members were welcomed at the meeting of Knox Young Married Couples Group this month. Mr. John Londerville gave an address on what he termed Canada's number one problem, relationship of the central government to that of the provinces. "Founders of Confederation intended to have a strong central government, but interpretation of the law has changed the situation so that provincial governments now have more power than was planned," he said. Defects of the system were pointed out and the speaker stated these would likely be fully discussed during the next Federal election campaign. H was introduced by Mr. J. Donaldson and thanked by Mr. Gordon Morrison, Mrs. N. Hughes contributed a pleasing solo. Devotions were led by Mrs. C. Ross and Mr. Peter McCombe read the Scripture. Mrs. Marjorie Charlton led in a sing-song. Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Donaldson, Mrs. N. Hughes, Mrs. J. Lawson, and Mrs. W. Gaskin.

Plan First Tea

Peterborough Chapter of the Silver Cross Chapter is entertaining at tea in the YWCA Wednesday afternoon, their first public event since organization. The mothers and wives of men who lost their lives in the two world wars are being supported at this event by prominent organizations. Pouring tea will be Mrs. A. Mason, president of Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion; Mrs. E. Breckenridge, president of Civic Hospital Women's Auxiliary; Mrs. F. E. Hooper, past president of Peterborough Red Cross Society; and Mrs. J. Patte of the Silver Cross. The president, Mrs. B. W. Harvey, will receive. Tables of fancy work and home cooking are being arranged and Mrs. J. L. Young is convening the tea room.

Miss Fern Rahmel gave an account of her visits to the Berkshire Musical Festival in the past two summers to fellow members of University Women's Club at the regular meeting Monday evening in the YWCA. Colorful word pictures of "Tanglewood," enchanting setting for the outdoor theatre, gave life to a collection of pictures. Recordings of the music she particularly liked showed reason for her delight in the festival.

Sororists Debate On Open Sunday

Alpha Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday evening in the YWCA club room. Miss Mildred McIntyre, president, announced a rummage sale is being held Saturday morning, March 19 in a Charlotte St. store. Rules of a short story contest for chapter members were given by Mrs. B. Duder, publicity chairman. Mrs. Ian McRae is entertaining members of the three sororities at her home on Saturday. Plans were laid for a Founder's Day banquet on May 9. Nominating committee appointed to draw up a slate of officers is Mrs. B. Brown, Mrs. J. Dougherty, Miss Myrtle McKeown and Miss Mary Clifford.

Current event topic was "Newfoundland, the tenth Canadian province," and was taken by Mrs. B. Duder, introduced by Mrs. J. Dougherty. She enumerated gains to the Dominion from this union.

Debate on the subject of much discussion recently, "Should Canadian Sundays be open" brought out a number of interesting points for and against. Miss Joyce Wyatt and Mrs. F. Lambert took the affirmative. Argument by Miss Ruth Aiken and Miss Mary Clifford on the negative side was substantiated with quotations from ministers and great men, including Winston Churchill, who advocated a seventh day that was free and did not specify it should include church attendance.

Mrs. M. Holt, chairman of the judging committee, awarded the decision to the affirmative.

Coffee was served by the sicial convener.

Airmen Finance Apartment Block To Beat Housing

By WILLIAM BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OSLO, March 15—(CP)—Oslo, like any other European city, has a housing shortage. But members of the Royal Norwegian Air Force took matters into their own hands a year ago. Now, just outside the city a 150-apartment development is taking shape and the first families already have moved in.

Four of the six officers in one block have Canadian wives and the girls — all from Ontario—say the proportion will be as high in other units. The romances grew while the men took wartime training at Little Norway, outside Toronto.

The women are Mrs. Shiela Gilmour Stene, Ruth Gibson Waaler and Margaret Matchett Wold, all from Toronto, and Pat McDowell Hegglund of Midland.

Their husbands, with 146 other airmen formed a housing corporation. Each subscribed an agreed amount of money.

The Norwegian government cooperated by making land available, providing an interest-free loan and awarding priorities for materials.

Opened In February

The first flats of five and six rooms, with ample storage space, were finished in February, just as Mrs. Stene returned from a six-month holiday in Canada.

More than 30 former Canadian girls — today as proud of their Norwegian citizenship as of their Canadian background — belong to a "Canada Club" on the estate. Their main complaint is that the diet, while adeuate, is dull.

"In 1946 it was more varied for a while," said Mrs. Waaler, "but this last year it has got thin again. They tell us that by 1952 Norway will be on her feet. If that is so, then we'll think it was worth it."

The Canadian women say the price of staples in Oslo is the same as those in Canada, but because Norwegian salaries are lower the money does not go as far.

IODE Community Bridge Ends at Delightful Tea With Awarding of Prizes

Culmination of activity in the Peter Robinson Chapter community bridge was reached at the tea hour Monday. Each of the 78 members accepted responsiolility of two tables and the games were played at their homes earlier in the afternoon, except for a few who had entertained at more convenient times during the past week.

Hostesses brought their guests to the YWCA recreation room for tea and the distribution of prizes. All scores were handed to Mrs. H. Keefer and Mrs. C. L. Upper. They found the highest was held by Mrs. Roy Lewis and the second by Mrs. H. G. Carleton. Other prizes were drawn for and winners were: Mrs. P. Dallin, Miss L. Deyell, Mrs. W. J. Hardill, Mrs. Mrs. L. B. Hutchison, Mrs. W. A. W. Harvey, Miss Hazel Buller, Richardson, Mrs. N. D. Seaton.

On entering the delightful atmosphere of the tea room all received a welcome from Miss Mary Greer, chapter regent, and Mrs. C. E. Graham, vice regent. Members served their parties with refreshments that were exceptionally delicious since they attested the culinary art of women in this very active organization. Plates were replenished for them by Mrs. L. Carlisle, Mrs. R. Lewis, Mrs. S. Braund, Mrs. G. Ham, Mrs. H. T. Cranford and Mrs. E. Thompson, assisted by Mrs. H. Baker, convener.

Flowers have strong powers of suggestion and when real harbingers of spring like stocks and daffodils dominate the scene, winter's return engagement becomes ineffectual. Two large bouquets of the mauve and yellow blooms had been arranged for the tea table centrepieces. To honor St. Patrick whose day comes later in the week they chose green candles placed in rows of three on each side of the flowers the whole effect was entirely charming. Gleaming silver of four handsome tea services added delightful reflections.

Regents of sister chapters filling the teacups were: Mrs. A. McWilliams of Otonabee Chapter, Mrs. H. Northrop of Jeanette Scott Chapter, Mrs. C. M. Scott of 57th Regiment Chapter and Mrs. George Barns, past regent of Major Bennett Chapter.

Result of this undertaking was highly satisfactory from the financial standpoint as the objective was reached. Socially, it was a decided success also.

No More Dosing For Constipation

Famous cereal frees woman from harsh laxatives

Searching desperately for constipation relief? Then read this unsolicited letter:

"For 10 years even strong medicines couldn't help me. At last my doctor in England advised KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. I began to eat this breakfast cereal and soon realized I was better. I eat ALL-BRAN regularly now and can definitely say I am free from constipation!" (Name given on request).

You, too, may never have to take another harsh laxative for constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet. Just eat an ounce of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily—and drink plenty of water. ALL-BRAN is not a purgative, but a wholesome regulating cereal. Eat as a cereal, or in muffins for constipation relief. If after using one package you are not entirely satisfied, get double your money back as guaranteed on the package. Buy delicious ALL-BRAN from your grocer. Made by Kellogg's of London, Ontario.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Husband Should Not Object If His Wife Wants to Work

DEAR MISS DIX: I am engaged to a very wonderful girl and we are planning to be married very soon. My fiancee wishes to continue to work after we are married, but I seriously object to it. Of course, at present my salary is very small, but I feel that we can get along if we are willing to make sacrifices. We wish above all to be truly happy and would appreciate any suggestions you could make about how to make our marriage a success. Both of us are very jealous.

Dorothy Dix

JOHN AND MARY.

ANSWER: Inasmuch as you are a poor young couple starting out on a very limited income, I think you are wrong in objecting to your wife keeping on with her job after you are married, as she wishes to do. Let her work until the babies come, which will automatically settle the question.

A girl who has been used to earning her own salary and being financially independent, is very apt to be dissatisfied and disgruntled when she finds herself with nothing to do except to try to stretch her husband's pay envelope farther than it will go, and to wander around the stores and look at the things that she has no the money to buy.

No Reflection

Try to see things from your sweetheart's point of view, and don't be old-fashioned enough to think that there is any reflection on you in your wife working after marriage.

But if you want your marriage to be a happy one, you must eliminate jealousy. That wrecks more homes than any other one thing, for when suspicion enters the door, peace and happiness fly out of the window. So you and your wife must make up your minds to trust each other, and to believe the best of each other, not to always be on the lookout, each expecting the other to play some dirty little trick. There is nothing really so insulting as jealousy.

They say there is no cure for jealousy. But I think that commonsense is a never-failing remedy for it. If, when you feel an attack coming on and perceive that you are getting green-eyed, you will take a large dose of good old hard horse sense, you will find that it will restore you to sanity and serenity.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a girl 18 years old. The other night my date, whom I had only met on one other occasion, asked me to go to the movies. On our way there he suggested that, instead of seeing a picture, we go to his apartment for a game of gin rummy. When I refused he was very indignant and said that he considered me a prude. What do you think about it? H.M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I think you did the proper thing, and that the young man is either singularly unsophisticated or else a double-dyed villain to have proposed such a thing as visiting him in his rooms.

Certainly any girl to whom a man extends such an invitation has a right to feel that she has been grossly insulted, for he has asked her to do something that is beyond the pale of propriety, and that would smirch her good name if it were ever known.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Is there anything more to love than sex appeal?

A GROUP OF GIRLS.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Undoubtedly sex attraction is the inspiration of love and the beginning of love, but there is a lot more to it than that because we are not all flesh, but spirit and soul as well. And in real love, after passion is satisfied, there comes to takes its place friendship and comradeship—the tenderest, the most understanding, the most unselfish that exists.

Duchess of Kent Remains Britain's No. 1 Fashion-Setter

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON, March 15 (CP). — When the Duchess of Kent came here to marry King George V's third son in 1934, she became Britain's No. 1 fashion setter. Today she remains one of the world's best-dressed women.

The 42-year-old Duchess, who had nearly every girl in Britain wearing "Marina Green" 14 years ago, has been described as "the world's best shopper." She is always willing to try out new designers, new fabrics, new ideas.

Princess Margaret is following her aunt in clothes sense. The younger Princess was the first of her immediate family to be seen in public in the "New Look." With plenty of ideas of her own, she is willing to learn from the Duchess' experience and showed this by her instant preference for Molyneux, one of her aunt's designers.

Molyneux makes many of the Duchess' tailored suits, summer prints and evening dresses while Bianca Mosca is often her choice for afternoon dresses, coats and soft tailored suits.

Her preference for tie-silks was noted last year and one of her silk suits this year will be a heavy pure silk pearl grey with grained surface, worn with a white lingerie blouse.

Fond of furs, she is having one of her mink coats remodelled to three-quarter length with full swing back.

Simplicity of Design

The essentials of her present wardrobe are simplicity of design with details, unusual colors and accessories ringing the changes. She dslikes fussiness.

Her town clothes are usually tailored suits or a dress and coat in the morning, dress and coat in the afternoon.

For evening she likes glamorous full-skirted dresses with off-the-shoulder necklines or "grande decolletie" in brocades, heavy silks and chiffons — often worn with a stole of the same material.

Her hats, adaptations from leading Paris models, are extremely simple, depending purely on line and material for effect.

Her shoes, too, are simple to the point of severity.

Handbags, also simple in design, often are fabulous in material.

Jewels and accessories must suit the ensemble. A piece of jewelry is never worn just because it is new or expensive.

"Listeners will be glad to know that, in the event of an early knock-out, we have arranged to play a recording of the whole of Beethoven's choral symphony!"

Cavan News

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wright have returned home after spending two month in Florida.

The euchre sponsored by the Seventh and Eighth Lines Community Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Larmer, on Thursday evening, was well attended. There were 12 tables played. The winners were Mrs. J. McKnight and Mr. Geo. Dean. The booby prizes went to Mrs. A. Fallis and Mr. Walter Coyte. Mrs. A. Coyte won the door prize. Little Carol Cheshire drew the lucky ticket. The proceeds, which will be used for welfare work, amounted to $17.34.

REDUCE THIS SURE EASY WAY
Meltoway DIETARY REDUCING Plan helps you lose ugly fat without drugs, laxatives, or exercise

SEE WHAT A DIFFERENCE EXCESS FAT MAKES! Photos don't lie—ugly fat surely robs a woman of her trim figure, smartness and natural charm. The secret of regaining slimmer lines is not by starvation—Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan always gives you enough food, of the kind you enjoy, helps you control your eating habits.

Here is the frank, honest truth about getting rid of unwanted fat. There is no magic method, there is no drug, that can take off even one ounce of surplus weight. Trying to reduce by starving or by someone else's diet may do more harm than good. But the Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan really works — it is like a friend beside you — keeping you well-fed, but wisely fed.

You can easily and safely lose up to seven pounds in seven days — or much more, in a longer time — if you follow faithfully the suggestions in the Meltoway booklet. You will welcome the Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan, because it makes no misleading claims or promises — it really does help you win through to the figure you want.

UNCONDITIONAL GUARANTEE that you will be FULLY SATISFIED or your MONEY BACK IN FULL

FREE: Right at the start, the Meltoway Plan gives you a real inspiration to lose weight systematically. Ask at the Drug Counter for an absolutely free MELTOWAY DOCTORS' WEIGHT CHART. It tells you what your normal weight should be. Set yourself an objective—then it's fun to follow the Meltoway Plan faithfully—and watch unwanted pounds just "melt away".

DOCTORS SAY EXCESS FAT A THREAT TO HEALTH

Doctors everywhere agree that overweight may be a serious threat to health. Overweight makes strenuous demands on the heart, lungs, muscles and other organs, and should never be neglected or "let go".

START LOSING WEIGHT RIGHT NOW OR IT COSTS YOU NOTHING

Don't wait another day. Start losing weight at once, or you get all your money back. Ask your druggist for the Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan, and check your weight before and while following the plan. If you are not completely satisfied with the results, return the empty bottle and your money will be refunded in full. Have no doubts as to whether this Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan will work. It cannot fail to work, if you follow it faithfully. So make sure you buy the original Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan, identically as sold in the United States. Accept No Substitutes.

WHEN FAT COMES — THEN ROMANCE GOES! Men want sweethearts or wives who keep their youth and loveliness. The Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan should be your permanent happiness Plan. Don't let your graceful, desirable figure get away from you, and he'll never let you get away from him!

YOU CAN HAVE A FASHION FIGURE, TOO You'll look younger, feel younger too, if you get rid of fatty bulges. With the Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan you lose ugly fat quickly and pleasantly. Your friends will notice the improvement in your figure . . . and remember, you do it without starvation or painful exercises.

Why wait another day to start putting this really wonderful Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan to work? It is proven . . . it has already helped thousands of women . . . it is sold to you on an iron-clad guarantee that you, too, will be satisfied . . . and your druggist has it waiting for you.

(63 tablets) $2.95
(126 tablets) $4.95
(315 tablets) $9.95

MANY GRATEFUL PRAISES TO MELTOWAY

Miss Alice Smolarek of Hamburg, New York writes . . . your Meltoway Dietary Plan sure did wonders for me. I was overweight, fat and aggravated because I couldn't wear the "New Look" styles. I lost 22 pounds and my figure is the envy of my friends. And I never felt better in my life.
Mrs. Marie Homanes, of Buffalo, New York writes . . . I want to express my thanks for the way Meltoway Diet Plan helped me to reduce. I weighed 158 lbs. and felt like a ton. I was always tired, languid and short winded. I lost 30 lbs. and feel swell. Thanks again for Meltoway's Diet Plan, I recommend it to all my friends.

SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY CAN WORK LIKE MAGIC

Years of study and research in great modern laboratories have made the Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan the answer to most overweight problems. All available scientific knowledge has made the Meltoway Plan, the most effective Dietary Reducing Plan ever developed.

FORTY AND ATTRACTIVE

Yes, the years are kindlier to a woman who keeps her figure—the woman who avoids those unsightly bulges, those aging figure lines that go with excess poundage. A woman of forty and up can always wear her clothes more smartly if she keeps her figure . . . and with the help of Meltoway's Dietary Reducing Plan a neat, trim figure can be achieved by any woman, regardless of age.

MEN, TOO, NEED MELTOWAY'S PLAN... A well-groomed, efficient appearance goes a long way towards business and social success. Make friends, be impressive in your contacts — by looking the part. Start whittling down that waistline today — do it without starvation diets, too — and see how your appearance improves when you follow, faithfully, the Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan.

$65,000 Federal Grant For Press Conference

OTTAWA, March 15— (CP)— A $65,000 Federal Grant toward expenses of the Empire Press Union conference and tour in June, 1950, is provided for in estimates tabled today in the Commons.

The conference, during which editors and publishers from many part of the Cosmmonwealth are scheduled to assemble in Ottawa, will be the E.P.U.'s seventh gathering, the first since the London conference of 1946.

The first of the conferences was held in London in 1909, with succeeding assemblies in Canada in 1920, in Australia in 1925, in London in 1930 and in South Africa in 1935.

Victor Sifton of Winnipeg is chairman of the committee of arrangements, Senator W. Rupert Davies of Kingston, chairman of the Canadian section; R. S. Malone of Winnipeg honorary manager of the conference and W. A. Craick of Toronto honorary secretary.

Lions Clubs To Meet

Everything will be at stake Thursday when the two champions of the Peterborough district, Lakefield Lions Club and the Peterborough Lions Club meet in a hockey game. The game will be played in the Lakefield Memorial rink for the Armitage-Hynes trophy.

Lineup for the Peterborough Lions Club is: Bun Rose, goal; Douglas Anderson and James Marshall, defence; centre, Vert Reynolds; wings, Edward Johnstone, Edward Overend. Try To Derail Train

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Feb. 28 — City police joined railway investigators attempting to find out how a length of logging chain—long enough to derail a locomotive—was stretched across the Canadian National main line near here Saturday. The chain was found by George Hughes, section foreman, seconds before an eastbound freight train was due at Woodstock.

Academic, Athletic Awards For North Hastings Pupils

BANCROFT, March 15—(ENS).—North Hastings High School annual Commencement was held on two days last week when pupils received academic and athletic awards and parents saw displays of gymnastics, dancing, dramatics and heard choral singing. A valedictory address was delivered by William Slater. Ritchie Robinson, principal, was in charge of the Commencement and Charles Montreuil and the Glee Club led the singing.

The prize donated by Miss Margaret Mitchell to the student obtaining the highest standing in English and history in Grade 9 was awarded to Carol Laundry and Paricia Gallagher received Latin prizes presented by Miss Eudora Jones.

The commercial prize donated by Mrs. Gladys Walks to the pupil with the highest standing in general proficiency in the special commercial course was won by Norman Brough. Florence Tryon won the Ever-Ready Club L'Amable award to the Grade II student obtaining the highest standing in English and the award donated by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutchinson of Detlor for the Grade 10 student obtaining the highest standing in English was won by Jack Hutton. These awards were presented by Mr. C. A. Eddy.

Athletic awards were presented to the pupils by Mrs. Emerson Laundry and Mr. J. W. C. Hutton as follows:

Boys — Senior Championship, Elwood Vardy; Intermediate Championship, Hugh Belton; Junior Championship, Richard McMurray; Senior Runner-up, Joe Kavanagh; Intermediate Runner-up, Stanley Metcalfe and Junior Runner-up, Wayne Whyte and Norman Maxwell who tied.

Championship crests awarded on Field Day went to the following: Boys' team, Andy Raeburn, Elwood Vardy, Tom O'Shaughnessy, Stanley Metcalfe, Norman Maxwell, Don Johnson, Jack Hutton, Percy Woodcox, Bill Dillon, Eddy Frantz, Bill Lavoy, Lawrence Dwire and Karl O'Brien.

Girls' team—Bessie Davis, Hazel Vance, Ida Armstrong, Joyce Loney, Florence Tryon, Wilma Coe, Minerva Fleguel, Yvonne Kelusky, Janet Cole and Norma Hass.

County Medal Presented

The Gold Medal awarded by the County of Hastings to the pupil obtaining the highest marks in the entrance examinations for the County of Hastings was presented to Wilma Labow by Mr. W. J. Davis, former Warden for the County of Hastings.

The Rev. C. S. Wright presented the following pupils with certificates and diplomas:

Intermediate Certificates for pupils who successfully completed the prescribed courses for grades 9 and 10—Gayle Baragar, Eleanor Beecham, Vera Boyle, Edith Bronson, Lorna Brose, Marion Chamberlain, Norma Davis, Muriel Derry, Leola Douglas, Leslie Fargher, Helen Fischer, Marie Hickey, Lois Hinze, Gladys Hinze, Jack Hutton, Keith Jackson, Henry Jan, Eileen Leveque, Phyllis Leveque, Evelyn Linkie, Norman Loney, Phyllis McCormack, Luebelle McKenzie, Wilfred McLean, Jacqueline Maxwell, Marguerite Maxwell, Stanley Metcalfe, John Murphy, Aileen Palmateer, Jean Parks, Joan Peters, Murl Skuce, Gwen Smith, Marion Sprackett, Bernice Strudwick, Phylis Thomson, Wayne Whyte.

Secondary School graduation diplomas granted to pupils who obtain standing in at least eight Upper School papers in the departmental papers were received by Norine Leveque, Murray Dillon, Norman Brough, Gregory Anderson, and William Slater.

The diplomas granted to pupils who have at least Grade 2 standing in the general course and have successfully completed the course for special commercial were awarded to Reginald Peters, Norman Brough, and Eleanor Scott.

The presentations were preceded by a program organized by Gregory Anderson. There was choral reading directed by Miss Mitchell. The boys gave a gymnastic display under the direction of Laurence Davidson, which included an exhibition of somersaulting, cartwheels, pyramids, and other formations. Folk dancing followed with the girls dressed in English, Irish, French and Swedish folk dancing costumes. The Glee Club sang two songs, and a number of pupils recited.

After the presentation of the awards, the girls' gym team, under the direction of John Field, gave a demonstration. A one-act play entitled "The Perfect Gentleman" was presented under the direction of Miss Verna Connor. Those taking part were Shirley Kuno, Jacqueline Maxwell, Florence Tryon, Joseph Vance, and Elwood Vardy.

Five Plead Guilty To Being Found-Ins

A sequel to a two month's jail sentence for Stanley Clark, Douro, who was convicted recently by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, of illegal sale of liquor, took place at city police court today. Five men who were in Clark's house when committed the offence were each fined $10 with $2.50 costs. They were Wallace Parcels, R. G. Eadie, William Robertson, C. W. Starke and P. M. Condon.

William Blackburn was fined a total of $20 with costs totalling $5 when he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and another of causing a disturbance. G. N. Gordon, K.C., said that the accused was pleading guilty to both charges because it was more convenient but there were certain angles to be disputed.

Pleading guilty to a second offence of drunkenness within a month, James Naughan, no fixed address, chose the alternative of a month in jail to paying a $50 fine with $2.50 costs.

Michael Hynes, no fixed address, and Warren Davis, Nassau were each fined $10 with $2.50 costs when they pleaded guilty to being drunk on March 14 and 12 respectively.

Illegal Possession

James Yee, 162 Charlotte St., pleaded guilty to two charges of illegal possession of liquor before Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, at city police court today, and was fined a total of $30 with $5 costs. Police were given permission to confiscate 19 pints of ale and a bottle of wine.

Kawartha District Police Association of which all local police are members have charge of the reception program. They are asking the council to provide a dinner for the visitors. The letter from the K.D.P.A. was referred to the Sands committee last night.

Rotarian From China Guest In Peterborough

Greeting of the Rotary Club of Kunming, China, were brought to the members of the Rotary Club of Peterborough at their weekly luncheon Monday in the Empress Hotel by a member of the club, Rev. Tene K. Chiu, now associated with Glenview Presbyterian Church, Toronto, while on a year's Sabbatical leave to study the work of the church in Canada. Rev. Mr. Chiu came to Peterborough to preach at both services in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Chiu told the Rotarians that already, as a result of the rapid advance in recent months of the Chinese Communist armies, the Rotary Clubs of Peiping, Tientsin, and other cities had been forced to suspend activities. He said he could not tell how much longer his own club would be able to remain in existence. At one time the Kunming club had 60 members but the strain of war has reduced the membership to 35.

Newfoundlanders Very Proud Of Independence And Country

By DAVE McINTOSH

ST. JONH'S, Nfld., March 15—(CP)—When Newfoundland becomes Canada's 10th province, Newfoundlanders aren't going to turn into Canadians overnight. In fact, it's not likely they ever will, except in name only. As many Newfoundlanders leave their native land as stay here. But no matter how poorly their living standards may compare with Canada and the United States they always speak of their country with pride and affection.

The 320,000 Newfoundland people spring from English, Scottish and Irish stock, with a sprinkling of French. They are intensely loyal to Britain and whenever she gets in trouble Newfoundlanders nearly fall over themselves in their dash to the colors.

In the Second World War thousands of Newfoundlanders joined the Canadian army as the quickest access to a fighting front. Those not in Newfoundland units always considered the Canadians alongside them as merely an adjunct to the real fighting force. This could probably serve as good an example as any of the Newfoundlander's unrelenting independence.

The reasons for this independence are not too difficult to trace. The Newfoundlander, living on a rocky, sea-battered island, has had to work incredibly hard to wrest a living from the sea. It is only during the last few years that he has become aware of the wealth that lies under his marshy, wooded country.

A Hardy Race

Compared to the average Canadian, the Newfoundlander is poor. He has had to go to work in the fishing boats when he was 10 or 11. This, in turn, has meant that he has not received the education that most Canadians get. Because nearly all goods must be inported, he has only a nodding acquaintance with things like milk, fresh fruit, vegetables and meat, two suits of clothes, a washing machine, a radio and a refrigerator.

Nearly all the population is scattered around the coast in little fishing hamlets that can be reached only by boats and in some cases—such as settlements along the Strait of Belle Isle—not at all in winter.

Education is jealously guarded by the various religious groups. Thus, in one little community on the south coast—there are no more than 200 persons living there—one finds four little schools, each of a different religious denomination. In scores of the island's 1,300 villages there is no school at all.

Adult education is beginning to take a hold but the districts are so scattered and hard to reach, teachers so scarce, that it falls short of what it might be.

Near the start of the last decade, 25 per cent of the population made less than $100 a year. There were only three hospitals. Along the vast reaches of the west and north coasts there was not a single hospital. Commission government did much to improve these conditions, among other things, but much remains to be done.

Hospitable and Colorful

With all this, the Newfoundlander has never given up in his eternal struggle with the sea. He has not conquered it—but neither has he lost.

Because existence is dependent on co-operation, one finds the Newfoundlander an extremely hospitable person. Though it may not be a great deal, he will share what he has.

He is a more colorful person than his Canadian brother. He can spin a salty yarn or sing a song that is not borrowed from American movies. Here are a few of them: "A Great Big Sea Hove in Long Beach," "The Star of Logy Bay," "The Wreck of the Steamship Florizel," "The Greenland Disaster," "The Squid-Jiggin' Ground," 'The Six Horsepower Coaker" and "When the Outport Member's Family Comes to Town."

Years ago Sir Cavendish Boyle, one-time governor of Newfoundland, wrote the stirring "Ode to Newfoundland." "O Canada" will never entirely replace it.

Here is its second verse:

"When blinding storm-gusts fret thy shore.
And wild waves lash thy strand;
Through spindrift, swirl and tempest roar
"We love thee, wind-swept land."

No General Cut

TORONTO, March 15—(CP)—Officials of the Canadian General Electric Company said today there won't be a general cut in home-appliance prices to meet price cuts announced in New York yesterday by the American General Electric Company. "We lower our prices as soon as conditions warrant it," an official said. "And I expect there will be further reductions during the year."

Mrs. L. Arnott Dies At Bethany

BETHANY, March 15—(ENS)—Funeral of Mrs. Letitia Arnott was held on Thursday and was largely attended by friends and neighbors. Mrs. Arnott, who was 83 years old, was daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David McMullen, pioneer settlers of Manvers township. She resided in the district all her life.

Following her marriage to Simon Arnott, they farmed a few miles north of the village near Fleetwood on the property now owned by Mr. Albert Tinney and during this time she was very active in the work of Fleetwood Methodist church. After her husband's sudden death 30 years ago she returned to live in Bethany and in late years shared the home of her brother, Charles McMullen. The service was in charge of Rev. W. Crandall of the United church. Pallbearers were Joseph Coulter, Leander Werry, Louis Staples, William Coulter, Christopher Cummiskey and George Werry. Bearing the many beautiful floral tributes were Arnott Neals, Jack Neals, Harold McMullen, Claire Staples, Hally McMullen, William Rowan, Walter McMullen, Eldridge Shea, Ernest Staples, Horace Heaslip, Vertil McMullen and Lavergne McKinley. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Immediately surviving are her son Fred in Lindsay; a daughter, Mrs. Clarence Neals (Jessie) in Bethany; two brothers, Robert and Charles McMullen and a sister, Miss Sarah McMullen, all of Bethany; two grandsons, Arnott Neals, Toronto and Jack Neals, Bethany.

Allied Efforts Described 'Shocking'

GENEVA, March 15—(AP)—Allied peace efforts were criticized Sunday by a Welsh Church leader as shocking and frightening.

Dr. Elfan Rees, head of the refugee division of the World Council of Churches, said in a sermon that "more people have been rendered homeless by an allied peace than by a Nazi war."

In western Europe, the church leader said, "there are more than 12,000,000 exiles who, because they were German - speaking, were stripped of their possessions at the end of the war and by official allied actions driven from their homes and farms in Czechoslovakia, Hungary, the Danubian basin, East Prussia and Silesia."

New Names in the NORTH

THERE'S new activity in Ontario's bushland north of Lake Superior. Marathon and Red Rock, Terrace and Heron Bay: they all tell the same story. New towns have arisen, old ones expanded. Only five years ago on the site of Marathon, for example, there was nothing but bush; today a new community beside a new pulp mill is contributing millions to Canada's export trade.

Such spectacular developments in the north are matched by continuing industrial expansion in the older established communities. Throughout Canada today ever-widening avenues of opportunity await the enterprise of young Canadians.

With newsprint production 50% above pre-war levels, Canada today has an output five times that of any other country, and accounts for three out of every five newspaper pages in the world.

"Canada is a land of opportunity . . .
There is a field for almost anything one can think of, and anyone with a willingness for hard work has a good chance to achieve success", says Donald J. Smith, President of Hornet Industries Limited, Guelph, Ontario.

Hornet Industries Limited, which was founded in 1945, has in this short time achieved remarkable success in the manufacture of chain saws and combustion engines. More than half the production of the plant reaches markets outside Canada. From a staff of only a half dozen men in 1945, Hornet Industries Limited has expanded to three plants in Guelph, employing 296 workers.

Police, Fire Departments To Be Strengthened For Defence Emergencies

Seeking Standardization Of Equipment Throughout Province; Get No Grants Unless Work Satisfactory

TORONTO, March 16—(CP).—The Ontario Government wants to strengthen municipal police and fire services so that they will be ready to meet any emergency in the event of another war. It seeks standardization of equipment throughout the province and a degree of efficiency in both services satisfactory to Provincial Police and fire officials.

Attorney - General Leslie Blackwell made this disclosure Tuesday to a deputation from the Ontario Association of Mayors and Reeves and the Ontario Municipal Association which protested against the provision that the province must be satisfied with the operation of the municipal services before making full grants.

The deputation claimed that the Province should let the cities and towns run their own show, that the new arrangement left the way open to increased provincial interference and, despite the grants, to higher operating costs. The change is proposed in bills now before the House.

The grants are graded according to population and, in the case of municipalities with population of more than 70,000, amount to 10 per cent of the current operating costs of each department.

One-half of the grant will be paid immediately if a police or fire department has its men protected in case of injury, such as provided for under the Workmen's Compensation Act, and has a pension scheme in effect. The other half will be forthcoming once the individual departments have been approved as to efficiency.

Provincial Police Commissioner W. H. Stringer will pass on efficiency of police departments. Ontario Fire Marshal W. J. Scott will have the say for the fire departments. Their decisions can be appealed to the Municipal Board.

Mr. Blackwell will bring the representations of the two Municipal groups before the Cabinet today.

A member of the deputation said:

"Mr. Blackwell was friendly and frank. But he left the impression that, while he would give the Cabinet a fair interpretation of our representations, he personally wouldn't deviate from the policy as set down in the bill."

The deputation decided to try to carry their representations to the Cabinet as a whole.

Mr. Blackwell postponed second reading of the pertinent bills until he had met the delegation. The fire and police bills are part of the government's plan to replace the present one-mill subsidy.

Will Bring Down Budget Next Tuesday

OTTAWA, March 16 (CP). — A fresh stir of taxation speculation blossomed on Parliament Hill to-day in the wake of an announcement by Finance Minister Abbott that he will bring down the budget the evening of Tuesday, March 22.

That means the Canadian taxpayer will know, in just a week from now, how much of a slice the tax collector is going to take out of his pay envelope over the nert year.

If the tax winds blow favorably in the direction of the man-on-the-street, the government may chop away some of the war-induced indirect taxes and thus put the skids under the high cost of living.

With Mr. Abbott's announcement the arm-chair experts wheeled out their theories of what the government might or might not do in the way of tax relief, particularly in the light of predictions that this is a general election year and that this might be a vote-winning budget.

Taxes Eased

There was a general belief that personal income taxes would be sliced, and perhaps sliced heavily. This might take the form of a raising of basic exemptions with the action perhaps made retroactive to January 1.

But it also was thought that the government, mindful of complaints that income-tax relief doesn't help the little guy who doesn't earn enough to get in those brackets, might knock off some of the indirect levies, such as the eight-per-cent sales tax, which help boost the cost of living.

In somewhat the same category is the much-criticized 25 per cent luxury tax and others which serve to prop up the prices of such things as soft drinks, chocolate bars, cigarettes and candy.

Crew Trapped On Fishing Boat

SYDNEY, NS, March 16—(CP). — A small unidentified fishing craft was aground today off the Cape Breton coast between Gabarus and Louisburg with her crew unable to leave because of heavy seas.

News of the grounding was received here over a shaky telephone connection and details were not known.

An unidentified motorist drove 15 miles to Louisburg to report the grounding.

"The men are still aboard and calling for help...they can't get off," said one resident of Rouse Point near the spot where the craft stranded.

Six Men Rescued Off Sinking Sloop

MIAMI, Fla., March 16—(AP) —The British sloop Alliance sank about 25 miles southwest of Puerto Rico Tuesday night but all six men aboard were rescued, the United States Coast Guard reported.

The men were removed from the distressed vessel by the Pocono, a United States Navy cutter, and later were transferred to the Coast Guard's cutter Pandora.

The Alliance, about 60 feet long, sank but remained awash, and the Pandora was reported standing by.

Will Visit Canada

LONDON, March 16 — (Reuters).—Harold Wilson, President of the Board of Trade, will visit Canada and the United States in May to spur forward the new British export drive for dollars forecast in the Government's 1949 economic survey. The survey, published Tuesday night, makes it clear that Britain's dollar "gap" is still the greatest single menace to her recovery.

Asks Limiting Of Tourist Fishing Licences

TORONTO, March 16 (CP) — The increasing number of tourists may be good for Ontario's export trade but fishing tourists are dangerous to our waters, W. E. Smith of Dundas, past-president of the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters, believes.

He told the Ontario Legislature Fish and Game committee yesterday that a limit should be placed on the number of alien non-resident angling and hunting licenses issued in Ontario each year.

It should be done "as soon as it could be worked out that all such anglers and hunters be controlled and directed to various parts of the province according to the supply of fish and game in such parts," he said.

He scorned the so-called panel discussion" which recently decided that tourists were not a threat to Ontario's natural resources.

The Ontario Department of Travel and Publicity, which set up the panel, "very carefully chose men who for reasons of personal interest could very well be depended on to bring in an answer or decision which would not conflict with the plans of the department," he said.

However, representatives of the Northern Ontario Outfitters' Association disagreed with him. George Bishop of Manitoulin Island said the Association was against any curtailment of the tourist trade.

Lands Minister Scott told a delegation from the Association that airborne fishermen were raiding Ontario lakes and rivers but he could not see how aircraft could be barred as a means of transporting the fishermen. If planes were barred it would be logical to bar automobiles and motor boats too.

V. B. Sutto, president of the Anglers' Federation, charged that waste dumped into an eastern Ontario lake had quickly eaten through cement pipes.

"If it eats through cement, what will it do to our fish and game?" he asked. "We feel the government has done little or nothing on this question.

Mr. Scott said he thought a Royal Commission should be set up "to enquire into ways and means of preventing pollution, either from sulphur fumes in the air which kills trees, or acid wastes in streams which kill fish."

EMERGENCY TALKS

BERLIN, March 16 (Reuters)—Leading German finance experts from the Soviet zone to-day were summoned to Russian headquarters at Karlshorst for emergency discussions on the Berlin currency situation.

Found Guilty

HULL, Que., March 16—(CP) —A Coroner's Jury deliberated only five minutes Tuesday night before bringing in a verdict that 43-year-old Mrs. Roma Bishop Anderson was criminally responsible for the death of Miss Jacqueline Lambert. Mrs. Anderson, charged with murder, was formally arraigned today before Judge Honore Achim and was remanded until March 23 for preliminary hearing.

Respected Country Squire Found Notorious Swindler

LONDON, March 16—(CP)—A man who had associated with royalty, spied for Britain and become a respected, wealthy country squire today began serving a four-year sentence for an 18,000 pounds ($72,000) fraud.

He is Walter Athur Charles Dicketts and his fantastic life story was brought out Tuesday in the central criminal court of justice, at the old Bailey. He was disclosed as a man of 23 Aliases whom police had sought for five years while he lived in luxury as Squire Charles Stewart Pollock, Lord of a manor in Sussex.

A Scotland Yard detective recently saw Dicketts leaving a telephone booth in Knightsbridge and recognized him as a man who had jumped bail in 1944 while awaiting trial on a charge of swindling. Dicketts was arrested and only then was it learned that he was living as the owner of an 893-acre estate in Sussex, a man known for his generosity to charity and a respected citizen.

He served in the Royal Naval Air Service and the Royal Flying Corps, forerunner of the R.A.F., during the First World War, and was demobilized as an officer.

During the Second World War Dicketts was employed on intelligence work by the war office. He was landed in Germany by airplane and was in various parts of Europe on the "most hazardous" type of spy work for Britain.

After he absconded in 1944 with the money paid him by two men in a "stock deal," defence counsel said his history was "simply astonishing."

He went from London to East Grinstead in Sussex where he bought two estates worth £70,000 and built himself into one of the most respected citizens in the district.

Levy Jumps 4 Mills Over '48 Rate

1949 Rate Will Raise $1,593,873 In Taxes; Assessment Increased

Peterborough's municipal tax rate for this year was set at 45.5 mills in a brief special session of the Council at noon to-day. The rate for Separate School supporters is 46.5 mills.

This levy, four mills higher than the 41.5 mill rate of 1948, is applied on an assessment of $35,030,175, yielding $1,593.873 for all the requirements of the city, including the estimates of the Board of Education, Police Commission, City Trust Commission, Public Library, Recreation Commission, and the various civic departments over which the Council has direct control.

Assesment last year was $33,110,224 as compared with the 1949 assessment of $35,030,175.

The tax rate of 41½ mills last year was adopted to raise on the assessment the sum of $1,453,752.

To Put In Ice Plant

The rate at 45½ mills included $18,000 for the artificial ice-making plant and terraza floor at the Civic Arena. It was unanimously adopted by the finance committee in a final meeting this morning prior to the sitting of the council.

Revision of the estimates, including a contingency fund of $18,000, had left the rate at 45 mills. The arithmetic of the executive committee halted at that point when it was decided that the Arena expenditure should be submitted to the entire council.

With the prospect of the Memorial Community Centre remaining in suspension indefinitely, the sentiment of the council was generally in favor of providing the improvements at the Park St. rink that are required to furnish facilities for the youth and the public of Peterborough at least on par with the Lindsay rink accommodation.

Introduced Budget

The noon hour meeting of the council appears to have been proposed by Mayor Swanston in a desire to afford to Ald. Hugh Waddell an opportunity of introducing in council his first budget, the crystallized result of many hours of poring over the volume of figures that make up the estimated expenditures and revenues for this year.

Ald. Waddell left immediately after the meeting on a business trip to Montreal by motor.

The only business before the council, with all the members present except Ald. Adam Sands who is a patient at Civic Hospital, was the bylaw authorizing the tax levy and adopting the assessment prepared in 1948 for the purpose of this year's financing of the administration of the city.

With its 45.5 mill rate Peterborough joins the company of an increasing number of Ontario cities and towns who have been reporting recently the striking of tax rates at "new all-time highs".

Decide To Raise Vet Allowances

OTTAWA, March 16—(CP)—Because they are suffering "real hardship," the government is going to supplement the sums now received by some recipients of war veterans' allowances, Veterans' Minister Gregg informed the Commons Tuesday.

He said the supplementary payments will not exceed $10 a month for single and $15 for married recipients and they will only go to persons who now get the maximum amount—$40 and $70—who are "without other means of support and who are unable to manage."

His statement made it clear that the government has rejected appeals by the Canadian Legion and other veterans' groups for increases in the basic rates and instead has substituted a new procedure.

There are roughly 29,000 recipients and the estimated bill for 1949-50 is $20,000,000, plus $500,000 to cover the new supplementaries.

Regional offices of the Department would post the government on the cases that need help. Each case would be dealt with on its merits.

PETERBOROUGH'S CHAMBER OF COMMERCE celebrated its Diamond Jubilee on Tuesday evening with a reception and banquet. About 200 members and their friends attended. Better Job Now Required Employer-Employee Relations

If the system of free enterprise under which Canada operates is to be preserved against the onslaughts of the various "foreign-born isms" now assailing it, management of industry must do a better job than it is now doing in the field of employer-employee relations. This was the opinion expressed by John H. Brace, OBE, of Montreal, vice-president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and vice-president of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada in an address entitled "What Are We Doing About It?" which he delivered Tuesday night at the Diamond Jubilee banquet of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce in the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Brace, who was introduced by H. L. Garner, Ontario regional representative on the executive of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, said too many leaders in the business world "are standing calmly by" watching many Canadians transfer their allegiance from Canadian democracy to one or the other of these "isms."

"Are we too smug? Can we not see the danger signs? Or are we just too indolent to take on a job that obviously needs doing?" These questions were thrown out to his hearers at the outset of his remarks by Mr. Brace.

Foundation of Free Economy

"Good employer-employee relations form the foundation of a free economy," declared Mr. Brace, adding that "As management, from the president down to the first line foreman, we must develop a better understanding of human relationships in industry." Members of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce can do much in the way of education along these lines, he stated.

The banquet, which was presided over by the president, W. M. Gemmell, was attended by a large number of specially invited guests, representative of all walks of life including church, state, labor, and the judiciary. Given a special place of honor were two members of the chamber who were also members 50 years ago, Vincent Eastwood, chairman of the City Trust Corporation, and F. D. Kerr, K.C. Congatulatory remarks were made by Mayor M J. Swanston, Senator J. J. Duffus, Hon. Harold Scott, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests, and Sydney Matthews, Ontario man-

Hunters Federation Asks Two-Year Ban On Moose

TORONTO, March 16—(CP).—The Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters asked for an immediate two-year closed season on moose, in a brief presented to the Ontario Legislature Game and Fish Committee. The two years would be spent in a moose survey. More game wardens and increased wolf bounties would help preserve the moose population.

The Federation brief was presented by B. B. Sutton of Ridgetown.

It asked that no tourist outfitters' licence be issued to "an alien, and that aliens applying for camp-sites be informed to the above effect."

Mr. Sutton said there were enough native Canadians to handle any additional hunting camps made necessary by increasing numbers of tourists.

The more heavily hunted sections of the province should be divided into sections, districts or townships and a quota of permits allowed depending on the quantity of game. The number of deer camps in each area could be limited. The number of members or guests at any camp should not exceed 18 at any time.

A deer licence would be valid only in the area for which it is issued.

A buck law on alternate years must be established in some depleted areas "at once."

Needs Assistance

"The deer herd in the Parry Sound district is at an all-time low and must have some immediate assistance.

The wolf bounty should be increased and better supervision given to its payment.

A bounty should be placed on bear in unorganized as well as organized territories, to protect moose.

Chairmen of Federation zones presented briefs affecting their particular areas.

In the Ottawa-St. Lawrence zone the Federation asked that the southern boundary of the central duck-hunting zone in Eastern Ontario be moved far enough north to take the line north of the Rideau and Mississippi watershed.

Runaway Girl Back At Toronto Home

TORONTO, March 16—(CP) — Her head and face muffled in a white scarf, Mary Elizabeth Walsh arrived from Winnipeg by plane Tuesday night and was immediately taken to her home by car.

The 15-year-old Toronto student, who ran away March 1, had been held in the Manitoba Home for Girls since last week.

In a telephone interview Tuesday night, Mr. Walsh said:

"We did not know Mary was coming home until Judge V. L. Stewart of the Juvenile Court informed us after the plane had left Winnipeg. Although we had retained a lawyer in Winnipeg he was not allowed to speak to Mary, so you know as much about her running away as we do."

Arrest Five Men After Free-for-All

TORONTO, March 16—(CP)—Two persons were injured and five others arrested Tuesday night as a result of a "free-for-all" in Toronto's east end, involving 10 citizens and policemen.

Injured were Charles Bell and George Glover, both of Toronto, who were taken to hospital with injuries suffered in the fight.

Charged with assault occasioning bodily harm and obstructing police officers were: Edward Towner, 23; Donald Murray, 22; Ernest Howes, 27; Edward Turner, 21 and Sylvio Clothier, 22, all of Toronto.

Police said Towner and Murray assaulted Ben. When Glover went to Bell's aid the other three men joined in the fracas, but all fled when police appeared on the scene.

Wants To Be US Citizen Must Find Father First

TORONTO, March 16—(CP)—A young man named John is looking for his father.

He wants to become a United States citizen but he hasn't a birth certificate. Tuesday he asked police to help him find out who his parents are.

Police said today they believe he is the son of Mrs. Margaret Twilley, a Port Hope woman whose body was found beside the body of J. R. Phillips here in 1929. Police then attributed the deaths to murder and suicide. Police said the details of the shooting were similar to the information given John about his mother's death.

The youth told police he had been adopted at the age of four at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and brought up by his foster-parents as their son. Only three years ago he found out through a friend that he had been adopted. The friend was able to give him only meagre details.

The woman told him she had seen a newspaper item sometime between 1926 and 1932 about a Toronto woman who had been murdered by her common-law husband. She thought the dead woman was John's mother.

John returned to his foster-mother, whom he left several years ago, but the woman, now 92, no longer recognized anyone.

John has worked in the United States for several years and wants to live there permanently.

Besides, he told a reporter, "my father may be alive still. I want to see him."

Asks House To Begin Sitting Early

Anxious To Rush Control Laws Before March 31

OTTAWA, March 16—(CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent gave to Commons notice today that he will ask it start sitting early and on Saturdays, beginning the extended sittings Friday and continuing until control measures, now before the House, are passed.

The change would mean that the House meets from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in addition to the regular sittings from 3 to 6 p.m. and 7.30 to 10.30 p.m. The first Saturday sitting would be on March 26.

There was no immediate indication of the significance of the move except that certain control measures must be passed through parliament by March 31.

On that date controls exercised under wartime powers legislation are due to lapse.

However, the fact that such rush hours are usually not started until the final stages of the session, coupled with the fact that the budget will come down on Tuesday, promptly started speculation that the government is aiming at an early prorogation, with a view to an early general election.

Lists Measures

The measures which Mr. St. Laurent said would be considered during the three-sitting days are the bill for price, steel, timber and rental controls now being considered by the House, a measure to continue bulk farm purchases by the government for European countries, another to provide for continued financing of the Canadian Commercial Corporation which handles defence purchases and a fourth for continuation of foreign exchange control.

A source close to the cabinet said that the notice indicated nothing more than the discovery by the cabinet that only by three sittings a day would it now be possible to get the control legislation through by the end of the month. He said that there was no particular election significance in the move.

Blackwell Riles Visiting Mayors

TORONTO, March 16—(CP)—Dissatisfaction was expressed by the Board of Control today over the reception given visiting mayors and reeves by Attorney-General Blackwell Tuesday.

The delegation of mayors and reeves were protesting "the steamrolling" of the new fire and police bills.

Mayor Hiram McCallum said at the conclusion of the meeting that he forwarded a personal letter to Premier Kennedy urging the legislation be delayed for further consideration.

"The question of municipalities losing autonomy is important enough to be held back," he said.

Controller David Balfour said he was "amazed" at the stand taken by Mr. Blackwell.

Crew Bails Water From Sinking Craft

PORT DOVER, Ont., March 16 —(CP)—Six crew members of the fishing tug Ferroclad worked furiously to bail water out of their sinking craft in Lake Erie today. They appeared to be winning the battle and it was expected the Diesel-powered craft would be towed to this port 23 miles south of Brantford by nightfall.

Earlier reports said the crew abandoned the tug which began to sink suddenly when the crew was lifting whitefish nets. Cause was not known.

Four other tugs went to the rescue of the Ferroclad. The Northside was the first to arrive and three of her crew got to the sinking vessel and helped to pump out the water. The Ferroclad was taken in tow. She was 25 miles out in the lake.

Feel Certain Portugal To Join Pact

Only Stumbling Block Question Of Bases Said Easily Removed

WASHINGTON, March 16 — (AP). — Diplomatic authorities predicted to-day that Portugal probably will join the proposed Atlantic Security Pact despite Portuguese objections to Spain's "exclusion" and other matters.

Portugal's chief objection appeared to be its expressed determination not to make any treaty commitment which would compel it to grant peacetime bases to a foreign power in the Azores Islands.

The government also emphasized that it would not join any group of powers which would have the authority to decide by vote that it should grant bases.

The position of the Unied Sates and other pact countries on this point, as previously expressed also to Iceland and Denmark, is that the treaty will provide a "framework" in which the base issue can eventually be worked out.

Feel Optimistic

Optimism among treaty negotiators here as to Portugal's eventual lining up with the other Atlantic powers rested on two things. First, there was the ready reassurance to Portugal about the bases. Second, there was the declaration in the Embassy statement that "the Portuguese governemnt was one of the first governments to express satisfaction on the idea of a pact of the Atlantic nations."

Portugal with the Azores, the island Republic of Iceland, and Denmark with Greenland all control strategic positions in the North Atlantic. Iceland and Denmark have both raised the question whether they would be compelled by the treaty to grant the peacetime bases to the United States. They have been assured that they would not be.

Meanwhile, the countries which have been drafting the treaty through meetings of their ambassadors here with Acheson, concluded their work Tuesday. In addition to the United States, Britain and France, those already in the starting line-up are Canada, Norway, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, the other four now generally expected to join this group in time for the initial signing ceremony here Friday are Italy, Iceland, Denmark and Portugal.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

A J-M Tid-Bit From Hollywood

Recently Hollywood was making an underwater picture. The scenes were to be shot in a huge glass tank filled with water, which, to get the best results, had to be crystal clear The studio called in a Johns-Manville filtration engineer. He recommended Celite — a filter powder that industry uses for countless filtration jobs.

In a few hours, the tank was fill with sparkling clear water. Every last suspended impurity had been removed—trapped by the tiny porous particles of Celite. In the same way Celite clarifies our fruit juices, syrups, beverages, even our medicine. In fact, there's scarcely a liquid that can't be filtered with the help of Celite.

For complete details on how Celite can be used in your industry, write on your company letterhead to Johns-Manville, 199 Bay Street, Toronto.

Prices Board Powers Too Great-White

OTTAWA, March 16 (CP)—The government is seeking in its new control bill to continue only a dozen of its wartime pyramid of restrictive measures, Justice Minister Garson told the Commons Tuesday night in a defence of control legislation.

These include the general prices board order, domestic rental regulations, steel and timber regulations, orders relating to Japanese on the Pacific coast, priorities for construction supplies and orders dealing with the sugar and prices stability corporations.

Answering a continuing stream of Progressive Conservative criticism, Mr. Garson charged the official opposition with trying to create the impression that the government was asking for a "vast network" of orders and controls when actually great progress was being made towards decontrol.

Mr. Garson said the government was proposing extension of the controls through existing orders-in-council because it hoped they would be temporary.

The situation was changing rapidly and the government would not have the same flexibility of action to reduce and modify controls if they were in an act which required amendment by parliament.

Emergency Exists

An emergency did exist and Progressive Conservative members themselves had admitted as much when they referred to the housing situation and suggested that control of steel was needed. Emergencies followed every war.

Angus MacInnis (CCF—Vancouver East) suggested the Progressive Conservatives say definitely whether or not they wanted controls continued. They said there was no emergency, but this should be apparent in the increase in defence estimates and the drafting of an Atlantic Pact.

W. S. White (PC—Hastings-Peterborough) quoted extensively from regulations giving powers to those administering the controls. The regulations, he said, gave the Prices Board power to pass regulations or to delegate its powers to pass regulations. No matter what the officials of the board did no legal action could be taken against them.

He believed many members would not be anxious to continue such "broad, sweeping autocratic powers."

He told of several court cases which showed that the judiciary was confused as to the exact meaning of control regulations.

The way the regulations were administered, one merchant was prosecuted while another went free although guilty of the same offense.

"The sooner we get away from controls and from a paternal state, which feels it should spoon-feed the public, the better it will be for all of us," said Mr. White.

Laurence Skey (PC—Toronto Trinity) said a solution should be found which would give landlords control of their own properties and tenants an opportunity to find alternate accommodation at a reasonable rental.

Tariffs, Controls, Ceilings Make Farmer Less Careful

"Don't place your future in tariffs, controls, ceilings, or floors" was the advice offered to members of the Peterborough County Agricultural Federation at their closing luncheon of the winter season, on Tuesday in the Empress Hotel by Wilson M. Gemmell, guest speaker of the day. Mr. Gemmell, manager of the Peterborough branch of the Royal Bank of Canada and President of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, spoke on the topic "Farming Is Business" He was introduced by Norman McConkey of Otonabee as "one of agriculture's greatest friends."

To depend too much on tariffs, ceilings, etc., is like "leaning on a broken reed," said Mr. Gemmell who declared that such a practice tends to make a farmer less careful to see that his farm is operated on a business-like basis.

"Nothing in this world is free and all these ceilings and floors cost money—our money," said the speaker; "they are only crutches and not a way of living."

Mr. Gemmell delivered a strong condemnation of two political groups now striving to get into power in Canada who, is successful," would badly upset our way of life." He said he was referring to the Communists and the Socialists. The latter group, he claimed, were really "half-brothers of the Communists" and more in the class of "right wing Communists" than "left wing Liberals". If either of these parties got in power they would "set you farmers against us in the city; they represent us as money-grubbers asking too high rates of interest and you asking too high prices for your products."

No Cause for Alarm

Speaking of present business conditions, Mr. Gemmell said that while it was quite true that business was "not quite as brisk" at the moment as it has been, "there is not any cause for alarm." He advise the farmers to keep themselves on an even keel and endeavour to "produce all they can at the lowest possible cost." This was the best way to cushion the effect of a slackening in business conditions, he stated. "Any fluctuations in the market from time to time will not involve you in any great financial strain," he predicted.

Mr. Gemmell gave the farmers these further bits of advice: "Don't gamble or speculate, avoid the man who has schemes, don't be afraid of changing conditions, share your experiences with your neighbors.

Mr. Gemmell urged the federation members to operate their farms on as businesslike a basis as possible. "A farmer to be successful must be a business man, as well as an agriculturalist," he said. In this connection, he advised the farmers to keep proper records of profit and loss. Failure to do this might mean that they would pay more taxes than they needed to. In discussion taxation, Mr. Gemmell declared that one reason taxes are so high in Canada at present is because "we are maintining too big a bureaucracy." He urged the farmers to bring pressure to bear on their M. P.'s with a view to attacking this state of affairs.

"The farmers of this country are trustees of more wealth than all the directors of banks, insurance companies, etc., combined. You have assets in your charge that they can never hope to control."

Support Health Insurance

Mr. Gemmell urged the farmers to give full support to their new health insurance plan. Most of the people who come to him seeking small loans say they want the money because "sickness ran away with their savings", he declared.

In closing, Mr. Gemmell announced that the Chamber of Commerce had recently passed a resolution calling for nomination of a non-voting representative of the Federation of Agriculture to the executive of the chamber in order that views might be exchanged. If enough others members of the federation join the chamber, the farmers could have a member on the executive with full voting privileges. He said both groups should work together more than they have done in the past.

The speaker was thanked by James Gifford, Reeve of Ennismore and chairman of the Cream Producers Association of Ontario.

ager of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, who brought greetings from Donald Morrell, president, of Montreal, and presented to the Peterborough Chamber a gavel, a gift of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce to mark this special occasion.

Mr. Brace reminded his audience that "We are in a period of labour shortage, with work for all at high wages." He warned that "if we cannot at this time satisfy all Canadians that this country of ours can be developed in the best interests of all through our present form of democracy, how can we hope to maintain our free way of life when we come to a period of unemployment for some and short-time for others?" He declared that "the time may not be far off when we will be put to this test."

Works Against Employee

The speaker asserted that it must be acknowledged frankly that "we still have examples of the type of management that is primarily concerned with the interest of the owners and ignores, or acts to the disadvantage of, the employees and the public, and is therefore not fulfilling its whole responsibility."

Mr. Brace stated that if a good job is done in "selling the company and its management to the employee" the ground work would thus be established "which should result in his recognizing that our democratic way of life gives him fuller life than he could possibly have if the management of his company had to work under restrictions imposed by bureaucratic national economists." The employee must be treated "as a person or individual" and management must understand that he has "certain needs, desires, or hopes for which he craves satisfaction." As supervisors, "we must sincerely strive to see that he gets a fair measure of that satisfaction."

"If an employee's relations with the firm are to remain on a satisfactory basis, he must feel that he is getting his fair share of the product dollar and that his treatment as an individual employee is fair in all things." Management should give the employee as much information about the business he is in that he can be persuaded to accept—and then he should be educated to accept more, Mr. Brace said.

President Gemmell read messages from the following expressing their regret at being unable to attend and offering congratulations to the chamber: Gordon K. Fraser, M.P., James Dutton, Sr., of the Board of Health and a former president; J. Wells Fraser, past president; and Rabbi J. Mayer.

Vocal selections were rendered by Miss Helen Hadjnik and Don Landry, accompanied by Stan Northrop. Miss Hadjnik sang "Spring Is Here Again," "I'll Take You Home Again Kathleen," and "Let My Song Fill Your Heart," and Mr. Landry an aria from the opera "Faust" by Gounod and "On the Road to Mandalay."

The speaker was thanked on behalf of the gathering by Vincent Eastwood, at one time president of the Peterborough Board of Trade, predecessor of the present organization.

Big Changes Seen For RAF

LONDON, March 16—(CP) — "Revolutionary developments" in the RAF were forecast Tuesday night as the Commons approved an increased budget for Britain.

Great strides in developing a force of jet bombers, and development of a jet fighter which would make present types obsolete, was forecast by Air Secretary Arthur Henderson.

At present Britain's jet bombers are already the best in the world, the Air Secretary added, and Britain now is preparing a new jet bomber with a speed nearing 500 miles an hour.

For all these developments the Commons approved an air budget of £207,500,000 ($830,000,000), £18,000,000 higher than last year.

Harold MacMillan, Chief Conservative speaker, brought up the question of Commonwealth training policy, in which Canada played a great part during the war, and asked more information about Dominion and Colonial air forces.

He deplored the government's "excessive secrecy" as a bad thing for relations with Western Europe, the United States and the Dominions.

Obituaries

ROBERT HENRY CHAMBERLAIN

Robert Henry Chamberlain, 76, of Norwood died suddenly at his residence on Tuesday. He was born in Belmont township, son of the late James Chamberlain and Lucinda Drury, and has lived in the village for the past 12 years. Previous to this he farmed in Dummer township.

Besides his wife, the former Mary Anne Peever, he leaves one daughter Mrs. Wilfred Hie (Myrtle) of Baltimore, Ont. There are four sons in Norwood, Wesley, Frederick, Leonard and Kenneth. He was a member of Norwood United Church.

Funeral service will be held at the Tedford Funeral Home on Thursday at 2 p.m. The Rev. E. E. Pugsley will officiate and burial will be at Norwood Cemetery.

NORMAN McLEOD BRACKENRIDGE

BAILIEBORO, March 16 — (ENS).—Norman McLeod Brackenridge, 77, of Lot 19, Concession 2, Cavan township, died on Monday at his residence, following a long illness. He was born in Asphodel township, son of the late John Brackenridge and Agnes Stevenson. He was married in Asphodel and lived there before moving to South Monaghan where he lived for 18 years, at Wallace Point, on the farm now owned by Stewart Darling. He lived in Cavan for the past 31 years.

He leaves his wife, the former Euphemia Leaitch, and three daughters: Mrs. Allie Bidgood (Iva) of Springville, Miss Agnes Brackenridge of Hamilton, and Mrs. Keith Campbell (Margaret) of Fraserville. There are six sons: John and Howard of South Monaghan, Charles of Millbrook and Roy, Ernest and Arthur of Cavan township. A sister, Mrs. Jane Thompson, lives in Westwood, and there are two brothers, Hugh of Vancouver and James of Edmonton.

Mr. Brackenridge was a member of Centreville Presbyterian Church.

Funeral service was held at the family residence on Wednesday. The Rev. Walter Patterson of Grace Presbyterian Church, Millbrook, officiated. Pall-bearers were: Will Thompson, Gordon Manley, Charles Kindred, Albert Fife, Allie Bidgood and Keith Campbell. Burial was at Westwood Cemetery.

Flower-bearers were: Gerald Anderson, Clarence and Allen Eagleson, Robert Greer and Arnold Brackenridge.

RECEIVES OLD COIN

A local resident walked into the newsroom of the Examiner today with a French coin, a five-centime piece, bearing the date 1854. On one side of the bronze coin is the profile of Napoleon III, and on the other side, the eagle of the French Republic. It could pass as one of the large Canadian one-cent pieces now withdrawn from circulation; and the owner received it in a handful of change believing it to be a cent. He is curious to know what it is worth.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, March 16—(CP)—Trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange fell off after an opening half-hour of fair activity. Prices of coarse grains futures moved narrowly.

Early trade saw general buying in deferred months, influenced by government clarification of coarse grain floor prices. Fair shipper demand apoeared in both oats and barley. Rye, mostly a commission house trade, reflected firmness of this commodity on American grain markets.

10 a.m. prices:

Oats—May ½ higher at 73¼B; July ⅞ higher at 70⅝A; Oct. ⅝ higher at 67⅝B.

Barley — May ½ higher at 1.07⅞; July ⅝ higher at 1.00⅝A; Oct. 1⅛ higher at 96⅛.

Rye—May ⅜ lower at 1.11¼B; July ¼ higher at 1.11¾; Oct. unchanged at 1.10A.

Flax — May unchanged at 4.00⅛B; July not open.

Inspections: Wheat this year 340; last year 592; cars of contract 301; oats 27-82; barley 32-43; flax 11-15; rye 9-1; other grains 2-3; total 421-736.

there had been an open season on moose. The country should have a closed season on partridge of at least five years.

"Many provinces" outside of Ontario permitted Sunday hunting of ducks. The season in Ontario should be lengthened to compensate for the loss of one day a week.

Blake Uren of Orillia asked that it be made unlawful to use snares of any type in Simcoe county except on registered trap lines. With the permission of county or township councils the department should be allowed to hold a "controlled and special season to hunt deer."

W. G. Gemmel (PC-Sudbury) presented the brief of the New Ontario Trappers' Association.

The department should reopen cases of all trappers who have held trapping licences for many years and have lost them for violations of the game laws. Trappers should be allowed to use snares in the fall and that anyone running dogs in hunting do so at their own risk.

A zoning system should be established instead of a closed season on moose.

The open season should be restricted to 15 days. The wolf bounty should be increased to $50. A $25 bounty should be imposed on bear.

A trapper should be required to spend at least two months on his grounds during the open season. Before being granted a licence he should be required to pass "an examination which will satisfy the game overseer that he has a good knowledge of the proper methods of conservation and that he has enough knowledge of the handling of furs to guard against the placing of inferior merchandise on the market.

Wages Too Low For Living Costs

OTTAWA, March 16—)CP)—While the average Canadian last year managed to stretch his weekly pay cheque "fairly well," there wasn't quite enough in his pay envelope to met the rise in prices, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Canadian labor [illegible] $7,130,000,000 during 1948, an increase of $895,000,000 or 14 per cent over earnings of the preceding year.

At the same time the cost-of-living index during the year averaged 14 per cent higher than in 1947, the same increase as the total labor income.

"It would appear that purchasing power of labor income in the aggregate was fairly well maintained, although average weekly earnings tended to lag slightly behind rising consumer price levels," said the bureau.

Larger sums were paid out in salaries and wages in all industries except forestry, and which there was a drop of four per cent.

In December, labor income totalled $618,000,000, a decline of $15,000,000 from the November figure, but an increase of $67,000,000 or 12 per cent above December, 1947.

Liberals Charge Failure On School Grant

TORONTO, March 16—(CP) — The Ontario budget debate, which has dragged on since March 4, is due to end today. The vote on adoption of the budget brought down by Provincial Treasurer Frost probably will follow wind-up speeches by Mr. Frost and Opposition Leader Jolliffe.

The hitherto dull budget debate was enlivened Tuesday by a Liberal member's charge that the government had failed to live up to pledges made by former Premier George Drew last year to increase provincial grant to separate schools.

Aurele Chartrand, member for Ottawa East and Liberal party whip, said:

"You must live up to Drew's promises. No amount of pussy-footing or subterfuge will suffice."

No Report Yet

He said the Royal Commission on Education, headed by Mr. Justice J. A. Hope, should be called "the hopeless commission." The committee had been set up for nearly four years and still had not brought in its report.

T. D Thomas (CCF-Ontario) criticized the proposal to substitute for the present one-mill subsidy a new system of provincial grants to municipal police and fire departments.

"Who will benefit from the grants on police and fire protection?" he asked. "Certainly not the rural areas, for most of these municipalities have voluntary fire brigades and low-cost police protection. Any grants they receive for these services will be much less than the amount they received on the one-mill subsidy last year."

Mr. Pryde came out in favor of a monthly $10 provincial bonus for all old age pensioners. Most pensioners now receive $30 a month, with an extra $10 from the province in cases of special need.

Fraser Questions Prime Minister

OTTAWA, March 16—(CP). — Prime Minister St. Laurent heatedly declared in the Commons on Tuesday that "it is not the business of the Prime Minister to examine immigrants."

He made that statement after G. K. Fraser (PC, Peterborough West) asked if those who entered Canada illegally and were allowed to remain underwent any kind of a medical or X-ray examination.

"Put it on the order paper," shouted some Liberal members.

Mr. St. Laurent said he, too, felt the question could go on the order paper and be answered at a later date. When Mr. Fraser indicated he wanted an immediate answer, Mr. St. Laurent shouted:

"It is not the business of the Prime Minister to examine immigrants."

He said he would have to obtain the information from others in order to answer the question.

Mr. Fraser got to his feet again, but Speaker Gaspard Fauteux said the member had put his question, got an answer and should resume his seat.

"I am not satisfied with the answer," retorted Mr. Fraser as the discussion switched to other matters.

Later, when Mr. St. Laurent answered a question for Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg North Centre), Mr. Fraser quipped:

"He answers a bedfellow, but he won't answer me."

Tired Of Treatment

WINNIPEG, March 16 (CP)— The National Convention of Canadian Indians was told Tuesday that Indians had been treated like children for more than a century, and the time has come for a change. Frank Assu of Steveston, BC, president of the North American Indian Brotherhood, offered a resolution demanding a joint Federal Committee on Indian Affairs with both red and white men sitting on the committee.

Act Amended

OTTAWA, March 16 (CP). — Amendments to the Exchequer Court Act received second reading in the Senate Tuesday. Some streamlining of procedure is provided in the government measure, which also takes steps to free the court of some United Kingdom influence. Senator A. K. Hugessen, explaining the Bill, said that the Act as originally worded left the court's jurisdictional field somewhat affected by actions of the British Crown.

Seared Mansion Farm Awaits New Owner

COBOURG, March 16 (ENS)— Formerly the home and estate of George S. Oliver of Pittsburgh, later bought by Mayor Joe Smith of Cobourg, Dungannon Farm is on the real estate market. Mr. Smith bought it in 1944 but as unhappy memories through fire and later death, have been associated with it, and as farming conditions are too uncertain from an economic point of view, it has been decided to sell it, Mr. Smith said yesterday.

A beautiful mansion-type home was located on the grounds when Mr. Smith acquired it but in February of 1946 a disastrous $200,000 fire destroyed the beautiful dwelling and contents and the Smiths moved into the smaller house on the property. Later Mrs. Smith died and Mr. Smith moved into Cobourg, turning the property over to his two sons, John and Cecil.

"The loss of the lovely home and later Mrs. Smith's death have left sorrowful memories at Dungannon. Farming is rather a gamble these days and the boys are going to go into some other occupation. We will not leave Cobourg, however," said Mayor Smith yesterday.

Cobourg Plans Zoning Bylaw

COBOURG, March 16 — (ENS) —The Mayor and Council, tax collector E. A. Hircock, Max Sloan, supervisor of assessments, of the Municipal Board, Jack Chamberlain, assistant supervisor and W. Bunnell of the Dept. of Planning and Development, discussed a zoning by-law at a meeting Tuesday night

The zoning by-law would set up industrial and residential areas into which the town would expand along planned lines with resultant savings along such lines as utilities installation and other municipal services. There would be an interminging of assessing and zoning so that property values would be maintained at proper levels and any buildings that went up would not be of a type which would decrease property values.

Under the zoning by-law industrial and residential areas would be established but they would be elastic enough so that amendments to the by-law could change them to conform with altered conditions.

Revive Head Hunting

LONDON, March 16 (Reuters). — Head hunting, once prevalent among natives of Borneo but later suppressed by British authorities, was aroused again at the outbreak of the war and several hundred Japanese lost their heads, the annual report of the colony of Sarawak Borneo says. At the end of the Japanese occupation the custom subsided again, the report added.

Queen's Opens Appeal

KINGSTON, March 16—(CP).— Queen's University Tuesday opened its public appeal for some $3,000,000 for essential construction, endowment and maintenance. Dr. R. C. Wallace, principal and vice-chancellor, said the appeal emphasized the importance of immediate and long-term financial help to maintain the university, which is laboring under high operating cost and low income.

Cobourg Centre Site Is Pesky Problem

COBOURG, March 16—(ENS) —A new site for the recreational centre has been under consideration for the past few days, it was revealed yesterday by Mayor Joseph Smith. The location would be back of the business section just north of King street with an entrance off King, Division or Covert streets. Considerable opposition resulted when the Arlington lots area as a site was announced. The parks board took the stand that it would spoil the park entrance, and further site enquiries were made.

The latest site is very central and like Collingwood would have an entrance right in the business section. Cecil Wilson, Mayor Smith and Angelo Cortesi all own land in that area and have said they would be willing to donate it as a site, and it might not be necessary to acquire further land to bring it up to the required amount. The presence of the creek which runs through that section would not present a serious engineering problem, a preliminary survey revealed. A pretentious building would not be needed as the area is hemmed in by stores and the front could be dressed up as required. The location would permit a 40 foot roadway along three sides for truck deliveries and for a fire lane, it was pointed out.

Mayor Smith told the Examiner yesterday that he and the council, along with the town solicitor, looked over the site on Thursday of last week and started enquiries with the view of finding out if the idea were feasible.

The Cost Of Peace

There is not the kind of peace in the world today which allows swords to be beaten into ploughshares and spears into pruninghooks. It is an armed peace and that kind costs money. The cost to Canada is shown by the financial estimates tabled in the House of Commons on Monday. An increase of 124 million dollars is forecast in the spending of the Department of National Defence. Last year, expenditure by the Department was estimated at $251,000,000. This year the estimate is $375,000,000, with an additional forty million dollars for housing married men in the services, contained in the estimates of the Department of Reconstruction. Other items listed under other departments' estimates bring the complete cost of keeping Canada armed during the next twelve months to $421,000,000.

* * *

It is a heavy price to pay for peace but, as an official of the Department of Finance has said, it is made necessary by the same dangers which have led up to the proposed North Atlantic treaty. These many million dollars amount for every man, woman and child in Canada to about thirty dollars. If peace, even the kind of peace we now so uneasily experience, can be maintained at a cost of thirty dollars a head, the price is not too high.

Churchmen's Confessions Are Not New

The American Ambassador to Hungary said recently of Cardinal Mindszenti's admission of partial guilt during his trial: "It is impossible to explain the transformation of the lion who was chief of the Hungarian Catholic Church". In other communist-dominated countries other religious leaders, both Roman Catholic and Protestant, are abjuring their former ways and making seemingly voluntary confession of guilt. For instance the Reverend Nikola Naumov, president of the Supreme Council of Bulgaria's United Evangelical Churches, known as a man of staunch convictions, admitted: "I confess I am guilty. I am sincerely sorry for what I have done.... Believe me, I am ashamed to beg for mercy. Give me a chance to correct my errors". Such recantations may be inexplicable in honest men as these churchmen were considered to be but they are not new to history. Nor are the trials.

In the time of Henry VIII and his Cardinal Wolsey, for instance, there is the example set by Thomas Garret. Garret was a fellow of Magdalen College, Oxford, and later a parish priest in London. He had Protestant tendencies and, as the nineteenth century historian Froude says in his History of England, he "was guilty of the unpardonable offence of selling Testaments in Oxford, and therefore hunted down as a mad dog and a common enemy of mankind". Froude tells that after his arrest, "he escaped the heaviest consequences, for Wolsey persuaded him to abjure". Why should a man of Garret's convictions admit guilt? Was it from fear, a matter of policy, or a genuine confession? However, as Froude says: "A few years later ...he had recovered his better nature, and would not abjure, and died as a brave man should die". Perhaps the churchmen in eastern Europe today are playing for such time as Garret secured.

Dr. Robert Barnes, a prior of an English convent, a Doctor of Divinity, and a reformer, was another noted churchman of the sixteenth century who made vigorous confesses of guilts, which it would seem he did not truthfully believe, after his committal to prison on a charge of having used heretical language. Wolsey drew up an abjuration and Barnes signed it. A great ceremony was staged on Shrove Tuesday, 1527. Tyndale's translations of the Bible were burnt outside St. Paul's, London, and Dr. Barnes took a leading part in this spectacle "by which the Catholic authorities hoped to produce some salutary effect on the disaffected spirits of London", says Froude. Barnes told the people that 'he was more charitably handled than he deserved, his heresies were so heinous and detestable'. The words were echoed last month by the sobbing Naumov and by the Rev. Vassil Ziapwov, head of the Congregational Church in Bulgaria, who said at his trial: "Your indulgence made a new man of me. I sinned. I committed many great crimes as the result of the Americanism in me.... Comrades, what will you make of me—a heap of dust or a new man?"

Today in eastern Communist countries, Americanism is the heresy, Communism the state religion. The authorities are using, as Henry VIII did, secular machinery for ecclesiastical purposes. And Henry regarded heresy as an offence against the State rather than against the Church. That was the reason that several years later, and after further heretical activities and another recantation, Barnes was burnt at the stake with two others, and three other reformers were hanged on the same day. Both Catholics and Lutherans on the Continent were shocked, as they are now shocked in the West by the Communist tactics against religious leaders in Eastern Europe.

"There'll Always Be An England"

Nine years ago this summer the song "There'll Always Be An England" was stirring popular sentiment in Canada, and motorists bravely went about with the slogan printed on banners pasted to the windows of their cars. The song and slogan are as forgotten as the fears to which they popularly ministered. In 1940 there was a touch of pathetic bravado about the affirmation. Now England has come through the war; the village greens are still freely hers. Since 1945 we have come really to believe that there will always be an England, but a poor England, pushed off the economic map.

Recent announcements from London may allow us to change our opinions. Things are getting brighter in Britain. The President of the Board of Trade has been able to put an end to much of the rationing, and daily more restrictions are being thrown to his "bonfire of controls". The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Stafford Cripps, revealed on Tuesday that Britain has balanced her trade account with the rest of the world and has a surprising but not large surplus of fifteen million pounds. A deficit of £362,000,000 had been anticipated last year, and the deficit in 1947 was £630,000,000. From these and many other indications, Britain is shown to be very much on her feet.

She still has many serious economic problems—a deficit in her trade with dollar countries, for instance. The estimated dollar deficit for the first half of 1949 is 195 million pounds, an increase of 26 million over the last six months of 1948. It is a problem, but not alarming. The vastly improved trade condition during 1948 gives a basis as well as momentum to a further bettering of the situation, and though no such startling trade feat as was accomplished last year is anticipated for this, the solid structure for recovering has been built.

No Budget Blues?

At this time there is so much interest in matters like the North Atlantic Treaty whose terms are to be made public on Friday, and the federation of Newfoundland with Canada at the end of the month, that an annual parliamentary affair like the Budget has aroused less public speculation than ordinarily. Federal Budgets are now every man's concern, for they touch his pocketbook, pay and pursuits so closely. The Budget tells the country's financial story during the last year and forecasts what it will be during the next twelve months. There is more general interest in the future plans than in the past spending. However, the past relates directly to the future. If a good surplus is announced and prosperity has abounded, increased taxation is unlikely and reductions are probable. This last year has been a good one financially for Canada. How good may be seen in a few weeks.

Last year's Budget was brought down on May 18th. Mr. St. Laurent referred obliquely to Budget Day in the House of Commons last week, and the inference is that it will come soon—perhaps at the end of the month. He also suggested that it will be a pleasing Budget. His exact words were: "I think the public would be glad to know the contents of the Minister's proposals (Finance Minister Abbott's), as soon as they can be made available". If people will be "glad" to see the Budget, it will not be one to grieve them. Since good things are pleasant to anticipate the Prime Minister's statement gives pleasure. Since sometimes good things are even better when realized, we look hopefully to an early Budget Day. It would be consoling to have the good news before we have to send in our income tax returns at the end of April.

Playing With Fire

By GEOFFREY VIVIEN

EVERY year a few books achieve a kind of success because they contain witty or malicious portraits of living people. Last year was no exception. There was Ralph Ingersoll's "The Great Ones", Frederick Wakeman's "The Saxon Charm", Bud Schulberg's "The Harder They Fall", Merle Miller's "That Winter". All of them were varyingly skilful examples of what one reviewer amusingly described as "broken-field running through the laws of libel." None—so far—have got caught up with, and it doesn't look now as if they will be.

◆ ◆ ◆

THIS kind of playing with fire crops up where there are challenging and provocative personalities, known to an entire nation. For this reason it is a game little played in Canadian literature, since Canadian public life has so few public figures of sufficient reclame to be known from coast to coast. Mr. Mackenzie King and Barbara Ann are two exceptions, but the former is too old and too complicated to be promising material for lampooning, and Barbara Ann too young and simple. The new parliament may offer more scope. George Drew ought to get into the novels of Progressive Conservative novelists on his looks alone...."His tall, commanding presence drew a murmur of admiration from the whole assembly. Not all the slick, superficial wit of the Minister, "Tike" Appleson, availed to offset the deep impression etc. etc. etc...." The same situation treated by a novelist of Liberal sympathies would be on these lines...."The Minister leapt to his feet, a dynamo in a bow tie. Not all the ponderous artillery of "Gorgeous" Blew availed to offset his complete mastery of etc. etc. etc." C.C.F. and Social Credit novelists would bring their own variants.

NOT that politics are the best field for this kind of thing. One is apt to get into hot water, as George Meredith did when his "Diana of the Crossways" was recognized as Lady Norton, and her supposed betrayal of Peel's secret intention to repeal the Corn Laws was disproved after the book was published. Earlier still the poet Gay met trouble after he had put a satirical portrait of Horace Walpole into "The Beggar's Opera". The Lord Chamberlain stepped in and forbade the production of its sequel "Polly".

STAGE plays carry portraits from time to time. "Light up the Sky", a current hit on Broadway", contains of course a sharply-etched p.. trait of—but maybe it's best not to say; you never know with these libel laws. The English stage too has had its portraits. Bernard Shaw is responsible for at least two—Sir Austen Chamberlain and Lawrence of Arabia. A figure I would like to see incorporated into a Canadian play would be a solidly-built, bearded character, who would have some such name as Davidson Roberts and who would make eloquent, imperturbable speeches while Hell and High Water lapped at his feet. Thus:

D.R. (as a shot rings out offstage) He has shot her. Good. She deserved it. A pretty girl without wit is a nuisance. And with it she's a menace. (Another shot rings out) He has shot her mother. Better still. She was tyrannical and possessive, and like all people who are desperately anxious to hold something she took the best steps to lose it. (Another shot) He has shot himself. A pity. He was not only a brilliant thinker, a generous friend, a public-spirited citizen but also a goodish southpaw pitcher. (Another shot. D.R.'s hat sails in the air) Ow! Now they're shooting at me! (Exit)

◆ ◆ ◆

PROBABLY the most notorious case of portraiture in a contemporary novel is that of "Cakes and Ale" into which Somerset Maugham put Hugh Walpole and Thomas Hardy. It is said that Hugh Walpole got no further than the opening chapter and never forgave Maugham for it. Among the classics Dickens was an active portraiteer and played the game at the expense not only of celebrities and friends—for example, Leigh Hunt and Landor — but even of his father and mother. Thackeray went so far as to admit that Mrs. Mackenzie in "The Newcomes" was drawn from his own "she-devil of a mother-in-law". There is a disadvantage in indulging in this kind of literary sport if you are anxious to be among the imortals: your book dates as soon as your subject is dead. Even so flamboyant a character as Byron who duly found his way into dozens of novels, one of the liveliest representations being by Disraeli, cannot save these works from oblivion. And though few figures in the world today hold our attention as Winston Churchill it is unlikely that his presence, thinly disguised, in H. G. Wells' "Men like Gods" will be enough to keep that book alive.

WE in Canada need not be unduly despondent that we are on the sidelines in this game. It does not lend itself to great literature. I will be surprised if those American best-sellers outlive the people they portray; in fact I will be surprised if they outlast this year's Spring book-advertising offensive.

The Lambs Go To Church

BBC reporters, who are to be much found in many corners of the world, send to their London headquarters political news of importance and also, as light relief, stories of interesting and picturesque happenings in the countries where they are stationed Christopher Serpell, the BBC's Rome correspondent, sent such a story for "Radio Newsreel" recently.

It was a description of the Feast of St Agnes. Little is known about this early Christian martyr, but her name has an obvious association with the Latin word for lamb, and it is with lambs that the ceremony is concerned. Serpell watched it from the women's gallery in St. Agnes' Church, such a gallery being an architectural feature only found in churches of the very early period, when married women were segregated from the rest of the congregation. After the solemn High Hass, conduct by the Lord High Abbott of the Latern Canons, a procession of young girls in white veils came into the church Eight of the strongest bore the lambs on a litter decorated with greenery. The lambs themselves were in decorated clothes baskets," said Serpell, "firmly tied down with white ribbons and transparent tape, and they each wore a wreath—one of white flowers and one of red—on their heads. A priest lifted up the baskets and placed them on the altar, and then the Lord High Abbott, gorgeous in his mitre and red and gold vestments, sprinkled them with Holy Water and swung a censer over them. There was great excitement among the children of the congregation, especially when one of the lambs wriggled a little bit as he was lifted up onto the altar.

"Then the lambs were solemnly borne out again and despatched on to next stage of their journey; they'll be taken to the Vatican and presented to the Pope. He will hand them over to the Benedictine Nuns of St. Cecilia, who will shear them and spin and weave their wool into the white strips called Palli; these are sent to the Pope and blessed and when he presents them to the Archbishops he takes them out of a golden urn on the Altar of St. Peter's. The lambs themselves are killed and eaten at Easter, when a roast lamb flavoured with rosemary and garlic is the traditional dish of the Italian people."

The Role of the Midwife

(NEW STATESMAN AND NATION, LONDON)

THE report of the working party on midwives contains recommendations which are timely and sensible. There is little to be said in favour of the present tendency for the whole of ante-natal care to be taken over by general practitioners giving maternity service under Part IV of the Health Act—particularly since the lamentable failure to establish health centres has nullified the conception of an adequate supply of specially experienced G.P. obstetricians. The report rightly emphasizes the importance of the part which the competent midwife should be able to play in "normal" pregnancies and deliveries if she is accorded by the medical profession the status of "fellow practitioner."

This involves both some reform in midwifery training and, more important still, securing for midwives the pay and working conditions they deserve. Case-loads, today frequently excessive, must be reduced; remuneration and chances of advancement must be such as to check the drift into more profitable "private" nursing; the domiciliary midwife must be given a car and must be properly housed; above all, the midwife's standing in the public estimation must be raised by providing her with safe and effective means of applying analgesia. All these are recommendations calling urgently for administrative action.

It is to be hoped, however, that due recognition of the role of the midwife will not lead to another equally vital need—the enlargement of the present hopelessly inadequate hospital accommodation for maternity cases—being obscured. There is, indeed, danger in emphasizing the fact that, for healthy women, child-bearing its not a disease. True, it is a natural process; and, if there are no "complications," domiciliary deliveries are medically perhaps not open to serious objection But before the conclusion is accepted that hospitalization can properly be confined to abnormal cases or first pregnancies, full account must be given to the social consideration that, for all but a privileged wealthy class, confinements at home involve for the mother difficulties and stress of worry to which she should not be exposed.

Adages At Ten Paces

Scene: A motto factory. An employe has just asked the boss for a raise, saying: "You know the old adage, "The wheel that does the squeaking gets the grease'."

"Really," replied the boss. "Well, there's another one that says: 'The steam that blows the whistle doesn't turn the wheel'."

"Oh, yeah!" rejoined the employe. "Then remember this: 'The hen that does the cackling lays the egg'."

"That'll be enough of that!" snapped the boss. "You don't get the raise. You can't tell by the auto's horn how much gas it has in the tank."—Wall Street Journal.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Hear ye the word which the Lord speaketh unto you, O house of Israel: thus saith the Lord. Learn not the way of the heathen, and be not dismayed at the signs of heaven; for the heathen are dismayed at them....But the Lord is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting king....

Thus shall ye say unto them, The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, even they shall perish from the earth, and from under these heavens ...Every man is brutish in his knowledge; every founder is confounded by the graven image; for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them. They are vanity, and the work of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish. The portion of Jacob is not like them; for he is the former of all things; and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: The Lord of hosts is his name. (Jer. 10: 1, 2, 10, 11, 14-16.)

For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many), but to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him. (Cor. 8: 5, 6.)

Doth a fountain send forth at the same place sweet water and bitter? Can the fig tree, my brethren, bear olive berries? either a vine figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh. (James 3: 11, 12.)

For the Lord giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding. (Prov. 2: 6.)

The Power of John L. Lewis

Some 400,000 United States coal miners today will quit their pits, dig no more coal for two weeks. They will do this at the whim and will of one man, John L. Lewis.

An extraordinary example of power without responsibility. John L. Lewis is not a member of any elected representative body, is accountable to no one but his union. Yet, sitting in an office in Washington, he is able to issue an order which in its consequences, under certain circumstances, could spell disaster for his country.

No answer to say that Lewis' order has been given at a time when coal supplies are adequate, that the stoppage of mining will make small difference. The relevant thing is that Lewis could have issued the same order if coal supplies were not adequate, that his order in such circumstances would be obeyed, and that no law exists to prevent its being obeyed.

That such a condition, with all that it implies in possible danger, should exist in a democratic society is completely inadmissible. The right to strike, like the right to bargain collectively, has long been accepted by free peoples. But the right to strike, like all other rights, must surely be governed by rational limitations, cannot safely admit the power of a single man to call a strike anywhere at any time under any conditions at his own choosing. A democracy tolerating anything like that is sowing the seeds of its own destruction.—Ottawa Journal.

John Edmison New Field Man

John Edmison, son of A. I. Edmison, clerk of Smith Township, and Mrs. Edmison, has been appointed field man for the Peterborough County Federation of Agriculture, it was announced by W. W. Dawson, of Otonobee, president of the federation, at Tuesday's luncheon of that organization in the Empress Hotel. Mr. Edmison is a recent graduate of the Kemptville Agricultural College and will begin his duties immediately.

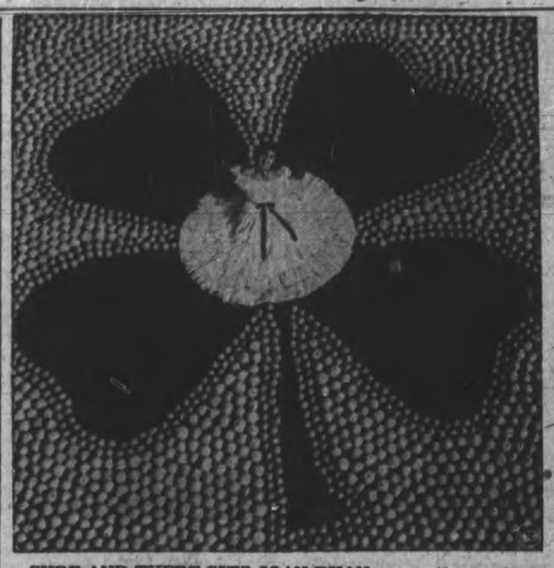
Among other announcements made by Mr. Dawson was one informing the members that there would be a rally of members of Ontario Farm Forum groups at Unionville on March 29 at which about 1,000 persons are expected to be in attendance. He said that if enough members of the federation signified their intention of attending, a bus would be chartered to take them there. Outstanding United States agriculturists are slated to address the rally.

Mr. Dawson also announced that the Eastern Ontario Brotherhood of Threshermen will hold their annual convention in the office of the Department of Agriculture, Peterborough, on Thursday, March 24.

Mr. Dawson appealed to the federation members to give full support to Kawartha Health Services, Inc., the medical health unit recently set up under the auspices of the federation. He said that 1,000 had joined so far, but that more members were needed.

Members were entertained with two Irish songs rendered by Angus Toomey of Ennismore, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. T. Gannon.

40 Sailors Surrender



NEWARK, N. J., March 16 — (AP)—Forty sailors from Soviet-dominated Poland surrendered Tuesday night to Immigration authorities here. Authorities said most of the men jumped ships in New York and New Jersey ports. The men had been living with Polish-American families since they left their ships.

Scotty Fergusson Dies

TORONTO, March 16—(CP) — Wallace Wilson (Scotty) Fergusson, former Secretary of the Ontario Thoroughbred Breeders' Association, died Monday. A personal friend of Hon. Ray Lawson, he had been an honorary Aide de Camp for the Ontario Lieutenant-Governor since his inauguration. He was a native of Tillsonburg.

Arrive For Trial

NEW YORK, March 16—(AP) —Two alleged "lonely hearts" slayers, Raymond Fernandez and Mrs. Martha Beck, arrived here by plane Tuesday to be tried on a murder charge. The two were extradited from Michigan because New York has capital punishment. The highest penalty in Michigan is life imprisonment.

Argue Over Cost Of Moving Wires

OTTAWA, March 16 — (CP) — A dispute over paying the cost of moving telephone wires to permit the establishment of a trolley coach service in Cornwall, Tuesday was argued before the Board of Transport Commissioners. The hearing was adjourned until today.

The Bell Telephone Company is opposed in the case by the Corporations of Cornwall city and township and the Cornwall Street Railway, Light and Power Company, which is to operate the trolley service.

The three Cornwall bodies want the board to order the phone company to move its wire and poles out of the way of trolley wires and to apportion the moving costs between the companies.

The Bell Company contends it should not have to bear a share of moving costs undertaken for the convenience of the railway company.

Tuesday's session was largely taken up with technical evidence on the set-up of the trolley firm and the type of work that would be involved in moving the wires. The case was expected to close today.

Lay Off 850 Workers

TORONTO, March 16 (CP) — Some 850 railway workers in Ontario Tuesday were affected by labor disputes in the United States. Because of the coal mine shutdown in the East, the New York Central Railroad announced that 200 men on its locomotive shop force at St. Thomas will be laid off indefinitely, starting on Saturday. The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway later ordered a complete shutdown of its St. Thomas shops, giving an indefinite layoff to 150 men.

OCEAN HAIR DRESSER: "How can I get a position as hair dresser on an ocean liner? Although I have a good business of my own I would like to have a complete change."
Contact Canadian Pacific Steamship Lines, Montreal, Canadian National Steamship Lines, Montreal, and Cunard White Star, Montreal, for possible openings on ocean liners. Although officials say staffs are full, it would pay you to put in your application.

SANDWICHES FOR 200: "Five of us have been elected (or pressed into service) to make sandwiches for our husbands' bowling league. What quantities of bread, butter and filling would we need to make sandwiches for 200 men?"
Thinly sliced loaves of bread would give each man four small sandwiches. This would require five to six pounds of butter and 10 pounds of meat or cheese filling. Good ham sandwiches for 200 would use up a 12-pound cooked ham. One dozen eggs, hard cooked, make 36 well-filled sandwiches.

FALLEN ARCHES: "Is there any cure for fallen arches?"
There are three good arch supports on the market. These alleviate but do not cure fallen arches. Surgeons advocate a comparatively simple and inexpensive operation which clears up the trouble. If fallen arches are not too badly gone, they can be strengthened with exercises. These we will be glad to send you on request.

PLASTIC CLOTHESLINE: "How can I clean a plastic clothesline? Have you a recipe for Boston cream pie?"
Best way we've found to clean a plastic clothesline is with dry salt and a slightly damp cotton cloth. The recipe for Boston cream pie has gone forward to you.

Definitely untrue so far as latest official information discloses.

Dickson Deal Boosts Pirates

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., March 16—(AP)—The strangest baseball deal of the winter might well prove to have been the one which could give Pittsburgh Pirates their first National-League flag in 20 years.

The deal, a straight cash transaction now believed to have involved at least $125,000, brought Murry Dickson, a trim little right-handed pitcher, to the Pirates from St. Louis Cardinals.

He will be strictly a starter for Billy Meyer and rounds out what could easily prove the best balanced staff in the league.

Three years ago, when he won 15 and lost six, Dickson had the best percentage of the circuit. Last year, carrying a relief burden, he slumped to 12-16. But he is a better hurler than that record indicates.

With what he had last year, Meyer coaxed the Pirates from seventh up into fourth place at the finish of a hot race and was voted "manager of the year" in a poll of sports writers. This time, with stronger pitching and catching and better outfield reserve strength, there is no real telling what Pittsburgh's wonder man might do.

Floodlight harness racing with pari-mutuel wagering will be introduced to Ontario turf fans this summer, it was announced Tuesday night at Toronto.

Officials said the Canadian Trotting Association had granted dates for presentation of harness racing at a proposed $1,000,000 track at nearby Thornhill. They were granted up to 42 nights, beginning Aug. 15.

Occupying some 300-acres, the track layout is expected to be one of the largest in North America. Construction is expected to start soon.

Bill Ezinicki, Toronto right-winger out of action for nearly a month with a knee injury, is expected back in action when Toronto Maple Leafs meet the Canadiens in Montreal Thursday night. Ezinicki worked out with Leafs Tuesday and Coach Hap Day said he would make the trip to Montreal for the National Hockey League contest.

University of Montreal Carabins came from behind with a three-goal rally in the third period to shade Dartmouth College Indians 4-3 at Montreal Tuesday night and capture the International Inter-collegiate Senior Hockey championships in a sudden-death fixture before 3,000 fans.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

'Twould be a great day indeed tomorrow for the Irish if they knew whom they were to fight next. We mean such Irishers as Crowley, O'Rochetta, McGodfrey, the Parnell and sundry other Legionnaire puckists. Sure and as these immortal words are being turned into type, nothing is known at all, at all. Could it be the brawny bhoys of Orillia any night now, or must they sit on their hands and wait the outcome of the Belleville-Kingston brawl? Ah, well, maybe more will be known ere the 17th passes into history. We'll be pleased to inform their followers, Irish and otherwise, what's what. But 'tis hoped for early action as natural ice seldom lasts much past the 17th.

* * * * * *

After completing that first para, we're told that Orillia has made a sort of tentative agreement to play a two-game series in Sarnia, for a guarantee, of course. If that's so, then Legion will have to wait till Belleville or Kingston win their current series, maybe seeing action about Friday. In such case, Legion would be stepping into OHA senior "B" semi-finals with the Quinte-Kingston survivor, as the Orillia-Sarnia winner would meet the survivor of another series down that way in a semi-final bracket. Yes, it looks like Legion against either Diesels or Nylons late this week or early next in provincial semi-finals.

Mr. Galloping Ghost

But to skip hockey for now, we note where Fred Dufton—"Mr. Galloping Ghost" of Cobourg—was chosen president of the ORFU intermediate section, with John Black of Oakville vice-prexy, and Bill Fry of Toronto secretary. CRU and ORFU will help financially to encourage intermediate football to produce senior material, and the intermediate division will be divided into "A" and "B" classes. Three imports allowed a club regardless of the residence rule, but USA-ers must be in Canada six months. By the way, they tell a tale of Frank Gnup, Hamilton coach, who one day was so peeved at a referee he snapped: "Wilson, you stink!" The ref promptly paced off a 10-yard penalty and asked: "How do I smell from here?"

St. Kitts' scribe says: "It could only happen once in a life time but it was tit-for-tat here Saturday when the Southern Ontario cage champions reversed matters on Peterborough Marines." He goes on to explain how Marines last year went to St. Catharines with a 25-point lead, only to lose the series by four points. Now, St. Kitts will be coming here Saturday toting a 25-point lead in OABA intermediate "A" semi-finals. He says this series rates as the big one for Ontario honors and the Saints may need a big lead against the "better-balanced team, as to height, the Marines" on the latter's floor. We think Marines will win the game but they'll have a terrific fight to overcome that lead.

Girls Pick Officers

Main thing done at the annual Girls' Softball League meeting last e'en was the election of officers. Dot Millar decided not to run for president, and she was named vice-prexy. Bill Bennett returns to head the league after a year's absence from the presidential chair, in which Bill had sat for quite a few years. Marg Selkirk goes back as secretary, with Beverly Reynolds treasurer, and Mendel Braund assistant treasurer. Reports were read and various plans discussed, including that of possibly cutting down on some of the teams and allowing more player releases to make for keener competition. These and other matters were left over for another meeting, as was the entry of teams.

Albert Watkins advises that the bantam Marines will be playing Crowland tomorrow night in Welland, return joust of their OMHA bantam final series. The boys will leave by bus at 10 a.m. and get back about sunup Friday, the game being an 8.30 p.m. affair. The young Outboards are three goals up on the round from the initial struggle on local ice, and they'll be battling bitterly to retain that margin in the other fellows' yard. Apart from Delahaye, out with an injury, the team is at top strength and full of fight and hope as they head into this important tussle. We're wishing the lads lots of luck on St. Patrick's Day.

Sub-Station Explosion

LONDON, Ont., March 16—(CP)—Hydro power was off in a large section of London Tuesday night for periods ranging up to an hour as the result of an explosion and fire in the Cabell street sub-station. V. A. McKillop, Assistant General Manager of the Public Utilities Commission, said that a defective circuit breaker put a short circuit on the heavy copper conductor that carries power to the residential areas.

PCVS Bantams Get Series Over Oshawa

PCVS Bantams are Lake Ontario District COSSA champs following their 25-21 win last night in Oshawa. The round score was a decisive 66-34 total.

Going into the game with a 28-point lead on the round the Peterborough boys stretched the margin to 32 points by two early hoops and a free throw by Dave Langhorne and a field goal by Larry Cunningham. Hart, Oshawa centre, accounted for all three of his team's points as the teams rested at the quarter with the score 7-3.

That four-point game margin was maintained through the rest of the game as first one team would score and then the other. Second quarter scores by Grafstein two, Pammett and Cunningham were matched by Hymen with three and Armstead with one for Oshawa, with the half-time score reading 15-11 for PCVS.

Even Play

Single hoops by Langhorne and Hempstead were balanced by singletons, shot by Hymen and McMullen in the third quarter. Last quarter scores by Langhorne, Pammett and Cunningham matched but not bettered by Hart, Kellar and McMullen preserved the PCVS unbeaten record of six straight in district COSSA play.

Langhorne led all scorers with nine points, Cunningham had six, while Pammett and Grafstein had four for PCVS. For Oshawa Hymen was high man with eight points, Hart had five and McMullen four.

A home-and-home series with McMurrich Playground, Toronto Bantam winners, is a possibility. Otherwise the PCVS Bantams are finished for the season as the OABA Bantam age is now a year younger than the age observed in school basketball. The teams:

PCVS—Langhorne 9, Pammett 4, Hempstead 2, Taylor, Cunningham 6, Boorman, Grafstein 4, Armstrong, Fowler, Gilders — total 25.

Oshawa CVI — Armstead 2, Gummow, Hymen 8, Cole, Hart 5, Masters, Kellar 2, Sutherland, McMullen 4, McIntyre—total 21.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Frank McCool, Toronto Maple Leafs goalie, was named winner of the Calder Trophy as the outstanding rookie of the year in the National Hockey League, four years ago today. Then 26, the Calgary sports writer had turned in four shutouts in 48 games and was the oldest player to win the rookie award up to that time.

Apsley Defeated

APSLEY, March 16 (ENS) Coe Hill hockey team defeated Apsley Aces 4-1 as part of an exhibition double-header here. Despite cold, windy weather, a large crowd attended.

In a minor game, Mark St. of Peterborough defeated the Apsley junior 4-2, Albert Wagner getting both for the home team. Jack Church and Brockwell each scored two of the winners.

Sinclair Gets Kiwanis Cup As Locals Sweep Bonspiel

By HERB MARTIN.

Peterborough rinks made it a grand slam here yesterday when they captured all four events in the two-day annual Kiwanis bonspiel. Jack Sinclair won the Kiwanis Trophy from A. Parnell of Oshawa. Tommy Doughty came through to take the Lord Calvert Cup, Jack Allan captured the Rube Wilson Trophy, and the consolation went to Rufus Payne. All finals were closely contested.

Visiting curlers complimented the local Kiwanis Club, particularly Jack Allan and his committee for doing a fine job from start to finish. The 'spiel drew 18 rinks from various centres, including the winner last year, the Parkhill quartet of Oshawa.

Sinclair's rink came through in spectacular fashion with a shot to win the Kiwanis silverware and a wrist watch for each man. The skip had the last play. With Parkhill well fortified, Sinclair, trying to draw to the four-foot ring to force an extra end, delivered wider and faster than expected. It hit a stone on the outside of the 12-foot ring, shot across to remove Parkhill's shot and lay three shots himself.

Tommy Doughty had to come from behind to win the Calvert Cup. Down one going home, he had a pair of nice shots to finish a well-played game with clever curling seen.

Jack Allan's quartet won the Wilson Trophy by two shots in keen competition, while Rufus Payne had it his way in the keen competition over W. Paisley of Collingwood. The results of finals:

Kiwanis Trophy

Peterborough—B. Myers, G. Hancock, R. Bastable, J. Sinclair, 9.

Oshawa—L. Beaton, G. Campbell, F. Moss, A. Parkhill, 8.

Calvert Trophy

Peterborough—J. Huddard, H. Bamforth, E. McNeill, T. Doughty, 8.

Oshawa—F. Fordham, F. McCallum, W. Brownlee, W. B. White 6.

R. Wilson Trophy

Peterborough—A. Bacon, F. Hollwell, S. Stenson, J. Allan, 11.

Lindsay—C. Watson, W. White, R. Endicott, N. Brown, 9.

Consolation

Peterborough — S. Williamson, Rev. W. Kibblewhite, T. Pridham, R. Payne 10.

Collingwood—J. Somerville, J. Sheffer, E. Brock, W. Paisley, 4.

Lakehurst Winners Haywire Loop Title

LAKEFIELD, March 16 (ENS) —Lakehurst defeated Lakefield 5-4 here last night in the deciding game of their final series to win the championship of the Haywire Hockey League, two games to one. It was a rugged, hard-fought fray, close all through, with the visitors just pulling it out by a single marker. There were 14 penalties handed out, fairly evenly divided in the hot going.

Lakehurst had a 4-3 margin the first period on three goals by Westlake and one by G. Shearer, as Millage, Chittick and Campbell counted for the homesters, Brown aiding on one. After a scoreless second stanza, Chittick tied it up from Brown, but Hunt sank the winner a little later. The teams:

Lakehurst: Goal, Barr; defence, Fawcett and Calvert centre, Hunt; wings, D. Shearer and Westlake; alternates, Barcroft, Easson, G. Shearer, J. Shearer, Wilson, Cummings and Coons.

Lakefield: Goal, Allan; defence, Campbell and Calberry; centre, Chittick; wings, Millage and Brown; alternates, Hill, Knox, Loucks, Loyst, Montgomery, Sabatino and Twist.

Referee, R. Bell; linesman, T. Junkin.

Additional Sports On Pages 7, 8.

AT THE BROCK TONIGHT —Billy Stack, shown above, who opens tonight's mat card at the Brock Arena meeting Mike (Prince) Mahalakis. In the semi-final Earl McCready has agreed to take on Abe Yourist. Chief interest is of course in the main bout with Sliding Billy Hanson attempting to defeat and de-hood the Masked Marvel. If the Marvel is unmasked tonight it will be the second time in two months for the mystery man. Whether the masked man is slipping remains up to Hanson to prove. It should be a lively match.

Bennett Prexy Of Girls Softball Loop

Bill Bennett was elected President of the Girls' Softball League for 1949 at the annual meeting last night in the YMCA. He succeeds Dot Millar, who did not stand for re-election, and returns to an office he held for a number of years. Dot Millar was chosen vice-president, Marg Selkirk was returned as secretary, Beverly Reynolds was elected treasurer, and Mendel Braund named assistant treasurer.

Reports were read and a bank balance of $355 shown. A claim for injuries was presented by one team. Several other matters came up for discussion, including rule changes, the streamlining of the league, release of players, holidays affecting schedules, and division of playdown gates. These and other matters were left over to another meeting when the new executive will all be on hand and an idea of the number of prospective entries can be had.

Rookie Helps Leafs Reach Playoff Spot

TORONTO, March 16—(CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs have a chance to prove for the third straight season they are the world's best hockey club—thanks to a curly-headed rookie who joined the team when it was finding the going tough.

Things became so bad for the Leafs in the National League race last December that managing director Conn Smythe dipped into his amateur reserves. He brought up several players from Toronto Marlboros Seniors but only one held on in professional company —left winger Ray Timgren.

After two successive Stanley Cup triumphs, the Leafs flirted with the league basement much of the season.. Now that they have clinched one of the four playoff spots, Smythe believes it was rookie Ray who supplied the magic.

May Get Award

Timgren supporters are touting the 20-year-old blonde for the Calder award at NHL prize rookie. His chief rival appears to be Allan Stanley of Timmins, the young defenceman the tail-end New York Rangers hoped would spark them into the playoff circle.

Stanley went to New York in a deal with Providence Reds of the American League which cost Rangers $70,000 in cash and players. Timgren joined pro ranks unheralded and until after his third game, he didn't know he'd be offered a contract.

"Man for man, I wouldn't trade Timgren for Stanley," said Smythe.

But the chief delight of the Toronto camp is not what Timgren has done on his own account but the inspiration he has provided for two others players — Max Bentley and Joe Klukay.

Flyers Down Hershey 4-1

By the Canadian Press.

St. Louis Flyers increased their chances of winning the championship of the Western Devision of the American Hockey League Tuesday night when they downed Hershey Bears 4-1 before 6,196 fans at St. Louis.

Their victory enabled the Flyers to increase their lead to three points over the idle Cleveland Barons and Indianapolis Capitals.

Arnie Kullman scored for the Bears late in the first period for the game's first tally, but Ernie Trigg, of the Flyers put things back on an even keel with a goal a minute and a half later. Paul Gladu, Bill McComb and Hec Pozzo completed the Flyers' scoring. Gladu notched his goal in the second frame and the others in the final period.

Before the game, Gladu, McComb and Pozzo were given trophies for scoring 100 or more goals in AHL competition.

In the other game of the night, New Haven Ramblers put on a five-goal scoring spree in the third period to defeat the luckless Washington Lions 8-4 in their final game of the season before 720 fans at Washington. The Lions finished last in the Eastern Division.

Square Dancing Captures Hollywood Stars

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, March 16 (AP) —Midweek medley: some sidelights on the movie news.

The movie moguls are in a title rut. They seem to be running out of new and different names for their pictures with the result that titles are beginning to sound the same. Greatest trend seems to be the use of "Story," as in "The Jolson Story." The Following "story" titles have been announced:

The Western, Associated Press, Washington, Miami, Miami Beach, East Side, Far East, Broadway, Bail Bond, Denver Mint, O'Dyer, West Point, Big Time and San Francisco.

Maybe someone can film the life of William Wetmore story, United States poet and sculptor. Call it "The Story Story," natch.

Notes and Stuff

The town is talking about the talent ques of Warner Bros. In the last two weeks, the studio has signed John Wayne, Randolph Scott, Kirk Douglas, John Garfield, and Jimmy Cagney and is reportedly angling Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Burt Lancaster. . .

Hollywood is going square dance crazy. Film famous are do-si-do-ing all over town.

Paul Henreid was moaning about the troubles of being a producer in these pinched-money times I suggested why not be satisfied with being an actor and skip producing. "A good question," he answered. "The answer is that an actor finds a really worth-while picture he wants to do only once in about five years. I thought being a producer might help me find it." He's still looking for another "Now, Voyager."

OHA CHECK PLAYERS

Ontario Hockey Association officials are checking the eligibility of three players of Galt Rockets now playing in other leagues, it was learned Tuesday night at Galt. Defenceman Pete Tkachuk now is playing with Montreal Nationale juniors while Ken Green and George Ford are with Detroit's International League team at Windsor. Officials also are checking Lorne Ferguson of Guelph Biltmores who joined New York Rovers of the Quebec Senior Hockey League.

All players joined their respective clubs when the Biltmores and the Rockets finished out of the playoffs.

Marmora Boys Capture Semi-Final Go

MARMORA, March 16—(ENS)—Marmora midgets, by virtue of their win over Sundridge by the score of 8-4 on the home rink on Tuesday evening thereby acquiring a lead of five goals in the two-game series, pass into the finals to meet Fergus. Seven hundred fans were on hand to witness a keen game between the semi-finalists, the result of which was left in doubt until the last 10 minutes.

For Sundridge, McCreary who got two goals, stood out for consistent play. Ibbotson, Steele, Stack and Campbell also brought off interesting plays for a team that was unfortunate in not getting more goals. Darrah and Trumble on the Marmora defence and Brown, Nicholson and Jones were conspicuous for the winners. Both goalies shaped well, Drummond getting injured in the third period.

Teams:

Sundridge—Goal, Smith; defence, Manella, Purdon; centre, McCreary; wings, Stack, Christee; alternates, Ibbotson, Steele, McPherson, Campbell, McCrae, Percival, Hughes.

Marmora—Goal, Brown; defence, Darrah, Trumble; centre, Brooks; wings, Brown, Nicholson; alternates, Mantle, Mumby, Jones, Paranuik, Hickey, Meehan, Walker, McNally.

Referee, P. Everett, Belleville; linesman, W. Holway, Belleville.

Summary:

First Period

Marmora—Meehan (Jones, Nicholson) 5:40
Sundridge—McCreary (Ibbotson) 12:50
Sundridge—Steele 17:00
Penalty—Steele.

Second Period

Marmora—Jones (Trumble) 1:53
Marmora—Mantle (Darrah) 5:04
Marmora—Nicholson 12:26
Marmora—Mumby (Brooks) 18:20
Penalties — Trumble, Mantle, Campbell.

Third Period

Marmora—Jones (Trumble) 3:12
Sundridge—McCreary (Ibbotson Campbell) ... 3:25
Sundridge—Ibbotson 11:55
Marmora—Trumble 17:10
Marmora—Trumble (Meehan, Jones) 19:10
Penalties—Steel (2), Trumble (2), Darrah (2), Purdon.

Bull Gored To Death

CORTLAND, NY, March 16 — (AP)—"Macdonald's High-Time," a seven-year-old Guernsey bull valued at $50,000, was killed in a fight with another bull on James Macdonald's farm here, Macdonald said Tuesday. The valuable bull's head apparently became entangled in a fence and another bull proceeded to gore the helpless animal to death.

Former Mayor Dies

SAINT JOHN, NB, March 16—(CP)—James D. McKenna, former Mayor of Saint John, died here today. A former Liberal member of the House of Commons for Royal, he was also a former president of the New Brunswick Publishing Company, publishers of the Telegraph-Journal, the Times-Globe and the Maritime Farmer.

WOLF HUNTING MAYOR—Spurred by loss of farm animals during the past two years, residents of St. Hilaire, Que., organized a wolf hunt to clean up a band of the grey animals roaming the district. One of the successful hunters was Mayor Leopold Boley who is shown holding on his shoulders the animal he shot.

G. A. Brethen Receives Diploma For Contribution To Agriculture

Forty years of outstanding service to agriculture contributed by George A. Brethen, of Norwood, were given public recognition at Tuesday's luncheon of the Peterborough County Federation of Agriculture in the Empress Hotel when Mr. Brethen, who is President of the Norwood Agriculture Society, was presented with an "Agricultural Service Diploma". The presentation was made by Charles Moore, of Smith Township, on behalf of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society.

Mr. Moore paid tribute to Mr. Brethen's "outstanding contribution" to agriculture, particularly in the realms of breeding purebred Holstein stock and poultry. Mr. Brethen was one of the first breeders in Peterborough county to start R. O. P. work, and records that he made at that time still stand, said Mr. Moore.

Mr. Moore also paid tribute to Mr. Brethen's notable service to the life of his church and community.

The wording on the diploma reads as follows:—"An Agriculture Service Diploma has been awarded by the East Peterborough Agricultural Society to G. A. Brethen for meritorious service to agriculture. "It is signed by J. J. Stewart, vice-president, and John Marks, secretary.

IS HONORED—G. A. Brethen, president of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society, Norwood, was honored in recognition of forty years' "meritorious service to agriculture" at yesterday's closing luncheon of the winter season of the Peterborough County Agricultural Federation when he was presented with an "Agricultural Service Diploma" by Charles Moore on behalf of the Norwood Organization.

Bruins Crush Rangers 4-2 In 8th Straight Defeat

By VIC MORRIS, JR.,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

The attention of the National Hockey League is to-day focussed in the direction of Montreal Canadiens and Boston Bruins who are engaged in a bitter battle for second-place in the final standing.

Toronto Maple Leafs, who also had their sights trained for the runner-up spot, were knocked out of the running Tuesday night when the Bruins tightened their hold on the second spot by trouncing the lowly New York Rangers 4-2. With only three games remaining before the Stanley Cup drive, Leafs are seven points back of the Bruins.

However, they can still keep their hopes alive for a third place finish although their chances of dislodging the Montrealers from that spot is a 100-to-1 shot. Leafs are four points back of Canadiens.

Dampens Hope

The Boston victory dampened Montreal hopes for a second-place finish, but the Montrealers can still reach their objective if they capture their next three games and the Bruins lose one of their two remaining games.

The smallest crowd of the season turned out to watch the listless Blueshirts play the Bruins. It was the eighth straight defeat Rangers have suffered at the hands of Boston this season.

Five of the game's six goals came within five minutes of the brisk first period.

To-night Rangers clash at Detroit in a contest that has no bearing on the standing. But the Chicago-Bruin affair at Boston means plenty to both teams. Chicago will be shooting for a win to widen the three-point gap that separates them from the last-place Rangers, while Boston will be out to consolidate their hold on second place.

EXETER, Devon, England, March 16—(AP)—A young hospital technician said Tuesday he has invented a surgical knife which immediately puts back into the veins the blood lost by a patient during an operation. The inventor is W. G. D. Gregory, a sick-bay attendant in the Royal Navy during the war and now an operating-room technician at Exeter City hospital.

Fact-Finding Board

WASHINGTON, March 16 — (AP)—The National Mediation Board said Tuesday night President Truman has signed an order calling for a fact-finding board in the strike of Wabash railroad workers. The action calls for a 60-day delay of the work stoppage. Secretary Robert Cole of the Board said the agency is immediately advising parties to the dispute of the President's action and asking the men to return.

Hugh Dewart Fenelon Boy Dies In New York City, Headed The Mohican Stores

Hugh Dewart, president and general manager of Mohican Stores, Inc., New York city, who died at his home there Sunday, was a first cousin of Col. John A. Dewart and J. H. Dewart of Peterborough and W. H. Dewart, Indian River.

Through the family of his mother he was also related to Mr. H. H. Graham and Dr. S. Jethrow Graham of this city.

Mr. Dewart was born in Fenelon Falls 73 years ago, a son of William Dewart and the former Jessie Graham. The Dewart and Graham families were among the early settlers of this county. Branches of them eventually moved on into the Fenelon Falls area, and out of their union emerged a Dewart family which achieved prominence in newspaper and merchandising spheres in New York. One of its sons was the late William T. Dewart, publisher-president of the New York Sun, business associate of the late Frank Munsey of publishing fame in both the magazine and daily fields, and an uncle of Thomas E. Dewart, now president and publisher of the Sun and chairman of the board of Mohican Stores.

First of the Dewarts to arrive in this country was John, a pioneer of Scottish descent, who had lived in Ireland before coming to Canada. Two of his children were the brothers John and William. The Dewart family lived for a time in Otonabee township and then obtained a farmstead in Dummer.

John Dewart was the father of Col. J. A. Dewart, who is thereby John III. and his brothers, J. H. and W. H.

Family Moved to Rochester

William Dewart had qualified as a school teacher. His last appointment was to a school at Fenlon Falls, for it was there that he deserted pedagogy for trade as proprietor of a general store. And it was there that he met and married Jessie Graham. When Hugh Dewart was three years old, his family moved to Rochester, N. Y., one of the U. S. border cities that attracted thousands of young Canadians, 75 and 80 years ago, and continuously ever since.

Rochester became the home of the William Dewart family. It was there their children spent their youth. Williams' three sons were Robert, William T. and Hugh. The story of their careers is not available, but it is related that William T. Dewart became a bookeeper with the Munsey firm. Fifty years ago Frank Munsey was becoming a leader among the magazine publishers of the United States, and Munsey's Magazine was on every newsstand in Canada and the United States.

William Dewart was about 28 years of age when he was promoted to the general managership of the company, and when Frank Munsey died it was Dewart who succeeded him as head of the New York Sun. The magazine disappeared years ago with many others that fell by the wayside of competition a generation or so ago.

Chain Grocery Stores

Mohican Stores, Inc., first chain of grocery stores in the United States, was financed and founded by Munsey interests. It may have been inspired by William T. Dewart as an influence of his father's experience born of his Fenlon Falls enterprise.

The obituary of Hugh Dewart in Monday's New York Times recalls that he went from Rochester to New York in 1901 to take a position with the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company. Seven years later he joined the Mohican stores organization, finally becoming head of the company of which at his death he was president and general manager.

Mr. Dewart belonged to the Canadian Society of New York, the Canadian Club and the Montclair Golf Club. His survivors in addition to his widow, include a sister, Mrs. Henry Drury of Doylestown, Pa., and a nephew, Thomas W. Dewart, president and publisher of the New York Sun had recently returned from Palm Beach, Fla. with his wife to their residence in the Hotel Croydon Eighty-Sixth Street. The funeral service will be Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the Universal Chapel, New York. Burial will take place in Mount Hope Cemetery, N. Y.

The pioneer of the Graham family had come into this part of Ontario by way of Port Hope. That was Robert Graham, great grandfather of Dr. Jethro Graham and H. H. Graham of this city. He took up land on the third line of Smith, found it unsatisfactory and moved to the fourth, on the south shore of Chemong Lake. It was finally the home of the late Thomas H. Graham who died a few months ago.

Years later, the Graham family moved north to Fenelon Falls. Their home was Blythe Farm in Sturgeon Lake. And so it came about that Jessie Graham met and married Hugh Dewart.

Jessie Graham was a daughter of the Robert Graham who came in 1825 a young pioneer farmer to Smith township.

Confederation Touchy Thing In Newfoundland

By JOE MacSWEEN

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., March 16—(CP)—March came in like a lion along the northern Atlantic seaboard and the chances are that in Newfoundland it will go out the same way. Politically speaking, that is.

Although the majority of Newfoundlanders balloted for confederation in a referendum, there still is a strong and vocal faction that bucks union with Canada.

Perhaps nowhere is this better demonstrated than on a trip along the island's bumpy, 550-mile railway, which passes such important centres as Corner Brook and Grand Falls. Some passengers looked forward to the March 31 date for consumation of union as a sort of liberation day. Others sneered at confederation as a repugnant thing.

At intervals of about half an hour during the 30-hour trip a new rumor went the rounds. One of these said a Canadian official was aboard who would make plans for immediate widening of the narrow gauge Newfoundland railway.

Minor Jobs

Actually, there were several technical employees abroad from Canadian National Railways and Canadian National Telegraphs. They said their mission was of a comparatively minor nature.

A CBC official also boarded the train at Port Aux Basques and it was learned he was working on a high-frequency hook-up with Sydney, N. S.

There was some slight argument between Canadians and Newfoundlanders but toward the end of the trip practically all differences were resolved.

Hotels in this capital are crowded to an extent reminiscent of wartime days—mostly with Canadian civil servants.

In the hotels, confederation talk is restrained. B. H. Holland and New York, here on business, expressed the prevailing attitude when he said:

"I'm not telling anybody what I think. I find it's a touchy subject."

ONLY WOMAN BUYER at Tuesday's auction of pure-bred beef bulls in the Coliseum, Toronto, was Miss Evelyn Laughlin of Kinburn in the Ottawa Valley. She bought the Hereford bull she is holding, Maplewood Domino Lad 53rd, from Leeson Brothers, Thamesville, for $550.

Archbishop Blesses Trenton Missionary

MARMORA, March 16—(ENS)—A missionary received the episcopal blessing prior to her departure to Japan and another member of the church was admitted as a lay reader at St. George's Anglican Church, Trenton on Sunday at a service in which the Archbishop of Ontario took part.

The missionary was Miss Cellia Benns, graduate nurse from Peterborough Civic Hospital, who is going to Japan as a missionary nurse and the lay reader was W. W. Davenport.

Miss Benns will leave Saturday for Vancouver on the first part of her journey to New Life Sanitorium, at Obuse, Japan.

Thirty-five people received the laying on of hands and two others were admitted into membership of the church.

Mrs. Elliott Hostess To Norwood WMS

NORWOOD, March 16 (ENS)—The March meeting of the Norwood United Church WMS was held on Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. F. Elliott. The president, Mrs. Ed Scott, conducted the business session. The roll call was answered with a verse of scripture, containing the word "peace."

A bazaar and afternoon tea were planned for Saturday, May 14.

The ladies were asked to bring all articles for the bale to the next meeting.

Mrs. G. A. Brethen gave a splendid reading on temperance, "More Drunks Drinking More," and the question was asked "Is this a good motto for our Canadian youth?"

It was decided to have two missionaries for prayer: Miss Dorothy Pearson and Miss Schaufler.

Mrs. A. E. Cleland and her group were in charge of the program which consisted of several hymns, a solo by Mrs. Rork Ferguson, Miss Edith Burgess read the 46th Psalm, and Mrs. Cleland read part of a letter from Miss Greta Clark. Six ladies led in sentence prayer, and Mrs. R. K. Telford sang a solo. The last chapter in the study book was taken by Mrs. S. S. Breckon. Mrs. Cleland expressed the thanks to the hostess and those taking part in the program.

After the Mizpah benediction, a lovely lunch was served by the ladies of the group in charge.

WMS Plans 'Open' Meeting At Easter

DARTFORD, March 16 (ENS)—Women's Misionary Society decided last week to open the Easter meeting in the church to the entire community, and a guest speaker is being invited by Rev. H. G. Lester and Mrs. A. McCracken, the president. The World's Day of Prayer program was used at last week's meeting, with Mrs. McCracken leading. Mr. Lester offered player for China. Mrs. Stuart Atkinson had charge of the study book. Mrs. Percy Honey, program convener, announced readings by Mesdames Charles Honey, Percy Honey, and Miss Muriel Darling, and a solo by Mrs. Hayden Atkinson.

Nixon Trying To Reduce Cabinet Salaries

TORONTO, March 16—(CP)—H. C. Nixon (L-Brant) said Tuesday in the Ontario Legislature he intends to introduce a motion to reduce salaries of cabinet ministers from $10,000 to $8,000.

Mr. Nixon said that salaries, recently restored to $10,000 after being voluntarily reduced $2,000 under the administration of Liberal premier Mitchel Hepburn, were listed in the estimates as "statutory" amount—and as such were not to be altered. His motion would test this classification.

G. H. Challies, minister responsible for Hydro "persists in his attitude of trying to put responsibility for the Hydro-shortage on the backs of the Liberal government," Mr. Nixon said.

"Everybody knows who is responsible."

Former Premier Drew had publicly admitted that his government had failed to anticipate industrial expansion, he continued. He quoted Hydro chairman Robert H. Saunders as having said he expected an industrial "slump" after the war.

Reconstruction Minister Howe had given top priority to the Des Joachims Hydro development on the Upper Ottawa River for building material," Mr. Nixon said.

"The question of priorities never did nor should have entered the picture."

The responsibility for the shortage rested "squarely on the shoulders of the Drew and Kennedy governments," he said.

4 Children Burned

MIDDLE RIVER, Minn., March 16—(AP)—Four youngsters died Tuesday when fire swept their home in sub-zero weather. They were children of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Sloan, Karlene, one; Karen, two; Sammy, five, and Riley, Jr., six.

Three Holdup Men Nabbed By Police

MONTREAL, March 16—(CP)—Three men believed connected with a $25,000 holdup Friday night at the warehouse of a Montreal tobacco wholesaler, were arrested Tuesday and Monday night it was announced by Montreal police.

Police said the three are Jacques Gouin, 23, Jacques Caporal, 26, and George Aird, alias Cote, 26.

Ovila Larose, 26, a fourth suspect in the gang was killed by police Friday night after the holdup when trapped in a backyard.

Kennedy Is Ill

TORONTO, March 16—(CP)—Premier Kennedy of Ontario has been ordered to bed for two days by his doctor because of a cold.

He had intended going to Brockville to attend the funeral of Walter B. Reynolds, Progressive Conservative member of the Legislature for Leeds.

Suggest Moving Totlot In Inverlea Park

Parks Committee of the City Council in a letter from the city clerk, recommended to the Recreation Commission that the Totlot in Inverlea Park be moved. The letter was read at the monthly meeting of the Recreation Commission Tuesday night. The committee also said the Parks Department would move the lot if the Kinsman Club paid for the work.

A. W. Butcher, superintendent of the Parks' Department, said the lot is a traffic hazard and at the same time spoils the look of the park. He explained that the Parks' Department objected to the site of the lot when the posts were being put in. He added the children rush out from either end to the street. He suggested it be moved about half way down in the park.

On a question from R. J. Bolton, Jack Dane Recretaion Director, replied that it was only a matter of opinion if the totlot was an eyesore or not. He said the lot was built for the youngsters to play in and also to act as a barrier between the park and the road. He added if the totlot were placed in the centre of the park it would spoil the park for other games. The people on Dennistoun Avenue, he said, would have their view cut off.

A committee of Gordon Armstrong, Hurrell Dodds, and a member of the Kinsmen Club, will investigate the situation and report at the next meeting.

In his report on the Music and Drama committee, Quirt McKinney suggested that the Commission hold a drama festival, either in the spring or fall. The number of dramatic groups in the churches presenting plays urged him to make the suggestion.

Mr. McKinney was asked to further report at next meeting.

Postpone Carnival.

In making his report on the Skating Carnival, Mr. Dane said he wrote to the Board of Directors of the Arena and had yet to no reply. Richard Ouimet said if the cold weather continued there would be nights available. Thursday of this week was one. Members thought Thursday too early to produce a good program. Soft ice and not enough time forced the members to postpone the carnival.

A letter from the Kinsmen club suggested a hard surface area in Inverlea Park for court games, such as tennis. Mr. Butcher said he has had many requests from boys and girls in the north-end for such facilities. He added that Nicholls Park is used for about 50 picnics during the summer. Riverside was mentioned as possible court area for tennis. The Kinsmen Club suggested a spray-type swimming pool as an alternative. The letter will be turned over to the committee going up to the park to investigate the totlot.

SKATE TONIGHT

Hockey games which were scheduled for the Civic Arena tonight have been called off. Richard Ouimet, manager of the rink, said there will be skating for the public.

RETIRED ORGANIST DIES — Richard J. Devey, who devoted his life to music and was for many years organist and choirmaster of St. John's Anglican Church, died in Civic Hospital on Tuesday evening.

Bar Association Advocates Full-Time Law Course

Abolition of the present concurrent system of legal training and the substitution of a full-time course at Osgoode Hall, combining academic work and clinical study groups, was advocated on Tuesday night by the Peterborough Law Association.

This is the local sequel to the dispute which has arisen in Ontario legal circles since the Law Society benchers in January ordered more law office training for students.

Heading the dissent from this recommendation of the benchers was Dr. Cecil A. Wright, former dean of Osgoode Hall and since appointed head of the University of Toronto School of Law.

Members of the Peterborough Law Association were asked to attend a special meeting to draw up a brief on the subject at the request of the Law Society of Upper Canada. It will now be submitted to the Society.

Recommendations Made

There are two main points stressed by the brief:

One, that the concurrent system be abandoned (i. e. the present system whereby the student attends lectures part of the day and works in a law office for the remaining portion.)

Two, that a full-time course at Osgoode Hall be substituted; and it is to be divided between academic work and clinical study groups. The study groups are to be under the tutorship of practising lawyers. Length of the course is to be determined by the benchers and followed by a year in the office of a practising solicitor. The student will be articled to the solicitor.

It was felt by members of the Peterborough Association that until the student has completed his course he does not derive sufficient value from practical work in a law office.

The only bencher in Peterborough is F. D. Kerr, K.C., of the legal firm of Kerr, McElderry, Howell and Bradshaw.

Ralph Standish, president of the Peterborough Law Association, was in the chair.

Suggests Commission To Study Pollution

TORONTO, March 16—(CP)—Lands Minister Scott Tuesday came up with a suggestion for another royal commission—one to look into ways and means of preventing pollution in Ontario lakes and rivers.

His suggestion followed complaints before the Fish and Game commission.

V. B. Sutton of the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters told the commission that in Lindsay "the town's cement sewers were being eaten away by acid wastes... If the waste ate away cement sewers, what is it doing to fish?"

Mr. Scott said: "There are several kinds of pollution, both in air and water. I think there should be a commission set up to inquire into ways and means of preventing pollution, either from sulphur fumes in the air which kills trees, or acid wastes in streams which kill fish."

Highlanders Plan Reunion June 11-12

It was announced today that the second annual re-union of the S. D. and G. Highlanders will be held in Peterborough on June 11 and 12. Plans are already well advanced for the reunion and Major Archie Hamilton is head of a strong local committee. The S. D. and G. Highlanders were Military District No. 3's infantry contribution to the Third Division. Headquarters company was recruited in Peterborough with the other companies coming from the Kingston, Brockville and Cornwall areas.

Utilities Pay CGE $2,905 For Extra Power

Utilities Commission directed Tuesday that a cheque for $2,905.88 be sent to Canadian General Electric Co. "for the extra cost of power generated by their steam turbine for use during the power shortage."

Peterborough escaped the industrial disruption which bothered so many communities of the province during the power shortage and the dark months at the end of the year. There was no loss of employment or of earnings, although there was a time shift at some of the plants for a while, nor was there any resort to candles and coal-oil for light on the domestic front.

That was accomplished by drawing upon two local sources of electric power after the Hydro had applied and reduced municipal quotas. Quaker Oats Co. was one of those sources; their power dam at the foot of London St.; and CGE the other.

The CGE steam turbine, generating electricity, helped to keep Peterborough in the good graces of the Hydro. There was no pulling of switches. Utilities Commission believed that the people of Peterborough would appreciate the effort to maintain the city's power service so near the normal as possible in the Hydro's emergency.

"Right of way" over the west end of Weller St. for a power line to Civic Hospital was mentioned.

An intimation of recent suggestion is that Mr. Hugh Stewart had retained an unopened section of the extension of the street across land north of the hospital that used to be his hay field. The commission asked Howard Clegg, secretary, to write the Council for assurance of an open way along Weller to the hospital power house.

Ireland's Saint Picked Shamrock To Prove Sermon

Many are the legends surrounding the hallowed name of St. Patrick that come to mind as Irish men the world around pay tribute to him tomorrow.

But beloved and revered as he is by all the people and descendants of the Emerald Isle, he was not himself born in Ireland. And his day, so firmly fixed as March 17, is by tradition a compromise that settled a lengthy Irish argument.

When it came to fixing upon a day to honor the saint, one faction in old Erin claimed he had died on March 8 and another claimed March 9. The two numbers were finally added together and the date was set for the rest of time.

Tradition sets his birthplace in Wales about 389. He came to Ireland as prisoner, carried off at the age of 16 by a band of Irish marauders, who raided Britain under the Irish king, Niall Noigiallach.

For six years he was a swineherd in Antrim before he escaped to France in a vessel carrying Irish wolf-dogs for export. It was in France that prepared for his life in the church. He was consecrated in 432 and sent by Pope Celestine to combat heresy in Ireland.

Christian Crusader

Here he came into opposition with the son of the king who had kidnapped him, and fought the paganism of the Druids. He is said to have overthrown a famous idol in the plains of County Cavan.

It was St. Patrick who made the shamrock Ireland' emblem. Challenged during a speech at Tara as to the mystery of the Trinity, he stooped to earth and picked a shamrock, holding it up to prove the possibility of three in one and one in three.

There are no snakes in Ireland because according to legend St. Patrick drove them out. Today Ireland has none, though reptiles are found in Scotland and England.

He is credited with having founded 365 churches and baptized with his own hand some 12,000 people in Ireland. He was buried in Abbey Saul in County Down, in 461.

Whatever the truth may be, it is certain that St. Patrick was both intensely spiritual and strong in action. The enthusiasm that carried him through all difficulties as a missionary priest and bishop has been so infectious that after centuries his memory is as green as the shamrock that all good Irishmen will wear on the 1,488th celebration of his day.

Richard J. Devey Choirmaster, Organist Dies

Richard J. Devey, retired organist and choir director, died at Civic Hospital at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday of a heart attack with which he was stricken early the same morning. He was 82 years old Christmas day and still very active. Only last Sunday he was visiting old friends down town.

Mr. Devey had devoted his life to music, and for 59 years he had been in charge of choirs in Enngland and Canada. In 1896 he was appointed organist of a parish church in Northamptonshire, Eng., followed by 20 years at the organ at St. John's Anglican Church in Peterborough, and 17 years organist of the Anglican Church in Perth. He retired in 1945 and returned to Peterborough.

Mrs. Devey predeceased him in 1941. He is survived by two sons, Harold J. of Peterborough and Cyril H. R. of Toronto. There are five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Burial will be at the Memorial Cemetery in Perth on Friday, in the family plot. A short service will be held on Thursday at eight p.m. at Comstock's Funeral Parlours.

Prominent Mason

Mr. Devey was prominent in Masonic circles and was a Past Master of the Peterborough Lodge.

He came to Canada in 1903, first going to Woodstock where he took a course in organ building. From there he went to Winchester as organist of the Presbyterian church. He was appointed organist and choirmaster of St. John's Church here in 1906, when Canon Davidson was rector and for the next 24 years was a popular and prominent member of Peterborough society.

The musical interests of Mr. Devey extended beyond his church work into the theatre and the presentation of oratorios and operettas, particularly with memorable success in the music of Gilbert and Sullivan, in which he had been schooled in the Old Country. Assisted by his wife, who predeceased him some years ago, Mr. Devey organized, trained and directed some of the smoothest amateur productions ever seen in Peterborough. Most noteworthy was the presentation of "The Geisha" in the Earl Grey trophy competition at the Royal Alexandra Theatre in Toronto in the spring of 1910, thirty-nine years ago next month.

Governor Came To City

The Peterborough group were accompanied by their own orchestra, rehearsed in the afternoon in Toronto, but had time for only their first act that night. The Governor-General, Earl Grey, was delayed in his arrival at the theatre. However, the Peterborough production of The Geisha pleased him so much that he suggested coming to Peterborough for the entire performance. The resulting visit of His Excellency to Peterborough was regarded as a "command performance". The old Grand Opera House was packed, and the Devey players excelled all their previous achievements.

Some of the members of The Geisha cast were: Mr. George Chandler, Miss Lavina Hallihan, the late Wm. McLaren, Ernie Dalton, Nat Greenhalgh, Mrs. Firth, Mrs. Wm. Greenslade, Mrs. Devey, Miss Leila Beach, Harold Lee.

Mrs. Dorothy Allan Park sang the lead in the presentation of "Judas Maccabeus" at another time. One of the most tuneful of all the Devey theatricals was "San Toy" by local singers who combined splendid voices with stage ability. Other successes were "A Greek Slave", "Utopia Limited", "The Mikado", to mention those which stand out in memories.

Mr. and Mrs. Devey will always be gratefully remembered by the citizens whom they so acceptably entertained at a time when the local theatre was at the height of its glory, with long seasons of visiting professional companies, and motion pictures were feeble and infrequent competition.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

Y's Men's Club will celebrate its 22nd birthday at the South Beach Hotel Thursday night. Guest speaker for the occasion will be Basil Tippet of Toronto. Mr. Tippet has just completed a trip around the world. He is well informed about YMCA work throughout the world and the World Youth Fund.

Not Goons and Gangsters Says Union Representative As He Counters UE Charges

Appearing before the Allied Labor Council by invitation on Tuesday night, M. J. Fenwick, district representative of the United Steelworkers of America, reiterated two charges he had previously made: that the Council is dominated by the UE, and that it has no official status in the labor movement.

A controversy has continued between the Steelworkers' representative and the Council since October, when the latter went on record as giving full support to the UE in its attempt to organize the Outboard Marine Co. The USWA is also trying to become the bargaining agent.

Later Mr. Fenwick made these two statements regarding the Council, and at the last meeting, March 1, it was decided that he should be extended an invitation to appear before it on Tuesday and present his point of view.

Mr. Fenwick told the large number of delegates assembled, "Your letter was pretty vague and I don't know just what you expect of me. I can't confine myself to just these two points."

"If you are not dominated by the U.E. show it by treating every organization coming into town as an equal," he said.

He claimed that Alfred Barber, president, had attacked him in a press statement before he had a chance to introduce himself. Several times during his address to the delegates he complained that the Council had made up its mind before listening to the Steelworkers' side of the story in the bitter UE-USWA battle at the Outboard plant.

Says Council No Status

The Steelworker representative said that he did not wish to disparage the Council, but "as it is not affiliated with the TCL or CCL it has no official status in labor movements."

In Oshawa, he said, the Labor Council was "directly chartered by the CCL," and he compared it to the Peterborough counterpart which he described as "responsible to no one."

"We have been accused of being goons, gangsters and raiders—all without proof. The UE has issued statement after statement without proof," said Mr. Fenwick. He claimed that the UE apparently worked on the theory "if you throw enough mud some of it will stick."

He rejected President Barber's contention that the fields for organization work had already been laid out by the unions in Peterborough. "Matters of jurisdiction can only be laid out by the CCL," he stated, outlining the Steelworker point of view.

To Organize Other Plants

Mr. Fenwick stated he had been told that the UE dropped the campaign to organize Westclox and De Laval a couple of years ago, and intimated that the Steelworkers would try to organize at those two plants.

He then asked the UE to withdraw from Outboard, Westclox and De Laval, "and we'll see what we can do there."

Before sitting down he urged the ALC to affiliate with either the CCL or TLC, and then he informed the delegates that the CCL hoped to open an office in Peterborough and appoint an organizer for the city.

Phil Knibbs, UE district representative, counter-attacked by saying that the Council is doing "excellent work in organizing unorganized workers."

"As far as the workers of Peterborough are concerned the Council has a very definite status," said Mr. Knibbs. "It has always been a spokesman for labor. We have delegates from both the CCL and AFL as well as bona fide independent unions."

Council Has Local Responsibility

"We are accused of being not responsible, but we are responsible—to our local unions. Just because we haven't a Mosher or Bengough to boss us doesn't mean we aren't responsible."

He denied that any UE delegate had subordinated his union activities because of political allegiance, and called on any member present to deny his statement.

Mr. Knibbs made a quick review of the Outboard Marine situation and stated "the Outboard Marine workers union is a company union and just about every one of its leaders has gone up the ladder and become a boss."

Still referring to the Outboard Marine plant, he said: "I'm not talking against the Steelworkers union—I once belonged to it myself—but against some of the leaders. What do people think when they see two CIO unions fighting for this plant?"

"Colossal Gall"

He described Mr. Fenwick's suggestion that the Peterborough Allied Labor Council affiliate with either the TLC or CCL as "colossal gall," and stated that in order to maintain local unity every president had been forced to fight against outside affiliation since the Council's inception.

Replying to Mr. Knibbs, the Steelworker representative said: "Since when have Communists been immune to criticism. A Communist can assassinate your character and say anything about you, but if you strike back at him you are a red-baiter."

He freely admitted that he was a former Communist and at one time worked on the Clarion, predecessor of the Tribune.

"Unions are transmission belts for the policy of the party," stated Mr. Fenwick. "I know, because when I broke with them in 1939 a messenger was sent back to Oshawa asking me to see Alderman Norman Freed."

He quoted Freed as telling him: "We do not organize unions for the sake of organizing them, but so we can put over party policy." He warned that Tim Buck will do the same as the European Communist leaders, who are reported to have said they would side with the Soviet in the event of war.

"Buck's afraid," shouted one member.

On a motion by two local 293 UPWA delegates, William Beggs and William Triggs, it was agreed that discussion on the matter should be indefinitely postponed.

The following resolution was moved by Mr. Knibbs: "Having pledged its full support to the UE workers in their campaign to bring the workers of Outboard Marine into the trade union movement, and having reason to feel that this support was justified and proper, this Council therefore calls upon the USWA to recognize with us the UE organization already existing in Outboard Marine and to withdraw and desist from further interference in the campaign of a member union to organize the unorganized workers of Peterborough."

Messrs. Beggs' and Tribbs' motion that the resolution be tabled carried.

Art Antiques Believed Part $5,000 Robbery

Police believe that a man arrested in Peterborough during the week-end and now held by Brantford police is responsible for a $5,000 robbery from a Montreal art dealer. Giving his name to the police as Harold Arthur Billinger, he recently opened an antique shop known as Courtney's Gift Shop, 223 Hunter St. W. The valuable articles found in his possession answer to the Montreal police description of items stolen from an art dealer named Kirsch.

The arrest was made by Detective Sergeants Clark and Stevenson who say he had admitted stealing a 1946 Mercury car at Etobicoke, a valuable diamond ring which is believed to have been sold in a Montreal pawn shop, clothing valued at $500, radio equipment worth more than $300, a wrist watch worth $100 and a typewriter.

When police interviewed Billinger in his shop they saw a large quantity of antiques — engraved silverware, English bone china statues, soap stone and ivory carvings, Ming vases converted into lamps, a quantity of valuable china and porcelain, valuable cigarette boxes and many other articles. They say he denied having obtained these illegally but contact with Montreal police has revealed that this collection sounds identical to the articles stolen in Montreal.

Find Revolver

Shortly after being taken to Peterborough police station, Billinger asked to be allowed to return to his shop for a razor. Detective Clark accompanied him back to the shop and caught him in the act of throwing a .32 cal. revolver down the basement steps. The revolver, the detective said, contained dummy bullets.

Police say that Billinger, who is also known as Murray Keyes, William B. Stacey and Delmar Clayton, went to Montreal towards the end of last year and was last known to be there on Feb. 24. They say he has been moving from town to town starting up business as a dancing instructor or photographer and in Peterborough he had the antique shop.

Peterborough police suspect Billinger of committing offences in Ottawa, Toronto, Brantford, Sudbury and Galt.

FAILED TO FYLE RETURN

Pleading guilty to a charge of failing to make a return of his income for the income tax authorities, Jim Hum, 328 George St. was fined $25 with $1.75 costs at city police court today. A similar charge against Willie Hum, 227½ Hunter St. was withdrawn.

Mother Pleads To Keep "Love Child"

BOSTON, March 16—(AP) — A distraught mother pleaded tearfully today for the "love child" the State charges she kept captive a dozen years in a dungeon-like room.

Police said 14-year-old, bright-eyed Gerald Sullivan was held in a barren room, furnished only with a cot, until he escaped into the street in an unguarded moment Sunday night.

Mrs. Sullivan, suffering from what she described as a "terrible" emotional upset, denied in an interview that she kept the child locked up in the room.

She explained that she kept him in house too "hide my shame" and to "protect the good name" of two older legitimate sons and a younger daughter.

Weeping bitterly and burying her head occasionally in pillows, she sobbed:

"I didn't mean to do any harm to the little boy. I wasn't unkind to him. I felt that it was our cross —mine and Gerald's—and we had to bear it together.

Answering police reports that the boy couldn't distinguish the things common to every child—even an orange—because he had never seen them before, Mrs. Sullivan said:

"Every day he had fruit and the best of food we could afford. He liked to eat and I let him lack for nothing.

The mother pleaded guilty in District Court to a charge of neglect. She told of the boy's conception and birth during a separation from her husband.

Warn No Compromise

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., March 16—(CP)—Russia Tuesday made clear the western powers can expect no compromise on the deadlocked problem of international control of atomic energy. In a strongly-worded, hour-long address before the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission, Jakob Malik of Russia singled out Canada in an attack on the majority plan for controls of atomic energy.

TOGETHER AT LAST, the Hausler brothers, Karl, centre, and John right, met for the first time in Montreal. With them is Karl's wife, and their seven-year-old son Happy.

Save Money On Winter

TORONTO, March 16—(CP) — Toronto's mild winter has added considerable weight to the householders' pockets. It is estimated the mild spell has resulted in a collective saving of about $7,800,000 in fuel bills. Officials said the man-of-the-house shovelled 22 per cent less coal this year and used 15 per cent less fuel oil than in an average winter.

Won't Take Blame

WINNIPEG, March 16 (CP)—Fire Chief David Clawson warned a budget-slashing civic Finance Committee Tuesday that "if a life is lost" through insufficient fire-fighting equipment "you are going to have to take the blame, not me." The Fire Chief made the comment in protesting the committee's decision to cut $5,500 off his estimates.

End Of Hardship Road For Two Czech Brothers

By STANLEY MANTROP

John if sporting a sore head and Karl is still trying to locate the bag containing his few earthly possessions, but misfortunes like these failed to dampen the spirits of the Hausler brothers who met in Montreal recently for the first time.

Both natives of Czechoslovakia, the brothers knew each other only by correspondence and an exchange of pictures. John has been in New York for many years, but Karl, a refugee from Europe's displaced persons' camps, reached Montreal on March 11 from Germany. John left home before Karl was born.

The series of "tough breaks" began when John, on hearing his brother was on his way to Montreal, jumped into the family car, along with his wife, and sped toward the city.

About 80 miles south of Montreal the car hit an icy stretch of road and turned over three times, leaving the Hauslers in a bruised condition, and the car badly wrecked.

Undaunted by this unfortunate turn of events, John had the car put back on its wheels and he finished the run here shortly before the arrival of his brother.

But their troubles were not over. When Karl saw his brother, he threw his arms around his neck, dropping at his side the suitcase that held all his worldly possessions.

When the embracing was over, he went to look for the case. It was gone. A search of the station failed to find any trace of it. Railway police said they were sure that some light-fingered crook had made his getaway with it.

The suitcase contained little pieces of jewelry the mother of the two brothers had asked be given to John. Mrs. Hausler died of a heart attack due to the excitement of making the trip, but before she died she asked Karl to deliver what were her prize possessions, one of them a set of earrings.

Karl was accompanied by his wife and seven-year-old son, whom they called "Happy." Unable to speak English, the family had difficulty trying to get police to understand what had happened That is, until the rest of the relatives came to their assistance.

It was a touching reunion. Both wept as their eyes met for the first time. Karl's thin face and hungry appearance brought tears to John's eyes. He had suffered greatly during his long term in the camps—and he showed it.

But the end of the road of hunger and hardship for the little Czech family has come to an end.

Dom Henry, along with his wife, with whom the Hauslers will live here, assured them they would be nursed back to health. A good home in a free country was their's as long as they wished to remain in Canada.

Conviction Set Aside Not Acquittal–Judge

ST. THOMAS, March 16—(CP)—When the Ontario Court of Appeals sets a side a conviction, it does not acquit the person charged. And its action leaves the crown free to resume prosecution of the accused person if it sees fit.

This decision was handed down Tuesday by Mr. Justice W. F. Schroeder after counsel for Joseph Vernon Welch argued that Welch should not be required to stand trial a second time for manslaughter after winning an appeal.

Welch was convicted of manslaughter in the poison death of his 31-year-old wife, Florence, and sentenced to 10 years in prison. The conviction was quashed and the Ontario Attorney-General's Department ordered laying of the new manslaughter charge.

Mr. Justice Schroeder's ruling clears the way for the new trial to proceed immediately.

It is said that cod liver oil is good for puppies and old dogs.

Ethel MacPherson Is Bride Of Hartley Minifie

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Lakefield Baptist Church parsonage Saturday by the Rev. W. Watson when Ethel MacPherson was united in marriage to Hartley Minifie of Lakefield.

The bride wore a grey alpine suit, pink georgette blouse with black accessories, grey squirrel choker and corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Alice Hendricks of Toronto was her sister's only attendant, wearing a black suit, white blouse, black accessories and corsage of Talisman roses.

Mr. H. McBride of Islington, a schoolmate of the groom, acted as groomsman.

Mr. D. Hendricks of Toronto, nephew of the bride, was chauffeur for the bridal party.

A wedding dinner and reception was held at the home of the groom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Kimball, Peterborough.

The dining-room was prettily decorated with pink and white streamers. The table, lovely with a white linen cloth, centred with a three-tiered weding cake, which was made and decorated by the groom's sisters, Mrs. Eric Kimball and Mrs. Edith Richardson, the cake being flanked by two vases of pink roses.

Dinner was served by four of the groom's nieces, Mrs. Earl Kimball and Mrs. Eldon Kimball of Peterborough. Mrs. A. Stillman of Keene and Mrs. I. Beggs of Norwood.

60 Years of Mission Work Celebrated at St. Andrews

Sixty years of work for people never seen and only rarely heard about is a fine record of Christian service. The Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Church celebrated this milestone in it's history Tuesday with a special evening meeting. About 200 attendants represented all Protestant Churches in the city.

It was on March 15, 1889, that organized mission work began in this church with 14 members, led by President Mrs. William Van Every. Turning back the pages of history to that time the executive of that organiazion, then called Foreign Mission Society, was recalled; first vice president, Mrs. Paton, second vice president, Mrs. Bell, wife of the minister at that time, secretary, Miss Annie Edmison, treasurer Miss Elizabeth Rae. Gowned as they might have been at those meetings, five members of the present auxiliary entered the church as the names were read.

Shawls and berthas of yellowed lace were worn on the quaint and charming dresses with voluminous skirts held out by hoops, falling in folds from tiny waists or styled on straighter lines with gathered flounce at the bottom. Small bonnets and caps were typical of the hats at that time. The wearers were Mrs. A. Munro, Mrs. G. Ham, Mrs. F. Morrow, Mrs. H. Davis and Mrs W. King.

Narrator of the history, Mrs. E. R. Shirley, said groups had been formed to assist both foreign and home missions and in 1914 they united under the present name. "The World for Christ" was the motto adopted.

Tribute was paid the memory of deceased members with lighting of a candle by Miss Ruth Barns .Past presidents were honored with Miss M. Ferguson lighting a candle. Roses were pinned on the past presidents in attendance. Also the present executive leader, Mrs. F. W. K. Harris and guest speaker ,Mrs. Roger Self, president of the Dominion Board.

Beautiful solo selections were contributed by Mr. Adam Hawley whose family has a record of five generations attending St. Andrew's Church. He was accompanied by organist Mr. Harry Northrop. Reading from the Bible was given by Mrs. M. J. Aiken.

Mrs. Harris read a letter of congratulation on the occasion from the daughter of the first president, Mrs. Agnes Thornton, in which she related childish impressions of her mother's efforts to help Indians in Saskatchewan She also read pleasing messages received from All Saints' WA, St. Paul's WMS and St. John's WA, afternoon branch.

The Presbyterial greeting was extended by Mrs. H. T. Rehill, president, whose remarks stressed the fact there is a place for everyone in the wide field of mission work.

A piano-organ duet by Walter Morrow and Harry Northrop was enjoyed exceedingly while the offering was received. Ushers, who were six members of the Mission Circle, passed collection plates. Flowers on the offertory table were placed by Mrs. Bert Lockington in memory of members of her family who had served in the WMS.

Inspiration for the future was given members by their special guest, Mrs. Roger Self of Toronto. Finding she was to address a large audience containing guests from other churches, the versatile and charming speaker discarded a prepared address and talked informally of experiences at mission points across Canada.

Fitting tributes to past work having been heard, she challenged those present, "Is your work measuring up with that of those who have passed on?"

Stories of Indian women and children in the West whose lives have been lifted from sordidness and filled with delight in the message of the songs and hymns they like so much were inspiring. "We have a share in their lives and we know that some of this will remain with them even though they go back to the reservations," she said. "The progress may seem small, but we were never promised great results. We feel our efforts are worth while if only accepted by a few."

"Those gone before built this background for us," Mrs. Self said in closing. "Will future generations look back and say we did as much for them?"

Introduction of the WMS national leader was made by Mrs. C. M. Scott.

Loretta Carroll Wed in Chicago

Miss Loretta Carroll of Chicago, daughter of Mrs. Timothy Carroll of Peterborough, was married to Mr. Frederick B. Cooper Jr. of New York on February 25. The Rev. Father Kupinski of St. Juliana's Church, Chicago, performed the marriage ceremony.

The bride was attired in a royal blue tailored suit with matching off-the-face bonnet hat swathed in shell pink milan, covering a wreath of flowers, and her blouse was the same shade. Her orchid corsage, worn high on the collar, was in pinkish tone. She was attended by Mrs. George Dunlop Jr. and Mr. Dunlop was groomsman.

Afterward, a dinner party, attended by the immediate family, was held in the Boulevard Room of the Stevens Hotel, Chicago.

The bride, known to friends and association as Loretta Carroll, is owner of the Evlor Shoppe in Edison Park, Chicago. She was formerly office manager in the Canadian Department Store, Peterborough, and has a host of friends in this city. Her brother is Aiderman John W. Carroll, publisher of Pickwick Papers, Parkridge, Illinois.

Mr. Cooper, formerly of Mount St. Clair, N.J., and New York City, is graduate of Andover and Yale Universities, and has recently been transferred to the Chicago office of Phoenix Mutual Insurance Company.

BRIDGENORTH SCHOOL

A large crowd of members and friends attended the meeting of Bridgenorth Home and School Association Tuesday evening to hear "Temper tantrums and children's fears" dealt with in a panel discussion. Mrs. M. Hutchinson and Mrs. T. Brioux gave well-informed addresses regarding tantrums, stealing, lies and fears. Discussion on the subject was led by Mrs. J. Johnson.

Appropriate poems read by Mrs. E. Ball and Mrs. J. Smith were titled "Be the best of whatever you are" and "Building a Temple."

A social hour was enjoyed with Mrs. G. McKay and her committee in charge.

KING EDWARD SCHOOL

Meeting of King Edward Home and School Association was completely taken over by the men on Father's Night. Gordon Myles was chairman, Roy Heard, treasurer, C. Murdoff, secretary, and Ashton Fife, pianist.

Two films particularly tasted to the male taste were featured on the program. Titles were "Wild Life" and "Fishing". The projector was operated by Ross Rutherford.

Three Irish songs were contributed by Victor Coleman, accompanied by Robert Johnson. Roy Biscox entertained with selections on the musical saw. Cyril Davis led in a sing song. A quartette of Messrs. C. Murduff, G. Myles, R. Heard and C. Davis sang one song.

President Mrs. L. Gibson took care of necessary business. Next study group meeting will be at her home on March 29. There will be a special study group meeting in the YWCA Green Room Monday evening, March 21, the topic, "Your children and you". The Rev. H. G. Douglas will be speaker at the April meeting.

Attendance prize was won by Mr. Burn's room.

Refreshments were served by the men under direction of Don Crawford, convener, each wearing a corsage of lettuce leaves and radish.

Mrs. Gibson thanked those taking part in the program.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You borrow a tool from a neighbor.

WRONG WAY: Keep it until he asks for it.

RIGHT WAY: Return it just as soon as you have finished with it, either handing it to the person from whom it was borrowed or putting it back where it belongs and telling him that you have done so.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Understanding Woman Closest to Being Ideal Wife

DEAR DOROTHY DIX — My aim in life has always been to keep my home and family together. This is not always easy, because there comes a time in many a marriage when the husband seems to lose his affection for his wife. Such was my case, and this is the way I handled it: I tried putting myself in my husband's place and to act as I would want him to treat me if the situation were reversed.

I made home life as pleasant as possible. I didn't nag him in any way or ask him any questions. I let him completely alone so far as showing any affection for him, but never repulsed him or criticized him in any way. I treated him just as I would a stranger whom I was trying to win over.

Dorothy Dix

That was several years ago now and it has worked successfully. We are happier today than we have ever been in our married life, and we have been married almost 20 years.

A READER.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER—If every wife would follow this woman's recipe for holding her husband's affections and keeping him eating out of her hand, it would practically revolutionize marriage and shut up the divorce courts. For what ails marriage more than anything else is that so few wives ever have the slightest inkling of masculine psychology, so they treat their husbands as they would like to be treated themselves, and then they wonder why their mates lose their taste for them.

Dominating Women

The average woman's idea of being a good wife is to dominate her husband completely. To see that he eats what she thinks he should eat; that he wears the clothes she selects; that he has no friends but her friends; that he goes nowhere without dragging her along with him; and if she can reduce him to being a stooge, she is happy and thinks he is.

But woe to the man who doesn't want to talk at night when he comes home tired from work, or who likes to go fishing, or hunting, or take a little trip by himself. It is an exceptional case when his wife doesn't consider herself a martyr and spend her time telling anyone who will listen to her about what a poor, neglected creature she is.

And it all boils down to this: That husbands and wives want their mates to be happy, but that each wants to write the happiness prescription for the other.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Probably it is inevitable for youth to rebel against age. I often admire our children when they disagree with us, but why must they be so rude about it? I see many cases of out and out barbarity and cruelty "beyond the call of duty," so to speak, so it raises my blood pressure when I hear the young insult the old, contradict flatly everything they say, ride over the deepest convictions of their elders and argue each tiny point until the aged groan inwardly.

Can't the revolution of youth against age be a bloodless one?

ANSWER—As youth is the only time in life when anyone is absolutely certain that he or she is possessed of supernatural wisdom, we probably should be more patient with the teen-agers than we are. It does not take long for the know-it-alls to have a lot of the conceit knocked out of them. But while it lasts it is certainly hard to have your opinions scoffed at, your tastes derided, your judgment flouted.

When our children and our grandchildren think so poorly of us, it is strange that they never ask how it happened that we occupy positions of importance, and made the money that they are spending so freely. Of course, in time they will acquire better manners and more sense; but in the meantime they are a pain in the neck.

DEAR MISS DIX— There are two young men whom we like very much and who seem to like us, but they have never asked us for an actual date, though when we meet them at social gatherings they monopolize our time. They are not youngsters. They are men who have been in the service and have seen action. What do you think our chances are with them? Shall we be patient and wait, or shall we make it our business to be where they are?

TWO SISTERS.

ANSWER—Perhaps the reason that your G. I.'s do not show more ardor in their pursuit of you is because a courtship costs money and they lack the price. There are many reasons why men can't marry these days, so it is up to the girls whether they are willing to wait or not.

6—In Memoriams

BAGNALL—In loving memory of a dear father, who passed away five years ago today.
You are not forgotten father,
Nor ever shall you be
As long as life and memory last
I shall remember thee.
—Fondly remembered by his daughter Dolly and son-in-law Alvin.

BLACK—In loving memory of a dear friend, Milton Black, who passed away March 16, 1948.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days;
Sincere and kind in his heart and mind,
What a beautiful memory he left behind.
—Always remembered by Charles and Gladys McNabb.

BLACK—In loving memory of my dear husband, Milton Black, who passed away one year ago today, March 16th, 1948.
If I could speak with him today,
Laugh with him in the same old way.
Hear his voice and see his smile,
Life would indeed be worth while.
—Sadly missed by his wife Mary.

BLACK—In loving memory of a dear dad and grandfather, Milton Black, who passed away March 16, 1948.
The dearest Dad this world could hold,
The cheeriest smile, a heart of gold;
For those who knew him all will know,
How much we lost one year ago.
—Sadly missed by son and daughter-in-law and grandchildren.

JOHNSON—In loving memory of our dear father, William S. Johnson, who passed away March 16, 1945.
In memory of one with whom
Our paths have had to part,
But yet is never far from us,
But always close in heart.
—Ever remembered by Audrey, Bill, James and daughter-in-law Dorothy.

LAVERY—In loving memory of Michael Lavery, who passed away six years ago.
Peaceful be thy rest, dear father,
It is sweet to breathe thy name;
In life we loved you dearly
In death we do the same.
—Ever remembered by daughter and son-in-law Alice and Earl Brown.

LAVERY—In loving memory of Michael Lavery, who passed away six years ago.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days;
Sincere and true in his heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind.
—Ever remembered by son Harold and family.

LAVERY—In loving memory of Michael Lavery, who passed away six years ago.
God called him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts we love him still;
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.
We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only thing
That grief can call its own.
—Ever remembered by Pearl and Edith and Kay.

LAVERY—In loving memory of Michael Lavery, who passed away six years ago today.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true.
There is not a day, dear father
That we do not think of you.
—Always remembered by his son and daughter-in-law John and Elsie.

LAVERY — In loving memory of Michael Joseph Lavery, who passed away six years ago, March 16, 1943.
Gone, dear father, gone forever—
How we miss your smiling face;
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed—
How sweet the memory still
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Always remembered by daughter Lillian, and son-in-law Leo McGuire.

SIDDALL—In loving memory of our son Robert, who died five years ago, March 16, 1944.
I seem to see in the soft, dim light
A face I loved the best
And think of him when the sun's last ray
Goes down in the far-off west,
I miss you no less as the time passes on,
Than I did the day of your going.
—Sadly missed by his parents.

Bus, Car Collide

When a city bus swerved to avoid pedestrians crossing the road at New Romaine St. and High St. Tuesday it went on to the wrong side of the road where a car was being driven in the opposite direction by William McKinley, 727 New Romaine St. The vehicles collided, damaging the two right fenders, a door, and glass in the right headlamp of the car. The bus escaped with only a dent in the front of the body.

Tribute Paid Sergeants' Mess

A touch of pre-war pageantry and formality was reintroduced at the Peterborough Armoury Tuesday night, when 75 members of the Sergeants' Mess of the 50th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment sat for the first annual dinner to be held since the conversion of the regiment to its present role.

Sergeants, Staff Sergeants and Warrant Officers, some of whom served as sergeants in the days of the 57th Regiment, and some whose stripes have not yet received the traditional 'wetting,' sat in the banquet room of the Officers' Mess. The dinner also was tendered to the WOs and Sergeants of the newly formed 37th HAA Wkshp RCEME.

The chairman, Sgt. 'Roy' Gilders, introduced the guests who included Lieut.-Colonel M. E. Clarke, ED, Commanding Officer of the regiment, Major H. Willis, ED, second-in-command, H/Major W. J. Gilling, MBE, the regiment's padre and Lt.-Colonel 'Jim' Turnbull, former commanding officer of the Peterborough training centre.

RSM Davidson proposed the toast to the regiment, replied to by Major Willis, who remarked that during his association with the regiment for the last 20 years, he had become increasingly convinced of the truth of the remark that Senior NCOs are the backbone of the army, and that this unit has a complement of warrant officers and sergeants of which the regiment can be justly proud.

Lt.-Colonel M. E. Clarke, congratulated the mess on its fine progress during the difficult years since the war. He said that he was satisfied that the senior NCOs and Warrant Officers of the regiment were fast approaching the stage where they would be able soon to handle the training of the regiment as a Heavy Anti-Aircraft Unit.

Summer Fun IN ALGONQUIN PARK

Algonquin Park is 2,700 square miles of unspoilt woodland, where you can recapture the thrill of the early pioneers in canoe camping trips, or take shorter trips from comfortable hotel or tourist cabin accommodation. It is so popular among fishermen, artists and plain holiday-makers that it's wise to make reservations well in advance.

The Superintendent, Algonquin Provincial Park, Algonquin Park Station, Ontario, can give you all the details. Train service to Huntsville from Toronto and the South or to Brent and Kiosk from Ottawa or North Bay. Allow at least a full day to drive . . . the entrance to the Park is 200 miles from Lake Ontario via highways 11 and 60.

In Ontario we have a holiday paradise . . . let's do all we can to encourage visitors from across the border. Published in support of the tourist business by John Labatt Limited.

Catholic Youth Organization Presents Play In PCVS Auditorium

Leave It To Mother, a play presented by the Catholic Youth Organization of St. Peter's Cathedral, is a comedy with a laugh in nearly every line. On Tuesday, when the first of a series of three performances was presented in the Collegiate auditorium, every amusing situation was exploited to the full and the entire production was a triumph for actors and back stage workers alike.

Helen Cummings, who plays the part of an irrepressible girl of 16 keeps up a lively pace as the precious modern miss. Her success seems to lie in the apparent spontaneity of words and actions which contributed greatly to the swift action of the play. Miss Cummings played a part which might well have overshadowed a less accomplished cast, for it was she who the author intended to set the pace.

Alice DeWolf played an exacting role as mother and was no less successful in maintaining a steady flow of humour as one incident followed another. Playing opposite her was Eddie Murphy, as the typical middle aged bachelor whose attentions to the widowed mother are placed as much with an eye to business as any other motive.

In contrast to these three humorous roles there is Shirley McKenzie who assumed the inspired character of girl who tolerates the idiosynchracies of a dull witted English aristocrat, admirably played by Peter Moore, in an attempt to reach a higher rung in the social ladder.

Florine Killen strikes another contrast as the sophisticated wife of the son, played by Bob Baldwin.

Highly Entertaining

The widowed aunt is played by Margaret Caravaggie, whose performance as an emotional, self-imposing relative is highly entertaining. Jean Allen takes every advantage of a comparatively insignificant part, playing as a brusque house maid who appears to be no respector of persons.

Gerald Dyrun is an excellent forlorn and constant admirer of the girl whose favours are bestowed on the aristocratic gentleman.

Barbara Allen and Jos. Nolan play less spectacular roles with ability.

Those who worked behind the scenes in technical and advisory capacity were John McCabe, Romeo Mongraw, Paul Caravaggie, H. McIsaac, Mrs. R. Baldwin and Miss M. Pepe.

The performance was preceded by orchestral music played by Mrs. E. Foster, B. Wardle, Kevan Leahy, Mrs. A. F. Seidel, Miss Doris Strickland, M. Miloslavitch, S. H. Rowe, Gordon Miles, Thomas Smith and Ken Hotston.

Miss H. Hajnik sang Irish songs and choruses were sung by Helen Hajnik, Theresa Holland, Mrs. T. Ridley, Mrs. Ted Collins, Mrs. Julia Henry, Mrs. Charles McCoy, Mrs. William Crowley, Mrs. William English, Mrs. William Gannon, Bob Baldwin, Gerald Dyrun, Tony De Noble, Tom Williams, Harold Coulsen, Peter Moore, Morley Geraghty and Jos. Nolan. A. F. Seidel directed the choir, which was accompanied by Miss Doris Strickland at the piano.

Car Badly Damaged On Norham Road

Chester Schofield, employee of the Ocean Blend Tea Company, 420 Water street, Peterborough, escaped with a cut on his forehead when the sedan - delivery truck, owned by the company, which he was driving left a county road at Norham, 3 miles from Warkworth, on Monday evening. The vehicle struck a telephone pole, knocking it off at the base.

The truck sustained some $300 worth of damage. Grill, radiator, bumper, and headlights being badly battered. It was towed into J. K. Hughes' garage on Tuesday. Driving conditions at the time of the accident were quite slippery. Schofield was driving into Norham, located in Percy Township, from the country at the time. The accident occurred about one mile from Norham.

Robt. Begley Funeral, A Longtime Resident

Funeral for the late Robert J. Begley, 85, of Peterborough was held his morning from the Anglesey Funeral Home to St. Peter's Cathedral where Requiem Mass was sung by the Rev. C. Begley. The Rev. P. P. Butler and the Rev. V. Corkery were in the Sanctuary. Pall-bearers were Robert, Dale, Francis and Vincent McCabe, John and William Begley, Jr. Prayers at the Cemetery was said by Father Begley.

Mr. Begley died in hospital on Sunday following a lengthy illness. He was born in Belleville, son of the late Patrick Begley and Mary Ward, and had lived nearly a lifetime in the city. His wife, the former Rebecca Preston, predeceased him.

He was one of the original members of the former Total Abstinence Society and vice-president of the old TAS lacrosse team.

He was a member of St. Peter's Cathedral and of the Holy Name Society.

Two Youths Fined Causing Disturbance

Two Toronto youths pleaded guilty at city police court today to causing a disturbance at the entrance to a George St. restaurant Tuesday. Crown Attorney John Bradshaw said Douglas Keast and Frank Kerr, who Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C. fined $7.50 with $2.50 costs each, were two of a group of seven or eight youths who were standing around the entrance to the cafe. He said the acused boys impeded a girl who was trying to leave the restaurant, and when asked by a police officer to move, were saucy.

Car And Truck In Collision

Three men miraculously escaped serious injury at 4.00 a.m. today when a car and a truck collided head-on at the intersection of No. 28 and 7A Highways, two miles south of Springville and eight miles from Peterborough. Both vehicles suffered considerable damage, that to the truck being estimated at $300 and damage to the car at $500.

The truck, owned by Bruce Parker, Peterborough lumber merchant, was driven by Arthur C. Dwyer, 282 Dalhousie Street, and the car was operated by Frank Johnson, R.R. 1, South Monaghan. Johnson had with him as a passenger Jack Keating, 496 Brioux Ave. Dwyer escaped without injury, Johnson suffered only a bruised elbow, and Keating escaped with a few superficial scratches.

The truck turned over on its side after the crash and ended up minus its two front wheels. It also sustained considerable damage to the cab and the left front with fender, grill, radiator, etc., being badly battered. The car received damage to its left front side.

The truck was travelling south and the car north at the time of the collision. After the truck turned over it was lying crossways on the highway.

The accident was investigated by Constable Crough of the Provincial Police.

105 Children Wards Of Children's Aid

Miss Rachel Young, superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, reported to the Board at the February meeting held on Tuesday that 461 visits were made during the month. There were 161 office interviews and 23 families received attention of the Society. Of the 23 families one was an investigation for family allowance, 16 family situations, three children taken into care and three unmarried parents' cases.

Nine of the 16 family situations were separations. The other seven cases represented such problems as children receiving inadequate supervision, a child showing definite signs of delinquency, parents seeming inadequate for their job, temporary placing of a child pending family making more permanent plans, emotional disturbances and an investigation for another society. These cases were brought to the attention of the Society by personal application, neighbors, relatives and the police department.

105 Wards

Miss Young said the Society has 105 wards, an increase of 12 over a year ago. There are five less this year in pay care. At the present time, she reported, there are 17 wards on adoption probation, ten more than last year.

The Major Bennett Chapter, I.O.D.E., Miss Young said, met an emergency last week when a mother with two small children got stranded in the city. They financed the meals necessary for the family as well as the transportation to their own community.

Eight children were in the Children's Shelter on March 1, Mrs. Maguire said in giving her report on the Shelter. She reported donations of food were received from Junior Welfare League, Mr. and Mrs. Club, George St. United Church, Dixon House Recreation Centre, Game Warden, Pedersen's Cake Shop, Mrs. Louis Yeates, Mark St. United Church and Mrs. Keith Lech.

Twenty-seven women mended 124 articles for the Shelter, Mrs. Charles Pilon reported. One blouse, four pairs of pants and one shirt were re-made. Articles made by the women, three blouses, three quilts, one skirt, one pair of sox and one dress. Twenty organizations and people donated articles.

Black Hawks Win Norwood Trophy

NORWOOD, March 16—(ENS)—Black Hawks retained their unbeaten record in the Norwood Pee Wee Hockey League by winning the championship cup, in their final game with the runners-up Maple Leafs, before a fair crowd. The score 4-1 for the Hawks was not indicative of the play. The Rooney-Rusaw combination was a threat right to the final gong.

Peoples was the main scorer getting three. Aldred, the bad boy of the league, also scored for the Hawks. Rooney scored the lone goal for the Leafs, Rusaw getting and assist.

Rooney and Rusaw played a fine game with good support from the rest of the boys. Miles, Peoples and the Millett brothers were good for the victors, with Elwood Begg, goalie, turning in his usual good performance.

After the game Rev. R. D. Duncanson, chairman of the recreation committee of the Norwood Board of Trade, made the presentation of the new cup to Captain Lawrence Peoples and Reeve Rork S. Ferguson presented a silver cup to Captain Delvin Rusaw of the Maple Leafs.

The individual miniature cups will be presented at the pee wee annual banquet at Easter time. Recipients will be: Best goal tender, Elwood Begg; most points, Lawrence Peoples; most improved player, Joseph Rooney, and most valuable player, Delvin Rusaw.

Line up:

Black Hawks—Goal, Elwood Begg; defence, L. Peoples, G. Aldred; centre, R. Mullett; wings, Merv. Millett, R. Millett; alternates, M. Redden, "Bunny" Miles, M. Ranson, Freddie Morgan, Bruce Mullan, Keith Bedore.

Maple Leafs—Goal, Neil Telford; defence, L. Gordon, Joel Redden; centre, D. Rusaw; wings, Joe Rooney, Carl Burtt; alternates, W. Smith, Phillip Hines, Ross Stewart, Hayden Scott, Danny McManus, Harry Parker.

Referee, Hartley Morrison; linesman, Jack Robson.

The boys wore their new sweaters complete with crest and numbers, gift of the Norwood Women's Institute.

Extend Rent Controls

WASHINGTON, March 16—(AP)—The United States House of Representatives Tuesday voted a 15-month extension of rent controls with a "home rule" feature permitting any state, city or county to scrap the ceilings at will. It was a heavy blow to President Truman. Administration forces were against the "home rule" idea and wanted a two-year extension plus greater powers to enforce controls.

Electric Power Peak Reduced

Peterborough's electric power peak in February was 21,440 horse power, compared with 22,460 hp. in February last year, a decrease of nearly 1,000 hp., R. L. Dobbin, manager, reported to the Utilities Commission, Monday. Distribution lines were erected to serve the new housing district on Rose and Wilson Avenues. Rebuilding proceeded on Cameron and Donegal Streets.

In the waterworks department, February pumpage was 116,222,000 gallons as against 122,553,000 last year. The increase was 300,000 gallons a day.

"During the month 665 feet of 8-in. main were laid on Simcoe St. to improve fire protection service to the Peterborough Lock Co.

"Water was turned into the main from Simcoe St., but the job will not be completed until it is connected to the 18-in. main on Bethune St. This cannot be done until Spring.

"No water services were frozen this winter except one on Howden Ave. where a surface drain catch basin was put in around the water pipe. This condition was corrected by the removal of the service pipe to a safe distance."

Gas Consumption

Referring to the gas department, Mr. Dobbin said 28,500 gallons of liquid propane were used in February, making 4½ million cu. ft. of propane-air mixture delivered to the consumers. A new bulk meter arrived and was installed last month.

The gas meter repair department was removed from the Simcoe St. plant to quarters in the office extension on Aylmer St.

Muskeg The Moose Dies Before Show

MONTREAL, March 16—(CP)—Muskeg the Moose is dead and old Joe Laflamme, bearded man of the outdoors who has startled crowds in downtown Toronto, New York and other cities when he and Muskeg walked the streets together, is inconsolable.

Joe had Muskeg in Montreal for several days, along with some other animals, getting ready for an appearance at the Montreal Sportsman's Exhibition which opens Thursday.

Last Saturday he took sick. Late Sunday night Muskeg breathed his last.

Church Marks 87th Birthday Of Miss A. Young

HAVELOCK, March 16—(ENS)—Miss Annie Young, a prominent church and temperance worker for many years was presented with a book of Daily Meditations by the Women's Missionary Society at the United Church Sunday evening, to mark her 87th birthday. Mrs. G. W. Chiles, the president, made the presentation.

Miss Young was born on March 13, 1862 at Rockdale near Cordova Mines, a daughter of the late William Edward Young and Maria Campion. She is the only remaining member of a family of ten who reached manhood and womanhood. Her grandfather died in Carlisle, England and Miss Young still has a Bible bearing the family crest.

Two of Miss Young's sisters worked in mission fields. Her youngest sister Grace, married Dr. William E. Smith and went with him as a missionary to China in 1895, where they served until June 1922. When they returned to Canada, Mrs. Smith died in Toronto a week after reaching her home.

Another sister, Miss Hannah Young, served many years at Coqualeetza, B. C., in mission work among the Indians.

Miss Young followed school teaching as a vocation, spending most of her teaching career in Western Canada. She received Normal School training in Ottawa.

Since returning to Havelock she has been an active member of Havelock United Church and served as Temperance Secretary of the WMS. Owing to failing health she sold her home and went to live with her niece, Mrs. William Smith in 1945.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED—When Mrs. Elizabeth Alexander, who Monday celebrated her 105th birthday, was first married she lived in a log cabin and her husband made most of her furniture. Brides today have an easy life of it, she says. Mrs. Alexander, shown here reading her Bible to great-great-grandnephew, Charles Rixon, five, still needs no glasses and climbs up and down stairs with ease. She has outlived two husbands and 10 children but has 21 living grandchildren, 44 great-grandchildren and 14 great-great-grandchildren.

Trying For Trade

WASHINGTON, March 16 —(CP)—The British automotive industry is taking another big step in its bid for bigger United States sales, it was announced Tuesday night. The Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders, representing the entire British automotive trade, has opened a national office here. The Washington office will help British manufacturers to open and develop sales and service facilities for British cars in the United States.

Church Wants Help In Arctic

MILLBROOK, March (ENS)—Venerable Archdeacon Marsh, for 22 years missionary in the Arctic, addressed congregations in three Cavan churches on Sunday. At St. Thomas' Anglican Church in the evening, he described the immense size of the Canadian North. Because persons in Canada had not been willing to give their sons and daughters to the life of sacrifice required of workers among the Eskimos, the Church had to go back to England for recruits for the Arctic, the Archdeacon said. In the past three years, however, money had been spent by the government to make the people of Canada Eskimo conscious.

Problems Arise

"The fact that civilization is now coming into the Arctic constitutes a problem for he church," he speaker declared. "We care for their sick, for their mentally ill, teach them cleanliness, provide schools and teachers for their education, and help in the maintenance of law and order. The traders coming in create some difficulty for their language and faults were imitated by the Eskimo."

An earnest appeal to join the Fellowship of the Arctic was made by the speaker.

Among colored slides shown were pictures taken at Aklavik, within the Arctic Circle, where Canon and Mrs. Montgomery are new workers.

Rev. C. M. MacLean introduced the speaker and offerings were in aid of the Archdeacon's work.

Unwelcome Guest

SOFIA, March 16 (Reuters)—Denis Greenhill, First Secretary of the British Legation here, has been declared persona non grata (unwelcome) by the Bulgarian Government as a result of evidence given at the recent trial of Bulgarian pastors on espionage charges, it was understood today.

Centenary Church WA Display Quilts

ROSENEATH, March 16 —(ENS)—Beautiful quilts, pillow cases, cushion tops, aprons, and small pieces of needle work, donated by the members of Centenary United Church W. A. were displayed in readiness for the early autumn bazaar. The occasion was the March meeting of the W. A. President Miss Hilda Arthur was in the chair. A crokinole party is planned for April to be held in the Centenary school.

Treasurer, Mrs. R. Timlin reported receipts and expenses for the month balanced at $2.90 and $43.91 in the treasury.

A program arranged by Mrs. W. Lean had readings, stories and articles contributed by Mrs. A. Elder, Mrs. S. Sherwin, Mrs. B. Arthur, Mrs. R. Timlin, and Miss Emma Sherwin, and a contest by the convener.

A social hour followed over refreshments served by Mrs. L. Timlin, Mrs. S. Sherwin and Mrs. R. Timlin.

100 Homeless As Flames Destroy Apts.

Say Violent Explosion Rocks One Building Only One Woman Hurt

ROUYN, Que., March 17 (CP)—Preliminary estimates of loss in a fire which wiped out nine Rouyn business establishments and made 100 families homeless were fixed today at $2,000,000 as firemen poured water on the ruins of a substantial part of the city's commercial district.

A few hours after the worst fire in the history of this northwest Quebec mining town destroyed four business buildings and five dwellings, a pall of black smoke hung in the still below-zero air.

No casualties were reported after the blaze but a 73-year-old woman, Mrs. Dionne, was taken to hospital suffering from shock. Bedridden, she had to be carried out of her home. In Rouyn's last big fire, in 1938, Albert's Hotel was destroyed with heavy loss of life.

Only a concrete fire wall prevented the flames from destroying the whole of one side of Main street. Firemen called from nearby Noranda helped Rouyn firefighters and volunteers. One time 50 men were working on the fire.

The four-two and three-storey brick-fronted buildings housed The Style Shop, Betty's Dress Shop, Steadman's chain department store, Dubois billiard parlor and bowling alleys, Jean Pommier's jewelry store, the Horne Grill, Miller's department store, Eddie Rice's bowling alleys and Mike Korman's clothing store.

Escape In Night Clothes

The 100 people, who escaped in their night clothes, lived in 18 apartments above the stores and in the five homes behind the business block on Lakeshore Road.

They were given shelter by friends and in nearby hotels.

Police Chief Emile Dusseault said that shortly after the fire started his patrols heard an explosion in one of the buildings owned by Mrs. J. O. Dubois. The blast enabled the flames to spread out of control to buildings on either side. It rocked buildings in the surrounding area and smashed windows across the street.

The police patrols moved ahead of the flames arousing the sleeping occupants of the apartments.

Sending Aid

MONTREAL, March 17—(CP)—The Quebec branch of the Red Cross announced today it had sent 100 blankets into the twin cities of Rouyn-Noranda as a part of its disaster relief program in connection with a fire which raged in Rouyn this morning.

"Already a local disaster relief centre and a communal kitchen has been set up in Rouyn," a spokesman said.

Jittery Germans Make Wills, Pack Churches After Astrologer Predicts "End Of World"

FRANKFURT, Germany, March 17—(AP)—A minor panic gripped backward rural areas of Western Germany today over rumors of the "end of the world."

The rumors that today is the last day for mankind have been growing throughout Germany for several weeks. They have been based upon a publicized prediction of an astrologer whom nobody can identify.

Most city dwellers went gaily about their work but reports from Bavaria said superstitious country folk were flocking to churches and making their wills.

In the Bayrische Wald (Bavarian woodland), a furious blizzard Wednesday night cut electric power cables and caused considerable excitement, reports from Passau said.

The reports said altars were put up in homes and churches were jammed with people who prayed for hours and refused to be calmed by priests.

The official weather station at Ries near Passau said it had received many calls from frightened folk asking the exact hour of the expected catastrophe.

In Nuernberg a rumor circulated that today would bring the outbreak of a new world war but not the end of the world.

And in a Frankfurt cafe, a portly German bartender commented:

"The beer is flowing like usual and as long as the beer flows, the world is okay."

Italian Communists Rioting To Bar Atlantic Pact; Filibustering In Parliament

Strong Police Detachments Guarding Government Buildings; Report Strikes Paralyze Milan Area

ROME, March 17—(CP).—Communists delayed Italian adherence to the Atlantic alliance today by a filibuster in parliament. They also churned up strikes in Milan and Genoa in protest. Strong police detachments were thrown around government buildings in Rome and the Central Piazza Colonna, where authorities and demonstrators have fought in the past. The Piazza, where rioting occurred Saturday, was kept clear by police.

One death resulted among demonstrators at Terni, a steel city 70 miles northeast of Rome. Police opened up with firearms on a crowd protesting the alliance and killed Alvino Trastulli, 21, and wounded three others gravely, the news agency Astra said. Ten police were hurt.

Communists and fellow travellers kept up their word battle in the Chamber of Deputies all night and into today. It already is the longest filibuster on record in Italy. Premier Alcide De Gasperi has plenty of votes to assure adherence of Italy to the accord, once his Christian Democratic Party, a middle-of-the-road group has the chance to cast them.

The Communist-led Chamber of Labor spread strikes—"spontaneous" they were called—in the Milan area. Street cars stopped running. Nearly all plants in the industrial suburb of Sesto San Giovanni, sometimes called "little Stalingrad," were closed.

Factory workers, dockers and seamen struck at Genoa.

The Communist organ L'Unita printed special editions in Rome and Milan.

De Gasperi, heckled and jeered by Communist deputies and their allied Socialists, concluded Wednesday night the Government's declarations on its proposal that Italy join the United States, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, Holland, Norway, Luxembourg and perhaps others in the accord.

Barring unforeseen events, the noisy session is expected to continue until Friday.

The practice of "talking to death" measures was made possible by the technical right of all deputies to speak for 10 minutes at the end of a debate to explain why they are voting for or against the measure. This is known as a "declaration of vote."

Chinese Reds Ready To Cross Yangtze River

NANKING, March 17—(AP)—Communist attempts to cross the Yangtze River appeared near today. At the same time Red uprisings in South China grew.

A government spokesman, Gen. Teng Wen-ki, announced 100,000 Manchurian troops had reinforced the Communists at Suchow, 180 miles northwest of Nanking. Other Communist troops, under Gen. Lin Piao's command, were massed just north of the capital.

Teng said the main strength of Gen Chen Yi's Central China Communist armies were heading for staging areas on the north bank of the river near Hankow.

Most observers guess the Communists will not try river crossings until some time next month, probably the latter part.

Nationalist Gen. Yui Ying Kai has revolted against the Chinese government and has taken control of the port of Swatow, 175 miles northeast of Hong Kong, according to Chinese press reports reaching here today.

Yui commands the Kwangtung-Fukien border "anti-bandit" forces under the over-all command of pacification headquarters, Canton.

The despatches said he invited the Mayor of Swatow and leading military and civil officials to a banquet earlier in the week and detained them. He then ordered the banks to hand over cash kept in vaults.

Denies Ballot Boxes Opened On Election Night In Inquiry On Porter Vote

TORONTO, March 17—(CP).—The select committee of the Ontario Legislature, charged with investigating alleged irregularities in the election last June of Education Minister Porter, today questioned Mrs. Mabel Armstrong. She testified she was present in the returning officer's office on election night, June 7.

Michael O'Connor, Mr. Porter's agent, was in the hall handing ballot boxes over a table placed across the doorway, she said. She could not recall whether the boxes were accompanied by statements of polls. She received keys to the ballot boxes from deputy returning officers and placed them in envelopes. About a week later at the official count, she handed the keys to Dan McCabe, returning officer, who unlocked the boxes.

Some keys would not fit the boxes and these were opened by Frank Wallace and his son Gerry. Mr. O'Connor did not open any of the boxes. The boxes were then piled in the room.

Those Present

Present in Mr. McCabe's office on election night besides herself were Mr. and Mrs. McCabe, Joe Farrell, Armond Durand, a Mrs. Livingston and a newspaper reporter.

All left the office at about 11 or 11.30 p.m. She had known the result of the election, she told CCF Leader E. B. Jolliffe.

Charges made by CCF members are that Mr. McCabe's return to Chief Elector Officer Major Alex. Lewis, gave Mr. Porter some 2,000 votes more than appeared on forms supplied Mr. McCabe by Deputy Returning Officers. Mr. Porter's plurality was some 4,000 votes.

Provincial Treasurer Frost, chairman of the committee asked Mr. O'Connor his full name.

"Michael Patrick O'Connor, and I shouldn't be here today," (St. Patrick's Day.)

On election night he stood in the hall keeping DRO's in line. The DRO's would hand their boxes and press reports over the table to Mr. McCabe.

Mr. McCabe would check the seals and call out the figures on the press report. Boxes which were not sealed were handed to two assistants who sealed them.

It was "ridiculous" of Mrs. Armstrong to say boxes were opened

Belgium Studies Planned Text Of Atlantic Pact

BRUSSELS, March 17 (Reuters)—Premier Paul-Henri Spaak today read the text of the proposed Atlantic Pact to the Foreign Affairs Committee of Belgium's Chamber and Senate, meeting behind closed doors.

Louis Pierard, Socialist member of the Lower House, gave this resume of some of the 12 articles of the accord and said Spaak had so explained them:

Article five provides that in case of an armed attack against one or several of the signatories in Europe and North America, assistance should then become effective through any action judged necessary, but not necessarily by armed assistance.

Article six defines the area concerned by the pact. Pierard said: "The mutual assistance provided by the fifth article will cover the part of Europe represented by the pact signers as well as the North African French departments. Mutual assistance is not extended to the Belgian Congo but is extended to isles (which he did not name) north of the Tropic of Cancer. The western occupation zones of Germany and Austria are also in the geographical area to which the mutual assistance article is to be extended."

The Atlantic accord will run for 20 years and has a provision for revision after ten years, Pierard said.

Down To 54 Cents Father Promised Help

MONTREAL, March 17 (CP)—A young suburban laborer who quit work to look after his seven children when his wife left him three weeks ago today had a promise of help, a houseful of food and cash to supplement his last 54 cents.

Montrealers who heard Wednesday of the plight of 29-year-old Jean Paul Hebert sent him a supply of clothing for his children, $50 in cash, volunteered to renovate his home in suburban St. Leonard de Port Maurice and offered to take care of one or more of his children.

But the offer of an unidentified Montrealer to pay for a woman to look after the children for several weeks was the one that impressed Hebert most. Down to his last few cents yesterday, he now will be able to resume his $180-a-month job in nearby machine shop.

All he could say was "Thanks—thanks very much."

Jews And Arabs Reduce Armies

RHODES, March 17 (AP)—Israel and Trans-Jordan agreed in principle today on a reduction of their forces to equal strength in military zones of Palestine, Ralph Bunche, acting United Nations mediator, announced.

The two countries, engaged in armistice talks, agreed Wednesday night on lines dividing Jerusalem among them.

Bunche said Brig.-Gen. William E. Riley, the American who heads the staff of U.N. observers, will go to the Red Sea Trans-Jordan port of Aqaba and make a final report on events there. The Israelis occupied the Palestine Red Sea coast opposite Aqaba, where British troops are stationed. Trans-Jordan protested.

Riley also was named chairman of a committee of military experts to supervise equalization of Israeli and Trans-Jordan troops.

The Jewish and Trans-Jordan delegates agreed the reduction of forces would be broken down into three areas. One is north from a point called Budrus at the beginning of the front held by Iraqi troops, south to the Jerusalem sector and the truce lines set on Nov. 30. The second area is the Jerusalem sector. The third is the eastern Negev south of the Dead Sea.

The agreement, based on their Nov. 30 truce lines, covers the entire Jerusalem sector. It establishes an armsitice line that starts at a point near the village of Al Walaja southwest of Jerusalem, cuts through the Holy City and swings back to the west, completing a semi-circle.

Timber Wolves Attack Damage Plane Twice

PORT ARTHUR, March 17 — (CP)—Pilot Harry Swanson said today that twice in the last week his plane had been "attacked" by wolves.

The airman said he had been cruising low over Lake Helen, east of here, when he spotted a pair of timber wolves on the ice. He landed nearby and taxied in pursuit.

Gene Choiselate, the plane's "gunner" had fired one shot and wounded one of the animals. The animal turned on the plane and ripped a big gap in the wing before Choiselat finished it off.

A week ago, another animal tore through the tail assembly of Swanson's light plane.

Five Men Bail For 7 Hours Before Rescue Ships Come

PORT DOVER, March 17—(CP).—Rescued from their leaking fishing tug in a wintry Lake Erie storm, five fishermen today told of a seven-hour battle Wednesday to save themselves and a ship they had given up as lost. Said Capt. Bill McDonald, skipper of the 70-foot fishing tug Ferroclad: "Another three bucketsful and we'd have been done."

The crew, who abandoned the tug after it sprang a leak and then were driven back by storm to the sinking Ferroclad, were saved by three other tugs.

Crewmen aboard the Ferroclad were: Hugh McDonald, Victor Gibbons, Hector Butchart and Frank Porter, all of Port Dover.

The tug had taken on about 400 whitefish before the captain noticed the hull was filling with water.

"She seemed to be taking water fast so I ordered the men into the yawl boat," said Capt McDonald. Bucking heavy seas and blinded by snow, they were forced to return to the tug and began bailing.

Toss Out Nets

Said Porter: "We threw $4,500 worth of nets and gear into the lake, but we saved the fish, and the coal for heat."

The Ferroclad's radio signals were picked up by the tug Northside, whose direction-finder guid-

Mother Milking As 4 Die In Fire

KAPUSKASING, March 17 — (CP)—Four children were burned to death on an isolated backwoods farm Tuesday while their mother was milking.

Killed were Jean Paul Perrault, 4, and his brothers, Antoine, 2½; Morris, 18 months, and Roger, six months.

Their mother was away from the house approximately 30 minutes. Neighbors noticed flames shooting from the roof of the house, but were unable to put out the fire in time to rescue the children.

The father, Paul Perrault, was working at a lumber camp.

Mrs. Perrault left the children sleeping in the small frame farmhouse while she went to do the chores in the barn. She first noticed the fire when she came outside of the barn with the milk pails.

Charge Russian Satellites Now Secretly Rearming

LONDON, March 17—(AP).—Western powers accused Russia and three of her satellites Wednesday of going back on their commitments.

Britain declared Communist-ruled Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary, now in the Soviet bloc after wartime partnership with Germany, were secretly rearming, in violation of their peace treaties, with Russia's connivance and support.

The United States State Department, in a note to Moscow made public Wednesday, accused Russia of violating at least six separate promises to return all German war prisoners in Soviet hands by the end of 1948. It renewed a demand that they be turned loose.

France and Britain sent similar notes, the State Department said. The British note estimated at least 200,000 German POW's still are in Russian hands. Russia contends she was never bound by any agreement to repatriate the captives of last Dec. 31. The United States, Britain and France contend the Big-Four Foreign Ministers reached such an agreement in April of 1947.

State Minister Hector McNeil told the House of Commons Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary are guilty of "flagrant violations of the peace treaties" in rearming and hinted Britain will take the matter to the United Nations.

Bulgaria and Romania have already increased their armed forces beyond treaty specifications, he said, and Hungary is reported expanding her military strength.

McNeil said all three have turned down a British-American request for information on their armed strength on the ground that Russia, one of the allies concerned in the treaties, did not join in the request.

Labor Retains Sowerby Seat

SOWERBY, Yorkshire, England March 17—(Reuters)—Labor retained the Sowerby seat in the House of Commons in Wednesday's by-election, it was announced today. Thus the Government party maintained its record of not having lost a single constituency since the 1945 general election.

The Labor candidate, Douglas Houghton, had a majority of 2,152 over his Conservative opponent, Lt.-Col. P. Bryan.

The figures: Houghton, 18,606; Bryan, 16,454.

The seat was made vacant by the resignation from the House of John Belcher, former Parliamentary Secretary to the Board of Trade.

Air-Lift Planes Fly Shamrocks To Berlin

BERLIN, March 17—(Reuters).—Air-lift planes today flew in shamrocks for the Irish community here, celebrating their first St. Patrick's Day in blockaded Berlin.

Although there are fewer than 30 Eire citizens in the German capital, there are an estimated 300 Irish-Americans serving with the United States forces and military government.

Butter Price Drops

TORONTO, March 17 (CP).—Earl Kitchen, secretary of the Dairy Farmers of Canada, said Wednesday butter was selling in Toronto today at 58 cents a pound wholesale—the floor price established by the Dominion Government. Retail prices were from 63 to 66 cents a pound.

Carlin Turned Back By U.S. Immigration

TORONTO, March 17 (CP). — Robert H. Carlin, Eastern Canada director of the Left-Wing International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (CIO) today was turned back by United States immigration authorities when he wen to board Chicago-bound airylane at nearby Malton Airport.

American officials met the union official, whose headquarters are in Sudbury, in the waiting room of the airport as he was about to present his tickets. They served him with a notice barring him from entering the U.S.

Officials were silent on the question of whether Carl would be sent back to school.

But even though his plight had gained wide publicity, his chances of getting a job were dim because Michigan law forbids issuance of a child labor permit to youths under 14.

At the corner drugstore and in the local tavern, Carl's fate is the chief topic. Everyone in this town of 2,000 has been talking about it since Carl asked a local radio station for help and the story came out.

Most of Paw Paw is siding with the young father.

"If he's man enough to have a kid, he's man enough to go to work," said one old-timer.

"If I hadn't lost my old job," Carl said, "I would've made a go of it and nobody would've known the difference." He had worked in a pickle factory at nearby Lawton, home of his parents, until he moved here in January.

13-Year-Old Father Fears Wife, Baby May Starve

PAW PAW, Mich., March 17.—(AP).—In a two-room tarpaper shack behind the city dump, a desperate, 13 - year - old father waited today for something — anything—to happen.

Crowded into the tiny house are Carl Harvey Blake, his wife Winifred, 16, their three-week-old son and eight in-laws.

Icy March winds seep through the cardboard-lined walls. The main diet for all the family is bread and potatoes.

"We eat 30 loaves a week," said Leo Singleton, 43, the father-in-law. His $20 weekly earnings from a junkyard job buy little more.

Winifred recently tore the baby's four ragged diapers in halves to make them go farther. She has sacrificed her own food to buy him canned milk.

But in spite of everything, she and Carl want above all else to remain together.

Youth Stabs Father In Hotel

SYDNEY, N.S., March 17. — (CP).—A 52-year-old father today lay critically wounded in hospital here after, police said, his knife-wielding son tried to kill him and then committed suicide.

Police said 20-year-old Fred Hambly of Montreal, entered his father's hotel room Wednesday night. Minutes later, persons in the lobby heard a scream. Frank Hambly lurched from the room shouting "don't let him get out." He weaved down the corridor and sank to the floor in a pool of blood.

Police said they later found the son dying on the hotel-room floor. He had been slashed four or five times around the heart and died shortly after police arived. A home-made knife with a seven-inch blade lay near the body.

The elder Hambly was also from Montreal. He was stabbed several times inn the stomach.

Frank Hambly and his wife, Edith, were planning a divorce, police said. From this stemmed a probable motive for the attempted murder and suicide.

Tried Before Hearing Constable Declares

TORONTO, March 17 (CP). — Constable Alfred Mullis, suspended from the Toronto Police Force Monday and charged with neglect of duty, said to-day he had been tried before receiving a hearing.

The suspension and charge followed a double traffic fatality last week when two men were killed in a car-train smash-up. Police officials said Mullis failed to inspect the level-crossing gate as ordered, following a report the gateman was not in fit condition to work. The gateman was charged with criminal negligence

Leave Russia Ouf Of New Wheat Pact

Soviet Export Quota Said Too High; Make Own Deal

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) —A new international wheat agreement with Russia left out was proposed Wednesday by Canada, the United States and Australia, currently discussing wheat exporting problems here.

Charles F. Wilson of Ottawa, chairman of the six-member exporters committee, said the decision was made because the Soviet Union was not willing to accept an export quota of less than 75,000,000 bushels a year.

The other exporting countries felt that Russia should be limited to 50,000,000 bushels annually, he said.

F. Sheed Anderson of Britain, chairman of the importer group, told a reporter he expected this group to reach an agreement within a day on whether to accept the new offer made by the exporters.

The offer would pledge them to supply 450,000,000 bushels of wheat a year for four years at a maximum price of $1.80 a bushel.

Minimum Price

The minimum price would be $1.50 the first year, 1949-50. It would then drop 10 cents a bushel to a low of $1.20 in the fourth year.

In addition to the United States, Canada and Australia, the new offer includes two minor exporters, France and Uruguay.

Wilson said the decision to leave Russia out is final. He said that the Soviet delegate, Sergei Borisov, made no objection and did not indicate any willingness to withdraw from his previous stand.

He said that if Russia were permitted to supply 75,000,000 bushels a year, the three major exporters "would be giving up markets against our will and against the will of our importers."

Delegates from Poland, Finland and Czechoslovakia declined to say whether they will participate in the agreement without the Soviet Union.

ed it to the rescue. Two of the Northside's crew, Buck Young and Art Young of Port Dover, went aboard the foundering Ferroclad to help the exhausted crew battle the rising water in the hold.

"I figured she'd have foundered within 15 minutes if help hadn't reached us," said Capt. McDonald.

Two sister tugs, the Stuart B., captained by Payne, and the Varey Bros., captained by Albert McDonald, a brother of Bill, arrived on the scene and the Stuart B. managed to fasten a towline to the Ferroclad after the Northside's line had broken. It took five hours to bring the battered ship to Port Burwell, 35 miles west of here, through heavy seas.

The Ferroclad, owned by th W. F. Kolbe Fishing Company of Port Dover, is now being repaired after its battering. Cause of the leak is believed to have been a split seacock at the engine.

Checking the meter when parking the car causes County Court Judge S. L. Smoke as great a headache as any. Returning to his car from the barber's shop Wednesday, he found he had overstayed the hour and had collected a parking ticket.

Drew Charges Government Power Drunk

OTTAWA, March 17 (CP)—A filibuster-type debate against the government's method of extending wartime controls has blossomed in the Commons and promises a rough and stormy passage for the enabling legislation.

The debate sprang into full bloom Wednesday with George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, hammering again at the procedural steps being taken and repeating his request that the government introduce separate bills defining each control.

The opposition fight centres around the government's proposal to bring in one main bill to give life for another year to 10 main orders-in-council authorizing controls on timber, steel domestic rentals and prices of bread, sugar, butter and other foods.

Mr. Drew, in an hour-long speech, challenged the administration to prove the existence of a general emergency which would warrant a government "drunk with power" to seek continuation of wartime orders in a single bill.

In a speech largely repetitious of an early address on the same legislation, he flung charges of "loose, arbitrary and undefined" powers and of "bureaucrats running around loose" at the government benches.

Can't State Policy

Finance Minister Abbott said he could not state the government's attitude toward a possible request that Canada give most-favored-nation treatment to Japanese textile imports.

The Senate returned to the Throne-speech debate and heard Senator L. A. David (L—Quebec) assert that if Canada assumes the right to amend her own constitution, special provision should be made to ensure that the official status of the French language could be changed only with Quebec's assent.

Mr. Drew said it was a "dangerous" thing, for parliament to declare that a general emergency still existed because that act would give the Federal government the right to invade any field of provincial rights that it wished. It also would affect the ability of the courts to protect the people.

There should be specific statutes for specific controls and emergencies.

Ask New School Built For Blind

A recommendation that the new school for the blind at Brantford be proceeded with immediately, was made on Wednesday night by the Peterborough branch of the Louis Braille Society.

Plans of the new school have been drawn up by the provincial government, and comments solicited from the various organizations for the blind.

Members of the local society were of the unanimous opinion that the project should be commenced as soon as possible. The existing school was built in 1872 and it is considered no longer adequate.

Thomas McQuigge, president of the Peterborough Branch, was chairman.

Highlight of the meeting was the extensive program of music and variety numbers provided by guest artists.

Frank Hamon played several piano solos and combined with Miss Dorothy Whatley for a number of duets. Miss Macy Smith gave several vocal solos, and Herbert Mullins and George Rutherford entertained with novelty pieces on fiddle and guitar.

Irish music predominated, and dancing to the tune of old-time music rounded out a social evening.

Unusual Salesman Wanted

on election night. None were opened. No DRO's were sworn in as Mrs. Armstrong had testified.

He had not seen any one change the reports handed Mr. McCabe.

Mr. O'Connor testified he was not the official agent of Mr. Porter but merely a worker in Mr. Porter's campaign.

He was present on the day of the official count "to see that Mr. Porter got a square deal."

Frank Frier, defeated CCF candidate and Mrs. Livingston made a tally of the votes as Mr. McCabe called them out.

Mr. Frost asked if he could suggest how the discrepancies arose.

"No. I don't know anything about it."

He heard the results as Mr. McCabe "hollered out." He did not make notes and had no idea how the election was going. He heard the final results on the radio at home sometime after 10 p.m. He had visited some 20 to 25 polls in the south end of the riding on election day.

These were the polls in which he had worked during the campaign.

Hadn't Discussed It

He had not discussed the alleged discrepancies with Mr. Porter.

Mr. Frier testified Mr. O'Connor opened one of the boxes on the day of the official count. Mr. Frier had seen nothing else.

Mr. McCabe had called off the figures to Mr. Frier and Mrs. Livingston but had never written down any figures himself.

Mr. Frost said Mr. Frier had filed an affidavit with Supreme Court requiring production of documents relating to the election. In his affidavit he said he had reason to believe the returning officer had falsified documents. Mr. Frost asked if Mr. Frier could "throw any light" on how the discrepancies arose.

He said he could not.

Mr. Frost said Mr. Frier had come to the conclusion last June 14 that there were certain irregularities. "He had not discussed it with Major Lewis until Nov. 1.

Police, Fire Bill Rouses Bitter Debate

TORONTO, March 17 —(CP)— The Ontario Legislature will likely vote today on Provincial Treasurer Frost's budget.

Mr. Frost decided Wednesday to present for second reading Attorney-General Blackwell's bill to extend aid to municipal fire departments provided they met certain conditions set by the province. He had intended to end the budget debate Wednesday.

Opposition leaders charged the government was trying to put the bill through the House before it had been properly considered by municipalities. Mr. Blackwell told a delegation from the Association of Ontario Mayors and Reeves Tuesday that their representations would be put before the cabinet.

In a night sitting tonight the House is to consider government bills but not the fire departments bill. Mr. Blackwell will not be able to attend the sitting.

The bill provides that the government pay a share of costs of operating municipal fire departments provided that the Ontario Fire Marshal is satisfied they are "adequate" and eficient." The grants are based on the previous year's expenditures.

Afraid of Bill

C.C.F. Leader E. B. Jolliffe said the government had "stirred up a good deal of suspicion and apprehension" by its method of presenting the bill. Municipalities feared that "as 1849 marked the beginning of municipal government in Ontario, 1949 may mark the beginning of the end."

A. A. MacLeod (Lab-Prog—Toronto Bellwoods) said the bill was "wrapped in a device calculated to club" municipalities. The bill should be referred to a select committee that could hear representations.

C. W. Cox (Lib-Fort William) described the bill as "the thin end of the wedge of taking over power that properly belongs to the elected representatives of the municipalities."

F. O. Robinson (CCF-Port Arthur) said municipalities had asked for help with social services and education but not in running police and fire departments.

Enlarging on remarks made Wednesday to the mayors and reeves, Mr. Blackwell said the country was faced with "a constant and continuous possibility of a national emergency." Fire brigades were not equipped to meet such an emergency. There were 94 different kinds of hydrants and couplings in the province. All should be uniform.

Gordon Ellis (CCF - Essex North) described the bill as "half-baked and improperly presented." And H. W. Walker (Lib-Welland) said it would discourage qualified men from running for municipal office.

Their Own Idea

Mr. Blackwell said municipalities had "of their own volition" permitted organization of fire departments for collective bargaining. In 1947, it became apparent that there was some attempt to oust "responsible" leaders of the International Firefighters Union (A.F.L.) and supplant them by leaders who favored elimination of the "no-strike" clause from contracts. The government had amended the fire departments act to provide for compulsory collective bargaining. Since municipalities were forced to bargain collectively with their employees, they were entitled to support from public funds.

If "a calamity" struck one community facilities of other municipalities would be "practically useless."

If federal, provincial and municipal governments allowed this situation to continue "they will live to be damned by the people of this province."

Mr. Blackwell said he had discussed this situation with federal authorities.

German War Orphans Get Homes In U.S.

NEW YORK, March 17.—(AP). —They trooped down the steps from the plane, a little hesitantly, carrying small blue boxes.

There were 66 of them, war-orphaned children brought here from Germany to enter foster homes.

An attendant offered six-year-old Erna Kulmanis a plate of pot roast. She started to cry. She did not know what it was.

They wore odd caps and knitted hats of khaki wool. Their clothes were neat, but mostly out-sized hand-me-downs.

"Is this really America?" asked Immonts Franks, nine, over and over again.

Two curlyhaired youngsters hugged each other, and the tears streamed down their cheeks.

Few of them spoke English.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

Canadian Jamboree:—A special prize is being offered by the Chief Scout for the best dec... ed Scout Staff presented a... Jamboree being held in Ottawa next July. It is reported that at least 10 boys will be going from Peterborough and that it is likely a Troop will be formed in Peterborough with boys from surrounding districts coming in to make up the unit. We would like to see more First Class Scouts ready to join this contingent.

Paper Dirve:—Final plans were made at the last executive meeting for the paper drive on April 7. All units should be getting ready for this affair. The Cubs will be asked to go ahead of the Scouts and get the paper out ready to be put on the trucks.

Patrol Leader's Conference:—Definite word will soon be sent out about the proposed Patrol Leaders Conference to be held on March 29. All Patrol leaders should arrange at one to attend. Any Troop meeting on that Tuesday evening should plan to have theid P. L.'s absent for this gathering. Art Jackson will be in charge.

Craft Show:—We are looking forward to a bigger and better show than ever this year. According to report a stage show will be put on depicting scouting. This part of the program will be under District Cub Leader Quirt McKinney.

Camporee:—A meeting of the Camporee committee laid out details regarding this camp which is to be held on the weekend of June 4 and 5. The district Scouters are in charge.

Rover Moot:—Latest word from headquarters reports that many more applications have been received than there are places for. Peterborough will have at least one representatives and the Local Association are still pulling for more.

Pack visits:—Your scribe attended the meeting of St. Andrew's Pack on Friday and found the group in action under the leadership of Rod MacNab. Signalling and knotting were in full progress. There are about 25 members onthe roll, attendance 16.

Monday evening visited Murray St. Pack. Miss Yelland had the gang well under control. Her assistants are Baloo Bob LeBarr and Bagheera Murray Yelland. Boys were divided into four Groups taking Signalling, knotting Union Jack and Tenderpad work. We would like to see Murray St. Group Committee get a Troop going.

Field Commissioner visits St. George's:—Tuesday evening your Scribe accompanied Art Jackson down to St. George's. Here we found Akela Bill Jordan in charge of a regular gang of about 35 boys. District Scouter George Houghton was present. Since the beginning of Scout year five boys have been invested into the movement and one Second Star presented.

Group Committee at work:—Dropping in at All Saint's Tuesday evening after the visit to St. George's Commissioner Jackson and your Scribe attended the Group Committee meeting and found a very interested body of men under the Leadership of Charlie Johnson. Scout Art Rose and Akela Peggy Houghton were present at the meeting.

Wanted LEADERS:—It has been very apparent at all the visits that the leaders certainly need more assistance in their work. All Group Committee should get busy on this phase. We would like to get names of interested people.

Leader retires:—It is reported that Cy. Davis has retired as Scout Master of Trinity Troop and that Dr. Perry has taken over that duty.

Trinity Pack:—Again some 25 boys plunged along the Jungle Trail. Tests passed were Union Jack—Grenville Dafoe, David Ross, Cleanliness— Bob Perry David Ross, Grenville Dafoe, Knotting—Jack Dafoe, Ron Brazer, Model—Frank Jobbitt, Peter Chown, Saving — Sidney Dinsdale. Jack Dafoe has now completed all his first Star tests and will receive his badge at the next meeting.

St. Paul's:—It was a night of nights for Allan Amos, for he placed his feet firmly on the Jungle Trail when before the Pack and with his Mother and Father in attendance he was invested as a wolf cub. Games followed then tests work at which Donald Barrie, Douglas Hemphill, David Buckley, Ken Sloan, Allan Amos, Barry Foster, Teddy Coulson, passed somersault. Teddy Coulson Barrry Foster and David Buckley passed skipping and book-balancing. Foster Innes and Philip Dawson- compass.

We were glad to have Baloo Hornal back.

News Missing:— We missed the weekly reports from All Saints and Salvation Army. How about it Peg and Dot.

PLAN BUS SERVICE

According to Mayor R. I. Moore of Lindsay there is a good chance that the town will have a bus service by May 1. Council advertised for tenders and it is now negotiating with a company whose name has not been revealed. The Mayor thought that fares would be 10 cents or three for 25 cents, with a five-cent rate for school-aged children.

Over Objective In Industrial Division Drive

Once again the Industrial Division of the Peterborough Red Cross and Community Fund has gone over its objective.

... life with the 25 per cent increase in the fund, the objective in 1949 for the industrial division was raised ot $32,000—$7,000 more than last year.

The amount subscribed was $32,724.75. The campaign objective was $75,000.

Ian McRae, chairman of the industrial division, has extended his thanks to all the canvassers. He explained that the oversubscription this year is less than last "no doubt largely due to a substantial increase in our objective."

While there may be some revision in the final figures, here is a breakdown of contributions in the division:

B. F. Ackerman and Son, $190; Albion Knitting Co., $75; Beaver Lumber Co., $18; Bell Telephone Co., $165.50; Brinton Carpet Co., $800; Canada Packers Ltd., $1,000; Canadian Canoe Co., $126; Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd., $17,500; Canadian Nashua Paper, $400; Canadian Sealright Co. $151; Canadian Raybestos $425; Canadian Ventilating Shade, $113; Card and Paper Works, $32; CHEX, $64; Colonial Weaving Co., $100; De Laval Co. Obituary

MRS. F. J. REDPATH

Funeral service for the late Mrs. Frederick J. Redpath of 641 Water St., was held on Wednesday at the Belleghem Funeral Home. The Rev. Dr. James Semple of George Street United Church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. J. R. R. Cooper, officiated. Pall-bearers were Bruce and Fred Elliott, George Mullen, Bruce Smithson, Aylmer Dawson and Alex Pidgeon and burial was at Little Lake Cemetery.

The funeral was largely attended and among those from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Simpson of North Port, Ont., Mrs. Douglas Redpath of Oshawa, Miss Vera Lawrie of Hamilton, Mrs. L. Flemming of Hillhead, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Hancock of Newtonville and Mrs. Blanche Dawson of Bailieboro.

Mrs. Redpath died on Sunday at her residence following a sudden illness. She was born in Cavan township, the former Margaret Jane Morton, and had lived in the city for the past 45 years. She was a member of George Street United Church, of its Red Cross Society, the Women's Auxiliary and Women's Missionary Society.

CLAIM MANY UNEMPLOYED

Concern over the large number of unemployed in the city has been expressed by Alfred Barber, president of the Allied Labor Council. He stated that he believes there are about 2,000 persons out of work, and that all factories are working shorter hours. As a result of his statement the Labor Council voted unanimously in favor of a motion that the executive ascertain the exact employment situation from the National Employment Service. A report will be brought in at the April 5 meeting.

DANGEROUS PRACTICE

Fire crackers appear to be the current device for school boy pranksters. A number of boys have been having fun with them recently, setting them off at a laundry on Hunter St., but for Sam Yip, who operates the laundry, the crackers are nothing but a menace. Wednesday a number of articles of clothing which were there to be laundered, were burnt by sparks flying from the crackers, Mr. Yip told the police.

Patrick Sullivan Of Ennismore Dies

Patrick G. Sullivan, who for many years has operated the general store at Ennismore, died today in Peterborough at the age of 70 after a long illness. Born in Ennismore, Mr. Sullivan spent his life there, operating the store for the past 30 years or more.

In his young days Mr. Sullivan drove the stage coach between Peterborough and Bobcaygeon, making the journey regularly over a period of eight years. He was the son of Cornelius Sullivan and Ellen Gorman.

Mr. Sullivan leaves a son, Joseph, who is in charge of the store, a daughter Marie, who also lives at home and another daughter, Mrs. Grant Goodwin (Margaret) of Trenton. Mrs. Sullivan died in 1917.

Mr. Sullivan's sister, Mrs. A. Harry Kyle, died at Medicine Hat in January this year.

Funeral will take place at St. Martin's church, Ennismore, on Saturday morning with requiem high mass at 10 a.m., followed by burial in St. Martin's cemetery.

Government Planning Atom Tracer Lab

OTTAWA, March 17—(CP) — Resources Minister MacKinnon said Wednesday the government is going to establish a radioactive tracer laboratory to pioneer Canadian investigations into the application of tracers to industrial and scientific problems.

The radioisotopes or tracer atoms from the Chalk River atomic pilot plant already are being used for a number of medical and other investigations and the government has been urging industry to use them as the greatest research weapons turned up since the invention of the microscope.

The minister said the governmental estimates tabled this week in the Commons also provide for an expenditure of $268,130 for the investigation of radioactive ores.

He said prospecting for radioactive minerals "has shown a marked increase following the rescinding of regulations late in 1947, which reserved all new discoveries in Northwest Territories and Yukon to the Crown, and later the removal of similar restrictions by the provinces.

ESTABLISH AUTO FIRM

Three former employees of Peterborough Automotive Supply have opened a store in Oshawa distributing automotive and industrial supplies. President of the new firm which is located on Prince St. is Ken Jackson, former vice-president and sales manager of Peterborough Automotive Supply. Nick Knapp has also moved to Oshawa and is the territory salesman. Fred Jamieson, who represented the Peterborough firm in Oshawa for the past six months, will be the accountant. Mr. Jackson is immediate past president of the Y's Men's Club and he has a membership in the Sales and Advertising Club. He is a charter member of the Associated Canadian Travellers' Association.

Cripps Unhappy But Finances In Fair Shape

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, March 17 —(CP)— If anyone but Sir Stafford Cripps was Chancellor of the Exchequer, budget forecasts would be as bright as the flowers of spring.

But his April message to the taxpayers is as likely to be a slap as a caress, although the election is only 15 months away.

The Chancellor expects to end the present year March 31 with a surplus on hand. His revenues have been as buoyant that he probably wil lstay in the black despite expenditures £221,000,000 ($884,000,00) higher than anticipated when his 1948-49 budget was prepared.

With an election at hand, and persistent grumbling over high taxes, this should point to easier times in 1949-50. Labor backbenchers, concerned about their re-election prospects, want concessions to advertise the government's concern with the welfare of ordinary folk. But they feel no more cheerful about Sir Stafford's methods than do the non-political innocent bystanders.

The Labor men would like a reduction in the purchase tax, now ranging from 33 1/3 to 100 per cent of the wholesale price on less essential consumer goods including much electical equipment, numerous textiles, drugs, pottery not used for food, and cutlery.

Then they would lke something done about the amenities of life. Sir Stafford, a persistent smoker himself, appears content to leave cigarets at 3s 6d (70 cents) for 20 with other tobacco high in proportion. This means a working man who smokes 20 cigarets a day may spend a quarter of his income on tobacco.

Policeman Suspended Didn't Investigate

TORONTO, March 17—Suspension of a Toronto policeman on a charge of neglect of duty was announced Wednesday by the Toronto Police Commission.

PC Alfred Mullis, veteran of 14 years on the force, has been suspended following the double fatality at the CNR level crossing on Dupont St., near Lansdowne Ave., March 9. Police said Mullis had been ordered to investigate the condition of the gateman at the crossing but had not done so.

The crossing gates were open when an auto carrying two Toronto executives was hit by a train. The gateman has been charged with criminal negligence.

Stationed in west Toronto, Mullis is married and has one child. Recognized as one of the police department's best athletes, he has represented Toronto at track meets in Detroit and Montreal.

Ordered To Settle

OTTAWA, March 17 (CP). — Participants in a dispute over telephone and trolley-bus wires at Cornwall Wednesday were ordered by the Board of Transport Commissioners to get together and try to settle their differences out of court. After a two-day hearing that found the parties only about $12,000 apart in a financial dispute, Chief Commissioner M. B. Archibald gave them instructions to negotiate outside court with the assisance of the board engineers.

Percy Bradbury Second Death Flu In Cobourg

COBOURG, March 17—(ENS)—Percy Bradbury, well-known painter and decorator, died Wednesday morning in Cobourg General Hospital from pneumonia. His wife predeceased him by a little more than a week. Both contracted the flu which developed into penumonia and they were taken to the hospital. Mr. Bradbury held his own for a while against the disease but on Tuesday night became much worse.

He was born in England and came to Canada 43 years ago, taking up residence in Cobourg on arrival. He was an active member of St. Peter's Anglican Chruch and will be buried on Friday in St. Peter's Cemetery. He is survived by two sons, James and Edward of Cobourg and a daughter, Mrs. Howard Niles of Kirkland Lake.

Seals Campaign

COBOURG, March 17—(ENS) Cobourg Rotary Club will open its Easter Seals campaign to aid crippled children, commencing on March 24. The campaign will continue until April 20. R. S. Malton is chairman of the campaign committee. During the past three years a total of $8,000 has been expended on crippled children's work in Cobourg and district.

Undergo Operation

COBOURG, March 17—(ENS) —Councillor W. E. Cooper will undergo an operation shortly to correct an illness that has kept him in poor health for some time. Mayor Joe Smith said that Councillor Cooper had been granted leave of absence from his municipal duties for a three months' period.

Britain Refuses To Make Insemination Court Offence

LONDON, March 17—(Reuters) — The government Wednesday night rejected a suggestion by the Archbishop of Canterbury that human artificial insemination by a donor should be made a criminal offence.

The government also contested the view of a commission recently appointed by the archbishop that artificial insemination by a donor amounts to adultery.

Prominence had been given to the subject by a recent decision in the divorce court whereby a decree of nullity was given although a child had been born by the use of artificial insemination by the husband. It was held that the marriage had not been consumated.

Lord Reading, who initiated Wednesday night's debate, said the position of the medical profession in this matter was one of "immense delicacy and responsibility."

If the actual father's name was known and was not put down when a child was registered, one might be committing perjury. It might be that a doctor would find himself involved in a charge of forgery.

Lord Reading said that if the view that artificial insemination by a known donor constituted adultery was right, the donor could be cited as a co-respondent unless the husband had consented and thereby connived the adultery.

He urged the government to appoint a commission to consider the whole problem.

Lord Chorley, in his reply, said the government's legal advisers doubted whether artificial insemination by a donor amounted to adultery. He said the question might eventually have to be decided by the courts.

Need More Ministers

REGINA, March 17— (CP) — Most Rev. G. F. Kingston, Archbishop of Nova Scotia and Anglican Primate of All Canada, said Wednesday that there was a great need for more ministers in the Anglican Church of Canada. "There is a shortage of clergy in every diocese in the Dominion," he said in an interview.

Hobby Show Has Fine Exhibits

CAMPBELLFORD, March 17.—(ENS).—The third annual hobby show sponsored by the Public Library Board, now in progress here, has a fine assortment of handicrafts, expressing the natural aptitudes of the local hobbyists.

A table given over to ceramics displays candleholders, tea plates, ash-trays, animals and flowers, all processed from a special imported clay, baked in expensive electric kilns and carefully glazed and colored. Mrs. Beach, a skilled worker in clay, introduced the art of ceramics to the local hobbyists a few years ago, and she has apt pupils in Mrs. Ward Baker, Mrs. J. F. Bennett, Mrs W. H. Brady and many others.

Everyone has whittled at some time in his life, but there is a distinction between whittling as a constructive effort and just cutting shavings from a stick. The former requires practice, patience and persistence, as Harold Carlaw has demonstrated in his miniature model of a stage coach complete in every detail. Harold spent many happy hours working on this creation with a jackknife and a block of soft wood.

Gwenneth Stephens and Barbara Fox express their talent in shellcraft. They are presenting a fine collection of earrings and other ornaments of attractive designs and colors.

Sketches of a horse's head and bird by Donald Russell are artistically done in black against a white background. Joan Little of West's School displays a crayon sketch of a landscape that would be a credit to an experienced artist.

Paintings in oils and water colors by Mrs. B. McGuire, G. Armour, Mrs J. F. Burnett, Mrs. J. Hefferman, Chas. Ackerman, J. G. Palliser, J. H. Smith and Charlotte M. Horner are well done. Mr. Deviney exhibits a large collection of stamps from New Zealand, Union of South Africa and British Solomon Islands.

Mrs. J. E. Dooker, Rose Stanbury and Mrs. R. E. Fox are exhibiting artistically designed hooked rugs and Joseph Maddocks displays a braided door mat. There is a fine arrangement of fancy-work by Mrs. John Thompson and Mrs. Ed. Todd; ladies' purses, wallets, key and comb cases by Glen Nelson; metal and beautifully hand-carved wood serving trays by J. G. Scott; designs by Phyllis Brown; and an art book by John Doan.

The Tax Rate

The tax rate of 45.5 mills which was struck by the City Council on Wednesday is the highest in the history of the city. The assessment of $35,030,175 against which it will be levied is the highest. The expected taxation yield is the greatest—$1,593,873. No more specific indication of both the growth of the city and the increased cost of operating it can be given than through these figures and a comparison with those of ten years ago.

* * *

In 1939, before the war had made any appreciable impact on municipal conditions, the tax rate was 34.5 mills (in the next year it was 33). The assessment was $24,596,792. The amount raised by taxation was $857,811. The tax rate has therefore increased in the decade by 11 mills, or approximately 32 per cent. The assessment has increased by more than 42 per cent. and the cost of running the city—to the ratepayers—by about 86 per cent. The population has increased from 24,146 to a little better than 35,000. That is an increase of 45 per cent. The amount of tax per head in 1939 was $35.53. In spite of the frightening appearance of the array of increases, the tax per head in this year will be approximately $45, an increase of ten dollars in the ten years.

* * *

What do all these figures mean? They mean that taxes will be appreciably heavier, notably because of the four-mill increase over the 1948 rate. The increase of only ten dollars a head during the decade is not quite as easy as it looks. The tax rate is against property assessment, not against heads. Individual property assessments have suffered a general though not excessive increase in the last year. A consoling thought for citizen ratepayers is that business and industrial plants have greatly expanded in numbers and size during the last decade, and the heavier share of the increased assessments and rate falls on them, not on individual ratepayers.

* * *

The increases reflect the growth of the city. Peterborough cannot grow without new streets, new sewers, more schools, more extended municipal services. These cost money, much money in these times. They also reflect the general increase in the cost of living. Wages are higher, materials are higher, food is higher. Therefore streets cannot be swept at the same cost as in 1939.

* * *

Peterborough's financial burden is not unique. Other cities are having to budget for more revenue; assessments in other cities have risen; tax rates have increased. The general trend cannot be unheeded by Queen's Park. There comes a time when municipalities can no longer find the means to raise the money they require. Their methods of taxation are very limited. The Ontario Government has already shown that it is aware of the situation by promising increased grants. When the 1949 budgets are presented to the people of the municipalities all over Ontario, the Government may well take a second look at the situation. Does it fully recognize the burden on ratepayers, who in Peterborough must now pay out of their own pockets 86 per cent. more than in 1939 to keep the city operating? This week two municipal bodies (the Association of Mayors and Reeves, and the Ontario Municipal Association) have been urging this course on the Kennedy Government. The welfare of society begins in the local communities. If they are not solvent, not able to provide for their needs, the whole body of Ontario suffers.

* * *

Is the new high tax rate an omen of disaster? No. Despite the general trend during the decade, the increase this year is exceptional. This year's jump is a leap over a gap; there should not be similar extensive gaps next year. Four mills on the assessed dollar (that is, four-tenths of a cent) is an unusually heavy increase. The essential revenue demanded by that increase is up by nearly $150,000. There are explanations for this sudden jump, and they are not hard to find. We are now on the very crest of a wave of necessary expenditure at the peak of prices. We can do nothing municipally about the prices, nor can we avoid the new additional expenses. It is obvious that the councillors have pared the estimates as thinly as is consistent with the requirements for which we who elected them to office expect them to provide. The wave of expenditure should subside as the need becomes a swell, and if we keep our heads during it we shall not be washed under.

Queen's Appeals For Funds

On Tuesday Queen's University opened its appeal for the money which it needs to carry on its work; one million dollars is wanted for new buildings, two millions are needed to increase the university endowment, and in addition $175,000 more is needed every year to meet the increased costs of operating the university. We do not think that Queen's will have extreme difficulty in raising this money, though large sums are never collected without some difficulties. But there are many loyal sons and daughters of Queen's in Canada who will make contributions, there are a number of industrial firms which recognize the work that Queen's has done in training able men and women, and there are private persons who are ready to respond to such appeals. If all of these groups respond quickly and generously to the appeal, it should not present any insuperable difficulty.

Extensive new building is needed at Queen's. The administrative staff and the library can no longer be crowded in the same building, and therefore a new administration building is needed; such a change means that the Douglas Library would need extensive alteration. The women's residence needs enlarging. The Students' Memorial Union must be completed. As for the endowment fund, it is the fund which bridges the gap between what students pay for their instruction, and what that instruction really costs. It is no news to anyone, we believe, that universities offer education to students at considerably less than its real cost.

Queen's does not seek to become a huge university. Those who guide it are sure that it can do its best work as a comparatively small institution. But in order to do that work it must be able to support sound research, and good teaching, and it must have the wherewithal to create a sense of corporate unity, and that means good buildings and equipment. All these things cost money.

Peterborough is a city of divided university loyalty. Many of our young people go to 'Varsity, many others to Queen's. It is to the attention of the latter, and to their friends, that we commend the appeal of Queen's University.

R. J. Devey

Richard Devey gave music in Peterborough during his many years of activity here a wholesome vigour and brightness. He was a competent and beloved church organist and choirmaster but it was outside regular church choir work that his influence was most widely appreciated. The choirs he organized and directed in oratorio, the choruses he trained and stage productions he managed for performances of English light opera, gave Peterborough good music and gay, colourful entertainment. He brought much experience and warm enthusiasm to his music which he imparted to his singers. Devey productions are no less memorable than the man himself.

This musician of generous friendliness, infectious enthusiasm and cheerful energy died on Tuesday, after several years of retirement. He holds an honoured place in the history of music in the community and in the hearts of thousands of citizens grateful for the music he gave them.

From The Critic's Notebook

SHAKESPEARE, 23 PLAYS AND THE SONNETS, edited by G. B. Harrison (Harcourt Brace). Neglectfully, I have not reviewed this book as promptly as I should have done, for it appeared several months ago. However, it is not the sort of book which will decline in value in a few months. Professor Harrison includes the best-known Shakespearean plays, providing each with a concise, illuminating introduction in which the theme of the play is considered; notes are conveniently given at the bottom of each page and they are so prepared that a glossary is rendered unnecessary. The name of the editor is a sufficient guarantee that these appendages of scholarship are in accord with the best modern criticism. The special value of this volume, however, lies (in my judgement) in its admirable General Introduction, into which Professor Harrison has crammed the essence of many volumes of Shakespeare criticism. This book is meant for students, and the effect of this Introduction will be to send the best of them to books which will expand the hints which Dr. Harrison has so temptingly dropped. Admirable also is the generous selection of pictures, which must make plain even to the most poorly stored mind something of the external world of Shakespeare's time, its dress, its architecture, its playhouses, its music, its weapons, its money, shipping, documents and so forth. This is a book which demands the consideration of every teacher and student whose work touches, however lightly, upon the works of Shakespeare. R.D.

MOUNT IDA by Monk Gibbon (Clarke, Irwin). Here is a book from England which is not strictly a novel nor is it a complete autobiography. In its more objective passages it is almost a travel narrative, giving finely detailed pictures of the various parts of western Europe in which the author sojourned. On the other hand it is an equally detailed and carefully remembered record of the author's emotions at three points of time in his life, the times when he was about to fall in love. The reference in the title is to the story of Paris on Mount Ida making his famous choice among the three goddesses.

The first part of the book recalls the writer's life as a teacher in a private school in North Wales, after the first great War. "Mademoiselle" the teacher of French, is an unusual and very young lady, who captures his imagination. A gradual revelation of her character as seen through his eyes leads to the admission of her identity, a most interesting surprise, for she became a famous woman in her sphere.

Part two introduces a charming character, the friend and travelling companion of the author. Mathews is a wealthy young Englishman, seeking for the atmosphere of the past in the out-of-the-way places. He is well equipped to be an enlightening guide. The author's reflections on the life of Rome in the twenties and his descriptions and reflections about Italy in general were of more interest to this reader than the picture of his second "goddess". At the Lake of Nemi the travellers came upon a ruined building in use as an inn. "First a temple, then a monastery, and now an inn. It is symbolic. Once men gave the loveliest of their sites to the gods, but if a place is beautiful today, it is more likely to be dedicated to a luxury hotel."

The concluding section takes us to Switzerland. Perhaps no modern but Thomas Mann has outdone Gibben in his ability to make us feel the mountians in the writing. By this time however, the reader may begin to wonder if the writer is ever going to put his toys away, for this is a record of youth, a little attenuated in the closing chapters.

The style is leisurely, minutely detailed, reminiscent of Proust in some of the descriptive passages. No doubt the "realist" would find it slow and rather sentimental. The literary and philosophic musings would appeal to those of similar romantic outlook to the writer, the seekers for beauty in books, persons, places and things. It may be unnecessary to add that the author is an Irishman and a poet. H.T.K.

A NOTEBOOK ON WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE, by Edith Sitwell (Macmillan). This book is exactly what its title declares it to be—a notebook. It is not a coherent commentary on the poet's work, nor is it an introduction to Shakespeare; it is decidedly not a book for beginners or for students who are looking for a few pithy judgements which will save them the trouble of reading Shakespeare's plays. It cannot be called a book of criticism. It contains Edith Sitwell's personal opinions and judgements, several of which appear to be rather simple and obvious, several of which are somewhat rarified and attenuated, and several of which are valuable and even wonderful flashes of insight and intuition, in which the mind of a great modern poet has cast, for a moment, a brilliant and searching beam upon the mind of a great poet of the ages. Nothing useful can be said in criticism of such a book. Your best plan is to get for yourself, and read, re-read and ponder it. R.D.

THE SEALED VERDICT by Lionel Shapiro (McClelland & Stewart). Lionel Shapiro, Canadian born and educated at McGill, became an American war correspondent and travelled with the United States forces in Europe. Afterwards he spent a year in occupied Germany, and it is this latter phase of his experience which provides material for "The Sealed Verdict".

As one would expect, this is a reportorial type of novel, and skilful of its kind. Although, as reported on the jacket, Mr. Shapiro took honours in psychology, this does not seem to have provided him with a substitute for that deeper insight by means of which more creative writers make their characters memorable, at least so far as this story is concerned. For this book, as well as several other American war novels that have come to hand, seems to employ what corresponds to a movie technique. Each scene is carefully set and focussed upon, they all fit more or less skilfully into the total pattern, but the people moving through the various situations are like projections on a screen. They are almost always types rather than individuals.

Here again we come upon the woman of divided loyalities, the persecuted Jew, the efficient, dominating and apparently heartless officers, and the young idealist fighting his way through the complications. These stories, too, are usually interlarded with a certain amount of rather sentimental comment on international problems. Fortunately, this element is kept at a minimum in "The Sealed Verdict". H.T.K.

ANOTHER POCKET CLEARED OUT

Tomorrow's Canada

(MONTREAL STAR)

THE Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, who addressed the Montreal Canadian Club on Monday, occupies a position unique in some respects among the Canadians of his generation. He has occupied the two most important foreign posts which Canada has in its gift to offer—those in London and Washington, and he has identified himself in both of them not as the out-rider of a particular government or a particular party but as a Canadian who stands above partisan strife. He is a man who seeks solely to serve his country in a manner as high and disinterested as any human being can achieve. What he has to say about our position today and about the most desirable course for us to follow gains weight by his record.

Mr. Massey moved boldly into the most difficult and critical of our national problems. How does a country which traditionally has depended upon a triangular trade with Britain and the United States—and a multi-lateral trade with the rest of the world—face the circumstances which have today rendered such a trade increasingly difficult to maintain? Should we, in such circumstances, plunge head-on into free trade, or economic union with the dollar bloc, which is to say with the United States? Mr. Massey sums up strongly against such a procedure, and the breadth of his approach, the depth of his understanding, may well give his countrymen pause. Mr. Massey is both a scholar and a historian. He rejects the purely economic approach to our difficulty because his study of Canada has convinced him that this country does not exist on economic grounds alone, and that his fellow-citizens today would fundamentally scorn so simple a solution of the problems that now face us.

TO set against this simplified answer, Mr. Massey has nothing so easy to offer. He believes that the present crisis is not a permanent crisis, that it is a question of getting through it somehow or other. If the problem becomes one obviously permanent in its nature, his reasoning and that of those who think like him might well change. But, because he is now convinced of its temporary character, he believes it the part of wisdom to seek and to apply a variety of makeshift remedies, designed to see us through until we can get back to a traditional and more stable pattern.

Those remedies are along the line of the policy adopted by the Government in 1947, when the dollar crisis came to a head. It does not rule out the further lowering of tariff barriers between Canada and the United States. What it does reject is the creation of an economic union which would, in Mr. Massey's words, lead us toward continental isolationism in disregard of the long and fruitful association of Canada with the other countries of the Commonwealth and Empire and —as he might have added—with the union of countries in Europe now broadly designated as the Western Union group.

There is, in this approach to the present crisis, a sense of both history and imagination to which Canadians can usefully turn.... It is not often these days that public speakers talk with confidence of "strengthening" those ties. The spirit of defeatism has been allowed to grow. Mr. Massey's vision is, we hope, more real and more permanent.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And as some spake of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones and gifts, he said, As for these things which ye behold, the days will come, in the which there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

And they asked him saying, Master, but when shall these things be? and what sign will there be when these things shall come to pass?....

Then said he unto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom.... And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars: and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity: the sea and the waves roaring; men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken.

And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads: for your redemption draweth nigh....

Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all be fulfilled.

Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away. (Luke 21: 5-7, 10. 25-28, 32, 33.)

Riding The Air

As it floats motionless in the sky, the gull might be a child's kite, held by an invisible string into the wind, an inanimate toy perfect in line and balance. This is part of the bird's marvel of flight—a phenomenon that can be explained by physical laws, but which seems to rise above them as a miracle defying the forces of gravity. To the gull seems to be given great mastery of the air. At morning and in the evening it flies purposefully from resting place to feeding ground and back. But in the long, bright day is performs for the sheer joy of flying.

A hawk, wheeling in the sky above a lake, can rival the gull's effortless soaring. But the hawk, beating its strong pinions, loses the polish of the white-winged artist turning, gliding on a new plane, coasting swiftly on the stream of a breeze, or sweeping down to the water surface.

To the gull is granted that greater freedom of motion, now resting on a current of air, now cutting in geometric curves the element in which it reigns, a thing almost of the spirit in the perfection of its grace in flight.

Russia Has Larger Fleet Than US In Pacific Area

By RUSSELL BRINES

TOKYO, March 17—(AP)—Sudden war in the western Pacific would find Russia with a larger fleet than the United States. The Soviet Far East fleet—increased since the end of the war—now includes six cruisers, a number of destroyers and between 72 and 100 submarines of all types.

However, American naval officers are inclined to agree with a recent opinion the Soviet fleet is far behind the times.

Nevertheless there is a feeling in naval circles that the vast job of keeping the sea lanes open from Hawaii to beyond the Indian ocean is being done on a shoestring.

The strongest American force in this area is the western Pacific fleet now in China waters. Its future disposition depends on events. A small force of destroyers and minesweepers operates from Japan as part of the Far East command. This command includes the Pacific islands stretching from here to the Philippines.

Small Force Cut

Even with this small force, United States navy strength out here is being reduced—partly in line with the "Europe first" strategy.

The skeleton bases in the Philippines and Okinawa will be reduced further for reasons of economy.

Pearl Harbor in Hawaii remains the key of Pacific naval strategy—linked by comparative mobility to Asiatic outposts. The reduced Pacific fleet is based in Hawaii. Part of the cruisers and destroyers detached from it will be assigned to the Atlantic fleet and the remainder will be deactivated.

Navy authorities said drydock and repair facilities at Subic Bay in the Philippines will be curtailed further. The naval air station at Sangley Point in Manila Bay virtually will be abandoned.

Another air installation will be abandoned on Okinawa to be replaced by an ordnance depot maintained by a small force. Naval basis on Guam and Saipan will continue as supply—but not strategic centres.

The province of Quebec accounts for approximately 38 per cent of Canada's production of chemicals and allied products.

Baby Trafficking Forbidden In Nova Scotia

By The Canadian Press

Trafficking in babies between Nova Scotia and the United States is forbidden under terms of a bill now before the legislature at Halifax.

The measure, given second reading Wednesday, provides that the director of child welfare must investigate and approve the homes to which adopted children are being sent before a child leaves the province.

Attorney-General L. D. Currie, who introduced the legislation, said in an explanatory note attached to the bill:

"In recent years an undesirable practice has arisen of persons coming into Nova Scotia and obtaining babies, particularly illegitimate babies, for adoption and removing them to homes outside the province in respect of which the Department of Child Welfare has neither information nor power of supervision."

The province itself is in a position to place in homes within Nova Scotia babies available and suitable for adoption, he added.

Cocktail bars for Manitoba were suggested when the house at Winnipeg considered estimates of the attorney-general's department. John McDowell, Progressive Conservative member for Iberville, said that since cocktail lounges were opened in Ontario almost two years ago there has been "quite an improvement" in drinking habits in that province.

British Columbia won't have cocktail bars this year, Attorney-General Gordon Wismer said at Victoria. He spoke during debate on a CCF opposition motion calling for a liquor inquiry. The motion was defeated 37 to 10.

Buy Libby's Now, While Still Available

For the past four years, Libby's "Gentle Press" Tomato Juice has been in short supply, with the result that it was off the market for weeks and months before harvest time. Right now, Libby's is still available. But because stocks are diminishing every day we urge you to buy now—and buy enough to last until the 1949 tomato season.

Libby's have the light touch with tomatoes—the "Gentle Press" which gives Libby's its finer flavour. The blushing, sun-ripened tomatoes get just a "gentle squeeze" so they yield up juice that's pure and sweet, untinged with bitterness. "Gentle Pressing" keeps, too, the full count of vitamins A and C of which Libby's is an excellent dietary source. Without these vitamins, your body may lose its resistance to colds and other infections, so you can see how important it is to get your regular daily quota. And what more delicious way than with a daily glassful of Libby's, Canada's favourite health drink! Order in quantity from your grocer NOW.

Slider and Masked Marvel Draw In Top Grapple Bout

Sliding Billy Hanson and the Masked Marvel battled to a one-hour time limit draw in the main pro mat bout at the Brock Arena last evening. Hanson, at 225 pounds, nearly had the 250-pound Marvel unhooded all through the last round as he brushed aside Referee Ernie Powers repeatedly and worked on the Mask's face-covering.

The crowd was all for him and crowded around the ring at the gong wanting more action.

After taking a beating for the first fall, Hanson threw the rule book out the window and roughed the Marvel up plenty. He was in wrong often with the referee but the fans were for him as he gave his rough opponent a real going-over and won in 21 minutes with a "bull-dogging headlock" after sliding free from a neck hold to come back with a tackle through the ropes. It was a hot session and Powers worked as hard as the two grapplers. The Mask played it rough when he had a chance but this time the experienced Hanson out-roughed him most of the way.

Mask Wins

The first fall came in 22½ minutes to the Mask when he pulled hair and applied a hammerlock to throw Billy three times hard into the corner ropes and then flopped on him for the fall. Powers missed the Mask's hair-pulling repeatedly but warned Hanson when he tried to retaliate by yanking at the Marvel's mask. The hooded one was powerful and rough, using a lot of illegal stuff, but Hanson fought back to pretty well hold his own and he had most of the crowd with him. Some punishing holds were shown by both parties in a tough match, and Hanson later said he'd unhood the Mask in another bout with no time limit and a different referee.

Earl McCready won a popular fall in 27 minutes over Abe Yourist when he made his 228-pound opponent concede with a torturing hammerlock. Earl had a pull in the weights at 241 pounds and looked better though his balding young opponent got in a lot of rough stuff to make it hard going for quite a while. Each in turn was out of the ring once, and the referee got mixed up in the grappling at one time to take a bit of a beating. He did a lot of useless warning as Yourist paid no attention to rules and drew the fans' ire with his tactics. But the Moose—who is working his way up to a crack at the British Empire title—was strong and smart to plough in toward the end and repeatedly grip the left arm and finally make Abe yell "uncle" and gain the fall.

So-So Bout

Bill Stack, at 224, and the 219-pound Mike Mahalakis went to a 30-minute prelim. draw. It was just a so-so scrap before a fair-sized crowd, and the customers didn't enthuse too much. They opened slowly and Mike got rough shortly with Bill using an armlock to good effect. They applied various holds and breaks for quite a time without too much action, Mike talking a good bout and the referee earning his dough. About 18 minutes later, Stack applied a stepover toe-hold but Mike came back shortly with the same grip. It dragged its weary way out to the full time limit with the fans clapping politely at the finish, and Referee Powers raising both matmen's hands to signify a draw.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Treasurer Dot Millar of the PWSU—her sister, Gladys Mortimer, is a former president of the Union—gave us the Union's year book the other day. An interesting copy, showing the PWSU was formed back in 1931. We recall when the local Girls' Softball League affiliated the next year as we attended the annual meeting in Toronto with Gladys Mortimer, Mrs. Jim Mann, Russ Kitchen and one or two more. Local loop has been affiliated ever since. And Westclox brought us provincial honors in intermediate competition, while other clubs here have made good showings along the playdown path. Girls' softball has been popular in Ontario the past two decades, though it was played back in the 20s, too.

* * * * * *

A special page in the book is set aside entitled: "The Great Golden Girl", paying tribute to that starry Toronto twirler, Thelma Golden Fidler. Her slab record is an outstanding one. Previous to the birth of the PWSU, Peterborough gave Toronto another pitching ace, Babe Vincent, as well as several more fine players. And today at Sunnyside, another local twirler has made quite a name for herself, Isabel (Tommy) Bullock. It is a fine booklet, this PWSU publication, marred only slightly by a picture of Scribe George Campbell of Oshawa, and a piece claiming women originated baseball.

Hitting The Hoops

Girls' basketball playoffs are slated to get underway Friday p.m. in the YWCA. Nurses vs. Neill's and CGE vs. Collis, and there are a couple of Collegiate boys' tilts listed for tomorrow night at the PCVS gym. TCS play the junior PCI-ers at 7.30, and then the senior squads of these schools meet. The PCVS juves go to St. Kitts on Saturday to open their OABA finals, return one here March 26, points counting. Towne Togs are ready to resume LOBA action, and Gord McIntyre's Marines are on the spot in the return OABA intermediate "B" joust at Belleville this week-end. St. Kitts tote a hefty lead here Saturday against Marines "A" at the YMCA in their Ontario semi-final series.

* * * * * *

A pair of draws (and, say, doesn't that sound suitable for this weather?) with one win marked the pro mat card at the Brock Arena last p.m. A lot of action up at the Winter Gardens in the main go, with Slidin' Billy Hanson—always a favorite grappler with us—going to a draw with the almost unhooded Masked Marvel. Referee Power was nearly powerless and definitely useless in this tussle and the Slider was pretty peeved at him along about the finish. So was the crowd. Earl (Moose) McCready won the semi-final to celebrate St. Patrick's eve from Abe Yourist after quite a battle, during which Abie's Irish rose. Stack and Mahalakis waltzed to a draw in an uninteresting prelim.

Lining Up A Kick

Lakeshore Baseball League is having a get-together, primarily to discuss grievances against the OBA and to line up a strong delegation to send to the OBA annual convention in Peterborough on April 8-9. Playoff arrangements in the past seem to be the main kick of the Lakeshore Loop and they point out that there was but one active man on the provincial executive east of Toronto last year. That was Jack Turner, who lived then in this city but has since moved up north. Well, this convention is the place to air these grievances, and it certainly wouldn't hurt to have a few more from this section on the OBA executive.

Good news for local hockey fans. Kingston Nylons will be here at 8.30 tomorrow night to tackle Legionnaires in Civic Arena. A best-of-five OHA senior "B" semi-final series, the winner getting a bye right into provincial finals. Knocking off Belleville Diesels three games to-one, the Nylons proved plenty potent in that series and will give the speedy Legion a tough scrap in this big money playoff. They have Udall in goal and other well-known and experienced puckists like Ken Partis, Joe Catlin, Walt Gerow, McKeown, Blake, Harrison, Greenham and so forth. A husky, fast and tricky bunch. But Legion have class, too, and it promises to be a sizzling series before sellout crowds. Return joust is in the Limestone City on Monday.

One Boy Comes Home

LONDON, Ont., March 17 (CP) —One of two boys reported missing to police has returned home. David Taylor, 14, who left his home at nearby Lambeth March 14 has returned home. Still missing is Peter Marson, 16, missing from his Kingston home since March 2. Kingston police believe he intended to visit London.

AT HELM — Bill Bennett is back at the helm of the Girls' Softball League here, having been chosen president for this year. He has long been a prominent offocial in the lasses' loop and was formerly an umpire.

Toronto Takes Big Lead Over The Togs

Toronto Cliftons, led by Irene Aldred and Gloria Jones — two girls six feet three inches—defeated Towne Togs 49-22 last night in Toronto to take a 27-point lead in their LOBA playdown series. The return game will be played here on March 26. This series is the Ontario semi-finals.

It was 11-3 for Cliftons in the first quarter but Jean Vass and Joan Plunkett sparked Togs in the second to close the gap and trail by 20-15 at the half. Bad luck rode with every shot the visitors made in a tough third quarter and Toronto broke often as Togs pressed to run the count to 35-16. High baskets bothered Hilly Yudin's squad. They sank but four of 26 foul tries as Toronto got 12 of 23. All the visitors toiled hard with Jean Vass, Dot Callan best offensively and Bev Pringle strong both ways. The Jones-Aldred-Romanko trio stood out for Toronto. Teams:

Towne Togs: B. Pringle, D. Callan 4, A. Davis 2, S. Curtis 5, J. Vass 5, J. Dunk 3, A. Bowler, J. Castle, J. Caverly, E. Whittaker, J. Plunkett 3.

Cliftons: I. Aldred 14, B. Ezard, G. Kennedy, D. Inroy 6, B. Downer 4, S. Cameron 6, O. Romanko 7, G. Jones 7, G. Wallace 5, G. Norton, C. Tinkham.

Three Sweeps Mark YM Lasses' League

Three teams registered shutouts in the Ladies' Senior YMCA Bowling League this week. Lucky Strikes took three from Hurricanes, Corvettes three from Tigers and Y'Menettes three from Commandos. Bombers were only able to take two points from Glengarry's. With another three weeks to go, few points separate the high teams.

Winnie McCarrell had high three for the week with 767; Gladys Pinch had 705, E. Stanbury 632, Mrs. Menzies 619 and Dot Martin 611. Mrs. Menzies had high single at 295, Winnie McCarrell 289, Gladys Pinch 277 and Ethel Stanbury 289.

Hurricanes (0)—J. Ward 403, E. Crowe 595, H. Reid 484, F. Belle 491, T. Grierson 509. Total 2482.

Lucky Strikes (3)—J. Jeffries [illegible], G. Woods 540, A. Merrett 559, M. Menzies 619, M. Johnson 598. Total 2857.

One Killed, Two Injured In Crash

One man was killed and two injured in a two-car collision on Highway 7 near Norwood last night. Dead is Ernest Hall, 50, of Norwood. Injured are Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Ethel Hall, 45, of Peterborough. Mrs. Hall is in Peterborough Civic Hospital with a fractured leg and Mrs. Hall is in Norwood hospital with a fractured arm and leg.

AIR BASE STICKS HIS NOSE deep into the turf and Jockey Turnell is about to follow suit as horse and rider come to grief during Cotswold Steeplechase at Cheltenham, England.

Petes Winners By 8 to 6 Over Lakefield

LAKEFIELD, March 17 (ENS) —The Petes defeated Lakefield puckists 8-6 here last night in a benefit exhibition for Bob Chittick. About 750 fans saw a good game, rugged in spots and close all the way, with both sides bolstered somewhat. The Petes took a 3-0 lead the first period on goals by Sullivan, Miller and Wade, with Coughlin and Reid each having an assist.

Lakefield replied with two in the second, Peloquin scoring from Blewett and Tom Birch having a solo tally, but Coughlin got one back from Griffin for the visitors. The latter got four more in the third, Garvey getting the first from Horton and Sullivan, the latter sinking one, Horton tallying from Quigley and Wade hitting the twine with McMaster's pass. Blewett rapped in three for the homesters, Burton assisting on two and Peloquin on one, while Henry got another from C. Birch. A dozen penalties were evenly divided. The teams:

Petes: Goal, Edgar; defence, Coughlin and Horton; centre, Griffin; wings, Quigley and Mortimer; alternates, Sullivan, Wade, Garvey, Miller, Reid, McMaster and Parsons.

Lakefield: Goal, Junkin; defence, Blewett and C. Birch; centre, Henry; wings, Hopkins and Paterson; alternates, Montgomery, T. Birch, Berwick, Chappell, Fawcett, Hunter, L. Lonsberry, Peloquin and Burton.

Referees, J. Creighton and R. Bell.

2 Oshawa Rinks Lose

TORONTO, March 17 (CP) — Two Oshawa rinks were knocked out of semi-final competition for the two trophies of the A. E. Walton Memorial bonspiel at the Royal Canadian Curling Club here Wednesday. A Toronto rink skipped by V. Mathewman defeated E. P. Eveleigh's Oshawa rink 8-6 in the semi-finals of the main event. The Toronto rink of Angus Taylor also won through to the finals. In semi-final play for the Harry Baillie Trophy J. Watts of Oshawa lost a 10-9 decision to R. Steski of Brampton. Dr. G. Murray of Toronto also entered the finals.

Chicago Stages Comeback Trounces Boston Bruins

By BERT ALLEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

You can't accuse the Chicago Black Hawks of not trying and that's for sure. The forlorn Hawks haven't thrown in the towel yet by a long shot, although no one would blame them much if they did.

Wednesday night the Boston Bruins, with a chance to practically clinch second place in the National Hockey League, fell victims to the vaunted fire power of the Hawks who drove from behind for a 4-3 victory.

This was cheering news for the idle Montreal Canadiens who now have a fair chance of overtaking the Bruins. With three games to play to Boston's one, the Habitants trail the Bruins by three points. If Montreal wins all three, they're home. If Boston drops its one remaining contest, Canadiens need win only two of theirs to hit the higher bracket.

Wings Plaster Rangers

In the only other game Wednesday night, the champion Detroit Red Wings plastered a 6-2 defeat on the hapless New York Rangers. The loss, coupled with the Chicago triumph, cost the Blueshirts all chance of rising out of the league cellar.

The no-relation Conachers, Jimmy and Roy, almost beat the Bruins by themselves. Jimmy fired the tying and winning goals, his 25th and 26th markers of the campaign, while Roy notched one counter and gained an assist on the other.

Jimmy Peters, Paul Ronty and Milt Schmidt collected the Boston goals.

Tied 3-3 going into the final period, the Hawks attacked in waves and their sorties paid off at the 11.28 mark when Gus Bodnar deflected Pete Babando's wild pass onto the stick of Jim Conacher who blasted a sizzler past Frankie Brimsek from close range.

Ted Lindsay, adding further ammunition to his bid for the All-Star left-wing berth, was the hero of Detroit's victory.

Terrific Ted scored two goals and made the plays for two others—all in the third period.

The other Detroit marksmen were Pete Horeck, George Gee, Pat Lundy and Sid Abel, while Rangers tallies went to Tony Leswick and Wally Stanowski.

Tonight Toronto travels to Montreal to meet the Canadiens in a game that means much to the Habs bid for second place.

Dutchmen Whip Marlboros 7-2 In Upset

By The Canadian Press.

Like a boxer who comes back after being on the ropes, Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen can't be counted out of the Ontario Hockey Association title hunt yet.

Within one game of being eliminated, the Dutchmen got up off the canvas for the second time in a row Wednesday night and overpowered Toronto Marlboros 7-2 to pull within one game of tying the best-of-seven series. Toronto now leads the round 3-2 after holding a decisive 3-0 edge at one stage.

In the Junior A final series, Barrie Flyers won their third straight game as they downed Toronto Marlboros 5-2 in Barrie in their best-of-seven set. They meet in the fourth game Monday night.

At Waterloo, the Dutchmen fought through a tough game marked with 22 penalties of which they took 12 and clinched the victory in the third period by scoring four times.

After a scoreless first period, Toronto went ahead before the second stanza was one minute old. Flash Hollett tallied on a screened blue-line shot that netminder Marcel Pelletier didn't see.

Dutchmen Take Fire

Then the Dutchmen caught fire. Billy Flick started them off at the 14-minute mark when he finished off a pretty play with Ted Grasser and Mickey Roth. Grasser got Kitchener's second goal minutes later. Mike Dzuira gave them a 3-1 edge when he scored with two minutes left in the period.

In the third period, Billy Curick, Bobby Bauer and Bill Dinning each scored once. Then Johnny McCormack finished off the Toronto scoring when he connected minutes later but Flick got that back.

At Barrie, the Flyers split two goals in the first period, came back in the second with a 2-1 edge and then outscored the Dukes 2-0 in the final period.

Bobby Bingley, George Burcham, Real Chevrefils, Don Ashbee and Stan Long tallied for Flyers. Larry Regan and Ron Hurst accounted for Toronto's goals.

The Dukes took an early lead in the first period when Regan tallied at the 15-minute mark on a pass from defenceman Hugh Bolton. Then the Flyers evened it up on Bingley's goal.

Early in the second session, Burcham and Chevrefils scored to give the Flyers a 3-1 margin. Hurst drove back for the Toronto squad and cut the lead when he converted on a three-way rush with Lorne Pirie and Moe Galand.

However, Ashbee and Long made it decisive when they notched a goal each in the third period.

Veteran Actor Dies

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., March 17 —(AP)—Leyland Hodgson, 56, veteran stage and screen actor, died Wednesday. A native of London, he came here in 1930 to play character parts.

Lindsay Advances To Second OHA Round

BELLEVILLE, March 17 — Lindsay Mustangs advanced into the second round of the OHA Junior C Hockey playdowns at the Belleville Memorial Arena Tuesday night, blanking Trenton, 7-0 in the second game in the best-of-three first-round series. The Mustangs swept the series in two straight.

The winners took a 3-0 margin in the middle stanza after a goalless first period and then added four more in the final 20 minutes for good measure.

Jenkins, Dysart, and Green were the big guns for the winners with two goals each. Netminder Don Hill was the pick of the losers.

Why do so many Canadians prefer ENO?

ENO's "Fruit Salt" is preferred by many more Canadians than any other saline or health salt because ENO is so effective and pleasant tasting.

ENO's mild antacid action really helps relieve stomach upsets—ENO as a laxative gently helps cleanse the digestive tract and ENO is completely harmless and not habit forming.

No wonder ENO's "Fruit Salt" is six times more popular than any other saline or health salt sold in Canada!

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 17 — Stewart Worthy nosed out Josedale Main in a photo finish last night to win the feature mile classified pace in harness racing here, posting a time of 3:07 2-5.

Driven by Clint Hodgins, the Peterborough chestnut gelding returned $5.80, $3.20 and $2.80. Josedale Main set the pace at first but faded slightly at the far turn, finishing in a burst of speed that nearly overlook Stewart Worthy. Sultan Hanover was third.

Concerts Aid Miner

MALTBY, Yorkshire, England, March 17—(Reuters)—The miners of this district have arranged a series of concerts in an attempt to raise £300 ($1,200) to finance what they hope will be final steps in the cure of Percy Haseman, a fellow-miner, now undergoing treatment in the United States for Parkinson's disease. About $4,000 was raised originally by miners and only $400 remains.

Wolves Win 3-1

LONDON, March 17 (CP) — Canada's Sudbury Wolves defeated Earlscourt Rangers 3-1 Wednesday night in a rough exhibition hockey game during which four players were banished with major penalties for fighting.

Sweden's Reds In Line

A Crippled Veteran will thank YOU

A crippled veteran is destined to spend the rest of his life—in hospital. Wouldn't you like to lend a hand to make his lonely, monotonous life more interesting? Wouldn't you like to support the Red Cross lodge, for instance, where he can entertain friends or relatives in homelike surroundings? Wouldn't you like to bring him periodic gifts of cigarettes, candies or fruit, or to provide handicraft instructions to help make his days interesting and useful?

It is YOUR Red Cross that is continually carrying on this work among disabled veterans all over Canada. Your Red Cross is providing Free Blood Transfusion Service to save lives, supporting Outpost Hospitals in far northern settlements, sending relief wherever disaster strikes, extending help to suffering humanity everywhere.

Your continued—your increased support is urgently needed to carry on and extend this great work. Give.

Red Cross services also include: Treatment for Crippled Children, Nutrition Services, First Aid and Home Nursing Courses, Swimming and Water Safety, Women's Work Activities, etc.

When considering your donation, remember that this year the Canadian Red Cross needs 5 Million Dollars—40% more than the previous appeal.

Dr. Clark's Rink Captures Ostrander's Cup

By HERB MARTIN.

Dr. R. Clark made it two trophies in a row when he skipped his rink to win all three games and the Ostrander Trophy in yesterday's bonspiel. The other trophy he won in last week's mixed bonspiel. S. Lowes' rink made a great recovery against W. A. Smith on the 10th and to win his third game and place second in the prize department.

F. Stenson won three games and was third.

High two-game winner went to J. Johnson's rink and the high single to G. Braund.

There were 24 rinks entered and, while it was mostly Peterborough and Lakefield, it was mighty encouraging to see rinks from Keene and Millbrook. This speaks well for curling in this district and it is hoped that these clubs will soon be back to enjoy this winter sport.

All played three games of 10 ends each and the 'spiel was over this side of midnight.

The committee would like more entries for the Sturgeon mixed rink bonspiel. Play begins at 7:00 o'clock Saturday night.

CGE Ties Up Series With Quaker Squad

In the second game of the Industrial Hockey League finals, played at Omemee last night between the CGE Toolroom and the Quaker Oats, the CGE won a hard fought battle by 5-4 to tie up the series.

The Quakers outplayed the Toolroom quite handily at first and the period ended with Quakers being in the lead 2 to 1. But in the next two periods the lead was cut down by the hard skating CGE.

The game was clean, only four penalties being handed out all evening. Scoring for Quaker were Wilshaw, Harris and Vyse.

The final game of the series will be played in Omemee on Friday night at 8:00 p.m.

The winners of the Industrial League Hockey Draw were: first prize $50.00 value, Bev. Simpson, 479 Park St. North; 2nd prize of $25.00 value, W. V. Dawson, 139 Romaine St.; 3rd prize, $10.00 value, Edna Nelson, Warsaw.

CUXHAVEN, Germany, March 17—(Reuters)—A 16-foot shark with "deep green eyes each as big as a man's fist" was caught in the North Sea and brought here by a German trawler.

Hastings Midgets Reach Puck Final

HASTINGS, March 17—(ENS) Hastings Midgets took the semi-final game 6-3 over Beeton, winning the round 8-6 and qualifying to go into the Ontario finals against Cayuga.

The game was played before a good crowd and was one of the best games seen in Hastings this season.

Archie West was outstanding in the Hastings net and Jim Morrow with five and Carl Davis with one were the goal getters. The whole Hastings team played an outstanding brand of hockey for a midget team. Ken Kelly for the losers was their best player scoring two of their three goals.

Paul Stevenson with five assists and the Hastings defence of Wrightly and Chambers were definitely effective.

Line ups:

Hastings—Goal, A. West; defence, L. Wrightly, R. Chambers, centre, J. Morrow; wings, P. Stevenson, W. Dodd; alternates, C. Davis, A. McMillan, R. Condon, D. Fairman, D. Ford, J. Herrington; sub goalie, D. Montgomery.

Beeton—Goal, Kearns; defence, McLynchuch, McDonald; centre, Murray; wings, Kelly, Keogh; alternates, Keogh, Keogh, Williams, Aikens, Letts, Lisk, Hanover.

Norwood Girls Win

NORWOOD, March 17—(ENS)—Norwood high school girls were again victorious 18-14 over a pick-up team from Peterborough Collegiate in a good game of basketball played recently in the armouries.

Line up:

Peterborough—R. McInroy, B. Brooks, J. White, A. Rostocki, E. White, N. Powell, P. Peel, S. Young, G. Mitchell, M. Wood, M. Mathews, M. Walton.

Norwood—Elma Scriver, Audrey O'Shea, Lois Stackhouse, Mary Lynch, Madge Jones, Marilyn Radcliffe, Madeline Elmhirst, Ruth Baskin, Frances Hogg, Laurabel Barrie, Fay Brown, June Snowell, Joan Walsh.

Indians In Third Spot Whip Philadelphia

By The Canadian Press

Springfield Indians clinched third place in the Eastern Division and a spot in the American Hockey League playoffs Wednesday night with an 8-5 victory over Philadelphia.

Providence and Hershey have already captured first and second place respectively.

Bill Gooden collected three goals for Springfield, while Mike Narduzzi, Rene Trudell, Armand Lemieux, Leo Curick and Vern Kaiser potted the others.

Phil Hergesheimer and Steve Wochy got two goals and Harry Pidherny one for Philly.

In the Western Division, Buffalo Bisons downed Cleveland Indians 10-3.

Pittsburgh Hornets rammed home seven goals in the third period to hand Hershey Bears a 10-4 thumping in Pittsburgh.

Chosen PC Candidate

ESPANOLA, Ont., March 17 — (CP). — Grant H. Turner, Little Current merchant, Wednesday was chosen Progressive Conservative candidate for Algoma East riding—now represented by External Affairs Minister L. B. Pearson — in the next Federal election.

Hockey's Big Seven

By The Canadian Press.

Chicago's Roy Conacher moved another step toward winning the National League scoring title Wednesday night by matching linemate Doug Bentley's goal and assist to retain his two-point edge. Conacher leads Bentley 68 to 66 in points. Ted Lindsay of Detroit was the big production man, accounting for two goals and a pair of assists to boost his total to 52 points, one back of teammate Sid Abel who scored a goal Wednesday night to remain in third spot. Jim Conacher fired a brace of tallies and is next in line with 49 points.

Paper Faces Lottery Charge

SARNIA, March 17—(CP)—A charge of publishing a lottery was laid Wednesday by Police Chief John Cranner against the Thomson Publishing Company and the Weir Music & Home Supply Company.

The charge was based on a full-page advertisement in the Sarnia Canadian Observer which said "the serial numbers of all radios sold this week from this page will be deposited in a container and one drawn on Saturday, March 12. The lucky winner gets his down payment back and the radio purchased free of charge." The advertisement offered several radio models on terms of a dollar down and a dollar a week.

Magistrate C. S. Woodrow granted adjournment without plea to April 1 on joint application of Harold G. Burley, for the Observer, and George N. Weir for the music shop, who said their counsel would not be available until that date.

Warsaw Triumphs Over Westwood

NORWOOD, March 17—(ENS)—In a replay of a protest game Warsaw defeated Westwood in a fast, clean encounter Tuesday night in the Rural Loop semi-final. Warsaw and Keene will meet Thursday night in the first of the finals, and it is expected that these two teams will draw large crowds as in the past.

Andrews scored Westwood's lone goal in the first 15 seconds of play, before Warsaw settled down to hard work. E. Layne from Ivan Watts tied it shortly.

Bill Judge scored the winning goal when Vic Clements passed the puck out from beside the goal. In the third frame, there were no goals scored. Both goalies turned in fine performances

Line-up:

Warsaw—Goal, Patterson; defence, G. Payne, D. Sharpe; centre, I. Watts; wings, Joe Watts, E. Payne; alternates, S. McQuaig, L. Short, D. Evans, R. Payne, B Judge, Vic Clements, E. Darling

Westwood—Goal, Renwick; defence, L. Sargent, G. Shearer centre, L. Mason, wings, T. Woods, D. Andrews; alternates, B. Warr, H. Warr, L. Starke, P. Elmhurst, W. Morris.

Linesman, Bud Webb; referee, C. Puffer.

Boy Hangs Himself

FORT WAYNE, Ind., March 17 —(AP). — Carl Keener, 13, hanged himself Wednesday, apparently in grief over the death of a new-born puppy. The boy came from school and found his dog had given birth to several pups, one of which was dead. eH told his parents he was dead. He told his parents he was going out to bury the dead puppy. A short time later they found his body suspended by a rope from a hay-loader in the barn.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Bobby Robertson, defenceman with Toronto Marlboros Seniors, is being held in readiness for a tryout with Toronto Maple Leafs, Managing-Director Conny Smythe said today. On a lend-lease basis amateurs are permitted to have three trial games with a National Hockey League club without losing their status.

At the same time the Leafs' boss just about gave up hope of using right wing Howie Meeker in the Stanley Cup playoffs which start next week. Howie broke a big toe three weeks ago in Chicago and is not expected to be ready for action until mid-April.

Andy McFie's Kingston curling club rink Wednesday night won the Whig-Standard Trophy, premier award in the annual Kingston Curling Club Bonspiel. The McFie rink edged out a foursome skipped by J. G. Hooper, also of the Kingston Club, 8-6. Percy Skitch of Lindsay, and Bob McMahon of Kingston reached the finals in the Bourdier Trophy competition, the secondary event.

Hamilton Tigers and Owen Sound Mercurys, two Ontario Hockey Association teams knocked out of the Senior A playoffs, will see action at least once more before hanging up their skates for the season. The two will play an exhibition game in Owen Sound Saturday and the proceeds will go to assist Mercury defenceman Ted Pollock, who is ill in hospital.

Frank Byrne, General-Manager of Quebec Citadels, said Wednesday arrangements are being made to have the club's home games in the Provincial Junior final with Montreal Royals played at Chicoutimi in the Lake St. John district. Both the Citadels and the Aces, Quebec's senior club, lost their home ice Thursday when the Coliseum was destroyed in a $1,000,000 fire. The Aces lost all their equipment.

At Houston, Tex., Joe Louis scored a technical knockout over Elmer (Violent) Ray in the fourth round of a scheduled six-round exhibition bout Wednesday night. The heavyweight champion, who recently announced his retirement dropped Ray just as the third round ended.

Ships Out Early

ST. CATHARINES, March 17—(CP). — Two oil tankers went through a Welland Canal lock on Wednesday, the earliest shipping movement in the canal's history. The tankers Britamlube and Britamoco from Toronto sailed into lock to the Port Weller Dry Docks at the north end of the 27-mile canal. The canal opens officially April 1.

A mother writes that it's the tastiest way she knows to give her family good whole wheat nourishment! Know why? Kellogg's All-Wheat is Canada's choice whole wheat magically transformed into roasted, toasted, crunchy flakes. So serve them generously . . . topped with milk, fruit and sugar. Everyone from tiny Sue to Big John will wake up in a hurry when they taste those scrumptious, toasty flakes! Ask your grocer tomorrow for All-Wheat . . . made by Kellogg's in London, Ontario — available in grocery stores all across Canada!

Thousands Of Canadian Families will be receiving cheques for their 1943 and 1944 Compulsory Savings during this month. A good idea is to start a special Savings Account with this money at the BANK OF MONTREAL — for it seems to me that money once saved is well worth hanging on to! You can use this B of M account for travel — or home furnishings — or for emergencies. And what a wonderful sense of security not to have to worry about doctor's or hospital bills, for example! So if you or your husband are among the lucky ones receiving Compulsory Savings refunds this month . . . why not visit your nearest B of M branch? You'll find the B of M staff friendly and courteous — glad to help you start your special Savings Account.

Here's Something I'll wager you hadn't thought of in connection with Spring Housecleaning . . . and a very important "something" it is! I mean JERGENS LOTION, that marvellous hand lotion that will keep your hands smooth and soft no matter what your housecleaning chores! Jergens Lotion protects against chapping and roughness . . . and it's so jiffy-quick to use! So why not "stock up" on Jergens before you begin to rub-'n-scrub? Never let it be said that your house is bright and shiny . . . but you look worn to a frazzle! Keep your hands lovely, the lovely Jergens way!

If You're Planning an after-dinner St. Patrick's Day Party to-night . . . here's an ideal main-course dish that's so quick 'n easy to cook, you'll have lots of time for dinner, and to wash-up and prepare for the party, too! It's HEINZ COOKED SPAGHETTI . . . m-mmm! — completely delicious and rich with Heinz famous, spicy Tomato Sauce. It will be a flavour favourite with your family any day — so don't just save it for "special" occasions! Another easy-to-prepare applause-winner is HEINZ COOKED MACARONI — flavoured with smooth-as-satin, creamy sauce. Try both of these old favourites — soon!

Here's A "Beauty Treatment" For Old Clothes and faded furniture fabrics that's a wonder! TINTEX COLOR REMOVER is the "first step" to bright, new color for your home and your wardrobe! Subtract old, faded, drab color with Tintex Color Remover — then, with All-fabric Tintex Tints and Dyes, add fresh, new color! For your Spring wardrobe you'll like the fashion-right Tintex Navy Blue . . . and Lavender, Old Rose, Orchid or Ensign Red to complement popular Navy! Yes, All-fabric Tintex comes in fashion's favorite colors . . . at your drug, department or variety store. It costs only 15c and eliminates all worry and guess-work from home dyeing!

This Is Definitely A New Idea of personal daintiness . . . it's the lovely "fresh from head to toe" idea that thousands of fastidious women have so enthusiastically adopted. And it's so easily — neatly — safely done with SNO-MIST, the Powder-Spray Deodorant! Even if you use another deodorant under your arms to stop perspiration — you'll find many specially dainty uses for Sno-Mist! You see, it's the only antiseptic deodorant with an atomizer top . . . that lets you "spray your way to freshness" in a jiffy . . . from the tips of your toes to under your girdle! Sno-Mist simply won't harm clothing . . . but it's "fatal" to perspiration odours! Keep Snow-Mist in your desk at the office for a quick "freshen-up" in the wash-room. Carry it in your hand-bag. And keep it handy by the shower in your bath room. Your husband will like it, too!

"What Do You Talk About at a bridge party?", husbands sometimes like to ask. My answer would be — "Everything from cabbages to kings . . . or pea soup to politics!" A recent bridge party, for instance, taught me a thing or two about tea. Many of the women said they had recently switched to the new, improved TENDER LEAF TEA BALLS! They raved about this finest Orange Pekoe — its delicious flavour — the little top leaves! Naturally, when I heard such enthusiastic compliments — I tried it, too! Now when I'm complimented on my tea-making — I must confess that I learned about the improved Tender Leaf Tea Balls at a bridge party!

GIVEN OPERA CONTRACT

She uses Chipso for Dishwashing

IT HELPS HER TO SMOOTHER, SOFTER, LOVELIER HANDS THE THRIFTY WAY!

Mild Suds!

Mild, gentle Chipso helps hands that are red and rough from washing dishes with strong washday soaps. Chipso's so KIND to your hands—helps them feel softer, look lovelier!

Fast Suds!

Chipso "suds up" fast! Hard-working, long-lasting Chipso cuts grease like lightning—gets that "caked-on" food right off. Leaves dishes, glassware, pots and pans gleaming!

Thrifty Suds!

Chipso's more economical than leading washday soaps . . . it beats them all for safety, sudsing and cleaning power combined!

Chipso— the thrifty way to pamper your hands!

Let's try better breakfasts and find out

MOTHERS—read this plain message. Important facts are behind it. Something for the good of your family. How you can benefit.

Breakfast — Specially Important to You

Nutritionists say that skimped breakfasts can cause under-nourishment. Often children don't take the right variety of food at breakfast to carry them through the morning properly. Junior may be drowsy. His grade may be low at school. Jane may be nervous and inattentive.

Grape-Nuts — Your Special Breakfast Cereal

Better nourished, vital, energetic — it would be grand having your family feel and act better all day. One good way: make breakfast more nutritious, more enjoyable. Include appetizing Grape-Nuts for balanced nourishment. In only two tablespoons of this highly concentrated cereal there are fine food values — useful amounts of carbohydrates, minerals and proteins. Delicious with milk or cream. Matchless in flavor. Healthful — economical — order from your grocer.

"A Satisfying Breakfast Food"

Writes a Kitchener, Ontario mother — "I am much more satisfied after I eat Post's Grape-Nuts as they seem such a solid breakfast food. I like the nut-like flavor. The children, too, like their tastiness."

OPERATION COWLIFT—Hot Shot, a cow belonging to Ray Kaufman, upper right, Halstead, Kan., farmer, doesn't care for the mechanical age. While being milked for the first time with a new milking machine, Hot Shot had enough of modern civilization and bolted upstairs to the hayloft. It took three men to hobble her and give the cow her first trip in the air.

More People On Run In London But Chances Of Escape Slim

LONDON, March 16 —(CP)—More men and women are "on the run" in London today than at any time within living memory. But their chances of remaining at large for more than a year are about 50 to 1, Scotland Yard officials say. New techinques of tracking down wanted persons in thickly populated areas are constantly being developed.

Operating all over London are "undercover" squads of plain-clothes men whose work is unknown even to the policeman on his beat, and who claim to be able to follow the man on the run wherever he goes.

Spectacular Captures

To prove it they have a long list of spectacular captures to their credit during the last six months.

An area in which the efforts of plain clothes men are particularly concentrated is the west-central district with its numerous night clubs and foreign colonies.

Despite modern methods, the capture of criminal fugitives has been made more difficult of late because social conditions after a world war have made for a large increase in crime with a corresponding increase in violence.

But, say the plain clothes men, human nature changes little. The wanted man of 1949 reacts to his surroundings as did the wanted man of pre-war times. The same despair eats away his courage; the same frustration tears his nerves to shreds and drives him finally to that fatal stage of loneliness when he has to "get it off his chest."

Finer Dragnet

Since the war the mesh of the police dragnet has been made finer and the chance of eventual escape from the hunters has been pared until it is almost non-existent. Two-way radio, telephotography, microphotography, high-speed planes and supercharged cars have all contributed to this result.

Police declare however long a fugitive may evade capture there comes a time when, his senses dulled by fear and inaction, he makes a false move.

Yelverton Funeral For Mrs. M. McGill

BETHANY, March 17 (ENS)—Funeral of Mrs. Margaret McGill who died Saturday at the age of 83, was held from the home of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Reynolds to Yelverton United Church Monday, followed by burial at the adjoining cemetery. Mrs. McGill was the wife of the late Burk McGill, and spent her entire life in the Yellerton district until the death of her husband. Then she moved to Lindsay.

Following an extended visit with relatives in the Western provinces she returned to live in Bethany and during the past months had lived with Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Shea. She was a life long member of Yelverton United Church, active in all the work of the community. The service was conducted by the Rev. W. Crandall of Bethany. Pallbearers, all former neighbours, were Hay Malcolm, Ray McGill, Harold Stinson, Wilbur Malcolm, Hugh McGil and George Wilson.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs David Flack, Vancouver, Mrs. D. Syer, Ottawa, and three brothers, Arthur of Regina, Norman, Lindsay and Walter McGill of Yelverton.

Aquatic animals do not drink water.

Women's Association Meets At Fraserville

FRASERVILLE, March 17 —(ENS)—Women's Association of Fraserville United Church met on Thursday at the home of Mrs. A. and Mrs. L. Hewitt, Vice-President, Mrs. W. G. Waterman was chairman in the absence of the president, Mrs. R. B. Lobb, Mrs. Waterman gave a short reading followed by the scripture read in unison. The Rev. B. Heywood led in prayer.

It was decided to have Bailieboro YPU present the play Grandpa's Twin Sister in the church during the month of March. Also it was agreed to hold a social evening during Easter week.

Mrs. Heywood spoke about missionary work after which she sang. A poem was read by Mrs. L. L. McClenaghan after which supper was served.

Those present were: Mrs. W. Moncrief, Mrs S. Hogg, Mrs. P. Moncrief, Mr. and Mrs. Heywood, and Oliver, Mrs. B. Cunningham Mrs. W. Cook, Carol and Neal.

DOMESTIC CHANGE

The gold-fish in its natural state is brown in color, but when domesticated it develops a red-gold tint, and occasionally becomes white.

If you were General Manager of A&P Food Stores . . .

What would you do to make your A&P a better place to shop?

Have you ever said to yourself, "If I were the General Manager of A&P, I know what I'd do"? I think there are many A&P customers who would like the opportunity to express themselves on the subject of their A&P. I really believe that from your side of the counter, you know A&P best. That's why I ask your opinion.

You can help to make your A&P a better place to do all your food buying by sending me your suggestions . . . criticisms . . . and opinions. For instance, what about our service? Is it as courteous and helpful as you would like it to be? Is it prompt and efficient, too? Do you always find all items plainly and correctly price-tagged — as they should be?

What in your opinion are we doing that we could do even better? Or what are we not doing that you feel we should do?

I INVITE YOU TO WRITE AND TELL ME HOW YOUR A&P MAY SERVE YOU BETTER

We of the A&P want to make our stores the finest places of all in which to shop. That is why your suggestions, criticisms and opinions will be gratefully received and acknowledged. You see there are thousands of employees of A&P in Canada jealously guarding the A&P reputation for courteous, honest, and efficient service. They never want to fail you in any way, but if they do, I am sure that they, as well as I, would appreciate your writing me.

Your Family Deserves Aylmer Quality

BELGIUM'S PRIME MINISTER, Paul Henri Spaak (Centre), checks over his papers immediately prior to opening of the Benelux Conference at The Hague, Holland. The meeting is being attended by 19 Ministers of Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg, accompanied by 42 experts. The success of the conference is important not only to the three nations involved, but will influence the co-operation of all Western Union.

Asks Senators Approve Change

WASHINGTON, March 17 (CP) —President Truman Wednesday asked the Senate to approve a Treaty change which would permit Canada temporarily to divert more water from the Niagara river. Canada wants the water to relieve a power shortage in Southern Ontario.

He sent to the Senate the texts of notes exchanges between the United States and Canada Dec. 23, 1948, amending a 1909 treaty.

The amendment provides that Canada may divert an additional 2,500 cubic feet of water a second, during the non-navigational season only. The water would be channelled through the Welland ship canal for use in a power plant near St. Catharines.

The 2,500-cubic-foot diversion project went into effect last Dec. 23 on a provisional basis.

On that same date, the State Department confirmed a year-round arrangement of May 3, 1944, whereby another 4,000 cubic feet a second may be diverted to the various Hydro developments on the Canadian side of the Niagara River. That earlier arrangement was originally a war measure but has remained in effect because of the Ontario shortage.

Gets Giant Excavator

BIRMINGHAM — (CP) — The latest advance in expansion of Britain's coal industry is the introduction of the largest excavator in Europe. This giant 1,200-ton machine can lift 25 tons of earth at a time. It is expected that within five years it will have removed 20,000,000 tons of earth to bring a 3,000,000-ton coalbed to the surface.

Meeting Of Reds Ask Truman Ban

WINDSOR, March 17—(CP)—More than 1,000 students of Assumption College, both Americans and Canadians, are expected to mail protests to President Truman against a conference to be held in New York under pro-Communist sponsorship.

At an anti-Communist rally today, students were handed postcards which they were requested to fill out and send to the President protesting a meeting called the Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace, scheduled from March 25 to 27.

Student leaders condemned the proposed conference as an insult to democracy and culture and an insidious plot to bring Red propaganda into America. They said the conference will feature speeches by a group of Russian "intellectuals," including the noted composer Dmitri Shostakovitch.

New Earth Tremors

SYDNEY, Australia, March 17 —(AP)—New earth tremors shook parts of New South Wales Wednesday night. The quake was not as violent as one experienced last Friday, but cracks in some buildings, started last week, were widened.

Bethany WI History Told

BETHANY, March 17—(ENS) Women's Institute decided at the March meeting to donate this year's legislative grant to Galloway's school. There were 20 members and two visitors at the meeting at Mrs. J. Millby's and Mrs. B. Taylor's home.

Mrs. T. Jackson reported that a second parcel had been sent to Bewcastle Bailey Institute in England. A letter had been received from the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada acknowledging clothing which had been sent for European relief.

Members were asked to save old Christmas cards to send to the Andrew Davison Christmas Card Industry, Morpeth, Northumberland, England, where they are renovated by ex War Veterans for resale. Mrs. Armstrong reported the sum of $18.25 received at the euchre parties last month and announced another would be held in the Orange Hall on March 24.

The program, arranged by group four with Mrs. C. Armstrong and Mrs. J. Millby as joint leaders included the story of St. Patrick told by Mrs. L. Chalice, Irish songs which Mrs. T. Jennings sang to her own guitar accompaniment. A talk on seasonable storage of clothing delivered by Mrs. Ona Thorndyke, Home Economics convener, was followed by a quizz on this subject in which Mrs. Thorndyke was assisted by Mrs. C. Page, Mrs. R. Palmer, Mrs. C. Armstrong, Mrs. C. Cummiskey and Mrs. H. Jennings.

Mrs. Ross Carr Speaks

Mrs. Ross Carr, publicity convener, told of the achievements of the Bethany Institute in past years. She also said the Institute was first organized in 1914 with Mrs. T. Jackson as the first president, Mrs. William McCarney, secretary and Miss Addie Preston, treasurer. The first project for adding funds to the treasury was the sale of ice cream in the Town Hall on Saturday nights, as none of the local stores handled this commodity at that time. Quilts were made and sold. The society sponsored socials, concerts, card parties, lances, and catered to numerous dinners and banquets. Trees had been planted on the town hall property in 1937 in memory of the Coronation in May. In 1939 two more trees had been added in remembrance of the visit to Canada of the King and Queen. Money raised through these projects has always gone to some worthy cause carrying out the motto of the Institute "For Home and Country." Bales of clothing have been sent to needy Europe and to the Canadian Western provinces. Both money and clothing were sent to far northern Aklavik through the local interest in Ruth Hamilton Patterson who was Nurse in the Hospital there.

Before the days of Hydro, Coleman lanterns were bought and used as street lights in the village. A small fire engine, hose and buckets for fire protection in the village was purchased and cisterns built so that the water supply would be adequate.

A contest on "Money Values" was won by Mrs. T. Jennings. The hostesses, assisted by Mrs. G. M. Longfield, Mrs. M. Finney, and Mrs. Thorndyke served a delicious lunch and Mrs. R. Palmer moved a vote of thanks to all who had contributed to a very successful evening. Mrs. Ralph Mulligan invited the members to her home for the April meeting which will be the annual election of officers. A collection of $1.95 was received.

ON LECTURE TOUR—Princess de Bourbon, widow of the late Prince Philippe de Bourbon des Deux-Secile, will leave Ottawa on Friday for Regina to resume a trans-Canada lecture tour this week interrupted by the sudden death of her husband in Saint John, NB, last week. Prince Philippe was a grandson of the last King of Naples, Ferdinand III.

Bethany News

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Reynolds on Sunday and attending the funeral service for the late Mrs. Burk McGill were Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McGill, Yelverton, Mr. and Mrs. William Mulligan, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman McGill of Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ryley and Bobby spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Staples in Lakefield.

Last week's meeting of the Young People's Union of the United Church was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mansell Finney with Mr. L. Millson in charge of the program.

Mrs. Alfred Driver celebrated her 79th birthday on Tuesday at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Driver.

Mrs. Edna Patton and Allan Muir of Norwood visited Mrs. Patton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Beer on Sunday.

Victoria County Has Fewer Foxes

LINDSAY, March 17—(CP)—There are 1,321 fewer foxes running loose in Victoria county as result of the $5 bounty paid by the county during the past three months. A total of $6,655 was paid out in fox bounty from November to February with $1,600 going to Verulam township hunters who shot 300 foxes. Twenty-seven wolves have also been killed in the county.

King Doing Nicely

LONDON, March 17 (Reuters)—The King is continuing to recover satisfactorily from his operation, performed last Saturday to improve the supply of blood to his leg, it was understood to-day. Professor J. R. Learmonth, who operated, visited the King Wednesday night.

SHE FAILED TO BEAT THE RECORD—Racing upstream against strong Mississippi River currents, the diesel-powered Harry Truman failed to beat the record of the famed Robert E. Lee. The Lee ended its historic race along a 1051-mile course in three days, 1 hour and 14 minutes in 1870. The Truman, pushing one barge laden with 1100 tons of cargo, failed to match that speed by one hour and 16 minutes, although the distance from New Orleans to St. Louis is now considered shorter due to changes in the river channel. Here, the modern barge is shown 80 miles north of Memphis, Tenn.

Plan Extension Of Playground

HAVELOCK, March 17—(ENS)—Board of Education decided Monday to purchase a lot on the south side of King St. to extend the school playground. Decision was taken on a motion by F. L. McKenzie and J. J. Calnan which recommended purchase of the plot from Mrs. Mary Smith for the sum of $300.

The Board decided to take out insurance to the extent of $65,000 after hearing E. J. Leeson and Walter Nobes, Sr., insurance agents, explain a new insurance schedule. The agents were asked to obtain a rate and uniform policy and to report to the Finance Committee. The insurance is to be divided equally between the two agents.

Reeve Leeson asked for permission for Belmont and Methuen Council to meet in the school on April 2, when the council chambers will be used for taking the vote on the rink by-law. The request was granted.

Truant Officer J. Disper reported as follows: School open 20 days in February; total enrollment 173; average attendance 158.5; actual aggregate 3170; perfect aggregate 3434; percentage of actual to perfect aggregate 92.31. There were 264 absent days.

Girl 17 Arrested Holds Up Trucker

TORONTO, March 17—(CP)—Marjory Evelyn Margaret Brown, 17, today was turned over to police by her mother after being sought since Monday for taking part in what police described as a fake hold-up of a tobacco truck driver.

Police said none of the $607 reported stolen from driver William Harryet, 22, was recovered when the girl was arrested. Police said they believe she either hid the money or gave it to some other person.

She was remanded for one week when she appeared in court today on a theft charge. Tuesday Harryet was remanded one week on charges of theft and public mischief.

War On Crime Works

GARY, Ind., March 17 (AP)—Gary's week-old war on crime and vice apparently is succeeding. Gamblers and prostitutes filed applications for jobless benefits with the Indiana Unemployment Compensation Bureau Wednesday. Lyman K. Bilts, manager of the office, said the gamblers probably will get compensation, but the prostitutes won't. He explained that prostitutes are ineligible because they are classified as independent contractors.

Group Donations Assist Food Gift Fund

During the recent Red Cross and Community Fund appeal the city and district efforts on behalf of the United Emergency Fund for Britain remained quiet, for after all, welfare efforts of the immediate vicinity have a just claim to priority when they were making their annual appeal.

Now that the former has concluded its efforts for another year, the UEFB will resume its appeal, to continue while the need still exists in the British Isles.

While some changes of a more hopeful nature have recently occurred in the ration situation, or are to on the first of next month, these allow for no change in some of the most basic necessities that form the nutritive portion of the people's diet. The weekly ration of butter is still 3 ounces, lard only 2 ounces, and margarine 4 ounces, while meat weekly ration in a monetary way on which it is based, would not buy more than 9 ounces of hamburger for the whole of that period.

A Gift of $75.00

Since last reporting, a number of donations have been received, prominent among which was one from the Peterborough Progressive Conservative Women's Association, who held a tea at the home of Mrs. J. Juby on Boswell Ave. This netted the sum of $75.

Other group donations include two from the Anglican Churches of All Saints' and St. John's, the former being represented by the Women's Friendly Group, and the latter by the choir. On behalf of the Peterborough Horticultural Society, Mrs. G. K. Fraser made a personal donation.

Personal gifts were received from Miss Lilian E. Hall, Miss M. Mathews, Dr. L. Q. Bailey of Lakefield, and three others known as friends, two of whom were ladies working in a Charlotte St. store. All were making their second donation since the fund started in mid December.

The fund now has on hand the sum of $248 towards its third donation of $1,000, and in all has received a total of $2,264 without sums pledged but still to be received.

Send your donation or hand it in at any bank in the city, or it may be sent direct to the chairman of the fund at 199 London St., City.

HOLD DANCE

Active, associate, and honorary officers of the 50th Heavy AA regiment, RCA, are holding a St. Patrick's dance Saturday night in the Mess. This evening the active officers will hold their monthly regimental dinner.

NOT DISTURBED

Sons of Erin are content to celebrate St. Patrick's Day by wearing something green, rather than by sending cards to their friends. A check with Postmaster Charles Lacheur indictaed the mail today is no heavier than an average day.

LOST ON TRAIN

An Imperial Service Medal lost by James Jackson, Campbellford, has been returned to him. It is believed the medal was lost on the train as the Canadian National Railway sent the medal to him Wednesday.

ELECT NEW OFFICERS

At the annual meeting of the Sergeants' Mess Tuesday the election of officers was held. They are president, BQMS J. Hewitt, treasurer, Sergeant C. A. Gallagher, and secretary, Sergeant J. M. Watson. The committee consists of BQMS J. N. E. Rexe and Sergeant R. W. Simmonds.

18 TRAFFIC CHARGES

Fines of more than $100 for traffic offences were imposed by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, at city police court today. There were 18 charges of inadequate lighting and parking offences for which fines of $3 totalled a sum of $54.

WANTS CURB ON DOGS

Mayor R. I. Moore of Lindsay intends to ask Council to pass a by-law requiring all dogs to be certified sterile before a licence is issued. "There would be some exemptions under special authorization," he said. "These would include dogs kept for breeding purposes, but all others within the one-year limit would be covered by the order." After the by-law becomes effective dogs within the age limit found wandering in the town would be picked up and turned over to a veterinary for treatment, he stated. And the owner would be billed for the cost. The mayor said he thought this measure is necessary because the dog population is increasing unchecked.

Require Prosperous Farmers For Healthy Country--Kelley

Urban residents should take much more interest than they have shown heretofore in the welfare of the farmer, members of the Peterborough Sales and Advertising Club were told at their March meeting Wednesday evening in the Empress Hotel by Hon. Russell T. Kelley, Ontario Minister of Health. Hon. Mr. Kelley, who is founder and president of the Russell T. Kelley Advertising Agency, Hamilton, was guest speaker on the occasion of "Advertising Night" and was introduced to the members by Peter LaBranche. Paige Rowell, president of the club, presided.

"If we are going to have a prosperous country, we must have a prosperous agriculture," said the speaker, and city residents should do all they can to help the farmer to be efficient and to see that he gets good prices for his products.

Work Together

Members of the club could do much to encourage the junior farmers especially to do an increasingly better job, Hon. Mr. Kelley declared. As an example of what he meant, he said in travelling around the province he had noted many instances where farmers were in the habit of leaving costly farm implements out all night. He estimated that the farmers of the province lost around 20 million dollars annually just because they didn't look after their implements properly. Urban and rural dwellers should work together more than they have done in the past.

Hon. Mr. Kelley also called for a greater display of community spirit in urban communities. He said that he knew of no better organization to bring this about than the Sales and Advertising Club. "You should all be boosters for Peterborough," with no "knockers" allowed.

Mr. Kelley discussed advertising from its five main angles, billboard, direct mail, newspaper and magazine, radio, and the spoken word, offering many hints and suggestions as to proper procedure drawn from his nearly sixty years in the advertising business. Newspapers play a very important part in advertising, he said. It must be recognized also that radio advertising is here to stay. Advertising is either one of two things, "an investment or an expense."

Support Canadian Talent

During his discussion of radio advertising Mr. Kelley made a plea for greater support of our own Canadian talent in music, art, drama, etc. This was necessary if we are going to develop a "truly Canadian spirit."

A vote of thanks was tendered to the speaker on behalf of the gathering by H. B. Cowan, Jr.

A feature of the meetting was the welcome extended by President Rowell to 19 new members: Howard C. Allison, W. C. Cuppy, J. A. Deyell, John W. Fortner, Edward D. Faux, Charles E. Graham, Jack R. Hewitt, David H. House, John A. Hunter, B. Roy Hutchinson, J. W. Maddon, Herb Routley, Thomas R. Sheridan, Gordon H. Shier, J. W. Smith, George A. Stone, Dalton R Thomas, J. H. Wiley and A. Cecil Wolff.

At the request of the president, the members stood for a moment of silence in honor of the late Lyn A. Baker, of Ottawa, president of the Canadian Federation of Advertising and Sales Clubs, who died suddenly on February 18.

The nominating committee brought in a slate of proposed new directors, from which four will be elected at the next meeting, which will be "Inter-Club" Night," with invitations to be extended to eleven other nearby clubs to send representatives. This meeting will be on April 19 and on April 29 the annual "Ladies' Night" will be held, Russ Baer being in charge of arrangements for the latter event.

125 Shut-ins Guests At St. Patrick's Party

One hundred and twenty-five shut-ins and older residents of the city were entertained at a St. Patrick's party Wednesday evening. They were guests of the Rotary Club who provided their transportation to and from the Salvation Army hall, scene of the festivity.

Major Charles Watt, chairman of the social service department, as master of ceremonies, conducted a hearty sing song. Mrs. Jas. Goldie delighted the gathering with several numbers including Irish melodies. Mr. Charles Allen was at the piano. Terry Huffman and Murray Manders, two young artists on chimes, vibraphone and bells, entertained several times. Three films were shown by Mr. Les Casey.

Mr. W. J. Hamilton, president of the Rotary Club, introduced the Rev. Dr. J. Semple, who spoke briefly and pronounced a benediction.

Each guest was presented with a box of chocolates in St. Patrick's wrapping. Serviettes and refreshments carried out the theme in color and decoration. Mrs. W. J. Hamilton convened the lunch, assisted by Mrs. E. A. Outram, Mrs. Chas. Allen, Mrs. Jas. Semple, Mrs. Jack Gillespie, Mrs. D. T. Diplock, Mrs. G. H. Roper, Mrs. N. Nesbitt, Mrs. C. C. Pilon, Mrs. T. J Carley, Mrs Mel Shadgett and Mrs C. Watt.

DIES IN TORONTO

Mr. Douglas Johnston of the head office of the Bank of Commerce, Toronto, formerly of Peterborough, died of a heart attack shortly after arriving at the bank this morning. He was a son of the late Alderman Wm. J. Johnston and Mrs. Johnston, and a brother of Miss Florence Johnston of the Peterborough welfare department.

Hospital Plans Given Governors

Two months ahead of schedule, the working plans and specifications for the east wing of Civic Hospital have been delivered to the Board of Governors by the architects, Blackwell and Craig.

Ald. Dick Raine, chairman of the council's hospital committee, informed the Examiner today that complete working drawings and the specifications were forwarded to the building committee of the governors Tuesday, March 15 for their approval.

"They are two months ahead of schedule on those plans," said Ald. Raine. The architects are also working on the plans for the nurses' residence. They hoped to have them completed shortly after the east wing, but that hope has been slightly amended.

Horse, Driver Injured By Car

A horse and its driver were injured in a collision between an automobile and a horse-drawn sleigh which occurred at noon on Wednesday on the Glenarm road at a point six miles from Fenelon Falls. Driver of the car escepted injury.

John Murchison, of Cameron, owner of the horse and sleigh, suffered a fractured rib in the crash. The horse received a cut on the right side of the neck about 10 inches long and another cut on the right front leg about 8 inches long and 3 inches deep. The animal was taken to Mr. Murchison's barn where it is under the care of a veterinary surgeon. The car involved in the collision was driven by Les Kennell of Fenelon Falls.

Kennell's car sustained a broken window in the crash, together with losing one of its door handles. It was the broken glass and door handle which caused the injuries to the horse.

43 Foxes Bagged By Two Hunters

Forty-three foxes have been shot by George Robertson, Rice Lake resort owner and Thomas Taylor since the first of the year. This morning they collected bounty on 14, shot in Douro and Otonabee townships. Wednesday they shot four foxes.

Mr. Robertson and Mr. Taylor give much of the credit for their good luck to their foxhound, Mike. The first fox bagged Wednesday was shot when the dog after a lengthy chase ran the animal right into the waiting hunters. The dog ran from nine in the morning until eight at night.

HOLD LADIES' NIGHT

A special program of entertainment has been arranged for tonight by the Kiwaniqueens marking the annual Ladies' Night held by the Kiwanis Club. Each member is asked to bring his wife or lady friend.

General Rate 20.36 Mills Schools 13.62

The composition of Peterborough's tax rate is set out as follows in the bylaw Wednesday which adopted its 45.5 mills for this year:

City general rate—20.36 mills.
Public Schools—9.75.
Separate Schools—12.09.
Collegiate Institute—3.87.
City Trust, interest and sinking fund, Collegiate Institute debentures—.49.
Civic Hospital for 1949—2 mills.
City Trust—Interest and sinking fund on Civic Hospital debentures—1.8.
City Trust—general debentures —2.24.
City Trust: local improvements —.32.
City Trust—interest and sinking fund, Public School debentures—1.34.
Collection and disposal of garbage—2.2.
Interest and sinking fund, garbage debentures—.15.

Tax Rates Compared

The 1948 tax rate of 41½ mills was made up as follows: general rate, 18.85 mills (20.36 this year); collection and disposal of garbage, 1.90 mills (2.2 this year).

The comparable 1949 rates are shown in brackets. Special rates: Anson House, .05 mills (not included in this year's rate); Civic Hospital, 2.02 (2 mills this year); Public School, 9.2 (9.75); Public School debentures, 1.18 (1.34 mills this year); Collegiate Institute, current, 3.82 (3.87); Collegiate debentures, .56 (.49).

General debentures, 2.43 (2.34); local improvements, .34 (.32); garbags collection department, .16 (.15); Civic Hospital debentures, 1.17 (1.8 this year).

Debenture Payments

The requisition of the City Trust Commission, $217,286.55, represents interest and sinking fund payments on debentures which were issued on that method of borrowing. The amount is equivalent to 6.34 mills in the tax rate.

It is a levy for the retirement of debts incurred by the municipality in its longer term financing. Details of the debenture payment rate are: Collegiate Institute, .49 mills; Civic Hospital, 1.8 mills; General debentures, 2.24 mills; Local improvements, .32 mills; Public Schools, 1.34; Sanitary department, incinerator, etc., .15 mills.

Outline of Estimates

Details of the municipal estimates for this year, requiring a tax rate of 45.5 mills are as follows:

Brillinger Now Being Held By Brantford Police Wanted In Several Cities

BRANTFORD, March 17—(CP).—Harold Arthur Brillinger, 39-year-old former dance school operator, was held by police today on charges of false pretences, burglary and selling an automobile against which there was a lien. Brillinger, who operated a dance school for three years under the name of Murray Keyes, was arrested in Peterborough last Saturday. He operates a gift shop in Peterborough and police believe valuable articles found in his possession included antiques similar to those stolen from Max Kirsch of Montreal.

Kirsch, whose antique shop was robbed several months ago, is holding himself in readiness to come to Peterborough to attempt to identify the goods. Brantford police have been looking for Brillinger since last July, the month he discontinued operation of his dance school here, and when he is charged with passing a number of worthless cheques.

Among charges facing Brillinger are theft of a car in Etobicoke township; non-support and burglary at Sudbury; false pretences in Toronto and Galt; and burglary of a clothing store above which he operated his dance school here. He is also suspected of offences in Ottawa, St. Thomas and London, Ont.

Mrs. Thos. Metcalfe's Funeral Held In City

Funeral for the late Mrs. Thomas Metcalfe, 68, of 180 Perry St., was held on Wednesday at the Belleghem Funeral Home. The Rev. Ivan C. Morgan of Murray Street Baptist Church officiated, and pall-bearers were John Mock, Bert Dack, William Howden, Wallace Darling, Joseph Dunkerley, and Whitfield Northey. Burial was at Little Lake Cemetery.

Mrs. Metcalfe died at her residence on Monday following a lingering illness. She was born in St. Helen's, England, Mary Jane, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Leatham. Before coming to Peterborough 20 years ago, she lived in Outlook, Sask. She was a member of Murray Street Baptist Church and of its Others Class.

Signs Of Spring Slow In Coming

Peter Kearns, 98 Stewart St., informed The Examiner that he saw a robin this morning, and heard its first lyric note of the year. It was greeting the south end neighborhood from a bush in his garden.

According to Mr. Kearns' identification as correct, this was a timely arrival for this St. Patrick's Day. So far this month, winter has been perversely lingering in the lap of spring. February had encouraged hopes of a season turn in the weather. Overcoats were stored away, and were replaced in display windows by topcoats in colors that ranged to delicate pastel shades, inviting youth to brighter hues of expressionism in their raiment.

The green of today's festive shamrock accompanied by the Kearns robin are promises of spring, after the half hour's blizzard around 9 o'clock Wednesday night, a boisterous blow and whirling of snow, and the waning moon that looked upon a scene that appeared typical of midwinter. And the thermometer dropped to 10 above zero, still tracing frost figures on many windows.

Max Baer Enjoys Being Actor

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, March 17 (AP) —Shake hands with Max Baer the actor—if you don't mind risking loss of your hand.

We find the mammoth former champ in his dressing room on the "Love is Big Business" set.

How does he like Thespian art?

"This is the softest racket in the world. I've been hit in the head for 20 years, but I can do it. I shoulda stuck to this all along.

Baer had his first fling at emoting in "The Prize-Fighter and The Lady" in 1933. He co-starred with Myrna Loy.

"I coulda had a career out here, I guess," he says in his rumbling base. But I was a fresh young punk and I thought I could become champion."

As a matter of fact, he did, by knocking out Primo Carnera in the 11th round at Long Island city. A year later, the crown was tipped off his large head by Jim Braddock.

"This acting game is much easier," he says. "Although I guess a lot of actors around here are finding out it ain't so rosy these days. You gotta know your stuff or you don't work.

"Me, I'm lucky. I saved my dough. So if I don't get a job in pitcures for a while, I can live on my annuities."

Court Gives Damage To Parents Of 2 Boys

OTTAWA, March 17—(CP)—The Exchequer Court Wednesday awarded damages against the government to the parents of two boys, one of whom was killed and the other injured in an accident at Oshawa on Oct. 3, 1945.

George Bailey, 20, was killed and Norman Schell, 13, was injured in the accident involving an army truck and a civilian truck. The youths were standing near the scene of the accident, for which the Government admitted negligence by the army driver.

Young Bailey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Bailey, were awarded $2,280 damages. The court granted $1,859 to Wesley Schell, father of the injured boy.

Beat Up Engineer

ASBESTOS, Que., March 17—(CP)—Canadian Johns-Manville Co., made known today that one of its senior engineers had been beaten up on the streets of Asbestos during the night, some 24 after the company's private railway connecting Asbestos with Danville, four miles away, was dynamited. Some 15 persons pushed the engineer. He had cuts and face bruises treated at the company clinic.

"HERE'S YOUR LAST CHANCE to enter the $10,000 CROWN BRAND CONTEST!"

JANE ASHLEY
Home Service Department
The Canada Starch Company Limited

Contest Closes April 15! Be sure you try for the Grand Prize now! — before it's too late!

It's easy . . . here's how you enter —

463 PRIZES

1. Simply print your name and address on any plain sheet of paper.
2. Mail this, together with a label from a 5 lb. tin of Crown Brand Corn Syrup* (or reasonable facsimile) to: — THE CROWN BRAND CONTEST Station "H" Montreal, Que.
3. Be certain your entry has sufficient postage.

That is all you do to enter the Crown Brand Contest.

Now, here's what happens:—

154 entries will be drawn from the mail received during this last prize-winning period. These 154 persons will then be asked to mail a letter giving three reasons why they like Crown Brand Corn Syrup.

Then, based on the merit of the replies, the 154 prizes will be awarded as follows:

1st PRIZE: $100.00 2nd PRIZE: $50.00 152 PRIZES OF $10.00 EACH

And now look what happens!

THE JUDGES WILL DETERMINE WHICH OF THE THREE FIRST-PRIZE LETTERS RECEIVED DURING THE THREE PRIZE-WINNING PERIODS IS, IN THEIR OPINION, THE BEST. THE WRITER OF THIS BEST LETTER WILL THEN BE AWARDED THE . . .

GRAND PRIZE: $5,000.00

If no label, top or carton is enclosed the Grand Prize will be $1,000. The Crown Brand Contest is open to all Canadians except employees and their families of The Canada Starch Company and its advertising agency. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become the property of The Canada Starch Company.

Prize winners will be notified by mail within 90 days after close of the contest. A complete list of prize winners will be available upon request at the close of the contest.

IT'S THE CONTEST FOR EVERYBODY BECAUSE IT'S EASY AND EVERY MEMBER OF THE FAMILY CAN WIN! WRITE NOW—AND WRITE OFTEN!

If you did not enter the first two prize-winning periods (Jan. 15-Feb. 15; Feb. 16-March 15), there is still time for you to enter this last prize-winning period (March 16-April 15). And if you entered the first two parts of the contest make sure also to enter this remaining one — the more entries you submit, the more chances you have.

Smith Fire Rate Will Be Increased

Smith suburbanites will have to pay more for fire protection by the city because it is costing all hands more.

That is the substance of a letter to be sent to the township council in reply to remonstrance about the increase in the fire levy on the residents at the city's fringe. This charge was advanced by the city from two mills to three.

The assessment on building in that south section of the township has been increased about 50%. On the other hand the city has had to increase its appropriations to the fire department, including a substantial increase in the salary column. So, regretfully, the city is replying to the effect "there is nothing we can do about it".

Baby's Death Probed By Jury

An inquest to determine whether the death on Feb. 20 of a nine month old Indian baby was caused through the mother's neglect was held Wednesday at city police court. A five man jury decided that Linda Joyce Schilling died of natural causes although there was a suspicion of neglect on the part of the mother, Verna Schilling.

Mrs. E. Whetung, the nurse at Curve Lake reserve, said she telephoned Dr. Lloyd Bailey at Lakefield on Saturday, Feb. 19 after finding the child's temperature was 104. He prescribed sulphadiazine, she said, and instructed her to tell the mother to take the child to his office that night.

Did Not Take Child to Doctor

The mother told the coroner, Dr. Herbert N. Young, that she did not take the child to the doctor that night because she thought the baby was going to get better. The following day she was taken to Civic hospital by car.

On Sunday morning she took the child' temperature and called the nurse. In answer to a question from Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, she said that her first child had died at the age of eight months. Linda was her second.

Asked whether she received the child allowance, she said her father supplied her with money.

Dr. H. E. Gaskel told the coroner that he had attended the child at St. Joseph's hospital between September and December when it had pneumonia. Dr. Bailey said the child had bronchial pneumonia when he saw her at Civic Hospital on Feb. 20.

Members of the jury were Dennis Fitzgerald, Roy Hutchison, Russell Reid, Edward Lebarr and Gordon Shier.

Sugar 'n Spice and Everything nice

PURITY NEW! Sweet Buns ... and easy to make at home

Appetizing, satisfying, money-saving! Make up this Purity Flour Sweet Bun dough and in quick time you can have hot buns, fruit buns, spiced buns or iced buns...oven fresh.

SWEET BUNS
Tested Recipe from the Purity Flour Kitchens—

1 cake compressed yeast
2 cups milk (scalded and cooled to lukewarm)
¼ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup shortening
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
9½-6 cups sifted PURITY FLOUR

Soften yeast cake in lukewarm milk. Cream sugar and shortening and add well-beaten egg, salt, yeast and milk mixture. Add sufficient flour to make a dough soft enough to be conveniently handled, and knead until smooth. Place dough in a lightly-greased bowl and grease the surface of the dough lightly. Cover and leave in a warm place (80°-90°F.) to rise until it has doubled in bulk. Punch down and shape into rolls. Place on a greased baking sheet, cover lightly, and let rise until double in bulk. Bake in a hot oven (400°-425°F) for 20-30 minutes, or until light brown. Yield about 3½ dozen rolls.

FRUIT BUNS—Add 1½ cups currants or raisins, dredged with flour, before shaping the dough into buns. Just before baking, glaze with a mixture of 1 egg white and 2 tablespoons water.

CINNAMON BUNS—Roll dough out to a long narrow sheet ½ inch thick. Brush with melted butter. Mix 1 cup brown sugar with 1½ teaspoons cinnamon and sprinkle over dough. If desired ½ cup of raisins may be added. Roll up jelly-roll fashion and seal edge. Cut into 1 inch slices and place cut side down in well-greased muffin tins. Brush tops with milk and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon mixture.

What a taste thrill . . . what a thrill to get a recipe that means so much wonderful food for so little money. And this recipe calls for Purity Flour . . . your favourite, the flour that's specially milled from fine hard wheat, the flour that means successful cakes, pies, cookies or buns, every time, all the time.

Dreft washes dishes so clean it helps protect your family as no suds ever could before!

Health Authorities say the way you wash dishes and the kind of suds you use, can mean the difference between sickness and health

Perhaps you don't realize that danger lurks in your dishpan. But this is a proved fact. For doctors have found that dishwater film carries germs.

Even dishes you've washed and polished carefully can carry this germ-laden film to the very ones you wish to protect.

Dreft Leaves No Germ-Laden Film—With Dreft the menace of dishwater film is gone. Dreft leaves no film. It actually helps protect your family.

And this new way of dishwashing, made practical by Dreft, not only helps you safeguard those you care for—it is actually an easier, quicker, happier way of doing dishes!

New, Quick Dreft Way—Wash your dishes in Dreft's abundant, lasting suds. Give them a hot rinse (the hotter the better). Then let them drain dry. It's just as easy and quick as that!

Dreft suds leave dishes shining bright . . . even without wiping. Healthfully clean . . . film-free—as no suds before Dreft ever got them!

So heed the warning of Health Authorities and help protect your family. Wash your dishes healthfully clean—with DREFT.

NEW IMPROVED DREFT NOW WASHES ¼ MORE DISHES

Weighs more! You now get 5 dishwashings for every 4 you got before!

Dutch Warn Republicans

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, March 17 — (CP). — The Netherlands warned Wednesday that Republican refusal to accept a Canadian proposal for negotiations could bring intensified warfare to Indonesia. Dr. J. H. Van Royjen, Netherlands Minister to Canada, told the United Nations Security Council that the Indonesian Republic apparently had rejected a Canadian suggestion aimed at settling hostilities between the Dutch and Indonesians which have going on for four years.

Investigate Passports

OTTAWA, March 17— (CP).— Issuance of passports for the adoption of babies outside Canada is checked by the Dominion with the provinces concerned, External Affairs Minister Pearson said Wednesday in the Commons. He was replying to questions asked by Mrs. Gladys Strum (CCF-Qu'Appelle) as to what the Federal Government proposes to do concerning babies taken to the United States for adoption from New Brunswick and Alberta.

Innocent Victim

WILMINGTON, Del., March 17 (AP).— A Juvenile Court Judge said Wednesday a 10-year-old negro girl who gave birth to a child was the "innocent victim of adult neglect." The baby — a 7 pound 5 ounce daughter— was born on Sunday in Wilmington's Memorial Hospital. Both mother and child are doing well, the hospital said. Judge Ernest V. Keith said the baby's father is the son of the girl's step-grandmother.

Garson Refuses To Be Rushed Over Answer

OTTAWA, March 17—(CP) — Justice Minister Garson declined in the Commons Wednesday to express an opinion on whether the government has the power to bring the tax changes in the budget into effect by order-in-council.

The question was raised by John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre) who referred to speculation set off by announcement that the budget will be brought down next Tuesday and by the Government's decision to lengthen the sitting hours of the Chamber. There has been speculation that the moves indicate an early general Federal election.

Mr. Diefenbaker said:

"I was wondering whether or not under these emergency powers it is considered by the Minister of Justice that once the budget has been introduced, without it being passed by Parliament, the emergency powers of an order-in-council could make effective its recommendations. . ."

Mr. Garson replied:

"I have been in the legal profession for 25-odd years now and I have never yet acquired the habit of answering questions of the type just asked by my honorable friend like a slot-machine.

"If my honorable friend wishes an opinion on that I shall be glad to confer with the law officers of the Crown and produce it for him, but I regret that I cannot feel responsible to produce it at a moment's notice at the present time."

Studying Controls

The exchange occurred during study of a resolution providing for the extension of some of the war-time emergency controls.

Mr. Diefenbaker took the floor again and said:

"I think the allusion to a slot-machine is about the best thing I have heard in reference to orders-in-council. When I think of the thousands that have been turned out, the slot-machine allusion is most applicable and most pertinent.

"But still that does not answer my question. The experience in the past has shown that this government has not been too careful about exceeding its powers when passing orders-in-council, even when those powers are granted by a statute passed by this Parliament.

"It was because of that fact that I asked the question and the uncertainty of the reply gives me the answer that I was endeavoring to get."

Lakefield Parents Hear Lewis Bird

LAKEFIELD, March 17 (ENS) —Mr. Lewis Bird, of the Central School staff Peterborough was guest speaker at "Father's Night" on Monday of the Home and School Association.

Speaking on Visual Aid, the speaker based his talk on the three L's in education—Look, Listen and Learn. The inventor Thomas Edison saw the day coming when visual aids would be used extensively in the class, but it took a war to bring out the tremendous things that could be done through visual aid. A Chinese teacher centuries ago stated that one picture is worth a thousand words. Pictures linger with children.

Films, said the speaker, tend to make a good teacher better and a poor teacher poorer. Films can be used to introduce a new topic, as a basis or as a review to revive interest.

Two educational films, were shown by Mr. Bird.

R. E. Sutton introduced the speaker, and he was thanked by Mr. J. Arnott and Mr. Howard Deeth.

F. L. Erskine played for a sing song led by Mrs. Sutton.

The prize for having the largest number of parents present was won by Miss Beavis' room.

Mrs. J. Arnott and Mrs. Browne asked for donations for the home cooking booth, the candy booth and the fish pond for the school fair to be held April 1.

Mrs. K. Lichty read an article on comic books and a petition was signed by those present to have harmful comics cut out. The President Mrs. Harold Duth presided for the meeting.

Lunch was served by a number of the mothers.

Increased Work Reported By Nurses of the VON

One hundred thirty-five cases were added to the number of carried over from December, Miss Mary Ross, superintendent, of the Victorian Order of Nurses, reported Wednesday at the monthly meeting. Carried over from December were 105 patients, making a total case of 240. She said that of the 240 patients there were 41 who would come in the category, long term illness and they received 291 visits.

Miss Ross explained there were more patients under care in the acutely ill group than last year for the same period, but there were 100 fewer visits. This decrease in visits, she added, was due to the fact that the illnesses were shorter, fewer visits per patient were necessary. Eighty-five patients in the acutely ill category received 118 visits.

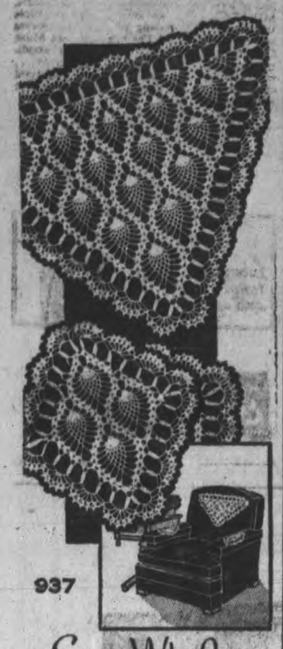
Patients discharged from the Hospital, while still in need of care, received 49 visits for 12 patients visited. Visited to prenatals, mothers and babies totalled 438. The total number of visits made during the two months were 890.

Miss Ross reported fee collections has been good. Fifty-six paid the full cost of the visit. Four paid part of the fee twenty-two were Metropolitan Life Insurance Policy holders. Of the 29 free cases, 23 were under the Educational bracket (which is free) and six were for the nursing care Old Age Pensioners.

Sent to Hospital

Three of these old age pensioners, she explained, had to be discharged to the hospital because of lack of care in the home. In one home she said there were three people over 70 years. They were a man and his wife and his wife's sister. The V. O. N. was called in by a neighbour. The man, she explained, was doing his best to care for the two sick women. One of the V. O. N. nurses prepared some food for the family. The sister was both deaf and dumb. She finally had to be sent to the hospital.

Two other cases were reported by a driver of a bread wagon and a doctor to the V. O. N.



Poster Contest

Miss Ross also gave the report of the Publicity Committee. She said the poster contest was making headway, with many inquiries going in. The prize money, she added, was being obtained from businessmen in the city. She explained that all the posters to be entered in the contest should be in by Saturday, March 26. The following week the posters will be judged, the winners being sent to the National contes

A motion was passed by the Branch to recommend to the Publicity Committee that the entries from the Separate Schools, the Public Schools, PCVS and the Normal School and the entries privately be judged separately. This will only be done locally no for the National competition. They aso asked that a recommendation to the Publicity Committee be made regarding the number of posters from any one person. Three poster can be turned in from one person.

DAISY DREAM CAKE

Mixing time: 4 minutes

MARTHA LOGAN'S "HELPING HAND" RECIPE POINTS THE WAY TO SURE SUCCESS

Even if you are an expert, you'll be extra-pleased with the simplicity and your success with this recipe. And if you're a beginner, you'll find with Swift'ning and this recipe, it's easier to bake fine cakes than you imagined! Watch for the Helping Hands! They warn you where there is a chance of mistake!

Preparation: Have all ingredients at room temperature. Preheat oven and set at 375°F. Line bottoms of two 8-inch square (or 9-inch round) layer cake pans with waxed paper.

Ingredients: (Use standard, level measure)

½ cup Swift'ning
2 cups sifted cake flour
Be sure to sift flour before measuring.
Spoon lightly into cup.
1¼ cups sugar
3 tsp. double-acting* baking powder (4 if tartrate type)
1 tsp. salt
¾ cup milk
2 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla

Step 1: Put Swift'ning in mixing bowl. Sift in flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Add milk and vanilla. Beat for 2 minutes—by hand, using about 150 strokes per minute; or at medium speed of electric mixer. Keep scraping batter off sides and bottom of bowl with rubber scraper. After 2 minutes, scrape beaters or spoon and mixing bowl thoroughly.

Step 2: Add the unbeaten eggs. Beat 1 minute. Scrape beaters and bowl thoroughly. Continue beating 1 minute. Pour equal amounts of batter into prepared cake pans. Bake about 30 minutes. When cake is done it will spring back quickly when pressed by the finger. Cool on cake rack 15 minutes; loosen sides carefully with spatula, invert on rack; remove pans. When thoroughly cool, fill and frost. Decorate with whole blanched almonds, tips dipped in melted chocolate.

Mocha Frosting: Put ¼ cup Swift'ning into mixing bowl. Sift in 3½ cups confectioner's sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, and 2 tablespoons cocoa. Add an egg and ¼ cup strong black coffee (cold). Beat until blended and fluffy.

*Look for the words "Double-Acting" on the baking powder tin.

Hold Banquet

Trinity Young People's Club held a banquet and St. Patrick's party Tuesday evening. The Sunday school hall was colorfully decorated with shamrocks, green and white streamers for the occasion and tables the same with lighted green candles. Young members of the congregation were invited to this event and an invitation to join the club extended. Entertainment included a violin solo by Jack Wilson, two Irish choruses by the Junior Choir with Miss M. McIntyre at the piano and a guitar selection by Olive Morrison. A skit called "A Man Arrives" was enacted by three girls. The Rev. Dr. B. Gordon spoke briefly to the group. Mrs. Gordon led in a sing song. The evening continued with contests and games, and closed with a friendship circle.

Pastor's Sermon Followed By Deaf In Sign Language

By JACK F. DAVIS

BALTIMORE, March 17 (AP) —The minister ended his sermon and sat down. Four robed choir members rose, faced the little congregation and joined in a hymn—without sound.

After the benedication the parishioners gathered in little knots at the rear of the sanctuary as good Methodists will—yet not a sound broke the stillness.

It was another Sunday service at Christ Methodist Church For The Deaf, a small, unimposing structure at a street intersection that has housed unhearing worshippers since 1896.

The workings of the service are novel, yet quite simple. As the Rev. J. Lee Williams preaches the sermon, his assistant, Rev. Louis W. Foxwell, stands beside him and conveys the message to the congregation by means of sign language.

Mr. Foxwell, better known as "the signer" has complete hearing, but he has used the sign language since childhood because both his hands busily translate the sermon into a series of hand symbols.

Some of the gestures are obvious, even to one unfamiliar with sign language. Other are more difficult to translate, but even these—once understood—prove quite logical.

Symbol For "Jesus"

The word "Jesus", for example is formed by pointing with the left hand to the right palm to indicate the wound from the cross.

The services begin every Sunday afternoon at 3.15, although many arrive shortly after one o'clock when the church is opened. For to these physically handicapped, this is their big day, when they can get out and converse with others similary afflicted.

Afterwards they stay for a supper in the big kitchen and gather in the social room for an hour or two of fellowship. Often it is nine or 10 o'clock before they gesture "good night" and start home.

The little church was founded by Rev. Daniel E. Moylan, for many years an instructor at the Maryland school for the colored deaf. He died six years ago, just three years before the church observed its golden jubilee.

Since the turn of the century the membership has increased from 23 to well over 100.

The church is not elaborate. The pews are worn a bit and the floors squeak underfoot. But the parishioners don't hear them. Watching them makes you believe they wouldn't if they could. They are too intent watching the signer and "hearing the word."

Introduce New Party Games

Girls of the '38 Club enjoyed a jolly St. Patrick's party in the YWCA Wednesday evening. Entertainment was arranged by Misses Hazel Wilson, Marion Pogue and Hazel Rennie, and they introduced dancing games and group games that were new and most pleasurable. Highlights of the latter were a name bingo in which Miss Jean Scott won the prize in a tie of three players, and a word game won by Mrs. Ray Kearns and Miss Geraldine Dunford. Each of the 20 guests wore a name card, alternating in the shape of shamrocks and top hats. The tea table was delightfully gay with a St. Patrick's cloth and green candles flanking a huge shamrock centrepiece, and a replica of Paddy's pig that held green and white candles. Lunch was brought to the table in a decorated wheelbarrow. The servers, Misses Hazel Rennie, Maxine Elliott and Selena Buck, wore top hats and fancy aprons. During a short business meeting nominations for a new slate of officers were made and will be brought up for election at next meeting.

Silver Cross Women Hold Most Successful Tea, Proceeds for New Chapel

Wearers of the Silver Cross, the women whose sons and husbands lost their lives in the country's service, are delighted today with citizens' support of their first social undertaking since organization last year. One of the largest crowds to attend an afternoon tea in this city filled the YWCA Green Room where they entertained Wednesday.

Three hundred tickets had been taken before the tea date and more than 100 cash admissions were received at the door. With proceeds from tables of home cooking, candy and handwork and three draws, revenue from the event is well over $200. It will go towards a memorial for those valiant men in the form of a Chapel in the new Civic Hospital, where others' hearts may find solace when their loved ones are suffering. Surely a splendid thought of women who might rightfully feel they had already given sufficiently.

Representatives of each military service were on hand to greet the guests. Mrs. B. W. Harvey, president of Peterborough Chapter of Silver Cross Women, for the Air Force, Mrs. Harry White for the Navy, Mrs. J. H. Quirt and Mrs. S. Couper, the Army.

Delightful spring flowers were arranged in a silver basket on the tea table and the candles were green for St. Patrick A handsome linen cloth with cutwork embroidered border graced the tea table. Pouring tea during the afternoon were Mrs. A. Mason, Mrs. F. E. Hooper, Mrs. E. Breckenridge and Mrs. J. Patte.

Mrs. Graeme Falkner was convener of refreshments and Mrs. J. Morley, Mrs. W. Davies, Mrs. E. Pearse, Mrs. M. A. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Gerald Dawson and Mrs. L. Pryde were servers. Mrs. J. L. Young and Mrs. A. Williams had charge of the tea room.

Bands of silver and green shamrocks decorated skirts of bazaar tables. Demand for the home cooking considerably exceeded the supply, which was of excellent quality. Mrs. F. Patterson and Mrs. C. McWilliams were in charge of the table, assisted by Mrs. G. Breckenridge and Mrs. J. Allen. They also sold draw tickets on an attractive basket of groceries which was won by Mrs. Craig Eason.

Home made candy sold out early too with Mrs. J. E. Gynane, Mrs. J. W. Ebbs and Mrs. E. Brady serving. A specially prepared box was offered for a draw prize and the winner of this was Mrs. W. J. Clark.

Some lovely handwork was displayed and sales were handled by Mrs. S. Gibbs, Mrs. F. C. Paterson, Mrs. F. W. Burnham and Mrs. W. J. Davies.

A lovely crocheted chesterfield set, made by Miss Grose, was offered as a special draw prize. Mrs. J. H. Coones and Mrs. N. Fee showed it off effectively on a green background, and ticket sales were high. Winner was Mrs. J. Martin, Sherbrooke St.

Ladies attending the treasurer's table were Mrs. E. Pruner and Mrs. T. Henry.

With the encouragement of such wonderful response to their activities the Silver Cross Women will continue their splendid work with greater vigor. Meetings are open to all holders of the Silver Cross and it is hoped every one will become affiliated with the organization as membership increases each month.

Mrs. T. J. Carley Heads YW Name Executive, Conveners

Mrs. T. J. Carley was installed president of the Peterborough YWCA at March meeting of the board of directors. She succeeds Mrs. H. Paige Rowell to whom tribute was paid for leadership during the past three years. Other officers are: First vice president, Mrs. H. T. Rehill; second vice president, Miss Olga Johnston; third vice president, Mrs. W. Perks; recording secreary, Miss Flora Metcalfe; corresponding secretary, Miss E. Morrow; treasurer, Mrs. J. Hornal.

Representatives to the executive committee, named by the new president are Mrs. H. P. Rowell and Mrs. H. C. Sootheran.

The following are appointed committee conveners: Finance, Mrs. J. Hornal; girls' work, Mrs. H. T. Rehill; health education, Mrs. W. G. Ovens; residence, Mrs. W R. L. Blackwell; swimming, Mrs H. C. Sootheran; public affairs, Miss M McIntosh; membership, Mrs. James Semple; camp, Mrs. W. J. Hardill; repairs, Mrs. C. J. Ray; social, Mrs. S L Smoke; national interpretation and support, Mrs W. J. Hardill; personnel, Mrs. J. H. Vernor; nominating, Mrs. W. Perks.

Nominations were submitted by Mrs C. J. Ray, convener, and Mrs J. H. Vernor presided for the election.

On motion the board decided to offer Camp Inglestane, Stony Lake, for sale. Main reasons are that it would cost three to five thousand dollars to recondition buildings and equipment and an estimated three to five hundred more would be needed yearly to keep it up to date. This cannot b accomplished it was said on boarding rate $12 per week. Also as camp age has been lowered to nine years— it was felt a building on the mainland is required. Mrs. W. J. Hardill announced a possible site available for two weeks camp this year.

Suggestions for enlarging the food service facilities in the residence dining room were presented by Mrs. W. R. L. Blackwell The committee is considering the possibility of making low cost meals available to the transient public. They would be able to accommodate 150 persons at one sitting and would prepare to serve two sittings twice a day.

Devotional exercise taken by Mrs. Jack Kirkwood who based her remarks on the voluntary leadership course given recently by Miss W. Wygal and gave an outline of points discussed.

Miss Flora Metcalfe announced a Girls' Council and World Fellowship pancake social on March 29 with proceeds to go for convention delegates. Also an opportunity sale on March 19 in the Y. Mrs. H. T. Rehill reported Miss Nancy Rowell is an executve member for the Teen Conference being held in Toronto during Easter holidays. The Young Adult conference will be in Kitchener March 25-27 and Miss Olga Johnston is to lead one discussion group on "We'll take democracy." Speakers and films are planned for the programs of the DP group during the next few months in order to better acquaint them with Canada and its opportunities An art course for beginners has been started at the Y with more than 20 already working in it.

Mrs. W. G. Ovens announced the gym pageant will be on May 26 at Brock Summer Gardens. Also that babies' gym and dancing class won the recent membership campaign. Mrs. R. E. Laycock reported on the So-Ed hostess course.

A good month in the swimming department was reported and many enquiries for spring classes are being handled. Peterborough Ornamental Club is giving a revue on March 28 with proceeds for the Reconstruction Fund. The objective for special names' group has already been reached in this campaign.

SACRED HEART SCHOOL

General meeting of the Sacred Heart Home and School was opened by president, Mrs. F. Kirkcaldy.

At the business session, Mrs. A. Doris, chairman of the nominating committee, explained election procedure, the election to take place at the May meeting. Nomination slips will be mailed to members in good standing.

A petition from the Ontario Home and School Association was signed by members present asking the government to have crime comics banned from newsstands.

Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, as guest speaker gave a splendid talk on mental hygiene. He was introduced by Mrs. J. Cairns and thanked by Mrs. L. Riel.

The speaker stressed that mental hygiene is the number one problem with 17,000 in Ontario alone with a cost to the province of $25 million dollars. With proper treatment and care four out of 10 return to their homes.

"There are three cardinal influences on the child's life the home, the church and the school; the greatest being the home. The school and the church build the foundation laid by the home. A good home is one where a child finds security, where there is discipline which is consistent but reasonable, where intolerance and prejudice are not practised," he stated. "Life will hold no greater happiness than furthering the development of those children who have two parents working together in the home".

Refreshments were served under the convenership of Mrs. M. McDougall.

Annual CDS Dance Gala Event At Kawartha Club

This year's St. Patrick's dance of the CDS marked their 21st anniversary and was held at the Kawartha Club. A good showing of shamrocks, hats and pipes in the decorations contributed to enjoyment of a highly successful event. The bandstand was decorated in white with a giant size shamrock, effectively lighted, bearing a scroll with the sponsor's insignia in the centre.

A variety of novel dances was conducted by Mr. Jack Dane, able master of ceremonies. Winners were Mr. and Mrs. N. Nesbitt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Breen, Misses Rose Miller, Donna Stemp, Hazel White Irene Lewis, Messrs. Max Doughty, Neil Stewart, Jack Christmas and Dalton Magee.

Short Story of Suits

By EPSIE KINARD

NEW YORK, —(NEA)—Any backtalk from the "little woman" who says that she's too short to wear a suit is answered this spring by fashions designed to lengthen the line of the petite figure.

As a result the Miss or Missus who is five feet five or under can step out in the suit parade feeling taller and looking it in properly porportioned fashions. Scaled to her size are high-riding waistlines, fuller hiplines and hemlines designed to elongate a figure The uncluttered line of a suit beginning from hem to upstanding collar is aimed at making a silhouette look as long and slim as a sheathed umbrella. Even the cape suit spreads but its charms for the "little woman." When the flare of a cape is balanced by a high-riding slim-Jim skirt, the cape can be as flattering to the petite figure as the suit with a snug-fitting jacket

Proof is offered in the snappy cape suit (Right) of sleek gray worsted woollen, teamed with a long-sleeved tailored white blouse of pure silk. The slim skirt with a high-riding waistline is figure-lengthening To give the "little woman" the illusion of more length, the cape with a high-climbing collar carries on where the skirt leaves off.

The black and white pin-checked suit (left) of worsted woollen owes its tall-making lines to a long, slim skirt and to a snugly-fitted and belted jacket. Helping the checked suit to spell out spring for the "petite miss" is a dickey of crisp white cotton broadcloth with a small upstanding collar.

DOROTHY DIX

Generous Hospitality Can Be Misguided Kindness

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I have three sons. When the eldest one went into service, he asked that his wife and two children come to live with us. We gladly consented. But his wife resented the care of her children and having to help with the cooking, so that job fell on me. She used our car without asking us and invited groups of young people, who simply took over the house. It was a nightmare.

Dorothy Dix

Then the middle son got married and brought his bride to stay with us while he went into the army. We opened our hearts to her wanting to make her happy in every way. But she fought like a wildcat with the other daughter-in-law and screamed at the children. She had no use for old folks and put herself out of the way to be rude to our friends.

Now our youngest son has just gotten married and he and his wife want to come to live with us, but the very thought of it frightens me sick. Also, I have heard how his wife treats her own mother and I cannot think that she would treat me any better. My son has a good job but, of course, he cannot afford to live in as fine a house as we have, so he and his wife think we are very selfish in refusing to let them camp down on us. But we have had our lesson, and paid the price for it.

MOTHER-IN-LAW.

ANSWER: So do most parents pay the price of their misguided kindness when they let their children come to live with them when they get married. It almost invariably ends in bitterness and strife because no house is big enough for two families, and no two generations ever see eye to eye. The Chinese ideograph for a fight is two women in the same house.

Exceptions to Rule

Of course, there are exceptions to every rule, and there are many cases in which the newly weds adjust thmselves to their in-laws and live happily ever after. But, as a general thing, no sooner has a bridal couple combed the rice out of their hair and settled down to living on John's or Sally's parents, than trouble begins. This is inevitable. It is just Nature taking its predestined course.

For the success of a marriage depends upon the young husband and wife being alone when they go through the settling process, and free from any interference from Mama and Papa. Many a marriage go on the rocks because the bride and groom have no private place in which to fight.

No one can doubt that the housing shortage is responsible for the enormous increase in divorce.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 16 years old and engaged to a boy of 18. Do you think that it is fair that he should definitely refuse to let me go out with other boys under the threat that I can NEVER go back to him or see him again if I do? Do you think he is asking too much of me, since I am still in high school and plan to attend college?

E. T.

ANSWER: If you were a grown-up woman and you were definitely engaged to be married and the wedding day set, your prospective husband might feel that he had a right to refuse to let you go out with any other man. But when you are sill just a little teen-aged schoolgirl, for any boy to think that he has a right to dictate to you about whom you should know and where you should go and what you should do, is perfectly absurd.

Just tell him that you are not going to tie yourself down to any lad. You are going to keep yourself free so that you can get an education and see something of the world and have a lot of fun. And don't forget that boys change their minds about girls, and you would have no assurance that he wouldn't drop you as soon as some other attractive girl, who hits his fancy, came along.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Recently my boy friend bought me a cedar chest as a gift for my birthday. My girl friend tells me that when a boy gives a girl a cedar chest, they are legally engaged. Is this true?

FAITHFUL READER.

ANSWER: A cedar chest is certainly a very handsome and desirable gift, but it carries with it none of the significance that an engagement ring does. It is true that when a man becomes engaged to a girl he often gives her a cedar chest for her trousseau, but it is just a matter of taste. There is no obligation about it and it certainly entails no legal responsibility.

6—In Memoriams

BAGNALL—In loving memory of a wonderful dad, who passed away March 16, 1944.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears in silence often flow,
Memory keeps you ever near us,
Though you died five years ago.
—Remembered by daughter Alice and family.

DELAHEY—In loving memory of Mrs. Frederick Delahey, who passed away two years ago today.
"She travelled life's journey with courage,
And helped others on its hard way,
She lived out each day in its fullness
With a heart always cheerful and gay.
She laboured and loved and was happy
She was our mother and friend,
And to each of us who so well knew her,
She was faithful and kind to the end."
—Ever remembered by son Harold, Viola and family.

DELAHEY—In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. Fred Delahey, who passed away two years ago today, March 17, 1947.
Just a thought of sweet remembrance
Of a mother kind and true.
Just a token of affection
And a longing dear for you.
Calm and peaceful she is sleeping,
Sweetest rest that follows pain
We who loved her sadly miss her,
And trust in God to meet again.
—Lovingly remembered by daughter and son-in-law Helen and Wally.

GLOVER—In loving memory of my dear mother, who passed away March 17, 1937.
God took her home, it was His will,
But in our hearts she liveth still —Ever remembered by her daughter, Mrs. L. Halcrow.

GLOVER—In loving memory of Mrs. Robert Glover, who died March 17, 1937.
"Take up thy cross and follow Him,
Nor think 'till death to lay it down,
For only they who bear the cross
May hope to wear the glorious crown.
In that bright eternal day,
Where no tears e'er dim the eyes.
In the home of many mansions,
We will meet her by and by."
—Always remembered by Earl.

HAMILTON—In loving memory of my dear father, Albert R. Hamilton, who passed away March 17, 1943.
The setting of the sun and in the morning, we remember.
—Ever remembered by daughter, Shirley and family.

HEWIE—In loving memory of our two little sons, Barry who died March 17, 1941 and Murray, who died May 22, 1942.
Four little hands are resting,
Two loving hearts are still,
Two little sons we loved are waiting
For us just over the hill.
—Harry and Verla Hewie.

MORGAN — In loving memory of Gladys Morgan, who passed away March 17, 1947.
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
The world's weary troubles and trials are past,
In silence she suffered, in patience she bore,
Till God called her home to suffer no more.
—Lovingly remembered by her husband and family.

John Burke, 74, Buried In City

Funeral for the late John Burke, 74, of 142 London St., was held on Wednesday from the Duffus Funeral Home to St. Peter's Cathedral. Requiem mass was sung by the Rev. J. Malane and the Rev. P. P. Butler was in the sanctuary. Pall-bearers were Martin Guerin, Frank Raymond and Leo Burke, Joseph Fitzgerald and Michael O'Brien. Graveside service was conducted by Father Butler at St. Peter's Cemetery.

Mr. Burke died in hospital on Sunday following a lingering illness. He was born in Douro township, son of the late John Burke and Mary McMahon, and had lived in the city for the past 50 years. His wife predeceased him 28 years ago.

He leaves one son, Joseph of North Bay, and two sisters in Peterborough, Mrs. Jane O'Brien and Mrs. Margaret Guerin. He was a member of St. Peter's Cathedral and the Holy Name Society. He was employed by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission on construction work for many years, and retired three years ago.

Final Tribute Paid William Thorn, 87

Funeral for the late William Thorn, 87, of 306 Boswell Ave., was held at All Saints' Church last Friday. The Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite officiated, assisted by the Rev. H. E. Douglas of Knox United Church. Pallbearers were Arthur Robertson, Carl Wilson, Arthur Simpson, James Stewart, Robin and Harold Thorn. Burial was at Little Lake Cemetery.

Mr. Thorn died in hospital last Wednesday following a short illness. He was born in South Monaghan, son of the late John Thorn and Ellen Jane Lucas, and after farming in the Raeboro district for a number of years, moved to Peterborough in 1919. He was a member of All Saints' Anglican Church.

High Fire Hazard

TORONTO, March 17—(CP)—A high forest fire hazard can be anticipated this year because of light snowfall, officials said. The average 18 inches of snow now covering Sudbury district will be insufficeint to provide a good storage of moisture in the soil.

OUT OUR WAY By J. R. WILLIAMS

FIVE YEARS AGO when Gene Tierney's first child was born, the movie actress encouraged her baby's nurse to invent a disposable bottle. The nurse, Arra May Allen, went to work and developed the nursing bottle in time for Gene's second daughter, Christina, to use. Here, in the arms of her mother, the 3½-month-old baby drinks from the pre-sterilized bottle that is thrown away after being used once.

Hydro Billings Using New Unit

The horse power as a unit of electric energy will no longer be used in the accounting of the Hydro-Electric Commission as indicated in a letter to the Utilities Commission Monday afternoon.

"It is a relic of the Adam Beck days of the Hydro," said R. L. Dobbin, Utilities manager. "People generally understood what a horse-power was, but the kilowatt was strange to them."

The next billing to industrial power consumers will be computed on the basis of the kilowatt, instead of the horse power. The industrial customers are the manufacturing plants, large and small.

Mr. Dobbin's report on the Hydro letter explained: "Our demand meters are read in kilowatts, and a calculation had to be made for each bill to change to horse-power.

This change will not affect the amount of the customer's bill, but it will be easier to compute the bill because we will not have to change from kilowatts to horse-power to compute the service charge, and back again to compute the consumption charge.

Discount Eliminated

The local discount of 25 per cent is now eliminated. The new service charge is $1 per kilowatt a month. The old charge was $1 per horsepower, which would be equal to $1.34 per kilowatt. There was a local discount of 25 per cent, and this reduced the service charge to $1 per kilowatt which is the same as we are now using.

Similarly, the consumption rates are the same after the 25 per cent local discount is taken off.

At the same time as these rates are put in force, the Hydro has decided to bill us for power sold to us on a kilowatt basis instead of a horsepower basis.

Practically Same

Our old interim rate was $22 per hp. per year. This was equal to $29.48 per kilowatt a year. The new rate is $29.40 per kilowatt a year, which is practically the same as before."

Mr. G. S. Matthews presided at the meeting with the two other Commissioners, G. A. Macdonald and Fred Hills, present.

Comment of the members was only a brief reference to the final remark of Mr. Dobbin that Hydro rate was "practically the same as before".

"Actually," said Mr. Matthews, "it is a trifle less."

Rate details were set out in the letter from the Hydro. In their introduction they wrote: "Recently, several municipalities have requested authority to bill their industrial power customers on a kilowatt-hour basis instead of the horsepower basis now in use. A similar request was made some time ago by the rates committee of the association of Municipal Electrical Utilities. The Commission has considered this situation and believe that this change should be made in all municipalities."

Former Reeve Of Marmora Dies

MARMORA, March 17 (ENS)—Hugh Maloney, a former reeve of Marmora and Lake Townships, died at his home in Marmora Township early Monday morning at the age of 78. Today requiem mass was celebrated at Sacred Heart Church by the Rev. H. J. Farrell followed by burial in that cemetery.

For eight years Mr. Maloney was a member of Marmora and Lake council, becoming reeve in 1909 for five consecutive years. He was also president oof Cook's Cheese Factory for 47 years until it ceased to function six years ago.

At one time he was president of the Liberal Assoociation of West Hastings. He was a devout member of Sacred Heart Church and in connection with the parish was a member of the Holy Name Society and the League of the Sacred Heart.

Mr. Maloney leaves a widow, the former Anne McAvoy and two daughters, Geraldine and Anna, at home. He is also survived by two sisters, the Rev. Sister Mary Maurice and Mrs. Richard Dunlay (Margaret) both of Kingston.

He was the son of the late Michael Maloney and the former Mary Shannon, pioneer residents of Marmora Township. He had always lived on the farm where he was born.

Hong Kong Vets To Get Pacific Pay

Bonus Retroactive To June 1, 1945; 1,539 Men Eligible

OTTAWA, March 18 (CP) — Hong Kong veterans have expressed satisfaction with Defence Claxton's announcement in the Commons Thursday making members of the force eligible for special Pacific pay.

The bonus will date from June 1, 1945. In Winnipeg, Jack Norris, secretary of the Hong Kong Veterans' Association of Winnipeg said the announcement was satisfactory.

He had hoped, however, that the Pacific pay would be extended to cover the full period of the veterans' service in the East.

The force, suffering heavy casualties at the hands of the Japanese, went overseas in 1941. Some 555 were killed in action, died in prisoner-of-war camps or were listed as missing.

Eligible For Pay

About 71 officers and 1,468 other ranks of the force will be eligible for the pay, arranged for members of the Canadian Army Pacific forces which made up the 6th Division.

The extra pay was granted to members of the division because they were organized after VE-Day to fight with United States forces against Japan. US forces were getting higher pay.

The extra pay, ranging from 30 cents a day for a private to $1 a day for officers over the rank of major, became effective June 1, 1945, the day members of the division left Canada and began training in the US with Japan's surrender, none of them saw service in the Far East.

Veterans of the Hong Kong force, made up of the Winnipeg Grenadiers and the Royal Rifles of Canada of Quebec, will probably get amounts ranging from about $60 to around $200.

Italians Vote To Join Pact

ROME, March 18—(AP)—The Chamber of Deputies voted two to one today in favor of Italy's entry into the North Atlantic alliance. The decision broke a three-day filibuster and provoked the most violent fight the tumultous chamber has seen.

The rioters were quieted after a siren was sounded, muffling shouted insults, and after strenuous strong-arming by sergeants-at-arms.

The Chamber voted on a resolution of confidence, authorizing Premier Alcide de Gasperi's government to negotiate Italy's adherence to the new accord.

The vote on the resolution of confidence in the government's foreign policy was 342 to 170.

The pro-Communist Socialist Leader, Pietro Nenni, said Italian adherence to the pact would be an "invitation for the invasion of our country."

The filibuster ran three days before the matter came to a vote.

No new disturbances were reported. However, at Terni, a steel town 70 miles from Rome, a 24-hour general strike was called to protest police action Thursday in which one person was killed and 19 injured.

Exclusion Of Carlin Said "Temporary"

BUFFALO, NY, March 18 (CP) —United States Immigration authorities here Thursday said the exclusion from the United States of a Canadian Labor union official was "temporary."

The statement was made by Stuart J. McDonnell, adjudications officer and acting district director of the immigration service.

The detained Canadian was Robert H. Carlin, Eastern Canada director of the left-wing International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (CIO).

In Buffalo, McDonnell would not amplify the explanation given in Toronto. He said the case was being referred to the central immigration office in Washington for decision on further action.

Arrest Parents, Fail To Care For 6 Children

TORONTO, March 18—(CP) — John Livingston Harris, 42, and his wife Tillie were arrested last night, charged with failing to provide the necessities of life for their six children, ranging in age between 14 years and eight months.

Police said the family refused to accept two "warm, clean" rooms offered by the City Welfare Department and that they threatened to camp in the lobby of a downtown hotel until the city took "adequate measures" to aid them.

"I don't know what we can do for the family," said a welfare official. "They were evicted from the Geco Emergency Housing Project Wednesday. They came into Toronto and set up camp in the lobby of the hotel."

Harris said his family was evicted for non-payment of rent.

Harris refused the accommodation offered by the Department, and stayed with relatives for two days. Thursday night he entered another hotel with his family and tacked a sign on the baby carriage reading "we have been evicted by the city." Again he refused the rooms suggested by the department.

"I warned him that in refusing the rooms he was committing an offense of not providing necessities for his children," said a detective. "He said he would rather be charged and hauled into court than take the two rooms."

The children were given shelter at the Children's Aid Society.

Policeman Killed

PORT JERVIS, NY, March 18—(AP).—A Port Jervis patrolman was beaten to death today in the police investigation room of City Hall by a man being held for investigation. Police said the man apparently attacked the patrolman with a loose board. The suspect had been brought to City Hall by two policemen who observed him acting strangely on the street.

Universal Age Pensions Predicted By Leslie Frost

TORONTO, March 18 — (CP). — Its 1949 budget adopted after three weeks' debate, the Ontario Legislature today continues consideration of Government bills as a preliminary to a drive to prorogue by March 31. Provincial Treasurer Leslie Frost closed out the budget debate with a prediction that the Federal Government's March 22 budget will announce, besides higher tax exemptions, a scheme of universal old-age pensions payable without a means test.

Throughout the debate, Opposition groups demanded that the Ontario Government raise the basic monthly pension to $40 from $30.

"This Government is far from satisfied with the old-age pensions," said Mr. Frost. "It feels that satisfactory results can be obtained only if a basic pension is paid universally and without a means test, the same as family allowances."

Declaring that he was going to make a political prediction, he then gave the House his Federal budget forecast.

The Ontario budget, providing for current expenditures of more than $200,000,000 was approved when the House by a vote of 45 to 34 adopted a motion to go into committee of supply to consider the estimates.

By another 45-to-34 vote, the House rejected a CCF amendment which would have expressed disapproval of the budget for not making provision for a prepaid and subsidized hospital care plan.

Kicks Over Traces

Rev. John W. Foote, (PC-Durham) former army chaplain who won the Victoria Cross on the Dieppe beaches in 1942, bolted party lines to urge a $40-a-month old age pension and restricted liquor sales. Other afternoon speakers were Eamon Park (CCF-Toronto Dovercourt), Liberal Leader Farquhar Oliver and CCF Leader E. B. Jolliffe. Mr. Frost wound up the debate at the night sitting.

Mr. Foote said he believed old age pensions were a matter for the Federal Government but added:

Hold Two Boys In School Fire

TORONTO, March 18—(CP)—Inspector George Crawford of Claremont St. police station said today that 11 pupils of a public school in the centre-west end of Toronto have been expelled in the last three weeks for carrying and lighting matches.

Two boys, 11 and 12 years of age, will appear in juvenile court today following their arrest Thursday on delinquency charges.

They were arrested after allegedly confessing to starting a fire among some papers in the basement washroom of the school. The blaze was quickly extinguished, but the principal called police in an effort to stop children from bringing matches to school.

The two boys were taken to detention home. Police declined to name the school.

Fear Dispute May Kill Many Local Unions

TORONTO, March 19.—(CP).—The Toronto District Labor Council (T.L.C.) believes a dispute between the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and the American Federation of Labor may lead to the destruction of every local union in the Congress with international affiliations.

In a letter to A.F.L. president William Green, the Toronto Council called on all parties to the dispute to forget personalities and past issues and work on a solution of the conflict.

Two Canadians Did Most Of Treaty Work

OTTAWA, March 18—(CP) — Two men are credited here with doing the lion's share of Canada's work in the prolonged preparation of the North Atlantic Treaty.

They are Scott Reid and Hume Wrong, both career diplomats of the External Affairs Department.

Mr. Reid was promoted only recently to the rank of Deputy Undersecretary of State for External Affairs after having acted as Undersecretary after L. B. Pearson stepped out of that job to become Minister of the Department.

Mr. Wrong, Ambassador in Washington, has acted as Canada's spokesman in the Washington negotiations leading to the signing early in April.

NEW EQUIPMENT

OTTAWA, March 18—(CP)—New equipment worth $38,000,000 is expected to be received by the Canadian National Railways this year, the company said in its annual report tabled today in the Commons.

Welch Sentenced 2nd Time 10 Years For Manslaughter

ST. THOMAS, March 18 (CP)—Vernon Welch, 28, today was sentenced to 10 years for manslaughter—the second time he has been convicted in connection with the poison death of his wife in August, 1947.

It was the same sentence as imposed a year ago by Mr. Justice R. W. Treleaven after Welch's first conviction for manslaughter.

As Welch was being led from the court, he swore at the two police officers—Sgt. Ben Milligan of the Ontario Provincial Police and Chief Constable Harold Henderson of Aylmer—who investigated the case.

Mr. Justice W. F. Schroeder, in passing sentence, said: "I suggest, Welch, that if you should be feeling sorry for yourself, you should recall the agonies in which your poor wife died as a result of your carelessness and negligence.

"I feel the ends of justice would not be served with a lenient sentence."

An Assize Court jury Thursday found the former Aylmer fish store proprietor guilty of the charge. Mr. Justice W. F. Schroeder said he was "thoroughly in accord" with the verdict.

Welch, who could not be found at the time of his wife's death, was arrested in a Toronto military hospital in November, 1947, and brought to trial here on a charge of murder. The jury reduced the charge to manslaughter and he was sentenced to 10 years.

Soon after he escaped from Elgin county jail here and was picked up in Toronto the following day. He received an extra year's sentence for the escape. An appeal was allowed on the manslaughter conviction and a new trial ordered.

House Given Draft Of Treaty

St. Laurent Stakes Life Of Government On General Acceptance

OTTAWA, March 18—(CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent today gave the Commons the draft text of the North Atlantic Treaty and staked the government's life on its general acceptance by Parliament.

Mr. St. Laurent said he was tabling a document which he trusted would become one of "historic importance." The pact, he said, is due to be signed in Washington in the first week of April.

It was hoped that the situation in Parliament would permit a free discussion of the pact before the date set for the signing. He hopes as well the debate would show that the Chamber felt that Canada should attend the Washington meeting and put forward her best efforts with other nations.

Coincident with tabling of the treaty text the Prime Minister gave notice of a resolution approving its principles. The Government hopes this may be debated before the general conference at which the treaty is to be signed in Washington in April.

Of Vital Importance.

The proposed resolution asks the House to recognize the proposed treaty as "of vital importance for the protection of Canada, the preservation of peace and the development of political, social and economic co-operation among North American democracies."

The resolution also would agree that Canadian representatives at the Washington conference "should use their best endeavor to assist in the completion of an acceptable treaty" based on the text tabled today.

Should the resolution be rejected, which seems highly unlikely, it would mean defeat and probable resignation of the government, and that no delegation would go to the Washington conference.

In the event that the parliamentary timetable does not permit dealing with the resolution before the conference, the Canadian delegation will attend and sign the finished draft.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, said today he favors a security pact but withheld specific comment on the North Atlantic treaty until the government has explained its terms.

Fenelon Falls Girl To Be Tried April 7

SANTA MONICA, Calif., March 18 (AP)—Betty Ritchie, 24-year-old sweetheart of Gerard Dennis, and formerly from Fenelon Falls, was ordered Thursday to stand trial April 7 on a charge of receiving stolen property. Dennis, a native of St. Catharines, is in a White Plains, NY jail, charged with many jewel robberies.

11 Left Homeless

BELLEVILLE, March 18—(CP). — Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brunet and their nine children ranging up to 14 years, are homeless today following a flash fire which late Thursday afternoon completely burned their small dwelling. The mother and children who were at home at the time of the blaze escaped from the burning home but practically all the household furnishings and clothing owned by the family were burned.

Drew Believes Soviet Knows Defence Secrets

OTTAWA, March 18—(CP) — The Russian Embassy probably knows all the essential facts about Canada's defence forces, George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, said in an interview today.

At a press conference, Mr. Drew was commenting on the refusal of Defence Minister Claxton Thursday to answer in the Commons questions concerning the make-up of units of the armed forces.

"The suggestion that the answer (by Mr. Claxton) would have been of assistance to the Russians is too ridiculous to be accepted by anyone with any knowledge of the opportunities for finding out what the facts are."

"Thousands of Communists are moving freely through Canada, and enlisting freely with various units of the defence forces, and there is not very much doubt of the fact that the Russian Embassy is fully informed on any essential facts."

Non-Irish Holder Has First Ticket

DUBLIN, March 18—(AP)—The first ticket drawn today in the Irish hospital sweepstakes was RM 10058, on Cavaliero, fourth favorite in the Grand National, jumping classic to be run at Aintree March 26.

The ticket, which bore the nom de plume of "Oon Lin Lim," was purchased by a non-Irish holder.

If Cavaliero wins, each ticket holder will collect £25,000 ($100,000). Holders will get £10,000 if the horse places second and £5,000 if he wins third place.

Even if the horse fails to place, holders will get £117, seven shillings ($470.60).

A total prize fund of £717,616 is available this year.

Rescue 3 In Fire

HALIBURTON, March 18 (CP) —Two small children and a 70-year-old semi-invalid were rescued today before flames destroyed a home occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Murray Smith. The fire raged in 15-below zero weather on the outskirts of this village 50 miles north of Peterborough. Smith suffered facial burns when he and his wife rushed their children, four and six, from the flaming building. Then they returned to rescue Ned Biagi, aged owner of the house.

Each Country Will Decide If Military Force Needed To Halt Aggression

For First Time In History North America Bound By European Alliance; Will Create Council Of Member States

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, March 18 — (AP). — The North Atlantic treaty, it was officially disclosed today, would pledge the United States, Canada and allied powers to resist automatically an "armed attack" against any one of them—possibly by "the use of armed force." Each country would decide for itself whether military force was "necessary."

The unprecedented treaty, proposing for the first time in peace to bind North America in an alliance with Europe, was made public at 11 a.m. EST by the United States and the seven other countries which intend to sign it here about April 4.

This official disclosure of the terms is expected to arouse Russia to new heights in propaganda attacks against the alliance. The Soviet Union already has denounced it as an aggressive move.

The treaty, 1,040 words and 14 articles long, provides for creation of a council of the member states, and of a defence committee to strengthen and co-ordinate the defences of the whole huge region of North America, Western Europe and the North Atlantic.

Signal For Action

An attack against the territory, occupation forces, ships, planes or islands of any of the Allies anywhere in this vast area would be the signal for all the powers to spring into action according to the treaty's provisions.

In a press conference at Washington, State Secretary Dean Acheson went a little farther than the bare words of the proposed treaty.

Acheson explained it this way: If in the judgment of the United States Government, armed force would be necessary to restore the security of the North Atlantic area, then there would be an obligation to use it under the treaty.

Acheson was asked at his press conference what might constitute an armed attack which would cause the treaty powers to spring into action with resistance measures.

CNR Deficit For 1948 Reported $33,532,741

OTTAWA, March 18—(CP) — The Canadian National Railways had a 1948 deficit of $33,532,741, it was shown in the company's annual report tabled today in the Commons.

The report, tabled by Transport Minister Chevrier, showed gross operating revenues at a peak of $491,269,000 and operating expenses of $464,739,970 for net operating revenue of $26,529,980.

The deficit was brought about by charges for taxes, equipment rents and bond interest—the latter amounting to $44,829,850.

It was the biggest deficit for the national line since the pre-war years. During the war, it had a series of surpluses.

Havelock Couple Lose $1,300 As Home Razed

HAVELOCK, March 18—(ENS) —When one of the few remaining log homesteads in the Havelock district was destroyed by fire Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Petherick lost most of their personal belongings and some $1,300 in cash.

Stove pipes in Mr. and Mrs. Petherick's home five miles north of the village on Lake Road, caught fire shortly after 1 p.m.

The couple managed to save some of their furniture before the intensity of the flames forced them out of the house but the money, which they had kept in the house was lost.

Mrs. Petherick's first thought was for the money and she ran upstairs to fetch the purse. She managed to get it and then went into the pantry to save what she could from there. In the excitement, she dropped the purse and it was burnt.

Mr. and Mrs. Petherick telephoned Mrs. R. B. Newton as soon as the fire broke out and her son, Robert, rushed to the house. He found Mr. and Mrs. W. Yelland already there and together they rescued a small amount of furniture. Mrs. Petherick's brother, Mr. Newton, also lived there.

Mexico Fears Uranium Theft

MEXICO CITY, March 18. (AP).— Mystery and confusing contradiction marked the story today of the seizure of a small cylinder containing a uranium substance, possibly stolen from an atomic laboratory in the United States.

The Mexican secret police said the capsule contained pure uranium 235, the stuff from which atom bombs are made.

Attorney - General Francisco Gonzalez de la Vega said later, however, the cylinder contained only an ingot of refined uranium having no explosive power, and not enough of the material to be of much us to anybody.

The Atomic Energy Commiss on in Washington said none of its plants or contractors had reported the loss of any material essential to the making of an atom bomb.

Will Work Out Plans For Friendly Troops

Decide Role On Threatened Soil In Case Of Any Emergency

OTTAWA, March 18 (CP) — The North Atlantic Treaty countries will work out plans whereby friendly troops will be welcomed and know their role on the threatened soil of anyone of them in an emergency, informed sources said today.

That, he said, goes for the Canadian North as well as any other part of any member country.

The terms of the treaty, tabled today in parliament, provide for the immediate establishment of a defence committee of the council that will become the assembly of the treaty powers.

There was no immediate indication here of who the Canadian representative will be, but it was suggested that Defence Minister Claxton might be the first Canadian representative.

However, it will probably get down to a military spokesman in later days. One of the chiefs of staff has been mentioned as a likely person, but it is quite possible that it will become a permanent job, such as that held by Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton in both the joint US-Canada Defence Board and the Security Council.

Will Work Out Details

Where the defence committee will sit and how it will operate are factors which remain to be worked out. However, its work will start at an advanced stage and will be based on two main foundations already well established.

These are Field Marshal Montgomery's plans for point defence by the five original Brussels powers—Britain, France, Luxembourg, Holland and Belgium—and the joint Canadian - American plans for defence of the North American Continent.

The plan the treaty powers evolve will be rooted in those two and will build on them for defence of the enlarged area which now will come within the scope of their obligations.

So far there is no indication of what Canada's responsibilities will be and officials say it will be months before this emerges. However, her drive for expanded forces of 50,000 regulars with modern air, sea and land equipment is interpreted as putting her own house in order and this may eventually be construed as the best possible contribution.

Some flowing of Canadian industrial war production to Europe is considered likely in the long run.

It is pointed out here that there is no over-all dictation by the joint council about what any member must do. That is left up to the individual country to decide.

However, there will be an overall plan for action in the event of war under which foreign troops would be admitted to, say, the Canadian north or the Norwegian north and would know, by preconceived design, where to go and what to do.

Forbid U.S. Boxers To Fight In Ontario

NEW YORK, March 18.—(CP). —United States amateur boxers will be forbidden to fight in the province of Ontario, it was announced today.

The decision was taken by the executive committee of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States.

The A. A. U. said it took this action because of violation of amateur rules in the conduct of amateur boxing in Toronto in which amateur boxers from the United States participated.

The executive committee also directed A.A.U. associations to refuse entries of amateurs from Ontario in sanctioned A.A.U. boxing contests in the United States until further notice.

The notice has been sent to officers of the Canadian A.A.U. and its branches having jurisdiction over amateur boxing in Ontario.

Highlights in the Life of Andrei Vishinsky, Russia's New Foreign Minister

Andrei Y. Vishinsky has been a rebel and incendiary orator since his early teens. Born in Odessa in 1883 of well-to-do middle-class parents, he became a brilliant law student at Kiev University. He early became active in the student revolutionary movement in southern Russia.

After graduation, he started a promising legal career, but soon dropped it for all-out revolutionary activity. Wounded in the 1905 revolt, he was arrested and served a year in jail. Later, he became familiar with the inside of Czarist prisons and the cold wastes of Siberian prison camps.

Glib, crafty Vishinsky somehow talked the Czar's police into taking the "heat" off him. He became an outstanding, honored criminal lawyer. But he never really dropped his subversive work and when the Red revolution broke in 1917, he fought at the barricades.

After the Soviet regime was established, he again proved his agility in twisting by joining the victorious Bolsheviks, whom he, as a right-wing Communist, had opposed. He did their legal chores and his courtroom skill took him rapidly to the top in Soviet jurisprudence.

Climax of his legal career came in 1936, 1937 and 1938 when, as State Public Prosecutor in the famous "purge" trials, his remorseless condemnation of the defendants sent many old Revolutionary comrades of Lenin, Stalin and himself to death or Siberia. Cunning enough to ally himself with Stalin when the latter was just an eager beaver grabbing for power, Vishinsky rose rapidly in Soviet inner councils. He did diplomatic work in Eastern Europe and from there his activities in world affairs widened until, in 1940, he became second only to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov.

He became known as Stalin's hatchet man. When someone was needed to kick out Romania's postwar government and install hard-boiled Anna Pauker in the driver's seat, it was characteristic that Vishinsky got the job—and did it with neatness and dispatch.

Though a diplomat in name, he remains a table-pounding prosecutor. As chief Soviet delegate to the UN, his red-faced, acid-tongued attacks against the "war-mongers" in democratic nations made him the personification of the breach between the East and West.

Defend Parity Of Dollar In Commons

OTTAWA, March 18—(CPP)—The Canadian dollar became the pivot in the Commons Thursday of a Government defence and an Opposition attack swirling about the administration's plans to keep the Exchange Control Board operating for two more years.

Progressive Conservative speakers, led by J. M. MacDonnell, official opposition financial critic, urged the Government to withdraw the 'paralyzing' rigidity of parity from the dollar and allow it to find its "true economic" level, thus increasing the flow of United States capital into this country.

Finance Minister Abbott rejected the suggestion and said the government had no intention of offering the dollar at "bargain-basement" prices to attract capital because depreciation would mean a 10-per-cent boost in the prices of goods imported from the U. S.

Victor Quelch (SC-Acadia), speaking for the Social Credit Party, felt the Exchange Board would have to be kept operating much longer than two years because of commitments under the Geneva Trade Agreement and the Bretton Woods Financial Pact.

Asks Dollar Freed

Mr. Macdonnell sought by a motion—ruled out of order—to have the government free the dollar from parity and continue the Board for only one year with modifications "necessary" to enable representations to the international monetary fund for an orderly readjustment of currencies at a "realistic" level.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced the existing 59-cent wholesale floor price for butter will be continued for the new dairy year beginning May 1.

Resources Minister MacKinnon said nearly 48,000 Canadians emigrated in 1947 and 1948 to the United States.

Introducing the exchange legislation in the Commons, Mr. Abbott described the dollar as one of the strongest currencies in the world and said its revaluation would increase living and business costs at home and decrease trade with uropean countries.

Increase Prices

A 10-per-cent devaluation would increase the price of British goods here at a time when Britain was having trouble keeping her prices to a competitive level. It would make it difficult for her to earn dollars in Canada.

In effect, depreciation would mean the application of a tariff against goods imported from any other country.

As for keeping the Board in operation, Mr. Abbott said:

"In view of the prevailing conditions in the field of trade and commerce, and currency conditions throughout the world, we would not feel justified in suggesting to Parliament that it is no longer necessary to exercise control over Canada's foreign-exchange transactions."

Mr. Macdonnell said the fact the Government was asking Parliament to extend for another two years controls which had been unaltered since 1946 indicated it was seized with "intellectual bankruptcy."

Polar air from Northwestern Canada holds most of the continent in its grip and there is no sign of a let-up in the current cold weather over Ontario. The spring storm centers are developing well south of us and moving off the Atlantic Coast before recurving northward. Typical of such a center is the one over Virginia this morning which is causing cloud over the lower lakes regions. As the storm moves eastward the skies will clear this evening and it will be another cold night. Saturday will continue cool, and fair weather is expected except for a few flurries in the vicinity of Lake Huron and Georgian Bay.

Forecasts:

Lake Erie, Lake Ontario and Niagara regions: Cloudy clearing this afternoon. Saturday clear becoming cloudy in the afternoon clearing again Saturday evening. Continuing cool. Winds northwest 15. Low tonight and high Saturday at St. Catharines 14, 31, St. Thomas 13, 30; Trenton 13, 28.

TRANSPORTS COLLIDE

In a sudden snow squall which struck the Peterborough area at 10.20 p.m. on Wednesday night, two transport trucks collided at the intersection of No. 28 and 7A Highways. The trucks involved were owned by Herb Payne and the Toronto-Peterborough Transport, their drivers being respectively Emerald Post and Ed Bertram. Neither driver was hurt and only the Payne vehicle sustained any damage, about $50 worth to grill and radiator. The accident was investigated by Constable Edwards of the Provincial Police.

EQUINE EVOLUTION

The horse originated in China, starting out as a animal no larger than a house cat.

No Casualties In Rouyn Fire

ROUYN, Que., March 18—(CP) Salvation Army relief workers reported here today that all victims "are accounted for" in the disastrous $2,000,000 fire which swept the heart of this northern Quebec mining town early Thursday.

Aided by Red Cross detachments, the Salvation Army said that more than 100 homeless victims had been placed in the homes of Rouyn and Noranda residents.

The dazed people, many who lost their entire belongings, were issued new clothing and fed by relief workers who moved into the area a few hours after news of the fire reached Montreal.

The fire gutted four buildings, housing nine business establishments, 50 apartments, and five private homes.

The fire was the worst in the history of this 30-year-old mining centre.

Mayor Paul Cuddihy promised homeless victims that the town "will help the homeless in any way possible."

City officials announced plans to introduce new by-laws which will prevent the erection of wooden structures in the town. Most of the buildings gutted were made of wood.

Marmora WMS Plans To Send Two Bales

MARMORA, March 18—(ENS).—The March meeting of St. Andrew's Women's Missionary Society was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. Thomson. The president, Mrs. H. C. Barlow, was in charge, and the worship service was conducted by Mrs. G. D. Young, with members assisting.

Correspondence read concerned a bale to be sent for relief overseas and also a bale to be sent north with clothing and Christmas gifts, both of which received favorable consideration. Attention was drawn to the Presbyterial to be held in King Street United Church, Trenton, on April 6, and also to the compilation of the new scrap book. The study period was in charge of Mrs. W. J. Pack, with Mesdames Young, Post, Jarvis, Prentice and Wells taking part.

The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Pack.

Women's Institute Buys Teams' Sweaters

NORWOOD, March 17—(ENS).—The Norwood Women's Institute held their March meeting in the basement of the Library, with an attendance of twenty-three. Some discussion took place regarding the Girls' Club. Tentative plans were made, with the leader, Mrs. Frank Andrews, to contact the girls.

Mrs. Lionel Edmunds gave her report on the concert and money donated, and now spent on four dozen sweaters for the boys of the Hawks, Leafs, Red Wings and Bruins, teams in the Pee-Wee Hockey League. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Edmunds for her work in obtaining the sweaters for the boys.

A recitation, "Pat's Letter," was given by Mrs. Wm. Golloher. Mrs. Ross MacNaughton, convener of Home Economics, gave an interesting paper on this subject.

Miss M. A. Carter conducted a quiz contest of jumbled names of vegetable greens and gave a short talk on their various qualities in regard to health.

Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. R. J. Leeper, Mrs. Wm. Golloher and Mrs. Gill. Lunch committee for the April meeting will be Mrs. J. Humphries, Mrs. W. Lywood and Mrs. G. Oitment.

Personal

Miss Jean Stenton, telegraph editor of the Peterborough Examiner, will address members of the Norwood Board of Trade Monday night on "Behind The Headlines In China."

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, March 18—(CP)—Fair demand came into oats and barley futures as trade slackened off on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Shippers and American houses were making purchases. Offerings in these grains were on the light side.

Rye reflected upturns in this commodity on the Chicago market and some export demand also was evidenced.

All Winnipeg coarse grain futures maintained higher levels than yesterday's closing prices.

11 a.m. prices:

Oats: May ⅜ higher at 73A; July ½ higher at 70B; Oct. ⅝ higher at 67½.

Barley: May ½ higher at 1.56⅝; July ¾ higher at 1.00⅛B; Oct. ⅝ higher at 96B.

Rye: May 2⅜ higher at 1.09¾; July 2⅝ higher at 1.09⅝; Oct. 2 higher at 1.08B.

Flax: May ⅛ higher at 4.00⅛; July not open.

Inspections: Wheat this year 655; last year 500; cars of contract 578; oats 72-70; barley 91-28; flax 16-9; rye 12-1 other grains 1-6; total 847-614.

Report Ex-Hungarian Officers Arrested

NEW YORK, March 18 (CP) — The New York Times said today in a Vienna dispatch that a number of former Hungarian officers and "their alleged civilian accomplices" have been arrested and will soon be made defendants in a large-scale "American Espionage" trial by Hungary's Communist-led government.

The arrests were made partly as a result of evidence gathered by political police when they raided the Budapest apartment of Baroness Pongracs, who is prominent in Hungarian Roman Catholic circles, the Times said. She was arrested with her two daughters and 40 other persons who have "dropped in to see her in the course of two days."

Hunts With Shovel

GRANDE PRAIRIE, Alta. (CP). —A speeding automobile and a shovel may not be the orthodox method of killing a wolf but Barney Hysted of Grande Prairie recently bagged one that way. Hysted hit the animal with his car and killed it with a shovel. He then collected the bounty.

OPTICAL WARNING

Some authorities believe that nearly everybody in North America will be near-sighted a few centuries hence.

Gateman Given April Remand

TORONTO, March 18 —(CP)—Joseph Jenkins, 58-year-old Canadian National Railways gateman, today was remanded to April 15 on a charge of criminal negligence.

The charge arose from the death of two men after a level-crossing automobile-train collision in West Toronto March 11. The two men, John C. Wilson, Jr., 52, president of the Carwill Transport Company, and Thomas Guy Walton, 42, the firm's secretary-treasurer, died in hospital the same day.

Jenkins was quoted by police at the time of the accident as saying he didn't hear the whistle of the approaching train and did not lower the safety gate at the crossing.

Each Country

Acheson told reporters the powers in his view would not be confronted with an "armed attack" which they would have to resist if a purely internal revolution occurred in one of the countries.

But he added that should there by revolutionary activity inspired and assisted from the outside — such as the Communist warfare against the Greek government — that very well might be considered an armed attack.

Congress Decides

The pact itself recognizes that so far as the United States is concerned, only Congress can declare war.

The key provision of the pact is article five, which says:

"The parties agree that an armed attack against one or more of them in Europe or North America should be considered an attack against them all: and consequently they agree that, if such an armed attack occurs, each of them, in exercise of the right of individual or collective self-defence recognized by article 51 of the charter of the United Nations, will assist the party or parites so attacked by taking forthwith, individually and in concert with the other parties, such action as it deems necessary, including the use of armed force, to restore and maintain the security of the North Atlantic area.

"Any such armed attack and all measures taken as a result thereof shall immediately be reported to the UN Security Council. Such measures shall be terminated when the Security Council has taken the measures necessary to restore and maintain international peace and security."

Warning To Russia

That is the long-debated section which, although stopping short of an automatic pledge to go to war, is designed to put Russia on notice that an attack on any of the western powers would instantly be met by all of them.

The "parties" referred to in the pact are the countries signing it. These will definitely include the United States, Canada, Norway, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. In addition Iceland, Portugal, Denmark and Italy have been invited and are expected to sign.

After next month's signing, the treaty will come into actual force when a majority of the governments have ratified it. But the majority must include the United States, Britain, Canada, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. Before the United States can ratify, the Senate must approve the pact by a two-thirds majority.

Even while the Senate is debating the treaty, President Truman is expected to send to Congress a billion-dollar program to rearm the treaty powers of western Europe and thus give added meaning to the all-important article five.

"If I had the power to introduce a bill to provide $40 a month across the board, I'd do it. And if I had the chance to vote for such a bill, I'd do it."

Private members may not introduce bills involving spending of money.

Major Foote, first selected to the Legislature at last June's general election, said he lacked the experience of the Cabinet Ministers. He would have to give the matter of liquor sales more thought before introducing a bill but he felt that sale of liquor should be restricted to brewers' warehouses, retail stores and Government liquor stores.

Approves Action

He approved the action of the Cabinet in restoring the $10,000 Ministers' salary, voluntarily reduced to $8,000 during the administration of Liberal Premier Mitchell Hepburn. Ministers were worth "all the money provided for them in the Statutes."

"I would suggest, however, in a respectful and kindly way that those who are hanging on behind are hanging too far behind." Consideration should be given to private members' indemnity.

Masonic Chapter Celebrates 40th Anniversary

CAMPBELLFORD, March 18—(ENS)—Rt. Ex Comp. Clarence McLeod Pitts of Ottawa was guest speaker at the 40th anniversary banquet of Ionic Chapter, RAM, No. 168, GRC, on Thursday. Visitors were from Madoc, Trenton, Lindsay, Peterborough, Port Hope, Brighton, Colborne, Warkworth, Toronto, Cobourg, Belleville, Napanee and Portage La Prairie, Man.

The speaker said that the number 40 was a significant period of time and frequently used in the Old and New Testaments. Rain had descended upon the earth for forty days and forty nights. The life of Moses had been divided into three periods of 40 years each. He remarked that Kings David and Solomon had reigned for 40 years and that Christ's temptation had lasted 40 days.

"Masonry," he stated, "has enriched the world by teaching and practising the brotherhood of man and the Fatherhood of God. Where Masonry flourishes the way of life is founded on religious principles and freedom of action. In countries under the heel of dictators masonry is crushed, then religion is attacked and destroyed. These two powerful forces for good in the society of men are incompatible with the Godless reign of tyrants," he said

Visitors were from Madoc, Trenton, Lindsay, Peterborough, Port Hope, Brighton, Colborne, Warkworth, Toronto, Cobourg, Belleville, Napanee and Portage La Prairie, Man.

Peterborough String Trio, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Searles and Mr. Tom Smith, furnished the dinner music; S. A. Hopping sang a number of Irish songs with Albert Hazell as accompanist. Gaje Meyers danced to the accompaniment of Gearold Young on the violin and his brother Don, at the piano.

Ex Comp. E. J. Wilmink was master of ceremonies. The speaker was introduced by Rt. Ex. Comp. W. C. Blackwell, Grand Superintendent. Rt. Ex. Comp. L. B. Glover proposed the toast to the visitors and several visiting companions replied. The guest speaker was presented with a silver trowel by V. Ex. Comp. O. C. Watson and two chartered members, V. Ex. Companions F. W. Wood and O. C. Watson, received gifts from Rt. Ex. Comp. C. W. Pitts in behalf of Ionic Chapter.

Lewis' Mourning Strike May Prove a Boomerang

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, March 18—(CP)—John Lewellyn Lewis, 69-year-old boss of the United Mine Workers of America, has growled another of the blunt, sudden, serious orders which are his trademark. But, despite the industry-crippling effect on the "mourning period" he called this week, there's an oh-so-familiar ring to the whole business. The reaction is not indignation one might expect.

Lewis, his shaggy brows, his booming voice and his cold, calculating methods are all a part of the American scene.

Some call him arrogant and cruel; some say he's the country's most powerful trade-union leader and the one man to whom most workers can trace many of their important wage and hours gains. Nobody ignores him.

But Lewis' latest action may write a different sort of chapter into the story of his life. The opposition is really big this time. It's got a good case and it may not budge an inch—no matter what Lewis does next.

Attempt to Dictate?

Officially, his guns are trained on only one man—James Boyd, director of the United State Bureau of Mines. Some 425,000 miners east of the Mississippi left the coal pits last Monday in a two-week walkout billed by Lewis as a "mourning period" for the "unnecessary slaughter" of miners during Boyd's tenure of office.

Actually, however, Lewis is tackling President Truman —who nominated Boyd for the director's job—and the Senate, which is being asked to confirm Boyd in the post he has held so far on a temporary basis.

Editorial writers are calling it an attempt to "dictate" to Truman and to Congress. There hinting that, at long last, perhaps the United States had better get its dander up and do something about this man Lewis.

One-Man Rule

Perhaps most important is that Lewis, deliberately or otherwise, has embarrassed all of organized labor.

He is showing that the national economy is at the mercy of one man unless labor law contains some safeguard.

But his action may affect the move to repeal the Taft-Hartley measure—as the president and labor leaders in general propose. It makes it possible for the administration is proposing a 30-day cooling-off period, during which a presidential fact- finding board would investigate.

The final reaction might be to retain the 80-day clause of the Taft-Hartley Law.

Unless John L. Lewis has an ace up his sleeve, his "mourning period" may become a boomerang he never intended to throw.

Cannot Be Deported

MELBOURNE, March 18 (AP)—The High Court of Australia decided to-day that Mrs. Annie O'Keefe, an Indonesian, and her eight children cannot be deported from Australia. Mrs. O'Keefe, widow of an Ambonese war hero, is married to an Australian, John W. O'Keefe. She and the children are classified as Asiatics who normally are excluded from Australia.

WCTU Lodges Protest Against Liquor Ads

FAIRVIEW, March 18.—Mrs. Elmer Milburn was hostess for the regular meeting of the Smith and Lakefield WCTU.

The president, Mrs. Gordon Mann opened the meeting and the Fairview ladies had charge of the program which was convened by Mrs. Austin Poast. Mrs. Poast based the worship period on scriptural passages on temperance responsibilities. These passages of scripture were read by a number of the ladies.

Rev. D. P. Morris and Mrs. Morris sang a duet, "On Galilee."

The president took charge of the business. The annual medal contest will be held in Fairview Church on Friday evening, April 8.

A resolution was drawn protesting liquor advertisements which will be forwarded to the Peterborough Ministerial Association and also to Rev. M. J. Aiken, president of the Ontario Temperance Federation.

The annual meeting will be held in April at the home of Mrs. G. F. Kelly of Lakefield.

Lunch was served.

Mistaken Economy

Elsewhere on this page we publish a letter from the Hon. G. N. Gordon in which he suggests that the City Hall be built on a cheaper site than the one already chosen, as "we must cut our garment to suit our cloth". While we have a high regard for Mr. Gordon's abilities and his devotion to Peterborough, we think that he is mistaken in this instance. Economy, like every other good quality, must be governed by reason and a sense of fitness; if it is not so governed it becomes not economy, but penny-pinching. The new City Hall will be the centre of municipal affairs, and it ought to be in itself a source of municipal pride; we must have the best site and the best building that we can get. We shall not get anything that is worth having cheaply.

* * *

Real economy is a matter of using money wisely and getting the best value for it. All kinds of suggestions have been made about the new City Hall. There were even those who suggested that Peterborough should erect an office building with stores on its ground floor, and rent the parts of it which were not needed for city services. Ottawa has had something of this sort for years, and has found it most unsatisfactory. The money which Peterborough spends on a good building and a good site will not be wasted. At the moment this city contains perhaps two buildings which would not give an architect a bilious headache, and only two; one of them was erected by a commercial company. It would be a shame to build, on a cheap site, a city hall which would merely be another undistinguished heap of brick and mortar. We have too much civic pride for that.

* * *

The Examiner is not unmindful of the fact that Peterborough has now a 45 mill tax-rate. It is high, but Brantford has now a 49-mill rate, and St. Catharines expects a rate of 50 mills, and neither of those cities foresees ruin as a result. We are in a period of high municipal spending, and we must be careful of our money, but that does not mean that we must be miserly or that we must cut off our nose to spite our face. The City Hall which we shall build will be the centre of our municipal government for perhaps a century, and maybe longer. It must be a worthy reflection of our city spirit. It is not going to contain a single element which could be called a frill, and indeed the auditorium which the city needs, and which is not a frill, is not included in it. (It may be said at this point that the auditorium in P.C.V.S., which was originally planned to suit the city's needs, was spoiled by penny-pinching demands that the plans be curtailed.) Indeed, the present plans for the City Hall do not provide accommodation for some of the city services which will be adequate for them. And, as a growing city, Peterborough would gain nothing but trouble and future expense by building a City Hall which is too small for its needs, or too cheap for its dignity and importance.

The Responsibility For The Bad Accident Record

The accident record of the Province of Ontario during the past year is, the Kingston Whig-Standard thinks, an indictment of the present system of licensing in this Province. We agree.

As we pointed out in these columns last January, the number of accidents in 1948 as compared with 1947 increased in all but five counties and one district. Haliburton was one of the exceptions. Nevertheless, in District 8 of the Department of Highways classification, which includes Haliburton, Peterborough, Victoria, Durham and Northumberland counties, there was an increase of 47.3 per cent. So many accidents can be prevented. They can be prevented by drivers and pedestrians being careful, watchful and obeying the rules of the road. They can be prevented by motor owners keeping their cars in good mechanical condition. Much of the responsibility for preventing accidents rests with individual people, but not all of it.

The Department which issues licenses allowing vehicles on the roads and permitting people to drive them has a responsibility. If the large number of accidents last year is a condemnation of individuals, it is also a condemnation of the licensing authorities who gave the individuals the opportunity to be a menace. Car licenses are issued without any regard for the car's mechanical condition. Drivers' licenses are issued in the first place after a few rudimentary tests of driving skill. Thereafter they are renewed automatically upon application and payment of the fee unless age or culpable carelessness intervene.

We think that there should be a more general check on the mechanical condition of cars before new license plates are issued. We think that the tests given drivers before they are first licensed should be more comprehensive, and take into greater account the driver's physical condition, defects and reactions to sudden driving conditions which he is liable to encounter. We think that there should be periodic re-testing of drivers.

Our cars are powerful and potentially vicious. Regulations governing their use should be as strict as those for firearms. People cannot be allowed to be entirely their own mentors on the highways, nor should the police be saddled with the sins of commission of the licensing authorities. They should not have to flag down cars which should not have been licensed for the roads in the first place, nor should they be expected to spot all incompetent or weak drivers before accidents happen. The licensing officials must be given greater responsibility. The number of accidents on our highways is appalling, saddening and expensive. A stricter licensing system should do much to reduce them.

When Is A Strike A "Memorial"?

Although of immediate concern only in the U.S.A. it is interesting to observe the manoeuvres of John L. Lewis at the present time. On Monday Mr. Lewis ordered his half million miners to stop work "to mourn the unnecessary slaughter of 55,115 men killed and injured in 1948"; provision for such memorial periods is contained in the contract of the United Mine Workers. As a matter of record the number of miners killed in 1948 was 1,115. A secondary reason for the cessation of work was the miners' opposition to "one Boyd, an incompetent, unqualified person who has usurped the office and functions of director of the Federal Bureau of Mines". The reference is to Dr. James Boyd, nominated to the post he now holds by President Truman in 1947. Mr. Lewis was not consulted before Dr. Boyd was appointed, and he has used the pressure of his union to keep the U.S. Senate from confirming the President's appointment; Dr. Boyd, in consequence, is working on an 'interim' basis, and receives no pay.

Other elements lie behind his disguised strike. Early in May John L. Lewis will have to negotiate another contract for his mine workers, and at the moment there is a record surplus of soft coal, and the price of coal has dropped slightly. But a strike of two weeks will reduce the surplus by 20,000,000 tons, stop the drop in price, and put Mr. Lewis in a stronger position when he has to bargain.

The strike of miners means that half a million men lose two weeks' wages; it means that sixty thousand railroad workers suffer a layoff which they do not want; it means that the U.S.A. and its customers lose twenty million tons of coal which industry needs, and the national payroll will show it. But Mr. Lewis does not care. The public will pay the bill, as always.

Unmannerly Student Protest

It seems that a thousand students of Assumption College in Windsor, Ontario, Canada, have sent protests to President Truman, asking him to forbid the holding of a conference in New York. The conference, called the Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace, is scheduled to be held three days next week. Incidentally, the distinguished Soviet composer, Dmitri Shostakovitch is expected to be one of the men attending. The Conference is alleged to be pro-Russian, pro-Communist and designed to propagate Red doctrine. It may be a red front affair at which so-called intellectuals praise the virtues of communism and condemn the vices of American capitalism. The point that we wish to make, however, is that students in a Canadian college have no business poking their noses into a purely American affair. To say the least, it is far from polite to our American friends. If President Truman makes any reply to these youths, whose hearts may be in the right place but whose manners certainly are not, we hope that he will tell them to tend to their studies or go play marbles. Perhaps the American State Department or our own Department of External Affairs may be charitable enough to send them a simplified, easily understood pamphlet on diplomatic etiquette.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column, particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

QUESTION: Movie news shots of President Truman almost always show him heavily guarded by police, detectives and bodyguards. Isn't that a bit ridiculous? Our Governor-General, the Prime Minister, and even King George seem to travel about freely, unguarded, and unharmed.

ANSWER: American customs are different from ours, and the American people are more numerous, more mixed and more volatile in their loves and hates. President Roosevelt always travelled under heavy guard, which was intensified during the war years. Even before the war, elaborate precautions were taken. When Roosevelt visited Kingston in 1938, America secret service men arrived before him to survey the streets through which his car would pass and to examine balconies and search buildings. I am told that even the railway line over which his train was to pass was examined carefully and that a test train preceded it, so that if there were any blowout, the blow would fall on it, and not on the presidential train.

They seemed to fear not that a Canadian would be so inhospitable as to attempt to murder the American President, but an American attempt, since the President would be on foreign soil and the strict vigilance might be relaxed. However, if any American gangsters did slip across the border with the intention of killing the President, they did not succeed in doing any damage. Our own police (including R.C.M.P.) are quite good. They take precautions when distinguished visitors arrive, but not obtrusively.

In this country there is no tradition of murdering chief executives. Several Presidents of the Republic have been assassinated, the most lamented being Lincoln. As far as my recollection serves me, the most outstanding Canadian statesman to have been murdered was Thomas D'Arcy McGee, a father of Confederation, a great orator and patriot. In April 1868, less than a year after the achievement of Confederation, he fell a victim to a Fenian assassin, P. J. Whelan. Whelan was found guilty and was hanged on February 11th, 1869. His was the last public execution in Canada.

SIR: Why is March 31st or April 1st the date chosen for the entry of Newfoundland into the Canadian federation? Why not July 1st, Canada's birthday, when we have a national holiday and both Newfoundland and Canada could celebrate together?

ANSWER: Newfoundland will cease to exist as a separate nation on March 31st. Its first day as a Canadian province will be April 1st. I believe the chief reason for the date is fiscal. Canada's financial year ends on March 31st. The new budget, changes in taxation, the income tax year, and all sorts of matters related to public finance take effect on April 1st. Were Newfoundland to enter the Canadian union on any other day, the paper difficulties would be increased enormously.

Some sort of national celebration will mark the occasion. If the celebration were to be held on July 1st, Newfoundlanders might think that they were being considered as merely another candle on Canada's birthday cake.

DEAR ALPHA: The stamp tax on cheques is a constant source of annoyance to me. What is its purpose (i.e. aside from collecting revenue, has it some special designation, for instance, to pay war debts?). Is there any justification for this form of indiscriminate taxation, does it fulfil the requirements of any form of good taxation?

ANSWER: The stamp tax on cheques is still called a "war tax". It was, like income tax and many others, a direct federal tax imposed for the first time during the war of 1914-1918, to help meet the financial demands of that war. The first war is still not paid for, and we have had another one to increase the financial burden, so we are likely to have the stamp tax with us for many generations. Anyway, once a method of taxation is found, it is seldom dropped. It may be modified, as the stamp tax has been. Now the rate is fixed at three cents on cheques, money orders, promisory notes, bills of exchange and the like for amounts not over $100. For greater amounts the tax is six cents. It used to be that the rate increased several times in several jumps corresponding to the size of the cheque. Now the tax is nicely tidied up, and yields a nice tidy sum each year. Of late and until 1943 it was about 4½ million dollars; from 1943 to last year it ran more than twelve million. The jump was caused by places of entertainment using excise stamps to pay their taxes. The stamp tax yield is only a drop in the revenue bucket, but is so easy to catch that we are unlikely to see it dropped out of the bucket. Most western countries use this taxation method. In Britain the stamps are actually printed (that is, truly stamped) on the cheque blanks. The stamp tax there is 2d.

I am not versed in philosophies of taxation, but doubt that this tax can be called "indiscriminate". I think it discriminates nicely—only those with money in the bank pay it. It is discriminating too, in this way—cheques and postal notes issued to farmers, woolgrowers, egg producers and the like need not carry excise stamps if they are in payment for certain products and under certain amounts. Your annoyance with the stamp tax is partly understandable, since all taxes are annoying. But no more annoying than finding stamps to put on a letter, which stamps are postage, not taxes.

Will you excuse my asking if you are an American? If so, your annoyance may be due to racial memories of the Stamp Act imposed by George III in 1785, to make the English colonists in America help pay the costs of the Seven Years' War. We learned in school that this Stamp Act was such an exceedingly great annoyance to the American colonists they revolted and formed the U.S.A.

ALPHA: Several years ago the Council or Utilities Commission decided that the park at the Filtration Plant should be known as "Moore Park" to honour the memory of the late W. H. Moore, K.C., who had made a great contribution to the Utilities Commission and many other organizations in Peterborough. To our knowledge nothing has been done to carry out this decision. Could not something be done to have it recognized as "Moore Park" in preference to "Filtration Park"?

ANSWER: When W. H. Moore, K.C., a venerable gentleman greatly esteemed by his contemporaries, died in the spring of 1920 after having served for many years first as a Water Commissioner and, when the city took over the supplying of electric power, as a Utilities Commission (the last three months of his life he was Chairman in succession to T. S. Matthews, who had removed to Toronto), Mr. Ross Dobbin suggested, and the Commission approved, that the new property acquired in 1919 for the Filtration Plant be named "Moore Park". The Plant was built in 1921-22, the grounds improved into a pleasant park, but the name Moore Park has never been used. It is simply the Filtration Plant park. People change their place-name usage slowly. For instance, the official name of Jackson's Park is "West Nicholls Park", but it has never caught the public tongue.

FOR THE RECORD: Monday next, March 21st, is the first day of spring, believe it or not as you look around at the snow and feel the cold weather of this week. Actually, this March has thus far been our most wintry month in a winter unusually mild. Signs of spring are not lacking, even though no one has written me that he has seen the first robin or the first crow. Children have been out with marbles for several weeks. It is an anomaly now to say marbles. The higher standard of living has affected even this game. Now all children seem to play with alleys, and to scorn mere marbles. Marbles used to be 14 for a cent, and the precious, beautiful, coloured alleys a cent each. Now the price of alleys is 12 for five cents and no marbles seem to be on sale. The new alleys look less desirable now than those of twenty years ago. Alleys are apparently so-called as an abbreviated form of "alabaster", the translucent soft stone found in the Tuscany hills of Italy and elsewhere. I prefer to think the word an abbreviation of "all eyes"—a graphic word for the pretty pebbles of a children's game of chance.

A STITCH AND TIME

Letter To The Editor

CITY HALL SITE

Sir: The City Hall situation has changed a good deal in the last fortnight. Reports indicate that the Utilities Commission have adequate offices and it would seem that the Board of Education is satisfied with the South ward school premises.

It might be well for the Council to interview Senator J. J. Duffus and Iva C. Fallis for the purpose of seeing if they will lay before the Minister of Public Works our position. He might give us or sell the Custom House to use as a police station and Police Court, and the post office building and site to be used as a new City Hall site. If the new Customs House and post office are to be built soon, the Government will no doubt treat us as well as it did Toronto when it sold to that city Christie Street Hospital for the cost of the furnishings, to be used as a home for the aged.

Spending more than half a million dollars for a City Hall site is not exciting much enthusiasm among the ratepayers, particularly with the Civic Hospital expenditure facing them.

Building costs for the first time in ten years are showing signs of lowering and that feature is worth considering.

The area considered as a City Hall is very valuable and no doubt will be used as apartment house locations. Anyway the business and industrial population is moving south and south-west, and if a City Hall is built opposite Central Park, it will soon be left high and dry in beautiful isolation.

Dr. Faludi no doubt had the idea of a beautiful building to add to the appearance of the city but we must cut the suit according to the cloth.

We have been given a very good City Government; the police force is efficient, so is the fire brigade, the city officials are competent and courteous, and the city is developing rapidly.

Educationally, Peterborough occupies a prominent place and we have everything that could be expected in a city of this size.

It must be remembered a great many have recently bought homes and many more are needed. A reasonably low tax rate invites people to build or buy homes and brings more people to the city and helps industrial and business development.

It is too late this year to provide for the arena and Memorial Centre by act of the Legislature, but these matters should be settled now. Mr. Jeoson and his committee did some effective service in collecting this money nearly ten years ago. Machinery should be set up for election or appointment of Boards of Governors, similar to the Civic Hospital Board as these committees have very limited powers even if they have any to purchase property, make expenditures for equipment, etc.

We need not feel disturbed by a 40 mill rate. Nearly every house and the lot on which it stands has doubled in value in the last ten years and 5 per cent. taxation is about what other urban centres in Ontario are paying.

This letter has been written at the suggestion of a number of men in the building trade.

Yours truly,
G. N. GORDON.

United Church In Newfoundland

So far as The United Church of Canada is concerned, we have always had the closest union. Newfoundland has been a Conference within the United Church. To all the Church Board there come every year representatives duly elected from the Conference in Newfoundland, while officials of the Church visit the Island regularly. Her ministers for the most part are graduates of the Canadian theological colleges, and there is frequent interchange of pastorates. This interchange has been naturally beneficial. We have come to know the sturdiness, the kindliness and the devotion to the Church of these members from the most Eastern Conference. As a Church we are happy to welcome into this new and closer fellowship the ministers, office bearers and members of our Newfoundland Conference. They have already contributed much to the life of The United Church of Canada. It is our prayer that the whole life of our Church as well as that of Canada will be enriched by this closer union.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

There is no wisdom nor understanding nor counsel against the Lord. (Prov. 21: 30.)

✣ ✣ ✣

For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death: but to be spiritually minded is life and peace. Because the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be.

So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God.

But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. (Rom. 8: 5-9.)

Issues Warning To Beware Of Increase In Paternalism

OTTAWA, March 18 (CP).—In the Senate Throne-Speech debate Thursday, Senator W. Rupert Davies (L—Ontario) said he would vote for broadening of family allowances, envisaged in the Throne Speech, but he wondered "where all this paternalism is going to end."

He had originally opposed family allowances in the belief they would penalize the thrifty and help the thriftless. He had been won over but he warned that the generosity of Government might be harming individual ambition and the desire to succeed.

However, the spirit seemed to permeate both old parties. He wondered why there was all the talk of social justice when the country was booming, when wages were high and jobs plentiful.

He wouldn't say the old parties were trying to climb into the Socialist bed, but it looked as though they would be in electoral battle for the top and bottom of the Socialist pyjamas and to see which one would lie over the foot of the Socialist bed.

Issues Warning

He would vote for the broadened statute but he warned, from a long-range view, that Parliament should be wary of killing initiative and ambition. He wondered how many members of the Senate would be there now if they had benefitted from the allowance. They had learned to overcome obstacles, to climb up the hard way.

It had given boys pride and satisfaction to earn money in spare time and on Saturdays, but that was no longer necessary. The allowances provided the money.

Senator Davies said it remained to be seen what effect government generosity is going to have on the rising generation, what it would do to ambition and the desire to succeed.

Character was not made by sliding down a mountainside It came from scaling them. If Canada's early pioneers had not endured great hardships it was open to question what sort of a country Canada would be to-day.

Senator Davies described the Throne Speech's 78-word sentence announcing an omnibus Royal Commission on cultural and other subjects as "a doozer." He liked the spirit of the resolution, but found it "much too sweeping."

Senator Davies ranged far and wide. He said Canada was lagging behind the United States and Britain in television and urged that Canada get started quickly in this field or she might lose the limited number of broadcasting channels available.

He suggested that it should first consider television and radio, followed by a national library and the building of a new art gallery. The other segments could wait.

Television had arrived. Canada couldn't afford to wait too long for the report of a commission if she didn't want to lag too far behind. Already there were 200 sets in Toronto—listening to stations in Buffalo.

It had been estimated that there would be 18,000,000 sets in the U.S. by 1953; there would be 2,000,000 sold this year. Its prospects there have been described by a spokesman for private Canadian radio as staggering.

But "we've done nothing here." Already United States interests were eyeing the few channels available to Canada and private interests in Canada were willing and able to go ahead.

Because its hearings were "very laborious," he advocated that members of the Senate divorce committee—he's not one—be paid adequately for their judicial functions. He called for establishment of a national library, art gallery and museum in Ottawa and urged encouragement for Canadian writers and for the Little Theatre movement.

Developing Local Talent

Senator Davies said he thought the CBC was doing a fine job, particularly in such programs as Stage '49 and its Wednesday night cultural efforts. But there should be no discounting of the cultural work done by 60 private stations across Canada. They were developing local talent "and it is gradually improving." Private stations were part of the community, ready to help any worthy cause.

He approved the CBC's management but said it might be better if its powers of regulation over private radio were vested in some other body.

Senator Davies lauded the growth of the Little Theatre movement which had sprung up across Canada. It was a branch of Canada's cultural life that should be encouraged. A group of Peterborough school teachers had recently presented in Brockville a Shakespearean drama which was one of the best he had ever seen, but it had cost them $900 to move it from their home town. They couldn't bring it to Ottawa because it would cost too much.

"Ten thousand dollars a year," he said, "would be a godsend."

It would help Little Theatres in the West and the Maritimes and even Ontario to move about, to equip themselves and to grow. The annual Dominion Drama Festival should be supported.

He approved a $4,000 vote in the estimates for the Writers' Foundation for retired writers, "but we should do something to encourage the writers of today." Canada's authors should get support.

Senator Davies welcomed the Atlantic Pact as a show of strength and the right course. He thought the influence of Communism was on the wane but it should be carefully watched and kept within the law. If he had his way, the law would be tightened a bit.

Rotary Presents Hilarious Comedy

NORWOOD, March 18 (ENS)—The Town Hall was a scene of great hilarity when the Rotary Club presented a comedy Who's Batty Now on Wednesday. Presented and directed solely by members of Havelock Rotary Club and sponsored by Norwood Board of Trade, the entertainment was to raise funds for community projects by the two organizations.

The cast included two ministers, the Rev. R. D. Duncanson, who caused great merriment as a girl of 22 and the Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh who played the part of Nick, a man of 45.

Other members of the cast were Everard Chiles, James Watson, Bert Haryett, Gilbert Crook, James Calnan, Robert Sayers, Harvey McNeely, Donald Buchanan, George Fox and Ernest Sanderson. The play was directed by Mr. McNeely.

Marines Bow To Crowland In Overtime Playoff Fray

WELLAND, March 18—Peterborough Marines put on a great finishing burst before going down 13-11 to Crowland Bantams in the Ontario Bantam "B" final round here. Peterborough took a three point lead in the first game of the round, winning 7-4, but Crowland came back strong to take the final game 9-4.

Marines didn't go down without a fight, they forced the high-flying firemen's squad to two overtime periods before yielding.

Crowland seemed to have the trophy signed, sealed and delivered when they led the round 11-9 with five minutes of regulation time left, but the plucky visitors wouldn't quit and tied things up before the third period ran out. No more scoring was forthcoming until Nemeth of Crowland made two final lone-wolf breakaways in the second overtime frame.

The home team wasted no time in starting towards victory when Nemeth scored from Notar after 57 seconds of play. Kereluik stickhandled beautifully through the whole Peterborough team and scored at the 8.33 mark to put his team within one point of Peterborough.

Struck Back

Kearns struck back for the Marines two minutes later, scoring a straight hard shot from 15 feet out after taking McDougal's pass standing still. Rome put Crowland back within one point less than one minute later, slapping home a fast pass from Kereluik that gave Byrnes no chance. Peterborough showed up much better in the second period and shared the play evenly with the firemen. The teams battled evenly for nearly 19 minutes before Piedle scored for Crowland on a power play to tie the series at 8-8.

Going into the final regular session all even, McGrath gave Marines a one-point lead after 45 seconds.

Crowland came back strong. Kereluik stickhandling beautifully, scored two unassisted and Reeves slapped home a completely screened shot to put the home team two up with five minutes left. McDougall and Kearns perked up with quick goals to tie things up 11-11 though, and force overtime.

No Count

The first overtime period went scoreless. Marines held the edge in play but couldn't beat Rumsby in the Crowland net. Nemeth broke away from his own blue line twice in the second overtime to score and give Crowland the title 13-11. After the game, both teams lined up for the presentation of the trophy by A. A. Morrison of St. Catharines.

Easily the best men on the ice were Kearns of Peterborough and Rumsby of Crowland; they were also the two smallest men in the game. Kearns outskated all other players on the ice but Rumsby couldn't be beaten in the firemen's net.

Next in the honor parade was Kereluik of Crowland whose stickhandling was a sight to behold. Also starring for Peterborough were Strickland, McGrath, McDougall and McCormick while Piedle, Rome, Nemeth and Mateka shone for Crowland firemen.

The teams:

Marines—Goal, Byrne; defence, McGillen, McCormick; centre, McGrath; wings, Frizzelle, Strickland; alternates, Holden, McDougall, Kelly, Turner, Corbett, Kearns, Ball.

Crowland: Goal, Rumsby; defence, Reeves, Matdra; centre, Katch; wings, Nemeth, Notar; alternates, Kereluik, Rome, Piedle, Kelly, Walker, Robins, Subosits, Cibik.

Referees, Adamson and Boys.

Summary:

First Period:

Crowland — Nemeth (Notar) :57.

Crowland—Kereluik, 8.33.

Marines—Kearns (McDougall) 11.57.

Crowland — Rome (Kereluik) 12.30.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Cambridge and Oxford University crews chalked up record times in the century-old annual boat-race classic 15 years ago today. Cambridge stretched its winning streak to 11, finished the 4¼-mile course in 18 minutes, three seconds, a record which still stands. The previous mark was 18 minutes, 29 seconds set by Oxford in 1921.

Downer Rolls 962 Triple In City Loop

Clarence Downer rolled 294-375-293 for a 962 total to set a new high three score for this season last night in the Men's City Five Pin Bowling League as the Esquires took four points from Empress Old Timers. Downer also took high single for the night with his 375 score. Rileys had high pinnage 3696 and high single game 1271 as they took six points from De Laval.

Ostranders edged four points from the league-leading Shockeys to really tighten up the race for top honors. Charlotte Credit Jewellers and Cavanaghs blanked McCannan Electric and King George while Bond Clothes, Clappers Sports and Russelles each won four points from Fashion Craft, Sunocos and Marinos Lunch.

Bill Boon followed Downer's big three with 876, Gene Reynolds rolled 830 and Fred Martin 811.

Irv Hanes was second in the high singles with 352 as Claude Cornwell and Bill Masters had 324, Bill Boon 322, Jack Wade 303 and Bud Weese 301.

Burns Bridge Wins

NORWOOD, March 18 (ENS).—It was an interesting game of hockey between Burns Bridge and South Dummer in Norwood Arena on Wednesday night, with the score 6-1 for Burns Bridge. T. Davis and H. Darling counted two each and L. Kidd and W. Tedford one each for Burns Bridge. C. Lobb put a nice one in to beat M. Kidd in the last five minutes of the game.

The line-up:

Burns Bridge — Goal, M. Kidd; defence, E. Carlow and R. Tedford; centre, M. Tedford; wings, R. Tedford and F. Fitzgerald; alternates, T. Davis, G. Davis, H. Darling, K. Freeburn, P. Bolton, W. Tedford, L. Kidd.

South Dummer—Goal, B. Danford; defence, W. Sedgewick, W. Cooper; centre, W. Lobb; wings, B. Kelly, O. Clements; alternates C. Lobb, W. McMillan, A. Lobb, D. Burnett, E. Sedgwick, E. Ireland, K. Jones.

Referee—Allan Fairfield.

Linesman—John Rae.

Present Painting

TORONTO, March 18 (CP) — A painting of the swimming hole on Premier Kennedy's Peel County farm was presented to the Premier Thursday by the artist Roy Greenaway, on behalf of the Ontario Legislative Assembly press gallery. Mr. Greenaway, legislative reporter for the Toronto Star visited the Premier at his farm in nearby Dixie where he is recovering from a cold.

Brown Recuperating

PHILADELPHIA, March 18—(AP)—Comedian Joe E. Brown is reported today "getting along perfectly fine." He is in a hospital here following an attack of recurring malaria. Brown, star of Mary Chase's "Harvey," a play about a mild-mannered drunk and his invisible rabbit, was forced to leave the play here more than two weeks ago.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

First of all, the basketball setup locally this week-end. Girls' playoffs start at 8.15 tonight in the YW, Nurses vs. Neill's, and then CGE vs. Collis. First two are in senior playoffs and the other pair in intermediate. Three-game series, points to count. Togs are idle till March 26. TCS juniors and seniors play PCVS teams, starting at 7.30 tonight in the Collegiate. Tomorrow, PCVS juves open OABA finals in St. Kitts, while Marines "B" cagers lost out to Belleville. At the YMCA tomorrow night at 8.15, St. Catharines tangle with Al Clark's Marines "A" squad in the return tilt of their OABA semi-final series, St. Kitts having a hefty lead. It should be a swell scrap, preceded by an exhibition at seven bells.

* * * * * *

Word that there'll be artificial ice in Civic Arena for next winter is welcome, indeed. After this past slushy season—and in view of the fact that the Memorial Centre looks to be four or five years away—it was felt that Peterborough really needed artificial ice, especially when a place the size of Lindsay had it. We think it is money well spent and will be repaid in kind and in various other ways down through the year. It means that the arena will be going six nights a week for hockey and skating from about the end of November until April, and no worries about the weather. A fine thing for hockey here, both the minor and the OHA brand.

Kingston And Legion

Ice should be okay tonight at Civic Arena for the big battle at 8.30 betwixt Kingston Nylons and the local Legionnaires. First of their best-of-five OHA senior "B" semi-final playoff series. Next one is Monday in the Limestone City. Now, these Nylons are by no means silken pantywaists, else they'd never knock the battling Belleville bunch out in three of four games. When Legion only eked out an 8-7 nod o'er the Quinte crew in a Belleville exhibition recently. No, we have every respect for a club carrying such experienced puck aces as Udall, Gerow, Catlin, Partis, Blake and the rest. They'll be tough.

* * * * * *

Rink ought to be jammed tonight as the classy Legion make their home stand — and they've been lucky to have good ice this late here. On a fast surface, the speedy Legionnaires will give Kingston an eyeful, we imagine, as they race in on Udall. A Quinte scout tells us it's easier to beat Nylon's goalie from a piece out, rather than right in on the doorstep of his twine teepee. Anyway, the Vitarelli pack will know what to do when they get flying out there. Though they'll have a fight of it, we think they're sharp enough this semester to knock the Nylons off the line and proceed into the provincial finals. But all of us will have a better idea after tonight's big battle.

* * * * * *

Went Down Battling

Bowing out battling, the bantam Marines forced Crowland into two overtime periods before the homesters captured the OMHA crown. The young Outboards put up a great scrap and it was no disgrace at all, though tough luck that they didn't take the title after coming so close. Albert Watkins' boys had a three-goal lead here and they saw it dissipated early last night down Welland way. But in the second overtime stanza, the smart Crowland crew rapped in two to take the championship. Little Gary Kearns was the best player on the ice, while other Marines who shone were Strickland, McGrath, McDougall and McCormick. But they all turned in a whale of an effort.

* * * * * *

In the streamlined men's City Bowling League last p.m., Clarence Downer rolled a mighty 962 triple, including a 375 single, to set a new top triple for the season. Riley's had high pinnage with 3696, with a single of 1271. Mighty hot sniping at the maples, eh? Bill Boon was second high with individual crosses and Irv Hanes rolled second for singletons. The race is plenty tight yet as they hammer around the turn toward the stretch. Shockey's are in front with 116, Just two points over Riley's, while Ostrander's have 110 and Fashion-Craft 102.

Quinte Cagers Rub Out Marines Squad

BELLEVILLE beat Marines 42-29 on the Quinte floor last night to capture their OABA Intermediate B series by 24 points. They had taken an 11-point lead from the first game played here, and proved powerful in their own gym. The loss eliminated Gord McIntyre's squad after a good showing in their first year together.

The Quinte crew racked up a 22-10 lead in the first half and this carried them through a tight second half when Marines fought back hard right to the final whistle. Faulkner was main sniper for the victors with 14 points, Buchanan and Spafford also being effective on the attack. Thorburn and Payne led the losers with eight points apiece. The teams:

Marines — Payne 8, Green 3, Dadson 2, Trimm 4, Thorburn 8, Butcher 2, Batchelor 2, Griffin, Smith.

Belleville— Lockyer 4, Lapore, Miller, Spafford 10, Faulkner 14, Buchanan 8, Galbraith 2, Pappas, Watkins 4.

Referees—Edwards and Irwin.

Curling News

By Herb Martin

This is not official— but we have been told that the finals in the vice-skips' bonspiel and the finals in the leads' and seconds' bonspiel will be played this evening.

To-morrow's program: 2 p.m., men's bonspiel; 7 p.m., first round in the annual mixed rink bonspiel for the Sturgeon Trophy—and a few more rinks would be appreciated.

Several rinks from our club are playing at the Toronto Granite Club next week in their annual mixed rink bonspiel. The skips are: G. Braund, S. Lowe, R. Best, N. Hamley, T. Doughty, and Dr. McKee.

Here is something for the curlers to figure out: A rink is supposed to be of four players, and yet in the Ostrander bonspiel on Wednesday, one rink had on it, one grandfather, two fathers two sons, two brothers, and two uncles. Another rink had on it one grandfather, three brothers, three uncles, one son and one nephew.

Hope Pitchers Will Be Better

BURBANK, Calif., March 18—(AP)—"There is this much about it," says forthright Zack Taylor, "my pitchers can't be any worse than some of those fellows I was sending out there last year. Maybe they'll be better."

The manager of St. Louis Browns thus summed up, in as few words as possible, his profound opinion of how his club may be expected to do in the 1949 American League race. They finished sixth last year.

There is no rancor in the Brown's manager because his workhorse pitcher of last year, Fred Sanford, was delivered to New York Yankees for a reported $100,000 and three players. He has hopes that Dick Starr and Red Embree, obtained in the deal, will win for him.

In their quest for some sorely-needed power in their batting order, the Browns have brought up a pair from San Antonio who, up to now, have shown a disposition to wade into big-league pitching. They are Ken Wood, a 200-pounder and Bill Sommers, a tall infielder who hit .326 for San Antonio.

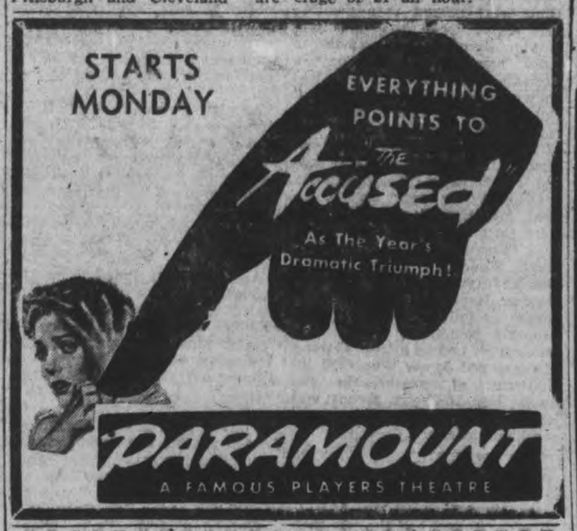
Indianapolis Trounces Buffalo Bisons 3-1

INDIANAPOLIS, March 18 — (CP) — Indianapolis Capitals whipped Buffalo Bisons 3-1 Thursday night to improve their chances in the tight Western-division playoff race in the American Hockey League. Caps trail St. Louis Flyers by a single point. Pittsburgh and Cleveland are tied for third place, two points behind Indianapolis.



Only three teams are eligible for the playoffs, which start next week.

Callum McKay, Fred Glover and Nelson Podolsky tallied for Caps and Murdo McKay was the lone Bison scorer.

Marmora Band Ousts C's In OHA Series

MARMORA, March 18—(ENS)—Although making a desperate bid for victory, Owen Hendy's Campbellford All Stars failed again before the Marmora team on the latter's rink on Wednesday evening and retired beaten by the score of 8-3. Thus Marmora advances into anothed round of the OHA intermediate "B" play offs. Laverne in the Marmora net played another of those fine games which have marked him out as the best goalkeeper in the Trent Valley League. Schmidt, Campbellford's acquisition from Frankford, brought off some striking spurts only to be foiled by the Marmora defence or goalie. Although Marmora led by 3-2 at the end of the first frame, Campbellford, who set a fast pace on the good ice, appeared to be having a little edge on the play.

There was a different complexion in the second period as the homesters got four counters while Campbellford tested Laverne unsuccessfully. The Norwood contribution to the home team was fitting in well with the good play of the Marmora pucksters. In a rally in the third period Campbellford got their final goal but Marmora found the net twice with the first goal being disallowed. Although keenly contested, the game was of a surprisingly clean nature and cheers came from the 1,400 fans present for good play by each team.

The teams:

Campbellford — Goal Aquino; defence, Schmidt, Forrester; centre, Desjardins; wings, R. Mason, B. Mason; alternates, W. Pettigrew, West, Herrington, Robinson, Blake, Muffitt, Tanner, Nelson, Hendry.

Marmora—Goal, Laverne; defence, G. Leonard, E. Leonard; centre, Cousins; wings, Lavender, K. Trumble; alternates, McInroy, Goodchild, E. Trumble, Kerr, Nicholson, Payne, Hamilton, Simpson, Webb.

Referee—H. Payne, Peterborough; linesman, T. Giardino, Peterborough.

SPRING TRAINING—It's no admiral in this photo, it's merely husky Herb Trawick, Montreal Alouettes' all-Canadian lineman, who in between football season becomes Herb the Doorman, running interference for patrons at one of boss Leo Dandurand's string of restaurants. That's Lew Hayman discussing 1949 prospects with the former U.S. football player a little ahead of season. The footwork helps his condition, Herb says.

Habitants Down Toronto In a Rough 3-1 Tussle

By The Canadian Press.

Toronto Maple Leafs, who must settle for fourth place in the final National Hockey League standing, may have a lot to say about Montreal's second-place ambitions.

Canadiens relegated Toronto to the fourth notch Thursday night by scoring a 3-1 triumph over their bitter inter-city rivals. The victory moved Montreal to within one point of the second-spot Bruins.

The Habitants have two games left, the Bruins only one. And that's where the Leafs come into the picture. Boston's last contest is a home-ice fixture with the Leafs. If Toronto can upset the Bruins, Canadiens need win only one of their two remaining games to clinch second. If Canadiens win both theirs—against Chicago and Detroit—they're home free anyway.

It was a sweet victory over Toronto for the Habs, but for a while it looked as though disaster again had struck the Canadien camp. Centre Elmer Lach collided with Toronto's Ted Kennedy in the first period and it was feared at first that the playmaking wizard had re-fractured the jaw he broke last Dec. 11 and kept him on the sidelines for more than two months.

But examination revealed that Lach's injury only amounted to a loosened tooth and he'll be back in action during the week-end.

Rough Contest

Rip Riopelle, Billy Reay and Kenny Reardon collected the Canadien goals, while Kennedy spoiled Bill Durnan's bid for his 11th shutout.

It was a rough contest in spots, referee Bill Chadwick handing out 16 penalties, all minors. Wild Bill Ezinicki, back in harness after a long layoff, picked up three banishments and increased his penalty time to 140 minutes, tops in the circuit.

General Manager Frank Selke of Canadiens had some good news for Durnan after the game. He told the Montreal netminder that if he wins the Hart and Vezina trophies and is selected on the first all-star team, the club will match the $3,000 in cash bonuses which the awards carry with $3,000 of their own.

Peterboro Club Appoints Golf Chairmen

Committee chairmen for the Peterborough Golf and Country Club were named at a meeting last night, when the new pro, Gordon Harrison, was on hand to meet members. A film on the Canadian Open championship was shown, through the courtesy of the local Film Board and Librarian Wm. Graff, and a number of prospective members were entertained. A most successful season is anticipated by club officials.

Officers this year are: President, Milf Hardill; vice-president, Bert Cutmore; secretary-treasurer, Thomas McKay; directors, Hugh Waddell, Frank Jobbitt, Don McIntyre, James Wharry and Gordon Maniece. Chairmen were named as follows: Bert Cutmore, property committee; Frank Jobbitt, match and handicap; Gordon Maniece and James Wharry, joint chairman of membership and house; Don McIntyre, greens; and Hugh Waddell (immediate past president), finance.

EAST CHICAGO, Ind., March 18—(AP)—Benjamin Mandel, 38-year-old jewelry salesman, told police that thieves took more than $40,000 worth of gems from his parked car here Thursday. He had locked his gem samples in the trunk and discovered the theft on his return.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

A change in claiming rules was announced at Toronto Thursday night by the Incorporated Canadian Racing Associations.

It provides that if a winner in a selling race is claimed, his claiming price for 30 days will be boosted at least 25 per cent. Under the old rules, the price of any horse claimed (not necessarily a winner) had to be raised 35 per cent for the next 30 days of racing.

Any horse claimed on the ICRA circuit cannot be sold after the 30-day period without the approval of the stewards, who will insist on a notary's bill of sale being produced by the registered owner. This rule apparently is aimed at persons who have been claiming horses for other owners.

Any horse excluded from the entries in a race for Canadian-foaled winners in future will be eligible only for preference in a later race for Canadian-breds. A similar rule will govern conditions for starters on "open races."

The tournament of champions landed another eblow in boxing's promotional war Thursday when it announced at New York the signing of a "long term" contract for the use of the Polo Grounds.

Obtaining New York Giants baseball park for a term of at least two years gave the T of C a site for big-time outdoor fights in New York, something it has not done before. But it did not close the door on outdoor promotions by the 20th Century Sporting Club or by Joe Louis' new International Boxing Club. The Yankee Stadium is available and Sol Strauss of the 20th Century Club said his organization had the stadium under lease until Sept. 3, 1950.

Murray Hayes, rated one of the best halfbacks in intercollegiate football for several seasons, said Thursday at Montreal he is definitely through with the game. Hayes, who starred with McGill Redmen, said he made his decision after a talk with Lew Hayman of Montreal Alouettes. Hayes has previously been approached by Ottawa Rough Riders, and Sarnia Imperials.

Bobby Locke, the top-ranking South African golfer, will compete in this year's Canadian Open at Toronto June 22, it was announced Thursday at New York. Locke's manager, Vincent Richards, said Locke would be entered in the tournament to be held at the St. George's Golf Country Club, Toronto.

Peterborough Bows To Rink From Orillia

TORONTO, March 18—(CP) — A Hamilton Thistles rink skipped by W. F. G. Adams swept to a 16-5 decision over Kenneth D. Sanders' Orillia rink Thursday night to win the Harvey J. Sims trophy in the Colt Competition of the Ontario Curling Association.

Adams defeated G. Boat of Kingston, 16-9, in one semi-final while Sander disposed of J. B. Brown of Peterborough, 12-8.

In the second event of the Albert E. Dunker Trophy a Toronto team led by Dr. J. E. A. Treiford defeated J. R. Hile's Detroit rink 10-6. Quartets led by Joe Stark of Kitchener and C. Brown of Southampton lost out in the semi-finals.

Warfare Erupts In Commons Over Controls

OTTAWA, March 18—(CP) — The running warfare between Prime Minister St. Laurent and George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, had a new and noisy chapter on the Commons record today.

The opponents exchanged their latest—and some of their most violent—verbal blows in a flurry Thursday over a government motion to extend House sitting hours so "emergency" controls legislation can be pushed through before the controls expire by the end of the month.

Mr. St. Laurent charged the Progressive Conservatives are trying to get more opportunities for a "filibustering debate."

Mr. Drew accused the government of trying to continue "dictatorial orders" by pretending a "war emergency" exists.

Upshot was that the House finally voted to go ahead on the extended hours proposed by Mr. St. Laurent, without a vote.

This calls for additional daily sessions each sitting day from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. until the emergency legislation is passed, with an all-day session Saturday, March 26, if necessary. The new hours start tomorrow morning, but will not be effective this Saturday.

Starts Explosion

Mr. St. Laurent's wrath was touched off when Mr. Drew questioned the government's procedure in bringing in its control measure early this week and then proceeded to attack it as unparliamentary.

The government, said Mr. Drew, should not attempt to put in its legislation "blanket provisions which relate entirely to the existence of a general emergency which, if it is supported by this House, means practical suspension of our constitution."

Mr. St. Laurent said the government was following the procedure that had been recommended by the Progressive Conservatives two years ago.

But now, while official opposition members were saying they were not opposed to rent and steel controls, they were also saying that more opportunities should be provided for what Mr. St. Laurent termed "filibustering debate."

He gibed at the Progressive Conservatives, too, for their attitude on the Newfoundland legislation, which he said they did not want to have dealt with until they "went and obtained Mr. Duplessis' permission."

Allied Planning In Sicily Poor Monty Says

WASHINGTON, March 18 — (AP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery has tartly criticized Allied planning for the war campaigns in Sicily and Italy.

The soldier-author said in a book published today:

1. The orginal plan for invading Sicily in which the Canadian army played a prominent part, was "unsound" but Gen. Eisenhower finally accepted the Montgomery plan.

2. The Italian campaign bogged down because the peninsula was invaded without a "pre-determined plan" of action.

Viscount Montgomery gave his post-mortem in "El Alamein to the River Sangro," recently published.

The text of the book is as precise, austere and cocksure as its author, the slender British warrior who won his first fame by driving back Germany's Gen. Erwin Rommel at El Alamein in North Africa.

Viscount Montgomery avoids any direct criticism of his supreme commander—Eisenhower—or his British superior at that time, Gen. Alexander, who now is Canada's governor-general, but he makes it pretty clear that he would have done things differently had he been in command.

In Italy, Viscount Montgomery declared, the high command's lack of a precise plan made the Allied armies the victims of bitter winter weather which trapped them before they could reach Rome.

Expressed Doubts

The planners assumed, Viscount Montgomery said, that when an armistice with Italy was signed, the Italian troops "would turn against the Germans and assist in evicting them from the country."

Viscount Montgomery didn't think so. "I expressed doubts," he said.

The initial Sicilian plan, Viscount Montgomery said, was drawn by British-American staffs who had no guidance from the commanding generals—at that time engaged in the Tunisian fighting.

"This system of 'absentee landlords' led to all the obvious advantages," Viscount Montgomery said. "After examination I came to the conclusion that the existing plan was unsound."

So he devised the plan which became known as 'husky"—the code name for the Sicily invasion—and his plan was accepted by Eisenhower.

"I heard of General Eisenhower's decision on May 3 and from that date detailed planning was able to progress on a firm basis," Viscount Montgomery said.

Britain Cuts Meat Ration Lowest Now In History

LONDON, March 18—(CP) — The government cut the meat ration again Thursday and British homes will have less fresh meat than at any other time in recent history. Lagging shipments from Argentina were blamed.

The ration will be brought down March 27 from one shilling to 10d. a week, or from about 20 1-3 cents to 17. The new ration—which buys about seven ounces of beef—will give a British family barely one meat meal a week, with perhaps a little left over for stew or hash. Canned corned beef will form 2d worth of the 10d. allowance.

Dr. Edith Summerskill, Parliamentary Secretary for the Food Ministry, told the Commons of the reduction.

"Shipments from the Argentine have not improved and further reduction has become inevitable," she said. The British Ambassador in Buenos Aires has been told "to bring pressure on the Argentine Government at the highest level to speed up shipments."

Britain has charged in the past that Argentina diverted some meat committed to Britain to other trade for higher prices.

The rationing brought on by the Argentine bottleneck is more severe than it was even at the most critical times during the war. Even the British housewife never received less than 12d. worth of meat for her family.

Thursday's cuts will induce more people to eat away from home, seeking meat dishes served from the carefully-controlled supplies to restaurants.

Housewives console themselves with the thought that the cut could have come at a worse time. Supplies of milk and eggs are approaching their seasonal peak and surpluses in dairy products may balance the larder for a few months at least.

Vegetables are in good supply and farmers hope the mild spring will mean bumper fruit crops. With bread and cakes unrationed, and candy due to be sold freely next month, the average Briton will find some compensation for his shrinking meat allowance.

TURNING THE PAGES OF "CANADA UNLIMITED"

Europe was hungry and John Cabot brought back news, in 1498, of great catches of fish along the Grand Banks. Soon hundreds of ships sailed to the waters just off Newfoundland—to bring back the largest catches in their history.

When Britain claimed the Island, fishing ports grew up along the coast. For many years the honour of governing the colony was given to the Captain of the first ship entering port each year. It was a strict rule. Then, in 1855, Newfoundland won responsible government of elected representatives.

It took a war for the world to recognize the rich resources of Newfoundland. The demands for the Island's products—fish, seal oil, minerals and lumber—led to a prosperity never before known.

On March 31st, 1949, we welcome into our confederation of provinces a neighbour whose road has always run parallel to ours—Newfoundland. Our interests are common . . . our ideals the same. Together, we shall go forward to greater achievements. We'll prove anew there's room to grow—in Canada Unlimited!

MORE and SAFER MILEAGE
SUMS UP REASONS WHY

3 out of 5 SWITCHED TO B.F.Goodrich FROM SOME OTHER BRAND

FROM COAST TO COAST, an independent research organization interviewed Canadian motorists who bought B.F. Goodrich tires in the past year. Three out of five had switched to B.F. Goodrich from some other brand!

The reasons? Only B.F. Goodrich can give you longer mileage . . . smoother riding . . . extra blowout protection . . . PLUS FREEDOM FROM PUNCTURES!

RESEARCH KEEPS B.F. GOODRICH FIRST IN RUBBER

The extra protection and longer wear you get from B.F. Goodrich tires results from long and costly research in the multi-million-dollar B.F. Goodrich rubber research centre.

Research produced the B.F. Goodrich Seal-o-matic safety tube that seals punctures instantly . . . permanently . . . as you ride! Research developed the cooler-running, wear-resisting rubber compounds . . . the tougher cords . . . the improved body and tread design . . . that makes B.F. Goodrich Silvertown tires so much superior in performance and value.

Enjoy all the money-saving, trouble-saving results of B.F. Goodrich research. Switch to B.F. Goodrich and ride safer . . . at lower long-range cost. See your B.F. Goodrich dealer today! (Consult the yellow pages of your phone book.)

For a super-comfort ride, ask for new B.F. Goodrich Extra Cushion tires.

MANUFACTURERS, TOO, CHOOSE B.F. GOODRICH
If your new car, truck or tractor is equipped with B.F. Goodrich tires, take advantage of your dealer's free tire inspection service. This will assure you of getting the long, trouble-free mileage built into all B.F. Goodrich tires.

SURVEY MADE OF MOTORISTS WHO BOUGHT B.F. GOODRICH TIRES IN THE PAST YEAR

SMOOTHER RIDING—"My car rides smoother on B.F. Goodrich tires. They absorb more road shock yet maintain correct air pressure and need very little attention." — R. Knox Ferguson, London, Ont.

FREEDOM FROM PUNCTURES—"I drove 37 miles with Seal-o-matic tube exposed to the road and it did not puncture. I'm certainly glad I switched to B.F. Goodrich." — R. W. Vout, Ottawa, Ont.

EXTRA BLOWOUT PROTECTION—"A personal friend urged me to switch to B.F. Goodrich and enjoy extra blowout protection thanks to B.F.G's stronger sidewall construction and thick, road-gripping tread". — P. W. Bell, Victoria, B.C.

LONGER MILEAGE—"I switched to B.F. Goodrich to get extra mileage and haven't been disappointed. After long, hard driving, mostly over bad roads, treads still look good for many more miles."—Don Sinclair, E. Riverside, N.B.

DEPENDABLE PERFORMANCE—"I have driven, on B.F. Goodrich tires since 1936 and have always enjoyed long wear and trouble free performance." — Peter W. Wasilek, Winnipeg, Man.

NEA Special Correspondent

GAZA, Palestine— (NEA)—Throughout Southern Palestine, there are 200,000 homeless Arabs existing on United Nations supplies. Most of them, filling out census cards distributed by UN relief workers, place next to the line "shelter" the one word—"sky."

These are the refugees who live on the wind-swept dunes. Others, more fortunate, jam every bandoned or vacant building. Some have dug caves in the hillsides. Hundreds cluster in the mosque courtyards. Three families live in Samson's tomb.

To feed and care for these people, the 32 members of the American Friends Service Committee unit working in the Gaza area, and the section 25 miles south and west along the Mediterranean shore to Rafah, have distributed 5,500,000 pounds of food, 103,000 blankets, and 1,260 tents. These supplies have been contributed by the United Nations since the UN Relief for Palestine Refugees was undertaken early in January.

The program provides a daily ration of 2,000 calories—made up of flour, milk, margarine, oil, dates, beans, some canned meat and other items.

The Western idea of standing in line is frowned on by the Arabs, who prefer to push and crowd, beg and plead as the supplies are distributed almost daily. They button-hole the members of the unit, asking in shrill voices for special rations or complaining that a neighbor got too much, even though only one of the 32 speaks fluent Arabic.

The refugees streamed into the area last spring, fleeing the war by cart, by donkey, by camel, by foot. They brought with them their most valuable possessions, which seem out of place in their present surroundings. Decorative lamps, ornate cradles, gilt-framed family photographs and the like are humble tents.

There is Hassim, for instance, a bright-eyed 14-year-old. His father, a farm laborer in Yibna, died just before the family fled south. His mother died shortly after their arrival at a camp. Hassim has nine brothers and sisters. They share a tent with another family. He wears a jacket and a pair of cotton trousers — both masterpieces of patches on patches.

There is Halemah Sadam, for another, a pretty young mother, casually nursing little Musa Yusef as she trudges to the camp bakery, a pan of bread gracefully balanced on her head. Her husband was a farmer at Iquir, where the family lived in comparative comfort. Now they share a semi-wrecked building with 25 other family units. Between each family, to give an air of privacy, ragged sheets of burlap are hung.

The people although homeless, usually hungry and often sick, still are hospitable. The members of the unit are continually invited in to the shacks and tents, and cordially asked to share the family's precious store of tea or coffee. Sometimes, the Arabs even invite the team members to lunch.

But their plight is best summed up in the words of Hassim, trudging bare-footed through the camp.

"This life," he says wearily, "is no life."

Manslaughter Charge

OWOSSO, Mich., March 18 — (AP).,— Mrs. Dominga Rios, 23-year-old mother who told police "I hated little girls," was convicted Thursday of manslaughter in the death of her three-week-old daughter. Mrs Rios admitted striking the child with her fists. Sentencing awaits report of probation authorities.

Elect Scott Fellow

LONDON, March 18 (CP). — David Aylmer Scott, research member of the Connaught Laboratories at the University of Toronto, was one of 25 new Fellows elected at a meeting of the Royal Society Thursday. An announcement from the society said that Scott distinguished himself for contributions to the chemistry of insulin, herparin, and carbonic anhydrase.

Mrs. U. Pinner Observes 95th Birthday

MARMORA, March 18—(ENS)—Marmora's grand old lady, Mrs. Urena Pinner celebrates her 95th birthday today. All but about twelve years of her life have been spent in Marmora.

When a girl, she moved with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams from nearby Springbrook where she was born. She is the oldest member of St. Paul's Anglican Church. As a girl, she worshipped in the old Town Hall before the erection of the church. Anglican services were conducted there by resident clergymen of Stirling.

She is a charter member of Marmora Women's Institute and for many years was a faithful attendant at the meetings and diligent worker in its interests.

She has been widowed 34 years during which time her son Fred has continuously resided with her. In spite of her advanced age, she is enjoying good health and is able to do much of her own work about her home, across the road from the church which until recent years, she has entered so often.

Besides her son she has two daughters, Mrs. T. J. Butler (Pearl) of Toronto and Mrs. George Hartley (Nina) of Marmora.

Who Stole Soviet Flag From Allied Council? Everyone In Dark, But Reds Pretty Mad

BERLIN, March 18—(AP)—Who stole the Soviet flag from the Allied Control Council building?

The Russians are pretty mad about it.

They walked out of the Allied Control Council a year ago this month. Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky announced that as far as he was concerned the Council was a dead duck.

But the Russians left their flag flying from one of the four poles in front of the building.

It was the only Soviet flag flying in the Western sectors of Berlin.

Along with the American, British and French flags it was supposed to be taken down each night by the ACC guard.

Last Saturday night it disappeared.

And the Russians sent a bitterly-worded protest to General Lucius D. Clay, American commander in Germany.

The building is in the American sector and under American guard.

Parliament Farce Coldwell Tells Drew

OTTAWA, March 18—(CP) — M. J. Coldwell, CCF Leader, charged the Progressive Conservatives in the Commons Thursday with making Parliament "a farce" and seeking to "destroy" the Canadian democracy.

"May I tell my honorable friends," he said, addressing his remarks to the official Opposition, "that there are more ways of destroying democracies and democratic institutions than by burning a Reichstag."

"That is right and you have found it," interjected George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader.

Mr. Coldwell continued:

"That is what some of these people are trying to do, destroy it by destroying confidence in these institutions which our forefathers have built up. I have been in this House for 12 years and I have never seen an exhibition like it since I have been here."

Low Slips Through

CARSON CITY, Nev., March 18 (AP). — On the final day of the session of the Nevada Legislature Thursday passed a Bill to legalize red light districts. The action apparently was the Legislature's answer to a court decision last week clarifying houses of prostitution as public nuisances. The Legislature's action exempas houses of prostitution from public nuisance law if theyf have been licensed by local communities.

Disregarding Truce

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, March 18 (CP)—Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting United Nations mediator for Palestine, was reported Thursday to have said movement of British and Israeli troops in the Aqaba area disregarded the Holy Land truce. An informed source said Bunche made the comment in reply to a British note asking whether Israel had broken the truce by moving troops towards the Red Sea in the neighborhood of Aqaba.

Butter Sold At 57c

TORONTO, March 18 (CP) — Price of first-grade butter Thursday tumbled to 57 cents a pound at one downtown Toronto market. The proprietor said that in selling at one cent below the government's wholesale floor price, he was losing money. He considered the bargain brought customers to his shop. Elsewhere in the city butter sold at from 63-66 cents, against 73-74 two weeks ago.

25-Cent Jump Recorded In Cattle Price

TORONTO, March 18 (CP)—Cattle prices on the local Livestock Market this week took a short 25-cent upward hop compared with last week's close. Hogs and lambs gained 25 cents and better calves were steady, with inferior grades lower.

The light cattle run of 4,613 was about 1,200 under the run for the same week a year ago. After a slow start, trade livened up a bit and supplies cleared at strong prices. Good to choice weighty steers sold at $20-$21.25 with one lot of heavy steers selling at $21.75. Good light steers were mostly $19.50-$20 and good heifers sold at $19-$19.75. Plain steers and heifers sold as low as $17. Medium to good cows were $14.50-$16.50, with tops at $17. Canners and cutters were mostly $11-$12.50. A small supply of bulls sold between $17 and $19.50. Fed yearlings were $19-$23. Plain to good stockers were $16-$18.50.

Calves totalled only 1,064 head. Good to choice vealers were steady at $27-$30 with plain to medium lightweights easier at $15-$25. A few heavy grassers sold for slaughter at $14-$15.50.

Hogs totalled 2,196 head. Light receipts and keen demand sent prices 25 cents higher, Grade A selling at $31.50 and Grade B1 at $31.10. Sows sold steady and were mostly $23.50, dressed.

Sheep and lamb receipts were a light 540 head and were mostly Westerns. Good Western lambs sold 25 cents higher at $25.50, with mediums to $25.25. Local lambs, common to medium quality sold at $15-$24. Good light sheep sold at $10-$12.

MILLION DOLLAR FIRE—Still smoldering seven hours after flames broke out, this big Army pier at Oakland, Calif., leaves a pall of smoke over the waterfront after being swept by flames that caused $1,000,000 in damage. The pier, one of the Army's largest West Coast dock and warehouse installations, was filled with supplies for Pacific bases.

Frame House Burns

MERRITTON, March 18—(CP)—Believed to have started from an overheated stovepipe, fire early today completely destroyed a two-roomed frame house. John Condi, age about 70, and an unidentified friend of about the same age who lives with him, escaped without injury. The house burned like kindling and even furniture carried outside burst into flames and was destroyed. Merritton volunteer firemen saved a double house on the same property.

In central Africa, iron discs about 10 to 12 inches in diameter were used as money during the last half of the 19th century by the Bongo tribe.

Mitchum Poses New Problem

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, March 18 —(AP)—R.K.O. studio, which has had its troubles over Robert Mitchum, has still another one.

The self-styled "Mr. Cement block of 1949" is slated to leave jail March 30. Two days later he'll report for work on "The Big Steal," which was started before his imprisonment on marijuana charges. But after his weeks of cement mixing and other duties, he's a shadow of his former fleshy self. How to match his face in the earlier scenes is no small problem.

Fast Fights

Alan Ladd went through a fast week of fights for "After Midnight," which is shooting at a merry clip. "Economy, it's wonderful," says Ladd about the new speed-up methods of making pictures. Actually, it's nothing new. Ladd says it's just like the old days when he was getting one day's work in quickies.

Burt Lancaster has three titles for his own production. It's "Kiss the Blood off my Hands" in the big cities, "The Unafraid" in smaller towns, which apparently don't go for rugged titles. It's 'Blood on my Hands" for the British trade. Censors wouldn't go for the more morbid handle

VOL. XCVIII, No. 65 — FRIDAY, MARCH 18, 1949

Personnel Men Organize New Group

Twenty-one persons engaged in personnel work in industries of Peterborough and adjacent communities formed themselves into a new organization, to be known as the Personnel Association of Peterborough, at a meeting held in the offices of the National Employment Service, Barrie building, on Wednesday night. Elected as first president of the group was George Barns, of Canada Packers, Ltd.

Aim of the organization will be to exchange mutual personnel problems and ideas with a view to increasing the effectiveness of the work of all those engaged in personnel work in this area. It is hoped thereby to bring about closer co-operation between the various personnel officials and to enable them to get to know each other better.

The executive hopes to develop a strong organization representative of all industries employing personnel counsellors. At present there are 18 members representing Peterborough industries and three representing plants located outside the city. It is the first such group to be formed here, although similar organizations have been in existence for some time in other Ontario cities such as Toronto, London and St. Catharines.

To Serve 30-Mile Area

Other officers of the Peterborough group are: Vice-president, Reg Reid of the Outboard Marine Manufacturing Company; secretary-treasurer, Al Thompson of A. Wander, Ltd.; and member of executive at large, F. K. McMahon of the Matthews Conveyor Company, Port Hope.

The association will take in industries within a 30-mile radius of Peterborough. Wednesday's organization meeting was presided over at the beginning by William Mellis, local manager of the National Employment Service, with Al Thompson acting as secretary pro tem prior to his formal election to that post. The executive is now working on a proposed constitution which will be patterned after those of other Ontario personnel associations.

The next meeting of the local group will be on April 6 when Harold Armstrong, of the Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd., Toronto, and president of the Toronto Personnel Association, will address the members. It is planned to meet monthly and have other speakers as time goes on.

Mr. McMahon was accompanied to the meeting by W. R. Hoffman, also of Port Hope.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

A ST. PATRICK'S BABE

Irish City Police Constable Vernon O'Donoghue became the father of a fine eight and a half pound son on St. Patrick's Day.

REPORT OVERHEATED PIPES

Overheated pipes at the residence of M. McAuliffe, Aylmer St. brought firemen to that address shortly before noon on Thursday. The fire was checked before any damage resulted.

SKI SUNDAY

Kemp's Hill will be open to skiers Sunday afternoon if the cold spell lasts. The hill is reported to be in the same condition as last Sunday. The tow track will be put in shape Saturday, making it possible for the tow to be operating Sunday.

TREAT 33 PATIENTS

Thirty-three patients were treated during February at Queen Mary Hospital. One was for a communicable disease and the other 32 for miscellaneous causes. The average number of patients daily was 10.2.

SING AT HOSPITAL

Seventy members of the Normal School's choir sang seven songs in the corridors of St. Joseph's Hospital Thursday night. The librarian of the Normal School, Miss Olive Cleland, is confined to bed there. The choir was under the direction of Quirt McKinney, Director of Music at the Normal School.

NURSING TIME SIMILAR

Patients at both Civic Hospital and Queen Mary receive 3.7 hours a day nursing care, according to statistics issued by the superintendent, John Hornal. At Civic during February there were 13,248 hours of bedside care and 127.1 daily average patients. Comparable figures for Queen Mary are 1043 and 10.2.

FAST ICE FOR GAME

Dick Ouimet has the fastest ice of the season at the Park St. arena for tonight's invasion from Kingston for the first of the playoffs with Canadian Legion. "We flooded it six times tarough the night from yesterday afternoon, and it really looks perfect," the arena manager said. "Kingston phoned us last night for 400 reserved seats. They had to settle for 28. That was all we could spare them. We've got only 500 reserved."

REPORT 24 DEATHS

During February there were at the Civic Hospital 24 deaths according to the monthly report of the Medical Staff. One of these was a stillborn baby. The total number of patients discharged was 328, including those who died. The breakdown is as follows: recovered 189; improved 107; transferred, two; not improved, five; diagnosis only, one; deaths under 48 hours, six; deaths over 48 hours, 17; stillborn, one. In addition there were 1,462 laboratory examinations made; 245 X-ray examinations, and 12 physiotherapy treatments.

NO INCREASE IN PATIENTS

The number of patients treated at Civic Hospital during the past two months has varied little, John Hornal, superintendent of Civic Hospital, on Thursday night reported to the Board of Governors. A comparison of January and February shows the following respective figures: patients treated 461 and 460; daily average number of patients in hospital 127.02 and 127.01; patient days' stay 3,944 and 3,559; refused admission 52 and 52; number of operations 230 and 232; major operations 85 and 75; and minor operations 145 and 157.

Sisters Parted 47 Years Meet On City Doorstep

Mrs. Harry Sutton, 418 Sheridan St., looked out her front door Wednesday afternoon and saw two women staring at the house number. One of them had a familiar face. It was her sister whom she had not seen for 47 years. "Boy! Did I get out there in a hurry!" Mrs. Sutton exclaimed. Mrs. Sutton has been expecting her sister, Mrs. Agnes McGarvie of Glasgow and her niece, but not to see them standing out on Sheridan Street alone.

Great preparations had been made for the arrival of Mrs. McGarvie and her daughter Helen, who arrived in Halifax on the Aquitania on Monday, to visit the former's two sisters and one brother in Peterborough. A reception party, including sister, Mrs. Jean Millen of 74 McDonnel St., and brother Robert Wilson, 421 Bethune St. went down to the station. Mrs. Sutton stayed at her home making ready a reunion feast for the Scottish sister from whom the others had been separated for 47 years. Fate had its little joke, however.

Peterborough has two stations. The reception party kept excited vigil at the CPR. Mrs. McGarvie and daughter arrived at the CNR.

The Scottish strangers asked a policeman the way to Sheridan St. He directed them, and no doubt assured them in his Canadian accent that "You cawnt miss." They didn't. They reached Sheridan St. and were puzzling out the house numbers when Mrs. Sutton happened to look out her front door. "It was some surprise to see them alone," she said. As indeed it must have been.

Anxious Wait

Meanwhile, the party at the CPR station waited with growing anxiety. Most anxious was the Scottish visitor's son Joseph McGarvie who left Scotland three months ago and is now working at the Peterborough Lock Company. They finally gave up their wait and returned to Mrs. Sutton's home, expecting to eat the festive dinner in the absence of the visitors for whom it had ben prepared. When they went into the house, there on the chesterfield was an apparition, but astonishingly true to life. Mrs. McGarvie's Scottish burr proved that she was no ghost. In a moment joy reigned unconfined, and the excitement and reminiscent talk continued long into the night.

Mrs. Millen, Mrs. Sutton and Mr. Wilson remember well the day in the spring of 1902 when they left Glasgow for Canada. They came with relatives who were settling in the city. They were only 12, 10 and five years old then. These Scottish children of 1902 grew up in Peterborough and have lived here since, except for Mrs. Sutton who spent 17 years in Western Canada, from 1917 to 1934.

To Live Here

Mrs. McGarvie expects to make her home here. She married a marine stoker in the merchant navy in 1923. Besides her two children in Peterborough, she has three married daughters in Scotland, Agnes, Margaret and Elizabeth.

Their parents were Robert and Jean Wilson. Both of them were born in Glasgow and lived all their lives there. Mr. Wilson Sr. was a dock laborer.

Mrs. McGarvie and Helen are impressed with the abundance of food, clothing and fuel. They said in Scotland nearly everything is rationed.

AT SEED FAIR

Frank C. Paterson, Alex Huston, Wellington Sutton and Robert Armstrong took off this morning for Kingston to look in on the Quinte District Seed Fair.

L. H. INGRAM PRESIDES

L. H. Ingram, vice-president of the Quaker Oats Co., will preside at the annual convention of the Industrial Accident Prevention Associations in Toronto on April 4. About 3,800 delegates from seven of the provinces and five or six of the states are expected to attend.

TWELVE KILLED IN 2 MONTHS

During the months of January and February there were 12 persons killed and 4,124 injured in industrial accidents in Ontario, the Industrial Accident Prevention Association reports. Injuries listed are those that involved a loss of at least seven days. Both figures are larger than for the corresponding period in 1948. Infection cases are down 20 per cent.

Fire Cracker Thrown Into Lunch Bar

A group of 10 young boys caused a disturbance at Crosby's Lunch Bar on Brock and Murray Sts. Thursday, when they threw a fire cracker among customers eating at the bar. Fire crackers, which are at present very much in vogue among young boys, are becoming a nuisance in the city. A Hunter St. laundry has been a target of several boys recently.

Police are trying to check these boyish pranks.

Moose Movie

"Expedition Moose," an interesting colored movie, will be shown at the March meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday night at the Empress Hotel. The movie is based on a three-year study of the habits and life of Canadian moose, conducted by the Royal Ontario Museum and directed by Randolph E. Peterson, acting curator, Division of Mammalogy.

The meeting will also feature a demonstration by the Public Speaking group.

Toys With Fire Son Alarms Rector's Home

Three-year-old Donald Kibblewhite, son of the Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite and Mrs. Kibblewhite has learned his lesson that it does not pay to play with matches. When left alone in his room for a few minutes on Thursday afternoon he set fire to his bed clothes and was forced to flee both his bed and his room as the flames spread.

The fire was extinguished by Mr. Kibblewhite and a visitor to the house who heard the boy's cries and rushed upstairs to investigate.

His bedding was completely destroyed, a beside table was burned, and the flames had started up one wall. The two men using metal wastepaper baskets stopped the blaze from spreading and firemen completed the job of extinguishing the fire.

Donald had been confined to bed with a cold and was playing with his fire engine just before the incident. Unknown to Mr. and Mrs. Kibblewhite he somehow obtained a box of matches and apparently decided to see how effective his toy engine really was.

He later told his parents that when he struck the match the pillow caught fire and it rapidly spread to the rest of the bedding. Mrs. Kibblewhite explained that he was clad in sleepers and a dressing gown at the time of the outbreak and said it was fortunate the flames did not ignite his inflammable clothing.

"The bed was burned to bits," she told the Examiner today. "I guess he got out when frightened."

"I have no idea how he obtained the matches," she stated. Only the day before she had cleaned out the drawer of the bedside table and no matches were hidden there at that time.

A few minutes before the incident Mr. Kibblewhite had been upstairs to see Donald and given him a cookie; everything was normal then.

"Well, I guess that taught him a lesson about playing with matches," she said.

Crime Described As Despicable By Magistrate

Two men who were found lodgings in Peterborough by the Salvation Army when they arrived in the city on March 9 from out of town with no money and no where to stay, have admitted stealing a gold ring, wrist watch and clothing from Arthur Hodgin, a Salvation Army man who boards permanently in the King St. house which offered the men shelter. Today Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., described the offence in city police court as despicable and sent the men to jail for terms of seven months definite and one month indefinite.

Both John Ellis and Charles Crowder have police records for break-ins and thefts in Bracebridge, Parry Sound, Gravenhurst and Barrie.

Ellis admitted that he sometimes used the name of Crowder and Crowder said he had always used his own name. Crowder denied some of the previous convictions read by the magistrate stating that owing to the confusion of names, the two records sheets "had got mixed up."

Constable McConnell said that when they were arrested in Lakefield Ellis was wearing Mr. Hodgin's trousers and sweater and Crowder wore the watch.

Danger Dogs Dogs Drown During Thaw

Now that the ice which has covered lakes and rivers throughout the winter is thawing, dogs are more exposed to danger than at any other time of the year. Four spaniels were unconcernedly besporting themselves on a thin sheet of ice on Little Lake Thursday, although only a few yards away there was no ice and a false move would have meant a swim and possibly drowning.

Humane Society Inspector Gerald Dunford recalls that three dogs have been drowned in Little Lake in recent years and warns that now is the time to keep an eye on the dog.

Bedside Council Approves Funeral Firm Move Reviews Electrical Bylaw

Permission to A. Comstock & Sons to transfer their undertaking establishment to the southeast corner of Rubidge and Simcoe Streets was recommended at a meeting of the legal committee of the Council Thursday afternoon. The meeting was held at Civic Hospital in the room which Ald. Adam Sands is occupying as a patient with a fractured leg. Max Comstock and T. J. Carley, KC, requested the committee to remove the present business restriction applying to the east side of Rubidge St. between Simcoe and Charlotte Streets.

Most of the property owners of the neighborhood have signed a petition in favor of the Comstock application. Amendment of the bylaw will have to be referred to the Ontario Municipal Board, and it is understood that according to the customary procedure the Board would announce a hearing of any objections to the change in the bylaw.

An undertaking business on the location of the Comstock premises, George and Water Streets, is said to have been founded in 1830, and is believed to have been the first of its kind in Peterborough. It was acquired by the late Aaron Comstock in 1860, and has been carried on continuously by the family since that time, eighty-nine years.

Associated with Mr. Comstock were his three sons, the late William, John and Manson Comstock. The business is now in its third generation of Comstock proprietorship.

The legal committee also proposed to the council that the regulating bylaw sought by electricians of the city should be reviewed for the purpose of adjusting its provisions as closely as possible to local conditions. Intention of the committee was that the bylaw should be prepared on that basis, and that notice of its introduction should be announced for the purpose of hearing any objections to it in the stage of the first reading.

Although Ald. Sands has been immobilized for the last three weeks with one leg harnessed in gear to correct its setting, he has been in telephonic touch with the affairs of the council, including the budget, which he regretted missing. He has arranged details for the dinner the council is giving on the occasion of the Ontario Amateur Baseball Association convention here April 8-9. Hon. Leslie Blackwell is to be the speaker. The chairman expects to be there in person.

DANCE TONIGHT

Junior Hi-Y club is holding a dance in the YMCA gym Friday night. The dance will be after the Collegiate basketball games. The dance, a St. Patrick's Day affair, was to have been held Saturday, but the basketball game to be played in the gym prevented this.

Old Hospital Affects Federal Grant

Negotiations are continuing between the Civic Hospital Board of Governors and the Provincial Department of Health on the use of the old building once the new Civic Hospital is completed.

The matter of Federal grants ($1,000 for each additional active patient bed and $1,500 for each additional chronic patient bed) is directly affected. Unless the beds in the new hospital are additional and not just replacements they will not be eligible for the hospital construction grant of the Federal Government.

C. J. Telford, inspector of hospitals for Ontario, recently conferred with Civic Hospital authorities and brought up the subject of the possible establishment of a chronic-patient hospital in this area.

It is understood that the City Council does not want to assume the cost of opening such a hospital, particularly at this time.

In the near future it is expected that provincial health authorities will inspect the old Civic Hospital building and there is a strong likelihood that it will be condemned for hospital purposes.

Negotiations regarding its eventual use are continuing, the Board of Governors reported on Thursday night.

HAVE DANCE

Athletic Association of the Normal School held a St. Patrick's Day dance in the school auditorium Thursday night. There was both round and square dancing. Chairman of the Athletic Association is Murray Paterson who acted as master of ceremonies.

Accident Victim Henry Edwards Widely Mourned

APSLEY, March 18 —(ENS)— The funeral of the late Henry Edwards was held from his home in Anstruther to Trinity United Church and was conducted by G. Cleveland Robb assisted by Rev. C. A. G. Spence.

Mr. Edwards died on Wednesday at Harcourt the result of an accident in lumbering operations.

He was born in Otonabee August 13th 1902 and was married to Ruby Rickles on November 25 1922 who with two daughters Mrs. John Scott (Doreen) of Clydsdale and Betty at home mourn his passing.

He also leaves his mother and father of Campbellford one sister Mrs. Harold Peters (Fanny) also of Campbellford two brothers Neil of Bracebridge, Clive of Lang.

Mr. Edward had served on the Municipal Council for a number of years, also on the local branch of Red Cross Society. He was a valued member of Board of Stewards of Trinity United Church and was Scout Master for Boy Scout Troop number. Pall bearers were Herbert Tucker, Mac Tucker, Joseph Tucker, Jack Tucker, F. Mann, N. H. Wilson.

Trinity United Church was filled to capacity and a great number were turned away. This large gathering coupled with the great many floral offerings testified to the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The members of Canadian Legion Branch No. 328 attended in a body for the burial of one of the charter, members. The deceased was in the R.C.A.F. during World War II first at Toronto, then in Calgary from where he was discharged the result of an accident.

Among those who attended were.— Mr. and Mrs. Edwards. Mrs. Harold Peters from Campbellford. Clive Edwards of Lang; Mr. and Mrs. Neil Edwards of Bracebridge; Mrs. Cecil Edwards and Jack Edwards; Mrs. J. Grant, Mr. F Doughty; Mr. and Mrs. W. Hughey; Mr. J. W. Stuart Sr.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Mrs. Mitchell; Mr. and Mrs. C Sargison; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Jackson and son Don of Bancroft. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Trotter and family of Bridgenorth. Mr. and Mrs Roy Brown; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Miller, of Lakefield. Mr. and Mrs. A. Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lowe; Mr. and Mrs A. Pollard; Mr. Carman Irwin all of Port Hope. Messrs Floyd Shortt, Ed. Brooks, Bruce Gould, C. Sargison and several other employees of the Standard Chemical Co. Mill at Harcourt where the deceased was employed.

SITE OF BRIDGE—A campaign residents of Cape Breton and Nova Scotia have waged for 50 years, ended this week with the announcement a bridge will be built across the Strait of Canso linking the industrial island with the rest of the province. This aerial photo shows the site of the proposed bridge It will be built between Cape Porcupine on the mainland, bottom, and Balacho Point on the island, a distance of 3,075 feet. The white lines in the photo are highways, and south of the highway on the mainland is the CN Railway line. Mulgrave will be the nearest centre on the mainland to the bridge and is the mainland terminus of the present ferry to Port Hawkesburg. Port Hasting will be near the island end of the bridge. Dotted line from Mulgrave indicates ferry route.

Find A Way To Offset Labor Publicity

By JAMES CeCOOK

LONDON, March 18 (CP) — Conservatives meeting at National Union sessions Thursday believed they had found a way to offset effective Labor propaganda used in recent contests.

The delegates unanimously approved an emergency resolution to denounce the Socialist statement that the Conservatives would cut down social services if elected to power. The resolution added that the wartime coalition government of Winston Churchill had planned new social security acts which had been effected by the Labor government.

Arthur Colegate, chairman of the West Midlands Conservative organization accused the Labor party of having conducted an unscrupulous campaign against the Conservatives.

Because "nationalization has been a flop," Colegate said, the Labor party has "fallen back on the four Labor lies—that the Tories would cut wages, that there will be more unemployment under the Tories, that if Churchill gets back to power there will be war and that the Tories will cut social services."

The delegates recognized the need for the Conservative party to present a policy "clearly formulated in terms which can be readily understood and assimilated by the whole electorate."

It has been indicated Churchill prefers to delay announcement of Conservative policy on some issues until closer to the date of the general election in 1950. His opinions may not be given until later in the year when the annual party convention is held.

RECOGNIZE ABILITY— Ernest Calvert of Rainy River, Ont., president of the Northern Ontario Outfitters Association, who with Ernie Poole of Montreal was named to the Fishing Hall of Fame by the Sportsmen's Club of America this week.

Mission Circle Play Presented In April

MILLBROOK, March 18 (ENS) The final act of the play Straight Furrows, was completed at the Golden Links Mission Circle meeting on Tuesday, when Mrs. G. C. R. McQuade entertained the group at the parsonage. It was decided to hold an open meeting on April 26 in the church for the presentation of the entire play.

The secretary, Betty Lunn, was welcomed back after her long illness. A card of sympathy will be sent the vice-president, Miss Jean Burnham, who was absent through sickness. Marjorie Skitch, acting secretary, reported $5.65 received at the February meeting and the treasurer, Miss Edith Thorne reported $12 in the bank. One dollar increase in givings by every member this year would meet the enlarged allocation, the president, Mrs. M. E. Hobbs, stated.

Mrs. E. J. Powell gave the stewardship message and the monthly letters to Miss Margaret Smith, in Toronto, will be written by Mrs. H. Ouelette and Miss B. Lunn. Miss Olive Smith presented the appeal for help in providing food for Chinese orphans Mrs. Hobbs explained that three cents a day would feed one.

Mrs. B. E. Ingham took charge of the worship period, using Dr. Laubach's book on Prayer. Completing the devotions, Misses Betty North and Miss Edith Elson sang a duet to Miss E. L. Hetherington's accompaniment. Mrs Hobbs read a letter from Miss Jean Stewart, Chunghing, China, telling of her teaching and evangelistic work. The postage on the letter, owing to inflated currency, amounted to 330 Chinese dollars.

Should all missionaries ever have to be withdrawn, it was explained, the Chinese church, now come of age, could carry on by itself.

Supper hour hostesses were Mrs. E. J. Powell, Mrs. Cecil Hubbeard and Mrs. Homer Ouellette. A discussion on Christianity in China was led by Mrs. Hobbs and stories illustrating what was being done for Christianity there were read by Mrs. A. Fallis and Mrs. E. Ball. The Rev. G. C. R. McQuade joined the group during the social hour.

Reconstruction Work On Churches Praised

NORWOOD, March 18 (ENS) —The March meeting of the Evening Auxiliary of Norwood United Church was held on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Russell H. Gardner.

The president read a poem "Foreigners Are So Queer" by a Chinese writer.

Mis Lila Kirk read the opening message of the World Council of Churches, meeting in Amsterdam. Miss Pauline Weir read the challenge that was sent out from Amsterdam.

Mrs. A. R. Atkinson told of the early teaching experience of Pastor Chu and Miss V. Koutto called attention to the fortitude with which Pastor Chu met the tests of war. Mrs. R. Fakenham praised the faith and courage which are re-building the nature christian churches demolished during the war.

Mrs. P. Kempt contrasted the losses caused by the war with the gains, arising out of the conflict. Mrs. L. Freeburn issued a call for new recruits.

Brief items of interest about the Church of Christ in China were given by Miss Clara Jenkins Miss Florence Nevins, Miss Greta McGee, Miss Crawford and Mrs John McConnell.

The U.S. Government Printing Office was established in 1861.

Unemployment In Ontario Worries Labor

TORONTO, March 18 (CP). — Labor circles are worried about the unemployment situation in Ontario, even though government officials say there are fewer unemployed registering for jobs.

Ontario's jobless numbered 62,988 on March 10, compared to 63,388 registered with the National Employment Service one week before. There were 11,876 unfilled vacancies March 10 and 11,436 March 3.

Bart Sullivan, director of the Service, said that since figures are taken from the applicants seeking unemployment insurance benefits, it was not always possible to get a complete picture. About 400,000 of the estimated 700,000 Ontario labor force — seasonal workers such as lake seamen and farm laborers—were not eligible for unemployment insurance.

Of the 62,988 unemployed, 47,865 are men. The unskilled male worker, numbering 11,000, heads the largest single group affected by the tightening-up. Evidence of a let-down in the building industry is shown in the 5,400 unemployed construction workers.

Sullivan bases a hope for higher employent of the number of private construction projects scheduled to begin next month, the annual exodus of farm hands back to jobs they left last year, and next month's opening of navigation on the Great Lakes.

He said he does not believe immigration schemes had a serious effect in creating more unemployment this year than during same period in 1948.

Statistics show that since Christmas, there has been a reduction of 10 per cent in employment in Ontario and Quebec packing houses, and a drop of 40 to 50 per cent in Western Canada.

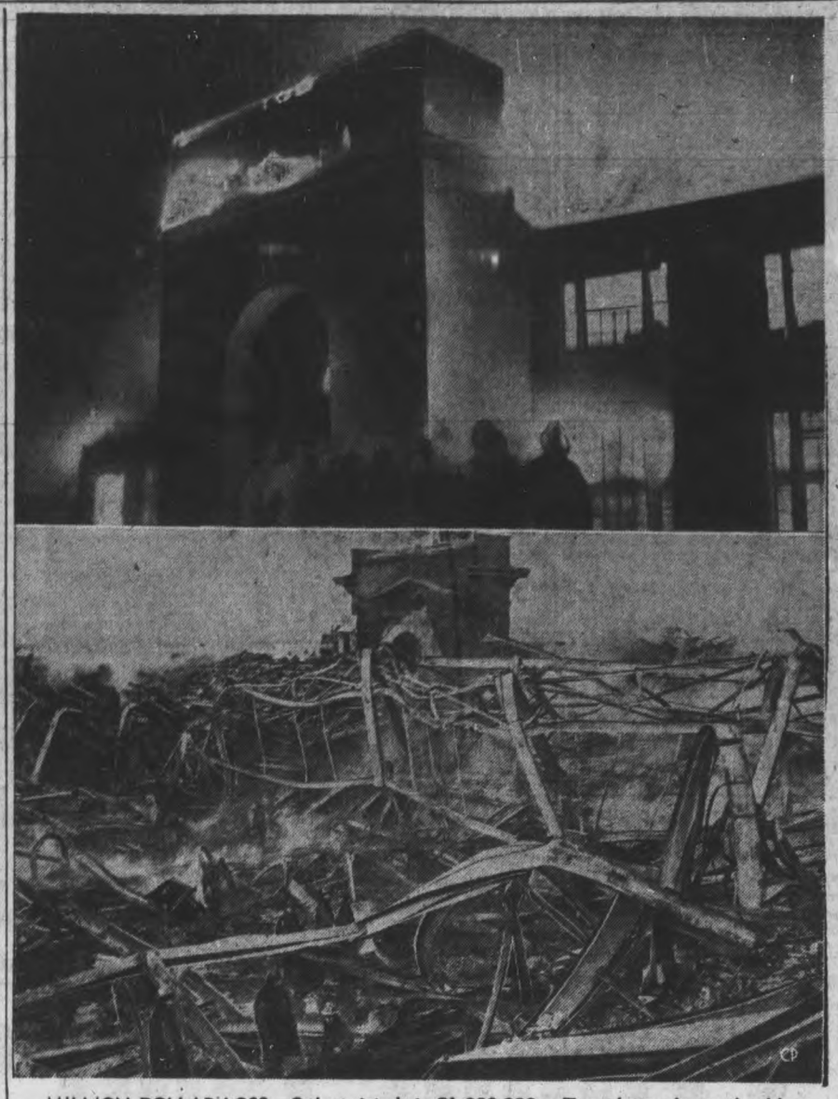
Safeguarding Secrets



TORONTO, March 18 (CP) — A French firm seeks to transfer to Canada a 10-ton consignment of top-secret military blueprints. Canadian authorities have been approached and still are considering the proposal D. G. Mallory, director of the trade and commerce department's industrial development division, said Thursday that the negotiations are part of the general strategy of European munitions interests to remove their secrets to a place of safety and eventually to establish manufacturing facilities in Canada.

Wants To Remain Small

KINGSTON, March 18 (CP) — Queen's University probably is the only university in the world which wishes and wills to be smaller than it is, L. W. Brockington of Ottawa, University rector, said on Thursday night. Speaking at a banquet opening a campaign to raise $3,175,000, Mr. Brockington said the university "aims at remaining a teaching university rather than a factory for turning out diplomas."

General Discussions

OTTAWA, March 18 (CP) — Defence Minister Claxton said Thursday the government has not gone beyond "general discussions" with the provinces in the matter of co-ordinating civilian defence arrangements. He said Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, civil defence head, had discussed arrangements with each province and had met with a spirit of co-operation.

MILLION DOLLAR LOSS—Only twisted girders remain of the Quebec Coliseum, civic sports centre and home of the Quebec Aces and Citadels, senior and junior hockey league teams of the Quebec capital. Fire destroyed the three-storey red brick building early Tuesday at an estimated loss of $1,000,000. Top photo shows the blaze roaring through the structure. All Quebec's fire-fighting equipment and 250 firemen were powerless to save the building. Bottom photo shows the remains. Plans are now being made to erect a larger arena before next hockey season.

Roseneath Women Plan Spring Bazaar

ROSENEATH, March 18 (ENS) —Women's Association of the United Church is busy making arrangements for a spring bazaar and details were discribed at the town hall Tuesday. Mrs. Isabel [illegible], vice-president was in the chair and conducted the devotions.

The theme was, Responsible Parenthood and Mrs. Brown demonstrated that elements necessary were a Christian home, obedience to God and keeping the commandments.

Mrs. Fred Norris, treasurer, reported receipts during the past month of $15.26; expenses $15 and a balance of $145.62. Mrs. Arthur Braithwaite reported 12 greetings cards dispatched.

Mrs. Isabel Brown, Mrs. Fred Norris, and Mrs. Charles Sandercock were named a decorating committee with Mrs. H. Taylor as convener. This committee was instructed to buy new palms for the church.

Bazaar department conveners are: Home cooking, Mrs. Fannie Blodgett; needle work, Mrs. Clark Sandercock; farm, Mrs. Alfred Braithwaite; flowers, Mrs. E. Sandercock; afternoon tea, Mrs. H. Taylor; greeting cards, Mrs. Arthur Braithwaite; novelties and fish pond, Mrs. F. Norris.

Mrs. Alfred Braithwaite will be hostess for the April meeting, and Mrs. Isabel Brown and Mrs. Arthur Braithwaite from the program committee.

Mrs. F. Norris and Mrs. Rae Brown were joint hostesses, and Mrs. Lorne Thackeray and Mrs. W. Gallagher, convener, arranged the program.

There were stories by Mrs. Clarence Down, and Mrs. Gallagher, a piano solo by Mrs. B. Thackeray and contests by the convener and Mrs. Down. The hostesses who served refreshments.

Women Notoriously Bad Luck In Cornwall Fishing Village

By MICHEAL O'MARA

SENNEN COVE, Cornwall, England, March 18 (CP)—Women are notoriously bad luck; everybody knows that in this fishing hamlet a mile from land's end.

The 150 inhabitants have only one source of income—the fish they catch. And a pair of stupid girls can ruin the whole thing.

At least that's what the fishermen swear after a recent episode here while they were trying to swing their 400-yard-long nets around a shoal of grey mullet estimated to number 40,000.

In defiance of age-old superstition, two girls walked across the beach where the men were working. Waves broke the nets. The mullet got away. It was the girl's fault.

Take No Chances

Villagers who live in the little houses in this rocky cove believe bad luck lurks among the inlets and waits to pounce on you if you do something the wrong way. Not only will fish escape but in this place of unforgetten beliefs a housewife will not polish a floor with her back to the door.

If she did, bad luck would enter while she wasn't looking.

If a woman is cleaning the floor of a passage with doors at either end, she figures to beat bad luck this way: She starts in the middle and works backwards to one door; then returns to the starting-point turns around and scrubs back to the other door.

May isn't too hygenic in these parts. If you visit Senne Cove in that month you'll find bedclothes haven't been laundered. The explanation? Washing blankets in the fifth month of the year washes away friends.

In order not to offend a number of farmyard spirits there is only one way for dairymaids to stir the cream when making butter. They must use the skimmer from left to right, or—another Cornwall superstition — "The same way you stir your tea."

Stir it once the wrong way and the devil jumps into the churn.

Decision Reversed

WINNIPEG—(CP).—Reversing an earlier stand, Winnipeg School Board has decided to allow youngsters who wear glasses to participate in sports. The board's policy committee was advised the ban was having a bad psychological effect.

Fast Time Ban Hits Snag In Legislature

By the Canadian Press.

Manitoba's proposed legislation to ban fast time is running into opposition from persons who feel that the question of setting clocks ahead an hour for the summer months should be left to cities and to individual citizens.

Debate on the government bill was adjourned Thursday after two members criticized the "compulsory" aspect of the legislation. The measure would make Central Standard Time mandatory in Manitoba the year 'round. Similar legislation prohibits daylight time in Alberta.

Lt.-Cmdr. Alex Stringer (Navy) called the bill an attempt to compel citizens of Winnipeg and the surrounding area to stick to Standard Time, something they have voted against doing. The navy representative argued:

"Some of us like to get up an hour earlier. We get to our offices earlier and home earlier for golf and gardening. Farmers don't like daylight saving time. They are not compelled to adopt it and they don't do so. . . By this bill I can't turn my clock ahead if I want to."

In throne-speech debate at Halifax, Martin Kaufman (Lib.-Cumberland) recommended establishment of an unofficial Maritime - Newfoundland Council composed of government and business leaders. It would discuss common interests and present a united front to the Federal Government on common problems. Newfoundland becomes a Canadian Province March 31.

Ireland Is Subject Of Women's Meeting

WESTWOOD, March 18 (ENS) —An Irish program featured the March meeting of Westwood Women's Institute on Tuesday afternoon in the Town Hall. Mrs. W. Renwick was program convener and there were readings appropriate to St. Patrick's Day by Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. H. S. Neilson, Mrs. Aubrey Wood and Mrs. E. W. Sargent. A reading was also given by Mrs. Renwick.

A survey of recent happenings by Mrs. T. Cardwell included an unusual report of March 15, 1903, when the weather was so warm and balmy that women wore summer dresses and carried parasols.

The roll call was answered by Irish jokes and stories, and an Irish contest was won by Mrs. W. Post and Mrs. F. Neilson. A musical contest was won by Mrs. Post also.

Mrs. Lorne Hutchinson demonstrated the making of a fancy cushion top.

A quiz on the Women's Institute Hand Book was won by Mrs. Stuart Graham and Mrs. F. Neilson.

It was decided to make a gift of $20 to the Westwood hockey team.

Lunch was served by Mrs. W. Renwick, Mrs. T. Cardwell and Mrs. E. W. Sargent.

$98 Raised By Legion At Euchre And Dance

WESTWOOD, March 18 (ENS) —The Armouries was filled Tuesday evening for the benefit euchre and dance sponsored by the Millbrook branch of the Legion, No. 402 and the Ladies' Auxiliary. Receipts totalled $98, to which will be added donations from several people who were unable to attend.

There was 27 tables and Mrs. F. J. Smith won the prize for women's high score, and Allie Kingsman, for the men. Consolation went to Mrs. Walter Widdis and Charles Smith.

The interior was decorated for St. Patrick's Day and there was even an Irish color scheme for refreshments served during the supper hour.

Music for the dancing was provided by the Challice family orchestra, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Todd. Winners of a spotlight dance were Jessie Lunn and Charles Smith.

Five Tables Of Euchre

FRASERVILE, March 18—(ENS).—Five tables of progressive euchre were played at this week's card party, when prizes were won by Mrs. L. L. McClenaghan, Mrs. W. Moncrief, Glen Kellar and Mr. Norman Bowles. Twelve games were played, after which lunch was served.

Suggest St. Pat Gift From Wales

WINNIPEG, March 18 (CP) — A suggestion that Ireland's patron saint came from Wales drew a proud reply from Works Minister Errick Willis in the Manitoba Legislature Thursday—St. Patrick's Day.

Each year, Mr. Willis contributes small pots of shamrocks to the desks of members of the House and the press gallery, in token of his ancestry and in honor of St. Patrick.

After Premier Douglas Campbell—an uncompromising Scot—had paid a graceful tribute to Mr. Willis, E. A. Hansford (CCF-Winnipeg) rose to add his thanks.

"Each year the shamrocks get better and better," said Mr. Hansford. "I should like to say that Ireland's patron saint was born in Glamorganshire."

"When they were building the Irish race, they took good men from any place they could get them," grinned Mr. Willis in reply.

Soon Have 60-Cycle

TORONTO, March 18 (CP) — The 25-cycle electric light flicker will be ended by Christmas for the 8,000 domestic power users in suburban Scarboro—first of Ontario's communities to be changed from the 25-cycle power to the 60-cycle system. The changeover has been preceded by a careful survey of all hydro-electricity users in the township. The methods and experience developed in Scarboro will be used in changing over the entire area of southern and southwestern Ontario from 25-cycle to 60-cycle current.

G. Heath Gracie To Aiudicate Music Festival

Ajudicator of this year's Kiwanis Club Festival of Music is G. H. Heath-Gracie, Bachelor of Music and Fellow of the Royal College of Organists. The Festival will begin on Monday morning in Murray Street Baptist Church and will continue through Saturday.

Mr. Heath-Gracie, a six-foot Englishman, is an ex-serviceman of the First World War. He has had an impressive list of musical achievements in Britain and holds a number of important posts there that give scope for his talent.

These include: Organist and Master of the Choristers, Derby Cathedral; Councillor of the Church Music Society; Examiner to the Association Board of the Royal Schools of Music, London; and Special Commissioner of the Royal School of Church Music, Canterbury.

As Musical Adviser to the Derbyshire Education Committee he supervises the musical education of 100,000 children.

Mr. Heath-Gracie is a frequent broadcaster on the British Home Service and is heard on overseas broadcasts from England. He is a lecturer for the Music Teacher's Association and many other musical, education and social service societies.

Recently he was the adjudicator at the Toronto Festival.

Name Selected For Havelock Rink

HAVELOCK, March 18 (ENS) —"The Havelock and District Recreational Centre" was the name decided upon by the rink committee at a meeting in the home of the chairman, H. A. McNeely, on Tuesday evening for the proposed new rink, which will be used for all recreational purposes.

The secretary was requested to write to the Income Tax Department at Ottawa to ascertain if donations to this project would be permitted as deductions when filing income tax returns.

During a discussion on the cost of the recreational centre, it appeared to be the opinion of the committee that the cost will be $30,000 and that the project would be self supporting.

The secretary was instructed to communicate with the Park Board to make arrangements for a meeting with the Recreational Centre Committee.

U-Boat Threat Frightened Churchill In War

NEW YORK, March 18—(AP) —Winston Churchill says that the only thing that ever frightened him during the war was the threat of German submarines to British supply lines.

Churchill writes in his war memoirs that against the U-boat peril "the high and faithful spirit of the people counted for naught...."

The wartime Prime Minister of Britain discusses the deadlines of the submarine attacks in the last instalment of the second volume of his war memoirs.

In the winter of 1940-41, after the air battle of Britain had been won, Churchill says, "slow, cold drawing lines on charts" disclosed the "potential strangulation" threatened by the U-boats.

Nazi submarines and planes based in France forced all British shipping to go around Northern Ireland and enter Britain through the ports on the Mersey and Clyde rivers.

Churchill describes 1940 as the "most splendid" and "most deadly" in British history—a time when "we had defied the tyrant at the height of his triumph."

Attack On One, Attack On All Atlantic Pact Members Agree

OTTAWA, March 18 —(CP)— Text of North Atlantic Pact is outlined as follows:

Preamble

The parties to this treaty reaffirm their faith in the purposes and principles of the charter of the United Nations and their desire to live in peace with all peoples and all governments.

They are determined to safeguard the freedom, common heritage and civilization of their peoples, founded on the principles of democracy, individual liberty and the rule of law.

They seek to promote stability and well-being in the North Atlantic area.

They are resolved to unite their efforts for collective defence and for the preservation of peace and security.

They therefore agree to this North Atlantic treaty:

Article 1

The parties undertake, as set forth in the charter of the United Nations, to settle any international disputes in which they may be involved by peaceful means in such a manner that international peace and security, and justice, are not endangered, and to refrain in their international relations from the threat or use of force in any manner inconsistent with the purpose of the United Nations.

Article 2

The parties will contribute toward the further development of peaceful and friendly international relations by strengthening their free institutions, by bringing about a better understanding of the principles upon which these institutions are founded, and by promoting conditions of stability and well-being. They will seek to eliminate conflict in their international economic policies and will encourage economic collaboration between any or all of them.

Article 3

In order more effectively to achieve the objective of this treaty, the parties, separately and jointly, by means of continuous and effective self-help and mutual aid, will maintain and develop their individual and colective capacity to resist armed attack.

Article 4

The parties will consult together whenever, in the opinion of any of them, the territorial integrity, political independence or security of any of the parties is threatened.

Article 5

The parties agree that an armed attack against one or more of them in Europe or North America shall be considered an attack against them all; and consequently they agree that, if such an armed attack occurs, each of them, in exercise of the right of individual or collective self-defence recognized by article 51 of the charter of the United Nations, will assist the party or parties so attacked by taking forthwith, individually and in concert with the other parties, such action as it deems necessary, including the use of armed force, to restore and maintain the security of the North Atlantic area.

Any such armed attack and all measures taken as a result thereof shall immediately be reported to the Security Council. Such measures shall be terminated when the Security Council has taken the measures necessary to restore and maintain international peace and security.

Article 6

For the purpose of Article 5 an armed attack on one or more of the parties is deemed to include an armed attack on the territory of any of the parties in Europe or North America, on the Algerian departments of France, on the occupation forces of any party in Europe, on the islands under the jurisdiction of any party in the North Atlantic area north of the Tropic of Cancer or on the vessels or aircraft in this area of any of the parties.

Article 7

This treaty does not affect, and shall not be interpreted as affecting, in any way the rights and obligations under the charter of the parties which are members of the United Nations, or the primary responsibility of the Security Council for the maintenance of international peace and security.

Article 8

Each party declares that none of the international engagements now in force between it and any other of the parties or any third states is in conflict with the provisions of this treaty, and undertakes not to enter into any international engagement in conflict with this treaty.

Article 9

The parties hereby establish a Council, on which each of them shall be represented, to consider matters concerning the implementation of this treaty. The Council shall be so organized as to be able to meet promptly at any time. The council shall set up such subsidiary bodies as may be necessary; in particular it shall establish immediately a defence committee which shall recommend measures for the implementation of Articles 3 and 5.

Article 10

The parties may, by unanimous agreement, invite any other European state in a position to further the principles of this treaty and to contribute to the security of the North Atlantic area to accede to this treaty. Any state so invited may become a party to the treaty by depositing its instrument of accession with the Government of the United States of America. The Government of the United States of America will inform each of the parties of the deposit of each such instrument of accession.

Article 11

This treaty shall be ratified and its provisions carried out by the parties in accordance with their respective constitutional processes. The instruments of ratification shall be deposited as soon as possible with the Government of the United States of America, which will notify all the other signatories of each deposit. The treaty shall enter into force between the states which have ratified it as soon as the ratifications of the majority of the signatories, including he ratifications of Belgium, Canada, France, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, the United Kingdom and the United States, have been deposited and shall come into effect with respect to other states on the date of the deposit of their ratifications.

Article 12

After the treaty has been in force for 10 years, or at any time thereafter, the parties shall, if any of them so requests, consult together for the purpose of reviewing the treaty, having regard for the factors then affecting peace and security in the North Atlantic area, including the development of universal as well as regional arrangements under the charter of the United Nations for maintenance of international peace and security.

Article 13

After the treaty has been in force for 20 years, any party may cease to be a party one year after its notice of denunciation has been given to the government of the United States of America, which will inform the governments of the other parties of the deposit of each notice of denunciation.

Article 14

This treaty, of which the English and French texts are equally authentic, shall be deposited in the archives of the government of the United States of America. Duly certified copies thereof will be transmitted by that government to the governments of the other signatories.

Local Council Investigating CAC Activities

Citizenship committee of the Local Council of Women presented important facts about Canada through a panel discussion at Thursday's regular meeting. Also in the audience were five girls of European nationality who plan to make their homes here, and the information had even greater significance for them. As Mrs. E. B. McWilliams, citizenship convener, explained in the introduction, "It is not necessary to be born here to be a good Peterborian."

Text of the discussion was supplied by the Dominion Government for this purpose. Mrs. W. H. Morton was chairman; Mrs. J. Wood, Miss Ruth Panter and Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy, the experts; and Mrs. McWilliams took the part of a questioner.

Wars An Asset

Three major assets contributing to Canada's place in the world today were said to be the two world wars and the relation to United States. On the day of Confederation in 1867 it officially ceased to be a colony. Many hundreds of immigrants from Britain and Europe have come here each year except during war and the depression, but the greatest number arrived in 1913, more than 400,000. The first minister to a foreign country was appointed in 1926 to the U.S. In 1943 Canada's foreign ministers were raised to the rank of ambassador.

Great advances in fields of aviation and radio have come in Canada so that it ranks high. The first attempt at flying was made in 1889. The first air mail service was established in 1929. Radio reception began in 1919 and three years later the first broadcasting operation was conducted. The CBC was created in 1937 and in 1945 Canada commenced broadcasting to Europe. The "Northern Messenger" broadcast whereby messages can be sent free to friends in Canada's vast northland is a splendid service. In the film industry advance has been made also. The National Film Board, created in 1939, sends out non-theatrical reels that are seen by at least half a million people every month.

Canada is the only monarchy in the western hemisphere. Its government includes a king and is governed by a parliament elected by the people. The country enjoys a firm relationship to Britain and the Commonwealth and a lasting friendship with United States.

Position May Alter

Summing up, the chairman said, "Canada is in no more static position in the world today than ever. It has come from the stage of colonial government to a condition of complete independence in a short period. The present importace is due partly to opportunity brought by the world wars and because of submergence of smaller nations through German occupation. With these nations free, Canada's position may alter. The future depends upon her own citizens, their enlightened interest in world affairs, and also upon their determination to continue upon the course of the development of Canada's power to serve the world in all ways open to her."

The new Canadians present were introduced by Miss Leta Brownscombe, migration convenor. They were invited to join Local Council members for a social hour afterward when refreshments were served.

Huge Crowd Attends Tea At Queen Mary School Annual St. Patrick's Event

A crowd of more than 450 ladies attending the St. Patrick's tea in Queen Mary school Thursday attested the immense growth of Home and School movement in Peterborough. This annual event of March 17 received a similar response a year ago when the guests had to be "lined up" to get into the tea room.

This year a queue was formed half an hour after the tea opened and remained until five o'clock though tea room hostesses worked as quickly as possible. Not that anyone minded—oh no, it was a splendid chance to chat and collect the latest tidbits. Especially so because representation from all sections of the city brought people together who do not often meet.

The tea also provided an opportunity to inspect the new rooms in this fine school. Usherettes on hand to assist members of the Home and School Association did honor to St. Patrick by "wearin' o' the green." Skirts made of Paddy green crepe paper worn with white blouses and headdresses trimmed with green frills and shamrocks, were the charmingly effective costumes donned by Barbara Walker, Marilyn Jones, Isobel Anderson and Marilyn Hardwicke. They were designed and made by Mrs. Ken Jones and Mrs. George Batley.

Mrs. C. G. Collins, president, and Mrs. G. Reader, vice-president received at a door which opened into a wide hall and lounge connecting the new and old buildings. It's newness was made more attractive and gay with posters having green as the keynote color and shamrock decorations. Mrs. C. H. Spearin, ticket convener, and Mrs. A. E. Hutchinson presided at the treasurer's table.

Home-made candy table scored the first sell-out with home baking following closely. A bazaar table offered hangers, aprons, towels and such useful items for the home. These were arranged in the glass-enclosed hall by conveners, the candy by Mrs. C. McIntyre, Mrs. J. Clark and Mrs. R. Lewis;; cooking by Mrs. C. Muir and Mrs. R. Everett, and handwork by Mrs. J. F. Dobson and the Home Study Group. Touch and take table, always a catch for that hard to stifle inquisitiveness of a woman was very successfully operated by Mrs. J. Dawson, Mrs. R. Matthews and Mrs. G. Rishor.

In Tea Room

The tea room was a delight to Irish hearts especially, for Mrs. J. G. Wharry's original decorations even included real Irish "supds." The table centrepiece was a silver harp which she had fashioned of metal and planted with shamrock. This was effectively flanked with matching green tapers in tall triple candelabra of silver. The white cloth used had panels and a border of lace.

Small flower pots placed in the windows held plants that defy description but the flowers were shamrocks and potatoes the fruit.

Alternating at the tea table were Mrs. F. H. Jobbitt, Mrs. A. W. Nelson, Mrs. P. D Windrim, and Mrs. W. L. McNeil. Mrs. R. J. Burnside and Mrs. N. E. Elliott convened the tea arrangements.

Teachers assisting to serve were Miss B Robinson, Miss E. Clark, Miss B. Stout, Miss R. Henderson, and Miss P. Moore. Members of the Home and School Association were Mrs. F. Pope, Mrs. R. Chandler, Mrs. R. Kemp, Mrs. J. W. Miles, Mrs. I. Moldaver, Mrs. D. Lawless, Mrs. W. Perks, Mrs. C. Crowe, Mrs. J. Hornal, Mrs. J. LaBrash, Mrs. J. Weir, Mrs. H. Dinsdale, Mrs. P. C. Swyer, and Mrs B. E. Metcalfe.

Mrs. C. H. Huffman was general convener assisted by a committee of Mrs. R. J. Burnside, Mrs. W. J Gordon, Mrs. J. F. Dobson, Mrs. J. G. Wharry, and Mrs. R. Everett

St. Patrick's Day Time of Tea At Knox Hall

Knox Centre Circle entertained at a delightful and successful St. Patrick's tea in the church lecture hall Thursday afternoon. The room was decorated with a variety of Irish symbols and pots of shamrock and green plants.

The lace-covered tea table was centred with a large green mat on which were small clay pipes and Irish potatoes. A pedestal dish held a lovely pot of shamrock. Presiding at each of the silver tea services were Mrs. H. Lewis and Miss Susan Summers.

Ten individual tables were arranged for service, each centred with a green candle in a pretty green paper holder and small basket of green and white mints. Hostesses were Mrs. W. Atchison, Mrs. A. Richmond, Mrs. K. Fairbairn, Mrs. W. Logan, Mrs. G. Goodfellow, Mrs. H. Beatty, Mrs. M. Watson, Mrs. J. Allen, Mrs. J. Mervin, Mrs. G. Bennett, Mrs. P. Hooper, Mrs. D. Beavis, Mrs. L. Clifford, Mrs. C. Kidd and Mrs. J. Londerville.

Refreshments were convened by Mrs. R. Lang and Mrs. M. Lindsay. Assisting to replenish the plates were Mrs. J. Marchen, Mrs. T. Wallace, Mrs. Donaldson and Mrs. Windrim.

Mrs. A. Sparks, president of the group, received at the door, assisted by Mrs. H. G. Douglas. Mrs. J. Lancashire was general convener of the tea. Decorations were done by Mrs. H. Clegg, Mrs J. Donaldson and Mrs. T. Fairbairn.

A table of home cooking was operated with most pleasing results by Mrs. J. Carter, Mrs. G Davis and Mrs. F. Milburn.

MAY'S SCHOOL

Mrs. J. Todd, president, opened the meeting of May's Home and School Association and explained election procedure, as nomination slips are being sent out for return at April meeting. Mr. P. D. Windrim, guest speaker, gave a splendid talk on changes in education. He stressed the big job of parents who have the greatest influence on the child and urged cooperation between the home and school.

A solo, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," was sung by Miss Rutherford, teacher in the school, accompanied by Mrs. Moffat at the piano.

The Association is presenting a three-act comedy play in the school on March 23.

Lunch was served with Mrs. J. Chambers in charge.

Maple Syrup On Market Few Dishes

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, March 18—(CP) — Spring is here and maple syrup already is making its appearance in the market stalls.

If the housewife wants to try a new "syrup" dish on her family, here is a recipe from the experimental kitchens of the home economists.

Maple Rice Pudding—Ingredients: one-quarter cup rice; two cups milk; 2½ tablespoons cornstarch; one-half cup maple syrup; two egg yolks; two egg whites; one-quarter cup maple syrup.

Boil rice in salted water until tender. Drain. Scald milk in top of double boiler. Blend cornstarch to a smooth paste with the one-half cup maple syrup. Add gradually to the hot milk. Stir until mixture thickens and cook 15 minutes. Add rice and well-beaten egg yolks. Place in greased baking-dish. Beat egg whites until stiff. Gradually add the one-quarter cup maple syrup, beating until stiff. Spread over the pudding. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) until delicately browned, about 15 minutes. Yields: six servings.

Maple Syrup Cream — Ingredients: one-half cup flour; one-half teaspoon salt; one cup maple syrup; 1¾ cups hot milk; two egg yolks; three tablespoons butter; two egg whites; one-quarter cup maple syrup.

Mix flour, salt and maple syrup. Add hot milk gradually and cook in double boiler, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Cook 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add a small portion of the hot mixture to the beaten egg yolks. Stir into pudding and cook three minutes. Remove from heat. Add butter and fold in meringue made from egg whites and one-quarter cup maple syrup. Yield six servings.

There's nothing like a slice of bread and honey to satisfy young appetites during after-school hours.

Home economists of the department of agriculture remind homemakers that most of Canada's honey, either for interprovincial trade or export from Canada, is graded according to government regulations.

Cleanliness and moisture content are two factors stressed in the regulations. Since moisture affects the keeping quality of honey it is wise to keep it in a cool, dry place.

An apple dessert is always popular with the family, and especially one as special as Apple Ice Cream:

Ingredients: two cups grated apples (four medium apples); one half cup fruit or fine granulated sugar; one-half pint whipping cream.

Grate the unpeeled apple. After grating a small amount of apple measure and sprinkle with part of sugar to prevent discoloration. Continue grating and sprinkling until two cups of apple are measured. Whip cream and fold into apple mixture. Freeze. Serves six.

St. Joseph's Aux. Have Good Crowd At March 17 Tea

Irish decorations carried out the theme of the day at a tea of the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary Thursday at the nurses' residence. Decorating the tea table were spring flowers and green candles in silver holders. The tea, under the convenership of Mrs. A. E. Cauley, was largely attended throughout the afternoon.

Mrs. J. V. Gallivan, auxiliary president, received, assisted by Mrs. T. J. Lynch, past president, and Mrs. Cauley.

Mrs. E. M. Crough and Miss L. Letellier were in charge of the tea table, assisted by Mrs. A. C. Wolff, Mrs E Riley, Mrs T J. Ryan, Mrs D Campanaro, Mrs W. X. Blackburn, Mrs. J. McGrath, Mrs. W. J. A. Fair, Mrs. A. Tait, Mrs. W. J. Hickey, Mrs. Donnelly, Mrs. K. Gash, Mrs. J. Butler, Mrs. P. Anglesey, Mrs. John R. Epping, Mrs. R. P. McCabe and the Misses D. Sheehy, M. McNulty, E. Letellier, J. Dorris, B. Meagher, B. Hickey, J. O'Laughlin, B. Flaherty, S. Sullivan, R. DeNoble, M. Cadigan, E. Mattucci, J. McCarthy, M. McCarthy.

Presiding in the tea room were Mrs. L. D. Letellier, Mrs. W. J. Grady, Mrs. M. J. Kennedy, Mrs. J. McCarney, Mrs. N. McConkey, Mrs. F. P. McNulty.

Home cooking table under direction of Mrs. J. Rutherford, Mrs. E. F. Sheehy and Mrs. Jas. Dunn was very popular. The fancy goods table also had a brisk sale of aprons and other handmade articles, the ladies in charge being Mrs. F. Hickey, Mrs. V. Sullivan, Mrs. J. J. Crowley, Mrs. W. A. Richardson and Miss M. Sullivan.

Mrs. J. F. O'Brien and Mrs. J. Anthony looked after the sale of draw tickets, and Mrs. J. E. Sullivan acted as treasurer. The lucky draw prize was won by Miss Nora Butler.

Guests were entertained during the afternoon with Irish melodies, music being provided by Miss M. McCabe, Miss L. Hurley, Miss E. Armstrong and Mrs. L. Picard.

Local Council Women Study Canada's World Position

Investigation of the Consumers' Association was asked by members of Local Council of Women at the meeting Thursday afternoon in the YWCA and Mrs. H. Lundy, convener, was asked to make enquiries on what is being done and report at May meeting.

Mrs. H. Dunford was appointed convener of the buffet luncheon which will open the April meeting at which Society reports are heard during the afternoon. It was decided that in future convener's reports will be read at November meeting and society's annual reports in January.

It was decided that at least 30 members will each contribute 50 cents per month toward maintenance of a child in Europe whom they will adopt under the name of Local Council through the Humanitarian Service. A total of $45 is necessary for one child and can be paid in three monthly instalments.

Each organization is asked to contribute a donation of soap at April meeting to be forwarded to Europe.

A report on the recent tea given by Mrs. W. F. Connal and the treasurer's report of proceeds proved it had been successful. Mrs. W. A. Addyman, president, reported on the meeting of Brotherhood Week. She announced the annual meeting of National Council at Vancouver on May 16 to 23, and of Provincial Council at Chatham in June. Conveners were asked to submit reports to councils by March 31.

DOROTHY DIX

Man's Business Success Due to Wifely Inspiration

DEAR MISS DIX: Will you please tell me what part a wife plays in her husband's success?

A BRIDE TO-BE.

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: That depends upon the man. There are men who are self-starters who will always get there on their own power. A wife can speed up such a man, but she cannot stop him. There are other men so weak and flabby that they will flop, no matter what effort a wife makes to brace them up. No wife can supply to them the backbone and the energy they lack. Then there are the great mass of average husbands whose success is about 75 per cent wife-made.

But I think that love is still the great motive power that drives men on, and as long as a man really loves his wife he will struggle to get the things he wants to give her. It is only when he has ceased to care for his wife that he slacks down. So if a wife wants her husband to be a success, she must keep him feeling that she is a queen and that it is a privilege to lay tributes at her feet.

For a man to be happily married and satisfied with his wife is not just a matter of the heart. It is a business affair as well, and a potent factor in his success or failure. Run over the list of your acquaintances and recall how many prosperous men you have known who are now down-and-outers, who first began to skid when they decided they were too young for their middle-aged wives and commenced having affairs with young girls.

Wife Sets Price Tag

Then a man's success is greatly affected by his wife's attitude toward him. In a way every woman sets the price tag on her husband and the general public takes him at her valuation. If she is always singing his praises and telling how wise and efficient and wonderful he is, we unconsciously accept her estimate of him and think he must be a fine fellow because his wife says so. She ought to know. She sees him at close range. But if, on the other hand, a wife is continually belittling her husband and telling his faults, we set him down as no-account, lazy or stupid when perhaps he is none of these things. Only his wife has advertised him as such.

Women's traditional way of helping their husbands is by pinching pennies, but they would get better results if they made happy and soothing homes for their husbands, and kept them jollied up and believing that they can get the moon for the women they love.

* * *

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am married to a man who has two children by his first marriage and I am very unhappy because I cannot make myself like his children. They look so much like their mother it makes me mad. I fight with my husband over them all the time and our marriage is almost on the rocks.

Should we let the children go to live with their mother? Or should I leave my husband, or perhaps I should try to stick it out? I can't be happy this way.

MRS. M. B.

ANSWER: When you married a man with children, you certainly knew the responsibility you were undertaking and how trying youngsters can be. If you fight all the time with your husband over a situation you knew of in advance, you are making a very unhappy home for yourself, your husband and the kids.

Whether the children should go to live with their mother or not depends on the kind of mother she is, and whether she wants them back or not. Don't forget what the Bible says about dealing with little children.

* * *

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My wife is a good woman, but she is so jealous that when I am sick she refuses to let me be hospitalized because she is suspicious of the nurses. Do you think I should give in to her and take chances on my health, or override her decision and run the risk of breaking up home ties?

ANSWER: If your doctor thinks you require hospitalization, you are very foolish to let your wife's jealousy keep you from having the attention that you need and that may be the means of saving your life. Many a wife signs her husband's death warrant when she refuses to let him have a change of climate, or go to a sanitarium, or consult the specialist who might save him from an untimely death.

As for the wife's fear that the husband will be kidnapped by a trained nurse if he goes to a hospital, that's groundless. Few sick men are Lotharios in either looks or temper.

HOME AND SCOOL COUNCIL

Regular meeting of Peterborough Home and School Council was held Wednesday evening in the YWCA. Mrs. A. W. Nelson presided and extended a special welcome to out-of-town members present.

Mr. C. H. Crowe reported on investigation to number of objectionable comic books on sale in the city. Duties of hospitality conveners were outlined by Mrs. A. G. Stock, stressing the need of establishing friendly atmosphere at all meetings. Mrs. D. Rostocky, home education convener, stated there will be films of interest to girls of Grade 7 and 8 and their mothers shown soon at King George School. Other Associations interested should contact Mr. J. Nornabell as the film will be available for one week.

Mrs. V. R. Henry, health convener, had a fine display of posters and literature. She remarked on the breakfast survey conducted recently and the surprising number of children lacking essential foods for growth.

Mrs. Nelson announced the annual convention of Home and School to be held in Toronto April 19 to 21. It was requested that annual reports of the schools to be included in the bulletin be sent to Mrs. C. English by April 1. Mrs. L. M. Richardson conducted a helpful questionnaire on nominations.

Home Education study pictures will be shown in the Queen Mary School auditorium on Monday evening, March 21.

A social half hour followed with Mrs. A. G. Stock, social convener, and assistants serving refreshments.

Women Of Millbrook Raise $100

MILLBROOK, March 18 (ENS)—The annual St. Patrick's Day hot supper was served in the basement of Grace Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid. Proceeds were more than $100. Mrs. Kenneth Moncrief, president, Mrs. Charles Thorndyke, past president, and the Rev. Walter Patterson, received the guest. T. L. W. Blech was cashier, relieved later by J. H. Burns.

A tiny shamrock pinned on each arrival took the place of tickets. These and the larger cut-outs used for decorations, had been made by the Girl Guides. Tall green candles burning in crystal holders, added further to the table color scheme.

Conveners in charge of the three long tables included Mrs. J. R. Thompson and Mrs. Gerald Armstrong; Mrs. S. Pritchard, and Mrs. Clifford Larmer; Mrs. H. Perkin and Mrs. G. MacKay.

Mr. A. Coyte made the tea and other helpers with the supplies were Mrs. J. M. Armstrong, Mrs. Milton Fallis, Mrs. H. C. Lord, Mrs W. Patterson, Mrs H. Farrow, Mrs. Z. Seaton, Miss Agnes Johnston, Mrs S. E. Eakins, Mrs. H Bremmer, Miss L. Ingram

Miss Bessie Armstrong played a number of piano solos during supper

6—In Memoriams

JACOBS—In loving memory of our beloved granddaughter Margaret Jacobs who passed away March 18, 1947.
"Beside your grave I often stand
With heart both crushed and sore
But in the gloom the sweet words come
"Not lost, but gone before"
God knows how much I miss you
He counts the tears I shed
And whispers "She only sleeps
Your loved one is not dead
So I'll be brave dear Margaret,
And pray to God each day
And when He calls me home to you
Your smile will guide the way —Ever remembered by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James McCue Curve Lake, Ontario.

7—Cards of Thanks

Mrs. Norman Breckenridge and family of Millbrook wish to express their sincere thanks to the nurses, friends and neighbors who sent cards and flowers during their recent sad bereavement.

Not Illegal To Sell Butter Below Floor

TORONTO, March 18—(CP)—There is nothing illegal about selling butter below floor prices, a Prices Board official said today.

"We're trying to keep prices down, and if dealers want to sell below the floor, more power to them," an official said.

One Toronto dealer Thursday sold butter at 57 cents a pound retail, one cent below the government's wholesale floor price. The dealer explained he used butter as a "loss-leader," he believed the bargain brought customers into his store.

Farmer Shoots Self At Drinking Party

KINCARDINE, March 18 (CP)—Robert Wilson, 28-year-old farmer, died Thursday night after firing a shotgun blast into his chest after a drinking party Tuesday.

"It was a wild impulse—I had no intention of shooting myself," he said before he died.

Wilson, married with two children, had a farm near this town on the east shore of Lake Huron.

30 Newcomers To Canada To Get Diplomas

One of the most exacting courses from which Peterborough Collegiate night School students graduate is the English and Citizenship course held especially for newcomers to the city and surrounding districts from European countries.

Wednesday will be an eventful day for some 30 students from Poland, the Ukraine, Latvia, Estonia, Germany, Holland, and Italy who are to receive diplomas at a commencement in Queen Mary School, marking a certain standard attained in the English language.

Great determination is the chief means of attacking the language problem which confronts these newcomers. Graduation day is a time of personal triumph, but it by no means marks the end of their language difficulties. These students have completed Book Three in the basic English course, have mastered a vocabulary of 80 words, and passed the first and most difficult milestone.

Fifty Hours' Instruction

The diploma is awarded after 50 hours of instruction. From there the new Canadian has a long way to travel before the English language becomes as familiar as the native European tongue.

So keen are the students to lose no time in learning the language that permission has been granted by the Board of Education for the classes to continue into the summer.

Other night school courses at the Collegiate end next week for the summer months, but the English classes are to continue until June.

The 60 students are divided into five classes and are taught by B. W. Switzer, assistant principal of night school; Miss Helen Bonnycastle, Miss Phyllis Moore and Harvey Wilson, Peterborough school teachers, and Mrs. John Londerville, a former school teacher.

Although the main purpose of classes is to teach them English, the newcomers also learn a good deal about the geography of Canada and Canadian citizenship.

Child 7 Dies In Farm Fire

SUDBURY, March 18—(CP).—While his father was in the stable milking cows and his mother was rescuing three other children, seven-and-a-half-year-old Martelle Lelievre burned to death in the family's farm home near Hanmer early today. Hanmer is 16 miles from here.

Two of the other three children, Alene, 6, and Roger, 9 months, suffered burns to hands and feet. The fatally burned youngster is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurent Lelevre, of Capreol township. Their two-storey farm home was completely razed.

The boy is believed to have been in bed when the fire broke out about 7.30 o'clock. From the position of the body neighbors believe he was on his way downstairs when he was trapped.

Court Rejects Ship Appeal

OTTAWA, March 18 — (CP) — The Supreme Court of Canada today rejected a $3,380,000 appeal by Canada Steamship Lines Ltd., against a judgment in a lower court arising out of a fire at Point Edward, Ont., in June, 1945.

The court upheld the decision of the Ontario Court of Appe: which gave the CNR right to recover from the CSL the damage and loss it suffered in a fire in a CNR freight shed. The railway charged that the blaze originated in a section occupied by the CSL.

The Supreme Court decision also embraced the CSL counterclaim for $3,380,000 for the total loss of their ship Harmonic, of business and freight.

Speeches Lack Fire

SASKATOON (CP).—Judge G. W. McPhee of Moose Jaw believes that lawyers and clergymen have lost the old fire and flamboyance of Canadian oratorical prowess. Modern politicians, he said, also no longer have the faculty of getting close to the hearts of the people.

Orient Service Told Y's Men At Anniversary

Service club ideals are almost unknown in eastern countries, Basil Tippet, YMCA president of Toronto told the Y's Men's Club at its 22nd Anniversary Party in the South Beach Hotel Thursday night. Mr. Tippet has just finished a trip around the world, and was guest speaker at the anniversary dinner. "The people of these countries do not realize the importance of others in their lives."

Mr. Tippet blamed this on the great struggle for existence in the heavily populated countries. He explained the people had to work a great deal of the time. Therefore they have not time to think of others.

No Self Sacrificial Ideals

Another reason, he said, was that religion in most countries of the East begins and ends in the self. Sacrificing of selves for others, a Christian teaching, is not a principle in most Far Eastern religions.

In eastern countries, Mr. Tippet said the YMCA's look for the needs of a given cvommunity. Then with the abilities of the community they try to meet the needs. He discussed the many services provided by the YMCA's in India and China. In 41 villages of South India the YMCA is trying to raise the standard of living. The standard of living in India is the second lowest in the world, China being the lowest. In South India the YMCA has established cashew nut and a honey co-operatives.

"In India children are put into the streets at about four years old. They are left to themselves to find places to eat and live. The result is thousands of homeless children."

Homes For Homeless

An American YMCA secretary in South India started a Home for Homeless Boys, Mr. Tippet said. The boys are from seven to 13 years old. The boys in the home, he explained, had one complaint. Now that they had a home why call it the Home for the Homeless. The Home has been in operation for two years.

Social recreation, he said, would also help to create a feeling for others. Due to the Second World War and the work of the YMCA the status of women in the East is being raised. In India there is a school where domestic science is taught. He saw these girls playing volleyball. Years ago, he explained, this was unheard of. In Canton on Christmas night 800 children gathered at the YWCA to dance and play games.

"Trained workers are needed in the East to help with the social work. They would act as leaders of the people. Buildings, equipment and recreational programs are a great need in the Eastern countries."

Travelled 37,000 Miles

Mr. Tippet said that from September to February he visited 14 countries, travelling 37,000 miles by air.

G. H. Roper introduced the speaker, who was thanked by Harry Powell.

Twenti-two burning candles on the birthday cake were blown out by Mrs. Jack Richardson with one puff. Ray Brown, past president of the club, cut the cake.

Frank Hamon and Rick Cochrane led the club in a singsong. Most of the songs were Irish songs for St. Patrick's Day.

Piano solos were given by Frank Hamon. The dinner was followed by a dance.

Bevin Praises Atlantic Pact

LONDON, March 18—(CP).—Foreign Secretary Bevin said today the North Atlantic defence alliance is "one of the greatest steps towards world peace and security" since the war.

He told parliament the projected treaty is "a purely defensive arrangement for the common security of the countries who join it."

"It is not directed against anyone," Bevin said. "I think we can say this agreement marks the opening of a new era of co-operation and understanding."

Russia and the Communist countries she dominates have vehemently opposed the accord. Russia has a similar but more binding network of treaties with Poland, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

Bevin declared there are no secret clauses.

"This new pact brings us under a wider roof of security, a roof which stretches over the Atlantic Ocean and gives us the assurance of great preponderance of power, which will be used on the side of peace, security and orderly progress.

"No nation innocent of aggressive intentions need have the slightest fear or apprehension. The pact is in every way consistent with the purposes and principles of the charter of the United Nations."

47 Countries Set $1.80 Wheat Price

Canada Will Export 200,000,000 Bus.; Pact Signed In Week

WASHINGTON, March 19 —(CP)—Forty-seven countries, potential members of an international wheat agreement, have agreed on a four-year plan to market some 450,000,000 bushels annually at a top price of $1.80.

Agreement, after eight weeks of discussions, was announced Friday night by J. C. Van Essche, acting chairman of the conference. Van Essche said he hoped the agreement would be signed early next week.

Under the new agreement, Canada will export 200,000,000 buhels a year. The other exporting countries' portions are: The United States, 165,000,000 bushels; Australia, 75,000,000; France, 6,000,000; and Uruguay, 4,000,000.

The minimum price of $1.80 will hold for each of the four years. The minimum will drop 10 cents annually from $1.50 in the first year to $1.20 in the fourth.

Won't Affect Agreement

The world agreement will not affect Canada's pact with Britain. Under the Anglo-Canadian agreement, Canadian wheat is sold to Britain at $2 a bushel—20 cents higher than the proposed international agreement's pirce.

Two wheat-producing countries —Russia and Argentina—are not parties to the new accord. Russia dropped out when her request for an export allocation of 75,000,000 bushels was refused by Canada, the United States and Australia.

Argentina withdrew her representative—although she kept an observer at the talks—because the price was not high enough.

The pact in its present form was proposed by Canada, the United States and Australia without Russian participation after Russia refused to accept the 50,000,000-bushel export quota. Originally Russia demanded 100,000,000-bushel quota. She later cut her demands to 75,000,000, but refused to make further concessions.

Impression Of Key Given Inmate

Public Halt Escape Of 40 Men At Burwash Prison

SUDBURY, March 19—(CP)—Joseph C. LaPierre, will appear in court here March 24 on a charge of trying to assist the escape of a prisoner from the nearby Burwash prison farm. LaPierre is being held without bail in the Sudbury district jail.

The arrest Friday of LaPierre and of Lewis J. Jones, 26-year-old prisoner described by Lapierre as the ringleader of an escape attempt, was credited with heading off a break for freedom by at least 40 prisoners at the Northern Ontario reform institution.

LaPierre appeared in Sudbury magistrate's court and was remanded. Jones was held without charge in the district jail to be questioned concerning the escape plot.

Police said that Jones had a nearly-completed key to the main dormitory section. There are no walls about the reformatory grounds.

Gave Key Impession

In a statement to Maj. Gerald Wright, superintendent of the prison farm, Lapierre is said to have admitted giving Jones an impression—in a bar of soap—of the dormitory key. He gave no reason for assisting Jones, who previously escaped from Burwash in May, 1948, and was free for a month at that time.

Other prisoners in the dormitory section gave Maj. Wright information concerning the escape plot and the names of the principals. Maj. Wright immediately moved in, with the help on provincial police, to break up the conspiracy.

Denies Complicity

LOS ANGELES, March 19 (AP).—Betty Ritchie, 24-year-old girl from Fenelon Falls, Friday denied complicity in the southern California burglaries ascribed to Gerald Dennis. Two insurance companies which paid off claims presented by Dennis' asserted victims brought civil suits totalling $69,966 against her. Miss Ritchie, once a school teacher in Toronto, filed answers in Superior Court denying she took part in his burglaries or had knowledge of them.

Moscow Charges Pact Aimed At Aggression

LONDON, March 19—(AP)—The countries of the west read the North Atlantic Pact today as the outline for world peace, but Moscow condemned it as a design for war.

In blunt language, Britain's Foreign Secretary Bevin called it the hope of persons with peaceful intent, and an instrument to block Kremlin efforts to rule Europe by fear.

Moscow radio, in an English-language broadcast, charged that "this pact means war on the Soviet Union." The voice was identified as that of Dr. I. Lemin, Soviet historian.

Bevin, in a radio broadcast, accused the Communist countries of "running a perpetual campaign of incitement calculated to disrupt economic life, prevent Europe from settling down, and to create a situation of chaos, in order that the will of the Kremlin could be carried out and the whole of Europe brought into bondage.

"What, then, were the peace, freedom-loving nations to do? To stand idly by to be destroyed, or build up some collective security . . .

"Well, we took the latter course."

Over the official Russian radio came a Soviet reply to the published terms of the pact—a charge that it "is designed to unleash war against the Soviet Union" and that "millions" in the world would not support it.

Across the Western world outside the Iron Curtain, however, government officials expressed their approval of the pact, and expected their people to back them solidly. The non-Communist press spoke similar views.

British newspapers praised the pact. The Times of London said it would "give the world hope for peace." The Daily Mail said the pact puts a "roof over 300,000,000" persons. The Daily Express headlined its story: "Attack one, attack all." The Daily Graphic carried a headline: "U.S. will pour arms into Europe."

Estimated Number For Russia, Satellites Reported 5,171,000 Troops; Soviet Soldiers Equipped To Move Any Time

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON, March 19—(AP).—If every western European country joined the United States and Canada in the North Atlantic treaty their present armed strength probably would total only slightly more than the Soviet bloc's. If the Western Alliance consisted only of the eight countries which took part in the negotiations, Russia and her satellites would have a lead of almost 1,750,000 men.

The figures for the pact powers and all Europe west of the iron curtain come to about 5,508,000 men now under arms. The estimated total for Russia and her satellites 5,171,000. Neither figure includes reserves which might be called upon in time of war.

In naval power, measured in ships and men, the Atlantic powers would have a tremendous edge, even if there were only eight of them.

In air power, the picture isn't known. The western powers probably could muster more far-reaching bombers. And they probably could hit harder than anything Russia has.

The bulk of the strength, of course, is in the United States (1,562,000) and Britain (790,000). France is reported to have about 655,000 men under arms; the Netherlands 175,000 (some of these probably pinned down to far-eastern duty); Belgium perhaps 85,000; Canada about 40,000; Norway 15,000; Luxembourg a tiny force.

More Than Four Million

Russia is estimated to have within the Red army, air force, navy and MVD security troops a total of 4,050,000 men. The Russian satellite countries—Poland, Hungary, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Albania and Czechoslovakia—have 1,121,600 in the only official es-

Mine Official Kidnapped, Hunt Six Men

THETFORD MINES, Quebec, March 19 (CP)—Provincial police today sought six men—believed to be miners—in connection with the kidnapping and attack of an Asbestos Mine official Friday night.

Police said Lionel Piuze, 36-year-old assistant superintendent at the Asbestos Corporation's nearby Black Lake Mine, was forced into an automobile, beaten up and tossed out two miles away from his home.

A doctor who treated Piuze said the man "was not badly hurt."

This was the fo.. in violent outbreak in this eastern townships region since 5,000 workers went on strike at five mines producing close to 40 per cent of the world's total asbestos output.

All had been quiet on the strike front until part of the Johns-Manville private railway line to Danville was blown up Sunday night.

The folowing day an engineer of the same company was beaten up and Tuesday a striker fractured both his legs when a jeep he was riding was overturned by other striking workers.

Some 50 provincial policemen have been guarding the mines and the Asbestos police force was doubled recently when special constables were sworn in to ward off trouble.

Predict Change In Russ Money

BERLIN, March 19 (Reuters)—West Berlin housewives crowded food stores today in a last rush to buy next week's rations in cheap eastern (Soviet zone) marks before the currency change-over which is expected this week-end.

Unofficial reports from Allied and German sources agreed that the west mark would become sole legal tender in the western sectors of Berlin tomorrow. That would mean that from Monday rations will have to be purchased in western marks, which are at present four times as valuable as eastern marks.

Despite repeated denials the British-licensed newspaper Mittags Echo predicted today that there would be a new currency change-over in the Soviet zone and Soviet sector of Berlin March 23.

"Each person will be allowed to change only 100 east marks and the rest will be placed in a blocked account," the newspaper said.

Alexander Says His Plan Used

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., March 19 —(AP)—Viscount Alexander, Canada's governor-general, said Friday that it was his plan and not that of Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery which the Allies used in the invasion of Sicily and Italy.

"It was my 18th army plan that was approved by Ike," said Lord Alexander. "There was no definite plan beyond taking Naples for a port and Foggia for air fields," he added. "We wanted them for a base for attacks on Ploesti."

Lord Montgomery's book criticized Allied planning for the campaign. It said the original plan for invading Sicily was "unsound," but Gen. Eisenhower finally accepted the Montgomery plan.

Wins Lincolnshire

LINCOLN, England, March 19 (Reuters)—Fair Judgment, owned by C. W. Gordon and ridden by Ephraim Smith, today won the Lincolnshire Handicap, first major event of the British flat racing season.

Farm Income Sets Record With 25 Per Cent Increase

OTTAWA, March 19—(CP).—Carried on the crest of a 20 per cent. average rise in agricultural prices, the cash income of Canadian farmers climbed to the highest figure in history last year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Friday.

Money received from sale of farm products in the Dominion was $2,449,865,000—an increase of 25 per cent. over the 1947 aggregate of $1,962,276,000, the previous high. When supplementary payments were included, cash income in 1948 mounted to $2,470,611,000, as against $1,973,853,000 the year before.

Every province shared in the gains, Ontario showing the largest absolute gain, while Manitoba registered the biggest percentage jump.

This increase in farm income could largely be attributed to rising prices and the large sums distributed by the Canadian Wheat Board and Western grain companies in the form of grain equalization and participation payments, the board reported.

During the year these payments totalled $178,590,000—representing about one-third of the 25-per-cent gain.

High levels of domestic purchasing power as a result of full employment and high wages, together with a strong world-wide demand for short supplies of producer and consumer goods, were important factors affecting the general level of agricultural prices, which averaged almost 20 per cent higher than in 1947, the bureau added.

Reviewing some of the other factors in the income jump, the bureau mentioned the increase in prices the United Kingdom agreed to pay Canada for bacon, beef, eggs and cheese. This increase, agreed upon early in 1948, sent prices for those commodities up in Canada as well.

Police Inquiry Will Resume

BELLEVILLE, March 19 —(CP)—After an adjournment since Feb. 18, Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay of the Ontario Supreme Court resumes his investigation Monday into the conduct of the Hastings county crown attorney and seven Ontario provincial police officers.

The royal commission in investigating the sweeping allegations of fraud, misconduct, perjury and maladministration of justice that 44-year-old Constable J. E. Keays made against the eight men.

The hearing was adjourned after sitting for two weeks to permit the commissioner to sit at the Toronto assizes of the Ontario Supreme Court.

Boy Archer Loses Eye

ST. THOMAS, March 19—(CP)—While playing bow and arrow with several chums three weeks ago, young Billy Paradine of nearby Eagle was shot in the eye. In spite of efforts made to save the eye, London doctors found it necessary to remove it this week to offset the possibility of the boy losing the sight of the other eye.

Truman Plan Being Organized

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, March 19 —United Nations experts today speeded work on plans to carry out President Truman's "bold new program," major project of the eighth session of the United Nations Economic and Social Council.

The 18-member Council directed economic experts to prepare detailed plans for providing technical assistance to backward countries and also to work out a program for financing economic development of retarded regions.

Canada's term on the Council ended Jan. 1. But the Dominion kept a close watch on developments in the Council through an observer, George Grande of Montreal, Secretary of Canada's Permanent Delegation here.

The delegates hope to have a preliminary program on technical aid ready for action by the General Assembly in September.

A call for "common sense and sweet reason" in future Council sessions was made, as the meeting ended by Council President James Thorn, New Zealand's High Commissioner to Canada.

Soviet Germans Get Constitution

BERLIN, March 19 — (AP). — The Communist-controlled "Peoples Council" adopted to-day a constiution for the 20,000,000 Germans living under Soviet rule. The 400-man body—established by the Soviet-picked politicians of Eastern Germany — rubber-stamped a basic law embodying Communist principles for the entire Russian zone and also the Russian sector of Berlin. The vote was unanimous.

The action was taken as a rejoinder to the Western German government being established at Bonn.

Professor Hermann Kastner, co-chairman of the Peoples Council, declared the action was "one of the most important and decisive in German history."

It made the partition of Germany virtually complete.

IT'S ALL THERE—Tax cuts, increases or whatever the 1949 federal budget contains is all here before Finance Minister Abbott as he sits at his desk polishing up the final details of his budget speech. It will all be known Tuesday, March 22, when he rises in the Commons to give his address.

Recount Rejected In Tweed Plebiscite

TORONTO, March 19 — There will be no recount of ballots marked in the liquor plebiscite held in the village of Tweed last August.

The Ontario Court of Appeals Friday quashed an appeal by a voter, Edward J. Courneya, for an authorized recount. The judgment, signed by Judges Hogg and Laidlaw, ruled the court had no jurisdiction to entertain the ap-

Draw 610 Prizes In Sweepstake

DUBLIN, March 19.—(AP).—Nurses drawing for the second day in the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes dipped into a steel drum for 610 minor prizes.

Major prize drawing were made Friday in the sweepstakes, based on the Grand National Steeplechase to be run at Aintree, near Liverpool, March 26.

Today's drawings were for 560 cash prizes of £50 ($200) each, and 50 residual prizes of £352 ($1,408).

The drawing was at Ballsbridge, Dublin suburb.

Total prize fund this year is £717,616. Friday's drawing for the big money prizes found a high proportion of North Americans holding tickets that can net them £25,000 apiece if their horse wins the Aintree classic. Ticket holders whose horse finishes second can win £10,000 each, and if the horse comes in third, £5,000.

Overcome By Fumes Revived Just In Time

WARKWORTH, March 19 — (ENS)—John Clancy, 23, was overcome by gas fumes from the exhaust pipe of the car which his brother Joseph, 25, was driving on the Campbellford - Warkworth road.

When his head began to ache so badly that he had difficulty in seeing, Joseph turned to ask his brother John to take over the wheel and found him lying unconscious.

They were taken to Warkworth by a passing car and treated by Dr. R. F. Jolliffe who said that if the fumes had been inhaled a few minutes longer, John would not have survived.

The fumes had no effect on the boys' father, Ed Clancy, who was riding in the front seat.

Quebec Bans Oleo Sale Buy In Other Provinces

QUEBEC, March 19—(CP)—Under a provincial law effective today, it is illegal to sell or purchase margarine in the province of Quebec. However, the law left the door open for margarine consumers to buy the butter substitute in another province and eat it here.

The decision to allow residents to bring the commodity into the province came as a surprise to most people who had interpreted Premier Duplessis's recent remarks on the subject as meaning the government would seek a ban on inter-provincial movement.

In Hull, Que., on the border between Quebec and Ontario police were jubilant at the announcement. They thanked the premier for taking what would have been an "impossible" task off their hands, that of searching through every car, bus and handbag in Ottawa-Hull traffic.

Premier Duplessis told his weekly press conference Friday night that the cabinet adopted an order-in-council last Wednesday bringing into force part of the legislation recently passed by the legislature.

The law provided for possession as well as manufacture and sale. The cabinet had the option of putting all or part of the legislature into effect.

The premier left the question pertaining to the importation of margarine in the hands of the federal government when he said he hoped "The federal authorities will do their duty to prevent importation. If the federal authorities do their duty we will do ours."

Oxygen Tent Saves Baby's Life In Lindsay

LINDSAY, March 19 — An oxygen tent, bought with part of a $1,000 gift from Mrs. J. Stanley McLean of Toronto, saved the life of seven-months-old Jean Howlett, at Ross Memorial Hospital, it was disclosed Friday. The infant was brought to hospital suffering from pneumonia and was blue on arrival. She was placed in the tent and immediately responded.

Dr. W. C. Blackwell, who treated the child, said she could not have survived the trip to Toronto.

Mrs. McLean, in making the gift, stipulated that part of the money be used for purchase of a much-needed oxygen tent. It was in service only a few days when the Howlett baby was brought to hospital.

Hot Arguments Develop On Control Bills

OTTAWA, March 19—(CP) — A tedious legal argument on whether a state of emergency exists in Canada and a vibrant discussion of trade policies—stemmed Friday from Commons considerations of the government's control bills.

The legal discussion developed as the Chamber again studied the the main "omnibus" bill to continue for another year 10 main wartime controls covering domestic rentals, price ceilings, timber, steel and building supply allocations.

The preliminary debates finally were concluded and the enabling bills themselves introduced and given first reading. Later, the Chamber reopened study of proposals to continue the Federal marketing board's necessary to fulfill Canada's food contracts with Britain.

The Progressive Conservatives, fighting the measure at every legislative step, continued to hammer at the Government's method of extending the controls and argue that no general emergency existed which warranted their continuation in present form.

At another point, Arthur Williams (CCF-Ontario) provoked the ire of Progressive Conservatives with the statement that he was "sick of all this stalling around" and the charge that they were making "fools of themselves" with their "filibustering" tactics.

Mr. Williams said that the Progressive Conservatives were doing "a very successful job" of holding up the business of the House.

The Progressive liked to make out they represented the people "but they cannot serve God and man." They were "flogging a dead horse."

Words Fly Around

A Progressive Conservative member interjected that Mr. Williams was "filibustering."

"Isn't that silly," retorted Mr. Williams. "This is the first time I have spoken this week and I have been up only four minutes."

He charged that the Progressive Conservatives were seeking to protect the "big interests." They, themselves, were filibustering and "putting obstacles" in the way of every member who sought to forward the business of the House.

Mr. Garson, defending the main control legislation, said it was evident most members believed a general emergency still existed in Canada since the chamber had voted 141 to 53 to go into committee on the resolution. This was indicative of their feeling on the existence of an emergency.

Several Progressive Conservatives themselves had expressed favor of rental controls, indicating they believed there was an emergency. It was the government's responsibility to handle the emergency as it saw fit.

BROTHER JOSEPH ZOETTL and his Temple at Jesusalem. In 30 years, he built a model city to preach his "Sermons in Stone".

Miniature 'Religious City' History Of Christianity

CULLMAN, Ala., — (NEA) — The history of the Christian religion, from the unfinished Tower of Babel to American citadels of the faith, will greet visitors to St. Bernard College this Easter.

Faithfully reproduced in scale model—some actually containing bits of material from the famous originals—are hundreds of the buildings that have marked the upward advance of Christianity throughout the world.

They are the labor of love of a 71-year-old Monk, Brother Joseph Zoettl, who operates the Benedictine Abbey's power plant, teaches, and for 30 years has built his "religious city" along flower-dedecked paths that lead through a four-acre park to Ave Mario Grotto.

As a lad of 14 Brother Joseph came to this country from Bavaria, and in 1892 enrolled in the then new high school at St. Bernard Abbey that since has become a junior college. Five years later he entered the monastery. Something over 30 years ago he got the idea he could teach religion through models of sacred buildings.

Most significant of his reproductions is not a building at all, but Calvary, with its three crosses. There are, among other things, the Temple at Jerusalem, measuring 61 inches across its front; Monte Cassino monastery in Italy, mother house of the Order of St. Benedict, which was bombed to rubble in World War II; the Catacombs in Rome; the Hanging Gardens of Babylon, one of the seven wonders of the ancient world; the Alamo, where gallant Texans died to the last man resisting the Mexican General Santa Anna; the Mission Dolores, built by Franciscan friars as San Francisco was just coming into existence.

These models are all set along paths lined with evergreen and rose bushes, against a backdrop of rock and forest-clad hillside. Each is built to scale in stone, concrete, tile, shell, beads. The beautiful Ave Maria Grotto, at which the paths center, features a stone figure of the Blessed Virgin.

The late Abbot Bernard Monges lived to see the first cluster of Brother Joseph's reproductions, "Little Jerusalem," on the school's recreation grounds. It inspired him to conceive the idea for the grotto, but he did not live to see Brother Joseph's fulfillment of his dream.

Good Memory Poor Asset

WINNIPEG, March 19—(CP)—People who have a good memory for telephone numbers should lose it, say authorities of the Manitoba Telephone System.

The exchanges recently switched over from five to six-digit telephone numbers, a reflection of the growing use of telephone service. The main difficulty encountered in making the change arose from the good memories of many Winnipeggers.

"They will go to the telephone and use the old number they have memorized instead of referring to the new directory," said one official.

For those subscribers whose memories need an occasional jog, the MTS has distributed 55,000 cards on which they can list the numbers they call most frequently.

Before 1939, the telephone system added 1,253 subscribers each year. During the Second World War years the number of new subscribers rose to 3,091 a year. Since 1945, it has average 4,416 a year.

There now are 22.7 telephones for every 100 persons in Winnipeg. In 1939 the ratio was 15.7.

IMPORTS NECESSARY

In normal times, British farmers are able to produce 40 per cent of the food needed for the nation.

Obituary

JAMES ROBERTSON

KEENE, March 19—James Robertson, prominent farmer of this district, died on Friday, at his home, Lot 20, Concession 2, in Otonabee Township, after a long illness. Mr. Robertson was born in Otonabee 84 years ago and had been engaged in farming there all his life.

Mr. Robertson was a son of the late Andrew Robertson and Violet Renwick. Surviving him are one daughter Mary and one son William, both at home; also three sisters, Mrs. Isabella Smithson of Kitchener, and Mrs. Margaret Dickson and Miss Elizabeth Robertson, both of Otonabee, four grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held on Monday, at 2.00 p.m. from his late residence to Westwood cemetery, Rev. George Murray of Keene United Church officiating.

Charge Labor Leader

BRANTFORD, March 19 — (CP).—William E. Stewart, international representative of the United Textile Workers of America (AFL), in the Brantford area, has been charged with reckless driving as the result of an accident early Thursday morning. The crash occurred on No. 2 Highway, two miles west of Cainsville, where a car Stewart was driving collided with the rear of a Highways Department sanding truck.

Deadline Extended For Motor Licences

Once again the deadline for purchase of 1949 motor vehicle licenses has been extended by the Ontario Department of Highways, local headquarters of the Ontario it was learned on Friday from the Provincial Police.

The police authorities announced that the deadline, previously extended to March 18, has now been further extended to midnight, March 31, according to a directive issued by the department and received by all Provincial Police detachments on Friday.

Sell 280 Houses

BRANDON, Man., March 19 — (CP) — Rated the best-quality animals ever offered at a spring sale here, 280 horses were sold Thursday for an average price of $80. The sale was conducted by the Manitoba's Horse Breeders' Association. A. Picov of Pickering was top bidder, taking 83 head.

Treasurer Frost Pinch-Hits For Kennedy

TORONTO, March 19—(CP)—Provincial Treasurer Frost, mentioned as a likely prospect for the leadership of the Progressive Conservative party in Ontario, will probably pinch-hit for Premier Kennedy for another week. Mr. Frost has acted as government leader for the last week while the premier was confined to bed with a painful face infection.

Mr. Frost has not yet declared his candidacy for the party leadership and said recently that he has not had time to consider it.

The new leader will be chosen at a provincial convention April 25-27.

Attorney-General Blackwell is the only cabinet minister who has announced he will contest the leadership. Kelso Robert, Toronto lawyer and former Progressive Conservative member of the legislature, is the only other candidate who has declared himself.

A number of government bills, including one regulating coloring of margarine, are held up pending the premier's return.

Mr. Frost has indicated there will be night sittings next week on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday in an attempt to dispose of the estimates and government bills before the end of the month. The House has held night sittings Tuesdays and Thursdays for the last three weeks.

Legislature Divided

The Legislature divided Friday 47 to 28 on amendment by W. L. Houck (Lib.-Niagara Falls) to delete a section of the Niagara Parks bill. Mr. Houck said the section would have given the parks commission "dictatorial and autocratic" powers.

The section shows the commission control over highways in the park area. Mr. Houck said the powers could be used to compel hotels and tourist homes to remove signs facing the highway.

Health Minister Kelley withdrew a bill which would allow only residents of Toronto and York township to be admitted to Toronto psychiatric hospital. Opposition members had contended that the bill would work hardship on other Ontario residents who would be deprived of the hospital's more extensive facilities.

Nationalists Hit Cabinet Snag

NANKING, March 19—(AP)—China's Nationalist government, harassed by Communist rebellion in the south and reports of Red troop movements in the north, hit more snags today in its attempt to assemble a cabinet.

Gen. Ho Ying-chin, the new premier, was at least three days behind schedule in completing his slate of ministers—and possibly losing ground. Semi - official sources said Friday Ho had only to find two more men to serve. But one official said today there was a possibility that the ambassador in Moscow, Fu Ping-chang, would back out of his appointment as foreign minister. Acting President Li Tsung-jen was in Shanghai to try to talk some influential Nationalists into accepting cabinet jobs.

The time element was important. Ho's appointment was rushed through the legislative Yuan a week ago to hasten organization of peace or more civil war. In addition, internal stability has been declining steadily.

Say Ontario Roads In Fair Condition

TORONTO, March 19—(CP) — Good driving conditions on most paved roads in Ontario were reported today by the highways department, but 50 per cent of the gravel roads were still snow-covered.

An overnight snowfalls, ranging from one to 10 inches was reported along the eastern shore of Lake Huron, including Goderich, Stratford and Kincardine. However, snowplows cleared the roads and driving conditions were nearly normal.

DISASTROUS FIRE—Loss was estimated at $2,000,000 and over 100 were madee homeless by a disastrous fire which sweept Rouyn, northern Quebec mining centre, March 17. The blaze broke out early in the morning and before it was brought under control had swept through a large portion of the main business section. This photo shows part of damage caused, with smoke pouring from one of the burning buildings.

Cheese, Produce And Livestock

HOG PRICES

TORONTO, March 19—(CP) — Hog prices at Stratford were unchanged this morning. Grade A paid $31.35 to farmers and $31.50 to truckers.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, March 19—(CP) — Produce prices on the spot market today were quoted as follows:

Churning cream unchanged, No. 1, 60 cents fob; 64 delivered. Butter prints unquoted.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, March 19—(CP)—Oats and barley futures prices took on a firmer tone on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange in a session that saw more active trading. Fair scale buying, particularly in oats, came from American houses and shippers. The same sources also produced moderately active trade in barley. Offerings were on the light side in oats but more liberal in barley.

Rye moved up for good gains, reflecting advances in this commodity on the Chicago grain market. There also was indication that a small quantity of Canadian rye had been worked for export.

All Winnipeg coarse grains closed at or near the highs for the day, for fair gains over previous closing levels.

timate published in the United States a year ago. A British parliament member recently told the Commons that Russia has 30 divisions—eight of them armored—spotted in Germany now. Other estimates run as high as 50 or 60 divisions. They far outmatch, numerically, the divisional strength of the United States, France and Britain in Western Germany.

The great and immediate danger if war came would be that the Russian divisions are reported completely equipped with fuel, ammunition and transport, ready to roll.

Despite the premium placed on air power by both sides, western strategists believe any first move by Russia probably would be a traditional land advance.

Therefore, the broad plan for phase 1 of a possible war has been built on the idea of a Rhine river holding line, with successive positions westward if that line failed.

In the air, the western powers would reply to any Russian aggression with heavy bomber strikes against Russian cities and munitions production.

Scientists At Atomic Plants Studying Cancer Research

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP) —Atomic scientists plan to study some radioactive "quickies" as possible treatments for cancer. These quickies are ray-emitting substances which can be produced in atomic energy plants as by-products of the "burning" of uranium.

Their ray-emitting power is short-lived. The practical radiating power is gone in a matter of seconds, minutes, hours, or days, depending upon the substance.

They are such will-o'-the-wisps in the radiation sense that it is impossible or impractical to distribute them to researchers around the country to see whether their rays could be used safely and effectively against cancer.

So the Atomic Energy Commission has a plan to set up clinical cancer research hospitals right near the places where the quickies are produced. The idea will be to have cancer cass brought to these places so that if any of the short-lived radioactive substances show promise they can be used before their rays "decay."

One such hospital already is being built at AEC's Argonne National Laboratory, Chicago. Others are planned at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and at the Brookhaven plant, Long Island, N.Y.

The short radiating careers of the quickie substances are in contract with those of various other radioactive substances produced in atomic plants. Some of these latter substances have radiating lives ranging from months to thousands of years.

Important "Long-Liver"

One of the most important of these long-livers is carbon-14, which has a "half life" of more than 5,000 years. That means that in 5,000 years, one half of its radiating power will have been lost through "decay," in another 5,000 years one half of the remaining radiation will have been lost and so on.

(Radium, which is a naturally-occurring radioactive substance, has a half life of 1,600 years.)

But some substances that radiate power have rays that are far too penetrating for safe use. Some others have rays that aren't penetrating enough. Still others —arsenic for example—ar poisonous in themselves. Some others have too long a radiating power for internal use in effective quantities — carbon-14, for example.

(Although radium is sometimes allowed to remain in body tissue, it is not radium in the form that has a half life of 1,600 years. A gas called radon, a breakdown product of radium, is used. It has a radiating life of only 133 hours; hence it is safe to leave it in tissues in certain cases.)

For some time, the Atomic Energy Commission has been distributing three substances free of charge to cancer investigators.

These are: Iodine-13, which has shown promise in the treatment of cancer of the thyroid and has a radiating half life of eight days; phosphorus-32, which can modify —but not cure—leukemia. It's half life is a little over 14 days; sodium-24, which has a half life of slightly more than 14 hours. A drawback to sodium is that, unlike iodine and phosphorus, which tend to concentrate in particular areas of the body, it becomes distributed pretty generally.

Swedish Capital Hushed City

By WILLIAM BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

STOCKHOLM, March 19 (CP)—Over Stockholm hangs a hush that is almost eerie to western ears.

The swish of electric buses is the loudest street noise. Automobile horns are banned.

Even the bars are quiet. Tables are set at decorous intervals. Drinks must be accompanied by food, if only a sandwich. Women get smaller drinks than men and service stops when a patron has bought a government-prescribed limit—unless he leaves the bar and returns.

Livelier are the teetotal cafe-dance spots which charge a fancy $1.25 for biscuits and tea or coffee. Customers go individually. All are expected to dance, and the number of each sexes admitted is kept equal.

Streamlined street-cars run in three-car trains. Married women and their children get free transportation for one holiday trip a year on the near-silent electrified railways.

Builds First Subway

Stockholm is building its first subway line. Sveabegen, a main thoroughfare, has been excavated to 50 feet, the railway system is being laid and then the whole street will be packed back around it and repaved. The line should be completed in 1952.

Swedish meals begin with small servings of herring and boiled postoes. One explanation is that this stimulates the appetite, another that the habit formed during a famine when there was nothing else to eat.

Swedes like Russians, toast one another frequently during meals, but the visitor never "skols" his his host or hostess in case they become incapable of carrying on.

Most downtown barber shops have women barbers. Men sometimes are seen under driers after receiving permanent waves, perhaps a result of the female influence.

Swedes can pay virtually any type of bill at the post office, including the rent, and store, hospital, doctor and dentist bills.

Manitoba Plans Big Projects

By The Canadian Press

Manitoba plans this year to hunt for oil and natural gas, survey its waterpower resources, expand its timberland protection facilities and open thousands of acres of new agricultural lands.

The program was revealed Friday in the Manitoba Legislature by Resources Minister J. S. McDiarmid, who said it is the largest project of investigation and development ever undertaken in the province. Mr. McDiarmid introduced 1949-50 estimates of $2,357,243, an increase of 1948-49 of about $300,000.

He said Manitoba's 1948 mineral production valued at $26,768,000, was the highest in the province's history. Three new mines were added to the list of producers.

Mrs. Harold Cathcart Dies In Hospital

Bertha Armstrong Cathcart, beloved wife of Harold Cathcart, ex-reeve of Cavan township died in hospital Friday evening after several months illness. Born in North Monaghan Mrs. Cathcart has spent her entire life in the Springville district. She was a member of the Springville United Church and for years took a prominent part in WMS and church activities.

Daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong, Mrs. Cathcart is survived by her sorrowing husband, two daughters, Mrs. Lorne White (Dorothy), Port Hope, and Miss Mayme Cathcart, teacher at the Queen Elizabeth School, Peterborough; three sons, Manson, Donald and Harley at home, and one niece Miss Mildred Brown of Springville.

The funeral will be held on Monday at 2.30 p.m. from the family residence, Springville, with burial in Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. Dr. C. S. Reddick and Rev. James Semple will officiate.

New Technique Used To Boost Film With Fans

By BOB THOMAS

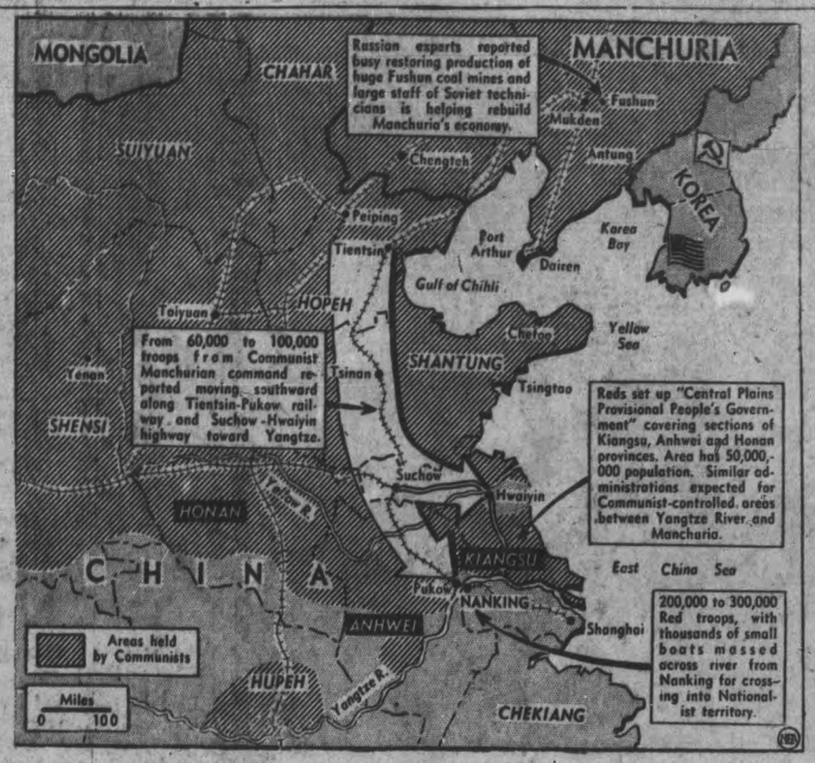
HOLLYWOOD, March 19 (AP)—When a reporter interviews a press agent, that should be news.

Press agent—known by their own dignified term as publicists or more vulgarly as flacks, drum-beaters, tub-thumpers, horn-tooters or blurb-artists—are the guys who try to get you in to see a movie.

Lately Hollywood has been watching one of the most effective publicity campaigns since Jane Rusell and the search for Scarlett O'Hara. It concerns a low-budget picture called "Champion."

It hasn't even been seen by the public, but already it has (1) become one of the most talked-about films in recent years (2) won a $1,000,000 contract at Warners for its star, Kirk Douglas; (3) landed a long-term deal with Goldwyn for its director, Mark Robson.

For insight into this important phase of the industry, I sought out the campaign's creator, stubby, baldish George Glass, a Krupa among movie drum-beaters.



"This campaign was in 'inside-outer'," he confided via the phone from New York. "It is a dangerous type because you have to be sure what you're selling will go over."

Private Showings

"When the picture was over, I arranged for private showing to important people. They liked the film and enthused to their friends. This sort of thing is catching and soon everybody was talking."

This is unlike the usual publicity campaign, which is based on "mass penetration." That means that press agents fire every kind of ammunition at all mediums—newspapers, magazines, radio and so on—with the hope that some of the pellets will hit the target: the movie goer.

"Overselling is becoming more and more dangerous," said Glass. "The public is getting too sharp. You can't tell them something is colossal and stupendous when it's merely terrific."

CHINESE REDS put heat on Nanking as Ho Ying-Chin, Nationalist China's premier, struggles to form a new cabinet, ominous Communist troop movement indicate Reds are ready to put more squeeze on the Nanking government to force an early surrender. Map shows how Communists are concentrating large forces near the National capital. In addition, a regional Communist government has been established in areas of three provinces just across the Yangtze River from Nanking.

City Will Pay Off By 1951 $1,200,000 In Debentures

By the end of 1951 Peterborough's sinking fund debentures now amounting to $1,400,000 will be reduced to only $200,000. This was one of the details of local municipal finances reported to the private bills committee of the Legislature by the city's deputation.

The deputation in asking that the City Trust be permitted to use some of it surplus money to buy land for a site for new City Hall, said: "The city auditor, Edward Humpage, has reported that the City Trust has in surplus money more than $115,000 in liquid funds, plus $35,000 invested in lands and buildings. The city owns properties worth more than $150,000, which are not required for municipal purposes.

"The city was given by bequest $500,000 to erect a new city hall, such a building being sorely needed. A site for this new building been selected. Its estimated cost is $175,000."

"Unless the surplus moneys in the sinking fund reserve are used to purchase the new city hall site, the City Trust will be in the position of having more than double the amount of money required to meet its sinking fund requirements after 1951. By using these surplus moneys, as requested in the private bill, the city overcomes the need of issuing debentures to buy the city hall site.

"At the same time, the difficulty of having to divide among the various organizations who might make a claim for a share of the surplus moneys after 1951 is completely overcome."

All Agree to Proposal

That was a reference to the probability that eventually in the ordinary procedure, the city council, the Utilities Commission and Board of Education might have been claimants for proportionate distribution of the residue when the City Trust has come to the end of its days.

"All there organizations, with the City Trust and council, have agreed that this proposal is completely acceptable to them, and is a wise action. This action can only be taken with the passing of the necessary legislation as provided in the bill.

The statements to the Legislature included the following balance sheet of the City Trust at Dec. 31, 1948:

Assets: bank accounts: $216,183.97; investments in Dominion and provincial bonds, (par value) $616,000; investments—City of Peterborough debentures (par value) $719,370.20; investments in Peterborough properties $34,371.94: Total $1,585,926.11.

Liabilities: Accounts payable $500; sinking fund reserve (as required by bylaws). $1,134,553,04; surplus in sinking fund, $450,873.07. Total—$1,585,926.11.

An amount of $300,000 of the above surplus has been pledged to the Civic Hospital building fund.

While no recent market valuation has been compiled, it is estimated that the present market value of investments would be at least $35,000 in excess of book value.

Have To Ration Coal

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., March 19—(AP)—Coal was rationed Friday in the heart of the United States coal mining region as a result of the two-week mine shutdown decreed by John L. Henry Dierks, vice-president and general manager of the Glen Alden Company said in many cases a doctor's certificate was necessary to keep distribution within bounds.

To Preserve Field For School Athletics

OMEMEE, March 19 (ENS)—The motion of February last year concerning the transfer by deed of gift of the athletic field to the Board of Education was amended by Omemee Athletic Association at the Association's annual meeting in the council chamber this week. It now reads "that the athletic field be deeded to the Board of Education to be held and maintained by them in perpetuity for educational purposes and as a playing field for the use of all school pupils and for the youth of the village."

The reports of the treasurer revealed the Association's receipts during the year were $259.34 and there was a balance of $199.36.

On motion of A. W. Stephenson and G. Mitchell $35 was granted to the Board of Education for the purchase fo a javelin, a 14 ft. aluminum vaulting pole, and two sets of horseshoes. At the suggestion of C. H. Bent and Mrs. H. Overholt $35 was granted to the Kinsmen's Children Playground Fund, to be made available and held until such time as the Kinsmen request its payment.

The following officers were re-elected: President, S. R. Widdis; secretary, L. M. Curtis; treasurer, C. H. Bent.

Police Commission Defers Decision

TORONTO, March 19—(CP)—After a two-hour hearing in camera Friday the police commission deferred decision on the neglect of duty charge against Constable Alfred Mullis.

The charge arose from the double fatality at a Canadian National Railways level crossing here a week ago.

Mullis was suspended from the force and the charge laid because of his alleged failure to follow up a complaint from two sisters of Leo Jenkins, the crossing guard, that he had been drinking. Jenkins faces a criminal negligence charge.

125 Redskins Hit Pay Gold, One Lone Wolf

A total of 925 foxes have fallen to Peterborough hunters and trappers since the bounty was placed on them beginning January 1 Altogether 126 bounties were claimed this week.

Carl Northey of Harvey was the top marksman of the week with a bag of 19 red foxes. Next was George Coppaway, Curve Lake Reserve, with 16.

One wolf was shot by Bruce Graham of RR 3, Hastings, in Asphodel.

The list of those who claimed fox bounties this week is as follows: Carman English, Smith, two shot in Smith; Sampson Taylor, Peterborough, 1 shot in Otonabee and Douro; Carman C. Payne, Lakefield, one shot in Douro; Howard Brown, Havelock, one shot in Belmont; Charles Shaw, Galway, six shot in Galway; Neil Whittington, North Monaghan, two shot in North Monaghan and Otonabee; Howard Robinson, Smith, one shot in Smith; William A. What Does "Choice" Mean

When we say that the cost of funeral service at Comstock's is left to the family's choice, what do we mean?

First, we mean that the family makes its selection without influence from us. Even more important is that Comstock's have a large price range from which to choose . . . over twenty different choices in price.

Thus the word "choice" has a definite meaning at Comstock's, enabling you to arrange exactly as planned—secure in the knowledge that whatever funeral you choose, you receive our utmost in service and the full use of our facilities.

Queen's Park Cuts Down On The Libraries

It is not good news to learn that the government of Ontario, through the Department of Education, has cut its grants to the public libraries of the province. Although it is budgeting for a surplus, the government has chosen to save $100,000 on a service which we believe to be of great importance to the whole of Ontario. According to a plan which was put into action in 1946, municipalities have been encouraged to support their libraries more generously, and in Peterborough the City Council has doubled its grant to the local library in the past three years. But the province has not been keeping its part of the bargain; grants to public libraries have never risen above 90 per cent. of what was promised, and this year they have dropped to 80 per cent. of that sum. The loss to the Peterborough Public Library is $1,500—a large sum to an institution which must budget its expenses with great care.

* * *

It would be interesting to know the reason for this economy, if it can be called an economy to skimp on an important educational service. Has Ontario ever been more prosperous than she is at present? Has the government of Ontario ever been more generous with a wide variety of schemes, some of them untried and of doubtful wisdom? And, in a budget which runs into millions, is this saving of $100,000 going to make a very great difference?

* * *

We boast a great deal in Ontario about our educational services, and in comparison with some of the less fortunate Canadian provinces we do very well. But there are other standards of comparison which do not throw such a rosy light upon us. And when, in the educational and recreational field, the government can find money for a variety of crack-brained fads, it is shameful that a service of proven and solid worth, like the library service, should be pinched and skimped.

Protocol

One of the divisions of the Department of External Affairs mentioned last Saturday in these columns is the Protocol Division. As the Annual Report of the Department of External Affairs explains, it deals with "all matters of diplomatic protocol, precedence, privileges and immunities. It arranges the accrediting of Canadin diplomatic and consular representatives abroad and of similar representatives of other countries in Canada. It arranges for visits to Canada of foreign heads of state and extends to them government hospitality. It deals with foreign honours and awards".

Protocol itself, in one of its diplomatic meanings made precise by the French many years ago, is the formulary of the etiquette to be observed by the Head of the State in official ceremonies and the like. For instance, when our Governor-General and his Lady visited Brazil last year the Protocol Division had a hand in the arrangements, which were complicated by the fact that Viscount Alexander had been officially invited by the Brazilian Government "as former Supreme Commander of the Allied Forces in the Mediterranean Theatre, under whose command the Brazilian Expeditionary Force fought in the last war". That was the way the invitation was worded, but Viscount Alexander did not shed his role as Governor-General and Commander-in-Chief of Canada on his visit last June. He was accorded honours both as former commander in Italy and as Head of State in Canada. The visit was a great success, and made for good relations between Canada and Brazil.

Protocol extends along many avenues. What Ambassador is received first? Who sits where at a state dinner? How does a municipality receive a Governor-General? What sort of formalities must be arranged when the Prime Minister is officially received by cities like Montreal and Windsor, as Mr. St. Laurent was during the last three weeks? We note, by the way, the comment by the Windsor Star that Mr. St. Laurent was so abundantly welcomed and so busy during his brief visit to Windsor last week, that the hospitable officials and groups showed a great regard for the Prime Minister, but little for his human frame. Official receptions are likely to be very strenuous for the official visitor.

The reception of Lord Bessborough, former Governor-General by the reeve of a small place in the Ottawa valley some years ago had little to do with protocol. As Lord and Lady Bessborough stepped off the train, the reeve greeted him politely. Then he eyed Lady Bessborough and said "And I suppose this is the Missus".

There have been changes in protocol in Ottawa during the last year. High Commissioners from the Dominions henceforth take precedence as if they had had the rank of Ambassador when they first arrived in Ottawa. Formerly, they had no diplomatic recognition of the kind, because they were regarded not as Excellencies accredited from a foreign Government, but family representatives. The other notable change is that the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs on behalf of the Governor-General recognizes consular officers appointed to Ottawa. Formerly the British Government was an intermediary. When the notice of appointment is received, an exequatur (this Latin word means 'he may perform') constituting Canada's formal recognition, is issued under the signature of the Governor-General acting for the King.

Protocol is the framework within which diplomats move, the gloves at international tea-parties.

Beret Banter

A British Member of Parliament, Mr. Alan Gomme-Duncan, has denounced the army beret. He says that it makes the army look sloppy. The Ottawa Citizen rushes to the defence of the beret and argues that Mr. Gomme-Duncan has put the cap on the wrong head: too often it is the army that makes the beret look sloppy.

We sympathize with this view of the beret. On the right heads it looks stunning, and there are more right heads for berets than for the old wedge caps which tormented Canadian soldiers at the first of the war. The chief virtue of the wedge caps was that some of the wedge could be undone to form ear-flaps. The appearance in this guise was even worse than when a soldier flattened its ridge into a cup over his skull. Frenchmen and French-Canadian civilians wear berets with style. Skiers look dashing in them. Why not soldiers?

As any woman knows, even the best-designed hats can be shockers on some people's heads. It is not astonishing that the beret looked poorly, or was worn badly by some of the tens of thousands of soldiers. But on the whole, the beret was comely, was worn with savoir faire, and was a comfortable, convenient headgear.

Armoured troops had long been equipped with them when (because they looked so well, or because of envy of soldiers in other arms still parading uneasily in the wedge cap) the British War Office decided to deck all heads in the beret. Canada followed suit—or rather the cap. Canadians serving in the British Eighth Army in Italy were somewhat out of reach of the Canadian clothing depots when the new order of things was ordained. So British berets were supplied them. What a day that was! The British berets were cross-breeds between berets and balmorals, and in stiff, inferior-looking cloth. On the head they looked like umbrellas for donkeys' ears. Many of our troops shamefacedly wore them until outside the range of an officer, and then buried them in Italian cow-sheds. Soon our own good, well-designed berets appeared and the Canadian soldiers strutted like peacocks over their British brethren in pancakes.

It would be a pity now to discard this soldierly, durable and decent topping which the Canadian army (and Britishers, too, for they changed their style) exalted in foreign fields. Nor do we think it necessary to have a distinctive Canadian Army head-gear, as the Ottawa Citizen suggests. Let Australia have its "digger" hat, New Zealand its boy-scoutish one, but let us keep the beret, along with our British comrades.

NOTE AND COMMENT

We read that the horse is returning to favour for delivery work. This should create more stable employment.

A columnist says that our grandparents got along without vitamins. Yes, and a peep into the family album proves that they looked it.

Scientists have now discovered that shrimps can change their sex. Well, we've known Canadian shrimps whose wives wore the pants.

The speed of the earth's rotation is decreasing, and an astronomer says that in a billion years the days will be twice as long. Just the right size, in fact, for our day's work.

Diary Of A Man Of Fashion

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Train travel this afternoon, and observed women near me who seemed to be having a good time in the rather shrieky way of women who think that they are being watched by men. There were five of them, ranging in age from the fifties to the late 'teens, and they were intent upon a series of private jokes about "Him" and "Her"—apparently relatives or acquaintances. They whooped and sizzled and giggled in such a way as to attract the attention of the whole car; from time to time they would ostentatiously try to sober themselves, and then some irresistible recollection would send them off into new fits. In an earlier age I suppose they would have had hysterics; hysterics are no longer fashionable, but in our grandmother's day they were a sign of the onset of womanhood, like lowering the skirts and putting up the hair. A girl's first hysterics was a landmark, like a boy's first shave.

✧ ✧ ✧

MONDAY: This is the time of year when I wish that life were a little more like the stories in the Arabian Nights. The outdoor world is quite bereft of colour; the beauty of winter has gone, and the beauty of spring has not yet come. Canadian architecture, that dose of aggravated acne on the face of Nature, looks its worst in the bleak light of March. Everyone I meet is pale, tired and thoroughly sick of the winter. There seems to be no charm, no promise, anywhere.... And yet this morning I received a cheque from the Government, giving me back some of the money they pinched from me during the war, and this brightened my day, for it was a happening so fabulous, so contrary to all experience or expectation, that it might have happened to Sinbad, or Ali Baba. When Governments take money, it is gone for good; true, they pretend to return it in the form of C.B.C. programs, and copies of Hansard which they send me for nothing, but I am indifferent to such bribes. This was real money, with which I can buy what I like. I can even pay some of this year's Income Tax with it. My wish for Arabian Nights' happenings has not been fulfilled on a grand scale, but this is a creditable, Ottawa-style approximation.

✧ ✧ ✧

TUESDAY: To see the film of "Hamlet" again tonight and while I waited for it to begin I mourned over the dilapidations of the theatre in which I sat. The public had stubbed cigarettes on the woodwork, and ground them into the carpets; they had knocked bits out of the walls, dug knives into the panelling and written their names on the plaster. A man who has a movie house told me that he kept an aquarium of tropical fish in his lobby for a time, but people threw refuse into it, and once he caught a customer filling her fishbowl with his specimens. Why, I wonder, are people so destructive? What pleasure does it give them to make dirty whatever is clean, and to deface whatever is fair? Is there, deep in the heart of Everyman, a strain of anarchy which makes him hack and scribble and burn in movie houses, steal from hotels, and whittle and chip at public monuments? Or is this characteristic only of an active minority? Here is something for psychologists to get their teeth into.

✧ ✧ ✧

WEDNESDAY: Went to a Fashion Show this evening to see what women would be wearing in 1949. I myself wore an outfit which I expect that many men will favour during the coming year. It was a dark, three-piece ensemble with a plunging neckline which reveals, when I lean forward, the pen-and-pencil accessories with which the dainty waistcoat is embellished. Informality is the keynote of the costume, accentuated by the extra fullness at the knees and the high gloss on the bosom of the trousers. With this I wore wool socks, with inserts of contrasting yarns, and conservative shoes of scuffed calf. For outdoor wear I put a topcoat over this ensemble, which presents a pleasing contrast of napped and napless cloth in the same colour, and complete the effect with a nat in the classic Canadian, or "pot de chambre" style. This is what is called a Basic Costume, suitable for office wear and, by the addition of a clean shirt and handkerchief, suitable also for dinners, dancing and social engagements.

✧ ✧ ✧

THURSDAY: Looking through my pocket notebook today I discovered that it contained much valuable information which I had overlooked, including a list of antidotes for common poisons. Jumped slightly when I discovered "hartshorn" listed as a poison, with an antidote of vinegar in water. My amazement was caused by the circumstance that as a child I could never distinguish between "hartshorn" and "horehound" and until this day I imagined them to be the same thing. But hartshorn is a nasty ammonia extracted from the horns of deer, whereas horehound is a nasty flavouring extracted from a harmless herb. As an infant I was wont to trot into druggists with five cents in my chubby palm to ask for hartshorn candy; what would my amazement have been if the chemist had taken me at my word! I would soon have been writhing upon the floor pleading—perhaps in vain—for vinegar and water. What unsuspected perils beset us, all the days of our lives!

✧ ✧ ✧

FRIDAY: I am beginning to have a violent dislike for the phrase "good taste". So often it means whatever is inoffensive, meagre, drab, half-dead and inconsiderable. Whatever is "good taste" appeals to those who need sets of rules to guide them, having no real or cultivated taste of their own. "Good taste" is socialism in aesthetics—a scheme to establish a norm to which everyone can do lip service, and to outlaw or discommode those who have tastes which are real, individual and valid.

✧ ✧ ✧

SATURDAY: A man of socialist opinions lectured me quite severely this afternoon about Progress; the world, he insisted, is getting better and better, in spite of the indifference and ingratitude of the bulk of mankind, including myself. I suppose he is right. Nobody likes change or improvement until they have grown used to it. When running water was first installed in London the old-style water-carriers strode through the streets with their buckets and yokes, roaring "Fresh new-drawn river water; none of your pipe-sludge!" and were cheered by the populace... But the kingdom of my socialist friend is all too depressingly the kingdom of this world. In spite of all the Progress in sanitation, housing and diet which I see and approve, there has not been much improvement in the thinking and conduct of mankind during the past century. The physical squalor is disappearing, but the intellectual squalor remains.... This conversation made a solemn and depressing end to the week, but solemnity and depression is an inescapable part of the socialist creed; it is political Calvinism, nervous and mistrustful of unregulated mirth.

WELL WORTH THE PRICE

Villars Or Nastradin Hotza?

(KINGSTON WHIG-STANDARD)

DREW Pearson, widely-known Washington columnist, recently stated that someone had sent the White House a story about a Mohammedan village philosopher named Nastradin Hotza, whose wise sayings have become a by-word in the Middle East among Christians, Mohammedans and Jews, according to the writer of the letter. It seems that Nastradin was once invited to deliver the Friday evening prayer before the Sultan's representative; he mounted the minaret, raised his arms toward heaven, and said: "Almighty Allah, I pray help this humble servant of yours to live according to thy law, and guide his foosteps in the path of righteousness. Above all, O Allah, I pray protect me from my friends." Worshippers later inquired by Nastradin why he did not ask Allah to protect him from his enemies, as was the usual custom in Mohammedan prayers. Nastradin replied: "I can protect myself from my enemies, but only Allah can protect me from my friends."

Since President Truman not long ago called Mr. Pearson a name Wister's Virginian insisted should always be accompanied by a smile, after Mr. Pearson had criticized one of Mr. Truman's cronies, we can imagine the columnist's concern about protecting the President from his friends. But why should those who sent the letter drag in some obscure personage to credit with a wise saying, when at least two well known figures said substantially the same thing?

In 1899, Lafcadio Hearn wrote that "My friends are much more dangerous than my enemies", and during the reign of Louis XIV, Marshal Villars once said "Defend me from my friends; I can defend myself from my enemies", when taking leave of the monarch. It may be that Hearn cribbed from Villars and that the great Marshal of France cribbed from Nastradin Hotza, for many wise sayings have come out of the East and have been later credited to Westerners. In this instance, however, we are inclined to suspect that the reverse has occurred.

Unconsidered Trifles

A guard from the lunatic asylum rushed up to a farmer and said, "I'm looking for an escaped lunatic. Did he pass this way?"

The farmer puffed thoughtfully on his pipe and asked, "What does he look like?"

"He's very short," said the guard, "and he's very thin, and he weighs eighteen stone."

The farmer looked at him in amazement. "How can a man be short and thin and still weigh eighteen stone?" he asked.

"Don't look so surprised," said the guard angrily. "I told you he was crazy."

If the quality and nature of restaurant fare varies in different parts of the country, so does the language in which it is characterized.

In a small roadside cafe, a tourist ordered from the simple bill of fare, ham, eggs, cornbread and coffee.

An ancient waiter took his order and shuffled off to the kitchen. In a little while he returned.

"Boss," said he, "how do you want dem eggs—blind, or lookin' up at ye?"

One sister is just crazy about school. The other and younger one is, to put it mildly, considerably less enthusiastic.

The other day the older sister suggested, "Let's play school."

"All right," replied the younger one, grudgingly, "but let's play I'm absent."

Love's young dream had come to Mary, and she was telling Marjorie all about it.

"And then," she finished, a soft light in her blue eyes, "he said he would lay the earth at my feet."

But the light in Marjorie's grey eyes was on the hard side.

"Sounds all right," she commented, "but it's not very practical. You have the earth at your feet already; what you want is a roof over your head."

Jones had started country travelling for a new firm, and departed in high spirits.

His letters to the firm during the first week were full of hope and promise. There were chances of orders here, there and everywhere, but he had not got them yet. He told the manager in each letter that the promises were feathers in his cap.

Eventually he ran short of money and wired for some to pay his fare home.

He received the reply: "In each letter you say you have earned another feather. Suggest you string them together and fly home."

Bible Message

And a woman having an issue of blood twelve years, which had spent all her living upon physicians, neither could be healed of any, came behind him, and touched the border of his garment: and immediately her issue of blood stanched.

And Jesus said, Who touched me? When all denied, Peter and they that were with him said, Master, the multitude throng thee and press thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me? And Jesus said, Somebody hath touched me: for I perceive that virtue is gone out of me.

And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and falling down before him, she declared unto him before all the people for what cause she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately.

And he said unto her, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace. (Luke 8: 43-48.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Then he called his twelve disciples together and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases. And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick....And they departed, and went through the towns, preaching the gospel, and healing every where....

And the apostles, when they were returned, told him all that they had done. And he took them, and went aside privately into a desert place belonging to the city called Bethsaida. And the people, when they knew it, followed him: and he received them, and spake unto them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that had need of healing. (Luke 9: 1, 2, 6, 10, 11.)

WORKERS GAIN

The cut in the wages of General Motors employees resulting from a drop in living costs since October 15 is only two cents an hour, and the workers can look forward to a more than offsetting three-cent increase at the end of May under the "standard of living improvement" clause in U.A.W.'s contract with G.M. The present reduction follows a three-cent increase under the cost-of-living formula last September based on a preceding rise in living costs. So on net balance the workers have gained, not lost, by agreeing to quarterly adjustments of wages with reference to changes in living costs.—Washington Post.

PETERBOROUGH PERSONALITIES

Principal Finds Fun and Ease In Paint An Interview With Sketcher C. S. Browne

By A. J. THOMAS

Amateur painters do not blush unseen. In fact, the only way they can blush (with pride over their work, of course) is in public. And so we in Peterborough can view numerous amateur exhibitions during the year, to our pleasurable interest. There are several groups of painters around town, and all told probably a hundred persons in them. One such group is the Men's Sketch Club which held its thirteenth annual show last week. When I saw their work, and much good work too, I wondered what manner of man paints for a hobby. This interview with C. S. Browne was an attempt to find out.

Mr. Browne is a member of the Men's Sketch Club. He was selected for the interview, which he agreeably granted, not because he is the best painter of the group, the most experienced, or the most typical. Painters do not seem to run in types, and gone are the days when they affected long hair and smocks. Mr. Churchill is an amateur painter. So is the Viscount Alexander, our Governor-General. There is nothing typical or ordinary about these men. Perhaps a clue to the character of the amateur painter is that they are not ordinary men.

For instance, Mr. Browne is Principal of the Peterborough Collegiate. The interview took place in his office. There was nothing unusual about the office save its rather severe furnishings and one small oil painting poised impermanently on a filing cabinet. This landscape, Mr. Browne explained, was a gift to the school by its painter, A. J. Casson, a personal acquaintance, a member of the Group of Seven, and this year's President of the Royal Canadian Academy. Principal Browne sat at his desk during the interview, looking less tall, less severe, and less old to his his interviewer than he did twenty years ago as mathematics teacher.

I remarked that many of his landscapes were of the Haliburton area. "Yes", he said, "I do most of my sketching in the Hall's Lake district where I have a summer place". Hall's Lake is along the Minden-Dorset highway. He must find, I said, that the long summer holidays were a boon. He told me in his careful, slow speech that he finds time to take only three weeks "Schools do not open in September without preparations and planning. A school principal is busier during the summer than at any other time of the year".

Mr. Browne goes north on occasional autumn week-ends and some of his lake scenes are the fruit of such trips. His contenance lighted up the way it did when the senior P. C. I. rugby team—which he used to coach—played a fair-fought, good game, as he spoke of the Haliburton scene it its autumn colouring. "Most magnificent sight in the world. . .I've seen the Rockies and the Grand Canyon but there really is nothing as beautiful". Many people delight in such a scene but few try to set it down in paint. Why had he?

"I've always been interesed in painting but started to paint only thirteen years ago. When I was younger I never lived in a big enough place to get instruction or encouragement". School bells jangled an interruption. The Principal probably noted them automatically, but to one unused to the sound they were disconcerting. I held a breath, waiting for a furore of changing classes in the halls, but heard nothing at all. How can a thousand pupils move classrooms so quietly? Probably some methodical arrangement has been worked out by the methodical Principal, the man opposite me whose hobby is painting and whose only nervous mannerism as he sat across from me was to finger a pencil. I noted that he held it the way a painter does when he is making a sketch—finger not around the stem but along side it.

He went on as if there had been no interruption to say that when he moved to larger places he became busy and that anyway his spare time was taken up with athletics. But there came a time, he admitted, when sports—even golf—may be too energetic pastimes.

When the Men's Sketch Club was formed C. S. Browne joined it, thirteen years ago. Some of the original members had already a developed skill, and these men who used to sketch "in a lonesome sort of way" then worked as a group and learned from each other. The companionship was stimulating but the mutual criticism was not. It was, said Mr. Browne, too polite. So the Club decided to hold annual exhibitions where their work would be open to public criicism. It is now a condition of membership that a member must exhibit two new paintings each year.

"C. S." began with water-colour but quickly found it too difficult a medium for a beginner and changed to oils. He has had three lessons in painting in his life. These were from Franz Johnston who at one time held a summer camp-school and gave hints on painting to those who attended. M.. Browne said that he was almost 100 per cent. self-taught "as far as person teaches himself anything. We are always influenced by what we see". This was the man with a brush talking.

Another might have said that we are influenced by our environment.

Had he read and studied books about the technique of painting? Yes, he said, and admitted that the ability to read was an advantage for that reason.

Mr. Browne's sketches are not daringly rough or impressionistic so I asked him what he thought about modern abstractions and non-representational painting, expecting harsh words. He was surprisingly sympathetic toward them, but warned me that he was preparing a paper to read the Fortnightly Club, and that if I were not careful in my questioning I should find myself subjected to an hour's lecture. However, I persevered courageously and found his remarks interesting.

Abstract painting is quite new—an art form only fory years old, its offshoot, non-objective painting, (which Piet Mondrian and Vasily Kandinsky are generally conceded to have originated, independently of each other) dates only from about 1915. Mr. Browne remarked that abstraction was the only source of new design. (One could, of course make a realistic drawing of a new thing like an atomic bomb.) For a minute he reverted to his pedagogic role and talked of the new methods of art instruction in our schools. He said that today's students were being instructed to appreciate the art of abstraction, an idiom with which they would be familiar when they left school, but which many of the older generation found meaningless.

He said that there was generally distortion in art. "Have you ever looked at the Lift Lock? Do you know that it is wider than it is high? When Joseph Tattersall of our Club was doing the painting of it which is now in the office of the General Manager of the Examiner, he distorted deliberately. He made the Lift Lock higher than it is wide. . .because that is the way it seems to be, even if it isn't. It is false, but it is true to the idea." When a man begins to sketch a landscape, he naturally puts in what interests him. He leaves out what does not. With such arguments, Mr. Browne made his point.

Of Canadian painting generally he said that "Canadians get effect and then stop before they lose it". He thought this accounted for the apparent roughness of Canadian painting. Only the very competent can work over a painting and not lose the freshness. Amateurs rarely can.

Mr. Browne does some indoor "studio" work based on sketches done in the open, but prefers to finish the job completely on the spot. He does not attempt portraits and said that the only member of the Club who had specialized in portraits was Adrian Macdonald, former English Master at the Normal School. To the question whether he had attempted self-portraits, he smiling said: "That would be the last thing I would attempt. I would want a better subject".

He has seen only reproductions of Winston Churchill's work. One, a landscape named, he thought, the Loop River, was really of Riviere du Loup in Quebec. . . .where the loup means wolf. (Churchill is notorious for his bad French.) "Churchill carrie. more equipment than I do. He gets a picture every time, but it is not always art".

Is painting an expensive hobby? Mr. Browne said it could be but need not be. He has a painting box, the cover of which is his easel. One season he and another amateur painter decided to work on a limited palate: white and the three primary colours (red, yellow and blue) from which all other can be made. "You can get along on an initial outlay of five dollars", he said. No need to buy canvas. Mr. Browne uses beaverboard, which he finds quite inexpensive.

Is it a relaxing hobby? Very definitely. Painting has its problems—to set down what the sketcher sees in the way he sees it. "Every time you try to do a landscape it presents unsolved problems, and you can't be thinking of anything outside it". So all your other worries disappear. "Your either forget your worries or you cannot sketch." That, it seemed to me, was a strong recommendation of the hobby. Mr. Browne said that "a comfortable chair is a very important thing in sketching", and also commented on the benefits derived from being out-of-doors and away from books.

Is it an annoying, aggravating hobby? What about the man whose skill is not equal to what he wants to put down? Mr. Browne said that the standards upon which an amateur works develop with his skill. "So you are pretty happy about the whole thing from the start, although you wouldn't for the world admit it to anybody."

Do you have to have a special temperament and knack, in order to become an amateur painting? Not at all. According to him, anyone at any age can paint. "As long as a person can sit up in a chair and use his fingers he can enjoy this hobby of sketching".

Bells clanged again in the school halls. Again there was quiet, but the bells indicated that I had already taken an hour of a busy Principal's school time.

Mr. Browne's talk seemed to belie the assumption made at the beginning of these notes that an amateur painter is a sort of unusual man. However, the object of the interview was, it must be confessed, not to depict an unusual man, but a prominent citizen of Peterborough who has a hobby outside the ordinary routine of the work-a-day world.

Twenty years ago a substantial Peterburian who admitted that he painted pictures might have been classed as a wanton, peculiar person in the same group as people who wrote poetry. Indeed twenty years ago, few prominent men in town would have cared to admit that they painted. Conditions have changed and partly because of the influence and example of men like C. S. Browne, a business person like Charles Saunders,—who is an excellent water-colourist — and Horace Steggles, all members of the Peterborough Men's Sketch Club. While their painting may not be significant work of art (and Mr. Browne himself talks of "sketching for the fun of it"), such hobbies broaden one's horizons, and we can do with more breadth in Peterborough.

Bird On Wing

Monday is officially the first day of spring, but experts say that this year, Ontario time, spring begins at 5:49 p.m. Sunday, March 20th. As even Ontario weather shows, the calendar does not dictate the weather. The kind of spring which the English begin to experience in February usually does not come to Peterborough until April, to the Northwest Territories until June, and to countries like Australia in the southern hemisphere until September. Australia begins its autumn officially on Monday.

March 21st is one of the two equinoxes. The other is September 21st. On those days the sun stands directly over the equator, so everywhere in the world there is the same amount of day as of night — twelve hours of each. Hence the name "equinox," which means "equal night." Astronomers say that the sun enters the sign of Aries at this time. Aries is the Ram, and the first of the signs of the zodiac. Bird-lovers hope that the birds which wintered in the south will enter the northern temperate zone at this time, and come back to cheer us with their songs. Some robins have already been reported. When wild geese are on the wing we can really begin to believe in spring's return.

When Mr. C. was asked what he thought of the return of spring he replied, "Seeing is believing." Mr. Y., interviewed at his office, said he had no time to think of spring and that he was no longer young and had never been a poet. Mr. L. replied in answer to the same question that he did not think much of it. No ladies' opinions were asked because they regard Easter and its new hats as the beginning of spring. Easter is rather late this year—April 17th. Last year it fell on March 28th.

Two American visitors were reported at the corner of George and Charlotte Streets discussing the return of the birds. They had what are alleged to be Brooklyn accents. Their conversation is thus reported: "I hoid the boid was on the wing." The second said: "But that's absoid. The wing is on the boid." Reply: "Am I poitoibed!"

Dan Spence Ambulance Whither Away?

What became of the city's horse-drawn Dan Spence ambulance, the last publicly owned ambulance to traverse this city?

Peterborough thought highly of Dan Spence, the city's South African war hero who was reputed to be the first man from this city to give his life in that war and many are the Peterborough residents who still recall the horse-drawn Dan Spence ambulance which served at the beginning of the century as a memorial to the soldier.

But time rubs out memories even of the most noble deeds unless a substantial reminder is left in the form of a statue or perhaps, a permanent building.

Despite the ready acceptance of present day motor transportation, it is not a very far cry from the day of the horse drawn vehicle But already the memory of Dan Spence has faded from a place of prominence in this city.

What became of the vehicle after the city dispersed with its services is a poser to which the Examiner has been unable to find an answer. It appears to be general belief that it met its fate on the scrap heap without so much as a regretful sigh.

Searching enquires from those who were concerned with its upkeep have failed to bring any light on the last phase of its life.

The "Dan Spence" was at one time, however, a lively topic of conversation and for several years, caused as much controversy as a hotly contested election.

Ambulances were privately owned until "Dan Spence" came along. It was contracted out to private firms and in the fall of 1919, 69 patients were carried in three months during an epidemic of influenza.

With the advent of the motor car the career of this one time useful memorial became doomed. When finally the council sounded the death knoll it was stated that "certain memories and sentiment that cling to it have restrained council every time the matter has arisen."

It had been felt for a long time however, that its arrival at the house was nothing less than an announcement of charity and as such, became an embarrassment rather than a blessing.

In 1919 it was withdrawn from service and for four years, was lodged at the fire station. Eventually it was ousted from there to make room for fire equipment and its transfer to the Board of Works is the last step to be traced.

Today the city is served by four privately owned ambulances. Controversy has disappeared but so has the memorial to a Peterborough man who was highly honored in this city.

The Cabots And Slaves In Labrador

John and Sebastian Cabot (Cabotto) were the bravest and most persistent explorers of the time. John made his first voyage in 1497, but the most important was in 1498, when they both sailed from Bristol under England's flag and explored the entire coast from Labrador down to Carolina. How many other voyages they made is uncertain, but it is known that they attempted to find the northwest passage to India, and were driven back only by the ice of Hudson Strait.

About this time the renown of the Grand Banks fisheries began to be known to all the world. Biscayan fishermen asserted that they had known of these fisheries and had fished there long before Cabot's time, but had for various reasons kept secret the location of their rich spoils. But after the Cabots had visited it, concealment was no longer possible, and fishermen from all parts of Europe hastened there and fought and quarreled, as they have since done even up to this day. At any rate, old chroniclers narrate that in 1517, only eighteen years after the news of Cabot's discovery had become known, fifty vessels visited those fishing grounds.

Cortereal, the Portuguese explorer, followed the fishermen and, because of the lack of labor in Portugal, set an example for many of his countrymen in bringing home a cargo of natives of Laborador, whom he seized and enslaved. The early maps of Laborador bear the name Terra Cortereralis, but later the present name was used, a contraction and corruption of Laboratoris Terra, a name also recalling Cortereal's infamy.

The Most Famous Apology

Many men have died for their religion; few have died for their philosophy. Socrates (c. 468-399 B.C.) was one of these. He was condemned to death by an Athenian court, and since it was before the days of crucifixion, hanging or the electric chair, his death was ordered to be by a draught of poison hemlock. Socrates is the most famous of philosophers. His pupil was Plato. His aristocratic teaching (he preached an aristocracy of the intellect) offended the mob, who thought themselves democrats. After a revolution in which the democrats won, Socrates, the intellectual leader of the opposition, "the corrupter of youth drunk with debate" as Will Durant says, was thought worthy only of death. His last hour is poignantly described in Plato's "Phaedo." His defence against his Athenian accusers is set down by Plato (for no written words of Socrates have been preserved) in the "Apology" — meaning "defence" of "justification."

At this time Socrates was seventy years old. Friends came to his prison and offered him an easy escape—they had bribed officials—but he refused. As with Christ, the judges wanted to let him go, but the crowd howled for his death. Socrates chose death. He proclaimed the rights and necessity of free thought and refused to beg for mercy from the crowd whom he had always contemned. As related in the "Phaedo" he told his sorrowing friends, "Be of good cheer and say that you are burying my body only." Here are the last words of this great man, who died 2,348 years ago. The qualities which declare man to be captain of his soul, master of all living things, and a child of the gods, are revealed in them:

Wherefore, O judges, be of good cheer about death, and know of a certainty, that no evil can happen to a good man, either in life or after death. He and his are not neglected by the gods; nor has my own approaching end happened by mere chance. But I see clearly that the time had arrived when it was better for me to die and be released from trouble; wherefore the oracle gave no sign. For which reason, also, I am not angry with my condemners, or with my accusers; they have done me no harm, although they did not mean to do me any good; and for this I may gently blame them.

Still I have a favour to ask of them. When my sons are grown up, I would ask you, O my friends, to punish them; and I would have you trouble them, as I have troubled you, if they seem to care about riches, or anything, more than about virtue; or if they pretend to be something when they are really nothing,—then reprove them, as I have reproved you, for not caring about that for which they ought to care, and thinking that they are something when they are really nothing. And if you do this, both I and my sons will have received justice at your hands.

The hour of departure has arrived, and we go our ways I to die, and you to live. Which is better God only knows.

Neill's-Bond's Victorious In Girls' Loop

Neill's seniors defeated Nurses 24-21 and Bond's Intermediates won 32-16 against CGE as the Girls' Basketball League playoffs opened last evening in the YWCA. Both were wide-open games with plenty of excitement dished up, and the loop playoffs will resume next Friday in the YW gym.

Play was close in the first half of the initial encounter, as Neill's pulled out a 15-11 lead. It was tight again all through the last half as Nurses led 10-9 but they couldn't quite catch that earlier margin and Neill's pulled it out by three points. They got six of 11 three throws as Nurses cashed in on but five of 15 tries. J. Vass, D. Callan and J. Dunk went best for the victors, while A. Davis led Nurses. The teams:

Nurses: B. Pringle 4, B. Deyell, J. Plunkett 4, A. Bowler 4, J. Deyell, M. Collins, A. Davis 9, S. Wilkinson, S. Curtis.

Neill's: J. Dunk 5, J. Vass 7, J. Smedmore, J. Caverly, M. Freeman 3, D. Gilmour, W. Floyd 3, D. Callan 6.

Second Game

In the second game, Bond's racked up a 14-6 halftime lead with a lot of hustle. They had a little margin, too, in the second stanza to pull out an 18-10 edge. The winners clicked on four of nine foul throws as Electrics got four in 11 times. R. Beard was hot in the second half for Bond's as she scored 10 points, M. McKee being next best sniper with three baskets, two in the first half. Marg. Perrin and I. Stewart led the losers in the scoring department. The teams:

Bond's: E. McIlhogga 4, R. Henderon 1, R. Beard 10, D. McNeely 3, A. Metheral 2, M. McKee 6, M. Beggs, B. Larmer 2, L. McIntosh 2, P. Stewart 2.

CGE: I. Stewart 6, B. Barry, M. Perrin 1, Marg Perrin 5, M. Batley 2, I. Scotcher, D. Schell, M. Kennedy, B. Luther, M. Landry, B. Stewart 2.

Referees: H. Smith and J. Cooper; timer, S. Ecobichon.

Surprising nobody at all, the National Hockey League announced four years ago today that Bill Durnan of Montreal Canadiens was the winner of the Vezina Trophy, awarded annually to the goalie with the fewest goals scored against him. It was the second of four straight Vezina awards for Durnan who surrendered the trophy to Toronto's Turk Broda in 1948.

That chummy agreement between Roy Conacher and Doug Bentley of Chicago Black Hawks to split top-money awards for NHL high scoring doesn't impress the league's head office and certainly won't impress the income-tax collector.

President Clarence Campbell said Friday the league recognizes no such arrangements. So far as the NHL is concerned, its $1,000 first-prize money will go to the player with the highest scoring points and $500 to the player with the second highest. The cheques will be made out to each man and so reported for income-tax purposes.

Conacher has 68 points, with 26 goals and 42 assists, and Bentley 66 points, with 23 goals and 43 assists.

The Ontario Travel Department reported Friday that skiing conditions in most of the province's sporting centres range from good to excellent.

Best tow and bush conditions were reported at Barrie, Collingwood, Haileybury, Haliburton, Huntsville, Owen Sound and the Summit at Toronto. Dagmar conditions are good.

A threatened ban by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States against Kermit Kitman of Montreal YMHA basketball team has been lifted, Morrie Bruker, YMHA physical director, announced Friday at Montreal. U.S. authorities had said the fact that Kitman had played professional baseball a few years ago ruled him out of playing in an exhibition game in New York. Bruker said Friday, however, that the AAU now will honor Canadian Amateur Basketball Association travel permits for all Montreal players and that includes Kitman.

At Chicago, thirty-eight present-day anglers, including two Canadians, Friday night received awards as members of the newly-founded fishing hall of fame following a poll by the Sportsmen's Club of America. The sportsmen, who received the awards at a banquet Friday night, were selected by outdoors writers and sportsmen throughout the United States. The two Canadians are Ernest D. Calvert of Rainy River, Ont., and Ernest G. Poole of Montreal.

Cancellation of a 28-day meet at Lansdowne Park in Vancouver announced Friday by the British Columbia Turf and Country Club. Directors blamed high government taxes—both provincial and federal—for the decision. Horsemen now face a Vancouver season that will be cut in half with 28 days racing scheduled for Exhibition Park.

At Pittsburgh, John H. Harris, owner of Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League, Friday announced plans to build an indoor arena at a cost of between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. Harris indicated construction will begin within two years. The arena will seat about 11,500 for hockey and approximately 15,000 for other athletic events.

Dropped for a nine-count in the first round, Lee Oma, Detroit veteran, came back to punch out a decisive, unanimous 10-round victory over Cuba's Omelio Agramonte in New York Madison Square Garden Friday night. It was Oma's sixth straight victory in his current comeback campaign. Oma weighed 195½ and Agramonte 184.

Sundridge Edges Bobcaygeon 9-8

SUNDRIDGE, March 19—Sundridge Beavers had a battle all the way to preserve a 9-8 win over Bobcaygeon in the opening game of their total goals OHA Intermediate "B" series here. Second game will be tonight at Lindsay.

The Beavers built up a 9-4 lead but Bobcaygeon caught fire in the last ten minutes of the third period and rammed home four goals. Each was scored by one of the Nichols brothers, mainstays of the Bobcaygeon team.

Jim Nichols got two goals, Ernie three and Pete two, total seven of the eight goals for their team George Russell tallied three for Sundridge, Bucko McDonald, the Sundridge MP, and playing coach, scored two.

Ailing Blackwell Blow To Hopes Cincinati Reds

TAMPA, Fla., March 19—(AP)—Ewell Blackwell is the big "if" of Cincinnati Reds in their first training season under Manager Bucky Walters.

Little hope for improvement in the Reds' seventh-place finish of last season can be seen unless the ailing Blackwell, who reported some 15 to 20 pounds underweight, can regain a semblance of his 1947 form.

Thin and gaunt after undergoing a serious kidney operation as recently as Jan. 20, Blackwell probably won't be able to take a turn on the mound for several weeks. He's sure he'll be as good as ever.

It was Blackwell's arm trouble, that ruined the Reds and forced Johnny Neun to retire as manager. When he failed the entire club went down.

Walters is trying to protect the Reds against another Blackwell disaster.

His plans involve younger pitchers—fellows like Harry Perkowski who won 22 at Tulsa. Bud Lively, who had a 15-4 mark for the same Texas-League club and Eddie Erautt, the fireballer with a 15-victory year at Syracuse to recommend him.

Pitching Hopes

Behind Blackwell as the No. 1 man, the Reds will rest their pitching hopes on Johnny Vander Meer (17-14), Howie Fox (6-9), Herm Wehmeier (11-8), Ken Raffensberter (11-12) and Kent Peterson (2-15.)

Catching was a weak spot for Cincinnati last year with the club crippled all season after Ray Mueller broke a leg in an early game. Mueller is back and so is Ray Lamanno. They have been joined by Homer (Dixie) Howell, former Dodger and Pirate.

Ted Kluszewski, the man with Lou Gehrig's mannerisms, and some of his ability, will play first base. Red Stallcup at short is a fixture with second a battle between Jimmy Bloodworth, back for another try in the big show after a .294 year at Montreal Bobby Adams and Ben Zientara. Adams got a look at third base early in competition with Grady Hatton, who dropped off to .240 last summer. Claude Corbitt will be the extra hand.

City Carpetball

We have not yet received the result card of the finals for the league schedule although it has been reported that King Billie tops the league by virtue of his defeat of the Glengarry's. Where are these result cards? This goes for the doubles. We have only received two reports in which R. Ralston and A. Robinson eliminated H. Lundy and H. Harrison in the best two out of three with the scores 8-3, 5-8, 13-1.

The other game was between F. Parson and A. Bromley, V. A. Pilling and G. Foster with the last two being put out of the league in a fairly close tussle 6-10, 13-7, 8-5.

It is understood that other games have been played but no definite card shows.

We are waiting results of the following:

J. Douglas - A. Moscrop v. Varty - J. Wilson.

O. Maley - P. Gehagan v. N. Lowes - C. Steadman.

G. Fulford - W. Wilson v. D. Bartley - T. Nice.

F. Letther - GG. Palmer v. L. Jackson - A. Price.

L. Thackeray - V. Read v. F. Honor - G. Whitehead.

The president has requested some change in the above set-up and will notify those concerned by phone.

Basketball here is nearing the end of its 1949 trail. Our Marines "B" bunch bowed out in Belleville a few nights ago in OABA playdowns. And our Marines "A" men face a tough task at 8.15 tonight in the YMCA when they battle St. Catharines in the return tilt of their provincial semi-final series. Down 25 points, they should win the game but that's a hefty lead to whittle down. Towne Togs face a similar job next week in LOBA playdowns, as Toronto has a large lead. Juvenile PCI-ers are off this week-end to St. Kitts and final playoffs. Meantime, the local lasses' league is into playoffs now, also.

Some odd mail reaches this desk, and the other day we got entry forms and info from Minneapolis concerning a canoe derby to start July 15. Begins at a spot called Bemidji and ends 450 Mississippi miles later on July 22. Entry fee of $20 to be in by July 10 and cash prizes total $8,000. Two-man teams, but women are barred. Canoes have a minimum length of 15 feet and weigh at least 60 pounds. Why this information comes away up here, we don't know, unless it is that Peterborough is the home of the canoe bearing that name. We used to do a lot of paddling but a 450-mile jaunt is definitely in the line of work.

Hugh Comes Through

It wouldn't be right at all to dismiss the bantam Marines' loss in OMHA finals without a follow-up para or two. Hugh Campbell, a fine sportsman, is buying all the boys expensive leather windbreakers and he has promised to sponsor this squad—if these players will stick together—right up through midget and juvenile till they're ready for junior OHA. Great stuff. Coach Albert Watkins and his assistant, Eddie Woodcock, deserve much credit for a fine first-year chore with the lads, and all the players rate orchids for their 1949 showing. They were nearly all in tears at the end of 80 minutes of gruelling hockey when they lost in Welland, but Crowland were bigger and earned the narrow nod.

* * * * * *

Congrats, too, to the husky young Crowland chaps. They played clean hockey here and at home, and Marines have no alibis. Refereeing was okay and the home crowd quite fair. The Firemen's Association there, which sponsored the team, was more than generous. Firemen took turns guarding the Peterborough bus during the game so no one would try to let the air out of tires, as some silly kids did here in the first fray. Also, the firemen entertained the Marines at the hall till 1.30 a.m. and then directed them part way along the road so the lads could see the falls at night. 'Twas a tired team that arrived home at 7.10 a.m.

Shrinking The Nylons

Legionnaires put the heat on the Nylons of Kingston here last eve and withered 'em 9-1 to open the provincial puck senior "B" semi-final series. A best-of-five affair, next one being Monday on the large surface in the Limestone City. Third one might be in Peterborough, Lindsay or Belleville, depending on the weather and the crowd interest. A full house at Civic Arena last p.m. and the best sheet of ice (including artificial) we've seen this year. It was a good, fast game, a dandy for two periods, but Legion made a runaway of it in the third period. Ran in six goals without a return as the Nylons folded up. That's what we like about Legion, they're hungry and they keep fighting for goals, even when six or seven ahead. This should be their year.

* * * * * *

Coach Ned Vitarelli played a whale of a game on defence. He's not big but he is smart, experienced and full of fight. An ideal playing coach, and when paired with a smart hombre like Johnny Godfrey the two make as effective a defence pair as you'll see in senior "B" in Ontario. Mortimer and Burns are also good in front of a fine netter in Ross Nicholls. All the forwards worked well last night both ways, battling up and down every minute they were on the ice. Legion are great opportunists going in on the other guy's goal. They don't fool around, but break fast when they get the burnt biscuit and try to put it in the oven. Kingston fought hard but they were well beaten.

Sportsmen Show Drawing Many Thousands

TORONTO, March 19 (CP) — The second annual Canadian National Sportsmen's Show, now on at the Coliseum here, combines a Noah's Ark with a trade fair and sets fishermen thinking of the spring days just ahead when they will again head for the trout streams.

Sponsored by the Toronto Anglers and Hunters Association, the show was formally opened Friday night by Hon. Ray Lawson, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario.

Fishermen literally dreamed of "those far-away places" as they gazed at the latest in fishing rods, reels, nets and bait in the many booths.

They were treated to a display of bait and fly casting, with experts casting 60 feet into a two-foot-six ring in a pool. The casters seldom missed.

The boat displays attracted much attention. Sleek cruisers, sailboats and canoes were shown, including Miss Canada III, which holds the world's record of 119.009 miles an hour for Gold Cup class boats.

Campers, too, came into their own as bed rolls, tents and pack sacks, were exhibited.

For the women, there is a fashion show three times daily, displays of Indian and Eskimo life and demonstrations of cooking utensils.

Perhaps the highlight of the show, which will run eight days, was the two-hour stage and tank-show, headed by a trained seal known as "Sharkey."

Golfers Name 1949 Committees

TORONTO, March 19 (CP) — President Phil Farley of the Ontario Golf Association Friday announced appointments of the Association's 1949 committees. The members, with chairmen named first, are: Dollar-dues-plan committee: H. S. Beddoe, Hamilton; R. F. Davidson, Toronto; P. E. J. Dolan, St. Catharines; Duncan E. MacDonald, Cornwall; N. P. Peterson, Toronto Mississauga and W. D. Powell, Brantford.

Handicap committee: N. A. Faulkner, Toronto Islington; Duncan E. MacDonald, Cornwall and W. E. Stead, Toronto Islington.

Course rating committee: R. D. Young, Toronto St. George's; Emerson Creed, Barrie; Ivan Miller, Hamilton Chedoke, and J. B. Nash, London Hunt.

Tournament committee: G. F. Stevens, Toronto Thornhill; H. S. Beddoe, Hamilton; A. F. Fuerth, Windsor Essex County; Col. G. R. Johnston, Brockville; W. J. McGibbon, Kitchener - Westmount; Wes McKnight, Toronto Scarboro; Paul F. Robert, Toronto Rosedale; W. M. Vaughan, Toronto Lambton and R. D. Young, Toronto St. George's.

Executive committee: Phil Farley, Toronto St. George's; H. S. Beddoe, Hamilton; N. P. Peterson, Toronto Mississaugua; G. F. Stevens, Toronto Thornhill and R. D. Young, Toronto St. George's.

Legion Wallops Kingston To Open Hockey Playoffs

Ripping the Kingston Nylons for a 9-1 victory here last night, the local Legionnaires opened their best-of-five OHA senior "B" semi-final series, next game being Monday in Kingston. A full house at Civic Arena saw a fast, clean game on perfect ice, with the homesters finishing much stronger after two keen periods of hockey.

Speed and fight by the local puckists spelled the difference as the Nylons showed plenty of class for two periods but withered before the Legion third-period drive. It was 1-1 to end the first and 3-1 going into the third. Play was clean and quite fast throughout, with the hungry Legionnaires battling all the way to pile up as big a lead as possible. They were going better than Kingston at the finish, even with a hefty margin on which to coast. Neither team tried to rough it at any time.

Fatten Averages

Every player but Goalie Ross Nicholls and Doug Mortimer — both of whom went well defensively—was in on the scoring for Legion. Bob Greenlaw and Chum Fryia led, in on three each, as Crowley, Hill, Coombs, Godfrey and Toodie Greenlaw figuring in on two apiece. The rest had one scoring point, and the whole team played well. They showed a lot of dash, fight and back-checking, with Ned Vitarelli outstanding on defence. Udall in the Kingston cage kicked out a flock but he had enemy snipers on his doorstep all night. Gerow, Partis and Catlin looked good in the first two frames but the whole team pretty well folded up in the one-sided third heat.

It took just 37 seconds for Bob Greenlaw to race in close and smack home Crowley's pass as fans settled back in their seats. Legion continued to press with Crowley nearly clicking on another. Then Walt Gerow evened it up for Nylons when he dashed in fast and Ross Nicholls made the save but slid back over the goal-line with the disc. Play was fast and even for a time with Ned Vitarelli almost tallying on a good rush and then Sweetman was waved over for interference. Legion pressed but Udall was good and no damage was done till the sides were even again. Both goalies had to hop as play swept up and down fast and both Stewart and Hill came close to counting toward the finish.

Went Ahead

A rush by Crowley and R. Greenlaw almost paid off to open the second stanza, and then Rochetta dented the hemp at close range, with assists going to R. Greenlaw and Vitarelli. Godfrey pulled a swell try and the Parnell line pressed. Sweetman got the finger for tripping but returned with the score the same. A Rochetta-Crowley drive made Udall hop and then Nicholls robbed McKeown. It was fast, clean and fairly even, but Legion had a little more of the play and Goalie Udall was kept busier than Nicholls. Stewart scored a nice one alone, going around the net fast to make it 3-1 before Burns was gated for holding. Stephenson followed for hooking and Catlin tested Ross. With both back, Kerluk was chased for hooking and Toodie nearly notched one as the period ended.

Early in the third, Bob Greenlaw raced in with Crowley's pass to score. Legion kept pressing all through this period and Kingston had few chances. Parnell came close and then Toodie Greenlaw hit the twine after assists from Fryia and Godfrey. Fryia came back with another from Toodie Greenlaw's corner passout, and Hill added it up in neat inside combination with Coombs and Burns. Kingston ganged up desperately and Fryia almost scored on a breakaway. Parnell got the next on a drop pass from Godfrey, with Fryia also in on it. Fryia came close again as they kept roaring in at top speed, and Goalie Udal looked shell-shocked. Nicholls thefted Partis and Coombs made Udall jump. Hill got the last goal with a backhander after taking Coombs' corner passout near the goal. Mortimer was waved away for interference and Stephenson followed for a similar offence near the end.

The teams:

Kingston: Goal, Udall; defence, White and Kerluk; centre, McKeown; wings, Joyce and Greenham; alternates, Gerow, Partis, Catlin, Sweetman, Blake, Stephenson, Keys and Harrison.

Legion: Goal, Nicholls; defence, Godfrey and Vitarelli; centre, Rochetta; wings, Crowley and R. Greenlaw; alternates, Parnell, T. Greenlaw, Fryia, Hill, Stewart, Coombs, Burns and Mortimer.

Referees, J. Crombie and L. Heffering.

Summary:

First Period

Legion—R. Greenlaw (Crowley) 37
Kingston—Gerow 4.54
Penalty—Sweetman.

Second Period

Legion—Rochetta (R. Greenlaw, Vitarelli) 1.30
Legion—Stewart 14.12
Penalties — Burns, Stephenson Kerluk.

Third Period

Legion—R. Greenlaw (Crowley) 2.03
Legion—T. Greenlaw (Fryia, Godfrey) 4.00
Legion—Fryia (T. Greenlaw) 5.10
Legion—Hill (Coombs Burns) 7.35
Legion — Parnell (Godfrey, Fryia) 11.40
Legion—Hill (Coombs) 16.15
Penalties—Mortimer, Stephenson.

BIG HELP — Playing coach Ned Vitarelli was a big help to Legion in their 9-1 playoff win over Kingston here last night. This experienced defenceman turned in a fine effort to nullify the Nylons' attack all through.

GIVEN BOUT WITH MASK —Earl McCready, pictured above, who has been signed to meet the Masked Marvel in the main bout next Wednesday. In announcing the bout, Manager Jim Laidlaw said he is confident that McCready can beat the hooded terror. Another stipulation he insisted on was that the bout be a no-time-limit affair, thus depriving The Mask of any chance of having a draw.

Wee Willie Davis is back from Hollywood and has been matched in the semi-final with with the New York Jewish boy Mickey Gold. The local lad Nick Viccharelli takes on Sammy Gotter in the opener, the deciding match, each having won a decision previously.

HERE IS KEN REARDON, who was presented with a plug hat after Canadiens' victory over Leafs in Montreal recently. He is holding a broken stick high as a symbol of something or other while BILLY REAY holds a pot of shamrock in his hand and RIP RIOPELLE, another scorer, kids Reardon over his getup.

Eskimo's World Lacks Problems Of Modern Life

By GRAHAM TROTTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG, March 10—(CP)—When the little woman comes up with the perennial request for a fur coat, don't tell her to "go jump in the lake." Instead, stump her by asking, "Who do you think you married — an Eskimo?"

In the land of the Eskimo, fur coats never lead to domestic problems that go with it.

After talking with veteran Hudson's Bay Company post managers, one gets the impression that Utopia is not an imaginary place, but is found in the frozen wastes of the Canadian north. The only real worry there is one of survival. But that is universal.

War, dictators, housing, money, capitalists, marriage, bringing up children, bathing — and fur coats, all present their varied problems to the civilized. But not to the Eskimos.

Wars or dictators do not trouble Eskimos in their sleep. Their tribes don't fight. All tribe decisions are made for the good of all by common agreement. The nominal leader of a tribe is the best provider for family and group. There is no profit motive.

No Housing Shortage

Housing is no problem. There are no worries about lack of material, high costs of help or property lines. The Eskimo simply locates a good patch of crusted snow, cuts it into blocks and builds his own prefabricated dwelling in a matter of a few hours. And he builds igloos whenever and wherever he chooses, which is quite often.

Money is not the root of evil because it just doesn't exist. The Eskimo turns in his furs and skins to a trading post where he obtains credit to buy goods.

"Eskimos have only two vices —tea and tobacco," says one fur-trader. "They smoke from the cradle to the grave."

Therein lies one of the secrets of bringing up children. "They give the kids cigarets to keep them quiet," he says. Eskimo children are exceptionally well behaved, he adds, and it is almost unheard of for a parent to strike a child.

It is true that Eskimo girls once were considered a liability and were done away with. In this respect civilization taught the Eskimos a virtue. The girls now are valuable help to their mothers, sewing clothes and cooking while junior learns father's hunting ways on the trail.

Irate in-laws and marriage ceremonials don't frustrate young couple. The young suitor moves in with his in-laws, proves his worth at hunting and buildng a home and then carries wifie over the threshold of their own little igloo. The actual marriage ceremony still is very uncommon. Marriages no longer are arranged by parents.

The Saturday night bath doesn't produce childish tantrums. The Eskimos dispense with bathing all winter to preserve natural body oils that help to shield them against the cold.

Delay Decision

TORONTO, March 19 (CP). — An executive meeting of the Ontario Lacrosse Association Friday night delayed decision on a three-man arbitration commission until the annual meeting on April 23. Proposal for the commission, which would arbitrate any deadlock arising in the senior committee, will be decided on at the meeting. Proposed as commissioners were: Jack McDonald of Mimico, E. C. McDermott of Toronto, and Gene Dopp, OLA secretary.

Three Suffocated

COLUMBUS, O., March 19 — (AP).—Two children and a man died today of suffocation in a living-room fire caused by a cigarette which ignited a sofa. Police identified the victims as David W. Short, 49; Richard White, three, and his sister, Ruth Ann White, two.

AMONG THE ESTIMATED 4,000 who lined up Friday morning at Maple Leaf Gardens, Toronto, to try to get tickets for this afternoon's O.H.A. senior playoff between Kitchener and Toronto Marlboros were these three youngsters. Cyril McCarthy, Harry Aldredgs and Don Taylor (left to right) don't mind the long wait and the jockeying of the crowd to get near the wickets. They got their precious pasteboards! Standing room only tickets were available at an early hour Friday night.

Warsaw Gets Win To Open Playoffs

NORWOOD, March 19 (ENS). —Warsaw edged Keene 4-3 in the first of the two out of three finals of the Rural Loop in Norwood Arena on Thursday evening, before a good crowd. Sharpe and Doughty threatened to mix it early in the first and were sent to cool off. G. Payne followed a few minutes later. Ivan Watts opened the scoring after nine minutes of play, and G. Payne made it 2-0 three minutes later. R. Payne and Doughty took a rest for penalties.

Evans of Warsaw marked up another early in the second period, and seconds later was gated for hooking. Joe Watts scored when E. Payne passed the puck out from behind Musgrave's net. Robertson passed to Mackness to get the first goal for Keene, ending the second period 4-1.

Going into the third 4-1, Keene had the edge on play, but had poor luck around the net. Mackness passed a nice shot out to Kempt, who made it good. V. Clements, Short, and Evans followed one after the other to the sin-bin. Ted McCarthy, from Hawkes, tallied the last goal of the game late in the third. Keene had complete control of the play in the third, keeping the puck in the Warsaw zone, but failing to beat Patterson. The line-up:

Keene — Goal, Musgrave; defence, Anderson and Dalton; centre, T. McCarthy; wings, J. Houle and B. Thomson; alternates, Mackness, R. Robertson, Doughty, Hawkes, Kempt, Kumpf, W. Thompson, Adamson, D. White.

Warsaw — Goal, Patterson; defence, G. Payne and D. Sharpe; centre, I. Watts; wings, J. Watts and E. Payne; alternates, V. Clements, McQuaig, L. Short, D. Evans, E. Darling, R. Payne, B. Judge.

Referee—Bud Webb. Linesman—C. Puffer.

Skiing Conditions Described As Fair

Skiing conditions in the Peterborough area are described as fair by local skiers. Snow on the hills averages about three inches. In some cases there is a base of ice, making it rough for skiing.

Bush skiing is excellent especially in the woods off the Lindsay highway where it is reported the snow is from a foot to three feet deep.

Art Long reports Kemp's Hill will be open Sunday for skiing. The tow track, which became quite sticky last Sunday, is being repaired Saturday and the tow will be running Sunday.

Peterborough's newest skiing area, six miles north of Havelock, called the Belmont Ski Club, is reported to be in fair skiing condition. A ski tow is planned. Snow on the wooded trails is fairly deep. This skiing club specializes in ski joring on Lake Belmont with a jeep. J. D. Cumming, president of the club, reports they have a log cabin, furnished in pioneer style, with a barbecue fireplace, radio, phonograph and snack bar.

Bethany skiing conditions are definitely poor. The tow will not be in operation today and it is doubtful if it will be running Sunday. V. T. Griffiths and other members of the Peterborough Ski Club are going out to Bethany today to see if there is any possibility of skiing this weekend.

Locke Enters Canadian Open

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

It's official. Bobby Locke, South Africa's gift to the golfing world, will compete in the Canadian open at St. George's Golf Club, Toronto, June 22.

The question was answered Thursday by Vincent Richards of New York, Locke's manager, who told the Canadian Press that the South African would be a definite starter in the Dominion's annual golf classic.

Bobby, 1947 winner of the Canadian open and six tournaments in the United States, arrived in New York the other day and shotmakers have been wondering since if he would tee off in Canada's big event.

Bobby apparently can't resist the game's prize plums in North America. In 1947 and 1948 (he didn't enter the Canadian open last year) he pocketed nearly $50,000 in prizes and returned to his native country for attractive exhibition tours.

Aussies Watch U.S. Policy In Far East

By LESLIE BRODIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SYDNEY, Australia, March 19 (CP)—Australians are watching with no little anxiety the outcome of reports and denials that the United States intends to quit the Pacific.

Australia's pre-war policy was based on what was considered a powerful British defence base at Singapore. Today much the same line has been adopted by the defence council, except that the reliance has been transferred from Singapore and the British navy to the United States' navy and military bases on the islands stretching across the Pacific from Honolulu to China.

Canberra is closely watching the situation which would be the most important strategic development in the Pacific since the war. Defence authorities, however, believe the U.S. will keep powerful forces based on Okinawa in the Ryukyus, Guam, and the Philippines. They cannot foresee the Americans giving up the Pacific altogether.

But the reports have given a big stimulus to this country's defence preparations.

Since the war the defence department has concentrated much of its time and energy on the rocket-testing range on the Central Australian desert at Mount Ebo and has allowed other defences to go downhill.

Sticks to Platform

The Chifley Labor government refuses to break the Labor party platform and order compulsory military training, despite the fact that recruiting has produced less than half the required number of volunteers.

Total volunteers for all services number 46,376 — a figure well below the 96,845 called for in the defence plans.

Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, commander-in-chief of Australian forces throughout the Second World War, alleges that the overall defence position today is worse than at any time during the last 30 years.

On the other hand, Defence Minister John J. Dedman just as vigorously claims that Australia is in a better position today than she was in 1939.

But Maj.-Gen. Clive Steele, former engineer-in-chief of the Australian army, summed up what Australians are thinking about their defence problems by saying:

"All we can do is wish Mr. Calwell (the immigration minister) luck with his immigration program, and hope that the government of which he is a member will be nationally rather than politically minded on such issues as compulsory military training.

Love Of Forest Life Keeps Ranger On Job

GRAND PRAIRIE, Alta., March 19 (CP—Alberta's oldest forest ranger wants to retire but he can't.

For 15 years Pete C. Comeau patrolled the virgin forests from Grande Prairie, Alta. to the British Columbia border. His job is watching for forest fires, protecting game and keeping an eye on registered trap lines.

It's a hard life and Pete thinks it is about time he gave it up. "Only I can't; it's in my blood. I would like some comforts but I can't seem to stay out of the bush for long," he says.

Pete spent 10 years lumberjacking when he first came to Alberta from Nova Scotia. Then he became a forest ranger.

With two pack horses and saddle mount he patrols lonely bushland trails. Bears sometimes steal his packs at night and attack him at times.

During the months when fires are infrequent, Pete cuts trails using a dog team in winter and a horse in the summer.

Hawaii's Urge For Statehood Being Renewed

By GEORGE RONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

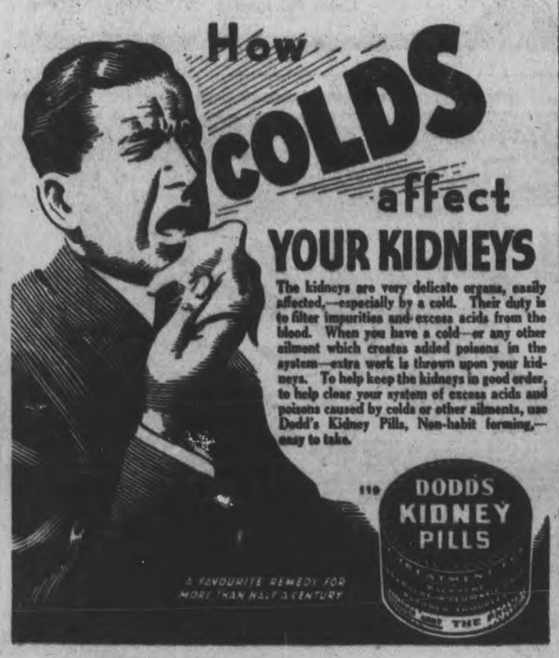
WASHINGTON, March 19 (CP) —An old rumble — "Statehood for Hawaii" — is being heard anew on Capitol Hill.

Advocates of this forward step for the tiny Pacific island territory are confident Congress will act on Hawaii's appeal for full grown-up status in the United States union.

The Hawaii Statehood Commission, maintained by public funds of the people of Hawaii, has served notice it will continue the fight. It cites these hopeful points:

1. The Democratic party, back in control of both houses of Congress, has an "immediate statehood" plank in its platform.
2. President Truman has twice recommended Hawaii's acceptance by Congress.
3. The Department of the Interior, which has jurisdiction over territories, favors Hawaiian statehood.
4. The support of some 25 powerful national organizations.

Previous Attempts



Progress was made with statehood legislation by the 80th Congress. The House of Representatives passed a bill to admit Hawaii and sent it to the Senate. A Senate subcommittee urged favorable action but the full committee to which the legislation was referred recommended a delay. The bill died with the 80th Congress.

Hawaii was annexed by the United States in 1898; petitions for statehood have been numerous in the last 25 years.

The territory, says the statehood commission, "has waited longer to achieve the status than any other state except New Mexico, which waited 62 years."

Fifteen different statehood bills have been presented to Congress, the first in 1920. Congress has made four investigations during the last 12 years. As early as 1937, a joint Senate-House committee reported after lenghty hearings that "Hawaii has fulfilled every requirement for statehood heretofore exacted for territories."

Blood of birds has more red corpuscle per ounce than that of any other animal, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

1,500 Take Part Third Kiwanis Music Festival

A record number of 580 entries, a total of 1,500 contestants, have been placed in the Peterborough Kiwanis Club's third annual Festival of Music. It will be held in Murray Street Baptist Church and will run for the remainder of the week.

G. H. Heath-Gracie, Bachelor of Music, and Fellow of the Royal College of Organists, is the adjudicator.

The Music Festival Committee is particularly encouraged this year by the large number of entries from the surrounding rural areas. Particularly keen competition is expected on Wednesday which has been set aside for rural choirs.

Miss Mary A. Lockhart, teacher of speech for intermediate public schools at Ottawa, will be the verse-speaking adjudicator. She has attained a wide reputation for her successful work with children.

Scholarship

Four scholarships will be awarded: piano, vocal, voilin, and verse speaking.

The Gliddon Memorial Scholarship $75 for piano, will be awarded by the Ontario Registered Music Teachers Assoc., Peterborough branch, to the piano student between the ages of 15 and 20 years, inclusive. The contestant must be a pupil of a member in good standing of the Peterborough branch of the ORMTA.

A scholarship valued at $75 is offered by Vincent M. McCabe, president of Kiwanis, to a competitor in the Junior Vocal Section, Classes 45 to 68.

Another $75 scholarship awarded by Zeller's Ltd., is available to a competitor in the Voilin Class.

W. A. Richardson will donate $35 to a competitor in the Verse Speaking Classes.

A scholarship winner need not be a prize winner; it is necessary that he show the most promise of future success musically. And the scholarship must be used for further tuition from a bonafide teacher, and will be awarded at the discretion of the adjudicator.

Included in the classes of music to be heard are the following: church choirs, other adult choirs, adult vocal ensembles, senior vocal solos, oratorio solos, operatic solos, junior vocal solos, boys junior vocal solos, girls' vocal solos, junior choral classes, junior small vocal ensembles, public and separate school choirs, rural school choirs, piano solo, piano solo (fugues, sonatas, sonatines), sight reading, piano duos (two pianos, four hands), piano duets (one piano, four hands), violin solo, viola and violoncello, small instrumental ensembles, orchestras, brass instruments, woodwind instruments, bands and verse speaking.

Amateur Contest

New classes this year are the oratorio solos including soprano, contralto and male voices; also the operatic solos including soprano, mezzo, contralto, tenor, baritone and bass.

All competitors are amateur musicians: i.e. "any person whose principal means of livelihood is not obtained from the profession or practice of music, even if he or she from time to time accepts remuneration for musical services rendered not exceeding in the aggregate $100 per annum."

Member of choral societies, choirs, orchestras and bands may be professionals providing they are bonafide members of their respective organizations.

Conductors may be either amateur or professional.

ADJUDICATOR of the third annual Kiwanis Club Music Festival is G. H. Heath-Gracie, Bachelor of Music and Fellow of the Royal College of Organists. In England he holds many important musical posts including that of Organist and Master of the Choristers, Derby Cathedral; Councillor of the Church Music Society; and Examiner to the Associated Board of Royal Schools of Music, London. The Festival begins on Monday morning in Murrray Street Baptist Church and will run through Saturday.

Meet At Lake Louise

QUEBEC, March 19 (CP). — The Canadian Association of Good Roads will hold its next annual meeting at Lake Louise, Alberta, on September 12-15, Quebec Highways Minister Talbot announced on Friday.

TOWED TO SAFETY—Saved from towering waves in a blinding snowstorm by modern radio devices, the Great Lakes commercial fishing tug Ferroclad is shown here being towed to port by the Northside which located her. Early Wednesday the Ferroclad, 20-year-old, 13-ton fishing boat, left Port Dover on Lake Erie. About 10 a.m. the vessel began to fill with water from a leak. The crew of five sent out an SOS and abandoned the boat. But the enormous seas forced them to return to their sinking ship. They kept her afloat until the Northside, some eight miles away at the time, reached the scene. This aerial photo also shows another unidentified rescue vessel.

Children Making Colored Mural Of Animal World

Almost every member of the talking animal world is depicted in a gaily colored mural which when completed will hang in the children's section of the Public Library. Under the supervision of the library staff, school children, mostly under the age of 14, have sketched and are now painting a picture depicting the animal character from such stories as Winnie the Pooh, the Freddy books, Beatrix Potter's animal stories and a number of other favorites among children of kindergarten age.

Three weeks ago the children set to work on a brown paper "canvass" 15 by nine feet, sketching a beautiful outdoor scene of mountains, lake and rocks to form a background for more than 20 animals who are now in process of being dressed.

Nestling in the branches of a tree is wrestless Robin, hero of Marjorie Flack's story by that name. Wrestless Robin is never content to stay at home in the family nest and flies over the big cities, leading a life of adventure. There is Ping, the Duck from the same story, sitting in the Wise Eyed Boat, which is his home. Then there is Mike the Monk sitting dolefully on a raft after a shipwreck. Pepita Bonita the pelican cuts a fine figure standing on the rocks beside the river and in the background of snow covered mountains are a number of Babas on skis.

Wants to be Different

Willy Nilly, the pelican who wants to be different, stands perched up on another rock overlooking his fellow pelicans walking sedately in croquodile fashion along the shore.

Benign Dr. Doolittle who went to Africa to cure a malady which broke out among the monkeys is surrounded by the croquodile, Dadab the Duck, Polyneisen the Parrot and Toto the Owl. The Rabbit who wanted Red Wings is there only in outline at the moment, but he is going to have a fine pair of wings.

Freddy the Pig who lives on Mr. Bean's farm is seen on a camping trip complete with coon hat and then there is Stuart Little, the Mouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Little and a valuable member of the family who is always ready to pick up the knitting wool as it runs annoyingly under the chair or to lend a hand in any oher useful way.

Intriguing Character

Freginald the Bear is an intriguing character who writes poetry for Mr. Boomschmidt's circus. His name was originally Louis, but did not think that was a fitting name for a boy. His father wanted him called Frederick but his mother choice Reginald Fredinald was the compromise.

Walter the Lazy Mouse who is always very slow, comes home one day to find that the family has moved, so he ventures forth to set up home for himself and makes friends with the frogs. Then ther is lovable Padre Porko the Gentlemanly Pig who is a friend to both animals and humans. Squirrell Nutkin is a chirpy little fellow sporting a beautiful tail.

There is Arkansaw the Bear, the little boy, Bosephus, who saves himself from becoming the bear's supper. He plays the violin to earn money to finish a scheme for the education of bears.

Rat and Mole from Winnie the Pooh is seen sculling along the river and of course, the pompous Toad has not been forgotten.

Although under close supervision of the staff, execution of this picture is being done almost entirely by young people of school age. Many are the hands which have been busy daubing. Chief artist on the job is 14 year old Marlene Wright a Peterborough Collegiate art student, who is "touching up" the work of the young children.

Remanded For Week

TORONTO, March 19 (CP). — His wrist swathed in bandages and still weak from self-inflicted knife wounds, Samuel Care, 58, was remanded for one week on Friday when he appeared in Magistrate's Court charged with murder. He was charged with killing Mrs. Mamie McLennan, 54, who died of stab wounds she received while in the Toronto Hospital for Tuberculosis in suburban Weston March 1. A cleaner in the hospital, Care allegedly ran amok, stabbing Mrs. McLennon, a nurse, and another patient then slashed his throat and his wrists.

Thorough Schooling Given By Jesus To Apostles

By WILIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

Jesus was a great Teacher though He conducted no school in the ordinary sense of that word.

A famous adage described the ideal college as a log with Mark Hopkins, eminent college president, at one end and a student at the other. That conception would be very inadequate in our day of great scientific laboratories and observatories, equipped with expensive equipment. But it stressed a necessary quality of all true education, no matter on what a scale, or how complicated it becomes. That is the fact that knowledge must become personalized.

The school of Jesus had that basic quality. It was mostly a school in the out-of-doors, a school of comp[illegible]ionship and personal contacts, a school in which the Teacher taught by constant example and in which He encouraged every success in emulating that example. It was a school, too, in which the Teacher had infinite patience, as every true teacher must have.

But it was a school of strict discipline and high standards as well. Poor pupils, even in a good school, may be content just to pass or "get by," but Jesus had called His disciples for high purposes. They needed training. The late Dr. A. B. Bruce, an eminent Scottish churchman, wrote a book on what he called "The Training of the Twelve."

What was the teaching and training that the Twelve received from Jesus? I have said that it was teaching and training by example. Jesus said, first of all, "Follow me." He said "Go," only when He had shown the way.

The school of Jesus was like some of the schools of today in which knowledge and guidance are combined with experience and practice. Jesus sent the disciples in His school out into the villages, two by two, to practice what they had learned, and to proclaim what they had heard.

When one considers how, even toward the end of His ministry, some of the Twelve were quarrelling, one wonders just what the missionaries of the new found Messiah taught the villagers. But they at least had some success, for they returned to Jesus with enthusiasm and wonderment at what they had been able to achieve.

That, also, was a principle in the school of Christ, reviewing what had been done, "checking up." One can see how really fine and efficient were the ways and methods in that unconventional school of the Master, conducted as He went about doing good.

A good school is judged by its results and its product. What a school, then, was that of Jesus, in which humble men became Apostles and spiritual world conquerors!

The Christian Privilege

REV. E. R. JAMES

The Master Is Come and Calleth For Thee, The Teacher R.V. St. John 11; 28.

The Teacher claimed the title "THE GOOD SHEPHERED" Here He is carrying out the duty. He comforts the mourners, Martha and Mary after the death of Lazarus. It is the home of love and affection, where He was given a warm and thoughtful welcome. They were the best product of Judaism. The atmosphere of the home was fitted for His great work. He could not do many mighty works in Nazareth because of their unbelief. What is the ATMOSPHERE of your home?

There is much sorrow and sadness in the world to-day. This Scripture is written for mourners. Into your home the Teacher is come and calleth for you. Have you ever thought that the sickness and death of Lazarus caused the Teacher to utter these heart moving words: "I am the resurrection and the life. He that believeth on Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live. And he that believeth in me shall never die." Perhaps your own sorrow has brought to your mind some Scripture with its inner meaning. This writer remembers one:—"Cast thy care on the Lord for He careth for you."

He is the same Jesus and draws near to comfort you. His first lesson. Your beloved though dead is alive. He liveth in the unseen world. A Christian scholar on his death bed had a caller-unbeliever. To him, with calmness, he witnessed:—"I believe in the life everlasting". Your beloved is the same person in that wider life. He lives and grows, for where there is life there is growth.

In that life there is memory. He will not forget you. He is with that mighty unseen host crying:—"With all the company of heaven we laud and magnify Thy glorious Name."

In that life there is love. He will continue to love for love never dies and cannot be destroyed even by death. His love for you and yours for him will continue.

"The Teacher is come and calleth for thee". He weeps in your sorrow even as He wept at the grave of Lazarus. "He is a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief. As the Good Shepherd His heart is full of compassion and He moves towards you with comforting voice and hand. "I know the pain." He whispers, and He understands the Loneliness and separation. You are to do your part to draw near to your beloved. Listen to the Teacher:—"Take ye away the stone." You must do your part to take away the stone of unbelief in your heart. How often He exclaims:—"How is it that ye have so little faith.

Take ye away the stone of selfishness. You must not allow your sorrow to absorb your whole mind and heart and thus separate yourself from your brethren and family. The Teacher will comfort you that you yourself may comfort others with the consolation God Himself has given. This is mystery and glory of the Christian Faith.

Again your eyes will be opened to see the beauty and loveliness of your beloved. You could not in this world. He was tied and bound with the grave clothes of the flesh. You loose them and you see more clearly his character. He is nearer to you now than when in this world.

These are some of the lessons the Teacher has for you. He has opened your ear and you are not disobedient. You whisper:—"Speak; Lord, for thy servant heareth".

THE LORD JESUS HIMSELF DREW NEAR AND WENT WITH THEM. THANKS BE, O LORD.

The Peterborough Examiner

VOL. XCVIII, No. 66 PRICE FIVE CENTS SATURDAY, MARCH 19, 1949

Three Fined For Selling Tickets On New Car

The future of car lotteries remains as obscure as ever after three Peterborough residents paid $25 fines in Ottawa on Friday for selling tickets on a 1949 Mercury sedan. Proceeds went to the Peterborough Football Club for outfitting of junior and senior rugby teams this fall.

Fined were Clare Kearnes, 33, his wife, Olive, and James Patrick Allen, 34, all of this city. They were charged with being agents in a lottery.

Members of the Peterborough Club today chipped in funds to pay the fines. The car, which was originally seized by the police, was released, and the trio started for Peterborough on Friday night.

It is believed that they made their mistake by not first obtaining permission from the Mayor and Chief of Police. Experienced ticket vendors regard such behavior as naive.

Lotteries such as this are illegal in any community as they infringe the Criminal Code, but some municipalities are inclined to wink at the procedure, particularly if the proceeds are for a good cause.

While the Peterborough trio was being fined in Ottawa the Gananoque Rotary Club was selling tickets on a new car at George and Charlotte Sts. They were not queried by police and were doing a brisk business.

The two men selling tickets told the Examiner they knew their actions were illegal, but they had taken the precaution to get the permission of civic authorities before appearing on the streets.

Apparently municipalities arrange such matters on an unofficial reciprocal basis. If one of them bans ticket selling then the others also apply the ban; and the service clubs from a strict municipality soon find they are unable to sell outside their own community.

The Peterborough Football Club went into the "red" last year in its attempts to promote football here, and this year they are trying to raise funds to support a junior and senior teams. If the car-raffle is a success Club members hope to do some repair work at the Exhibition Grounds and make it into a suitable football field.

TALKS TO HI-Y

Assistant Work's accountant of the CGE here, Gordon Hodgson will address the Senior Hi-Y club Monday. He will talk to the boys on a career in accountancy, outlining the important features of the work.

Married Women In Industry Being Replaced

Major industries in Peterborough and surrounding district are pursuing a policy of gradually getting rid of their married women employees, with the aim of employing only single women in the future insofar as it is possible, the Examiner learned on Friday on inquiry at the office of the National Employment Service here. This policy has been in effect ever since the end of the war, with the result that the number of married women in the employ of local industries is now considerably smaller than its wartime peak.

218 Married Women Aided

Figures obtained from William Mellis, local manager of the N. E. S., show that at present there is a total of 281 women receiving unemployment insurance benefits; of this number 218 are married. There are, however, 324 married women unemployed altogether in the area, the others not being entitled to benefits.

The area covered by these figures includes Peterborough County, Haliburton, part of Victoria, part of Durham, and the largest part of Northumberland county. The figures show a considerable increase in the number of married women unemployed in this district over the same time last year.

Mr. Mellis said that the number of married women workers is not being reduced by a policy of wholesale lay-offs, but rather by a policy of only taking on single women to succeed married women when they quit their jobs. The only exception to this rule is in cases where it may not be possible to procure a single woman with the necessary qualifications for a particular post.

No General Policy

The present policy is not being carried out as a result of any general agreement among the industries concerned, but entirely on an individual basis, each industry having adopted the policy on its own device for controlling any unemployment problem. In this way, the industrial leaders are doing their best to see that as many single women gain employment in their plants as they can possibly absorb.

The present state of employment of married women in industry does not prevent them however, from continuing to receive them. The period of time the benefits last depends upon how long they have been contributing to the national unemployment insurance fund. For example, a person who has been contributing to the fund for five years can continue drawing benefits for a year after becoming unemployed.

Same in Other Centres

Indication that the same situation is obtaining in other Ontario industrial centres is contained in a Canadian Press dispatch from Kitchener which quoted C. W. Boyer, N.E.S. manager for the Kitchener-Waterloo area, as saying a like policy is being followed by industrial firms in those cities. Mr. Boyer said that out of 243 women claimants for unemployment insurance in his territory 222 are married.

The opinion was expressed in Kitchener that this trend may create some hardship in cases where a family is being buffeted by the current housing problem. Many married women have continued to work since the war solely to augment their husbands earnings so that present-day high rentals could be met. Others were said to need two incomes in retiring mortgage principal and interest on houses costing $8500 to $10,000.

PAPER KINGS

The four kings pictured on playing cards are David, Alexander, Caesar and Charlemagne.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

TELEPHONE LINE CUT

Telephone line to Bridgenorth and overhead telephone wire and were badly damaged when a motorist drove a truck into a telephone pole on Reid Street near Chemong Road Friday night. The pole was broken and the impact caused considerable damage to the truck but the driver, Gordon Chapel, 50 St. Paul's St., Lindsay, escaped uninjured.

ADDRESSES ROTARY

W. E. Ross, assistant to the President of the Canadian General Electric Company, Toronto, will be guest speaker at the Rotary Club's luncheon Monday. Mr. Ross was a member of the Peterborough Works from 1919 to 1948. His topic will be "Canada's Power Development."

CHANGE OF SCENERY

Friday night's low of one above zero forced early morning workers to discard their spring overcoats for their woollen scarfs and winter overcoats. At nine o'clock the temperature had climbed to nine above. One year ago the low for the day was 15 degrees above and the high a comfortable 41 above.

Woman Lost $40 From Handbag

One 20-dollar and two 10-dollar bills were taken from a woman's handbag containing $43 when she left it at the table to go to the wash room of a Peterborough restaurant Friday.

Mrs. Harry Woodbeck, 282 Romaine St., returned to the wash room after finding her bag was missing from the table and found it in a waste paper basket covered with paper towels. $40 was missing.

Church Choirs Present Concert

The combined choirs of Murray St. Baptist and St. Andrew's United churches presented a program of musical entertainment at Murray St. church Friday. Although several church choirs have united for similar concerts it was the first time these two had presented a joint program.

There were several items of sacred music and a number of modern arrangements of lighter tunes which contributed to a well balanced program. Guest artists were Gwen Craw and Charles Allen playing on two pianos. This piano duo was making its first public appearance and they received hearty applause.

From Brahms' Requiem the choir sang How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings and also the dynamic chorus Baal We Cry to Thee from Mendelssohn's Elijah with Harry Pyle singing the recitatives.

The Ukrainian Christmas Carol of the Bells, although somewhat out of season, was so excellently sung without accompaniment that it fully justified inclusion. Edward German's My Bonny Lass She Smileth brought a pleasing air of gaiety and another jolly song was a fascinating arrangement of the nursery chyme Sing a Song of Sixpence.

Mrs. Cora Hendren was soloist in a choral arrangement of Holy, Holy, Holy and Iris Whalon and Don Landry sang together in Mendelssohn's On Wings of Song.

The concert was directed by the two choir masters, Stanley and Harry Northrop.

Fans Jamming Trains, Buses

Hundreds of sport-conscious Peterborough residents headed for Toronto today bent on taking in one or the other of three events, the Sportsman's Show at the Coliseum, an OHA play-off game, and a regular NHL fixture.

About 500 people left on a C.P.R. special train at 7.10 a.m., six coaches being needed to take care of the crowd. The railway had offered a special rate for the trip.

In addition 37 others left at 9.00 this morning on a specially chartered Colonial Coach Lines bus to attend the Sportsmen's Show and the two hockey games. Traffic was also expected to be heavy on the regular bus leaving at 1.30 p.m.

Special interest centered around this afternoon's play-off game between Toronto Marlboros and the Kitchener - Waterloo Flying Dutchmen in the Senior A division of the Ontario Hockey League, at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Tonight's game in the National Hockey League is between Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings.

City Police Note No Increase In Drinking Among Minors

As far as the city police of Peterborough have been able to ascertain, there has been no alarming increase in drinking among minors, such as a press dispatch from Lindsay reported on Wednesday as taking place in that town. The news item quoted Crown Attorney Lorne Jordan and police of Lindsay as saying that they were "becoming alarmed" at the increasing number of minors consuming liquor.

Peterborough police have been watching this situation very closely for some time, the Examiner learned upon inquiry at the police station. The eight hotel beverage rooms in the city are visited regularly by the police constables on every shift and they keep a close watch for youthful drinkers in these places.

Difficult Task

The work of the police in enforcing this section of the Liquor Control Act is rendered difficult in cases where a minor of age 16 or 20 frequents a beverage room. Police officials said that it is next to impossible to be sure just by looking at young people this age grouping whether or not they are under the age limit. However, it is quite simple to spot boys or girls from 16 to 19 years and when they are discovered the police lose no time in catching up with them.

Records on file at the police station show that there have been six conviction since January 1, four of those found guilty being boys and two girls. Fines of $10.-00 and costs of $2.50 were levied in each case. A comparison with the situation existing a year ago could not be made, as the records were not complete.

The number of convictions recorded so far this year is not an abnormal number, police said.

The Canadian Press dispatch from Lindsay reported that after 17-year-old Bill Burke of Lindsay paid a fine of $100 for illegally having beer at a local dance hall, the Crown warned that the next teen-ager so convicted would be liable to from one to three months extra in jail if he did not disclose where the liquor was obtained.

Community Fund Totals $74,660

By the beginning of the next week Campaign leaders are certain that the Peterborough Red Cross and Community Fund will have reached its 1949 objective of $75,000.

Late on Friday the total amount of cash and pledges received stood at $74,660.96, and money was still coming in. They expect that the objective will be passed sometime on Monday.

One of the gratifying features of the campaign to date, officials say, is the large proportion of cash donations compared to subscriptions. Altogether $39,655.46 has been raised by the cash method.

Some money has still to come in from four of the Divisions, although three of them have already oversubscribed their quotas. A considerable sum of money is still expected from the Retail.

A breakdown of the total so far received is as follows: Special Names, chairman Gordon S. Mathews—objective $22,500 and subscribed $23,088.75; Industrial, chairman Ian McRae—objective $32,000 and subscribed $32,724.75; Retail, chairman W. C. Hughes—objective $16.500 and subscribed $13,178.45; Women's, chairman Mrs. W. E. Fanning—objective $4,000 and subscribed $5,182.76; Penny Collection—objective $500 and subscribed $486.25.

One of the features of the campaign was the drive by the Women's Division which cleared more than $5,000. Feeling that the women had a difficult job to do the executive set their quota at the same as last year, $4,000, but Mrs. W. E. Fanning said her Division would endeavor to raise its sights by 25 per cent similar to the others.

PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT

Make Sure Plumbing Pipes Included In House Plans

While the plumbing fixtures are more glamorous than the piping, they cannot give satisfactory service unless the supply and waste piping is well designed, adequate, and correctly installed.

The time to plan for the concealed part of your plumbing system is when you are planning the house. You will save money and have a more efficient plumbing system, if you will talk things over with a good plumbing contractor before the plans for your house proceed to the blueprint stage.

Just to show how wise it is to plan your plumbing in advance, here are some of the essential points which should be taken into consideration:

1. Water requirements. These are determined by the number of plumbing fixtures, lawn faucets, garage faucets, and other places where water may be used.

2. This decided, the plumbing contractor will be in a position to advise you on the size of the service line which brings the water from the street to your meter and the diameter of the branch supply lines which lead from the meter to the bathroom, kitchen, utility room, etc.

3. Location of pipe lines. With the modern trend toward use of the basement for recreation purposes, it is desirable to give some thought in advance to the location of piping in the basement.

4. Pressure. If the prevailing water pressure in your locality is high, it will be necessary to use a pressure reducing valve.

5. Equalization of pressure. There should not be too many fixtures on one branch line because this cuts down the volume and pressure. Lawn faucets should not be on the same line with plumbing-fixtures. They should be on a separate line direct from the meter.

6. Piping should run as straight as possible. Every bend introduces some frictional resistance. Waste lines should never make sharp bends.

7. Shut-off valves. All branch lines running to groups of fixtures should be equipped with separate shut-off valves for the hot and cold water.

8. And speaking of repairs — repairs to the concealed part of your plumbing system can be made only at considerable expense and inconvenience. When you are planning your home is the time to plan a system that will be as free from repairs as your plumber can make it. Your best assurance of quality is the use of nationally-known plumbing materials.

9. Beware of orphans. Your plumbing system should be made up of standard, interchangeable parts such as those made by manufacturers whose names are nationally-known.

10. Safety. Quality and dependability in materials and workmanship is your best assurance against a breakdown of the piping with its attendant possibility of damage to furnishings.

Good workmanship always pays. There thus are many reasons why you should take the time to discuss the plumbing for your new house with an experienced plumbing contractor.

He will be glad to go over the whole plumbing system with you —with no obligation on your part. Every good plumbing contractor wants you to have a plumbing system that will give you quiet, efficient, trouble-free performance for many years.

CHANGES COMING—Construction of a new $13,500,000 bridge across the Strait of Canso will bring two major changes in the scenes shown in these two photos. The top photo shows the narrowest part of the strait separating Cape Breton from Nova Scotia where the bridge will be built. The high point of land in the upper left will be the starting point of the Cape Breton side. The bottom photo shows the car ferry at Mulgrave, at present the only means of transportation across the strait. With the completion of the new bridge carrying both train and vehicular traffic these docks will no longer be used.

Motor Licences Increased 10 p.c.

An increase of ten per cent in the number of motor vehicle licences issued in the Peterborough district in 1948 over the year 1947 is announced in the annual report of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce mailed to members this week.

Registrations included: 9,400 cars, 1,650 trucks, and 900 trailers, 16,000 drivers' licenses were issued along with 2,720 instruction permits or beginners' licenses, and 6,000 transfers.

The report makes this comment "While this means consideable extra expense in the way of additions to the staff for the first three months of the year, commissions arising from this part of the chamber's activities cover it."

Take Liquor Vote

OWEN SOUND, March 19 — (CP). —City Council on Friday night asked the Ontario Liquor Licence Board to set a date for a vote under the Liquor Licence Act to determine if Owen Sound voters are in favor of a government liquor store, a brewer's retail store, men's and women's beverage rooms and dining lounges. Council took the action after receiving a petition signed by approximately 3,560 voters—1,150 more than the 25 per cent needed under the Liquor Licence Act.

Help Prevent War

RIVERSIDE, Calif., March 19—(AP)—The Atlantic Pact will help to prevent war, Canada's governor-general, Viscount Alexander, said on his arrival here Friday. "Aggressor nations despise weakness and respect strength," he told reporters. He is en route to Los Angeles, where he will speak next week at the University of California.

YOUNG PATIENT—The dentist's chair should hold no fears for six-weeks-old Gerald Smith. Born with two teeth, it was decided they should be removed, so here Gerald is shown in the arms of his mother, Mrs. Reginad Smith, as Dr. H. J. Totton of Hamilton prepares to extract the second tooth. "It was a lower central incisor and the extraction was accomplished without difficulty," Dr. Totton reported.

Official Birthday June 6

OTTAWA, March 19 (CP). — The King's birthday, always a problem because it falls too close to Christmas, will be celebrated in Canada on June 6, it was proclaimed in the Canada Gazette on Friday. The King's birthday actually falls on December 14.

Drew's Duty To Tell If Secrets Betrayed

MONTREAL, March 19 (CP)—Defence Minister Claxton said in a statement Friday night that if Progressive Conservative Leader Drew has any knowledge of a member of the armed forces giving information to the Russian Embassy, it is Mr. Drew's duty to "tell the authorities."

In the House of Commons at Ottawa Friday Mr. Drew claimed Communists have infiltrated the armed services and "there is not much doubt . . . that the Russian Embassy is fully informed on any essential facts."

Mr. Claxton said in his statement it would be interesting to know if Mr. Drew has given such names to the police or to the military authorities, or if this is another of those general and irresponsible charges which he has no evidence to support.

Chamber Sought To Directly Aid Citizens Of City And County

Greater emphasis was placed by the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce during the past year on activities which would benefit the citizens of Peterborough county and city directly, according to the annual report of the president, W. M. Gemmell, which has been distributed to the members of the chamber. Mr. Gemmell reported that there is now a better balance between these various activities and tourist promotion which still remains, however an important phase of the chamber's work.

The work carried on by the organization during 1948 took many and varied forms, including beside tourist promotion, Better Business Bureau work, Peterborough Automobile Club, studies on highway signs, traffic and railway crossings, collecting industrial and commercial data, fire prevention work, and aid to the Business Men's Association.

In thanking all those who had helped the board during the year in the carrying on of its activities, Mr. Gemmell made particular mention of the work done by F. J Overend and G. A. Macdonald, who "have rendered particularly valuable service through many years." The president also extended thanks to the City Council and its employees in all departments for their fine support.

Not Yet Borne Fruit

The president expressed regret that steps toward organizing committees on Civic Affair and National Affairs had not yet borne fruit. In national affairs several items were dealt with by the executive which "should have been studied by a group who, having examined all aspects in detail, would have been able to recommend a policy for the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce to adopt."

Members of Chambers of Commerce should organize themselves into groups for the study of matters of municipal, provincial, or national import; "only thus will they preserve a democratic and free way of life," was the opinion expressed by Mr. Gemmell. He added this comment: "As long as there exists a margin between what a community is and what it ought to be there is work for a Chamber of Commerce."

Mr. Gemmell said that appointment in May of a manager "has proven to be a wise move and has resulted in your chamber being much more effective in the community."

The president expressed gratification over the greatly increased membership which developed during the year, there now being some 350 members all told. This was not, how ever enough to make the chamber self-supporting, a minimum of 500 members being necessary to bring this about. He expressed thanks for the financial help extended by various industries and the City Council.

Reports of the manager, James S. Fraser, and the secretary, J. J. Dorris, appended to Mr. Gemmell's report enumerated many worthwhile activities carried out during the year by the chamber. A typical example is the task of making available to the general public daily reports on highway conditions received from the Ontario Motor League and the Provincial Police. Highway routings and hotel information for both residents and U. S. visitors are other important services performed.

Demand an Free

Mr. Fraser reported that there has been a steadily increasing demand on his office for help from individuals wanting to purchase businesses in the city, looking for industrial and retail premises, seeking employment, or desiring assistance in setting up sales territories, employing local salesmen, etc.

Messrs. Fraser and Dorris reported that the office of the chamber continues to be the focal point in the Kawartha district for distributing information regarding hotel, cottage, and cabin accommodation, fishing area, folders, maps, etc. The chamber's correspondence on tourist enquiries from the winter of 1947-48 to last summer amounted to almost 600 written replies to requests from 20 different states, as well as several Canadian provinces.

Plans are underway, the report noted, for the organization of the Kawartha Tourist and Development Association, the objective of which will be to increase tourist trade in the Kawartha district by means of a promotional campaign financed by local resort operators, retailers and industry.

Suspend Licence

KINGSTON, March 19 (CP).—The liquor licence of the Conservative Club here was suspended on Friday by the Ontario Liquor Licence Board following investigation of charges that liquor was served outside of the prescribed hours. R. A. Gaskin, Registrar of the Board, said an inspector found liquor being served in the club last Sunday.

ON AN EXPERIMENTAL TRIP for the Ontario Hydro Friday, a helicopter covered 650 miles of transmission line in 18½ hours. It can fly within 50 feet of cables and towers to let observer spot any defective lines and insulators.

Linemen Soon Be Airborne

TORONTO, March 19—(CP) — Linemen of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission may soon be airborne.

A demonstration of a helicopter on line patrol Friday showed the plane could cover 50 miles of transmission lines in 18½ hours of flying time. The same patrol by ground crews would have taken 26 men a total of 600 hours.

The helicopter can follow the lines at about 30 miles an hour, holding a position within 50 feet of the lines. Hydro officials said a skilled observer can spot fine defects as surely as from the ground.

The first test trip was made from suburban Leaside to Chats Falls in Northern Ontario. A service truck on the ground kept pace acting as ground crew and supplying emergency fuel.

Officials said the helicopter would not replace all line patrols but would be useful for flying emergency crews to the scene of a line break.

Non-Paying Guest

SPRING VALLEY, N.Y., March 19—(AP)—A non-paying guest was flushed from his hiding place in a summer hotel Friday where police said he flourished for weeks, living on a diet of liquor and canned goods and shaving with vegetable soup.

Police identified the man as Robert Palloy, 49, of New York City, a former employee of the Bader Hotel at nearby Clarkstown which has been closed since last fall.

Manslaughter Guilt

BOSTON, March 19—(AP) — Walter Dunning Powell, 30, of Albany, N.Y., Friday night was convicted of manslaughter in the bludgeon slaying of an elderly Boston antique dealer and sentenced to 12 to 150 years in prison. Powell, who was credited with killing 22 Germans while serving as a sniper, with the Canadian army was tried on a charge of first degree murder in the slaying last August 19 of Jocob Kohn, 67.

Eskimo Book Of Wisdom Covers Babies, Allowances

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, March 19—(CP)—Interest aroused by the first polio epidemic among Canada's Eskimos draws attention to the governement's "Book of Wisdom for Eskimo," a 28-page publication that tells the natives nearly everything from what scares baby to the statement that the family allowance is a gift from the King. First non-religious book to be turned out in the shorthandlike syllabic writing the white man invented for the Eskimo, it is an unpretentious, simple booklet produced by the Department of Mines and Resources and the Health Department and placed in the hands of every Eskimo family.

A more elaborate, more detailed version is being prepared but is not expected to be ready until 1950.

The book, reported popular with the natives, 90 per cent of whom can read, is divided into two parts, one devoted to good health, the other to the allowances, care of rifle and boats, game conservation and other topics.

It, significantly, devotes its longest space, three pages, to tuberculosis, starting "lung sickness is everywhere.

Allowances

Of the allowances, it says "the King is helping all the children in his lands. He is giving aid to the Eskimo children also and has instructed his servants, the police, to proceed in this way."

The native is told that the allowance will not be issued in good times; "it will be saved and issued only when there is dire need for it."

The native is urged to do cyclical budgeting, piling up credit with the trader is good times. He is rapped over the knuckles for slaughtering more caribou, seal and walrus than he actually needs, is told that he should eat more fish and care for his boat.

The book of wisdom urges cleanliness in a number of ways and advocates that no Eskimo live a whole winter in one igloo. He should build a clean, new one every so often. In summer, he should move in his tent around.

Expects Armistice

RHODES, March 19 — (AP)—UN Mediator Ralph J. Bunche said Friday night he expects an armistice between Israel and Lebanon to be signed "in a couple of days." Negotiations have been going on in Palestine since March 1.

THE SENATE FOREIGN Relations Committee recommended confirmation of the nomination of James Grover McDonald, 61, of New York, to be the first U. S. ambassador to Israel. He served as special American representative to the new Jewish state during its provisional stage.

Drew Sparks Unruly Scene In Commons On Filibuster

OTTAWA, March 19—(CP)—The first morning sitting of the Commons was marked Friday by a noisy, unruly scene, and once again George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, was the central figure.

Mr. Drew, on the receiving end of a tongue lashing by Prime Minister St. Laurent Thursday took the offensive and hurled home charges of his own at the government head.

Mr. St. Laurent, who had left the chamber shortly before the attack started, had angrily suggested that the Progressive Conservatives were carrying on a "filibuster" against the legislation providing for the extension of some wartime controls.

Replying to that charge, Mr. Drew said:

"When the prime minister . . . makes the statement that a filibuster is taking place he is merely indicating how little he likes legitimate debate in this House on the arbitrary measures which he puts forward. His whole conduct demonstrates how unsafe it is to place arbitrary powers of this kind in his hands."

M. Drew spoke on a resolution to a bill extending the Foreign-Exchange Control Act for another two years.

Well-Staged Show

He said that in criticizing him Thursday, Mr. St. Laurent had put on a well-staged show which had been carefully planned in advance.

"Of course, we had the advantage of knowing from the press that it had been planned and was going to take place," he said.

"How did you like it" asked Jean Lesage (L - Montmagny-L'Islet).

"I liked it very well as a perfect demonstration . . ." said Mr. Drew. He got no further before his words were drowned by applause from the Liberal benches.

Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) rose and said Mr. Drew was out of order in referring to a previous debate.

"I liked it very well as a demonstration of the action of a man who believes in dictatorial authority," said Mr. Drew, starting anew, shouting above the noise. "It is a clear indication of a servile government group following a man in trying to suppress the ordinary rights of this House of Commons the way he has."

Justice Minister Garson interjected and asked whether it was the right of free speech which was being dealt with.

Pays No Attention

M. Drew said he had no intention of paying any attention to Mr. Garson's "silly questions."

Mr. Knowles called for a ruling on his point of order and Deputy Speaker Ross Macdonald said it was well taken. He asked all members to stick "strictly" to matters pertinent to the resolution.

Mr. Drew, resuming, said he was dealing with the charge that his party was conducting a filibuster.

"I am certainly not, in the circumstances, limiting the extent of my remarks when I believe the freedom of this country is at stake in an issue such as this."

Kennedy Ill 2 Weeks

TORONTO, March 19 (CP). — Premier Kennedy of Ontario, confined to bed for the last week with an infection in his face, will not be able to return to the Legislature for at least another week, Mrs. Kennedy said Friday. Mrs. Kennedy said he was suffering from a "very painful" infection resulting from a cold.

IN NEW POST—Escott Reid, career Canadian diplomat who this week was named deputy undersecretary of state for external affairs, is one of the two Canadians sharing honors for their role in drafting the Atlantic Security Pact. He worked with Hume Wrong, Canadian ambassador to the U.S. during the prolonged preparations.

AN OPEN LETTER To Branch 52 Legion Members

CLARE DONNELLY'S FOR SMART SERVICE
CALL-A-CAB
2-0577
PETERBOROUGH - ONTARIO

March 18th, 1949

Dear Sir:

I wish to explain why I am running for 1st Vice-President of the Legion. I am a pensioner and have had occasion to become conversant with the ways and actions of the D.V.A. I am not interested in increasing pensions but wish to see that pensioners get what they have already been granted. I have had many come to me for information and help filling out forms, etc. in the past seven years. I have been able to assist some through my familiarity with procedure to get results. For instance, I had a Legion Member who had been discharged 100% disability came to me more than four months after discharge. His pension had not started and he had no means. I phoned Gordon Fraser for him and his first cheque came through in four days with apologies from D.V.A. This is not an isolated case, as the D.V.A. is very slow especially with widows pensions. In order to aid such cases I would like the standing that belonging to the Legion executive carries.

I feel there should be more attention paid to furthering the Legion as an association of ex-service personnel interested in the advancement of their welfare than in regarding it as a glorified beer parlor.

If elected, I will be available most of the day in my Taxi Office and would be glad to be of service to pensioners or members applying for War Veterans' Allowances.

As a member for three years of the Bruce County Council I acquired considerable executive experience. I would expect to spend much time in promotion of Legion interests. I have no petty grievances or personal axe to grind.

For these reasons I ask your consideration of me as a candidate.

Yours truly,
CLARE DONNELLY.

P.S.—The membership has dropped from over 3,000 to less than 800?

Due to the refusal of the Executive to let me see a List of Members, I am taking this method of securing a hearing

MISS BARBARA ANN FEE and MISS WINN HASKETT wearing the three-piece golf suit "The Pro" which they modelled recently. These suits have the tee holder, score pad and pencil pocket, specially designed for functional golfing.

Want Name To Stand

TORONTO, March 19—(CP)—The Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire Thursday night urged retention of the name "Dominion of Canada". The IODE said a resolution passed by its national executive committee opposed a private bill now before parliament which seeks substitution of the name "Canada" for "Dominion of Canada" in all statutes and official instruments and of "Federal" or "Canadian" elsewhere.

St. Paul's Group Enjoys Guests

Miss Sylvia Pedak, one of Peterborough's new citizens from Europe, her home having been in Estonia prior to the Second World War, was the charming speaker at the regular meeting of Friendly Group of St. Paul's Church Ladies' Aid on Friday.

The meeting was held in the Guild Room, with Mrs. A. A. McIntyre, immediate past leader, in the choir for the first part of the meeting. Devotional period was in charge of Mrs. T. G. Tully, group leader. Miss A. Ingram was at the piano for singing of hymns.

Mrs. A. Sands sang two delightful solos. Mrs. V. A. Read played the accompaniment. The latter also played two instrumental numbers. Mrs. W. A. Addyman, president of the Local Council of Women, brought greetings from that organization.

A vote of thanks to the speakers and artists was voiced by Mrs. Tully, who was in the chair for the latter part of the meeting.

Refreshments were served from a table prettily decorated with lace cloth, paper white narcissus in cut glass bowl and flanked with green candles.

Members whose birthdays are celebrated in March were responsible for the program and refreshments. These members are Mrs. A. A. McIntyre, Miss M. Jackson, Mrs. A. MacDonald, Mrs. F. Lockington, Mrs. M. Squair, Mrs. G. Coleman, Sr. and Mrs. T. G. Tully. Mrs. C. G. Boyd poured tea and Mrs. A. Jones and Mrs. W. McBride assisted in serving also.

Four-Act Comedy Well Presented

St. James Dramatic Club presented a four-act play that was full comedy on Friday evening in Wesley Hall. The fascinating story, called "Home Ties", was also full of romance and three wedding announcements came in the last act before the final scene of "home sweet home."

The plot had a true to life setting as heroine Ruth Winn (Miss Helen Dummitt), home from boarding school in the city, finds she is really in love with Leonard Everett, a son of the soil, played by Bob Orr, instead of her New York boy-friend Harold Vincent (Herby Bryan). The latter turns to her girl-friend from the city, Alma Wayne (Ruth Carter) and they become engaged. Josiah Tizzard, an umbrella mender, played by Mr. M. Drysdale, also finds love in the person of Mrs. Poplin, a widow with a pension and symptoms, played by Mrs. H. Turner.

Others in the cast were: Martin Winn, with memories of the past, played by Mr. H. Turner; Aunt Melissa, Martin's sister, Mrs. H. McMann; Lindy Jane who helped around, Miss June Bullied.

The first act was a June afternoon scene with Miss Ruth Winn being welcomed home from boarding school in the city. Second scene took place a month later when she received guests from the New York city, Harold Vincent and Alma Wayne. A charming evening party is arranged in the third scene.

Mrs. H. Turner directed the play skillfully. Parts were splendidly cast and the actors performed well with no prompting required, though Mrs. M. Drysdale was on hand for this purpose.

About 400 enjoyed the play and proceeds will be used by the choir which sponsored the production. Mr. Bill Naish, choir president, was chairman.

Entertainment between acts included a solo by Marjorie Turner and Bobbie Turner played a piano selection.

A WARTIME ROMANCE which followed two years' correspondence before W. Cyril Fontaine, proprietor of a Water St. cafe, went to Scotland with the Army in 1941, started a new chapter Friday when Sophia Ballantyne arrived in Peterborough from Scotland. Cyril, known to his friends as Babe, returned to Peterborough in 1945, leaving Sophia in Glasgow. Since then they have been corresponding regularly and have now planned to marry in the late spring. The friendship started when a school friend of Sophia's sister came to Peterborough more than 10 years ago. Babe started writing to Sophia's family and met them when his Army service took him to Glasgow.

CGIT Doings

MARK STREET

Cares and troubles were forgotten as the girls of Mark St. CGIT went on a sleigh drive Monday evening. Marilyn Logan was hostess afterwards when hot soup was served, and a rollicking sing-song brought the party to a close.

MURRAY STREET

Irene Kelly was in the chair for the business portion of the meeting, when Alice Pilling and Marilyn Wigg were named as delegates to attend the CGIT Provincial Area Conference ni Toronto.

Mrs. I. Morgan introduced some new songs before the group continued study of Bolivia.

Worship service was conducted by Blanche Quinn who briefly pointed out reasons why the girls should be thankful for the opportunity of being a part in the forthcoming Toronto Conference. Audrey Silvester offered a prayer of thankfullness.

TRINITY

President Joan White presided at the regular meeting of Trinity CGIT and welcome the girls from St. Andrew's who were guests for the evening.

Helen Lancaster of senior group led the worship service, using as her theme, "Doing a Good Job".

The film, "Christianity Goes to Press" was introduced by Dorothy Woodcock. The girls found this to be exceedingly interesting. Being in color, it gave a general idea of the countryside in China, later dealing with the work that is entailed in printing a book.

Anne Gordon expressed thanks of the group to Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy for her assistance in showing the film.

Vivian Clark and Joan Metcalfe of Intermediates were in charge of the games and had a hilarious time when "fruit basket" was played using the names of Chinese articles.

Margaret Munro expressed the appreciation of the St. Andrew's CGIT before the meetings closed with taps.

GEORGE STREET

Carol McKenzie reported that Ardell Smith, Jane Jarvis and Arlene Payne were in charge of the devotional period. Continuing the study of China,' Eileen Armstrong and Marion Outram each told a Chinese story and Shirley Head, Joyce Copp and Carol McKenzie presented a third story.

Joyce Copp presided during the business session when it was decided to pay the expenses of Miss Betty Brown to the conference in Toronto.

The members of the group were much interested in a display of shells which Mary Wasson had brought from Florida.

IODE TO SHOW FILM

LAKEFIELD, March 19 (ENS)—At an executive meeting of the I.O.D.E. Catharine Parr Traill Chapter at the home of Mrs. J. Huddart this week, the chapter decided to show films in Memorial Hall next Saturday afternoon.

The chapter has secured the films entitled Expedition Moose, which took three and a half years to make, Wild Fowl, Trout Fishing Across Canada, Song Birds of the North and a comedy.

These highlights of Paris spring collections include Dior's 'restless' silhouette (above) with flying panels; Fath's ingenious nutshell and string embroidery on collar of white pique frock (bottom left) and his burlap evening wrap (bottom right) decked with shells and spangles.

Schiaparelli's 'hurricane' silhouette is typified by white organdy gown (above) which has flounced tiers swung to one side; red brocade apron on other side. Her umbrella-sized yellow straw beach hat (top center) has armholes cut in brim.

Hemlines Are Calf-Length For Street Dress Wear

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS—(NEA)—Details of cut, novelty trimmings and unusual fabric make more news in Paris designers' spring collections than change in silhouette or hike in hemlines.

Hemline vary between 13 and 14 inches (mid or calf-length) for street dresses and seldom go longer than 10 inches from the sidewalk for formal afternoon models.

Fashions are built around two distinct silhouettes the straight—but not hobble—sheath and the full but exaggerated swinging dress.

The latter silhouette has a look of movement. Schiaparelli's, for one, is called the "hurricane." This lively concept, interpreted by soft spiral folds with an exaggerated back movement, is best typified by a bare-shouldered evening gown of red-embroidered white Swiss organdy. Flouncing from a snug bodice is a tiered skirt with movement "wind-blown" to one side.

Christian Dior interprets the "restless" silhouette with flying panels. He, among others, makes cut-sized pockets points of focal interest. In the case of his "flying panel" town dress of pale gray worsted from which long pleated set a-glitter with spangles and rhinestones. All of this makes a short flared evening coat which Fath ensembles with an ankle-length, sheath-styled gown of white silk serge.

Fath's tricks with nutshells—and with cork, another trimming used—are seen again on a debugodets flutter from the hipline, large patch pockets also accent the hipline fore and aft.

Biggest surprise in fabrics is humble gunny sacking. Touched by Jacques Fath's style wand, natural burlap becomes this spring's fashion Cinderella, elaborately bedecked with halved walnut shells, raffia and string, and tante dance frock of white cotton pique. Its collar is magnificently embroidered with almond shells, string, cord and silver spangles. A belt of natural cork cinches in the waist of this dress which glamorizes the nutshell.

Schiaparelli' large contribution to whimsy is a sun hat as big as a beach umbrella. Slits in the brim of this golden yellow straw provide holes through which arms can pass. Another novelty in her collection are new beach sandals with gaiter tops of white linen trimmed with contrast piping of vivid green.

WELDREST CLEANERS AND DYERS

GIACOMO PUCCINI

A GREAT NAME IN MUSIC!

This Italian operatic composer, born in 1858, was an exponent of naturalism. A master of drama and of musical invention, he based his operas on life in Japan, in Paris, in the American west and in other diverse localities. His works include: Manon Lescaut, La Boheme, Madama Butterfly, Tosca, The Girl of the Golden West, the triptych of Gianni Schicchi, Tabarro and Suor Angelica.

CLAUDE DEBUSSY

A GREAT NAME IN MUSIC!

Claude-Achille Debussy was born in 1862 at Saint-Germain-en-Laye, France, into an era of impressionism, and forthwith began writing music that broke all the rules, yet incorporated, from time to time, classic forms. His contemporaries in art and poetry were Renoir and Verlaine and they influenced to some extent the development of his music. Chief Works, Pelleas, Afternoon of a Faun, Nuages, Le Jet d'Eau, La Mer, Children's Corner.

DOROTHY DIX

Prospective Husband Falls In Love With Girl's Sister

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 25, engaged to be married and the wedding day set. I love my fiance very much and want to marry him, but the trouble is that I think he has fallen in love with my older sister who is married and not happy with her husband. I keep telling myself that I only imagine this, and I feel that it is true. When she is near he is very happy and looks at her lovingly. When she isn't near he becomes restless, tries to carry on a conversation with me, but his mind wanders, and I catch him saying anything just to make talk.

Dorothy Dix

He keeps talking about our wedding plans; yet somehow I know that his heart isn't in it and I am utterly miserable. My sister is 32 and goes out of her way to please me, something that she never did before.

What do you think I should do? Should I ask him directly if he loves me?

UNHAPPY.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your problem is indeed a tragic one, but it is one that you must face immediately and settle definitely. There must be no dillydallying about it and no wishful hoping that after marriage the right people will fall in love with each other and everybody will be happy and gay.

Common Error

It is not an uncommon thing for both men and women to be mistaken about their emotions. They are thrown in contact with some attractive and congenial member of the opposite sex with whom they honestly think they are in love. The marriage is arranged the wedding day set, and then some stranger appears on the scene and they are swept off their feet and realize that they have never really known what love was before, and that all they have felt for the party of the other part has been as water unto wine.

In such a crisis it is hard to know what to do. Many men and women through pride, through sympathy, through a sense of honor, go on with the weddings for which they have lost their desire. But I think this is a terrible mistake, and that if they are on the very steps of the altar they should turn back if they realize that their love is dead.

For there can be no fate so horrible as trying to simulate a passion that is dust and ashes and pretending to feel a love that is nothing but an enforced duty. So my earnest advice to you is to have a frank talk with your fiance and, if your intuitions are right, as I think they surely are, break off your engagement. Set him free to marry the woman he loves. It is the only way in which you will ever find peace and happiness.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: We have some women friends who bring their children when they come to visit us. Two of the children's behavior is deplorable and their mother is worn out correcting them. Finally she threatens to spank them good when they get home. That makes them let up for a while and then they start all over again.

Shouldn't the mother administer the spanking then and there, instead of waiting? Another mother says that all the talking to in the world does not seem to help in correcting her two incorrigibles, but if she gives them a good spanking when she feels they need it, it makes them behave. She does not promise them a spanking when they get home, but lays it on immediately, company or no company.

What is your opinion? Are you for spanking or against it?

M. E. M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: As I have no children, my theory on the spanking problem is without bias and depends upon when and where the corporal punishment is to be administered. If the children are mild and gentle little creatures and mind their manners when they go visiting with Mama, I think their mothers should be very patient with them. But if the children are litle hellions who tear up the house and make it look as if a cyclone had passed through it, I m all for strenuous methods and plenty of spanking on the spot.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Would it be proper to invite a divorced couple, who are not on speaking terms with each other, to the marriage of a man and woman who are friends of both of them? What complicates the situation is that both parties are very close friends of the couple who are to be married, and, therefore, play a very important part in the wedding.

SUE.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Undoubtedly your wedding guests will all be civilized ladies and gentlemen who will know how to conduct themselves. There is no necessity for kissing one's ex-husband or ex-wife when one meets them in public.

Kiwaniqueens' Shamrock Revue Highlights Party

Kiwaniqueens' Shamrock Shuffle entertained 75 Kiwanis Club members and their ladies at the Empress Hotel. Highlight of the evening which included dinner and dancing, was the "Shamrock Revue".

Dressed as Irish Colleens in full skirts of green with black basque over white blouse and white Irish hats, the "queens", Mrs. B. Till, Mrs. J. Devern, Mrs. M. Knox, Mrs. R. Bastable, Mrs. L. Mitchell, Mrs. F MacCallum, Mrs. W. Garner, Mrs. B. Myers, Mrs. W. Howell, Mrs. A. Plaskett and Mrs. C. Huffman, sang and played their "band instruments".

They fitted words to one tune and for the others they chose Irish numbers to honor St. Patrick, "McNamara's Band" and "Irish Washerwoman". The latter number was done with motions by the 'washing women' who doffed skirts to show Paddy green pantaloons with letters at the back that spelled out "The End" when turned to the audience at the close of the number.

Mrs. Chas. Huffman contributed an amusing reading on "Being Clinicod". There was a sing-song of Irish songs led by Mort Knox with Mrs. D. J. Fitzgerald at the piano.

Pots of shamrock on raised wooden trays of various shapes decorated the tables and were arranged by Mrs. W. Richardson. Pretty and colorful paper hats were provided for each guest.

Door prize winner was Mrs. Fred Ash. A number of valuable prizes were won during the evening on draws. These were arranged by Mrs. John Lewis.

Mrs. J. J. Collins was general convener of the program. Mr. Vince McCabe, Kiwanis president, was chairman.

LOOK AT THE GREAT NEW Plymouth!
AND COMPARE

PLYMOUTH SPECIAL DE LUXE FOUR-DOOR SEDAN Including Special Equipment . . .*

BIG CAR POWER
Plymouth engine improvements include: higher horsepower (97); higher compression ratio; automatic choke; better fuel delivery; smoother engine warm-up; longer spark plug life.

BIG CAR COMFORT
With longer wheelbase, better cradling of passengers, improved springing, chair-height seats and roomy interiors, Plymouth gives you "big car" comfort.

BIG CAR VISION
Increased vision for greater safety; 1/3 larger windshield; 1/3 larger rear window. More efficient windshield wipers with over 61% greater sweep.

COMPARE PLYMOUTH FOR STYLE... RIDE...ROOMY COMFORT... SIZE!

Compare the new Plymouth! You'll find its styling smart . . . and functional too! Plymouth styling allows ample head, leg and shoulder room in both front and rear seats. It provides wide-angle vision for greater safety. Its doors permit easy entrance and exit. Plymouth's stylish "bustle back" allows a spacious luggage compartment. Its fender openings permit easy servicing of tires and the quick application of chains, when necessary. Plymouth's functional styling retains fenders, so that with Plymouth a minor scrape does not mean a major repair.

Compare the new Plymouth for comfort! Plymouth's body is more dust-proof and is rust-proofed for a longer, brighter life. Its longer, 118½" wheelbase allows passengers to be seated even farther ahead of the rear axle, for greater comfort. Note Plymouth's roomy interior . . . its rich, Fashion-Tone upholstery . . . its comfortable chair-height seats. Try them! Lounge back and s-t-r-e-t-c-h . . . you'll like their comfort.

Compare the new Plymouth's ride! Better insulation and softer rubber body mountings minimize road noises. Its soft-acting coil front springs, airplane-type shock absorbers and low-pressure, Super Cushion tires all contribute to its incredibly smooth, relaxing ride.

Compare Plymouth! . . . outside, inside and under the hood! When you do, you'll agree that PLYMOUTH brings you more of the things you really want in an automobile.

NOTICE

IN THE MATTER OF THE MUNICIPAL ACT AND IN THE MATTER OF A PROPOSED BY-LAW OF THE MUNICIPALITY OF THE TOWNSHIP OF DOURO TO STOP UP AND CLOSE PART OF A HIGHWAY AND TO SELL THE SAME TO ARCHIE WINDSOR.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, Pursuant to Section 498 of The Municipal Act that the Municipality of the Township of Douro proposes to consider and if deemed advisable to pass at its Regular Meeting to be held at the TOWN HALL AT DOURO, on MONDAY, THE FOURTH DAY OF APRIL, 1949, at 1:30 o'clock p.m., a By-law to Stop Up and Close Part of River Road according to Registered Plan Number Twelve of the said Township, which said Parcel is further described as follows, that is to say:

ALL AND SINGULAR That certain Parcel or Tract of Land and Premises situate, lying and being in the Township of Douro, in the County of Peterborough, and the Province of Ontario, and being composed of Part of River Road according to Registered Plan Number 12 of the said Township adjoining and lying East of Block C according to the said Plan; which said Parcel containing by admeasurement 0.17 Acres be the same more or less, is further described as follows, that is to say:

PREMISING that the said Easterly limit of the said Block C has a course North 6° 00' West and relating all bearings herein, thereto,

COMMENCING at the Intersection of the present fence with the said Easterly limit of the said Block, being at a point 3 feet Northerly from the South-easterly angle of the said Block

THENCE North 23° 40' East along the present fence 172 feet to a fence corner,

THENCE North 58° 10' West along the present fence, 50 feet more or less to the North-westerly limit of the said River Road,

THENCE South-westerly along the said limit, 33 feet more or less to the said Easterly limit of the said Block C,

THENCE South 6° 00' East along the said limit 130 feet more or less to the point of commencement, and to sell the above described to Archie Windsor, for the sum of $1.00.

FURTHER TAKE NOTICE, That before passing the said By-law at its Meeting to be held at the time and place above mentioned, the Council of the Municipality of the Township of Douro shall then and there hear in person or by his Counsel, Solicitor or Agent any person who claims that his land will be prejudicially affected by the said By-law and who applies to be heard.

DATED at Peterborough this 26th Day of February, 1949.

J. J. COUGHLIN,
Clerk.

Burning House Saved By Bucket Brigade

WARKWORTH, March 19 — (ENS)—The prompt action of neighbours averted total destruction of the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Lawrence six miles west of Warkworth, when a chimney fire spread to the attic and roof of the house Friday evening.

Mrs. Lawrence was in the house alone when she heard crackling and saw sparks and shingles flying in the kitchen. Immediately she aroused the neighbours who fought the fire with water buckets.

While on its way to the house, the fire brigade had engine trouble and was unable to help. Archie Ferguson, who lives nearby, had a bucket pump with which he was able to gain control of the blaze, which had spread to one of the two front turrets of the house.

A. McNaughton Heads Young People's Group

WARKWORTH, March 19. — (ENS).—Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church held their first meeting of the year on Sunday evening. The Rev. J. M. Ritchie conducted the devotional service and spoke on The Place of Young People in the Church Today.

Officers were elected as follows: Hon. president, J. M. Ritchie; president, Arden McNaughton; vice-president, Gwen Wartman; secretary, Alice Nelson; treasurer, Alex Glover; lantern secretary, Hugh Campbell; pianist, Alice Nelson; worship convener, John Weatherson; service convener, Gwen Wartman; fellowship conveners, Lois Fowler and Don Weatherson and offertory steward, Jim Glover.

Warkworth News

Mrs. Alice Woodard is ill at the home o fher daughter, Mrs. Howard C. Betts, Rochester, N.Y.

Mr. Henry Waters has returned home from Belleville hospital.

Mrs. Glen Hancock has returned home after visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Goodman at Oshawa.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sherwin attended the funeral of Mrs. W. Humphries at Napanee.

Mr. Harold Buttars recently purchased the store which he has been occupying for a number of years, from Mrs. F. Garbutt of Toronto.

In Campbellford hospital sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Beatty on March 12 and Mr. and Mrs. Wiliam Beatty on March 9.

In Fresno, California a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Bridgen (nee Dorothy Redden) on March 11.

Spot 65,232 Ducks

TORONTO, March 19 (CP). — A total of 65,232 ducks were spotted in January when the Provincial Lands and Forests Department covered 15 of the 18 Ontario census areas, it was reported Friday. The largest concentration of ducks was recorded in the Detroit River and south shore of Lake St. Clair. Tabulators counted 23 species of waterfowl wintering in the province.

STILT-WALKING Bert Wood, 69, ties hop lines while his assistant, May Simmonds, 54, anchors the strings at the bottom of the poles in a Kent hop-yard. This picturesque method of growing the beer-making plant is rapidly disappearing in England because modern machines increase output.

Bishop's Dispute Aired In Open

LONDON, March 19—(AP). — Dr. E. W. Barnes, miracle-doubting Bishop of Birmingham, has brought into the open his fight for Liberal Theology — without Adam and Eve, Noah's Ark and Jonah's Whale.

He and the Archbishop of Canterbury, Most Rev. Geoffrey Fisher, have been at odds for years over Liberalism versus Fundamentalism in Anglican theology.

The controversy has been brought to a head by the proposed bishops' (retirement) measure of the Church of England. Bishop Barnes contends the measure would 'liquidate Liberal Bishops.'

It provides retiring ages for bishops of 70 to 75 years. Bishop Barnes is 74.

Up to now the Church of England has had no power to retire bishops. The measure would make it possible to force their retirement if they were physically or mentally incapacitated or found guilty of "unbecoming conduct or neglect of duty."

Bishop Barnes calls it a "threat to Liberal Theology."

Liberal clergy, he points out, take the view that you need not believe in Adam and Eve in order to be a Christian. The tribunal, he argues, could remove a bishop for such views.

St. Cecelia's Club Presents Concert

NORWOOD, March 19 (ENS)—St. Cecelia's Music Club presented a program of music in Hastings Parish Hall this week which included piano solos by Joan Walsh, Betty Cleary, Mary Doherty, Mary Halstead, Barbara O'Shea, Anna Marie Cronin, Frances Barry, Marina Morton and Mrs. Tex Daly, A.T.C.M.

Piano duets were played by Shirley and Helen Keogan, Ted Lynch and John Bolton.

A short play entitled "The Music Store" was enacted by Danny Cleary, Rose Mary Fanning and Marilyn Radcliffe. Danny Longover played a violin solo.

An Irish jig was danced by Ruth Andrews and John Bernier in costume. Those who sang were Catherine Condon, Rose Mary Fanning and Mary Collins; Jacqueline Rogers and Ruth Ball.

Voting Interest Lags Sharply In Last Decade

TORONTO, March 19 —(CP)— Produce a candidate popular with his fellow men and radiating personality—and preferably possessing good looks—add a red-hot issue resulting in a fighting campaign and the voters will turn out at a municipal election. But such a combination has been rare in Canadian politics in the last decade.

Figures from a half-dozen representative Canadian cities show that in the period from 1939 to 1948, inclusive, it was an unusual election when half the voters cast ballots for mayors and city councillors.

City clerks remember the "hungry '30s," when depression and unemployment cast a shadow across the Dominion, as being conducive of more interest in municipal government than the "fighting '40s." Prior to 1939 and the outbreak of the Second World War a good turnout at the polls—as high as 78 per cent in the case of Quebec City in 1934—could be counted on. In the decade since then the percentage of eligible voters turning out usually has been in the 40s and 50s.

In scattered instances where candidates' personalities and controversial issues combined to stir interest, voting percentages shot upward. On the other hand, municipal officials also noted that in years when mayors are elected by acclamation, leaving the ballot-box battles to candidates for other civic offices, the turnout almost always was low.

The three largest cities in Canada—Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver — do not show a single election in the last 10 years where as many as half the voters went to the polls. Winnipeg and Windsor show a better-than-half vote once each in the period. Moncton, with a top of 76, beat the 50-per-cent level four times.

Richard J. Devey Buried At Perth

The funeral of Richard J. Devey which took place in Perth on Friday was largely attended. The pupils of the Perth Public School under their Principal W. D. Reid, formed a cortege outside St. James' Anglican Church where the service was held. Mr. Devey had been supervisor of music in the Perth Public School and until his retirement, organist and choirmaster of St. James' United Church. The service was conducted by the Rev. J. P. Holmes. The choir was present. Hymns chosen were the ones that had been used in the same church at the funeral serviceof Mrs. Devey in 1941. Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery, Perth.

5 UN Army Observers Investigate Wounding

BATAVIA, Java, March 19. — (Reuters).—Five United Nations military observers today flew to Medan, North Sumatra, to investigate the wounding Friday at Brastagi, 80 miles south of Medan, of two officers, an American and a Briton.

Maj. J. A. Simmons, the American, and Lt.-Col. H. D. Chaplin, the Briton, were the first United Nations casualties in Indonesia. A Netherlands army dispatch said they were wounded by "enemy action."

It was announced here that Maj. Simmons was hit by one bullet and Col. Chaplin by six.

Shoots Fiancee

CHICAGO, March 19—(AP). — Vera Lapiccola, 17, was shot and critically wounded Friday night after an argument with her fiancee, Henry Manello, 22, over purchase of a wedding ring. Police said Manello had admitted firing the shot after he and Miss Lapiccola argued about increasing instalments payments on the ring so they could get married sooner.

Plan New Marmora School Extensions To Two Others

MARMORA, March 19 (ENS). —A new school building for Marmora Village and extensions to the Tweed and Madoc High School buildings were planned by members of Centre Hastings Area School Board and the High School principals Thursday. The new school is expected to cost approximately $250,000. It was stated that the area would have an assessment of $8,000,000, and the Department of Education would pay 70 per cent of the cost of the operation of these schools and the same percentage of the cost of the building program.

The High School tax rate for the area for 1949 was set at 4 mills. T. E. Moffat of Tweed was made the supervising principal for the area.

The building program was planned at an afternoon meeting which was followed by a chicken dinner served in St. Andrew's Church Hall by Marmora Women's Institute. Those present were T. E. Moffat of Tweed, H. R. Partridge of Madoc, W. R. Hamilton of Marmora, Inspector R. H. Macklem of Belleville, secretary of the County Board for Organization of Larger School Areas, and Inspector R. D. Rendall of Toronto.

Reeve V. M. Lynch of Marmora was toastmaster, and a solo was sung by Mrs. L. R. Rundle. H. W. Sabine proposed the toast to the Department of Education. This was replied to by Inspector Rendall. The toast to Centre Hastings Area School Board was proposed by Charles H. Buskard, the Reeve of Deloro, with response from Dr. S. Eagleson, Madoc chairman of the Board. The final toast to the Women's Institute came from Councillor Ritchie Wells, and it was replied to by Mrs. E. C. Prentice, president of the organization.

FORMER SENATOR Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma, 78, died in Washington following a cerebral hemorrhage. Blind since childhood, he served in the Senate for 20 years, being elected as one of the first two members from Oklahoma when it became a state in 1907.

Nine Painters Display Art

Happily for most Peterborough people, the Men's Sketch Club's thirteenth annual exhibition has been transposed from the store where it had too brief a display to the gallery of the Library. There may be seen the work of nine members of the Club, all amateurs, but all with something to say in paint. The present exhibition at the Library contains 35 paintings or sketches. It is a selection from the earlier show, but gains from the selectivity, except that Joseph Tattersall's portrait "Dreamer" and C. H. Saunders' "Birches" are missing.

C. S. Browne's "Bathing Beach" shows a good sense of light and some development from last year, although the twisted trees in this and other panels do not resolve themselves easily into his general air of repose. A. B. Burrows contributes the only flower design, a pleasant one. The vivid, deliberately flat oils on paper of J. Tattersall are valid. S. Harris has an interesting Wild Flower composition. Jack Hamer's free yet studied brush knows where it is going. His "End of Winter" is a mood piece in typical colours but with an unusual sweep. It suggests a new direction which this talented amateur painter might profitably follow, and a freedom of imagination of which his more forthright tones in "View From Parliament Hill" and "Quiet Pool, Eels Creek" may be a colour chart.

It is interesting to compare J. E. R. Munro's landscape "Near Lang" with H. Steggle's scene set in Petworth, Sussex. ("Round the Hills"). Both have the same theme and not dissimilar vistas. The difference in season and latitude is marked. The Steggles panel has a quiet lush green; the Munro Ontario landscape is in more arid green, though not less sympathetic. J. E. R. Munro's "Bay of Quinte—Winter" is an excellent suggestion of the sweep of the water, of the distance, with a Canadian winter clarity which is not rigid.

G. N. Howson has painted an autumn panorama near Bethany which has an eighteenth century quiet of colour and a good affect of cloud shadow. C. H. Saunders, an accomplished water-colourist, is best represented in "And Aaron Made Them a Golden Calf." It is interpretive, partly story-telling picture. A good design, but less allegorical studies seem to give him better scope.

It is a colourful, pleasant and interesting show, well worth climbing a flight of stairs. It continues through the week.

Two-Storey Building Destroyed By Flames

MALTON, March 19—(CP). — Fire early today gutted a two-storey building in downtown Malton, destroying much of the stock in a ground-floor drug store and damaging apartments and offices over the store.

Fire-fighting crews from nearby Weston and Cooksville were called in to fight the blaze, believed to have started in the basement. No one was at home in the apartments at the time of the fire.

Mystery Train Tests

BERWICK, Pa., March 19 — (AP). — Dr. P. H. Jamison, 72, was severely injured Friday when his automobile was struck at a crossing by a "mystery train" undergoing tests before being shipped to a Spanish railway. Persons who have seen the train on previous test runs say its cars are shorter and lower than the standard type, with only two wheels rather than the conventional eight. The front end of the cars have no wheels, but are hooked to the car ahead like a small trailer.

Illegal Liquor Blamed In Train Holdup

WASHINGTON, March 19— (AP)—One of two young men charged with the holdup of a Baltimore and Ohio train filed a $50,000 damage suit against the railroad today. He said he was an "infant" and that the company was responsible for his conduct because it served him drinks.

George L. (Duke) Ashton, who said he was 20 years old, declared the train robbery was "solely due to the negligence of the railroad."

Ashton and Luman (Skip) Ramsdell, 22, also charged with the robbery, were arrested in Washington the day after the holdup. Ramsdell is in a hospital as the result of a bullet wound received in his capture.

Ashton's suit alleges that he was served several drinks on the railroad's Ambassador Limited, March 9, the day of the robbery.

Then, the suit said, one of the railroad agents "obviously aware that plaintiff then was intoxicated . . . permitted himself to become involved in an argument with plaintiff over drinks which were then and there on the table in the state of West Virginia, contrary to both law and prudent judgment."

The holdup occurred near Martinsburg, W.Va. Passengers said the robbers took about $1,000 from them.

The maximum penalty for robbery under West Virginia law is life imprisonment.

MarmoraPlayers Score Big Hit

MARMORA, March 19.—(ENS). —Marmora town hall was filled to capacity on Thursday evening and housed another good attendance the following evening as the Dramatic Club of the Sacred Heart church well sustained their reputation for the presentation of good plays in staging the three-act comedy drama, "Nora, Wake Up." As in former years the play was well directed by Mrs. James Black.

The cast included some who were making their debut in amateur theatricals, who delighted the audiences by their pleasing impersonation of the roles allotted them. With the more seasoned members of the cast, they excelled in putting on one of the funniest comedies ever seen on the local stage.

Members of the cast were: Verna Black, Mrs. Peter Brawley, William Mechan, Leonard Begley, Ray Black, Mrs. Carl Heath, Bernard Finnegan, Patricia Brady.

Specialty numbers presented between acts 1 and 2 included: Song, "Galways Bay," Rev. N. J. Farrell, encore "Little Mother of Mine," "A Bouquet of Roses," a melody of Irish songs in which Audrey Black, Patricia Lynch, Marjorie Hughes, Patricia Brady, Verna and Cecile Black took part.

Between acts 2 and 3 a sketch with dance and song, "Rosy O'Moore, an Irishman's Idea of Love," was presented. Parts were taken by Patricia Brady, Patricia Lynch, Marjorie Hughes, Audrey Black, Ray Darrah, Ray Black, Carl Johnston, Michael Forestell. Accomyanist, Mrs. J. Black.

Earl Petrie Relates Experience With Six-Acre Crop of Hybrid Corn—Soil Conservation Advocated by Prof. McConkey at Seed Fairs—Three Pimmett Shorthorns Average $762.

The grain-corn crop last year on six acres of the farm of Thomas Petrie, Otonabee, averaged 100 bushels or more to the acre by bulk of corn on the cob.

An outline of the results and experience from that planting of hybrid corn was given to the Examiner by Mr. H. E. Petrie by request as information for other farmers who have not yet made a similar experiment on their own land.

"The crop was picked and husked by a machine corn-picker. The yield averaged around 50 bus. of dried, shelled corn, although all of it was fed on the cob except the last few bushels the younger pigs are getting now. As in Southwestern Ontario, with the open winter too much mould developed on it to advise feeding it to the hens lately, but for a couple of months they laid exceptionally well with this corn as part of their ration.

Even with added mineral and some skim-milk, the hogs got off earlier, but fattened more than usual. The Holstein cows and young cattle digested nearly all of it at first, (for two months it was all the grain they got) when there was more moisture in it to soften it, but a month ago most of the kernels seemed to pass through whole. Young pigs of less than 100 pounds were fed most of the rest of it. Bigger pigs and sows apparently wasted too much, also. While the quality was good enough, hens wasted least, small pigs next and larger animals most.

The stalks were plowed down in the direction the picker went. Some people called the job badly done, and some said "You made a good job of it". The stalks were covered best when the previous furrow was cut close to the corn row, for the wheels on tractor and plow crushed it into the furrow without dragging, so the stalks were almost completely buried.

No nitrogen-carrying fertilizer was applied at the time of plowing to help rot the stalks, but it had been a manured clover sod without much late rains to leach the natural supply. Time will tell whether the crop of grain there this spring can get a supply o fnitrogen and humus for growth, or whether the corn stalks will be using it to complete the change to soil organic matter.

What about the coming year? It was the heaviest yield of grain ever harvested on the farm. It was very palatable to all classes of livestock. On an acre or two the best could be picked by hand for the hens throughout the year and the rest pastured by cattle to be followed by hogs for a month at least when it would supply all the grain part of the ration for the cattle and hogs very economically.

I expect that to be the corn grain plan on this farm this year. For larger acreages, more machinery in the field, and also in the barn to break it into meal, I think, would be necessary.

It was a success in that it demonstrates that heavy yields of grain can be grown here on farms where there is a high fertility, where an early maturing variety that hardens well is used, and where people are able and willing to take the risk in pioneering a new crop in the district that is used increasingly by other people in similar conditions."

To that interesting and practical review, Mr. Petrie made another observation: "To help out the cattle protein situation here, a hundred-pound sack of urea (262 per cent. protein) was nearly all used this winter for the young cattle, and they look better fed than usual."

PROF. McCONKEY'S LETTER

The subject of soil fertility is mentioned so frequently in the agricultural press and elsewhere that it may sound a dinning in the ears of farmers.

At the Quinte District Seed Fair in Kingston this week, Dr. O. M. McConkey, professor of field husbandry at O.A.C., said: Increased soil fertility as a means of increasing crop production was Ontario's No. 1 agriculture problem.

"There is a need of plowing under more legume green manures, more grass, legume mixtures in our rotations to prevent runoff and to build organic matter and fibre and fertility in our soils."

Dr. McConkey spoke at Woodstock and Kingston this week, and if an expert of his international reputation considers that such a warning must be given with repeated emphasis, it must be for reason of serious cause. His subject was "Agriculture and Soil Erosion", with special reference to his extensive observations in China where after his service in the late war—he organized a battery of artillery—he was adviser for two years to the Chinese Ministry of Agriculture and Forestry.

"The old world offers a warning to the new,—Canada and America," said Dr. McConkey, referring to soil conditions in China. "It can happen here—it has already started. Let us be wise and stop it, now before it is too late. We must plan for our children, our children's children,—we must plan for 1,000 years. We must conserve our forests and soil."

Dr. McConkey has seen such vast areas of "bared, eroded hills, appalling destruction of soil as the result of floods and wind erosion" that the compulsion is deep in his thoughts to tell farmers of Ontario what he has seen of an agriculture in the Orient which should be an object lesson in the effects of neglect of the soil.

One more quotation from his Seed Fair talk: "Our soil mantle in America is vulnerable, more easily destroyed than in Britain and Europe, because in eastern America man has cut away much of the natural protecting forest cover. Our rainfall often comes in heavy, eroding rains of two to four inches, and heavy thunderstorms which cause soil erosion, not like the gentle misty rains of Europe and Britain which do no harm."

+ + +

MUST LOVE THE LAND

"Soil conservation is still only a movement, something a lot of us talk about, but nobody yet does much about it. To be practical and successful it must be inspired by a genuine love of the land," said Watson H. Porter, editor of the Farmers' Advocate at the conference this week in Toronto of the Mutual Fire Underwriters' Association.

"There are more than 100 townships in Old Ontario where the forest cover is less than five per cent after only a hundred years of farming. In older countries where agriculture has been practised intensively a thousand years, the amount of forest and grass has been held at 25% of the total area to maintain productivity. Properly managed wood lots and the wise use of grass should be the concern of every farmer."

+ + +

FARMERS STATE THEIR CASE

The ideals of soil fertility and maintenance against enemy elements are the practical work of progressive Ontario farmers. They are of the same class as their delegates to the conventions of the provincial Federation of Agriculture. It is strikingly significant of rural appreciation of the soil and its responsibility that the first resolution adopted at their Toronto convention in January dealt with this question of conservation.

The text of that resolution is worth recalling because it plainly asserts that the whole problem of soil maintenance should not rest only on the rural economy.

"That the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, and through it the farm people, pledge their support to a co-ordinated program of conservation in its broadest sense, soliciting in this program all other segments of society for our mutual self-defense, national welfare and international stability and peace."

The Federation of Agriculture would be the first united voice to affirm that on their fringe, probably here and there in their membership, are farmers who neglect the land in their care and who fail to see its importance in the welfare of the nation. But, the collective membership is not of that company. Their declaration on conservation speaks for itself, and it implies a question which obviously inspired the second of the convention's resolutions.

That resolution could be paraphrased in Churchill's words: "Give us the tools and we'll do the job." It is an appeal to the public against the cheap food propaganda. One of the clauses in its preamble was: "Whereas decreased food prices, with the resultant decreased farm earning power, will result in an agricultural program that will rob our soil's fertility, and eventually impair our food supplies..."

That was the voice of the man on the land with all the responsibility of maintaining its productivity..."for our children's children". What the Federation said for him was: "That, realizing the seriousness of the threat of deflation predicated upon cheap food propaganda, we use every effort to place before the public, in a concrete and intelligent manner, the importance of the agricultural industry to the whole economy, the factors involved in the producing and supplying of food, and the wisdom of maintaining a fair income to agricultural people, so that they may maintain a decent standard of living, and hold in agriculture sufficient young people to staff the industry adequately."

In other words, the Federation of Agriculture is vitally aware of the primary place of their soil in the nation's well-being, but they also say that "other segments of society" must share in that responsibility.

If some farmers ask why the Federation doesn't do more about it than pass resolutions, the answer bounces right back to them with the indictment that they do not provide finances enough for the action and counter-propaganda their case needs.

Dr. McConkey and Mr. Porter are begging, to a very considerable extent, the question which lies at the root of the problem, and they know it. That question of adequacy of income was indicated in the fifth of the Federation resolutions last January, the farmer's fear of agricultural surpluses. Even the daily press headlines have been mentioning recently the likelihood of surpluses increasing by 1950 to a serious extent.

"We urge", said the Federation of Ontario farmers, "that the Canadian government make available to Britain, Canadian funds for the specific purpose of purchasing Canadian agricultural products, and that such purchases be at prices which will assure the farmer cost of production plus a reasonable profit."

Grant that fertility and conservation programs will be continued and greatly expanded where they need be, the Ontario farmers are saying that unless they have "reasonable profits" from their products of the land they will not be able to sustain and improve its fertility.

What the Federation of Agriculture said at their convention in January, and they have a right to be heard, was that the No. 1 agricultural problem is sufficiency of income. But, they left it in resolutions that failed to get the publicity their stated case merited. And, their branches and membership, in the meantime, are neglecting opportunities, and are not fashioning other opportunities, to thrust their case before "the other segments of society".

DURHAM SEED FAIR

Durham seed fair at Orono brought out a display of close to 300 bushels of grain, including commercial seed, comprising 70 exhibits. Eleven of the county producers showed ten-bushel lots of registered seed. The 125 farmers attending remained for the auction of the exhibits by Wm. Reid. Judges were Stuart Bowman of the plant products division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, and Kenneth Fallis of the crops, seeds and weeds branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.

An educational feature was a hog carcass demonstration by the Dominion livestock branch with H. A. Scotchmer in charge. It consisted of eight sides with cuts from the opposite side of each carcass. Various differences between Grades A, B and C were emphasized.

Mr. Scotchmer said many farmers hold their hogs too long, resulting in overfinished carcasses that could not possibly grade A. The farm shipping weights recommended were 190 to 205 lbs.

Prize winners were: Spring wheat: Jas. T. Brown, Alfred Allin, Garnet Rickard.

Fall wheat: J. T. Brown, Russell Bragg, Garnet Rickard,

Barley (6 rowed): M. McHolm, John Rickard, Garnet Rickard, Russell Bragg, Ernest Larmer, J. T. Brown.

RCMP Fingerprint Methods Called Dangerous By Provincial Policeman

Says Lifting Technique Places Accused At Mercy Of Unscrupulous Officer; Inspector, Courts Satisfied It's All Right

BELLEVILLE, March 21—(CP).—RCMP fingerprint techniques were challenged today by a 44-year-old Ontario Provincial Police constable who said some of them were "improper, dangerous and unsound." But Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay pointed out that the efficiency of the RCMP identification bureau was irrelevant to the inquiry. Constable J. E. Keays suggested the method of "lifting" fingerprints placed an accused person at the mercy "of any unscrupulous officer."

He made the suggestion while questioning Inspector R. W. Wonnacott before the Mackay commission, investigating the allegations of fraud, perjury and maladministration of justice the constable made against seven Provincial Police officers and a Crown Attorney.

He criticized the method of "lifting" a print from an object with a rubber pad and photographing it. He said an officer could "lift" a print from a fingerprint form and "plant" it to incriminate a person.

A Last Resort

Inspector Wonnacott, head of the R.C.M.P. identification bureau, agreed it could be done. But he said the method had been accepted by the courts and the police used lifted prints only as a last resort.

He said the constable was "trying to belittle the fingerprint system."

He said the 44-year-old constable was an "opportunist" using "tricks" to "suit yourself."

"Did you ever kind Keays was off the beaten track in fingerprint work?" the constable asked.

"Yes," the inspector said.

He said he was surprised to see Constable Keays actions were "very small" in saying the R.C.M.P. did not record who brought fingerprints to it for identification. He said he believed the constable was "trying to belittle the fingerprint system."

"I can't help but think you are using a situation to suit yourself."

The inspector said he was strengthened in his opinion by the constable's attitude when a telegram was produced before the commission from Commissioner S. T. Woods of the R.C.M.P.

Men Rebuild Burned Home Within 15 Hours

BELLEVILLE, March 21 (CP)—Human kindness waving a magic wand over the smouldering ashes of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raul Brunet, and nine children transformed it into a brand new home completely furnished and equipped.

Volunteers from the Northern Electric Company toiled exactly 15 working hours to erect the new structure. Cash donations amounting to several hundred dollars poured in to the stricken family. Hotels donated beds. Bedding, a radio, clothing and groceries arrived from sympathetic neighbors and citizens.

Today an amazed family could not believe their eyes and their good fortune. Their new four-roomed home is electrically wired and freshly painted.

So many offered to assist in the construction of the building that they were "weeded" for experience.

A passing motorist, who stopped through curiosity, tossed a $10 bill in the "pot" and went his way. A well-known city resident sent his cheque for $100. The Kinsmen Club donated $165. Inmates of the Hastings County Home for the Aged, donated quarters and dimes from meagre allowances.

The Brunets lost their home and their entire belongings in a flash fire on Thursday night. He is employed at the Northern Electric Company.

Finds Own Child Badly Burned

ST. CATHARINES, March 21—Summoned at his taxi office, cab driver John Schlinker raced through downtown streets at 90-miles-an-hour Sunday to his home where his two-year-old daughter, Dianne, had been burned while playing with matches.

Schlinker was in the office and has wife in bed, when the child reached from her highchair, took down a box of matches, which she was happily lighting when her pyjamas caught fire.

Awakened by the child's screams, the mother tore off her own nightgown and used it to smother the flames. A call to the office brought Schlinker in his cab. He took them to hospital.

Hospital officials Sunday night said Dianne suffered severe burns to both legs and her abdomen.

King Now Out Of Bed Part Of Each Day

LONDON, March 21—(AP).—The King's operation has improved the circulation in his right foot so much he can now get out of bed part of each day, his doctors said this morning.

A medical bulletin from Buckingham Palace said:

"The King's recovery from his operation has been uneventful. Instrumental tests have confirmed a substantial improvement in the blood flow to the right foot which had already been observed clinically after the operation."

Prof. J. R. Learmouth, the Scottish surgeon who performed the delicate nerve operation a week ago Saturday, was one of the six doctors who signed the bulletin.

ADMIRAL OF THE FLEET Sir James Somerville, 66, who led the British forces keeping the Mediterranean open and helped track down the German battleship Bismarck during the Second World War, died Saturday night at his farm home. Sir James had been ill for 10 days. The cause of his death was not disclosed.

Mosley Meeting Sparks London Rioting

LONDON, March 21—(AP) — Twelve men who proudly admitted breaking up a march of members of Sir Oswald Mosley's Fascistic "Union Movement" today were fined £5 ($20) each in a Magistrate's court.

Rioting broke out over a wide area of London's squalid east end Sunday night when followers of Sir Oswald clashed with Communists and other opponents. About 20 persons were injured slightly, including eight police.

The 12 arraigned pleaded guilty to charges of obstructing police assigned to protect the Mosley marchers, and of using "insulting words." Eleven others arrested on the same charges will be arraigned in April.

Hundreds of men and women, a majority of them wearing bright red ties, gathered outside the court during the arraignment.

Several hundred police struggled with rioters last night. The demonstrators, battled with fists, threw firecrackers, and scattered glass marbles and steel ball bearings to make the police lose their footing.

Police On Alert

The police had been on the alert for trouble. More than 200 officers on foot were at the scene, with reserves scattered strategically about the East End, when members of Mosley's movement held an outdoor meeting. Mosley's Union movement is an outgrowth of his pre-war Fascist organization.

Communists Arrive

The meeting was no sooner under way than Communists arrived on the scene. After distributing their literature, they started a rival meeting 100 yards away.

Thousands of Londoners flocked into the area to watch the excitement as speakers tried to outshout one another.

The riot started when the Mosleyites began a parade. The Communists and other opponents were determined to break it up. The police tried to keep the parade orderly.

Nationalist Planes Bomb Traitor Cruiser

NANKING, March 21—(AP)—Reliable Chinese naval sources said early today the cruiser Chungking had been heavily damaged with three 1,000-pound bombs in raids by the government air force. The ship was hit at its anchorage at Nulutao, in Communist Manchuria, Friday and Saturday.

The 5,270-ton cruiser, largest ship in the Chinese navy, deserted to the Communists three weeks ago.

Formerly the Aurora, with a famous war record, it was given to the Chinese government last May by Britain.

Actress Missing 10 Years Police Plan To Drag River

FINGRINGHOE, Essex, England, March 21—(CP)—A retired actress, who vanished from her cottage home without a word 10 years ago and hasn't been seen since, may have been murdered and her body disposed of in a nearby river or pond.

Police today planned to drag the river Colne in an attempt to fathom the disappearance of Mrs. Ada Kent, who under the stage name of Vera Verschayle appeared in productions on four continents during the gay '90s.

Mrs. Kent, who would be 76 if she is alive today, disappeared from her cottage March 30, 1939.

Police only recently took an interest in Mrs. Kent's demise when the ownership of her three-room cottage was discussed for taxation purposes. Inquiries were stepped up after it was learned that Mrs. Kent had a savings account of £56 ($224) with a co-operative society which had been untouched for 10 years.

Police entering Mrs. Kent's cottage Sunday said the interior furnishings appeared to be arranged as though the owner had been absent a few minutes before supper time. Otherwise the furnishings were dust-covered and mildewed.

A supper tray on an oak dining table had a cup, teapot and a toast rack. Mrs. Kent's favorite chair near the fireplace bore a copy of Shakespeare's plays, face-downward, opened at "Romeo and Juliet." A bed coverlet was turned, ready for use.

The river Colne is only 50 yards from the cottage just behind which is located the pond, known as the Church Common Lake.

Arabs Ask British Aid Guard Border

Say England Using Some Pressure To Settle Differences

LONDON, March 21 —(AP)—Trans-Jordan has asked Britain military aid in defending its southern border with Israel, the foreign office said today.

A spokesman said Britain is studying the request, which was made under the military alliance treaty signed by the two countries in 1946.

He said the call was for British troops "to patrol part of Trans-Jordan's southern borders in view of alleged Israeli incursions" into Trans-Jordan territory.

The treaty between the two countries provides that if one is attacked the other must help if asked.

Accompanying the Trans-Jordan request for military aid were detailed allegations that Israeli forces have made several incursions into Trans-Jordan territory in the 100-mile long border area between the Dead Sea and Aqaba.

Although the foreign office spokesman gave no details, it was learned authoritatively that Trans-Jordan wants British troops to patrol its frontier with Palestine from the southern shores of the Dead Sea southward to the port of Aqaba, outlet to the Red Sea.

Exerting Pressure

AMMAN, Trans-Jordan, March 21.—(AP).—A reliable informant here said today Britain has started to put pressure on the Arab states to settle their political differences in order to present a united middle - eastern front against Communism.

The first important step in that direction, this source said, would be to encourage Trans-Jordan to resolve its long-standing dispute with Syria.

Britain is represented here as fearing a spread of Communism should the Arabs continue divided and as regarding the Trans-Jordan-Syrian feud as the key to much Arab disunity.

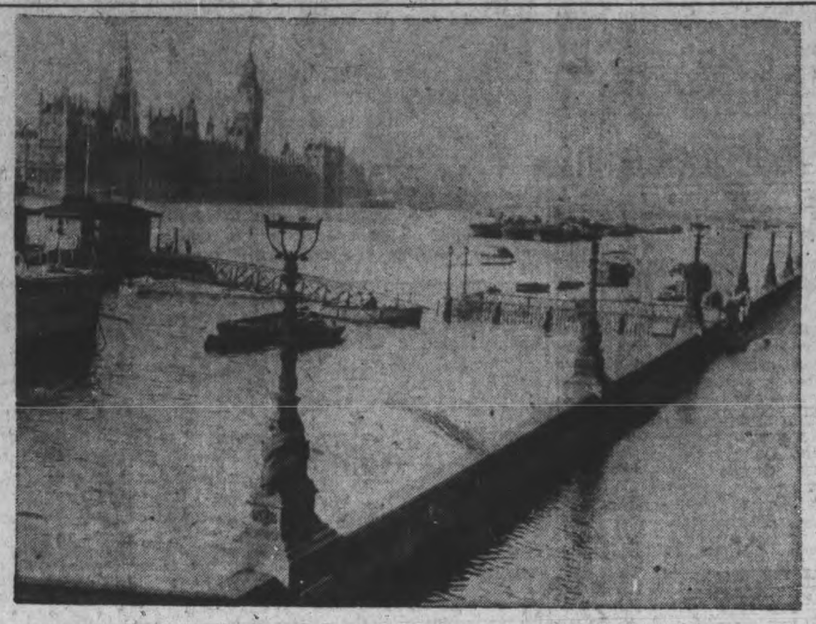
Seize Cocaine Worth 2 Million

NEW YORK, March 21—(CP)—Police have seized pure cocaine valued at $1,950,000 at underworld retail prices and arrested three alleged members of a national narcotics ring.

Those held on narcotics charges are Ralph Lopez, 32; his brother, John Lopez, 18, and Jose Gonzales, 28. Arraigned Sunday, they were held on charges of illegal possession.

Detectives said the three men offered to pay $15,000 for their freedom when arrested.

Detective John T. Cottone said the prisoners were "the clearing house for merchant seamen who smuggled narcotics into this country." He said they recently returned here from Chicago and Detroit.



The first arrested was Ralph Lopez, seized early Sunday as he stepped into an automobile near his home. Police said he was carrying a suitcase containing 50 ounces of pure cocaine, and that he had $2,500 in his pockets.

Warm Weather Greets Arrival Of Spring

TORONTO, March 21.—(CP).—Warm breezes and higher temperatures heralded the arrival of spring in southern Ontario today. But in the north, old man winter left a bumper snowfall ranging up to eight inches.

The weatherman said milder weather, originating in the Gulf of Mexico and moving up from the Mississippi Valley, would raise temperatures to 55 or 60 degrees in southern areas, only a few degrees off last year's Toronto record of 62 degrees for the same day. Light showers were predicted for the Toronto, Windsor and London districts, but temperatures will remain warm.

Kapuskasing, in the north, will get the coldest "first day of spring" temperature—10 above.

WHIPPED by 70-mile-an-hour March gales, the swollen Thames rises to the level of the retaining embankment wall at Lambeth, overflowing onto the footpath. In the background at left are the Houses of Parliament.

Truck Crushes Man Working At Freight Car

Leo Baptiste, 48, of Toronto, and formerly of Bancroft, lies in Sunnybrook Veterans' Hospital, Toronto, today, in a serious condition as the result of internal injuries he sustained when he was jammed between a truck and a freight car on Saturday afternoon at Bancroft.

Hospital authorities said today that Baptiste was on "the seriously ill list" and that his recovery would be an uphill battle. The patient is doing as well as could be expected following a major operation. They said Baptiste is suffering from serious abdominal injuries and chest injuries.

Baptiste was unloading lumber from the box car when the truck in turning slewed on the icy ground and caught him before he had a chance to get out of the way. It was some minutes before fellow workers were able to move the truck and pry him loose.

The victim was treated by Dr. S. S. Lumb at the local Red Cross Outpost Hospital and later rushed to the Toronto hospital, where he underwent an emergency operation on Sunday afternoon.

Baptiste, a single man and weighing about 250 pounds, is a veteran of the First Great War.

Section men and workers from the nearby grist mill of Canada Packers Ltd., assisted in freeing the injured man, who was suffering much pain.

Mayor, Alderman Plan Fist Fight

COLLINGWOOD, March 21 —(CP)—A wild and unruly special council meeting here Saturday ended in Mayor Graydon Kohl challenging Ald. Joseph N. Bourrie to a fist-fight in the Municipal Arena at this ship-building town on Georgian Bay.

"I'm ready as soon as the word 'go' is given, with or without rules," both men said following the meeting. No date has been set for the battle.

At the meeting, Mayor Kohl charged "there are certain members of the council sabotaging my efforts in trying to make the new Arena pay and bringing in new business to the town." He was "amazed that Ald. Bourrie got into a fist-fight with an outsider during a recent committee meeting over this."

"If he wants to fight, I'm not afraid," he said. "I'll take him on in a boxing bout in the New Arena."

Ald. Bourrie jumped to his feet and shouted: "I'll not only take you on with or without rules, but I will also debate the issue of your accusations on a public platform."

Another Postponement

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y., March 21 (AP)—Gerard Graham Dennis, 29, charged with a series of burglaries that allegedly netted him $600,000 in furs and jewelry in a transcontinental crime spree, today was granted a week's postponement to enter his plea. Judge Gallagher adjourned the case until March 28. Dennis was returned to the county jail.

Sourdoughs After $10,000 New Clock Times Breakup

DAWSON, YT, March 21 (CP).—They've got a new electric clock to time the ice breakup on the Yukon River this year and it may mean more than $10,000 for the sourdough or cheechako who makes the closest guess. The 1949 ice guessing contest of Dawson, the almost legendary city of the gold-crazed humans of '98, is causing nearly as much excitement as the chorus lines used to create in its roaring dance halls.

The reason is quite simple. Dawson, which houses the ghosts of such characters as the lady known as Lou, hasn't had a "paying" contest since 1946. But the money from pool tickets bought by the Yukoners still is around.

You see, in 1947, the Yukon ice-jam broke up all right, but the clock went haywire and a correct time couldn't be established. Year 1948 rolled around—the jackpot swelling to double its normal amount—and the same thing happened.

Things will be different this year. The Dawson City Chapter of the IODE, which sponsors the pool and takes 25 per cent, has bought a new clock. It has hands, numerals, alarm and, above all, it works.

The 1947 pool totalled $3,629. In 1948 it was $4,020 bringing the prize backlog to $7,649. This year the pool is expected to reach at least $3,000 to swell the coffers to more than $10,000—a lot of money to a sourdough who still talks about the fabulous "flakes" he made in the Klondike rush.

This year's guess must be in the hands of C. H. Chapman, the pool director, by April 25. Meanwhile, the Yukoners are spending "Einstein-nights" trying to hit the breakup date right on the nose.

Have Narrow Escape

OSHAWA, March 21.—(CP).—Four adults and a seven-month-old baby narrowly escaped death by asphyxiation today when coal gas seeped through the furance in their home here. Revived by firemen were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hammond and Mr. and Mrs. Al Griffin. The Hammond baby was not unconscious when firemen, summoned by Mr. Hammond before he collapsed, arrived, but was violently sick.

Craneman Killed At Train Wreck

HARBOR AU BOUCHE, N. S., March 21—(CP)—A craneman was fatally injured Sunday while working at the scene of a train wreck in which three men were injured near this junction 10 miles west of the Strait of Canso.

Walter Ross of Pictou, N. S., received fatal injuries when a wooden block used in lifting a derailed tender flew out of place and struck him.

A few hours before Conductor W. T. Fraser and Engineer I. Emery, both of Stellarton, N. S., and Fireman S. H. Smith of Truro, N. S., were injured when an eastbound freight train was sideswiped by a westbound freight. Each CNR train carried two locomotives.

Both locomotives of the eastfound freight and four cars of the eastbound train were derailed.

Conductor Fraser on the eastbound train had two ribs broken. Driver Emery, in the lead engine on the eastbound freight, was injured about the head and shoulders. Smith, his fireman, had a leg and hip injury.

Ross, an assistant craneman, was fatally injured while working at derailing the tender of one of the locomotives.

Payment Automatic

OTTAWA, March 21—(CP) — Defence Minister Claxton said today payment of extra Pacific pay to Hong Kong veterans will be automatic and they need not get in touch with the Defence Department unless they have recently changed address. It was announced last week that the survivors of Hong Kong will get the same pay as was promised the men who volunteered for the Pacific after the European war.

Premier Ho Names Cabinet Ending Internal Crisis

NANKING, March 21.—(AP).—Responsible Chinese sources said today Premier Ho Ying-chin had chosen a cabinet, ending an internal crisis.

The official Central News Agency, these sources said, will release a full list of the cabinet officers tomorrow.

Earlier the premier was reported to have completed the cabinet. But sources then said he had submitted the list of new officers to Chian Kai-shek, retired president, for his approval.

Such a step would becloud the peace issue in the country. Chiang is No. 1 on the Communist war criminal list, and some of his supporters have opposed acting president Li Tsung-jen's peace efforts.

Earlier the Control Yuan accused former premier Sun Fo of misappropriation of 110,000,000 gold yuan (worth about $100,000 last January when the offence allegedly occurred.)

The Control Yuan, auditing body which also has the power of impeachment, forwarded the indictment to acting president Li Tsung-jen and the Supreme Court.

It charges that Sun Fo ordered funds deposited in a Shanghai bank account under his son's name and that they were drawn upon for illegal purposes.

A sub-committee of the Control Yuan earlier voted an indictment charging Sun Fo with abusing the office of premier by releasing dye-stuffs to Miss Lan Ni. It said she was his "concubine."

Hold 3 Men As Suspects In Robbery

Police Say Experts Looted Gems, Take Only The Best

TORONTO, March 21—(CP) — Police said today that they are holding three suspects for questioning in the robbery last night of diamonds and bonds worth $70,000. The thieves were reported to have raided the downtown offices of two diamond merchants.

For six hours the men drilled through two safes and blew another open. Police said they found a fuse among the debris that was identified as the type used by the United States army when blowing open safes in Germany holding gold stolen from invaded countries.

Detectives are checking on three men arrested in the last two nights. Two of them are from Chicago and were arrested in a downtown hotel. The third man from Toronto was taken from a plane about to leave for Chicago from nearby Malton airport.

Police claim to have found $2,580 in the sleeve of his coat. He was arrested on a charge of breach the Foreign Exchange Control Act.

After binding and gagging John McLeod, 56-year-old night watchman, the thieves blasted open two safes in the office of the Superb Diamond Manufacturing Company, where they took more than $50,000 worth in diamonds. They then cracked open the Libman Diamond Company strongbox and took more than $10,000 in diamonds and bonds.

The masked gunmen entered the basement of the building where McLeod was reading and ordered him to follow instructions. They taped his eyes and mouth, tied his hands behind his back an took him to the eighth floor in an elevator.

They cracked one safe in the Superb Jewelry Co. Ltd. and

4 Gunmen Barge Into Card Game

TORONTO, March 21—(CP).—Four gunmen barged into a card game in a west-central Bathurst Street house Sunday night, fired a shot which missed John Zaplacinski, 35, by inches and then fled, followed by the screams of a woman who had tried to stop them.

Zaplacinski, who was shot at as he tried to escape out a rear door, would give police no reason for the incident. Detectives questioned several persons during the night but made no arrests.

The woman, Dorothy Zaplacinski, told police the four came to the front door and one of them pointed an automatic pistol at her.

She knocked the gun down and ran screaming into the house followed by the men.

Police said Zaplacinski, who was playing cards, hurled a heavy ornament at the gunmen and ran for a back door. As the shot was fired he tripped, falling through the doorway, unhurt.

An investigating officer said the shooting stemmed from rivalry between two west end gangs for control of the illicit narcotics traffic in Toronto.

Reds Sign 10-Yr. Pact With North Korea

MOSCOW, March 21.—(AP).—The Government made public today a 10-year agreement signed with the Korean People's Democratic Republic (Russian-sponsored North Korea). This is the only Korean government recognized by Russia.

No mention was made of any military assistance.

Russia and the Koreans agreed on mutual exchange of goods that will "significantly" increase in 1949 and 1950 and credit terms and technical aid for the Koreans.

A Korean delegation headed by Premier Kim Il Sung has been in Moscow working out details for 18 days.

Trenton Planes Continue Search For Aircraft With Two U.S. Men Aboard

Follow-Up Reports Low-Flying Airplane Detected During Snowstorm; Ten Search And Rescue Crew Taking Part

TRENTON, March 21.—After 20 hours of continuous flying, 10 search and rescue flight crews from the RCAF station here postponed until Monday their quest for a missing United States aircraft. Aboard the Montreal-bound machine were two United States businessmen, Harry T. Barenbrugge, 45, of Elmira, NY, and Stewart M. Johnson, 41, of Mansfield, Penn. They took off Wednesday from Buffalo in a four-passenger Stinson monoplane.

The search in this area was prompted by reports that a low-flying plane was detected during a blinding snowstorm. The Stinson's route to Montreal would have carried it across the north-east shore of Lake Ontario.

From Central Air Command here, five planes patrolled a belt stretching 35 miles inland from the shoreline between Deseronto and Gananoque. Four Beechcraft transports and one Mitchell bomber were in the air steadily but no trace could be found.

U.S. Planes Also

The south shore of Lake Ontario, meanwhile, was being scoured by U.S. search and rescue aircraft from Selfridge Field, Mich. They fanned out along the coast and over the lake from the Coast Guard base at Buffalo.

RCAF officials said crews and machines would be held in readiness in case any new report was received of the Stinson's location. The Canadian side of the lake would probably be covered on several more sweeps until the search planes were grounded.

Meanwhile, the south shore of Lake Ontario is being searched by U.S. search and rescue aircraft from Selfridge Field, Mich., and Westover Field, Mass. They fanned out along the coast and over the lake from the coast guard base at Buffalo and Malone-Dufort airport.

Frederick Collins Stewart Hall Merchant Dies

Frederick Collins, 71, general merchant at Stewart Hall, Otonabee, many years, died at Civic Hospital Sunday after an illness of two years.

Mr. Collins was born in the township, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Collins. His wife, also deceased, was Henrietta Stewart. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Donald Deyell and Mrs. Wm. Prest, Peterborough, and two sons, Allan and Arthur of Toronto. Mr. Collins had been a life long resident of the eastern section of Otonabee, and had conducted the Stewart Hall store many years. He was a member of the United Church and Canadian Order of Foresters.

The body is resting at Comstock's funeral home until Wednesday at 2 p.m. when the funeral service will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Rowland assisted by Rev. Fred Craik. Burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

Man Drops Dead At Gas Station

TRENT RIVER, March 21 — (ENS) — Seymour Vaness, 60-year-old farmer, dropped dead while getting gas for his car at Carnrite's Garage, Trent River, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

The garage attendant, Donald Carnrite, who was putting in the gas, looked around for Mr. Vaness to whom he had been chatting a minute before. When he failed to see him, he looked behind the car and found him lying on the ground. Mr. Vaness was carried into the garage and Dr. J. Holdcroft of Havelock and Dr. Ward Baker of Campbellford were summoned. They said that the man had died instantly from a heart seizure.

Before coming to Trent River four years ago, Mr. Vaness was a lumberman at Steenburgh. He was born in Wensley, son of the late Abel Vaness and Mary Elizabeth Hartman. He attended school at Plevna and was a member of the United Church. Mr. Vaness had been farming since moving to Trent River.

Surviving are his wife the former Mary Seaman; six children, Mrs. Wesley Bird (Hilda), Mrs. Morrey Levesque (Eloise) of Trent River; Mrs. George Hill (Berna) of Port Credit; Ernest of Trent River; John of Rosyln and Wesley of Elinton. There is one sister, Mrs. Jennie Lee of New York; Fred of Plazno; another brother, Edison died 19 years ago. There are also 15 grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Tuesday from the home of his son, Ernest at 2 p.m. The Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh will officiate. Burial will be in Maple Grove Cemetery.

Boy Backs Into Pail Suffers Fatal Burns

LEAMINGTON, March 21 — (CP)—Frederick Dobranski, two-and-a-half-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dobranski, died in hospital Sunday of burns suffered Saturday when he backed into a pail of hot water.

Mrs. Dobranski said she left the scrub pail of hot water unattended while she went to the clothes line. When her son appeared at the door, she told him to go back into the house. She said the child backed up against the scrub pail and sat in the water.

The child was burned from the shoulder to the knees.

If Wins Sweep To Build Arena

BOLTON, Ont., March 21 (CP) —Reeve Otto J. Hardwick was notified Saturday he has drawn a horse in the Irish Sweepstake and he has plans already to spend the money if the horse wins—but not on himself.

The reeve of this village 22 miles northwest of Toronto holds a ticket on Rowland Boy, quoted at odds of 33 to 1.

Bolton will get a new artificial ice rink if Reeve Hardwick's horse comes in, he said. Hardwick, 42, is a vice-president of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association.

At Iroquois Falls, 25 miles northeast of Timmins, Ont., janitor Henri Belleau is also dreaming of a pot of gold next Saturday when the Grand National takes place. He holds a ticket on Arda Green.

Cabinet Parties Retain Lead In Voting

PARIS, March 21—(AP)—The parties making up France's coalition government piled up a lead today as ballots were counted in Sunday's cantonal (county) elections.

It took the combined efforts of the parties in Premier Henri Queuille's cabinet, however, to overcome the vote for Gen. Charles De Gaulle's followers, who polled the highest single party total. The Communists ran second.

With more than 4,000,000 of the estimated 6,000,000 votes tallied, 712 officials had been definitely elected. There were 1,508 offices at stake in the election.

The government had 316 of the 712. Of these 155 were won by the Radical Socialists, 108 by the Socialists, 35 by the Mouvement Republicain Populaire and 18 by the small Rightist group in the Cabinet. The government parties drew about 1,379,000 votes, more than 33 per cent of the total.

De Gaulle's Right-wing Rassemblement Du Peuple Francais had 171. The RPF had more than 28 per cent of the popular vote. The Communists, although they had polled more than 900,000 votes or some 22 per cent of the total counted, won only 16 offices.

The voting was for Councillors-General—officials who help govern the French dapartments.

The election does not affect the French National Government. It was significant chiefly as a sampling of popular opinion. Little was shown, however, except that both the Communists and De Gaullists had lost approximately three per cent of their following since the last elections.

The Communists were the only party to name a candidate for each of the 1,508 offices contested. They campaigned on a straight anti-United States platform.

Australian Growers Protest Wheat Price

ADELAIDE, Australia, March 21 — (CP). — Australian wheat growers have strongly protested the world wheat price agreed upon by the international wheat conference in Washington last Friday.

T. C. Scott, general secretary of the Australian Wheat Growers' Association, told reporters Sunday night the association holds that the international wheat agreement, proposed by 47 countries last Friday in Washington, would force Australia into an untenable position by the proposal to lower prices.

The international wheat agreement will provide a four-year plan to market 450,000,000 bushels annually at a top price of $1.80. The top maximum price will hold for each of the four years. The minimum will drop 10 cents annually from $1.50 in the first year to $1.20 in the fourth year.

Farmers Fighting

BRAMPTON, March 21—(CP) —Fist fights broke out here between rival farmer factions following a meeting to circulate a petition demanding the resignation of W. H. Wilmot, secretary-manager of the Toronto Milk Producers' Association.

Charges that three members of the audience of 700 were "stool pigeons for Wilmot," were made and a fist fight broke out. Brampton police were called but the three men had left before police arrived.

6 Children Die In Fire

ACCOMAC, Va., March 21 (AP) —Six negro children died Friday night when fire swept a five-room farm house about 12 miles north of here, Deputy Sherriff Warner Davis said Sunday. Davis said about 21 persons, including several families, were asleep in the house when the blaze broke out.

Truman Wants Free Hand In Sending Arms To Europe

WASHINGTON, March 21—(AP).—President Truman is expected to ask Congress for a free hand in allocating arms to western Europe under the proposed $1,000,000,000 military aid program. According to present United States State Department planning the President should try to get from Congress as much of a blank cheque authority as he can under whatever expenditure limit Congress fixes.

The Senate alone, but by a two-thirds vote, must approve the new North Atlantic treaty if the United States is to take part. An Associated Press canvass of senators showed: 55 inclined to favor ratification, one opposed and 37 unwilling to go on record at this time. Two of the 95 senators were not reached and there is one vacancy.

The arms aid program is designed by the Truman administration to carry out the "mutual aid" provision of the treaty. It would thereby help the countries of western Europe fulfill their roles in the "common strategic plan" which is to be worked out by the Allied powers.

The first official reference to this grand scheme of defence for the western world under the projected treaty came Saturday night. It appeared in a State Department pamphlet explaining the details of the treaty.

The formation of that plan is one of the two major purposes justifying the existence of the alliance; the other is the commitment to be undertaken by the United States and the other countries that in case one of them is attacked, all of them will at once take action against the aggressor.

That the new security project has limitations as well as advantages even in official United States thinking was brought out in the course of a department sponsored broadcast Sunday. Dean Rusk, Assistant Secretary of State, declared in this program that the American people "want a world-wide system and they won't be content with a (North Atlantic) regional system."

RCMP Fingerprint

which contradicted the constable's claim to service in the narcotics squad of the R.C.M.P.

Denies Suggestion

"I suggest that your statement that you were warned to be careful of Keays was an emotional outburst because you were embarrassed by a question," Constable Keays said.

"No," the inspector said. "That is not so."

Constable Keays said that Inspector Wonnacott had volunteered to give character testimony before the commission and said he would "like to be in on the show." Inspector Wonnacott denied it.

He denied saying that he had refused permission for Constable Driscoll to attend a fingerprint course at the bureau.

Mentions Discrimination

Constable Keays said that Inspector Wonnocott had once been charged with discrimination against an RCMP officer. The inspector said he had been exonerated by an inquiry.

"But you were going to call Constable Keays to help you," Constable Keays said.

The Inspector said that he had once considered calling the constable before a different RCMP inquiry.

Constable Keays said the Bureau's practice of using fingerprints "lifted" with a rubber pad was "improper, dangerous and unsound. He said fingerprints could be "lifted" from a fingerprint record and "planted" at the scene of a crime "by an unscrupulous officer."

The constable said he had submitted an example of this technique in evidence.

"If you said you did it I believe you," the inspector said. "I wasn't there."

Constable Keays produced a glass plate and used it to pick up a set of initials from the plate with a rubber pad.

"Would you testify about this?" he asked.

Calls It Trick

The Inspector replied the constable was again using "a trick" and he did not believe any police officer would use it in a criminal investigation.

He said fingerprint evidence alone would not convict a man.

He said a print, lifted as the constable suggested, would be a perfectly-shaped print while most prints left at the scene of crimes were half-formed and imperfect.

"Do you not agree that an accused person is at the mercy of an unscrupulous officer?" asked Constable Keays.

"Oh yes," the Inspector said.

"Is that not the case in any form of evidence?" asked Mr. Justice MacKay.

"I'm suggesting that this officer, before this inquiry opened, did not know it was possible," Constable Keays said.

Evidence Suppressed

Constable Keays showed the inspector the rifle found beside Jean Badgley who committed suicide in 1947. Inspector Wonnacott said a fingerprint on it was useless for identification purposes.

The constable had claimed earlier that fingerprints on the gun indicated the girl was murdered but that the evidence had been suppressed.

Malcolm Robb, counsel for five of the police officers, told the commissioner he felt Inspector Wonnacott had almost been put on trial by Constable Keays who had requested the inspector as a witness.

He said he did not feel the constable should be allowed to cross-examine his own witnesses as to their credibility.

Mr. Justice Mackay said it had been agreed that the commission counsel would call the witnesses and the constable would be allowed to cross-examine them.

Constable Keays said he had questioned the inspector as he did only because his own credibility had been damaged by the inspector's testimony.

George Smith of Navan, Ont., was called as the next witness.

He testified about the shooting of John Miki and Provincial Constable Harold Dent at Navan, 12 miles from Ottawa. In June 1940.

Take Up Pursuit

Mr. Smith said he had driven to the railway station after hearing a man had been shot there. He found Constable Dent lying on the floor, talking to Sgt. J. A. Stringer.

He and Sgt. Stringer drove after Miki, who shot Dent, and saw him near a bush. Miki went into the bush and Sgt. Stringer followed him, while Mr. Smith went to telephone for help.

As he drove away, he heard something that might have been a shot. He turned the window down and heard two shots. He telephoned for help and drove back to the bush and waited until a car came up with Detective Thomas Stoneman and Constable Keays in it.

Mr. Smith said he and Detective Stoneman went into the bush, leaving Constable Keays and another man on the road.

Sergeant Has Gun Raised

They found Sgt. Stringer standing with his gun raised who warned him to be careful. Detective Stoneman circled around and found Miki in a pool of blood.

Mr. Smith said he went out and told Constabel Keays to "come on in, everything is all right."

He said he did not know if Keays was armed.

"There were some pretty harsh words used in the bush between Sgt. Stringer and Constable Keays," Mr. Smith said.

He said he had testified at the coroner's inquest.

Constable Keays had claimed in his brief that Mr. Smith had not been called to give evidence at the inquest.

City Economy Now Split Completely

Russians Prevent Buying Spree With Surplus Marks

BERLIN, March 21 — (AP)— The western powers Sunday outlawed the Russian east mark in their sectors of Berlin, splitting the city's economy completely. This had been expected for some time.

The Russians earlier made it a crime to possess west marks in their area. Britain, the United States and France did not go that far. They just said the eastern currency no longer need be accepted in their part of the city.

Although the order is effective immediately, the east mark will still be good in western sectors for rationed foods this month and will be accepted in April for rent and taxes.

The east mark tumbled to a rate of from six to 10 for one west mark on the black market figure. In legal exchange offices the east mark dropped to 5.2 for one.

The only concrete Russian reaction was an effort by the Soviet-controlled German police to prevent Western Berliners from entering the Russian sector's ration-free stores on buying sprees with surplus east marks.

The currency question has been one of the main issues in the Soviet blockade of Berlin. Several international discussions, both inside and outside of the United Nations, have failed to solve it.

Britain, the United States and France put in a new currency in their zones of Germany, but not in Berlin, June 18, 1948. Four days later Russia issued new money for her zone of Germany—and all of Berlin. The day after this Soviet step the western powers introduced their new west mark into their sectors of Berlin. They permitted the east mark to circulate, but the Russians barred the west mark from the Soviet sector.

dragged another into the rear of an advertising company office on the same floor. They took diamonds, cut and uncut, from the two safes, worth between $55,000 and $65,000.

They then drilled through a strongbox in the Libman Diamond Company office and took $10,000 in diamonds. The amount of loot taken from a fireproof money box in the Lady Raymar Pearl firm has not yet been determined.

Police said the men also entered other offices on the eighth floor and took carpets with which to muffle the noise when they blasted the safe in the advertising firm's premises.

Strong Charge

The charge was described by police as "strong enough to splinter a tall tree . . . if they were in the room when the blast went off, they would certainly have been hurled off their feet."

Rings, watches and heirlooms were scattered all over the office and the safe had burst apart at the seams.

Officials of the jewelry firms said the safecrackers took only the best cut and uncut diamonds and disregarded hundreds of dollars worth of cheaper jewelry.

"They knew jewelry and how to open safes," an investigating officer said. "They first got rid of the night watchman and then forced their way into the jewelry offices by jimmying the door frames."

After the robberies the men climbed out an eight-floor window and down a rear fire escape to a waiting car.

Left With Guard

The night watchman told police he was forced to lie on the floor bound and gagged, while the men raided the offices. One of the thugs kept a periodic watch on him.

McLeod, who started on the job three weeks ago, said the men "seemed to be nice fellows . . . well dressed and well educated."

He said they offered him a drink before they broke into the offices. He wriggled free of his bonds several hours after the bandits escaped.

CGE Foremen Hear P. Rogers

Nearly as many telephones have been installed by the Bell Telephone Company in the last three years as in the first 44 years of its history, according to P. G. Rogers, Bell Telephone Company of Canada lecturer. Mr. Rogers spoke to members of the Canadian General Electric Foremen's Association Friday night at the Kawartha Club, in an address which included demonstrations of Bell-developed methods and devices that made it possible for such a phenomenal growth.

To accomplish this gigantic task, Mr. Rogers said, the telephone company had to make use of every available piece of apparatus. At one time during the war, shortages became so acute the company borrowed equipment from its telephone museum in order to stretch its facilities to the limit.

By means of a large chart, Mr. Rogers explained the complexity of wire, conduit and exchange equipment necessary for the provision of telephone service. "Let us look at the number of electrical connections there would be in a very small exchange, say only 10 customers," Mr. Rogers said. "In this very small office we would have to make over 4,000 connections between individual wires and pieces of apparatus to be able to connect you with any one of the other nine customers, but if you were in a large office of 10,000 customers, we would have about 50,000,000 connections between wires and various types of apparatus."

Tommy Stone Not Silk Hat, Stripe-Trousers Diplomat

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, March 21 — (CP). — Tommy Stone's new title — Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary — doesn't quite fit. He's one of Canada's top-flight diplomats, but definitely not the sombre silk - hat-and - striped - trousers type. Make it a grey, doube-breasted business suit, a jaunty yellow bow-tie and a big, easy smile.

That's Thomas Archibald Stone, Canadian's first minister to Sweden. He leaves here about April 15 after 2½ years as minister and second-in-command to Ambassador Hume Wrong.

Stone, 48, joined the External Affairs Department 22 years ago and served in Washington and Paris. He retired in 1935 but he donned diplomatic harness again at the outbreak of war in 1939.

"Curiosity," he explains with a grin and a mock shrug of his shoulders. "I just couldn't stand the thought of my friends knowing all the war secrets if I didn't!"

He was first secertary at Ottawa from 1939 to 1944. In September, 1944, he was named charge d'affaires of the Canadian legation to the allied governments in London.

He returned to Washington in 1945 as counsellor and was appointed minister in November, 1946. He has acted as charge d'affaires in Wrong's absence.

Stone and his wife and their 13 - year - old daughter, Ellen Alexandra, sail from New York May 20. They plan a short stop in London on the way to Stockholm.

Was Once Reporter

Stone, a native of Chatham and a graduate of the University of Toronto, was a reporter for the Toronto Daily Star for a few months in the summer of 1923.

A quick wit and an accomplished informality as a pianist have won Stone a host of friends in Washington. So have the shrewdness and discernment of this well-liked, hard-working Canadian with the steel-grey hair and the coal-black eyebrows.

He "used to" ski and he's an ardent fisherman. But it's carpentry—"everything from waterwheels to cigaret boxes"—that he likes best. There's a story behind that remark.

THE NEED FOR reducing

Proper diet is essential for controlling weight. Most overweight occurs because the body takes in more food than it can use up as energy, and the excess is stored as fat. Bring your weight down to normal by a reducing diet. Check fat right at the start by eating less Starches and Sugars. Genuine Gluten Flour foods reduce your Starch intake, yet provide a good source of Protein.

Communist Declares Britain A-Bomb Base

LONDON, March 21—(CP) — Harry Pollitt, British Communist leader, said Sunday the United States wants to use Britain as an atom-bomb base and urged all Britons to repudiate the North Atlantic Pact.

The Communist press of Europe meanwhile kept up its drumfire of opposition to the treaty.

Pollitt, General Secretary of the British Communist Party, said the Atlantic Pact means the United States wants to "use this country as its unsinkable aircraft carrier and base for the dispatch of the atomic bomb."

He spoke at a political meeting in the mining village of Treherbert in South Wales. The British Communist Party claims 40,000 members.

Britain's War Minister Emanuel Shinwell said in Haswell, Durham, Sunday night that the signing of the Atlantic Pact meant there was "a reasonable guarantee of peace in the future."

Cobourg Firemen Called To Two Fires

COBOURG, March 21 — (ENS) Firemen were called out to two fires Sunday. In the morning they were summoned to a local hotel to extinguish a small fire which was apparently caused by a cigarette dropped on the mattress by one of the guests. Little damage was caused.

Last night at seven o'clock, fire broke out at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holland on King St. west. The fire started in the attic, apparently from a defective chimney and due to the ceiling insulation it was not noticed until it gained considerable headway. Neighbours helped to remove all the furniture and it was stored in a garage across the street. The roof was damaged by fire and damage downstairs was due to water and smoke.

Youths Battle Police Officer

COBOURG, March 21 — Two Ottawa youths who were persistent in their efforts to get to Toronto Sunday were arrested on charges of assaulting an officer after a highway struggle in which a passing trucker and another man came to the aid of Provincial Cpl. Douglas Wilson.

The two are: John Ryan, 18, and Maurice Sauve, 20, both of Bruyere St., Ottawa. Donald Hunter, 18, of General St., Ottawa, was held as a material witness.

Cpl. Wilson said he was on patrol east of here when he was stopped by a car that was obstructing traffic. Hunter got out and said he had decided to return to Ottawa, but the other two youths insisted he continue to Toronto. When Ryan and Sauve were ordered out of the car they jumped on the officer.

William Merpau, a trucker from Toronto, and Philip Calnan, a resident of the district, came to Wilson's aid, while Hunter called for police reinforcements. By the time Constables D. Nicol and L. Erskine arrived they found Ryan and Sauve in handcuffs and Cpl. Wilson slightly bruised and minus his glasses.

Men's Clothing Stolen From Cobourg Store

COBOURG, March 21.—(ENS). —Forcing a rear window in the store, thieves broke into Sol Margie's clothing shop on King St. during the week-end. Mr. Margies estimated that about $800 worth of men's clothing was stolen. The robbers timed the break-in to take place after the constables had made their rounds. Chief W. J. Carey is investigating.

Atlantic Pact Countries Top Russ Industry

WASHINGTON, March 21. — (AP).—The Atlantic Pact countries today possess industrial machines and resources which far surpass those the Soviet Union could put to use in the event of an arms showdown.

Production figures from the other side of the iron curtain, though scanty, show the western powers top the Russian-dominated countries four to one in 1950 steel production goals, more than three to one in pig iron, two to one in coal, and the lead was 10 to one in petroleum three years ago—the most recent comparison available for oil.

As for trained workers to man the intricate machines needed to supply guns, tanks, planes and other war essentials the west far outnumbers the east in that respect.

The figures were compiled from United States government records, Russian publications, official figures and standard references.

Russia now is nearing completion of another of her five-year plans aimed at lifting that giant country by its industrial bootstraps. Here are the latest goals as presented by Premier Stalin in an election eve pep talk Feb. 9, 1946:

He called for a "three-fold production" over pre-war levels to bring steel output ultimately to 60,000,000 tons a year; pig iron, 50,000,000 tons; oil, 420,000,000 barrels and coal to 500,000,000 tons annually.

Stalin himself admitted then that it might take "three five-year plans to achieve this, if not more."

This is how the 1950 production aims of Russia and four satellites —Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary and Romania — stack up with those of the Atlantic powers (in round numbers):

Steel— West 126,000,000 tons; east, 29,000,000 tons.

Iron — West, 73,000,000 tons; east, 22,000,000 tons.

Coal — West, 800,000,000 tons;

Stay put in your frame, Mr. Withers!

IN HIS DAY, Mr. Withers was considered a very able life insurance agent.

The idea of life insurance was pretty new then. And Mr. Withers had to keep his foot in the door most of the time as he tried to convince people that this type of protection was worth what it cost.

He served his generation well. But times have changed!

People no longer need to be told about the value of life insurance. What they need now is advice on the amount and the kind of life insurance they should own.

And the modern life insurance representative has kept up with the times. Now he gives competent advice on how to arrange your life insurance to take care of all the money problems that arise in connection with protection and retirement.

These problems are more complex than they were in Mr. Withers' time. And there are many more kinds of policies available. Thus your agent's help is even more necessary in order to build a sound, well-balanced life insurance programme.

Today more than a million Canadian families have benefitted from the experience and advice of the life insurance agent!

A helpful citizen in your community

When your agent sells you life insurance, he also helps to improve your community. For a large part of each life insurance dollar is put to work, through investments, to build schools, bridges, highways, industrial plants and many other projects that create jobs and make for better living.

You share in these improvements, made possible through the efforts of your helpful fellow-citizen — the modern life insurance agent!

Mr. Truman Is Rebuked

Although not unprecedented, it is odd to see the program of a national leader rejected by a legislative body in which his party is in the majority. That is what has happened to President Truman's program to date. Between them, the House and the Senate have refused to confirm his appointment of an old friend to an important post, gave him less than he asked for in the way of rental controls, and have effectively blocked his civil rights program. And it appears he will find it extremely difficult to keep his campaign promise to repeal the Taft-Hartley labour legislation.

* * *

The most serious defeat so far is the blocking of the civil rights program, a clause of which would have assured every citizen of the right to vote for candates for national office. This and other clauses were designed to eliminate discrimination against Negroes and were the cause of the bolt of the Dixiecrats from the Democratic Party. Since the Dixiecrats would unquestionably oppose the program, President Truman sought to deprive them of their only effective method of opposition—the filibuster. He proposed to prevent the bill being talked out by providing some new methods of closure. His demand for such a measure, however, was more radical than his party was willing to accept, and the net result may eventually be to strengthen the right to filibuster.

* * *

There was a faint trace of humour in the course taken by the debate. Dealing with a proposal to eliminate the filibuster, the Dixiecrats launched one of these oratorical marathons. They were joined by several Republicans—and supported by other Republicans—in preserving the political weapon which could effectively block the civil rights program. It is difficult to understand how these Republicans reconciled their opposition now with their solemn pledge of support for a civil rights program last Autumn, but they may consider it more important to contribute to disunity in the Democratic Party than to uphold their own party's platform.

* * *

These incidents lead to the conclusion that the Democratic Party may be expected to disobey its leader whenever he becomes too dictatorial, in the opinion of party members. The President's response appears to have been a decision to start out on another speech-making tour, presumably in the hope that approving audiences throughout the nation may remind the Democratic Party that Mr. Truman has a personal as well as a party mandate.

But Is It A Good Idea?

A professor, Arthur W. Heilman of Michigan State College, who seems to be an authority of some sort in the world of education, says that any adult who reads less than 250 words a minute is wasting time, and can learn to do better. Here are his rules for improvement:

(1) Strive to read by sentences or groups of words, instead of word by word; (2) avoid moving the lips when reading silently; (3) avoid looking back at words you have just read; (4) concentrate on what you are reading; (5) avoid projecting your own ideas into what you read, and (6) try to adjust reading speed to the type and difficulty of reading material. Some reading matter requires more careful, slower reading to grasp the thought content; other types can be scanned quickly with equal comprehension.

We are in cranky disagreement with most of what the professor suggests. We find, for instance, that people who read sentences and groups of words, gulping their reading matter, often fail to master the content of what they read. We think also that anyone who is reading intelligently will often want to look back over what he has read, will want to stop and ponder over it, and frequently he will want to stop and argue, mentally, with the writer. Would it be worth while for him to learn to read very rapidly, accepting whatever the printed page says, and perhaps misconstruing its meaning?

What is a good reader? Is he the man who reads most, or is he the man who gets most from what he reads? We are in no doubt about our answer, whatever Professor Heilman may say.

Pay For Hong Kong Troops

Veterans of the ill-starred Hong Kong force are to receive Pacific Force extra pay, retroactive from June 1st, 1945, and continuing until two months after their return to Canada. Individual payments will not be large since the period for which Pacific rates of pay are now granted them is limited. Critics of the Government claims that it is a wholly inadequate recognition of the brave men's service, a shameful return for their many years of dire imprisonment in Japan.

The extra pay is not intended as a recompense for the tribulation they endured. It is the critics themselves who shame the Hong Kong men by assuming that a dollar value can be put on their suffering and privation. Like all Canadian soldiers overseas before 1945, the Hong Kong men were volunteers. They enlisted to serve King and Country, whenever they might be required to go. It was their ill fate to become prisoners in Japan early in their combat service period. Other Canadians suffered long and early imprisonment, for instance Air Force men shot down over Germany, but happily for most of these others the prison conditions were better. All prisoners of war receive full pay for the time they are imprisoned, which is right and proper. It is not to be expected that there should be a special bonus because they have been taken prisoners. It is the fortune of war that some men are killed, others wounded, others captured, others escape unblemished. There is no dollar pay-off, nor do men expect one when they volunteer.

Pacific rates of pay were established in June, 1945, when the European war had ended and the authorities wanted to encourage men who had already done their stint in Europe to volunteer to fight in what amounted for them to another war in the Pacific theatre. The Hong Kong men were not asked to take up arms again. When they were released from prison they were sent back to Canada as soon as possible. However, the Government has now decided that since the Hong Kong men were already in the Pacific theatre when the new rates were established, they shall be paid those rates, dating from the time they were authorized. Few citizens will condemn this grant to the Hong Kong veterans as unwarranted.

The High Price Of Milk

An increase in the price of milk in Toronto is foreseen. Since any rise there will be due chiefly to wage increases recently secured by milk rig drivers, an increase need not necessarily be expected in this district. The cost of living is higher in Toronto, for milk rig drivers as for others. Prices will not rise anywhere in the Province without, of course, the approval of the Milk Board.

It would be a pity if the price did rise. It is already very high and a financial burden on households with several young children. The increases last year seemed unavoidable. Farmers like other people have to have more for their labour and equipment (like cows) in these days in order to keep the home fires burning. A further increase now would not benefit the primary producers and would price milk out of children's mouths. Already in large cities in this country hard-pressed or indifferent mothers are giving their children the poorest types of pop instead of milk. The pop is cheaper. Unfortunately it is not a good substitute. There is no substitute for whole milk, excepting skimmed milk, and that too has become expensive. It may be a national misfortune that milk, unlike butter, has no substitute, if it becomes a luxury.

The High Cost Of "Chairside Time"

The details of the British National Health Service rarely fail to fascinate us. And they convince us, among other things, that the charges made for medical and dental service in Canada are extremely reasonable, judged by English standards.

Recently it was suggested that British dentists are overpaid, and the Ministry of Health appointed a committee to investigate their charges. The Committee reported that the charges range between £2: 10 and £3 "per chairside hour". In Canadian currency this means between $10 and $12 a day, which would provide a dentist with between $70 and $84 for a seven-hour day.

Unless we have been attended by unusually philanthropic dentists, this is decidedly above the Canadian average fee for this sort of professional service. And as the standard of Canadian dentistry is high, we may congratulate ourselves on getting dental treatment of a type, and for a fee, which would cause mouth-watering in the British Ministry of Health.

A fashion note says that yellow will be the fashionable colour this spring. Has this been cleared with the dairy industry?

Of Cabbages And Kings

By PETER ELIOT

VERA Britain, the distinguished author of Born 1925, Testament Of Youth and several other volumes of good reading, discusses some of the current illusions about authorship in her recent On Being An Author. One of the chief illusions is that a manuscript by an unknown author will be disregarded unless he is introduced by somebody to whom the publisher dare not be indifferent. "Every experienced author," she writes, "knows that publishers and editors are only anxious to find new writers and fresh material.

"Undoubtedly the greatest adventure of publishing is the chance discovery of a new and valuable author. Gone With The Wind was one such discovery.

* * *

"TRAVELLING through one of the Southern states, the leading editor of an American firm came to a city where persistent rumours reached him that a certain Mrs. March (the married name of Margaret Mitchell) had been working for years on some nameless and unspecified manuscript. Interested, he tracked down the diminutive owner of the name and inquired about this work.

"Indignantly, she denied its existence. The next day, just as he was leaving the city, a message came to his hotel room that someone wanted to see him. It was Mrs. March, staggering under the weight of a colossal manuscript which appeared to the astonished editor to be larger than herself. Exclaiming tearfully:

" 'Here you are if you want it!' " she dumped her burden on the floor, and disappeared. At his next stopping-place, the editor received a telegram from the author asking him to return the manuscript at once. But by that time he had managed to look through it, and wisely decided to disregard her request."

DOUGLAS Woodruff has gathered together some of the best passages he used to delight his readers (he is editor of the Tablet) in Still Talking At Random.

"If I am very good in Heaven," said the girl, "shall I sometimes be allowed to have a little devil up to tea?"

Like the little American girl who disconcerted the clergy by saying, "Oh, yes, I believe in God, but I'm not nuts about Him."

THE best answer I know comes from those great masters of social intercourse, the classical Chinese. Following them you should reply, "I'm trying to diminish the number of my failings, but I have not so far been successful.

. . . . reminiscent of the Scotch divine who was asked how the gnashing of teeth would be possible for these old sinners who died toothless "Teeth will be provided," he replied.

Said an American officer, of the one above him; "His motto is, 'Why be disagreeable, when with a little effort you can be impossible?' "

* * *

"WAS it not Berlioz,"—write Arthur Jacob's in his Music Lover's Anthology—"this hard-headed misanthrope, who went to see Heine when the latter was bedridden and almost dying? And Heine, mindful of how many of his friends had deserted him, greeted him with this brief exclamation; "So you have come to see me, have you? Original as ever!"

ONCE the Central News got a too-memorable scoop on Tolstoy's death: unhappily it was early by a fortnight. When the end seemed near they had cabled their Odessa correspondent: Rush Tolstoy's Death. In a few hours came the message: Tolstoy Dead. Out went the 'flash' to be followed by regrets and rude letters to Odessa. According to Hugh Redwood, who wrote for them then, the correspondent . . . had assumed from our cable, he explained, that the news had come through to London from the official Russian agency, that we were anxious to lift it, but that we needed a wire of some sort to cover us if we were challenged. Hence his hurry to oblige. 'You told me to rush Tolstoy's death,' he said, 'so I rushed it.' And when it really did happen, Reuter was first after all.

A CORRESPONDENT in John O'London's Weekly wrote to tell them of an amusing logical variation of mis-hearing. When, as a small child, she was taught to sing:

Jesus bids us shine with a pure, clear light
Like a little candle burning in the night,

. . . . she presumed, from her observation of a candle-flame, that she had misheard the first line and that the words should be:

Jesus bids us shine with a poor, queer light
Like a little candle. . . . .

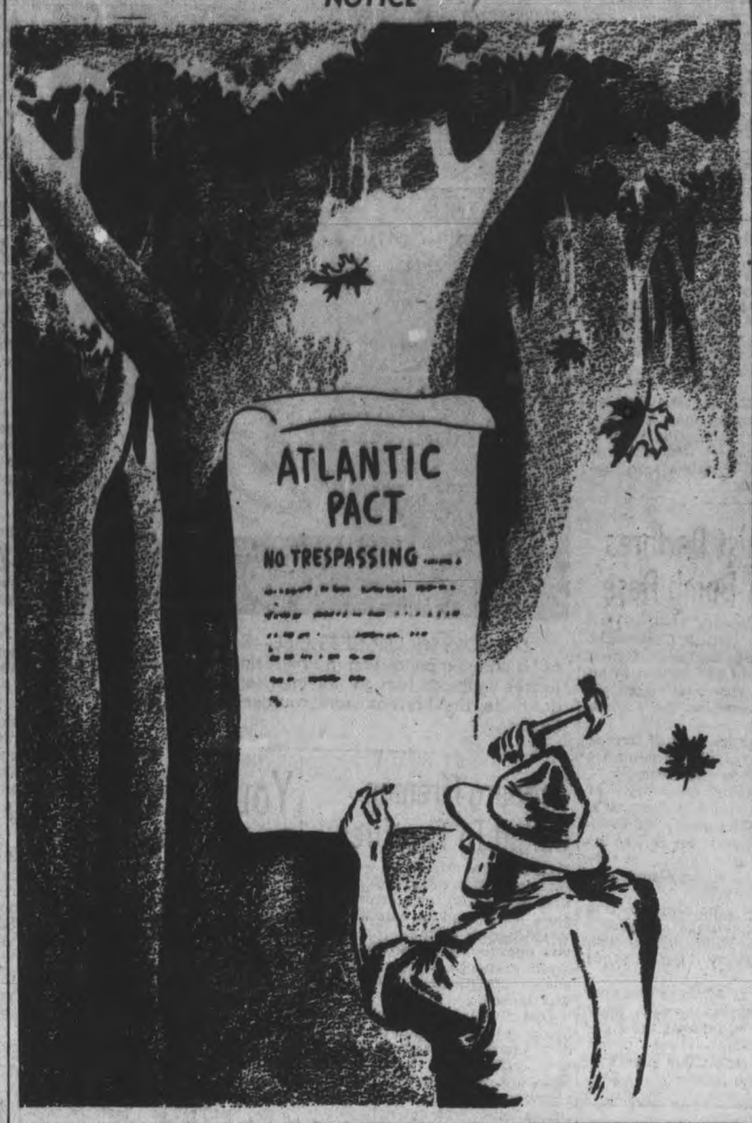
ONCE during his U. S. lecture tour, Winston Churchill dictated letters to his secretary from his bath, while she sat on a chair by the bathroom door. While addressing 20,000 people in Toronto, "... he was asked to speak louder by the crowd at the back"—writes Reginald Pound in A Maypole In The Stand. "It was then found that the amplifier had gone wrong. Taking hold of the microphone before him, Churchill threw it on the floor and said, raising his voice: "Now that we have exhausted the resources of science we'll fall back on Mother Nature and do our best!"

* * *



DURING the Battle of Britain, Pound went to Biggin Hill with General Pile, who was in charge of A. A. defences. A raid developed and they had a fairly hot time. Returning to Downing street between three and four, ". . Mr. Churchill's loud imperative bang on the knocker there brought a servant timidly to the door (continues Pound) which was opened only an inch or two. The Prime Minister put his foot in and called out: "This is General Goering! Herr Hitler is with me and we want a whisky and soda damn quick!"

* * *

LEON M. Lion, the British actor, told Mr. Pound this memory of his early public appearance days;

"They dressed me," he said in his intense Irving manner, "as Little Lord Fauntleroy and I gave verse recitals at society gatherings. When it was over great, bony-kneed dowagers would take me on their laps. I can hear their corsets creaking to this day!"

PETERBOROUGH UNFAIR TO NEGROES?

Sir: This evening I listened to a very interesting programme on CJBC—(Cross Section)—concerning racial discrimination. It dealt openly and intelligently on how the Negro, Jew, and other minority groups are unfairly treated, in their inability to get jobs, and live normal lives because of their colour or religion.

Having heard that in this city of ours there is a by-law that prohibits a Negro from staying over 24 hrs. in our city limits, and having discredited this as untrue, I phoned the police department to find out. They informed me that there actually is such a by-law.

I wonder how many of us who live here, know about this? For a city that prides itself on being many things that it should be, it appears to me it is falling very short of impartial and just by-laws. Why doesn't Peterborough begin to treat people as equals, instead of just thinking they do? Doesn't Peterborough consider the Negro a human being and why can't we treat them as such?

(MRS.) BEVERLY M. CRERAR.

COMPLAINS OF AMENDED SUCCESSION TAX

Sir: According to the Ontario budget the government is introducing a tax amendment to the Succession Duty Act which will exempt bequests to preferred beneficiaries (widows and children) from duty where the aggregate value of the estate does not exceed $50,000, instead of $25,000 as at present.

Many will agree that succession duties is the fairest type of taxation as benefits received from estates are pure gifts—and income tax free. And the tax is levied on assets acquired in excess of the requirements of the deceased and his family during his lifetime. Exemptions are provided in recognition of the needs of dependents and it is not my desire to question the proposed increase from $25,000 to $50,000 for a widow. However, I can't approve of granting tax exemption, in these times, on the extra $25,000 when that child happens to be a middle-aged business man who doesn't require the bequest and probably didn't contribute towards its accumulation. If the amendment specified "young children" it would receive more sympathetic consideration.

Now, if our government had wanted to show consideration for children it might have refrained from grabbing the abandoned amusement tax which bears heavily on them, or excluded children. I wonder if the reduction contemplated will not go a long way towards offsetting the gain in revenue from the amusement tax.

Yours very truly,
JOHN W. GILBERT.

Hanover.

WERE PETERBOROUGH PEOPLE EVER BABIES?

Sir: Are all the young married couples in Peterborough who are looking for apartments supposed to drown their children so they can obtain a place to live? My husband and I have a seven-months old baby and are living in two rooms now. We have been looking for a larger place for over a year and either everyone in town hates children or expect all their tenants to be millionaires. It is certainly impossible for a man making $35.00 a week to pay fifty or sixty dollars a month rent and even more. We would be happy to find three rooms, or four at the most for about $30.00 or so a month, but it can't be done. I know some people won't rent rooms for fear the tenants damage them, but I think they will find nowadays that folks are so overjoyed to find something to live in, they will take very good care of their homes to insure a long stay.

We have advertised in the paper and received one answer from Lakefield which is quite a jaunt to work for my husband. I know of several large houses on Charlotte Street and the streets near there where there are sometimes only two and three people living in a place containing eight and nine (and more rooms) and three floors, the attics of which would most likely make comfortable living quarters for a young family. My husband is an ex-navy man and surely he ought to be given a little priority (as well as all the other boys) over those who sat home while the war was on and made their easy money.

What is the matter with Peterborough's citizens? Are they all just mean, are they money-grabbers or are there a few kindly people left who were once babies themselves and had a place to live in?

Yours truly,
MRS. JEAN A. EVANS.

How Time Flies

MARCH 21

1919 The Trades and Labour Council objects to having army deserters brought here from other countries for trial.

Inspector J. F. Reid seizes 78 loaves of under-weight bread in the city.

Connor Beland, 5, escapes with a broken nose when struck by a train on Lake St.

1929 Mrs. F. L. Loy is chosen president of the local Rotary-Annes organization.

Irvin Bailey, former Peterborough star, wins the N.H.L. scoring title with 22 goals and 10 assists.

J. C. Poolman is elected dictator of the Loyal Order of Moose here.

1939 James Convey, one of Hastings' oldest residents, dies at the age of 90.

A new musical group formed here consists of: S. Northrop, G. Gatfield, R. Gillespie, T. Smith, L. Boddison and H. Northrop.

The Petes' O.H.A. senior "B" playoff hopes fade as they are held to a 6-6 tie in Chatham.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

The Lord hath brought forth our righteousness: come, and let us declare in Zion the work of the Lord our God . . . He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heaven by his understanding. (Jer. 51: 10, 15.)

* * *

Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for praise is comely for the upright . . . For the word of the Lord is right; and all his works are done in truth. He loveth righteousness and judgment: the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord. (Ps. 33: 1, 4, 5.)

* * *

All nations whom thou hast made shall come and worship before thee, O Lord; and shall glorify thy name. For thou art great, and doest wondrous things: thou art God alone. (Ps. 86: 9, 10.)

Last Of The "Jaggers"

For nearly 50 years the London District Messenger Service has been one of the features of London life, but now it has dwindled to one office and one messenger and a clerk. Once it numbered over 1,000 boys, and there were offices scattered all over London, chiefly in the City and West-end. The boys in their blue uniforms, pill-box hats, silver badge and bandolier, were familiar sights to Londoners and overseas visitors. The offices also served the purpose of booking agencies for the theatres, and anyone could reserve seats by phone and a Messenger Boy would arrive later with the tickets, or await the patrons at the door of the theatre.

The District Messenger Service rendered a multitude of services. They ran any kind of message that might be entrusted to them. They would wait in queues outside the doors of unreserved seats at theatres at so much per hour; they would take a dog or a baby for an airing in the park; they would deliver flowers or any other kind of gift. Once a boy took a dog from London to the Sultan of Turkey in Constantinople, and the Sultan decorated the Messenger with the Order of Merit.

Most spectacular assignment ever accorded a Messenger was given to a boy named Jaggers who had to take a boat to New York, deliver a letter there, another in Philadelphia and another in Chicago. Master Jaggers became famous, and from that day the Messenger boys were dubbed "Jaggers."

The only "Jaggers" remaining is in the one office in the Royal Exchange building, and his work chiefly consists in carrying bonds between brokers, and between brokers and the banks.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Fly 4 Survivors To Hospital After Epidemic

EDMONTON, March 21—(CP)—Four Eskimos who survived in a disease-ridden Arctic community deep inside the Arctic Circle are being treated in the Indian hospital here today after their rescue by the RCAF.

The party of four—two boys, a woman and her baby—brings to six the number of Eskimos flown from the village on Cresswell Bay, 1,000 miles north of Churchill, Man. Nine of the 17 inhabitants died and two others will be flown here next week.

Pauloosie, 16, is suffering from severely frozen feet and 12-year-old Tuktoo is believed to have tuberculosis. The woman, Ishwomiatook, about 45, is undergoing observation.

Her son, Kayoomyk, 15, was one of the first Eskimos flown from Cresswell Bay. He lost both feet from gangrene. The 2-year-old baby is suffering a paralyzed neck.

The group landed late last night accompanied by an RCMP constable. They were picked up at Fort Ross, about 40 miles south of Cresswell Bay, where Dr. J. P. Harvey of the Indian hospital here is waiting to evacuate the other two survivors, both women.

Cons. A. R. Wilvert of the RCMP said the winter has been very bad in Cresswell Bay area and sickness seems to have spread through most of the Eskimo population there and at Fort Ross.

FO. Thomas Benson of Vancouver, who piloted the mercy plane, said there is a shortage of food in the area and provisions will have to be flown in on the next trip.

Women Finish Quilt Made With 340 Names

TRENT RIVER, March 21—Mrs. Ross Pollock was hostess for the St. Patrick Day meeting of group three of the Women's Association of the United Church. Mrs. Harry Mann, dressed as an Irish colleen, was usher. Mrs. Ernest Vaness, president, was in charge of the meeting.

An autographed quilt in blue and white and consisting of 340 names was completed and blocks for another appliqued quilt were distributed among the members.

A pot luck dinner and quilting is to be held in the church dining hall in two weeks' time.

Mrs. Frank Openshaw accompanied at the piano for a singsong. Mrs. Rhoda Campney won a nut naming contest.

The April meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Frank McLaughlin.

The hostess served lunch assisted by Mrs. Sam Ellis and Mrs. Frank McLaughlin.

Cheese To Be Made At Last Year's Price

TRENT RIVER, March 21—(ENS)—At a meeting of the Trent Bridge Cheese factory which was called by the president, Harold Vanvolkenburg. A resolution was passed that the cheese factory remain open the year round commencing April 4, 1949.

Mr. Moore's offer to make at the same price as last year was accepted by the producers.

Mr. Harold Elliott was again hired as cheesemaker with Orval Ray of Belleville as assistant.

Visiting New Brunswick

ST. ANDREW'S, NB, March 21 (CP)—Barbara Ann Scott left Pennfield Airport Sunday night in a chartered plane accompanied by Ogden Reid, son of Mrs. Helen Rogers Reid, publisher of the New York Herald Tribune. Reid spent the afternoon in St. Andrews with the Ottawa figure skater and they visited several places in the town together.

Fire Destroys KC Hall

OSWEGO, N. Y., March 21—(AP)—Firemen brought under control Sunday night a blaze which razed the four-storey Knights of Columbus building in this Lake Ontario city. One fireman required hospital treatment for an injury. The loss was estimated at $200,000.

500 Subdue Flames

DIXIE, Sask., March 21—(CP)—Five hundred volunteer fire fighters late Sunday night subdued a fire in this little South Saskatchewan centre of 120 people after flames destroyed nearly half the village's business section. The entire population of the village turned out to battle the flames, aided by several hundred farmers and other rural residents from nearby districts.

Thieves Steal Safe

BOLTON, March 21—(CP)—Thieves broke into Egan Brothers' combined hardware and funeral parlor early Sunday and stole a 1,000-pound safe. Then they took a truck to carry away the safe. Police and townsfolk later found the safe—with cash, cheques and bonds valued at $2,000 missing—and the truck half a mile east of nearby Ileinburg.

We can supply your every need in hardware. You will find prices moderate and quality products throughout.

PCVS Seniors Get Win Against TCS

Friday night at the PCVS gym the local senior and junior "A" teams won and tied Trinity College of Port Hope in two exhibition boys' basketball games. PCVS seniors had no trouble with a disorganized TCS team, missing two key players, and won quite handily 53-17. The Junior game was an exciting 27-27 tie between two very evenly matched teams.

Don Griffin played his usual strong game and accounted for 15 points on seven hoops and a foul shot. Don Richardson played his best game of the season and besides scoring 10 points on five field goals, played well defensively at his guard position. Dave Dibben and Neil Thompson had three two-pointers each to lead the rest of the scorers. Lawson was best for TCS with eight points.

PCVS junior "A" had a 10-4 first quarter lead and a 17-10 margin at half time. However TCS came back strongly in the third quarter and had narrowed the margin to a mere 21-19. With less than a minute to go, Bailey put PCVS in front 27-25 only to have Rawinson tie the score 27-27 seconds later. No overtime was played.

The teams:

PCVS Seniors—Taylor 4, Sergeant 2, N. Thompson 6, Hempstead 2, Northcott 4, D. Dibben 6, Griffin 15, H. Dibben 4, Grafstein, Richardson 10, B. Thompson. Total 53.

TCS Seniors—Howard, Rawlinson 4, Doheny, Cleland, Greenwood 2, Pierce 3, Black, Wood, Smith, Croll, Lawson 8, Cox. Total 17.

Referee—R. Dyer.

PCVS Junior A—Young 7, Ackford 2, Pulley, Fortner, Bailey 3, Frise, Evans 9, Hall 2, Jopling 2, Grant 2. Total 27.

TCS Juniors—Rawlinson 10, Vandenbergh, Bovey 1, Cleland 4, Baker 8, Gundy, Croll 4, Lewis, Luxton. Total 27.

Referees—R. Dyer, D. Richardson.

Our club will be well represented at the annual mixed rink bonspiel held at the Granite Curling Club, Toronto, this coming week. Seven rinks in all will be playing:

On Monday, Mrs. T. Doughty, Mrs. G. Wood, B. Scott and T. Doughty.

On Wednesday: Mrs. J. Elliott, Mrs. M. Holt, Dr. W. Clarke and N. Hamley. Mrs. O. M. Steer, Mrs. H. R. Martin, E. Braund and H. R. Martin. Mrs. V. Selkirk, Mrs. G. Green, K. Bissett and R. P. Best.

On Thursday: Mrs. S. Lowe, Mrs. H. Hamblin; B. Ashmore and S. Lowe, Mrs. H. R. Scott, Mrs. J. Watts, Dr. M. McCartney and Dr. C. McKee. Mrs. A. Janes, Mrs. L. Browne, G. Putnam and Dr. R. Clark.

It must have been "give-away day" at the Saturday afternoon bonspiel—14 rinks entered, seven receiving gifts. It was 50-50—50 you do, 50 you don't. The winning skips were: I. Moore, C. Crane, F. Patterson, A. Aitkenhead, J. Richmond, D. Charlton, J. Lowes, and O. Steer.

Hockey's Big Seven

Roy Conacher of Chicago is the 1948-49 National League scoring champion. Conacher and his linemate Doug Bentley, who outdistanced the field in the last half of the campaign, finished in that order with 68 and 66 points. Neither of the Black Hawk sharpshooters collected a point in the last two games. Detroit's Ted Lindsay potted two goals Sunday night and wound up in a third-place tie with Sid Abel, who notched a single tally. Abel topped the goal-getters with 28 counters, while Doug Bentley led the assist column with 43.

Earl (Moose) McCready has been matched with the Masked Marvel in the main pro mat bout at the Brock Arena this Wednesday night. The ploughing-in former farmer from Aurora, and always popular here, is a challenger for the British Empire title, and he'd like to finish the job Billy Hanson started last week—unhooding the Mask. It's a no time limit affair and should be packed with grapple action. Mickey Gold is meeting Wee Willie Davis, the huge Hollywood villain in the semi-final, while Sammy Gotter goes against Nick Vicchiarelli of this city in the prelim. Three rough jousts, no doubt.

Dan Odette, Kitchener scribe, takes to task the Guelph writer for saying the Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen were taking a financial beating in OHA senior "A" playoffs. He also claimed that St. Catharines juniors—Red Sullivan was with 'em—drew 80,000 fans this season but lost $10,000. Dan maintains that the Dutchmen are quite solvent and should wind up the season with a healthy budget, despite large salaries. He continues: "The Guelph writer might sit down some day and confirm or deny those rumors that the Guelph Biltmores were the lowest paid team in junior 'A' this season. He might also let everybody know if the Biltmores didn't miss playoffs because they thought they were entitled to more money." Keith Montgomery played for Guelph during their campaign.

Legion At Kingston

Legionnaires pulled out by bus in mid-afternoon for Kingston and the second game of their best-of-five OHA senior "B" semi-final series. Third one Wednesday, but no one knows where yet. By the way, Ned Vitarelli, Johnny Godfrey and Chum Fryia were voted the three shirts for their performance here in Friday's fray. And an anonymous donor has paid more than $100 for a new set of sweaters and sox for the Legion club, to be ready for the final series. A mighty nice gesture by this chap, whoever he is. Legion are quite confident they'll rub out Kingston to go into provincial finals some time next week. We think so, too.

Honey Tompkins led the Petes' scorers by a city block the past season in OHA senior "B" competition. The durable veteran forward threw the bootheel in the cage no less than 17 times while assisting half a dozen other times for 23 points in all 13 games. It was a fine showing on a club which didn't have too good a season, and stamps Honey as being about as effective as ever on the attack. His teammate of a number of years, Bun Kindgon, was runner-up with 12 points in 11 games, while Jack Mortimer and Freddy Garvey tied in third place with seven each. The list is published elsewhere.

Quakers Took Title

Quite a goodly gallery at Omemee on Friday night as Quakers pulled out a verdict o'er CGE Toolroom to take the Industrial Hockey League title. A hard-fought playoff with Toolroom making it a rousing drive in the third period but having to settle for a 3-1 reverse. This loop had to play 90 per cent of its games out of town and one official said: "The amount of mileage travelled in going to Hastings, Norwood, Omemee and Lakefield, looked like an NHL road record." He added that if the industrialists could have played a night a week at Civic Arena and built up a following, they'd have drawn crowds comparable to the Legion-Petes' group matches. Maybe, with artificial ice here next winter, this shop circuit can get a night a week at Civic Arena.

Al Clark's local Outboard Marines bowed out in men's basketball semi-finals here to St. Catharines on Saturday night. Marines beat St. Kitts 60-52 but lost the round 110-93 before a packed "Y" gallery in a rugged, exciting scrap. Their loss by 25 points in the peninsula city last week was too much of a handicap, though they had that lead whittled down to six points at one time. They went out fighting and, while it's always tough to lose, you can't take 'em all—and you must give the opposition credit when they win on fair terms. Al and Joe Stewart, along with Ed Nicholls, made a great try of it on the attack for Marines, and Gord Burns and Chum Gillespie were also good. Whole team fought hard, but 'twas trail's end for them this year.

Lakefield Victors Against Norwood

LAKEFIELD, March 21 (ENS)—Lakefield defeated Norwood 11-3 here Saturday night before some 600 fans in the first of a two-game challenge hockey series. They ran in four without a return in the first frame, T. Birch, Griffin, Jopling and Blewett scoring with Hunter, Paterson, L. Lonsberry and Jopling each having an assist. Norwood came back with two by J. Brown, assisted on one by Webb, in the second, a period marked by a free-for-all, touched off by Blewett and Rogers.

Lakefield scored four goals in 26 seconds in the third period. They had seven markers this heat, scored by Montgomery (3), T. Birch (2), S. Lonsberry and Henry, with assists going to Hunter (2), T. Birch, Henry and S. Lonsberry. Free counted one for Norwood from Pettigrew. There were 13 penalties altogether in the game. Teams:

NORWOOD: Goal, Morrison; defence, Free, Petersen; centre, Webb; wings, Rogers, Payne; alternates, Brown, Johnston, Pettigrew, West, Fennel, Kelly, Rusaw.

LAKEFIELD: Goal, Junkin; defence, Jopling, Blewett; centre, Henry; wings, Hopkins, S. Lonsberry; alternates, McMaster, C. Birch, T. Birch, Montgomery, Griffin, L. Lonsberry, Paterson.

PCVS Juveniles Down Three In Final Series

St. Catharines Teepees won an exciting 45-42 OABA juvenile final from the PCVS Juveniles in St. Catharines Saturday. The return game of the points to count home and home series will be played at the PCVS gym Saturday of this week.

Paced by Le Clair and Wooley, mountainous centre and hard driving guard respectively, the St. Catharines team had the lead almost throughout. The bucket work of Le Clair who counted seven times from in close was outstanding, while small Max Wooley featuring a fast left handed dribble and deadly shot also counted seven two pointers.

Against this strong pair the Peterborough boys fought tooth and nail. Don Griffin had seven field goals before fouling out with 2½ minutes left in the last quarter. Al Northcott and Neil Thompson had seven more between them. Henry Dinsdale and Ted Evans worked overtime at their guard positions to hold the St. Catharines aces in check. Bryon Young filled in very well as substitute for the forwards. Harold Grafstein, starting guard, picked up four fouls early and saw little action until called upon to play centre when Don Griffin went out.

Early Lead

PCVS broke to the front at the start on Thompson's two quick hoops but the team of Le Clair and Wooley put St. Kitts ahead at quarter time 15-9. Playing their best basketball of the game PCVS caught and passed the Teepees during the second ten minutes to hold a brief 22-20 lead. Don Griffin was prominent with three excellent scores. However by half-time St. Catharines had again taken the lead 27-24.

The home team forced the pace during the third quarter and outshot the Peterborough team 20-12. But the game PCVS kids hung on tenaciously and were still very much in the scrap at three quarter time, 38-34.

Things looked black indeed in the last quarter when leading scorer Don Griffin picked up his fifth personal with the score reading 43-37, 2 minutes 30 seconds to go. Le Clair, relieved of Griffin's checking droped a quick one to put St. Kitts eight points up. However Al Northcott reduced the margin to seven with a free throw and then to five on a one-hander. With less than a minute to go Henry Dinsdale broke away to score and reduce what might have been a big lead to a mere three points for the return game here Saturday. The teams:

St. Catharines — Le Clair 14, Wilson 4, Johnston 3, Daniels, Pecton 1, Moore 4, Wooley 14, Davies 3, Crothers 2. Total 45.

PCVS—Dindsale 6, Northcott 9, Young 2, Hall, Griffin 14, Bailey, Thompson 7, Jopling, Evans 2, Grant, Grafstein 2, Sergeant. Total 42.

Referees: Calderone and Riches.

Quakers Win Crown In Industrial Loop

Quaker Oats defeated CGE Toolroom 3-1 in Omemee on Friday night to capture the championship of the Industrial Hockey League in the deciding game of their final series. A good-sized crowd saw a hard-fought fray with Quakers better the first two frames and CGE finishing strong. Quakers scored the only two goals of the second, with each side counting in the third.

White, Weaver and J. Hill, all defencemen scored for the winners, as Harris tallied late in the third for Toolroom. Quakers had two men in the penalty box at the end. CGE took out their goalie for a minute and 15 seconds to really threaten. The crowd enjoyed the tussle throughout, and every player on each squad battled all the way.

Dukes Capture OHA Title, Down Dutchmen

By The Canadian Press

It's a smooth-working machine that holds the 1948-49 Ontario Hockey Association Senior A title.

The machine, geared and powered by Toronto Marlboros, Saturday bulldozed its way to a 3-1 victory over Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen in the sixth game of the OHA final series.

A combination of speed, determination and know-how gave Coach Joe Primeau's charges their edge over the powerful Dutchmen, and a 4-2 win on the series. The victory meant the first OHA title for Marlboros in eight years.

They played virtually flawless hockey as they drove into a 2-0 lead in the first period, fought through a scoreless second and split two goals in the final period.

The Marlies now meet North Bay Black Hawks for the all-Ontario championship.

From the opening whistle, the Dukes drove into the Dutchmen's territory and were rewarded with their first tally at the 11-minute mark when stocky Chuck Blair beat Marcel Pelletier on a hard shot. Three minutes later Hollett scored on a blue-line shot that Pelletier couldn't handle.

Drive Attack

In the second period, the Dutchmen drove to the attack. Spearheaded by little Bobby Bauer, who wasn't up to usual form because of an attack of influenza, the Dutchmen seldom got a good shot at netminder Howie Harvey.

When they did manage to get past the defence, Harvey frustrated them. Twice he saved the day while lying prostrate on the ice to rob the Dutchmen of goals.

Operating with only two forward lines to Kitchener's three, Marlboros were visibly tired in the latter stages of the second period and were forced to ice the puck on numerous occasions to get a rest.

Defenceman Hugh Bolton, up from Marlboro juniors for the game along with Lorne Pirie, received two minor penalties in the second session but the Dutchmen were unable to score.

In the opening minutes of a hectic third period, the Dutchmen made a desperate attempt to get in the running. However, Scotty Mair put Toronto ahead 3-0 when he beat Pelletier on a pretty backhand shot.

Johnny Civick finally tallied for Kitchener when he blasted a 20-foot shot when Harvey didn't move fast enough. The Dutchmen made a last-ditch offensive with four minutes left in the game but the Dukes held on.

Marines Win From St. Kitts But Lose Out on Cage Round

A packed gallery at the YMCA gym Saturday night saw the Outboard Marines "A" cagers beat St. Catharines 60-52 but lose their OABA Intermediate "A" semi-final round 110-93 to end the local men's hoop season. St. Kitts came here with a 25-point lead and this big margin rode them into provincial finals over Al Clark's classy crew.

Marines made a determined bid to cut down that lead in a fine, hard-fought game and at one time they were within six points of a tie. The issue was in doubt till the final 5 minutes when St. Kitts spurted to salt the round away. Marines played a pressing defence the first half to get an early lead. Marrack was the only opponent able to get more than one hoop while Al Stewart, Joe Stewart, Ed Nicholls and Ray Kidd looped the ball in from all angles. Gord Burns' four set shots from centre were features, and Chum Gillespie threw in two.

With Marines in front 43-27 at the half, the Saints were plenty worried, but they came back later with Farley outstanding to hold Outboards in check. Joe and Al Stewart kept the locals in the hunt but Marrack and Farley were solid for St. Kitts as they hung onto a lead. Neff threw in six points late in the game to clinch it. It was a fine, rugged, exciting playoff with the referees keeping it in hand. Bill Edger and Doug Plunkett might have given the locals the reserve strength needed. The two Stewarts, Nicholls, Marrack and Farley were the big scorers. The teams:

St. Catharines: Marrack 16, McKenna 2, Farley 11, Storin 2, Anthony 6, Pickard 4, Cambray 1, Hookings, Coombs 2, Neff 6.

Marines: J. Stewart 13, Burns 8, Nicholls 12, Gillespie 5, Kidd 5, MacPherson 1, Menzies, Smith 2, A. Stewart 14.

Prelim Tilt

In a prelim joust, the "Y" senior leaders took a 32-23 exhibition win over the Towne Togs girls. It was a good fray with the boys faster but the taller girls giving them a real battle in close. Grafstein and Langhorne led the lads to a 14-12 margin at the intermission, but the girls made the boys hustle right down to the wire to jerk out the nod. All the leaders went good while the improved Togs spread their scoring among J. Plunkett, J. Vass, B. Castle, A. Davis and D. Callan. Langhorne and Cranfield led the winners. The teams:

Togs: J. Plunkett 3, J. Vass 2, B. Castle 2, A. Davis 2, B. Pringle, J. Deyell, J. Dunk, D. Callan 2.

Leaders: Hempstead 2, Ash, Cranfield 4, Langhorne 6, Graham 2, Boorman, Grafstein 2.

Fergus Wins First Over Marmora, 3-1

MARMORA, March 21 (ENS)—For midget hockey, the fine sample of play was served to 750 fans in the Marmora Arena on Saturday evening when the home team lost their first OHMA finals game to Fergus by the score of 3-1. The visiting team was largely that which captured the bantam championship two seasons ago. They played a combination worthy of a team of more mature players. Marmora on the other hand were short two players through illness and two of those who played were recuperating from illness. Both goalies were kept busy and shaped well. The score may be said to represent the run of the play. Each team looked upon the other as worthy opponents and hope is entertained by the vanquished, that they may be victors in the tussle which will take place in Fergus on Tuesday evening. Teams:

Fergus—Goal, J. Dobbie; defence, Tweddle, Hanna; centre, Gear; wings, Landonie, R. Dobbie; alternates, Mooney, Brown, Langdon, Clarke, Moir, Mueller. Spare goalie, Campbell.

Marmora — Goal, Drummond; defence, Darrah, Trumble; centre, Brooks; wings, Meehan, Mantle; alternates, Nicholson, Jones, Walker, Mumby, Paranuik. Spare goalie, Kouri.

Referees — W. Holway, Belleville, P. Everett, Belleville.

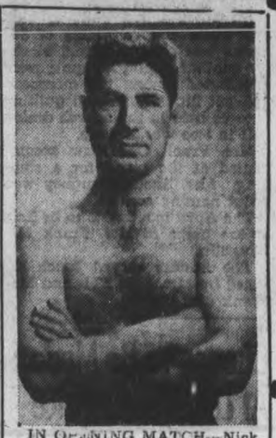
Tompkins Leads Scorers For The Petes

Honey Tompkins, veteran star forward for the Petes, easily led the team in scoring again this past OHA Senior "B" season. In 13 games—he didn't miss a contest—Tompkins counted 17 goals and six assists for 23 points, averaging nearly two scoring points a game in a season when the Petes didn't do too well.



Second highest sniper was Bun Kingdon, another classy veteran forward with this club. Bun only scored three goals but led the squad in assists with nine for a total of 12 points. Freddy Garvey and Jack Mortimer were tied in third place with seven points apiece. Bill McMaster led the defeneemen with three. The results:

Kansas In 2nd Spot

By The Canadian Press.

The United States Hockey League's preliminary playoff series will open Tuesday with Fort Worth at Dallas and Kansas City at Omaha. Kansas City clinched second place in the Northern Division by beating Minneapolis Saturday 3-2 and tying the first-place St. Paul Saints Sunday night 4-4 as the regular season closed.

IN OPENING MATCH—Nick Vicchiarelli, shown above, who meets Sammy Gotter in what should be the deciding bout in the middleweights' feud. Both boys have a decision and Wednesday's match will be the rubber. Wee Willie Davis is back from Hollywood and takes on the New York Jewish boy, Mickey Gold in the semi-final.

In the main bout Earl Moose McCready is all set for his big chance to defeat and unmask the Masked Marvel. There will be no time limit and McCready's great power and mat science makes him a favorite to turn the trick that was accomplished by Whipper Billy Watson in Toronto last month.

Workers Convert Vitagraph Lot For Television

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, March 21 (AP) —Today 100 workers descend on the Old Vitagraph lot to start converting it to a television studio. They are advised to tread lightly, for many a ghost walks the place. The shades of faded film favorites walk its creaking boards. It seems ironical that these will-o'-the-wisps should be stirred by the new and foreign medium—television.

Back in 1895, Albert E. Smith, J. Stuart Blackton and "Pop" Rock founded Vitagraph in New York. They started by making minute-long flickers, gradually worked up to one-reels, then three-reels.

In the 1910s, the movie industry began its westward search for more sun. The film makers left New York and New Jersey for Southern California, where the tropical clime permitted better outdoor shooting.

Vitagraph set up shop in Santa Monica in 1911, but the fog drove the studio inland. In 1912, the company bought 20 acres at the end of Hollywood Boulevard and the studio began its long career.

The years have dimmed the glittering names that worked for the Old Vitagraph Company. Larry Semon, Jean Paige, Percy Marmont and Bill Duncan are unknown to present generations. The original versions of "Captain Blood" and "If Winter Comes" were made on the lot.

Sold out to Warners

In 1926, Vitagraph found itself being overtaken by new and more adventurous films makers. The company sold out for several million to four up-and-coming brothers named Warners.

The Warners' era added new glamor to the Vitagraph lot. The brothers' biggest star barked and panted and scrambled over its rocks and hills. He was Rin-Tin-Tin.

Flop and Flood

The lot was the scene of the great blood for "Noak's Ark," one of Warners' biggest flops. The Hillside Lake was used for John Barrymore's "Moby Dick." For a storm scene, tons of water were dashed upon Barrymore's ship, once washing the cruising actor overboard.

The studio experienced a strange activity in 1928. Cotton padding was nailed to the walls of the stages and the actors talked into black boxes. The first all-talkie and all-color musical, "On With The Show," was made there. Its stars: Betty Compson, Joe E. Brown, Louis Fazenda, Arthur Lake, Ethel Waters.

The huge theatre set, which still stands, was the scene for many Warners musicals including "42nd Street" and the Gold Diggers series.

Rector Dies

FRESTON, Suffolk, England, March 21—(CP)—A Suffolk rector's long battle to save the lives of his two dogs, condemned to death for killing poultry, ended with his own death Saturday. Rev. Henry Mayne-Young, 79, battled vainly through the courts to save the lives of Monty, a Dalmatian, and Bruce, an Alsatian guide dog used by the Rector's wife, who is 76. There now is no one to carry on the rector's battle and it is expected that the two dogs will be put to death.

Rap Rabbi's Statement

WASHINGTON, March 21 — (AP)—Catholic University professors accused Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of a "false and malicious" statement in saying "the largest of Christian churches is unequivocably for war." "We denounce this statement as deliberately untrue, as designed to stir up religious bigotry, and as an unjust attack upon millions of our fellow Americans," 10 faculty members said in a statement.

Mother Dies Of Burns

MIDDLE RIVER, Minn., March 21—(AP)—Mrs. Perry Sloan, 28, burned in a futile attempt to save five of her six small children, died Saturday night in hospital. Her death occurred a few hours after a funeral service had been conducted for the five children. Their ages ranged from 11 months to six years.

ARAB CIVILIANS, released by Jews under a prisoner exchange agreement, walk through debris-flanked no-man's-land road as they returned to Arab territory in Jerusalem this week. The Israeli-Trans-Jordan agreement provided for the exchange of Arab civilian prisoners and about 800 Jewish POW's.

St. Patrick's Party

TRENT RIVER, March 21—(ENS)—Mrs. Ross Pollock entertained the bridge club last week at a St. Patrick's party. The living room was decorated with green and white crepe paper novelties and each table had tallies of white lace doilies and green tissue paper fashioned into shamrocks. A lap lunch was served. Mrs. Francis Ruttan and Mrs. Harry Mann were high score prize winners and Mrs. Eric Little won the consolation award.

Man's Suit Stolen By Fellow Prisoners

TORONTO, March 21—(CP) — Arrested for drunkenness and awakened four hours afterwards to be asked if he wanted bail, Terence Gordon looked across a police cell and exclaimed:

"That guy over there is wearing my suit!"

Police looked into the matter and charged two of Gordon's fellow-prisoners, Robert Rogers, 28, and Ernest Harrell, 22, with theft.

Investigators said Rogers and Harrell, brought in Saturday an hour later than Gordon, had managed—without police seeing them—to take off Gordon's suit, his best, and clothe him in a pair of old trousers. Said Gordon in disgust:

"These pants don't even fit!"

Radio Conference

TORONTO, March 21—(CP)—Several hundred radio technicians from many parts of Ontario are expected here March 28-30 for a conference sponsored by branches of the Canadian radio industry. The meeting is intended to acquaint the service men with new developments in radio service technique, equipment and business procedures. E. C. Dahmer of Kitchener will be chairman.

Lebanese Delegates Initial An Armistice

EN NAQURA, Lebanon, March 21—(AP)—Israel and Lebanese delegates initialed an armistice agreement Sunday night.

In Tel Aviv, the Israeli Government was told officially by Acting Mediator Ralph J. Bunche that Syria has agreed to enter into armistice negotiations with Israel.

The Lebanese-Israeli agreement will be signed in a ceremony at the customs house here Wednesday.

This is the second armistice the young Jewish state of Israel has reached with her Arab neighbors. An Israeli-Egyptian armistice was signed at Rhodes Feb. 24.

Israel also now is engaged in armistice talks with Trans-Jordan at Rhodes.

Chambers Keeps Close Watch On Promoters

Outstanding among the activities carried out during the past year by the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce was that done by virtue of the chamber's membership in the Better Business Bureau, Inc., of Toronto, according to the annual report of the manager, James S. Fraser. The report states that 'this office has been conducting an ever-increasing campaign in Peterborough to stamp out unscrupulous promoters and the like, as well as to promote fair business practices."

Here are some of the types of cases handled: merchant involved for $75.00 on misrepresented advertising scheme; $26.00 owed to local resident on broken contract deal; saved industrial firm $35.00 on advertising racket; complaints from retailer and citizen re suit club and dress club.

Other work done along this line included warning social garage operators re doubtful brand of anti-freeze being offered in this vicinity; complaints re overcharging for radio; refrigerator, and automoblie repairs; requests for information on mazazine circulation schemes.

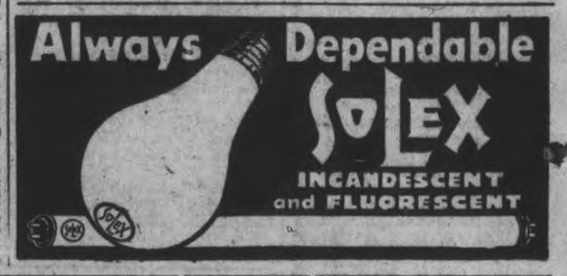
Public Response Good

The report recalls that in an effort to acquaint the general public with the services available to them through the office, different "case histories" were publicized through the press. Response to this publicity was good, says the report, but "in most cases our aid was enlisted too late—after the damage had been done." This campaign will be continued throughtout the coming year. It involves considerable time on the part of the staff in personal interviews, follow-ups, correspondence, and long distant calls, but is considered "one of the functions the Chamber of Commerce should perform for the city." The report emphasized that no one is even authorized to use the chamber's name as a reference.

Plan To Check 40,000 Trucks

TORONTO, March 21 (CP)—Ontario's 40,000 trucks will be checked from April 1 to April 15 to ascertain whether the drivers are members of the teamster's union, William Mills, president of general Truck Drivers Union, local 938, said in an interview Saturday.

"It is simply a check of those drivers who have not paid their union dues," he said, "and an effort on our part to induce non-union drivers to join the union."



"There will be no coercion," he added.

The local president said the check would be Canada-wide in scope and was being undertaken on orders from Dave Beck of New York, International Vice-President of the A. F. L. teamsters' union.

Metropolitan Reports to Policyholders on 1948 Business

HERE IS THE Financial Statement of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for last year. It is more than just figures, because back of them is the story of what 32,700,000 policyholders in Canada and the United States have done for their families and themselves.

The role of Metropolitan, like that of any Life insurance company, has been to help policyholders to make effective their individual plans for protection against the uncertainties of life. This Statement is a brief account of its stewardship.

The amount paid to policyholders and beneficiaries in 1948 was $721,366,364. Of this sum, $263,780,754 went to the beneficiaries of 235,000 policyholders; $147,045,672 to some 450,000 individuals for Matured Endowments and Annuities; and $59,403,238 for 650,000 claims for Disability and Accident & Health benefits. In addition, the total paid included sums for cash surrender values, dividends, and other payments due under outstanding policies.

The total payments by Metropolitan to policyholders and beneficiaries during the last 16 years aggregated $9,346,330,825 — a sum which has served as a stabilizing influence in homes and communities throughout this country and the United States. This total exceeds the Company's assets of $9,125,145,007 as of December 31, 1948.

These assets are held to meet obligations of $8,591,210,201, of which more than 90% represents statutory reserves for future payments to policyholders and beneficiaries. Over and above these obligations, there remained a surplus of $533,934,806, which is about 6% of obligations — a backlog which must be available against the possibility of epidemics, adverse economic conditions or other unforeseeable situations.

The Company's assets guarantee the fulfilment of the $39,958,517,854 of Metropolitan life insurance in force. In addition, they assure the payment of the 448,394 annuity and supplementary contracts outstanding, and the 6,546,412 policies or certificates providing benefits in event of either accident, sickness, hospitalization, surgical or medical expense.

A few other highlights of the Company's 1948 annual statement are: the net rate of interest earned on total assets reversed the trend of many years and increased from 2.94% in 1947 to 3.03%; in line with the experience of business generally, there were some increases in expenses; the rate of mortality was slightly lower than in 1947; the lapse rate was one of the best on record; and new Life insurance issued during the year was $2,904,157,071. The amount held for dividends payable to Metropolitan policyholders in 1949 totals $152,067,254.

Metropolitan investments continued in 1948 to serve various sections of Canada and the United States and the economy of both countries. The Company is interested in making loans, to either individuals or corporations, which meet the legal requirements with which it must comply.

A more complete review of the Company's affairs will be found in its Annual Report to Policyholders, which will be sent to anyone on request.

SOME FACTS ABOUT METROPOLITAN'S OPERATIONS IN CANADA

These highlights of the Company's business in the Dominion during 1948, our 78th year in Canada, will be of particular interest to Metropolitan's Canadian policyholders and their beneficiaries.

Payments to Policyholders and Beneficiaries

Metropolitan paid in 1948 to its Canadian policyholders and their beneficiaries $38,815,091 in death claims, matured endowments, dividends and other payments. Of this, 70% was paid to living policyholders.

The total amount the Metropolitan has paid to Canadians since it entered Canada in 1872, plus the amount now invested in Canada, exceeds the total premiums received from Canadians by more than $352,000,000.

Life Insurance in Force

In 1948, Canadians bought $205,932,746 of new Life insurance protection in the Metropolitan, bringing the total of the Company's Life insurance in force in Canada to $2,241,526,648 at the year-end. This amount is made up of 57% Ordinary, 30% Industrial and 13% Group.

Total Investments in Canada

Metropolitan's total investments in Canada amounted to $536,741,420 at the end of 1948. The Company's dollars are at work throughout the Dominion . . . in practically every phase of production and distribution . . . helping to produce more goods and create more jobs for more people.

Health and Welfare Work

During 1948, a total of 222,687 nursing visits was made to those insured under Metropolitan Industrial, Intermediate, and Group policies in Canada; over 2 million pamphlets on health and safety were distributed, and the Company took part in 49 Canadian health campaigns.

Plan To Modify Fire, Police Aid Legislation

TORONTO, March 21—(CP)—Bills extending aid to Ontario municipal police and fire departments will be modified in the legislature to remove "any reasonable fears" that the province seeks to control and direct" police and fire departments, Attorney-General Blackwell said today.

Mr. Blackwell said amendments to the bills which will be introduced when they reach the committee stage "will partly meet the demands of municipalities" to remove of the "objectionable strings" attached to the grants and still improve standards of fire and police departments.

The Association of Ontario Mayors and Reeves and the Ontario Municipal Association have presented briefs to the Attorney-General objecting to clauses in the bills which provide that the full grants will be made only when the departments have satisfied the Ontario Fire Marshall and the police commissioner that they are "adequate" and "efficient".

Infringe On Rights

Municipalities contend that these provisions infringe on their "autonomy."

The bills have been given two readings in the legislature "and allowed to stand for further study and discussion," Mr. Blackwell said.

"It was not our intention to railroad these measures through until all representations had been considered."

"It was the affirmed policy of the Government that any future grants to municipalities must be tied in with a fixed program of development," Mr. Blackwell said today in an interview.

"Such subsidies serve a combined purpose of lifting the weight load of municipalities and improve standards of efficiency of the police and fire departments throughout the province."

Modify The Bills

"With these thoughts still in mind we will modify the bills to remove any reasonable doubt that the province seeks to direct and control municipal police and fire departments.

"We are just as anxious to see the municipalities run their own show and feel that much can be accomplished by giving financial aid on an educational and consultation basis rather than directing certain course of operation as first proposed."

Mr. Blackwell said he hoped the bills might reach committee stage this afternoon.

The grants, based on the previous year's expenditures, range from 25 per cent. for municipalities with less than 10,000 population to 10 per cent. for municipalities of more than 70,000.

The modifications would also affect clauses concerning superannuation of employees, collective bargaining and purchase of new equipment.

The bills provide that the departments must have approved superannuation and compensation plans, that they must comply with all collective bargaining agreements and that new equipment must meet specifications of the Fire Marshal and the Police Commissioner.

Congratulations!

THIRD ANNUAL KIWANIS MUSIC FESTIVAL started promptly at 9 a.m. today in the Murray Street Baptist Church. Under the appraisal of adjudicator G. H. Heath Gracie, Bachelor of Music and Fellow of the Royal College of Organists, 1,500 contestants will compete. Prior to their duet class being called, two Lindsay lasses above, June Allan (left), and Madeline Geach, discuss their chances without any apparent nervousness. — (Examiner Staff Photo).

Third Annual Music Festival Under Kiwanis Club Starts

An appreciative audience of music lovers occupied pews in Murray Street Baptist Church by 9 a.m. today to hear the first three classes of contestants in the third annual Festival of Music, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

The adjudicator this year is G. H. Gracie, Bachelor of Music, FRCO, organist and master of choristers, Derby Cathedral, Derby, England.

Natalie Schwartz, Peterborough, was chosen by Mr. Heath-Gracie as the best contestant in the piano solo, "A Sailor's Dance (Dunhill), for children under 14 years. Her mark was 88.

"It rippled gloriously and had a grand salt water tang to it," he said, referring to Miss Schwartz' rendition. He stated that she brought out every point of interest in it, and her interpretation showed "a quick brain."

Second was Beverly Lillico, Peterborough with 86, and third was Joan Chamberlain, also of Peterborough, with 83.

Other contestants, all of whom received at least 78 marks, were Mary McBride, D. Ross, Donald Barrick, B. Johns, and S. Pritchard, all of Peterborough; D. Powers, Pontypool, and B. Naylor, Lakefield.

The adjudicator had words of praise for all, although he cautioned the majority of them that they played their piece too fast.

"Every one of them stands a good chance of being a good, clear, and expressive musician," he said.

His advice to Miss Schwartz was: "there is something in music for you if you go on working hard."

"A pleasing and gratifying version," was his decision on the performance of P. Hart, and R. Grandy of Reaboro, who took top marks in the duet for girls under 17 years. The selection was "Here Amid the Shady Woods" (Handel). Their mark was 86.

The two runners up were J. Allan and M. Geach of Lindsay with 83, and S. Moore, and M. Scott of Lindsay with 82. Other contestants were E. Everett and J. Wagner of Apsley, J. Merrett and D. Yateman of Peterborough, Y. Richard and M. Aiken of Millbrook, N. Hutchings and J. Skitch of Port Hope, M. McKinlay and Margaret McKinlay of Cobourg, C. Baulch and D. Baulch of Port Hope, J. Westaway and A. Westaway of Cameron, and R. Free and E. Free of Sunderland.

Chief criticism Mr. Heath-Gracie had with this class of entrants was imperfect diction and a tendency to hurry. He told the children that nervousness detracted from their singing ability.

"The art of singing is practised by the human being in his happiest moment," he said. "It is the by product of interested people.

There was one more class held in the morning and six this afternoon.

To-night there will be nine classes: Tenor, piano solo, brass and reed bands, contralto, bass, violin solo (under 18 years), soprano (oratorio), male quartette, and soprano (under 21 years).

The adjudicator was welcomed to Peterborough and introduced to the audience by Edward G. Pridham, immediate past president of the Kiwanis Club. The festival will continue until Saturday.

A special concert, consisting of outstanding participants, will be held at the Collegiate auditorium on Wednesday, March 30.

Sent To Hospital For Observation

WINDSOR, March 21—(CP) — Michael Stancek, 63-year-old laborer, today was remanded to an Ontario mental hospital at St. Thomas, for observation when he appeared on a charge of murdering his wife, Mrs. Paulin Stancek, 56.

Assistant Crown Attorney Eugene Duchesne recommended that the man be sent to the hospital "for a period not to exceed 60 days". Stancek did not plea and was not represented by counsel.

Mrs. Stancek was found in a pool of blood in her East Side home Feb. 18 by a neighbor who noticed smoke coming from the house. Fire had been set in three parts of the home.

Stancek was found in a nearby field with what police said was a self-inflicted bullet wound in the head. He was released from hospital today.

Marshes Bound With Ice, Trapping Opens

The season for the trapping of muskrats in the Peterborough area opened this morning and continues until April 21. Marshes are tightly bound with the ice of hard freezing weather in the last ten days, but spring creeks are open here and there along the river.

"Rats run in their mating season," Tom Curvin told the Examiner today. "It doesn't make much difference to them what are the weather conditions. I don't think the catch will be heavy, any way, because the rat population has dropped a great deal from the time we tried the auction sales at Hall's Landing on Rice Lake. There may not be one pelt now for every 50 we used to get. As for price, the top in the London-St. Thomas district was recently $2 as compared with $2.25 to $2.50 last year. The price for Rice Lake rats should be better than the western Ontario animal. However, that also depends on the market demand."

Sullivan Funeral Held At Ennismore

Friends of the late P. G. Sullivan from the city and countryside attended his funeral in Ennismore Saturday morning. St. Martin's Church was filled for the requiem mass celebrated by Rev. V. J. Gillogly, parish priest. Rev. V. J. Masterson of Lakefield, assisted.

Pall-bearers were: Edward O'Donoghue, Edward Crough, Peter Galvin, Frank Young, J. D. Sullivan and A. H. Kyle, Medicine Hat., Alta., a brother-in-law. The large attendance and the number of spiritual and floral remembrances were evidence of the wide friendship which Mr. Sullivan had gained. He was for 39 years storekeeper at the Ennismore Cross.

Obituary

WINNIFRED IVY GLADWIN

Miss Winnifred Ivy Gladwin, 43 Jackson Ave., died Saturday at her home after an illness of seven months. She was born here 35 years ago, daughter of George B. Gladwin and his wife, Alice Linn. She was employed as a machine operator in the wire department of the Canadian General Electric Company.

Miss Gladwin leaves her parents, and one brother, Eric, of Peterborough. She was a member of All Saints' church.

The remains are resting at the Comstock Funeral Home, Water St. Funeral will be Tuesday at 3.30 p.m. to Little Lake cemetery. Rev. W. Kibblewhite will conduct the service.

Steering Gear Breaks, Driver Killed

Douglas Lemon, 23, of Bowmanville, was almost instantly killed at 8.10 a.m. today when the truck he was driving left No. 2 Highway after the steering gear broke and hit a telephone pole. The accident happened 1½ miles east of Bowmanville and the victim died within a few minutes of the crash, attending physicians said.

The truck, owned by Lyons Dairy of Bowmanville, was proceeding in a westerly direction at the time of the accident.

Dr. Rundle of Bowmanville was called to the scene, but Lemon was dead before he could get there. Dr. C. J. Austin, coroner for Bowmanville, also visited the scene.

The body of the victim was taken to an undertaking establishment in Bowmanville.

The accident was investigated by Constable R. Kowal, of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Cigarette Butt Cause Of Fire

Fire in the flooring of two adjoining apartments at 57 Hunter St., early today, was believed caused by a lighted cigarette butt that was not properly extinguished.

An ash tray containing the cigarette was emptied into a bag of garbage and placed in the kitchen of the second-floor apartment occupied by N. Crone. The garbage bag ignited and a hole was burned in the floor.

The flames crept underneath the floorboards into the adjoining apartment to the east, which is occupied by G. Crumpsty. Firemen were forced to chop a hole in both apartments and use a booster line to kill the flames.

Damage due to both water and fire has not yet been estimated.

Wooden Shack Causes Big Blaze

A burning chicken house on Saturday night led many residents to believe there was a big fire in East City. Many reported that the reflection could be seen in the sky for a distance of some miles.

The wooden shack, at one time used for sheltering chickens and now an implement shed for garden tools, is situated on a large lot at the rear of 67 Sophia St. It is owned by Lewis Simpson of that address.

Damage was limited to the burned interior.

The blaze is believed to have started as a result of children playing with firecrackers. A spark from a firecracker is believed to have ignited some rubbish inside the shack and the outbreak resulted.

A two-and-a-half inch line was used by firemen to extinguish the fire.

Suffers Head Injuries When Car Hits Tree

Two accidents involving automobiles leaving the highway and hitting a tree or a telephone pole were investigated by Provincial Police over the weekend. In one of them the driver suffered minor head injuries.

The first accident occurred about two miles east of Peterborough on the road to Warsaw at 3.15 p.m. Sunday when a car operated by Ambrose Brick, 60, of Douro, ran off the road and struck a tree. Mr. Brick was treated by Dr. Donald Munro of Warsaw for head injuries and taken to his home, his injuries not being sufficiently bad to require hospital attention. The car was quite badly damaged on the front end, radiator, grill, etc. being smashed considerably. The accident was investigated by Constable Langton.

The second accident took place on No. 7 Highway 3½ miles east of Havelock when a car driven by a Mr. Ainsworth of Orillia left the road and snapped off a telephone pole. It happened at 8.10 a.m. today.

This accident was investigated by Constable Kellogg of Hastings.

BIG ATTENDANCE

It was estimated by the travel agencies that about 500 Peterborough people attended Saturday's opening of the Sportsmen's Show in Toronto.

Dixon House Night Fun For Youngsters

One hundred children jammed the attic of the Dixon House Friday night for the Neighborhood Council's first Fun Night for children. Three movies were shown. They were a sports short, a colored cartoon and a movie on wild bird life. After the movies refreshments were served. This was the first time the attic has been used to show movies.

Chairman Leo Belanger spoke to the boys concerning a Junior Fire Department in the area encompassed by the Neighborhood Council. From the response of the boys when asked if they would join, the Council plans to go ahead with the plans to form the Department. Movies and instruction on the prevention of fire will be given.

Mrs. Melville Dobson and her son, Bob, helped make the evening successful, Mrs. Dobson preparing the refreshments and her son being in charge of the youngsters during the movies.

A euchre party and dance are planned for next week.

Hon. G. N. Gordon was reported today resting comfortably at St. Joseph's Hospital, but it was said that his condition could not yet be definitely determined. He was taken suddenly ill last Wednesday, and since then has not been able to see any visitors. The news of his illness has caused deep concern among his host of friends.

Montreal Dealer Identifies 80% Of Looted Antiques

Max Kirsch, Montreal art dealer, Sunday identified art treasures in Peterborough which he says Harold Arthur Brillinger, now in custody at Brantford, stole from his antique shop early this year. Kirsch travelled to Peterborough with Montreal Detective-Sergeant Belair and has reclaimed 80 per cent. of a $5,000 haul which he lost when his shop was completely looted in February.

Detective Belair also identified a cash register valued at approximately $150 which had been stolen from a store in the same block as Kirsch's shop and there were a number of cigars among the booty which the Montreal detective believes were stolen from a cigar and candy store in the same city.

Brillinger was operating a dancing school in Montreal in the same block as Kirsch's shop. The two men became close friends until Brillinger left the city in February when Kirsch lost trace of him. Kirsch's shop was stripped of its contents and he was unable to keep the business open.

Peterborough police say the Montreal detective believes Brillinger burglarized throughout the city, putting up a respectable front as a dancing instructor. It is said that there have been far fewer burglaries in Montreal since February, when Brillinger was last known to be there.

Peterborough Detective Constable Clark says Kirsch and Brillinger's other Montreal friends had noticed that he always wore gloves, even indoors. They had thought it was just a peculiarity of his but police, who have had his fingerprints for several years, give a different explanation. They say that none of the stolen articles bears finger-prints.

William James Dies In Toronto

William James, 648 Bethune St., retired superintendent of Little Lake cemetery, died Sunday in Toronto. He was 83.

Mr. James was born in Oxfordshire, England, son of Joseph James and Mary Vines. He was a landscape gardener, and with his training in the Old Country, he left in Peterborough public evidence of his abilities in the grounds of Trinity United church and in his creative work at Little Lake cemetery, of which he was in charge 20 years. He was a resident of Peterborough 45 years.

Mr. James leaves his wife, the former Eleanor Gammage, and in England, two sisters, Mrs. Elizbeth Cutmore and Mrs. Annie Bands, and brother Harry James. He was a member of St. James United church, and for many years was a member of Eagle Lake Hunt Club.

The body is resting at Comstock Funeral Home. Funeral will be Tuesday at 2 p.m. to Little Lake cemetery. Rev. Fred Craik will conduct the service.

Kinsmen Bringing Repertory Theatre

Under sponsorship of the Kinsmen Club the People's Repertory Theatre will present the play "The Far-off Hills" Wednesday in the Collegiate Auditorium. The stage play is written by the Irish playwright Lennox Robinson and directed by E. G. Sterndale Bennett.

Director Bennett was a prime figure in the establishment of the Alberta Drama Festival and later the Dominion Drama Festival. Lately he has been training young actors at the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto. Several members of the troupe are graduates of Mr. Bennett.

Children Escape Injury In Bus Collision

BANCROFT, March 21—(ENS)—Ten pupils attending North Hastings High School, the driver of the bus in which they were riding to school, and the operator of an automobile all escaped injury in a bus-car collision which occurred at 8.15 a.m. Monday on Pacey's Hill, ten miles west of Bancroft. The bus, a Finlay Coach Lines vehicle owned by F. Chidley of Lindsay and driven by Lloyd Barr of Bancroft, was in collision at the foot of the hill with a car driven by Miss Elsie Turner of Wilberforce. The bus sustained only dented front fenders, but the car was damaged to the extent of about $200, the radiator and grill being badly smashed.

The bus was proceeding from Wilberforce to Bancroft. It was able to be operated on its own power after the accident, but the car had to be towed to a garage in Bancroft.

The accident made eight of the pupils 2½ hours late for school; the other two hitchhiked their way in. The bus was not full at the time, it being due to pick some 20 or so more pupils a few miles further on. Slippery driving conditions are believed to have contributed to causing the accident; which was investigated by Constables Douglas Ketcheson and Bill Fitzimmons of the Bancroft detachment, Provincial Police.

Change Oshawa Parking Meters

OSHAWA, March 21.— Starting today motorists in this city will be able to park their cars in the downtown area without having to pay a nickel for anything over 12 minutes but under an hour.

The city police department had received hundreds of complaints from motorists who had put more than a cent in the meters and expected more time than the 12-minute limit. City officials have been trying without success to have the company install new meter heads. Finally the city treasurer was authorized to stop payments to the firm under an agreement calling for a 50-50 split of meter receipts with the city.

Company workers appeared in Oshawa this week-end to install new meter heads which will allow parking for multiples of 12 minutes up to the hour at a rate of a cent for each 12 minutes.

Dog Control By-Law To Be Enforced Now

Commencing Friday, March 25th, the City by-law which makes it an offence for dog owners to permit their pets to run at large will be enforced. Arrangements have been made for the Inspector of the Humane Society to assist fully the City Police in enforcing the by-law. The Inspector will commence his special duties at once. The other section of the by-law requiring all dogs to be tagged will be enforced also. Tags must be obtained at the Police Station.

First Signs of Spring In the Air

Tulips Have Broken Ground But Sap Not Yet Running

On its march up from Capricorn the sun arrived to-day at the global meridian, resting briefly over the Equator for the phenomenon of the equinox.

Around town tulips had broken ground especially in beds of southern exposure as along the office front of the Raybestos Company presenting promise of the approach of spring after two weeks of weather filled with a hangover chill of winter.

To-day is March 21, one of the solar milestones in the calendar of the year. Incidentally, it had been preceded with ether repletion of Bing's crossing of Galway Bay with McNamara's Band on board and much vocal ado about Clancy's Boom which appears to have been duly lowered. After all that festive music, the folks this morning stepped ashore in the warm, sunlit air of spring, and a misty hint of rain in the atmosphere.

The light but adequate cover of snow on farm land that had been caught and held by the stubble was melting. Here and there roads were dusty. Work was beginning in the hardwoods. Bruce Sharpe of Cavan said he was tapping maple trees in his bush this morning, and other farmers in the township were boring spile holes.

"It has been a peculiar winter," Mr. Sharpe said, "and we can't tell what kind of sap season we will have. There were a few drops falling from a tree near the house we tapped Saturday."

Crows were abroad, pansies were showing signs of lifting their heads, but at Little Lake Cemetery Frank Kitney said the grass was still brown. "A warm rain will bring us the full miracle of spring," he said.

YPU Presents Play

George St. YPU presented an entertaining evening in the Sunday school auditorium Friday when they sponsored a three-act comedy play, "Small Town Romeo" by Young Marrieds' Club of St. Paul's United Church, Stirling. Ten players gave an up-to-date comedy version of the old story of a villain, a lady in distress and the hero, who in this case caught the ghost, paid off the mortgaged and won the lady. Grant Stapley as the village mechanic stole the show. Banjo selections and solos by the group members entertained between acts. The Rev. Dr. J. R. R. Cooper made opening remarks and Miss Dorothy Graham, president of the YPU, thanked the audience for support. Members of the Union and the cast enjoyed a social hour at the close.

Letter Tells Of Trip

BETHANY, March 21—(ENS)—Mrs. G. Waddell entertained the Evening Auxiliary of the Women's Missionary Society for March meeting, the theme being "Thy Kingdom Come Through the United Witness of the Christian World." Mrs. H. Coppins and Mrs. H. Jakeman assisted in worship service. Watch Tower Heralds gave information on Korea, China and Trinidad. Mrs. Mervyn Porteous presented the final chapter of the study book. Mrs. Porteous also read a letter from a personal friend, Miss Alice Gleason who has recently gone to India as a Missionary, giving an interesting description of her trip. A special prayer for Miss Gleason and all Missionaries was given by Mrs. Jackson. A social half hour was enjoyed when the hostess served refreshments. Mrs. Cdandall offered her home for the next meeting.

With The Girl Guides

Results of the Essay Contest sponsored by the district captain during Boy Scout-Girl Guide week have been announced, with Helen Bradley, of Third All Saints' Company winning the subscription to "The Canadian Guide." This is now a new magazine for Guides in Canada, which is in its third month of publication. Helen fully deserves the year's pleasure which her subscription will bring, for her fine remarks on "Why I am proud to be a Girl Guide." This column extends to her and the third company, which shares the honor, warm congratulations.

Welcome to the ranks of fully-fledged Guides is extended to Barbara Todd, Gloria Wells and Audrey More, who were recently enrolled in the Fourth Salvation Army Company. This company also boasts several new Cooks in the persons of Joyce and Shirley Sucee, Doreen Shaer, Margaret Parnell, Jean Ward, Dorothy Robbins and Franelda Gibson. These badges were recently presented to the Guides by Mrs. W. Jones, who is the examiner for the Cook's Badge. Margaret Parnell was awarded the Knitter Badge, and Jean Ward, Joyce Sucee, Olive Chambo and Mavis Hegadoren passed the test for the Laundress Badge, with Mrs. F. Bridcott the examiner.

Plans are being made for the annual Scout and Guide Hobby and Craft Show to be held in the Market Hall Wednesday and Thursday, May 11 and 12. Lists of acceptable hobbies have been sent to all leaders, and the Guides and Brownies are urged to make an effort to enter at least one hobby, so that all ranks will be represented, from the youngest Brownie to the oldest Patrol Leader.

However, we would emphasize that quality and not quantity is the aim.

Millbrook News

The school will be represented at the Kiwanis Musical Festival in Peterborough. Pupils of the Continuation school will compete at Murray Street Baptist Church on Tuesday and public school pupils sing today.

Trustee J. E. Allen was granted leave of absence for three months at the March meeting of the local school board, and Principal J. A. Thompson was appointed delegate to the Ontario Educational Association convention to be held in Toronto Easter week. The board hopes shortly to hold a public meeting to be addressed by a speaker from the department to explain the high school area project. The class rooms are at present being redecorated.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You make a tactless remark and realize that you have said the wrong thing.

WRONG WAY: Admit you spoke without thinking and say that you are sorry.

RIGHT WAY: Realize that admitting you were tactless in no way changes the fact that you said what you thought, so instead try to soften the remark by some such admission as, "I'm probably wrong about that" or "Of course many people don't agree with me."

PENGUIN'S PROGRESS

Penguins can progress either by walking upright or flat on their stomachs, kicking with their legs.

Parent-Teacher Organization Elects Officers

First monthly meeting of St Peter's and St. Mary's Parent-Teacher Association of St. Peter's Parish was held in St. Peter's School. Rev P. P. Butler was in the chair and opened with prayer. Minutes of the inaugural meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. J. F. O'Brien, and adopted.

Officers elected are: Honorary spiritual director, His Excellency Bishop Gerald Berry; spiritual director, rector of the Cathedral, Rev. P. P Butler; honorary presidents, principals of the schools, Sister Lucretia and Sister Doloretta; president, Mr. W. Cunningham; vice-president, Mrs. E. O'Toole; secretary, Mrs. W. H. Toale; treasurer, Mrs. C. Donnelly; historian, Mr. Cyril Giroux; auditor, Mr. R. MacDonald.

Mr F. J. Boland was appointed chairman of the membership committee. A drive for membership is to begin at once.

Mrs. J. F. O'Brien was appointed delegate to the convention of Parent-Teacher Associations being held in Toronto at Easter.

All present pledged to assist the executive in promoting this organization and also to interest others in the aims and projects.

33 at CGIT Meet In Toronto Enter Discussions

Twenty-one CGIT girls, from eight Peterborough groups and one in Lakefield, accompanied by 12 leaders, were in Toronto this weekend for CGIT convention. More than 600 girls were in attendance under sponsorship of the Ontario Girls' Work Board Religious Education Council. It was one of five are conferences taking place in Ontario and was held in Timothy Eaton Memorial Church, commencing Friday evening.

Theme, "Look in, look out, look up," was presented by Miss Muriel Israel, secretary of Toronto Branch. The program included worship, fellowship and discussion. Highlight was a banquet Saturday evening at Arcadian Court where the theme address was given by Miss Dorothy Young, United Church Girls' Work secretary.

Discussion groups dealt with leisure time activities, what Christianity means to teen-agers, rights of teen-agers and others which included attitude toward new Canadians and the immediate home problem. Also, positive approach to gang warfare among teen-agers out of which grew a recommendation for publication of names of all gang members but not too much publicity concerning their acts. Some local girls took part in each discussion group and will report results.

Reports were given by various groups on the successful projects they had carried out.

Sunday the girls were guests at Walmer Road Baptist Church for an inspiring sermon by the church director of education. As nearly all groups are studying China, the Peterborough girls dined at Lichee Gardens where they ate Chinese food with chop sticks. Afterward they visited the Museum and gave special attention to the Chinese exhibit.

The return trip was made by chartered bus and the girls were guests in homes of CGIT girls.

Those attending were:

Murray St.: Miss Marion Pogue, leader; Marilyn Wigg, Alice Pilling. St. Paul's: Miss Ruth Curtis, leader; Grace Hudson, Jean Smith. St. James: Mrs. A. L. McLaren, Miss Yvonne White, Mrs. C. Seven Receive Holy Habit On Feast of St. Joseph

Sisters of St. Joseph, Mount St Joseph, held the annual ceremony of profession and reception on Saturday, the feast of their great patron, St. Joseph.

A bright cheery morning ushered in the festive day and the ceremony began at 9:30 o'clock in presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. Seven young ladies in white bridal costumes, carrying their missals, satin covered with white streamers tied at intervals with sprays of sweet peas and pastel-shaded narrow ribbon, proceeded to the altar railing to the strains of joyous music. They were accompanied by daintily dressed little girl attendants who knelt to assist at Holy Mass.

Celebrant was His Excellency Most Rev. Gerald Berry, Bishop of Peterborough, assisted by Rev. V. J. Corkery Chancellor, and Rev. J. F. Coughlan.

At the conclusion of mass, the young ladies sought to abandon their worldly robes and be admitted to the community of St. Joseph. While the choir sang The Canticle of Love, the procession of brides left the chapel to return later dressed in the holy habit. The ceremony of first vows and that of final vows followed in order. At an earlier mass five sisters renewed their holy vows for one year. Liturgical hymns heard during the ceremony were sung by the Sisters' Choir.

The following young ladies took part in this ceremony. Those who received the holy habit — Miss Colleen Bloom, Ottawa, to be known in religion as Sister M. Audrey; Miss Betty Stephens, of Loring, Ont., Mister M. Carmelita; Miss Rose Marie Joyce, St. Andrew's West, Ont., Sister M. Paula; Miss Clara Bouchard, Torquay, Sask;, Sister M. St. Gerald; Miss Mary Ludwig, Brownsing, Sask., Sister M. Imelda; Miss Ann Andreski, Barry's Bay, Ont., Sister M. St. Richard; Miss Marie Benoit, Lloydminster, Alta Sister M. St. Philip.

For first vows—Sister M. Kathleen (Ann Kelly), Clandonald, Alberta.

For final vows — Sister Rose Marie (Violet Twerdoclib), Norquay, Sask. Sister Frances Therese (Teresa Bloom), Ottawa Sister M. Borgia (Shirley Tapp), Ottawa.

Sermon for the occasion was preached by Rev. John E. Burke, CSP, of Detroit, who had completed an eight days' retreat for the sisters at Mount St. Joseph. The preacher eulogized the great St. Joseph who though retired and humble, had been exalted and chosen as patron of the Universal Church.

Other members of the clergy present in the sanctuary were: Rt. Rev. J. J. O'Brien, D.P., P.P., Reverend F. M. Grant, D.C.L., and Reverend G. Sullivan of Sacred Heart Parish. Reverend P. P. Butler, Rector, Reverend K. Malone, Reverend J. Gaughan, Reverend R. Garvey of St. Peter's Cathedral; Reverend J. Killen and Reverend J. Houlihan of Immaculate Conception Parish; Very Reverend J. V. McAuley, V.P., P.P., Lindsay; Rev. V. McFadden, P.P., Downeyville; Rev. Joseph Collins, P.P., Cobourg; Rev. C. Moloney, P.P., Campbellford; Rev. P. Lynch, P.P., Trout Creek; Rev. W. C. McCarney, P.P., Otonabee; Rev. D. Coll, C.Ss.R., Peterborough; Right Reverend J. O'Neill, D.P., P.P., Ottawa; Rev. L. Markle, Ph.D., S.T.D., Toronto.

Little girls who acted as attendants on the brides were: Misses Joanne Carroll, Lois Carroll, Beverly Donoghue, Irene Donnelly, Joanne Guerin, Marie Guerin, Mary Howell, Mary Anne Lynch, Joanne Lucano, Suzanne Martin, Rosemary Pilon and Patricia Tompkins

Grilled veal kidneys are a great delicacy if prepared carefully for this low-calorie dinner. Soak the sliced kidneys—the veinous portion does not need to be trimmed out of veal kidneys—in salt water 15 minutes. Dry them. Brush with melted butter and dip in fine crumbs. Broil under very hot broiler until medium brown then turn over, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Do the same with the onions—but omit the crumbs.

To make a Hamburg and Onion Stew is very simple: saute the onions and hamburg in drippings until meat is seared and onions are transparent. Add salt and pepper, about 3 cups boiling water, simmer until meat is tender, then drop on dumplings and cook tightly covered, for 12 minutes without lifting lid.

For the Cocoanut Cream Pie combine ¼ cup flour with ¼ cup sugar and ⅛ teaspoon salt, and mix to a paste in top of double boiler with 1-3 cup milk. Add another 1 1-3 cups milk stirring constantly until thickened, over boiling water. Cover and cook 15 minutes. Pour this over 3 beaten egg yolks mixed with an additional ¼ cup sugar, and stir well then return to double boiler to cook 3 minutes. Add 1 cup cocoanut and chill. Turn into baked pie shell. Beat the three remaining egg whites until stiff then add 5 tablespoons sugar while beating. When very stiff fold in ¼ cup cocoanut. Spread over pie, sprinkling a little more cocoanut on top. Bake at 300 deg. Fahr. for about 30 minutes or until delicately browned.

Peach Tapioca Cream

In top of double boiler scald 3 cups milk, then add 3 tablespoons tapioca and ¼ teaspoon salt, and cook stirring occasionally for 12 minutes. To 2 egg yolks add 1 tablespoon cold water and beat, then add 3 tablespoons sugar and beat. Pour the tapioca mixture over this stirring, then return all to double boiler until mixture coats spoon like custard. Cool and add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Just before serving time beat whites stiff, adding 4 tablespoons sugar gradually, and fold into the tapioca. Pile in serving dishes, garnish with peaches or any preferred fruit, and top with a little whipped cream.

Burgar-Titus

CAMPBELLFORD, March 21—(ENS)—A wedding of interest took place in St. John, N. B., Wednesday, March 16, of Frederick Kennedy Burgar, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Burgar, Toronto and Campbellford and grandson of the late T. J. Kennedy, Sault Ste. Marie, and Audrey Meredith Titus. The ceremony was performed in Germaine St. Baptist Church by the Rev. F. S. Crossman.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of ivory slipper satin with long train, full length veil of ivory tulle illusion caught to a bandeau of orange blossoms and carried a small cascade of white roses with sweet peas and forget-me-nots. She was attended by her sister Mrs. Hugh S. Green, gowned in pale blue faille.

Mr. Hugh S. Green was groomsman and ushers were Edward S. Rising and George I. Pridham.

Following a reception in the Admiral Beatty Hotel, the couple left on a motor trip through eastern United States, the bride travelling in a grey suit with navy accessories. They will live in Toronto.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

"PLEASE" AND "THANK YOU" ARE MAGIC WORDS

"Please" and "Thank You" are little words . . . words that everyone knows. It's a shame they are heard so seldom in our daily conversation! They are magic words, too . . . they often earn a friendly smile. They bring quick service . . . they make life happier. A gracious "Please" . . . a sincere "Thank You" will get results —just try them and prove it! Politeness in conversation is "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

DOROTHY DIX

Worried Expectant Father Asks Few Commandments

DEAR MISS DIX: We are expecting our first baby and I am all bewildered and frightened over the prospect of having to deal with an infant with whom I haven't even a speaking acquaintance. Yet surely there must be somewhere a list of DO'S and DON'T for fathers.

Dorothy Dix

I would be very grateful if you would give me a few Commandments for a New Father, for I am sure that they would bring light to bear upon the road that I soon must walk. I have tried in the past to be a good husband. Now I want to b a good father.

EXPECTANT FATHER

ANSWER: Most fathers seem to think that a baby is born with a manual of 'How to Rear a Child" in its hands, so it is refreshing to hear of a man who is willing to give as much serious though on how to bring up a child as he would on how to train a setter pup. Unfortunately, however, babies are not reared by wishful thinking. They are the most complicated problem in the world, and only too often Father turns the rearing of junior over to mother, throws up his hands and quits.

There is no exact formula for being a good father, for every child requires a different treatment; but it seems to me that the first and most important duty of every man who is at the head of a family is to get his wife to cooperate with him. For bringing up children is a two-handed job. No one person alone unaided, can make a success of it. Mothers and fathers who fight over children are responsible for nine-tenths of the juvenile delinquency.

Acquaintanceship Needed

Next in importance is that parents should get acquainted with their children. Half of the fathers and mothers haven't the slightest idea what sort of human beings they brought into the world. They don't know if Johnny is a genius or just a queer, or if Mary is dumb or only shy. They can't help their children or guide them, because they don't know what ails them

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been a widower for over two years and am very lonely and at a loss to know how to occupy my spare time; but lately I have met a very charming lady, who has proved to be a real companion, and we have fallen in love with each other and would like to marry. However, there are two stumbling blocks in the way. One is the difference in our ages, as I am 15 years her senior. And the other is the attitude taken by my son and daughter, both adults, who want me to live the balance of my life in a room all alone.

Your help will be greatly appreciated.

H. B

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: There is no reason why middle-aged people should not remarry after they have lost their mates if they find someone who fills the blank in a lonely life. Especially do eldery people need companions and homes of their own, and if they have lost these through the death of their wives or husbands they are miserable and forlorn, indeed.

This is something that their children rarely appreciate. They think it is shockin for Mother or Father to think about marrying again and that they should be content to go and live with Sam or Maria, who would be good and kind to them. But no man and woman who have had their own homes, in which they could do as th pleased, are ever content to be enforced guests on their children. And no people are more bored and lonely than old people whose sole companionship is with the young.

So I think that the middle-aged people who remarry are wise, and that their children should give them their blessing and be glad that they will have companionship during the last lap of their journey.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have become very interested in a young man who has all the qualities I would admire in husband, except one. He is sloppy about his clothes He is always shabby, though he is perfectly able to dress handsomely. Whenever we go out he wears unpressed trousers, unpolished shoes, shirts and tie that swear at each other; yet he is very conscious of women's styles and dress.

I am wondering if you could give me any suggestions as to how I can improve this situation? Should this interfere with my wanting to marry him? He makes a poor impression on my friends up first acquaintance.

PUZZLED EDITH

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I knew a woman who married a splendid man who was a sloppy dresser, like your friend. She didn't try to reform his taste. Every night after her husband went to bed she took away the clothes he had worn that day and locked them up in a closet and substituted for them the latest thing in what the well dressed man wears.

QUESTION: I would like a recipe for pickled cherries. One in which sweet dark cherries or Royal Anne cherries are used. The recipe I have in mind is called "Cherry Olives."

If you have this recipe, would you please give it to me?—(Miss) D.M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER:

Pickled Cherries or Cherry Olives

To "pickle" 7 lbs. sweet red or Royal Anne cherries, wash them, remove stems, and prick each cherry. Heat 1 quart spirit vinegar with 8 cups sugar to boiling point. Add (tied in cheesecloth bag) ¼ cup whole cloves, 1 cinnamon stick, 1½ teaspoons whole ginger. Add cherries and boil gently until slightly tender—but not at all broken. Remove spice bag. Quickly pack one hot sterilized pint jar at a time, filling to within ⅛ inch of top, but being sure syrup covers cherries. These amounts will make about 6 pints.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: Please when you have space print a recipe for reliable cookies made with sour milk. If possible at the same time give recipe for peanut butter cookies

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The recipe I am giving you is my Aunt Rachel's, and makes the identical cookies we used to steal from her pantry when we were children—the best cookies ever made.

Aunt Rachel's Sugar Cookies

Seven-eighths cup shortening, butter or chicken fat, 2 cups sugar, 2 beaten eggs, 1 cup sour cream or milk, 5 cups flour (almost), 1 teaspoon each soda, salt and flavoring. Cream shortening very well, then cream in the sugar thoroughly. Add beaten eggs. Sift flour, soda and salt. Add flour—mix alternately with the sour cream or milk and flavoring. Mix very well. Chill dough thoroughly before slicing or rolling out. Sprinkle with sugar, rolling it into cookies before baking if desired. Bake 7 minutes at about 450 degrees Fahr. Watch these closely while baking. Currants or raisins or nutmeg and cinnamon may be added to the dough.

Peanut Butter Cookies (Drop)

Reduce flour in above recipe to 4½ cups. Replace shortening with peanut butter, and decrease milk or cream to ⅞ cup. Finish same as sugar cookies. These are good sprinkled with chopped peanuts before baking.

Careful Cooking Demanded When Serving Fish Dish

By MARY MOORE

A certain stigma has become attached to fish and I'm here to attempt to obliterate it, and to tell you why I think it ever existed.

Cooked Fish Should Be Moist

(Would any of you real good fish cooks who read this please write to me if you have tips on cooking fish that would be helpful?)

I am not going off on any tangents, and talk of Lobster Thermidor or Oysters on the half shell. I'm talking today about plain fish fillets and lake whitefish and halibut.

Probably you have seen, and some of you have bought breadcrumbs in the chain stores at 14 cents per box. They are extremely handy—especially in a household where no stale bread ever seems to accumulate to be ground into crumbs.

Another thing most kitchens suffer from is an excess of drippings. Fish plus crumbs plus leftover drippings adds up to

French Fried Fish Fillets

A little over 1 pound (1 large fillet) will serve four adequately.
